i. Municipal level

(A) Banja Luka

(1) Charges

1366. In relation to Banja Luka municipality, the Prosecution has limited the allegations in the Indictment to crimes associated with the Manjača camp (“Manjača”).⁴⁷⁰⁷

1367. Under Count 3, the Prosecution alleges that persecution, a crime against humanity, was committed in Banja Luka as part of the objective to permanently remove Bosnian Muslims and/or Bosnian Croats from the Municipalities.⁴⁷⁰⁸ Acts of persecution alleged to have been committed by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs in Banja Luka include killings related to Manjača, as well as killings committed during, and deaths resulting from, cruel and inhumane treatment at that facility.⁴⁷⁰⁹ The Prosecution also characterises these killings as extermination, a crime against humanity, under Count 4; murder, a crime against humanity, under Count 5; and murder, a violation of the laws or customs of war, under Count 6.⁴⁷¹⁰

1368. Other acts of persecution alleged to have been committed in Banja Luka by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs include (i) torture, beatings, and physical and psychological abuse in Manjača as cruel or inhumane treatment,⁴⁷¹¹ (ii) the establishment and perpetuation of inhumane living conditions in Manjača, including the failure to provide adequate accommodation, shelter, food, water, medical care, or hygienic sanitation facilities, as cruel or

(2) Lead-up

1369. Banja Luka is the largest municipality in BiH and is located to the east of Prijedor and Sanski Most and to the south of Bosanska Gradiška.⁴⁷¹⁵ According to the 1991 census, Banja Luka municipality had 195,139 inhabitants, of whom about 55% were Bosnian Serbs, 15% were Bosnian Muslims, and 15% were Bosnian Croats.⁴⁷¹⁶ (The rest were the Serbs calling themselves Yugoslavs, which meant that the participation of the Serbs was close to 70%. In any case, if supposed that all the Muslims and Croats in Banja Luka were against Yugoslavia, certainly the rest of 70% were for the staying in Yugoslavia!)

1370. In the multi-party elections of November 1990, the SDS won 64 seats of the 130 seats in the Municipal Assembly while the SDA secured 13 seats only.⁴⁷¹⁷ Predrag Radić, a member of the SDS Main Board, was appointed as the President of Banja Luka Municipal Assembly.⁴⁷¹⁸ Rajko Kasagić was appointed as the President of the Executive Board.⁴⁷¹⁹ In 1991, Župljanin was appointed the Chief of Banja Luka CSB.⁴⁷²⁰

1371. On 22 January 1992, the Banja Luka SDS established a Crisis Staff.⁴⁷²¹ (Finally, the Chamber sees the difference between the Party CS and a municipality CS.)

1372. The Banja Luka Crisis Staff was established in May 1992 and Radić was appointed as the the Accused of the Crisis Staff.⁴⁷²² (This post is always “ex officio”) By 15 May 1992, the Serbian Defence Forces (“SOS”) and at least three other Serb armed formations led by Nikodin Čavić, Vlado Jotanović, and Brane Palačković respectively operated in Banja Luka.⁴⁷²³ (#Contrary to Presidential orders#! All of them against the recommendations of the central authorities and the President. And all of them because of a great suspicion in the JNA and it’s impartiality, and capability to protect the people, see D11585, of 3 April 1992, just after the crisis in Bijeljina. The letter had been directed to the SDS, not to the President, since at that moment there was no president, and the BiH authorities were in charge;

Municipal Board
SDS /Serbian Democratic Party/ of BH
Bijeljina

We ask the organs of all Serbian Assemblies to support the decisions of the SAO /Serbian Autonomous District/ of Semberija and Majeвица Crisis Staff and Serbian National Guard commanders. The entire Serbian people is organised into Territorial Defence units in the area of our District, and the JNA /Yugoslav People's Army/ is expected to refrain from conflict with the Serbian people. We are prepared to justify our firm positions by argument.

8 April 1992, at 1750 hours

President
Savo KOJIĆ

(#LAWFUL AND OBLIGATORY#! #Due to the Law of All-people's defence#, the TO took task to defend, but not confident in the JNA as a part of previous system!)

1373. During the republican referendum on independence on 29 February and 1 March 1992, the SOS blockaded the municipality building.⁴⁷²⁴ (#Illegal, anti-constitutional#! It wouldn't damage the truth if mentioned that this referendum was an illegal and anti-constitutional, since the Serbs as a constituent people didn't give their consent for it. The Serb position was that the Muslim/Croat alliance could make a plebiscite as the Serbs did in November 1991, but without any obligation to the others!) The SOS in Banja Luka was under the command of Nenad Stevandić and included many well-known criminals from Banja Luka.⁴⁷²⁵ On 3 April 1992, they erected check-points around town and issued a press statement calling on the president of the municipality to establish a crisis staff in order to pursue several goals of the SOS, including the dismissal of JNA Banja Luka Corps officers and public utility managers who voted "against Yugoslavia".⁴⁷²⁶ The demands of the SOS were adopted by the SDS.⁴⁷²⁷ (#Incorrect#! This is not a correct assertion. It wasn't the SDS, but the municipal Crisis Staff. But the cited exhibit contains everything, from the correct quoting the institutions to the reasons why the SOS had been formed, let us see P06522:

Members of the SOS, reservists from the JNA's /Yugoslav People's Army/ Banja Luka Corps, armed civilians and, as we have heard, men arriving from the Western Slavonian war zone, have presented their terms, insisting that Predrag RADIĆ form a Municipal Crisis Staff to carry these out. This was done and, after several hours of negotiations between representatives of the SOS, on the one side, and members of the Crisis Staff, the Territorial Defence, the JNA's Banja Luka Corps and from the institutions of the lawful authorities in Banja Luka, all the demands were later accepted, true, in a slightly modified form.

Fortunately, as we report this the situation, under the control of the SOS, is calm and no incidents have been recorded. At present, members of the SOS are behaving correctly towards the citizens who are bewildered by all that has happened and are trying to find out what is really going on.

As it is clear, these men were the reservists returning from Western Slavonija, where they fought against the destruction of Yugoslavia, and had seen many atrocities against civilians, and inability of the JNA to protect them.

We have also learned that the mobilisation of the SOS and the operation to block Banja Luka have come after a several-month long campaign to demonise and vilify the Serbs as a nation and that the "last straw" was BH government minister Jerko DOKO's address to the municipal assemblies, describing the reservists as outlaws and claiming that they were waging a "private" war. His statement aroused indignation and disgust among both reservists and civilians, who armed themselves and vigorously set demands, the acceptance of which practically means that the Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina has ceased to function in these territories.

All of that had been done without any knowledge of the central authorities, but on the basis of the rights of local authorities functioning in an emergency situation! Terrified by a statements of the BiH Minister for Defence Jerko Doko (a Croat) that these who obeyed the 1374. Upon the establishment of a municipal Serb Crisis Staff in the spring of 1992, Radić announced several measures, including that CSB employees had to pledge loyalty to the SerBiH or lose their jobs; the presidency of the SFRY would be requested to reinforce the JNA Banja Luka Corps and dismiss or transfer JNA officers who had not voted “for Yugoslavia”; and the directors of several public enterprises who pursued “an anti-Serbian policy” would be dismissed.⁴⁷²⁸ Employers in Banja Luka were told to evict non-Serbs from employer-owned apartments in order to make space for families of fallen Serb soldiers.⁴⁷²⁹ Those who attempted to protect non-Serbs in Banja Luka were reprimanded or even replaced.⁴⁷³⁰ To enforce compliance with these orders, mixed patrols of the police, the TO, and the JNA were to take-over control of the roads from the SOS.⁴⁷³¹ (That was a purpose for a temporary acceptance of the SOS demands, to compel the JNA to do it’s own job and protect the country, which was it’s constitutional obligation. It has to be taken into account what was happening in the neighboring Croatia, and the local authorities were obliged to preserve the peace. But, what is the purpose of those AFs, if this wasn’t in the Indictment? And what all of it has to do with the President? #No Karad’i’s liability#!)

1375. The Indictment refers to the use of Manjača as a detention facility in Banja Luka municipality between 21 April and 18 December 1992.⁴⁷³²

a. Establishment and control

1376. Manjača was located approximately 35 kilometres to the southwest of the town of Banja Luka and about 15 to 20 kilometres to the east of Ključ.⁴⁷³³ Manjača was part of a large JNA installation called Mika Bosnić Barracks and had previously served as a military exercise field.⁴⁷³⁴ Manjača consisted of farmland, six large stables, called “pavilions” by the guards, and a number of warehouses.⁴⁷³⁵ There were mines, a fence, and several guard towers around Manjača.⁴⁷³⁶ (All of

1377. Around 15 September 1991, the Command of the 5th Corps of the JNA began using Manjača as a camp to hold POWs from the conflict in Croatia.⁴⁷³⁷ In mid-May 1992, the 1st Krajina Corps assumed control of Manjača and from this point until its closure, Manjača remained under VRS control.⁴⁷³⁸ In June 1992, the Command of 1st Krajina Corps was entrusted with the task of establishing a POW camp and assessing the needs for prisoner exchanges.⁴⁷³⁹ In July 1992, Colonel Božidar Popović was appointed as commander of Manjača.⁴⁷⁴⁰ Predrag Kovačević, nicknamed Špaga, was Popović's personal assistant; Kovačević was also in charge of the prison guards.⁴⁷⁴¹ Generally, military policemen guarded the detainees inside the camp whereas members of the MUP protected the external boundaries of the camp.⁴⁷⁴² However, the 1st Krajina Corps Commander and the Ključ and Sanski Most SJBs also agreed that members of the MUP be sent inside Manjača for short periods to assist.⁴⁷⁴³ MUP members who were in Manjača were placed under the command of Popović.⁴⁷⁴⁴
1378. The authorities in Manjača drafted reports for the superior command on a weekly basis or more frequently when necessary.⁴⁷⁴⁵
1379. The number of detainees held at Manjača ranged from approximately 140 to 3,600 at a given time.⁴⁷⁴⁶ In total, 4,403 detainees passed through the camp.⁴⁷⁴⁷ The majority of the

However, Radinković, later in his statement, conceded that members of civilian police interrogated the detainees in the camp. See D4204 (Witness statement of Radomir Radinković dated 8 December 2013), pp. 2, 4. The Chamber notes the reliable documentary evidence which indicates that inspectors from Ključ SJB and Sanski Most SJB were sent to Manjača in order to "process" the detainees. #Investigations#! Certainly, the investigating activities were their obligation, and a basis to release, exchange or indict a detainee, which shows that there was no arbitrariness. And this could have happened under the authorisation of the camp authorities See P3734 (Report of Ključ SJB, 24 June 1992); P3736 (Manjača camp daily report to the 1st Krajina Corps, 27 June 1992) (under seal); D3912 (Manjača camp daily report to 1st Krajina Corps, 2 July 1992); D4170 (Witness statement of Mile Dobrijević dated 2 December 2013), para. 14. The Chamber also notes that according to a report compiled by the authorities in Manjača, Radenko Kaurin, who was a policeman, slapped two detainees because they had taken bread from the bread baskets which they had been forced to carry. See P3754 (Manjača camp daily report to the 1st Krajina Corps, 1 November 1992) (under seal). Given this evidence and in light of the inconsistencies displayed by [REDACTED] and Radinković during their respective testimonies, the Chamber rejects their assertion that the civilian police only entered the camp in situations of emergency.

detainees at Manjača were Bosnian Muslims, though some Bosnian Croats and very few Bosnian Serbs were also held there.⁴⁷⁴⁸ For the most part, the detainees were aged between 18 and 60, but there were also a number of minors and elderly individuals.⁴⁷⁴⁹ On several occasions, those in charge of the security and intelligence at the camp proposed that individuals under 18 and over 60 as well as the seriously ill be released; these proposals, however, were largely ignored.⁴⁷⁵⁰ Several Imams as well as a Catholic priest were also detained in Manjača.⁴⁷⁵¹

1380. During mop-up operations in Bosnian Muslim villages, VRS detained the male population and handed them over to the Serb civilian authorities; the majority of such detainees were later brought to Manjača by Serb policemen.⁴⁷⁵² In some instances detainees were brought to the camp by the MP.⁴⁷⁵³ Often, detainees were taken and held at Manjača without any reason for their detention having been recorded.⁴⁷⁵⁴ (#Combatants only#! That pertained to a late or lack of a temporaneous documentation, which didn't mean that there was no reason. For those without reason for detention, as resolved in Omarska through the investigation, there was no the reason to send them to Manjaca too, and it was 59% of investigated persons. The entire assertion about "the majority of such detainees" brought to Manjaca, is not correct. For instance, from Omarska, the majority (59%) was released and let to go home, while they have chosen to go to Trnopolje. There was no any arbitrariness in deciding who was to be transported to Manjaca. This was a result of a long and thorough investigations made by professionals in the state agencies. The most frequent reason was a direct participation in the armed rebellion, i.e. combatants. Although the detainees weren't a declared army, they acted clandestinely in a depth of the Serb territory, and thus should be treated as terrorists, but the Serb authorities treated them as a prisoners of war. For this category there is no need or possibility to have any documentation, except for those who committed crimes. For the ordinary combatants there was envisaged an exchange fr the Serb prisoners in the Muslim/Croat prisons. The second large group was detained for instigation, aid and abet the criminal activities of the armed attacks on the state personnel and facilities and civilians, and they had been treated as any other combatant, and fisible for exchanges! The third group was detained for financing those illegal activities. All of them were treated as a prisoners of war, i.e. participants in combats, although could be treated as terrorists, which would be worse for them.

But, as known to the Chamber, the central authorities didn't know anything about that, and even if they knew, they couldn't do anything, being unable to protect the people. Always it has to be kept in mind the domestic laws on the All-peoples defence, the Armed people, the rights to selforganize and selfdefend. Any objection should be directed to Tito, not to this President.. The camp authorities distributed old JNA uniforms to some of the detainees.⁴⁷⁵⁵ (#Wrong presentation#! This paragraph is an exemplary how it shouldn't be depicted. What does it mean "detainees" in a civil war? Without an information about the fights that the Muslim side started on 22 May in Prijedor (Hambarine) and on 27 May simultaneously on many spots in Ključ and Sanski Most, as well as in Bosanski Novi, all in the Sana River Valley, this looks like the Serb police and SOS have arrested innocent civilians and made them to be "detainees". That is far from correct presentation! The Serbs in SAO Krajina made a huge efforts to preserve the peace and find a political solution, offering the Muslim side to form their own municipalities and organise their authorities which wouldn't concern the Serbs and the Serb municipalities. This is well documented. #Two municipalities – peace#! But, the Muslim central authorities stopped all the talks, see: D3904, General S. Halilovic to his authorities:

UNA-SANA OPERATIONS GROUP
BIHAĆ DISTRICT DEFENCE STAFF
TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE BIHAĆ DISTRICT ASSEMBLY

I have followed the development of the BH Army in the Bihać region with full attention, and in organising its embryo, the Patriotic League, I was in the region personally on six occasions. Therefore, the situation in the wider region from the pre-war days till today is completely familiar to me. I was even in a position to alert the government organs in that region that armed combat was being obstructed, since they waited rather long and, while war was raging in all of the RBH /Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina/, in this region they were still negotiating with the aggressor.

So, the genuine Serb population, after the Kelts and Japods the oldest population in Krajina, was treated as "aggressors" and forbidden to negotiate with, "while the war was raging in all of the RBH". The Chamber neglected this Muslim document, which can not be discounted as a Serb "strictly confidential" documents, as if it was aimed to public? Is it now clear that the Serb side wanted negotiations, and the Muslim side a war? Thus a conflict broke out, and those captured in the skirmishes become a POWs, and none of them before 27. may 92. while the civilians captured in the zone of combats had been recently released. If there existed any Joint Criminal Enterprise, why the Srbs would wait for two months, why they didn't capture as many Muslims as wanted much earlier, and expelled them? In front of this argument all the Prosecution allegations pertaining to the #“Municipalities” are falling apart#.

1383. On 7 July 1992, under the escort of the civilian police from Sanski Most, a convoy of trucks with approximately 500 detainees from Betonirka factory garage, Krings Hall, and Hasan Kikić sports hall, arrived at Manjača.⁴⁷⁶³

b. Conditions of detention and treatment of detainees

1387. The food provided to the detainees in Manjača was insufficient and consisted for the most part of a thin broth and a slice of bread twice a day.⁴⁷⁷⁴ As a result, many detainees lost a substantial amount of weight.⁴⁷⁷⁵ Some became so thin that they were unable to walk or even stand.⁴⁷⁷⁶ Some detainees resorted to eating grass.⁴⁷⁷⁷ With assistance from the ICRC and Merhamet, a local Bosnian Muslim humanitarian organisation, the food and the general situation improved slightly sometime after August 1992.⁴⁷⁷⁸

1388. There was also insufficient potable water at Manjača.⁴⁷⁷⁹ During July and August 1992, twice each day, cups of water were provided; however, four detainees would have to divide one cup among themselves.⁴⁷⁸⁰ There was no water for the purposes of personal hygiene.⁴⁷⁸¹ If they tried to collect rain water, the camp guards would beat them.⁴⁷⁸² At one point, camp authorities refused to provide diesel for trucks that pumped water and transported it to the camp.⁴⁷⁸³

(#General shortage OF EVERYTHING#! This is not correct, nor the Report (D1876) sais that. The problem didn't depend of a good will of the camp authorities, but of a real shortage of oil, because of the sanctions. Wrong inference. As a matter of fact, the ICRC refused to give more fuel, see D01876

Since the ICRC is no longer willing to provide fuel and the authorities claim that their reserves are very limited, prisoners now have to bring the water they need for drinking and cooking from the nearby lake in canisters.

It sais that the objective problems, such as embargo, produced many troubles, contrary to the good intentions of the camp authorities, see:

8. One of the unfortunate things is hygiene and medical cover. We have tried as much as we could to satisfy articles 32 and 33 of the GC but the embargo has had it's results.

From this point on, the only available water originated from a nearby lake, and its poor quality caused intestinal and stomach problems among the detainees.⁴⁷⁸⁴

1389. Initially, there were a number of barrels in each stable which served as toilets; later, however, the detainees dug holes outside and used them as toilets.⁴⁷⁸⁵

1390. Faik Bišćević who was a dentist and three detainees who were doctors by profession, namely, Emir Kapetanović, Enis Šabanović and Mehmed Derviškadić, as well as a Serb nurse, staffed a medical clinic; this clinic, however, suffered from a severe shortage of medicine and supplies and could not provide adequate medical care to the detainees.⁴⁷⁸⁶ At times, the guards refused to allow the sick detainees to go to the clinic for up to a week.⁴⁷⁸⁷ (#Contrary to reports#! Why this wasn't reported to the ICRC? Because it wasn't true. And the witnesses continued to wage their war against the Serbs through such a statements. Looking to the ICRC reports, it is obvious that the situation was difficult, but not as an intention of the authorities, but because of the war and sanctions. But, somehow the testimonies of the resentful POW-s worth more before this Court than the ICRC reports, although the ICRC didn't exercise to much of sensitivity for the Serb cause.) Some detainees did not receive any medical treatment for their pre-existing conditions or the injuries they sustained from the

1392. The detainees were kept in large, crowded stables meant for livestock, where they sat or laid down for most of the day.⁴⁷⁹⁰ Generally, detainees could not leave the stables freely, and the stable doors were kept closed.⁴⁷⁹¹ (#Contrary to reports#! 1393. Nothing of that was due to any bad will, but a limitation of possibilities, as said in the OSCE report, P00534.

P00534:

12. One of the activities of the headquarters of the camp is also to make PW work. I wish to assure you that we stick to article 50 of the Geneva Convention and we use them only for the type of work that is foreseen by the GC. We had problems that everyone wanted to work but we do not have that much work. Conditions of work are covered by article 51 of the Geneva Convention.

in many other POW camps, the detainees wanted to work, because it was a part of the day they were out and got some benefits such as drink, cigarettes and food. Also, the President couldn't have known anything else but what was said in this document.

1395. On arrival at Manjača, the detainees were ordered to lower their heads and keep their arms behind their backs with hands clasped, a camp rule that remained in effect throughout their detention.⁴⁷⁹⁸ The detainees were also made to hand in their money, gold, and other valuables.⁴⁷⁹⁹ (#Legal and obligatory#! That was a regulation, and not a crime! Similar is in the UN DU, no detainee is allowed to possess any money. The guards are also searching and fining the trespassers. The guards searched the stables and detainees frequently, appropriating any valuables they found while beating the detainees.⁴⁸⁰⁰

1396. The detainees were required to stand up whenever Kovačević entered the stables; these visits at times lasted a few hours and caused the weaker detainees to faint and fall to the ground.⁴⁸⁰¹

Colonel Vukelić authorised the daily use of 60 detainees in Manjača for work on a co-operative farm in Banja Luka. See D1873 (Order of the 1st Krajina Corps to the Manjača camp command, 22 September 1992). Though the Chamber received evidence that the detainees in Manjača were forced to work, this work is not covered by the Indictment as it was not conducted at the frontlines and did not include the digging of trenches. However, the Chamber noted this in the Judgment, and thus contributing to a bad picture of the Serbs. However, this wasn't true, see: P00534, an OSCE Report, that could have been checked!

night, the guards called out the names of detainees, took them outside and severely beat them.⁴⁸⁰⁸ The beating of KDZ026 stopped only when Popović, upon hearing KDZ026's cries after he was stabbed in the stomach, came outside and shouted at the guards to stop.⁴⁸⁰⁹ (The #“next level”# represents the state and the VRS, more than a guard, so this and all such a cases shouldn't be used against the President, and the RS generally.)

1398. On another occasion, an officer from the security service of the 1st Krajina Corps went outside the camp and saw that policemen were beating two detainees “sadistically”.⁴⁸¹⁰ (#Next level#! The document P3750 exactly indicates that there was a misdeeds of the lower levels, but the “next level”, as the author of this report did responsible warning and asked for a correction of this practice. Therefore, this can not be used agains any RS official above the direct perpetrators, because such a felonies are expected in any war, but no president was kept liable for such a conduct of the lowestest level of policemen, who by the way, in a high degree hadn't been even minimally educated!)

1399. The detainees were forced to run the gauntlet on arrival into the camp.⁴⁸¹¹ Once inside, they were regularly beaten by members of the MP and the MUP.⁴⁸¹² (#Next level# The exhibit D01862 clearly shows that the superiors in the Manjaca camp were opposed to any irregularity and demanded a personal changes to quit the commission of felonies. This limits the liability to the perpetrators, not even to their superiors, let alone to the state organs and the President. What these officials did in stopping and preventing the felonies was in accord with the President's orders, and what the perpetrators of the crimes did was in a sharp contrast to everything what the President ordered this is the only reasonable inference, and the fact supported by everything the officials knew!) Detainees were beaten with bare hands, batons, wooden poles, rifle butts, and electric cables.⁴⁸¹³ They were regularly interrogated about their involvement in military matters.⁴⁸¹⁴ During the interrogations, the guards beat the detainees, sometimes to the point that the detainees could no longer move.⁴⁸¹⁵ During the night, detainees were called out and beaten; at least five to ten detainees were called out every night.⁴⁸¹⁶ Detainees

1400. Kovačević was in charge of the beatings; he was present and many times personally beat the detainees.⁴⁸¹⁸ He prepared lists of detainees to be beaten—a detainee could not be beaten until Kovačević ordered it.⁴⁸¹⁹ Because of his brutality, both the guards and the detainees feared Kovačević.⁴⁸²⁰ Popović and Talić were aware of the mistreatment.⁴⁸²¹ On one occasion, Popović came to the scene and angrily dispersed the military policemen who had been beating the detainees.⁴⁸²² (#Responsible official conduct#! Mr. Popovic, as a responsible man, a person in charge, was “President’s man”, he was doing on behalf of the state, not “Kovacevic” and other that Popovic was after them. 1401. On 3 July 1992, the Command of the 1st Krajina Corps was informed that efforts to stamp out the wilful mistreatment of prisoners at the hands of MP were proving increasingly difficult.⁴⁸²³ (#Responsible official’s conduct#! This relies on the shown D1862, which proves that the superiors were doing their best to prevent the criminal conduct, and how this could be used to prove an allegedly criminal plan on the side of state, and this President?) On 11 July 1992, during a meeting with senior MUP officials, Stojan Župljanin, Chief of Banja Luka CSB, stated that the conditions in Manjača were bad and that something had to be done.⁴⁸²⁴ (#Official good deeds against officials#! A criminal conduct was not a part of policy, but a matter of individual aberrations that had been fought by the superiors!) Furthermore, the ICRC reported that the beating of two detainees by the guards during a visit by the ICRC on 16 July 1992 resulted in the ICRC prematurely terminating its visit to the camp and that there were “frequent and widespread traces of recent and often severe beatings”.⁴⁸²⁷ In the same report, the ICRC criticised the living conditions in Manjača and recommended that Manjača be closed down.⁴⁸²⁸ This report was provided to the Accused on 25 July 1992.⁴⁸²⁹ On 7 August 1992, the Accused forwarded to Branko Đerić, the RS Prime Minister at the time, a copy of the ICRC’s report; the Accused also requested that Đerić take prompt action with a view to improving the living conditions in prisons on RS held territory.⁴⁸³⁰ (#Proper official’s conduct#! c. Visits to Manjača and transfer of detainees

1402. On 18 June 1992, representatives from Merhamet, the VRS and the MUP as well as SDS officials from Banja Luka visited Manjača.⁴⁸³¹ (#Distortion#! This is an unacceptable shifting of facts. Some of them may have been SDS officials, but they had been keeping a state positions, and visited Manjaca in this capacity, not as the SDS officials!) Omer Filipović, a Bosnian Muslim detainee, told the visitors that the detainees had been taken from their homes and described the poor living conditions in the camp.⁴⁸³² (Mr. Filipovic was very known for his subversive activity and preparation of a pogrom against the Serbs in Kljuc! Therefore, it means nothing whether he was arrested at home or on a battlefield!) On 24 June 1992, representatives of Merhamet delivered food and medical supplies to Manjača but were barred from having contact with the detainees.⁴⁸³³ On 6 July 1992, the Accused's of municipal, district and military courts in Banja Luka, together with prosecutors and the Military Legal Officer of the 1st Krajina Corps visited Manjača and discussed the possibility of instituting judicial proceedings against the detainees.⁴⁸³⁴ In response to a written request to the command of the 1st Krajina Corps by Merhamet, approximately 100 minors, elderly, and sick detainees were released around 10 July 1992.⁴⁸³⁵ (All of that happened without ant participation of the President, which confirms that it was in the competence of the 1st Krajina Corps! #No liability#!)

1403. In mid-July 1992, representatives from the ICRC, accompanied by medical personnel, visited Manjača.⁴⁸³⁶ All of the detainees were registered and weighed by the ICRC.⁴⁸³⁷ The process lasted a number of days.⁴⁸³⁸ At the end of July 1992, Vojo Kuprešanin, the President of the ARK Assembly, visited Manjača and promised the detainees that the majority of them would be released promptly; this did not materialise and it caused unrest and anxiety amongst the detainees.⁴⁸³⁹ Sometime at the end of July or in early August, Župljanin and a number of other Serb officials visited Manjača and went to the stables, where they talked with some of the detainees.⁴⁸⁴⁰ (#Proper conduct# in the President's name! it had been heard in the court room that Kupresanin was helping the non-Serbs on behalf of this President, as his special representative!)

1404. The ICRC representatives again visited Manjača on 28 July 1992; during this visit, they distributed mail and cigarettes to the detainees and conducted a number of interviews.⁴⁸⁴¹ In early August, the ICRC once again visited Manjača and this time demanded that more water be

Also a good move in a good direction!) On 8 August 1992, journalists, including members of foreign news agencies, were allowed to visit Manjača.⁴⁸⁴⁴ During this visit, the journalists requested to see the detainees who had arrived from Omarska two days prior but were not allowed to see them.⁴⁸⁴⁵ On 12 and 19 August 1992, foreign journalists again visited Manjača.⁴⁸⁴⁶ On 22 August 1992, the Prijedor SJB reported the transfer of a number of individuals from Manjača to Trnopolje.⁴⁸⁴⁷ (That meant a release, since Trnopolje was a reception centre!) On 24 August 1992, Milovanović ordered the authorities in Manjača to provide a list of the detainees and their places of residence so that such information could be forwarded to the ICRC.⁴⁸⁴⁸ On 31 August, a delegation from CSCE visited the camp and the ICRC brought food from Zagreb.⁴⁸⁴⁹ On the same day, a group of RS government representatives who had approval from Đerić took a tour of the camp in order to compile a report.⁴⁸⁵⁰ In late August 1992, representatives from the Bosanska Dubica, Ključ, Banja Luka, Prijedor, and Mrkonjić Grad CSBs came to Manjača in order to discuss "tasks and instructions for joint work".⁴⁸⁵¹ In August and September 1992, more minors and elderly were released.⁴⁸⁵² 1405. On or about 1 September 1992, the ECMM visited Manjača.⁴⁸⁵³ During this visit, Popović insisted that the camp authorities adhered to all provisions of the Geneva Conventions while the detainees told the visitors that they were entirely civilians and that all soldiers had already been shot.⁴⁸⁵⁴ (#Uncorroborated#! On 16 September 1992, the ICRC visited Manjača for the seventh time; during this visit, Popović stated that the camp administration had taken steps to guarantee the mental and physical integrity of the detainees.⁴⁸⁵⁷ ICRC representatives, however, were of the view that Manjača should be closed as soon as possible, its civilian detainees released (#Wrong!#This is a trespassing of competences, since the ICRC couldn't establish that anyone was civilian!) and the imprisoned soldiers transferred to suitable prisons.⁴⁸⁵⁸ On 19 September 1992, detainees were taken out of Manjača and exchanged.⁴⁸⁵⁹ Additional visits by the ICRC took place on 23 September and 30 September 1992.⁴⁸⁶⁰ (#ICRC#! As it can be seen, the ICRC had more influence and dealt more with the Manjaca camp than the President. The ICRC had an unhindered access to the Camp, and only in September 1992 the ICRC had at least four successful visits to Manjaca. All of their recommendations had been accepted and realised!)

1406. On 1 October 1992, Kuprešanin wrote to the RS Presidency, requesting the pardon and release of 13 detainees held at Manjača.⁴⁸⁶¹ And was this request met by the Presidency? Certainly it was, but why it is not mentioned here? On 3 and 4 October 1992, the ICRC visited Manjača and brought letters for the detainees, and visited again on 7 October in order to obtain a list of sick detainees.⁴⁸⁶² On 12 October 1992, the ICRC arrived with a list of sick persons; these detainees were released and taken abroad for treatment.⁴⁸⁶³ On 30 October 1992, the ICRC started working in the camp every day.⁴⁸⁶⁴ In addition to the ICRC, other organisations and renowned individuals such as Bernard Kouchner and Elie Wiesel visited the detainees.⁴⁸⁶⁵

1407. On 31 October 1992, about 60 detainees were exchanged.⁴⁸⁶⁶ Starting in November, preparatory measures were taken for the release and eventual transfer of all the detainees to third countries.⁴⁸⁶⁷ On 13 November, the President ordered the release of approximately 700 individuals from Manjača.⁴⁸⁶⁸ In the early hours of 14 November 1992, minors, elderly detainees, as well as those who were not considered to be “extremists” or “war criminals” by the camp authorities, were lined up; (#Distortion#, a drastic one! What “minors” and “elderlies”? the minors of age of 14 were mobilised, as well as many elderlies. The main concern of the Serb military authorities whether these same POWs will appear on the front line a day after released or not, and this concern was legitimate. d. Conclusion 1410. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that during the period between 15 May and 18 December 1992, Serb Forces detained a large number of Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat men, including minors, sick, and elderly, at Manjača and regularly subjected them to beatings and mistreatment. The Chamber further finds that the detainees were held in poor conditions. These included lack of food and water, insufficient sanitary facilities and inadequate medical care. (#Inference on inference, on inference#! This kind of summarising and making inferences afterward is not correct, and shouldn't be allowed. What does it mean "Serb Forces" did so and so? We saw from all the documents cited in this part of the Judgment that there were individuals committing felonies, but it was condemned and fought against by the very #next level of superiors#! All up to the President, though Djeric, Kupresanin, Popovic, and others from the 1st Krajina Corps Command did their best to improve the conditions. The Chamber can not take for granted what the Muslim extremists were saying, because those who were transferred to Manjaca had already passed the first round of investigations, after which from 41 to 59% of the detained had been released. Those who had been transferred to Manjaca certainly were involved in the rebellion and killings of the Serb soldiers and civilians. Beside, both, the Chamber and the Prosecution didn't submit any evidence that those capturers weren't justified from a security standpoint. For instance, why there was no any detainee from Mrkonjic Grad, Gradiska, Srbac, Celinac, Laktasi, all the neighboring municipalities. While the Muslim Army initiated a synchronised attack on many points, (22 May in Hambarine, Prijedor, 27 May in many places in Sanski Most, Kljuc, Bosanski Novi..., as it can be seen from the exhibit D3904, a document of the Commander of the ABiH Sefer Halilovic. The Chamber had more than sufficient evidence that many Muslims hadn't any problem, even in Prijedor, Sanski Most and Kljuc, and that there was a crucial difference in their conduct: those who participated in the armed rebellion had been captured, and those who didn't fight, didn't have any problem, and many remained in the Serb areas to the very end of the war.)

e. Scheduled Incident B.1.1

1411. The Indictment refers to the killing of at least six men in front of Manjača after their transportation from Hasan Kikić Elementary School in Sanski Most on or about 3 June 1992.⁴⁸⁷⁹

1412. As mentioned earlier, sometime in the first week of June 1992, members of Sanski Most SJB and SOS loaded approximately 140 non-Serb detainees held at Hasan Kikić School, in Sanski Most municipality, onto two trucks and departed for Manjača. The trucks were extremely crowded with approximately 70 detainees standing in each truck.⁴⁸⁸⁰

1413. Approximately six to seven hours later, the trucks stopped on the road next to the entrance gate of Manjača but the detainees were not allowed to exit.⁴⁸⁸¹ After waiting for 30 to 60 minutes standing beneath tarpaulins, the detainees were ordered to exit the trucks one by one.⁴⁸⁸² A group of 20 armed men in mixed and camouflage military uniforms, including Daniluško Kajtez, waited outside the trucks as the detainees exited.⁴⁸⁸³ (#A renegade#! Kajtez had been recognized by the witness G. Stojic as a criminal who intercepted him and several Croats) The armed men beat the detainees with batons, wooden handles of shovels, and wooden planks as they exited the truck.⁴⁸⁸⁴ Six of the detainees, all Bosnian Muslim men, were subsequently separated from the rest.⁴⁸⁸⁵ Two of these six detainees were handcuffed and taken near a small truck.⁴⁸⁸⁶ The other four detainees were taken to different points approximately 15 metres away.⁴⁸⁸⁷ Subsequently, three to five armed men surrounded each of the detainees and beat them for approximately 20 minutes with multiple objects; all six detainees were killed.⁴⁸⁸⁸ The six bodies were then thrown into the small truck, and the rest of the detainees were taken to Manjača.⁴⁸⁸⁹ (#Renegades#! 1414. The Chamber received forensic evidence which identifies six bodies as related to this incident.⁴⁸⁹⁰ 1415. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that on 6 June 1992, Serb Forces killed six Bosnian Muslim men in front of the gates of Manjača. (#Abuse of “The Serb Forces” obviously were several criminals#, who later had been processed. At that time there was no possibility to disarm and arrest the paramilitaries, since we the VRS was regulated as of 15 June, when the President signed an order of formation and organization of the VRS. Two days prior to this Order, on 13 June, the #President issued an Order on maintaining the Geneva Conventions and other international provisions in the VRS#, see D434, and to disband and arrest all the paramilitaries, whom the President disowned, see D93, and therefore couldn't be liable for their illegal conduct. That can not be neglected, and the RS civilian and military authorities can not be kept liable for a misdeeds of criminals so early, just after the forming of the Army.

f. Scheduled Incident B.1.2

1416. The Indictment refers to the deaths of a number of prisoners who suffocated in trucks while being transported from Betonirka detention facility in Sanski Most to Manjača on 7 July 1992.

1417. In the morning of 7 July 1992, Serb policemen took approximately 64 detainees, most of them Bosnian Muslims, from the Betonirka factory garage, in Sanski Most municipality, and loaded them into a truck with tarpaulin cover.⁴⁸⁹¹ The detainees were crammed.⁴⁸⁹² The Serb policemen then pulled down and locked the tarpaulin cover, hermetically sealing the back of the truck.⁴⁸⁹³ Under escort of the Sanski Most civilian police, the truck joined a convoy of trucks

1418. The journey to Manjača lasted approximately 10 or 11 hours.⁴⁸⁹⁵ It was very hot that day, and there was no ventilation for the detainees beneath the sealed canvas tarpaulin of the truck from Betonirka factory garage.⁴⁸⁹⁶ During the journey, fumes from the exhaust pipe of the truck flowed in, making it difficult for the detainees to breathe.⁴⁸⁹⁷ Then, the tarpaulin wasn't sealed! The detainees squeezed their shoes in between the tarpaulin and the truck frame in order to allow air in, but the policemen hit the shoes back inside the truck at the check-points.⁴⁸⁹⁸ By the time the truck stopped a second time at a check-point in Vrhpolje, the detainees had finished the six litres of water given to them at the beginning of the journey, and the guards refused to provide them additional water.⁴⁸⁹⁹ A detainee resorted to drinking his own urine.⁴⁹⁰⁰ As the journey continued, a number of detainees began to faint and die.⁴⁹⁰¹ When the truck finally reached Manjača around sunset, the detainees were called out one by one by name.⁴⁹⁰² Of the detainees, 24 did not respond and remained lying on the floor of the truck.⁴⁹⁰³ As the camp officials refused to take the dead and unwell detainees, they were taken back to Sanski Most along with Edin Bišćević, a detained Bosnian Muslim doctor who had volunteered to resuscitate those who were unwell.⁴⁹⁰⁴ Edin

Bišćević and the unwell detainees who were taken back to Sanski Most have never been seen alive again.⁴⁹⁰⁵

1419. The Chamber received forensic evidence which identifies a number of bodies as being related to this incident.⁴⁹⁰⁶ Furthermore, the Manjača authorities reported to the 1st Krajina Corps Command on 8 and 9 July 1992 that 24 individuals had died during transportation to Manjača.⁴⁹⁰⁷

(#No cover up#! Therefore, no cover-up! There was not established any intent!)

1420. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that on 7 July 1992, Serb Forces forced a number of Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat men detained at Betonirka factory garage to board a tarpaulin covered truck which was bound for Manjača and that due to the lack of sufficient ventilation, 20 detainees suffocated during transportation. (#No criminal intent#! Nothing to say!

It was really pity and dreadful, but sure we see no intent to kill, but rather a negligence and an inhuman treatment. However, what the President has to do with it all, since neither he knew what was going on in this municipality, nor he could influence the course of events in any sense. The report of the Manjača officers to their superiors meant that nobody intended to cover up this case.

g. Scheduled Incident B.1.3

1421. The Indictment refers to the killings of a number of men in front of Manjača upon their arrival from Omarska camp on or about 6 August 1992.

1422. As mentioned earlier, on the night of 6 August 1992, approximately 1,300 detainees were brought to the gates of Manjača from Omarska and made to spend the night in the buses in which they had travelled.⁴⁹⁰⁸ At one point, members of the Prijedor SJB's intervention squad took out a number of detainees, including Dedo Crnalić and Jasko Alisić, from the buses, took them behind some agricultural machines nearby and slit their throats.⁴⁹⁰⁹ One of the guards who killed Crnalić wiped his bloody knife on Crnalić's shirt.⁴⁹¹⁰ The next day, during the roll call of the detainees, Dedo Crnalić's name was called first.⁴⁹¹¹ Members of the intervention squad who at that time were standing next to the bus began laughing and said: "There he is on top of that pile."⁴⁹¹² Later, the detainees heard that in addition to Crnalić and Alisić, the members of the intervention squad had killed six or seven detainees in front of the gates of Manjača, including Nezir Krak, Nihad

As noted above, the Indictment limits the scope of Scheduled Incident B.1.2 to "prisoners who suffocated in trucks while being transported from Betornika detention facility to Manjača".

⁴⁹⁰⁶ According to Mašović, the remains of 21 victims of Scheduled Incident B.1.2 have been identified. These victims are Jasmin Bajrektarević, Adam Delić, Mirsad Halimović, Hivzo Hodžić, Ismet Hodžić, Sevdaga Hukanović, Adem Jakupović, Ramo Jusić, Fadil Kamić, Vinko Matanović, Izet Mehić, Josip Mlinar, Dževad Muhić, Nedžad Muhić, Zijad Mujadžić, Kelo Talić, Edin Bišćević, Enver Burnić, Mirhad Delić, Ibrahim Mušić, and Ivica Tutić. The first 16 victims were exhumed from the Ušće Dabra mass grave, in Sanski Most municipality, on 17 July 2001 whereas the last five victims were exhumed from the Dragoraj mass grave, in Mrkonjić Grad municipality on 19 April 2000. The Chamber, however, notes that from the 21 victims referred to by Mašović, only 15 are included in P724 (List of civilians killed during transport to Manjača). These individuals are Sevdaga Hukanović, Josip Mlinar, Vinko Matanović, Hivzo Hodžić, Fadil Kamić, Mirsad Halimović, Kemo Talić, Nedžad Muhić, Dževad Muhić, Ibrahim Mušić, Mirhad Delić, Ramo Jusić, Ivica Tutić, Ismet Hodžić, and Zijad Mujadžić.

1423. The Chamber has received forensic evidence which identifies a number of bodies as related to this incident.⁴⁹¹⁵

1424. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that on 6 August 1992, Serb Forces separated at least eight or nine Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats from the group of detainees who had arrived at the gates of Manjača from Omarska and killed them. (#Abuse of the “Serb Forces” term#! h. Scheduled Incident B.1.4

1425. The Indictment refers to the killings of at least 10 men in Manjača between 1 June and 18 December 1992.

1426. On 10 July 1992, the guards at Manjača beat Emir Mulalić to death.⁴⁹¹⁶ The guards then called in a detainee who was also a doctor.⁴⁹¹⁷ Since Popović had ordered that the cause of death of the detainees who died from beatings be falsified, the doctor confirmed Mulalić’s death but reported that he had died from a heart attack.⁴⁹¹⁸ (This is all dubious, and impossible for the Defence to check and challenge, and anyway it doesn’t have anything to do with this President. #No Karad i}’s liability#!)

1427. On 24 June 1992, Zlatan Miškić was taken to Manjača and died some hours later.⁴⁹¹⁹ On the night of 29 July 1992, Željko Bulatović called out Omer Filipović and Esad Bender to the

The said document (P03757) indicates that there was an illegal and unlawful conduct of some of the Prijedor “Interventni vod”, which was composed of some reservists and certainly not educated policemen, later known as the perpetrators of the Koricanske stijene killings. But, what we see is that the Commander of Manjaca and his subordinates, certainly a higher officials than the perpetrators, tried to stop and prevent such a conduct, partially succeeding, and reporting further, which undoubtedly indicates that there was no any attempt to allow or cover up the incident. So, this can not be put on the account of the RS authorities, let alone of this Accused.; P3750 (Manjača camp daily report to the 1st Krajina Corps, 7 August 1992), p. 1 (under seal) (reporting that a total of eight prisoners died on the way to Manjača and that three of them had most probably been killed because they displayed visible signs of violence).

isolation rooms where they were severely beaten.⁴⁹²⁰ Filipović died as a result of the beatings that night, but Bender was brought back around midnight. He crawled into the stable, bleeding and crying for help; no one assisted him out of fear of the guards.⁴⁹²¹ Around 7 a.m. the next morning, Dr. Eniz Šabanović checked Bender's pulse and confirmed he was dead.⁴⁹²² Later that morning, the bodies of Filipović and Bender were wrapped in blankets and loaded into a vehicle with a JNA license plate.⁴⁹²³ The guards called out at least eleven other detainees, including a minor, at night and beat them to death.⁴⁹²⁴ (#Uncorroborated#! All of it is dubious and uncorroborated by any other proof. Why the official reports of a professionals is not trusted, and the statements of those willing to revenge to the Serbs are accepted?)

1428. Around 10 p.m. on 3 August 1992, guards began beating a detainee named Stipo.⁴⁹²⁵ Stipo fought back and Bulatović subsequently shot him dead.⁴⁹²⁶

1429. The Chamber took judicial notice between June and November 1992, at least 10 detainees died inside Manjača as a result of beatings or of sporadic killings.⁴⁹²⁷ The Chamber also took judicial notice of the fact that Popović ordered that death certificates, giving a false account of the cause of death of detainees who were killed as a result of beatings inside Manjača, be issued.⁴⁹²⁸ (#Contradicted#! How possibly a witness, a Muslim could have known this? Had the Commander decided to do this forgery and a cover up, he certainly wouldn't chose a Muslim doctor to do it for him. This is a pattern of the false testimonies that were "successful" in this Court!) In addition, the Chamber received forensic evidence which identifies two bodies as related to this incident.⁴⁹²⁹ (#Not established#! It is very easy, but not fair, to assert that, since there is no any possibility to check it. The Prosecution thus has an advantage over the Defence, obtained by the Rules established by the Court, which makes this trial unfair. A witness KDZ163 identified only five deaths in Manjaca, out of which three were of a natural causes, and two after beating (Filipovic, Bender) which also, though a crime, may not be intended to kill, but resulted in deaths.

(B)Bosanski Novi

(1)Charges

1431. Under Count 3, the Prosecution alleges that persecution, a crime against humanity, was committed in Bosanski Novi as part of the objective to permanently remove Bosnian Muslims and/or Bosnian Croats from the Municipalities.⁴⁹³⁰

1432. Acts of persecution alleged to have been committed in Bosanski Novi by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs include (i) torture, beatings, and physical and psychological abuse, during and after the take-over as well as in the Mlakve football stadium, as cruel or inhumane treatment;⁴⁹³¹ (ii) the establishment and perpetuation of inhumane living conditions in the Mlakve football stadium, including the failure to provide adequate accommodation, shelter, food, water, medical care, or hygienic sanitation facilities, as cruel or inhumane treatment;⁴⁹³² (iii) forcible transfer or deportation of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats from their homes;⁴⁹³³ (iv) unlawful detention in the Mlakve football stadium;⁴⁹³⁴ (v) the appropriation or plunder of property, during and after the take-over in Bosanski Novi, during arrests and detention, and in the course of or following acts of deportation or forcible transfer;⁴⁹³⁵ (vi) the wanton destruction of private property, including homes and business premises, and public property, including cultural monuments and sacred sites;⁴⁹³⁶ and (vii) the imposition and maintenance of restrictive and discriminatory measures.⁴⁹³⁷

northwestern edge of the municipality, also forming part of the border between BiH and Croatia.⁴⁹⁴² In 1991, the population of Bosanski Novi was approximately 42,000, consisting of 33.7% Muslims, 60.2% Serbs, and approximately 6% other ethnicities.⁴⁹⁴³ The Japra valley area in particular, including Suhača and Blagaj, was inhabited predominantly by Bosnian Muslims, while the villages of Maslovare, Gvozdeni, Vitasovci, and Radomirovac had large Serb populations, and the village of Jošava was exclusively a Serb village.⁴⁹⁴⁴ The village of Blagaj is divided by the Sana River into Blagaj Japra and Blagaj Rijeka.⁴⁹⁴⁵

1435. Following the multi-party elections in 1990, the SDS won the majority of seats in Bosanski Novi.⁴⁹⁴⁶ Gavro Bogić was elected as President of the SDS and Radomir Pašić was elected as President of the Municipal Assembly.⁴⁹⁴⁷

1436. Prior to the 1990 elections and the start of the war in Croatia, inter-ethnic relations between Bosnian Serbs and Bosnian Muslims in Bosanski Novi were generally good.⁴⁹⁴⁸ However, following the start of the war in Croatia, there were increasing inter-ethnic tensions between them.⁴⁹⁴⁹ When the war broke out in Croatia, border points were closed in Bosanski Novi, among other areas, and movement was restricted.⁴⁹⁵⁰ (#No Serbs in BiH liable#! This had nothing to do with the Serb local authorities, since it was a war between the SFRY and the two secessionist republics, Croatia and Slovenia. The tensions were increasing because the Muslim leadership supported the secessions and instructed their followers to sabotage the JNA mobilisations, while the Serbs were obliged to respond to these mobilisations.)

1437. As early as 1991 and at the beginning of 1992, Bosnian Muslims began to be dismissed from their employment.⁴⁹⁵¹ (#Distorted#! This was not true, since such a case would be widely publicised and used in the interethnic quarrels, except if there was an allocations of the posts among the parties, or if the Yugoslav federal security had some reasons to be cautious about some persons. Another reason could have been, i.e. if the Muslims didn't respect the inter-party agreement in another municipality, which was a pair with the B. Novi, then the authorities in B. Novi would be entitled to do the same. However, the Muslims themselves sabotaged the functioning of the common organs, such as the Executive board, as is noted in P02632:

Simultaneously, a problem occurred with functioning of the Municipal Executive Board, due to a long sick-leave of its president, after which he resigned, while the SDA members obstructed the board's work. Therefore, pursuant to the proposal of the In mid-April 1992, the newly appointed Serb police chief dismissed all Muslim police officers in Bosanski Novi because they refused to sign an oath of loyalty to the Serb authorities; however, even the Muslims who signed this paper were fired and sent home as well.⁴⁹⁵² The remaining police officers were issued with a new camouflage uniform with a Serb flag on the epaulette.⁴⁹⁵³ Bosnian Muslims who worked in companies, administrative organs, and institutions in Bosanski Novi were required to sign an oath and were also dismissed from their jobs.⁴⁹⁵⁴ (#Due to the ICFY#! It does fall in the subject of the oath segment. But, there was proclaimed the RS, on the basis of the results of the ICFY in the Hague in 1991, and the Lisbon Agreement. Even if there was no such an agreements, the Serbs were entitled to self-organize in an opposition to the unilateral and unlawfull secession of the BiH. 1438. In April 1992, check-points manned by Bosnian Serb soldiers wearing JNA uniforms were established, including between Hozici and Donji Agici and between Suhača and Jošava.⁴⁹⁵⁵ (#Before VRS#! This is wrong assertion and any inference originating from it is wrong, because at that time there was the JNA, no matter from where were it's soldiers. Up until 20 May there was no the Bosnian Serb army. At that time the JNA was withdrawing from Croatia, and had a lot of troubles with security, and that was why it established the check-points and restricted movement.) Movement was also restricted.⁴⁹⁵⁶ The soldiers at these specific check-points only checked the papers of Bosnian Muslims.⁴⁹⁵⁷ (And how the JNA soldiers recognised who was a Muslim, and how they differentiated the Croats and Serbs from the Muslims? By a race? By a skin colour? That is how this AF or 92bis can work without any challenge.)

1439. Pašić received the Variant A/B Instructions from the SDS Main Board,⁴⁹⁵⁸ pursuant to which the SDS formed the Bosanski Novi Crisis Staff in April 1992.⁴⁹⁵⁹ Bosanski Novi was a Variant A municipality as Bosnian Serbs were the majority in the municipality.⁴⁹⁶⁰ After receiving the RS government instructions on the work of the Crisis Staffs, the Bosanski Novi Crisis Staff re-organised itself on 20 May 1992 to “take over the prerogatives and functions” of the Municipal Assembly.⁴⁹⁶¹ As a result, Pašić, who was President of the Bosanski Novi Municipal Assembly, became President of the Bosanski Novi Crisis Staff.⁴⁹⁶² (#Legal, legitimate, necessary# So what? This was a usual move in a crisis. An alternative would be to let the Muslim extremist butcher the Serb people and join the Croatian Army.)

The Chamber received contrary evidence from Radomir Pašić that Muslims were not dismissed from employment and that such ultimatum did not occur and that moreover, it was still relatively peaceful in April 1992. D3849 (Witness statement of Radomir Pašić dated 5 July 2013), p. 20; Radomir Pašić, T. 41020 (9 July 2013). However, the Chamber does not find this evidence to be reliable. 1440. In the Muslim village of Suhača, in particular, discussions with SDS representatives from the village of Jošava about the handover of Muslim weapons began in late March 1992.⁴⁹⁶³ (#Before VRS, before RS#! This is a lie, because at that time the only legal armed force was the JNA, and it was legitimate to disarm all the unlawfully armed individuals and groups. Had the SDS done it in March, there would be a big crisis and publicity!) At the end of April 1992, the SDA President in Suhača informed the villagers that he had reached an agreement with the SDS members in Bosanski Novi, including Ranko Balaban, President of the SDS in Jošava, that if they surrendered their weapons to the Serbs, they would be allowed to go on living as before.⁴⁹⁶⁴ The next day, the Bosnian Muslims of Suhača surrendered their weapons to the Serb MP at a check-point between Suhača and Jošava.⁴⁹⁶⁵ (#Before VRS#! However, if it was some MP, it must have been the JNA MP, because at that times there was no the Bosnian Serb army, and therefore no the Serb MPs either.) Following the surrender of weapons, the villagers were instructed to go to a field in Jošava while they waited for all of the houses in Suhača to be searched by Serb soldiers, accompanied by two Bosnian Muslim civilians.⁴⁹⁶⁶

1441. On 4 May 1992, the SDS in Bosanski Novi held talks with representatives from the SDA in an attempt to find a compromise that would compel all citizens, Serbs, Muslims, and Croats, in Bosanski Novi to hand in illegally held weapons to the TO or to the Bosanski Novi SJB; on the same day, the ARK government issued an order for mobilisation, instructing the surrender of weapons by 11 May 1992, and imposed a curfew for all citizens in the ARK.⁴⁹⁶⁷ (“For all citizens in the ARK” is meant #regardless of their ethnic or other affiliation#. What was wrong with this? Certainly, this was aimed to preserve the peace and order. Whatever, the President didn’t know anything about this, and couldn’t influence in any terms. In the areas reachable to the President, there was no any curfew at all, but the local authorities were entitled to secure a peace the way they considered suitable!) In line with this order, on or around 9 May 1992, the Bosanski Novi Crisis Staff under Radimir Pašić issued an ultimatum over Bosanski Novi radio for Bosnian Muslims in the municipality to hand in their weapons within 24 hours.⁴⁹⁶⁸ However, according to Pašić, a number of citizens ignored these orders and refused to turn in weapons and military equipment.⁴⁹⁶⁹

(3) Attacks against Bosnian Muslim villages

(a) Blagaj village

1442. After the deadline for the surrender of weapons expired on 11 May 1992, conflict started in the Blagaj area.⁴⁹⁷⁰ At 1 a.m. on 14 May 1992, pursuant to orders from Pašić, Serb soldiers fired 13 shells on Blagaj from Izba, a hill overlooking Bosanski Novi.⁴⁹⁷¹ Shells were fired into the village for two days, wounding civilians.⁴⁹⁷² The shelling caused damage to houses of Bosnian Muslims but did not kill anyone.⁴⁹⁷³ (#Before VRS#! In his testimony, Pasic denied any ingerence and authority over the Army, and he was right at least up until 20 May. No civilian authority would be tolerated to interfere in a military matters while the JNA was there. In the same report, (P02632) Pasic described the chaos that abrupted meanwhile, mainly under the influence of the fights in neighboring municipalities B. Krupa and Prijedor. Anyway, B. Novi was so close to the Croatian border, so that could be expected to be unrest because of the war in Croatia, a Croatiaan shells falling at the Serb settlements in BiH and a great number of the Serb refugees from Croatia.

1443. On 14 May 1992, a Bosnian Muslim delegation went to speak with Drago Ninić, the SDS president of the neighbouring village of Petkovac, to tell the Bosnian Serbs that Bosnian Muslims

⁴⁹⁷⁰ P2632 (Report of Bosanski Novi's Crisis Staff, undated), pp. 4–5. (#Linguistic troubles#! , in this document (P02632) there is a sentence that is incorrectly translated in English. Here is this sentence in the Serbian:

Кривин штаб је на сједници одржаној 22. маја примио на знање ставове СО СДС о пресељању, те ваључке од дан раније одржано сједнице представника СДС и СДА на којој су прихваћени ставови и податка спредајелења око добровољног пресељања. У циљу спровођења те активности у оквиру органа управе општине формирана је радна група која би радила на овим пословима, прикупљала потребне податке, давала корисне информације и вршила друга послове везано за пресељања.

And the critical sentence is “SDS I SDA na kojoj su prihvaceni stavovi...” however, in English it sais:

At its session held on May 27th, The Crisis Staff acknowledged the stands of SO SDS on relocation and conclusions from SDS and SDA representatives' sessions held the previous day, at which stands and political decisions on voluntary relocation were excepted. In order to pass this activity within the organs of the municipality administration, a working group was formed to work on these tasks, gather the necessary information, give useful information and perform other duties regarding the relocation.

First, it was not that “The Crisis staff acknowledged the stands of SO SDS...” but “taken note of the stands...” The municipal Crisis Staff was above the party board. Second, and the most important: “Excepted” should mean “excluded” which is contrary to what was really said. Therefore, the SDS and SDA had been discussing and agreeing the issues of removal of the population in an organized manner. To the other aspects, this document doesn't say what was explicated in the Judgment. Namely, it was explicitly said that a battalion of the soldiers originating from the B. Novi returned from Jasenovac, and put the Serb flag on the municipal buildings, contrary to the municipal authority's attitude, shows that there still was the JNA. Namely, Jasenovac is in Croatia, and there could not be any units of the Bosnian Serb TO, let alone of the VRS. Neglecting this fact, probably for a lack of knowledge, leads to a conclusion that Pasic wasn't frank and sincere. Since there was a constant tension between the civil authorities and the JNA, this intercept accusing Pasic for the order on attack on Blagaj should not be accepted without a reserve.

Despite an intercepted conversation between Major Željaja and Colonel Dević stating that Pašić ordered the attack on Blagaj, Pašić denied that the attack on Blagaj was carried out pursuant to his orders; according to Pašić, as the President of the Municipal Assembly and the President of the Crisis Staff, he did not have the authority to issue such orders or to activate anything in a military sense. Radomir Pašić, T. 41038–41043 (9 July 2013). See P6436 (Summary of intercepted conversation, 11 May 1992). However, the Chamber does not find Pašić's evidence on this issue to be reliable. In reaching this conclusion, the Chamber considered that Pašić's evidence in this regard was contradictory and concluded that he was evasive and lacked sincerity.

in Blagaj did not have weapons.⁴⁹⁷⁴ The meeting with Ninić also included Bogić, Bosanski Novi SDS President.⁴⁹⁷⁵ The Serbs did not want to speak to this delegation and demanded that three Bosnian Muslim men in particular be brought to them because they had weapons.⁴⁹⁷⁶ These men went to talk to the Bosnian Serbs again, when they were also told that “Serbs and Muslims could not live together any longer”.⁴⁹⁷⁷ They reached an agreement that the Bosnian Muslims would gather all of the weapons into the school.⁴⁹⁷⁸

1444. However, the shelling of Blagaj resumed at around 2 p.m., hours before the delegation had even returned from Petkovac.⁴⁹⁷⁹ The shells originated from Huzeirovica Brda.⁴⁹⁸⁰ That evening, a group of 500 villagers, including women and children, formed a column walking to a house of a Bosnian Serb, who had previously been on good terms with Bosnian Muslims, in Maslovare.⁴⁹⁸¹ They were stopped on the road by a group of 50 armed men led by Mićo Karlica; these armed men wore green camouflage uniforms with badges showing the four “S” insignia, and cockades on their hats.⁴⁹⁸² (#Insignias#! Certainly, not under the Serbian authorities, since the RS didn’t allow any cockardes, which were the chetnik insignias from the WWII, and would mean a new ideological division of the Serbs.) The villagers were told, at gun point, to surrender all weapons; they handed over all of their hunting weapons and were then allowed to continue to the house.⁴⁹⁸³ (#Armed civilians#! How come, they did have some weapons with themselves, while seeking shelter in a Serb home?) Later, the same soldiers who confiscated their weapons came to the house and shot at the villagers; one Bosnian Muslim man was wounded, and another was shot dead.⁴⁹⁸⁴ (#Deadly combination# #Defence helpless#! Many of the inferences above, from fn. 4976 to 4995, are based on a 92bis statements, and few on an Adjudicated Facts, which leaves this Defence and this President without a word, and without any possibility to clarify what happened and who was responsible. And this is one of the major vices of this trial.)

1445. The next day, 15 May 1992, Captain Bogdan Grab, wearing camouflage and a red beret, arrived in Maslovare with a group of approximately 20 soldiers, and started insulting the villagers.⁴⁹⁸⁵ Later, Grab’s soldiers took 15 Bosnian Muslim men and made them walk in front of the Serbs to “clear” the village of Blagaj but did not find anything.⁴⁹⁸⁶ There, the Bosnian Serbs placed flags depicting the four Cyrillic “S” symbols around the village.⁴⁹⁸⁷ On the same day, the villagers were allowed to return to the village.⁴⁹⁸⁸ (#Before VRS#! Obviously, this was a sort of search that was announced, but the conduct of those soldiers wasn’t proper, and there still was the JNA in the region, #no liability# of the Serb local authorities, let alone the central one. The shooting continued all around Blagaj and the villagers were surrounded and could not leave.⁴⁹⁸⁹ On the same day, the mosque and houses of Bosnian Muslims were set on fire.⁴⁹⁹⁰

(b) Suhača village

1448. Three days after the villagers surrendered their weapons in May 1992, Suhača was shelled beginning at 6:30 a.m. and continued for the next seven days.⁴⁹⁹³ The shells were fired from the hills surrounding Suhača, from the direction of the villages of Jošava and Krslje, both Serb villages, mainly targeting areas of the village where the mosques were located.⁴⁹⁹⁴ During the shelling of Suhača, its inhabitants took shelter in the basements of houses.⁴⁹⁹⁵ (#Local count down#! 1449. One day when there was no shelling, soldiers came to Suhača and told the villagers that the town would be attacked and that they could not protect the villagers.⁴⁹⁹⁶ They were therefore told to leave and retreat towards Bosanski Novi where it would be decided where they would go.⁴⁹⁹⁷ After the shelling of Suhača, Bosnian Serb soldiers entered the village and looted the houses.⁴⁹⁹⁸ (#Uncorroborated#! (c) Other villages in the Japra valley 1450. The Chamber took judicial notice that on 11 May 1992, Bosnian Serb forces shelled the Bosnian Muslim village of Gornji Agići.⁴⁹⁹⁹ ("#Before VRS#! #No "Bosnian Serb forces" existed on 11 May 1992!!! (4) Scheduled Incident D.4

#No Serb officials liable#! .

Before this action started to be carried out more seriously, problems arose in the valley of Japra. The Regional Staff of TO Agić, Rujinka i Kršalj, that is members of their units turned a deaf ear to endeavours of the official politics and organs of the authorities, and started to solve things on their own. Armed activities, which included use of mortars, caused expulsion of Muslim civilians from the villages of G. Agić, Čelopek, Hozić, Suhača, and they were taken to the settlement of Blagaj. The Crisis Staff reacted briskly and issued the order to the TO Municipal Staff (25/05/92) that they should immediately place under its control all its members and units, and that their military police should disarm, arrest and pursue all persons in uniforms in the municipality area, who are not members of the TO units or war units stationed in this area, and undertake other necessary measures in order to establish order and control in the municipality area.

Certainly, no a felony should be justified, but Mr. Pasic should be trusted in a several aspects: first, the civilian authorities didn't and couldn't influence any military happening while the JNA was there; second, the authorities could possibly influence the development in the town itself, but in the distant villages nobody could influence anything at that stage of the war. The local people acted in accordance with their own sense of security for their lives and lives their families. Not to forgot what was happening in Croatia, or what had happened in B. Brod on 25 and 27 March, or I Bijeljina 31 March and 1 to 3 April this year. If the municipal (let alone central) authorities were not able to guarantee the security fot the people in those villages, they had every right to secure it for themselves. Now, the Chamber is discrediting every evidence ttah proves what was the authority's attitude towards the events and particularly towards the crimes. Not even the municipal authorities were responsible for what happened in a distanced villages, let alone the central authorities and this Accused. . And no chamber is entitled to discredit everything that the Defence expose, particularly if a testimony is in accordance with a contemporaneous document. Or this is not a court, and in this case we do have every right to alarm the entire world on that. So, an honest report of the president of municipality is used against the civil authorities of the Serb side, just because the Chamber doesn't care about the reality and the context.

1452. In May 1992, the old wooden mosque in Blagaj Rijeka and the mosque in Blagaj Japra were shelled and set on fire by soldiers, destroying their minarets.⁵⁰⁰² During the shelling of Suhača, the two mosques in the village, the Stara Suhača and the Suhača mosques, were also badly damaged.⁵⁰⁰³

1453. In early May or June 1992, the town mosque in Bosanski Novi, Gradska Džamija, was shelled, set on fire by Bosnian Serb soldiers, and destroyed.⁵⁰⁰⁴ The walls were badly damaged but the minaret remained standing.⁵⁰⁰⁵ Heavy machinery was brought from Prijedor in order to knock down the minaret.⁵⁰⁰⁶ When the mosque was destroyed, trucks arrived to remove the rubble from the mosque and the site was then flattened and used as a parking lot; the tombs of the cemetery were also removed.⁵⁰⁰⁷ The Vidorijska mosque was burned down in May 1992 and its minaret was destroyed.⁵⁰⁰⁸ The mosques in Prekosanje, Urije, and Gornji Agići were also destroyed during the summer months of 1992.⁵⁰⁰⁹ (The only what misses is a proof that those minarets hadn't been abused by snipers, which regularly happened in all the cases!)

Having weighed these factors, the Chamber is satisfied beyond reasonable doubt that Serb Forces were responsible for the attacks on and destruction of mosques in Bosanski Novi. (Still, the Prosecution didn't prove that it was done by the legal and regular "Serb Forces". In his final brief, the Accused argues that there is no evidence that official authorities in Bosanski Novi ordered or otherwise participated in the destruction of the mosques there. However, the Chamber has considered the evidence before it and given its findings on the destructions of mosques in Bosanski Novi as well as its assessment of Pašić's credibility, the Chamber does not find his evidence to be reliable in this regard. President, who issued all the necessary orders to prevent such a development? #No Karadžić's liability#!)

1455. The Chamber therefore finds that nine mosques in Bosanski Novi municipality were destroyed or heavily damaged by Serb Forces in May and June 1992.

1103. Movement of the population within and from Bosanski Novi

1456. On 20 May 1992, the SDS Municipal Board adopted three decisions regarding the situation in Bosanski Novi: (i) all citizens who wanted to leave Bosanski Novi were “enabled to do so peacefully”; (#EXCULPATORY!) (ii) all measures and activities that could be aimed at driving out residents were strictly prohibited; (#EXCULPATORY!) and (iii) all citizens who wanted to remain were required to be loyal to RS.⁵⁰¹¹ In line with these decisions, Pašić began to look for solutions, including negotiating with UNPROFOR and other representatives, “to enable Muslims who wished to leave Bosanski Novi”.⁵⁰¹² (#COMMENDABLE#! Here it should be mentioned that prior to that, there was an accord between the SDS and SDA, as it is written in P02632, (accepted, not excepted) and that was a basis for the Pašić's action.)

1457. On 24 May 1992, between 8,000 and 10,000 Bosnian Muslim men, women, and children from various villages in the Japra valley, including 1,200 Bosnian Muslims from Suhača, left the valley in a convoy of cars, tractors, and horse-drawn carts.⁵⁰¹³ They headed to Blagaj Japra.⁵⁰¹⁴

1458. Meanwhile, SDA President and representative of Suhača, Sifet Barjaktarević, negotiated with Bosanski Novi municipal authorities regarding the safe passage of this convoy to Croatia.⁵⁰¹⁵ An MP patrol sent the convoy towards Bosanski Novi, accompanied by two military trucks with Bosnian Serb soldiers.⁵⁰¹⁶ Bosnian Serb soldiers wearing JNA uniforms intercepted the convoy at Blagaj Japra bridge⁵⁰¹⁷ and demanded that they leave their property and board a train headed towards Banja Luka.⁵⁰¹⁸ When they refused, the convoy was forced to return to Blagaj where it remained guarded by armed Bosnian Serb soldiers until 9 June 1992.⁵⁰¹⁹ Freedom of movement was limited and special permission was required to leave the village, making it feel “like a prison camp”.⁵⁰²⁰ (#Feelings, believes#! As a matter of fact, the “Bosnian Serb soldiers” whoever they be, indicated that the population was expected to go to Banjaluka, meaning deeper in the RS, rather than to Croatia. And relocating any population within the same territory is not criminal, but a lawful obligation of the warring sides. However, the Muslim population preferred to go to Croatia, and further to Europe, and it was an obvious reason for stopping them by the “Bosnian Serb soldiers”.

However, the Chamber constantly neglects the very crucial facts deriving from the Tito's doctrine of the armed people, and the Territorial Defence, which existed in every single village, and if there was no JNA in a region, this units were independent in acting. It acted in accordance with a local assessments about jeopardy for their population, and since the JNA withdrew almost suddenly, there was needed several months to put it under the control of the VRS, which was in a status of forming. 1459. On 26 May 1992, Charles Kirudja, the Chief Civil Affairs Officer and Civil Affairs Co-ordinator for UNPROFOR in UN Protected Area Sector North, a UN protected area in Croatia adjacent to the northwestern boarder of BiH, met with Yugoslav Borojević, Mayor of Dvor in Croatia.⁵⁰²¹ Borojević told Kirudja that Pašić had requested the passage of 5,000 Bosnian Muslims from Bosanski Novi who were leaving the municipality "voluntarily" and would travel through Krajina to Austria and Slovenia.⁵⁰²² Kirudja asked how Serb authorities could speak about the desires of a group of Muslims without a single Bosnian Muslim representative being present, but he was only told to speak with Pašić on the phone, which he refused to do.⁵⁰²³ (This is irrelevant, since the Muslim representatives had agreed the arrangement with Pasic himself, and this move of Kirudja was irresponsible! Had he called, he would have known!)

1460. The next day, a delegation from Bosanski Novi, including Pašić, arrived unannounced at Kirudja's office to discuss the request.⁵⁰²⁴ Pašić admitted to Kirudja that Bosnian Muslims in Bosanski Novi had been put under pressure from "armed Serbian irregulars" to leave the area after refusing to sign loyalty oaths to the new SerBiH government or to disarm.⁵⁰²⁵ (#Loyalty, Disarming, safety!# That was a legal demand, "to be loyal, or to disarm", because no armed force could stand another disloyal armed group behind their backs. He noted that he is unable to have control over the entire municipality territory, as certain groups are distancing themselves from the chain of command, are not obeying orders and are acting on their own initiative. Such large Th e attack lasted about two hours, and those staying in the village fled towards the bridge in the direction of Blagaj Rijeka in order to escape.⁵⁰³⁶ However, at the bridge, the Bosnian Muslim men, women, and children were stopped by masked Bosnian Serb soldiers from neighbouring villages, some of whom wore civilian clothing while the rest were wearing green camouflage uniforms.⁵⁰³⁷ The soldiers instructed them to hand over all of their personal belongings, including money, gold, jewellery, identification cards, photographs, and papers and keys for cars.⁵⁰³⁸ The soldiers threatened to kill anyone if they were later found with money or gold.⁵⁰³⁹ (#Masks and insignias, not Serb forces#! There is no any chance that they were “the Srb soldiers”, since any mask was forbidden. As it is said in the sentence, they may have been the Serbs “from neighbouring vilages”, but certainly not under any control and command of the official authorities. And why the President would be liable for everything that happened during the civil war, particularly since he himself predicted this chaos and asked the Parliament of BiH not to lead the society towards a war? Also, why so many assertions and findings are founded on the “imported” evidence” a Rule 92bis evidence, out of any possibility that the Defence could challenge it? #Deadly combination#!)

1463. A man named “Zoran”, nicknamed “Red Beret”, wearing a JNA uniform, arrived and started separating the men from the women before they crossed the bridge.⁵⁰⁴⁰ Soldiers wearing JNA uniforms waited on the other side of the bridge and searched the Bosnian Muslims again and separated some of the men from the group, while women and children were sent inside the Japra Company compound, which was surrounded by barbed wire.⁵⁰⁴¹ (#Distorted#! Certainly, it wasn’t surrounded by barbed wire because of the people, but because of the Company, to protect it’s property. Otherwise, how long it would need to establish a fence had it been aimed as is suggested in this sentence. Anyway, is it so difficult for the Chamber to see that the KDZ011 sometimes lied, sometimes exaggerated?)

1464. A group of the Bosnian Muslim men was instructed by soldiers to lie down in the road in two rows 50 metres away from the tank pointing at them and their pockets were searched again.⁵⁰⁴² A Bosnian Serb from Jošava, nicknamed “Trnka”, ordered Alić’s brother and two other men to leave the formation, and led them a way and shot them.⁵⁰⁴³ As always in such a cases, this crime is #solely individual#, and was not based on a religion, but strictly personal. Nobody can justify this, but nobody should address it to the officials. While the remaining men were lying on the road, the tank was ordered to drive over them by a bearded man called “Vojvoda”.⁵⁰⁴⁴ The tank began driving towards them but was stopped by an officer who came from the direction of the bridge and ordered that the people be removed from the road, stating that no one should be killed that way.⁵⁰⁴⁵ (#Next level rectify#! This one was a Serb official, and as ever, the superiors prevented crimes and rectified misdoings of subordinated or independent individuals! And this is #EXCULPATORY#, because this reflected the official policy of the Serb authorities!) The men lying on the road were taken to the Japra Company compound.⁵⁰⁴⁶ Later, the Bosnian Serbs soldiers called five men to step forward; however, only three of the five men were still alive and stepped forward.⁵⁰⁴⁷ The remaining men were loaded onto train cars waiting at the compound by the soldiers.⁵⁰⁴⁸

1465. In total, approximately 4,000 to 8,000 Bosnian Muslims were loaded onto 22 train cars, used to transport cattle, at Blagaj Japra by members of the Municipal TO Staff and the MP.⁵⁰⁴⁹ Women and children were loaded onto the train cars first and the men were loaded on after; the cars were tightly packed with people with no space left.⁵⁰⁵⁰ Alić was one of the last ones to board and witnessed two individuals taken off the train and shot by a Bosnian Serb man.⁵⁰⁵¹ (#”Some killed some”#! All impossible to challenge!) Guarded by the members of the Bosanski Novi SJB, the train left in the direction of Banja Luka and stopped in Ostruzna, a village near Doboj, the next morning.⁵⁰⁵² In Ostruzna, the men were separated from the women and children by a soldier, nicknamed “Jovo” or “Joja”.⁵⁰⁵³ The women, children, and men above 60 years old were put in the front part of the train and the remaining carriages were filled with men between 15 and 60 years old.⁵⁰⁵⁴ The carriages were separated and the women and children were taken to Doboj, (Also in the Republic of Srpska, therefore, #“internally displaced” not expelled#!) while the men, numbering approximately 700 to 750, were loaded onto four train cars and sent to Banja Luka.⁵⁰⁵⁵ (Also, in the Republic of Srpska!)

1466. The men spent the night on the train in Banja Luka, where they were mistreated and cursed at by Bosnian Serb soldiers.⁵⁰⁵⁶ On the morning of 11 June 1992, the train continued to Bosanski Novi, stopping once in Blagaj where men on the train had water for the first time in two days.⁵⁰⁵⁷ While in Blagaj, Alić saw Bosnian Serbs taking possessions from their houses.⁵⁰⁵⁸ The men were then loaded back into the train cars and taken to Mlakve Football Stadium.⁵⁰⁵⁹ No food was given to them during the entire period spent in the railway carriages and there were no hygienic facilities aboard.⁵⁰⁶⁰ There are somewhere in the file an evidence that the Muslims refused to be accommodated in Banjaluka, or the Doboj region, and demanded to be brought back, and that was why they had been transported back. See what is said in P02632, p. 9 about the Banjaluka possibility:

government of the Serbian Republic of Krajina and UNPROFOR. The remaining possibility was to expedite a voluntary emigration towards Banjaluka and that a return to the valley of Japra was definitely impossible, but this population showed no willingness for it.

So, a #“security reasons#” are under the competences of the MP, and it may not be accurate, but if it was assessed that there were some security risks, the MP would undertake an adequate measures. What the President has to do with it? Anyway, the vast majority of this segment is based on 92bis and AF-s, i.e. #Deadly combination#! 1467. At the end of June or beginning of July 1992, the Bosanski Novi Crisis Staff issued instructions regulating the conditions for people to be allowed to leave the municipality.⁵⁰⁶¹ On 6 July 1992, Pašić sent a letter to Kirudja repeating his claim that Bosnian Muslims from Bosanski Novi were leaving the municipality voluntarily, and stating that Bosnian Serb authorities had offered to provide buses and security for them.⁵⁰⁶² Between 7 and 10 July 1992, Kirudja met with officials from Dvor and Bosanski Novi and they informed Kirudja that Bosnian Muslims leaving Bosanski Novi were required to sign a statement indicating that they left voluntarily, and to prove that they had either sold, exchanged, or donated their houses and all other immovable property.⁵⁰⁶³ (There was #no any appropriation# whatsoever! There was only a register of what had been left behind!) Persons who did not own property had to obtain an official document from the municipal land registry office certifying this and those who owned property were required to draft a contract either leaving the property to the Serbs or the Serb state, or simply renouncing it.⁵⁰⁶⁴ Persons wishing to leave also had to provide a list of all the members of the household, obtain a certificate showing that they had no previous convictions, obtain a certificate showing that all utility bills were paid; obtain documentation from the municipal secretariat for national defence stating that they had completed military service; and obtain a document from the SJB allowing them to leave.⁵⁰⁶⁵ (#Obstacles to leave#! All of this was rather an obstacle to leaving than an incentive to do so!) All documents had to state that the action taken was on a voluntary basis.⁵⁰⁶⁶

⁵⁰⁶⁶ Adjudicated Fact 2292. According to Pašić, Bosnian Muslims leaving Bosanski Novi were allowed to make their own decisions regarding their property, including that they could take all of their personal property, including vehicles, with them. With regard to real estate, they were allowed to sell it, swap it, give it for safekeeping, or cede it to other refugees, and made decisions in this regard without any duress and influence from the municipal authorities. Moreover, according to Pašić, a majority of the property referred to in the certificates was “completely legally replaced” with Serbian assets from Croatia and the contracts signed by Muslims were only “temporary” until the situation calmed down. D3849 (Witness statement of Radomir Pašić dated 5 July 2013), pp. 10–11, 25–26; Radomir Pašić, T. 41079–41086 (9 July 2013). However, the Chamber does not find this evidence to be reliable. In reaching that conclusion, the Chamber considered the significant body of evidence supporting that Bosnian Muslims were forced to sign over their property and finds that Pašić gave inconsistent and evasive evidence in this regard. This is #wrong inference#, for a several reasons: first, had the Muslims want not to leave, they could simply not obtain any of so many papers required, and also could not sign the property papir, as happened with those Muslims who continued to live in B. Novi. Second, there was no a single example of appropriation or any kind of lost of property. All of that was regulated by the laws, with the guarantees of the authorities on the central level. So, no #“permanent removal”#, no appropriation, all of that is crap and garbage.

But, this amount of documents required to be allowed to leave certainly could be obtained only on a voluntary basis. What would happen if somebody didn't submit all that was required? Who didn't want to leave could simply not submit any paper, and wouldn't be allowed to leave. So, no possibility to eat a cake and to have it. Nothing forceful was in it, except the civil war by itself. All the allegations about "handing over" property is null and vain, since this President issued such an order on 19 August. Anyway, there was no such demands from the authorities to give up property, but only to register what was left, and to allow the municipal authorities to use it temporarily, which was a regulation according to the law. There was no a single case of appropriation of private property by the authorities anywhere in te RS. A several issues, like the right to return, the property issue and the fundamental rights guaranteed by the international documents accepted by the former Yugoslavia, continued to be respected by the RS, and didn't depend of what some locas may be saying or wishing. There are many cases of an inferring of the President's standpoint from what somebody said somewhere. All of this examples have to be rebuted and disclosed to the Appeal Chamber.

1468. The Bosanski Novi authorities informed Kirudja that they had processed applications from 3,000 to 5,000 people who fulfilled the criteria.⁵⁰⁶⁷ On the basis of this information, Kirudja concluded that the Bosnian Muslims were not leaving Bosanski Novi voluntarily and he informed the Serb authorities that UNPROFOR did not wish their departure if they did not want to leave.⁵⁰⁶⁸ (#Feelings, opinions, conclusions#! As a man, as a conclusion! Moreover, Kirudja concluded that there was a strategy to ethnically cleanse the area by the Serb authorities and they were using the UN Protected Area in Sector North as an exit point.⁵⁰⁶⁹ (#How possibly his personal conclusions may become a judicial matter? And in a case it does not matter, why then it is in the Judgment? Where the Chamber/Prosecution so desperate with the evidence? This way anybody could express his own opinion and influence this process, since the facts, particularly introduced by a Serb or any Defence witness do not matter.

1469. However, between 20 and 21 July 1992, Kirudja and other international authorities became increasingly concerned about the safety of the convoy and ultimately, the Croatian authorities agreed to accept the Bosnian Muslims and UNHCR agreed to organise the transportation with UNPROFOR's assistance, stating they "preferred 4,000 more refugees than 4,000 more bodies".⁵⁰⁷⁰ (Is such a nasty remark allowed in such a serious document as this Judgment is? One should expect that the Trial Chamber dealt only with the facts. This should be reported to the Appeal Chamber as an unfair attitude. Why it was understood that Kirudja became concerned about the safety, and not understood that Pasic was concerned about it too? UNTIL THAT DATE #NOTHING HAPPENED TO JUSTIFY THIS DRASTIC BIASE!#)

1470. Although originally intended to be 4,000 people, on 23 July 1992, a convoy of between 9,000 and 11,000 Bosnian Muslims and some Bosnian Croats, including between 600 and 700 detainees from Mlakve Football Stadium and a large number from Prijedor, Bosanska Kostajnica, and Bosanska Dubica, were ultimately transported to Karlovac, and later to third countries.⁵⁰⁷¹

1471. The Bosanski Novi SJB reported that by 23 July 1992, it had “de-registered” 5,629 Muslims who had applied to leave the municipality “voluntarily”.⁵⁰⁷² (This quotation marks are also a nasty thing. It is not up to the Chamber to make such a remarks. And there shouldn't be any doubt about “voluntary leave”, because it was not an easy thing to get an approval to leave, as we could see, how many papers one had to submit for that. #Obstacles to leave#!) Of the approximately 14,000 Bosnian Muslims living in Bosanski Novi prior to the conflict, roughly 1,000 Muslims remained behind following the departure of the convoy to Karlovac on 23 July 1992.⁵⁰⁷³ (Why they didn't leave?) In sum, by the end of 1992, the majority of Bosnian Muslims had left Bosanski Novi.⁵⁰⁷⁴ According to KDZ011, not a single Bosnian Muslim remained in the town of Suhaća by the end of 1992.⁵⁰⁷⁵ When Alić returned to Blagaj after the war, he found Bosnian Serbs living in his house, after being given permission by authorities.⁵⁰⁷⁶ He observed that there were only 64 houses still in good condition after the war and they were all occupied by Bosnian Serbs.⁵⁰⁷⁷ (In a refuge themselves, because a domestic population was not allowed to use abandoned property!)

1472. Having considered the totality of the evidence and assessed the circumstances in which departures occurred, the Chamber finds that Bosnian Muslims were forced to leave Bosanski Novi. (#Wrong as devil#! This “finding” is completely wrong, for the several reasons. Had not there been fights initiated by the Muslims, attacking the MP while the JNA was there, see:P02632, there wouldn't be so...

At the Crisis Staff session held 12th of May at 08:00 hours, during the briefing on the events that took place in the last 24 hours, Commander of the TO Municipal Staff presented the current situation and said that TO Staff didn't issue order to open fire on Bosanski Novi territory, except for Blagaj where warning shots were fired when the military police was attacked. He noted that he is unable to have control over the entire municipality territory, as certain groups are distancing themselves from the chain of command, are not obeying orders and are acting on their own initiative. Such large number of armed people should be placed under control. Simultaneously with the armed conflict, certain groups of people are engaging in looting, which can't be prevented or controlled. Various armed groups are arriving and are introducing themselves as regular units, military police and so on, when in fact they operate under no control or command and are engaging in looting activities.

What else do we need to add to this contemporaneous document, stating all the problems of a small area surrounded by a fierce war in the neighbouring villages, municipalities and even republics (Croatia). Everything is in this document: irregulars, attack on the MP by the Muslims, a warning fire that was reported as a fire against civilians, see fn. 5040. However, the municipal authorities officially distanced themselves from those groups, see P2632:

⁵⁰⁷³ See Adjudicated Fact 672. In August 1992, Kirudja and other international authorities were pressed by Serb authorities to assist in the evacuation of thousands more refugees, primarily Bosnian Muslims, from Sanski Most, Prijedor, Bosanska Krupa, and Bosanska Kostajnica through Sector North, claiming that if they did not assist, “the Muslims will suffer”. Pašić warned Kirudja that “[i]f we are left to resolve the matter by ourselves, we will resolve it very quickly”. However, the international authorities responded that they would not succumb to further “blackmail” and refused to assist in any further “evacuations” of non-Serbs out of BiH. ⁵⁰⁷⁴ In reaching that conclusion, the Chamber noted that by 1997, very few Bosnian Muslims had returned to Bosanski Novi. In 1991, approximately 33.7% of the population of Bosanski Novi was Muslim and in 1995, 4.8% of the population was Muslim and in 1997, Muslims only comprised 2.7% of the population. After the analysis of the current situation, the Crisis Staff distanced themselves from the activities carried out by such illegal groups and other paramilitary formations /Conclusion dated 13th of May 1992/ which arrive and operate on the territory of Bosanski Novi municipality, and which are not under the command of TO Staff nor the Police.

and thus distanced the RS authorities as well, and exposed those groups to the military organs and MP to settle the things down, see the same P2632.

(6) Scheduled Detention Facility C.4.1

1473. The Indictment refers to a detention facility at the Mlakve football stadium which operated at least between May and July 1992.

1474. On 2 June 1992, members of the Bosanski Novi TO and MP brought between 300 and 350 non-Serbs to the Mlakve football stadium (“Mlakve Football Stadium”) and detained them there for four days.⁵⁰⁷⁸ On 6 June 1992, Kirudja was informed by members of the Danish UNPROFOR team in Sector North that they had seen 350 men gathered at the stadium; they were then seen being loaded onto buses and driven off to an unknown destination in BiH.⁵⁰⁷⁹ The observers also saw that approximately 100 women and children, with their heads covered in clothes and carrying plastic bags, had been brought into the stadium with ten armed guards; Kirudja later learned that the women and children had likely been delivering provisions to the men held in the stadium.⁵⁰⁸⁰

1475. On 11 June 1992, the train coming from Banja Luka arrived at the stadium, where soldiers with machine guns ordered the men off the train and instructed them to go inside the empty stadium.⁵⁰⁸¹ From early June until the end of August 1992, at least 700 Bosnian Muslim civilian men, some elderly, from Bosanski Novi municipality were confined at the Mlakve Football Stadium; some of these men were transferred from the Omarska, Trnopolje, and Keraterm camps.⁵⁰⁸² (#Reception centre, not detention#! If released from Omarska and Keraterm, it means that they had been released from any charges and prepared for an exchange, release to other parts of the RS or BiH, but as we know, they preferred Croatia and European countries. But, the proper information is that they didn’t want to go to Banja Luka, nor to Doboje, both within the Republic of Srpska, nor in the Muslim controlled territory because of fear from mobilisation, but decided to wait for the passage to Croatia. That was why they had ben “confined” at the Stadium.)

1476. The detainees at Mlakve Football Stadium were guarded by Bosnian Serb soldiers, as well as reservists, including Ranko Balaban, former SDS President in Jošava, and Momčilo Kenjalo.⁵⁰⁸³ Once a week on Wednesdays, the guards would change shifts.⁵⁰⁸⁴

⁵⁰⁸² See Adjudicated Facts 628, 629. According to Pašić, Mlakve Football Stadium was not a “camp”, but a reception centre where “some non-Serbs, who possessed weapons and military equipment, were processed”. D3849 (Witness statement of Radomir Pašić dated 5 July 2013), pp. 15, 27. However, the Chamber does not find this evidence to be reliable based upon its consideration that Pašić provided insincere and ultimately unsatisfactory evidence.

1478. The quantity of food was not sufficient and detainees received at most two small meals a day; access to water was also limited to twice a day.⁵⁰⁹² Detainees lost considerable weight—Alić lost 18 kilograms and KDZ011 lost 11 kilograms—during their detention.⁵⁰⁹³

(#Obvious lie#! In 50 days, Ali} lost 18 kilograms?!? How this lie can stand together with the fact that the families had been seen bringing in food and other stuff in plastic bags? The KDZ011 had already been caught by the Chamber in lies.

1479. The detainees were confined to one part of the stadium, as a result there was a shortage of space for approximately 700 men.⁵⁰⁹⁴ They slept on the floor with no blankets.⁵⁰⁹⁵ Although the detainees could wash themselves, they did not have any facilities to wash clothes.⁵⁰⁹⁶ Toilet facilities were also inadequate.⁵⁰⁹⁷ Some of the detainees were ill and were not provided with medical care at any point; one man died of asthma while detained.⁵⁰⁹⁸ Detainees were not allowed to move around the stadium but they had to perform labour to smooth the path around the stadium.⁵⁰⁹⁹ Later, visits to the stadium were not permitted, letters and parcels were not allowed to be sent or received, and the detainees were not allowed to notify anyone of their location or detention.⁵¹⁰⁰ (Then, how possibly the families knew where to bring the food and other necessities, as notified in the para 1474 of this Judgement? Where was a limit to the lies?)

⁵⁰⁸⁶ KDZ011, T. 21212 (10 November 2011).

⁵⁰⁸⁷ See Adjudicated Fact 636. While KDZ011 and Alić testified that there were no beatings and that they were not physically mistreated or beaten while detained at Mlakve Football Stadium, in light of the conditions at the stadium as described by these witnesses, including verbal and psychological abuse, as well as the fact that hundreds of other detainees were held there, the Chamber is of the view that the evidence of KDZ011 and Alić does not rebut the presumption created by Adjudicated Facts 636, 637, and 638. See also para. 1481; KDZ011, P3800 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Brđanin), T. 14016–14017; P687 (Witness statement of Hasan Alić dated 21 August 1999), e-court pp. 15–16.

1480. From one side of the stadium, the detainees could see UNPROFOR vehicles across the Una River on the Croatian side and tried to signal for help with white flags; the UNPROFOR soldiers noticed them, however, the guards at Mlakve Football Stadium realised and forbade the detainees from further use of that section of the stadium.⁵¹⁰¹ During their detention, the soldiers called out names of the detainees and brought them to the police station, the fire department, or Hotel Una for interrogation.⁵¹⁰² (#Interrogations#! This meant that they hadn't been detained arbitrarily. Otherwise, why the investigators would bother with the interrogations? And a mere interrogation was not a crime?)

1481. On or around 22 July 1992, after approximately 45 days of detention, the detainees at the Mlakve Football Stadium were told by members of the Bosnian Serb MP that they would be released.⁵¹⁰³ For approximately 80 detainees who had family in the town of Bosanski Novi, close to the stadium, their family members could sign certificates to release them earlier than the other detainees.⁵¹⁰⁴ The remaining detainees were forced to sign certificates to be released, confirming that they would voluntarily surrender all of their movable and immovable property to the RS in Bosanski Novi.⁵¹⁰⁵ (#No appropriation#! Since there was no any document corroborating this allegation, it shouldn't be taken seriously. There is nobody who can prove that anyone's immovable property had been appropriated. After the certificates were signed, 15 detainees, all members of the SDA party, were singled out of the group and taken to the “fire house”, where they were beaten.⁵¹⁰⁶ According to Alić, about nine men were killed.⁵¹⁰⁷ (#Somebody, something#! That is how this goes in this court: Alic, obviously a Muslim extremist “said” something, no names, no proves, and this is mentioned in the Judgment, the most important for the future of the Serb people. It was completely free to lie in this court. Anyway, why the President would have known anything about that, since in 92 there was no possibility to communicate?)

1482. On 23 July 1992, the detainees at Mlakve Football Stadium were released pursuant to an order by the Bosanski Novi Municipal Executive Board.⁵¹⁰⁸ An UNPROFOR vehicle arrived at the stadium; all of the detainees were then loaded onto buses and trucks and taken across the bridge to Dvor, Croatia.⁵¹⁰⁹ During this process, there were no soldiers around the detainees and they were guarded by UNPROFOR soldiers.⁵¹¹⁰ (#Security reasons#! Anyway, why the detainees had been kept on the stadium is something that was in the competence of the locals, and if they, wrongfully or rightfully, assessed that the detained had been jeopardizing the peace and lives in the region, nobody could interfere. There is no evidence that the central authorities had been informed, let alone approved or ordered any unlawful move. During the entire critical period Vojo Kupresanin was authorised by the President to do everything he could, on behalf of the President and the RS, to ease the situation of the civilians, and there is some documents confirming this. However, why it was forgotten that the same people rejected to be housed in Banja Luka or Doboj? Because they wanted to reach Croatia and further, the European countries. That was the only reason why they had been at the stadium, where the local authorities had a burden to obtain two to three thousands meals a day. Why would the authorities do this, while in a shortage of everything?#General shortage#!)

1483. The Chamber therefore finds that during the period between 2 June and 23 July 1992, members of the Serb Forces detained Bosnian Muslim men at the Mlakve Football Stadium, and subjected them to beatings and verbal mistreatment, including threats and ethnic slurs. The Chamber also finds that detainees held at Mlakve Football Stadium were not provided with adequate food or water, resulting in malnutrition, and that there was no medical care available to the detainees during this period. (#Deadly combination#! And those assertions are based on an Adjudicated facts and testimonies of the Muslim extremists as KDZ011, Alic and others. Thus this court is enabling those extremists to continue to wage a war against the Serbs. This is not correct, and there should be an investigation and an insight in the then collected investigation materials. But the most irregular was that the Chamber prevented the Defence to depict what the Muslim side was doing, which is an inherent part of the entire picture!)

(C)Ključ

(1)Charges

1484. Under Count 3, the Prosecution alleges that persecution, a crime against humanity, was committed in Ključ as part of the objective to permanently remove Bosnian Muslims and/or Bosnian Croats from the Municipalities.⁵¹¹¹ Under Count 1, the Prosecution further alleges that in certain municipalities, including Ključ, this persecutory campaign included or escalated to include conduct that manifested an intent to destroy in part the national, ethnical, and/or religious groups of Bosnian Muslims and/or Bosnian Croats as such.⁵¹¹²

1485. Acts alleged to have been committed in Ključ by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs include killings during and after the take-over;⁵¹¹³ killings related to detention facilities;⁵¹¹⁴ and killings committed during, and deaths resulting from, cruel and inhumane treatment at scheduled detention facilities.⁵¹¹⁵ The Prosecution characterises these acts as killing, an underlying act of genocide, under Count 1; persecution, a crime against humanity, under Count 3; extermination, a crime against humanity, under Count 4; murder, a crime against humanity, under Count 5; and murder, a violation of the laws or customs of war, under Count 6.⁵¹¹⁶

⁵¹¹⁶ Indictment, paras. 40(a), 60(a), 63(a), 63(b).

1486. Other acts alleged to have been committed in Ključ by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs include torture, beatings, and physical and psychological abuse, rape and other acts of sexual violence, during and after the take-over and in scheduled detention facilities, as well as the establishment and perpetuation of inhumane living conditions in detention facilities, as cruel or inhumane treatment, an act of persecution under Count 3.⁵¹¹⁷ In relation to Count 1, the Prosecution alleges that in scheduled detention facilities in Ključ thousands of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats were subjected to cruel or inhumane treatment, including torture, physical and psychological abuse, rape, other acts of sexual violence, and beatings by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs; the Prosecution characterises this inhumane treatment as causing serious bodily or mental harm to members of the Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat groups, an underlying act of genocide.⁵¹¹⁸ In addition, under Count 1, the Prosecution alleges that members of the Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat groups were detained under conditions of life calculated to bring about physical destruction, namely through cruel and inhumane treatment, including torture, physical and psychological abuse, rape, other acts of sexual violence, inhumane living conditions, forced labour and the failure to provide adequate accommodation, shelter, food, water, medical care or hygienic sanitation facilities.⁵¹¹⁹

1487. Under Count 3, other acts of persecution alleged to have been committed in Ključ by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs include: (i) forcible transfer or deportation of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats from their homes;⁵¹²⁰ (ii) unlawful detention in scheduled detention facilities;⁵¹²¹ (iii) forced labour at the frontline and the use of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats as human shields;⁵¹²² (iv) appropriation or plunder of property during and after the take-over, during arrests and detention, and in the course of or following acts of deportation or forcible transfer;⁵¹²³ (v) the wanton destruction of private property including homes and business premises and public property including cultural monuments and sacred sites;⁵¹²⁴ and (vi) the imposition and maintenance of restrictive and discriminatory measures.⁵¹²⁵

Ethnic relations in Ključ were “quite harmonious” before the war.⁵¹³² In November 1990, the SDS achieved a majority by winning 50.8% of the votes in the Ključ municipal elections, while the SDA won 32.8%.⁵¹³³ In accordance with the principle of “equal representation”, positions within the municipal administration were allocated according to an agreement between the SDS, the SDA, and the MBO.⁵¹³⁴ Jovo Banjac of the SDS was appointed President of the Municipality; while Omer Filipović, the leader of the Ključ MBO, was made Vice President of the Municipal Assembly as well as Banjac’s deputy; Asim Egrić, the President of the Ključ SDA, and Tihomir Dakić of the SDS became Chairman and Vice Chairman of the Executive Board of the Ključ Municipal Assembly, respectively.⁵¹³⁵ The rest of the municipal executive positions were evenly distributed to both SDA and SDS members.⁵¹³⁶ Vinko Kondić of the SDS became Chief of the SJB, while Atif Džafić, who was nominated by the SDA but was not affiliated with any party, became acting commander of the police.⁵¹³⁷

1491. Once the war in Croatia began during the summer of 1991, the Ključ Secretariat for People’s Defence began to issue mobilisation orders to Ključ’s male population.⁵¹³⁸ However, both local and national leaders of the SDA and MBO discouraged Bosnian Muslims from responding.⁵¹³⁹ (Which was an #illegal and anti-constitutional act#, and finally not fair towards the Serbs who responded to this mobilisation. They way the Muslim/Croat able bodied men were free and at home, organized in the Patriotic League and the Green Berets, while the Serbs were far away, warring what may happen to their families!) Thus, Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats generally did not respond to mobilisation into the JNA and for the frontline in Croatia, whereas Bosnian Serbs did.⁵¹⁴⁰ The lack of Bosnian Muslim response to the mobilisation led to the composition of the JNA becoming primarily Bosnian Serb.⁵¹⁴¹ (#Before

VRS#! Not correct, not Bosnian Serb, but the segment of the JNA was composed mainly from the Bosnian Serbs, while others from the rest of Yugoslavia were of all ethnicities.

1492. The Bosnian Serb population of Ključ obtained arms through this mobilisation process, as those returning from the frontline in Croatia retained possession of their weapons.⁵¹⁴² (That was a case always, far before the war: reservists brought with them equipment till a new exercise!) The SDS was also involved in distributing weapons to Bosnian Serbs in Ključ.⁵¹⁴³ The SDS Executive Board discussed the distribution of weapons multiple times between October 1991 and March 1992,⁵¹⁴⁴ when Veljko Kondić remarked that “we will undertake to get additional weapons”.⁵¹⁴⁵ Thereafter, the SDS Executive Board established record-keeping reflecting the weapons kept.⁵¹⁴⁶ Just look at the domestic laws, particularly the #Law on All-peoples defence#. The fact that there existed a record-keeping shows that it was a legal distribution of weapons to those who would be obedient to the JNA. A more problematic would be weapons out of any record.

1493. Between late 1991 and the spring of 1992, soldiers returning from the frontlines in Croatia often became inebriated and committed drive-by shootings, firing at local mosques in Ključ.⁵¹⁴⁷ While the SDS discussed these problems and made statements denouncing the use of firearms in public,⁵¹⁴⁸ Vinko Kondić ultimately returned weapons that had been seized from soldiers “engag[ing] in illegal acts”.⁵¹⁴⁹ (And this was stated by the Kontić’s direct opponents, rather as a gossip, which this President and his defence can not check. Anyway, what does it have to do with the President?) Additionally, during the latter half of 1991, Serb Forces established check-points at the various entrances to Ključ.⁵¹⁵⁰ (This is false, because had this happened, there would be a big crisis. Only the JNA was entitled to control transport of a war material, because of the war in Croatia!) Ethnic relations in Ključ deteriorated, compromising both the functioning of municipal organs as well as security in general.⁵¹⁵¹ (#Security reasons#! reservists of JNA (the Serbs) have taken a precautionary measures caused by the Muslim-Croat hostile attitude towards the common state, Yugoslavia and its Army, as can be seen, with a very good reason. That was their own right, to secure themselves under the auspice of JNA against possible hostile acts of those who were enemies of Yugoslavia against those who were faithful to the same Yugoslavia! What does it have to do with the President?)

1494. Throughout the fall of 1991, the SDA and MBO opposed the growing signs of regionalisation in Ključ. In late September, the SDA released a public statement rejecting the proclamation of the ARK as a “para-state” successor organisation to the ZOBK and warning that if “such an illegal decision” were implemented, the SDA would organise a referendum to establish a “separate Muslim commune”.⁵¹⁵² (#Two municipalities – peace#! They were entitled to form a separate Muslim commune, and even now there are two separate municipalities, the Serb and Muslim, while the Serb is called Ribnik.)

See also P3578 (Information of Ključ’s MBO Municipal Board, 17 September 1991) (negatively characterising the proclamation of the ARK by the SDS). The Ključ SDS Municipal Board had already voted to join the ZOBK at the beginning of 1991, but the matter had not been put to a vote at the Ključ Municipal Assembly. Asim Egrlić, P6586 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Krajišnik), T. 4654–4655; P3577 (Public Statement of Ključ’s SDA Town Board, 21 September 1991), p. 2; P3579 (Decision of Ključ Municipal Assembly, undated) (referring to a decision taken on 10 April 1991 to remain within the “Banja Luka Community of Municipalities”); D1889 (Decision of Skender Vakuf Municipal Assembly, 12 April 1991) (listing Ključ as a member of the ‘Bosanska Krajina’ Association of Municipalities).

1496. When the decision to join the ARK was confirmed by the SDS delegates of the Ključ Municipal Assembly on 26 December 1991,⁵¹⁵⁸ the SDA representatives at the Municipal Assembly walked out rather than vote on the issue.⁵¹⁵⁹ Sometime in January or February 1992, Bosnian Muslim leaders formed a separate Assembly of Bosnian Ključ, headed by Omer Filipović.⁵¹⁶⁰ (Had the Muslims got stick to this solution, there wouldn’t be a war in Ključ! Throughout the war there were two municipalities, and so now!)

1497. Meanwhile, the Ključ SDS received the Variant A/B Instructions from the SDS Main Board.⁵¹⁶¹ On 23 December 1991, the Ključ SDS Executive Board established a Crisis Staff.⁵¹⁶²

1498. The frequency of mobilisation calls became constant at the beginning of 1992, increasing the number of soldiers present in the municipality.⁵¹⁶⁵ Some paramilitaries, including the Red Berets, arrived in Ključ around November 1991, while other groups such as the White Eagles arrived in Ključ around February 1992.⁵¹⁶⁶ During the same month, over the objection of SDA representatives to the National Defence Council,⁵¹⁶⁷ JNA units withdrawing from Knin were stationed in a compound in Lanište.⁵¹⁶⁸ (#Legal and obligatory#! On what basis any political party could object any legal action of the JNA? No basis for that, and that was an unlawful and hostile action against the federal Army, as if the Confederal parties objected deployment of the Lincoln's army.) The JNA's arrival at Lanište led to an increase in anxiety amongst the Bosnian Muslim population of Ključ,⁵¹⁶⁹ and, along with the arming of the Bosnian Serb population, contributed to the perception that a "war policy" was escalating in Ključ.⁵¹⁷⁰ (#Illegal and criminal#! That could be a case only if the Muslims in Ključ had a plans that differ from the JNA plans, which was to preserve the common state of Yugoslavia. The Chamber noticed that the Muslims in Ključ mourned over the "common state" of BiH, and it's Constitution, while the Serbs thought that the priority belonged to the "common state of Yugoslavia," and it's Constitution. In such a case, there certainly must have been an ethnic tensions, but the Muslims were liable, since they wanted something that would change the whole life of others, while the Serbs wanted only to preserve the legal "status quo"!)

The Chamber notes that although Marko Adamović denied that any paramilitary units, including the White Eagles, operated in the Ključ territory, Adamović did not state the basis for his knowledge. D4165 (Witness statement of Marko Adamović dated 1 December 2013), para. 24. Furthermore, as set out in more detail in fn. 5274, the Chamber is of the view that Adamović was often less than forthright with the Chamber and shall only rely on his evidence where it is corroborated by other reliable evidence.

the unit received training on the use of mortars, Zolja, heavy machine guns, hand to hand combat, mines, and cannons. This training had never previously been offered to the Manoeuvring Unit.⁵¹⁷²

(#Before VRS#! That was a new situation, with the Muslim/Croat sabotage of the defence of country, and none of them would accept any JNA training. Anyway, all of these activities had been in the competence of the JNA. Let us see what was said in the P03436:

Vinko KONDIĆ: We shouldn't go to /?TALIĆ/ before we send 250 people to Lanište and that should be done first.

Conclusion:

- Engage all responsible organs to ensure that all Serbs report for the military exercise.

As known, General Talic was a JNAE commander of the Corps. There is no doubt that it was the JNA activity, #legal, legitimate and obligatory# to the local authorities. In early

March 1992, in order to prevent Bosnian Muslims from accessing TO weapons,⁵¹⁷³ the TO armoury was transferred to the Kula military depot in Mrkonjić Grad.⁵¹⁷⁴ The weapons were later used to arm the Ključ Battalion.⁵¹⁷⁵

1500. The violence in the villages surrounding Ključ town intensified during March and April 1992.⁵¹⁷⁶ Inebriated Bosnian Serb soldiers who had returned from the Croatian front continued to fire rifles in Bosnian Muslim villages.⁵¹⁷⁷ Bosnian Muslim settlements began to form “loose defence night patrols” at the entrance and exit to the villages to guard against the occurrence of violent incidents,⁵¹⁷⁸ and Bosnian Serbs demanded that mixed ethnicity patrols be conducted in the mixed ethnicity villages.⁵¹⁷⁹ (#EXCULPATORY!) This was done for one or two nights, before conflicts arose and the process was halted.⁵¹⁸⁰ One day during March or April 1992, several buildings in Pudin Han burst into flames.⁵¹⁸¹ (By whom??? There are so many arguments against a civil war, and none against the President!) Bosnian Serbs and Bosnian Muslims began to leave Ključ due to the escalating tensions.⁵¹⁸² (As in all other municipalities: there was #no “expelling”# by authorities, but a mutual fear and mistrust “ordered” citizens of both communities to leave!)

1501. By 29 April 1992, Bosnian Serbs had consolidated power within the municipality.⁵¹⁸³ (The war in Sarajevo and along the Drina River and the Neretva River Valley already lasted for three weeks!) That day, the SDS Municipal Board adopted a conclusion to “first prepare everything and coordinate with the army and, when everything is prepared, implement the change in insignia/loyalty of the police”.⁵¹⁸⁴ In accordance with a decision of the ARK government taken on 4 May,⁵¹⁸⁵ on the following day the President of the Ključ National Defence Council, Jovo Banjac, imposed a curfew in Ključ municipality.⁵¹⁸⁶ Throughout May, the Ključ Crisis Staff announced deadlines for citizens to surrender unlicensed weapons or face arrest.⁵¹⁸⁷ “For citizens”, which obviously meant for all of them, #regardless of the fate and ethnicity#. Beside that, all of it was in his competence, i.e. in the competence of the president of municipality, who at the same time was a president of the National Defence council “Ex officio”. IS IT DIFFERENT IN ANY OTHER COUNTRY?) Meanwhile, on 7 May 1992, units from the JNA 9th Corps based at Lanište and the 5th Corps (comprised of a battalion of the 6th Partisan Brigade and the 3rd Battalion of the 1st Partisan Brigade) secured the town before responsibility for security was taken over by the Serb TO and the reserve police.⁵¹⁸⁸ Serb Forces completed the military take-over swiftly, between 7 and 10 May, and without sustaining any losses,⁵¹⁸⁹ and the Serbian flag was hoisted on the municipal building and the local police station.⁵¹⁹⁰

Bosnian Serb inspectors from the Banja Luka CSB who were also present,⁵¹⁹⁴ Kondić told the non-Serb officers to go on leave and to “think carefully” about their decision.⁵¹⁹⁵ The non-Serb officers were recalled to the SJB building approximately two weeks later, but since none of them had changed their minds about signing the oath, they were immediately relieved of their duties.⁵¹⁹⁶ Although the Ključ Crisis Staff publicly announced that the change in insignia would “not threaten the livelihood of those workers who did not sign the solemn oath [...] because attempts will be made to create conditions for their further work”,⁵¹⁹⁷ these words were not honoured.⁵¹⁹⁸ (#Lergal and obligatory#! The oath was necessary only for the officials with special authorisation, to arrest, investigate and so on! Without the oath they could work in MUPO, but not with the special power! Was there a sufficient time to see whether it would be honoured or not? If their and a conduct of other Muslim extremists went towards a violence, there couldn't be any time. It is obvious that the specialy authorised public officers had to give an outh, and since it was announced that there will be another jobs within the MUP, it meant that they could have been working on a posts that didn't require the outh.)

1502. Between late 1991 and early March 1992, the SDS had formed a personnel committee which was tasked with carrying out an analysis of the personnel structures in the municipality area.⁵¹⁹⁹ (#Legal#! What was wrong with that? Every single party has a Cadre Committee, or Personnel Commision, which analyses the achievements of the cadres posted by the Party to some posts, proposes continuation or replacements. Not a “federal case”!) At an SDS Executive Board meeting on 6 March 1992, the structure of the Public Auditing Service (“SDK”) in Ključ was characterised as “unfavourable”, which referred to the fact that a Bosnian Muslim was employed there.⁵²⁰⁰ Let us see what really had been said in this document (P03433) at this meeting:

The prime minister designate of the Bosnian government was chosen and much will depend on him. Nikola ERCEG was elected. Certain services will be dislocated from Sarajevo. He spoke about the unfavourable structure of those employed in the SDK /Public Auditing Service/ in Ključ. The decision was made that all public funds would be held in Banja Luka. The decision was made about the

(#All legal#! The decentralisation of BiH was on the table, and it was a way to avoid a war, and the Serb community in Klju~ was ready for that! The Municipal board of the Party was informed about the ongoing conference on BiH, including “cantonisation” (not “canonisation”) and decentralisation of funds. In this context it was mentioned an “unfavourable structure” of the employed in the SDK, not specified whether it was due to their professionalism, ethnic structure or something else. Even if it was an ethnic structure, it should be balanced anyway. But, the Chamber decided to suggest tha there shouldn't be any Muslim employed, which is not correct. If this disbalance in the structure would influence the future decentralisation, than it was worthwile to be considered, no matter who occupied ⁵¹⁹⁴ Several weeks earlier, on 8 April 1992, Stojan Župljanin, as Chief of the Banja Luka CSB, had held a press conference in which he stated that all MUP employees were required to sign a loyalty oath by 15 April 1992; if they did not, their employment would be terminated. what position.) In the weeks preceding 7 May 1992, a Bosnian Muslim member of the SDK and the Bosnian Muslim editor-in-chief of the radio station were replaced by members of the SDS.⁵²⁰¹ Both men were told that “since there had been a take-over in Ključ, they had to be replaced by individuals from the SDS”.⁵²⁰² (#Deadly combination#! Rule 92bis, no cross examination on this circumstance! But, if the previous editor-in-chief was sabotaging the peaceful Lisbon Conference on decentralisation, he could have been replaced for pursuing a private views on a public media!)

1503. By the end of May 1992, most Bosnian Muslims in Ključ had lost or would soon lose their jobs.⁵²⁰³ On 7 May 1992, Bosnian Muslim municipal employees had been told to leave the municipality building with the proviso that they would be called back if needed.⁵²⁰⁴ Between mid-May and early June, the Ključ Crisis Staff concluded that “all management positions in enterprises must be filled by people absolutely loyal to” the SerBiH and that the replacement of all non-Serbs who were then employed in posts which encompassed the “protection of properties” was to be carried out by 1 June 1992.⁵²⁰⁵ These principles were later recorded in the 21 July 1992 decision of the Ključ Crisis Staff, which had since been renamed the War Presidency,⁵²⁰⁶ when it held that, in accordance with a prior decision of the ARK Crisis Staff,⁵²⁰⁷ only Bosnian Serb officials could occupy managerial posts, posts that could provide access to information or involve the protection of public property, and posts that were important for the functioning of the economy.⁵²⁰⁸ (#Legal and obligatory#!Not kind, but it was obviously associated with the oath issue. Since at that times there was a war proclaimed by the Muslim-Croat Government against the Serbs, the assessment and feeling of security of the local authorities probably dictated this kind of measure. What would do any other country in such a case of war? Would they risk to be sabotaged and damaged in security? Those who didn’t accept the new organisation and the existence of the RS, certainly would be loyal to those who declared the war against the Serbs! But, what does it have to do with the President? The locals acted in accordance with the laws and due to their assessment of jeopardy. There was no president or any other authority who would be able to deny them this rights, since the state couldn’t protect them!) On the same day, the Ključ War Presidency also issued a decision terminating the employment of “all employees who ha[d] failed to respond to the general mobilisation”.⁵²⁰⁹ (#Legal#! In any country this would be a very grave felony. Remember Muhamed Ali! Thus, the Chamber concludes that the war was illegal when the Serbs defended themselves, while it was legal when the Muslims initiated, started and prolonged the same war!!!) Following these decisions, the War Presidency ordered the dismissal of several non-Serbs from municipal positions, including the positions of president and vice president of the executive board of the municipality.⁵²¹⁰ (#Two municipalities – peace#! This was not just “an incident”, that was a planned and simultaneous attack of the Muslim forces against the local Serbs as well as the JNA which was leaving Knin and only passing through Ključ!) Around 2 p.m. on the same day, a bus carrying members of the JNA who were returning from Knin to Banja Luka came under fire near Pudín Han, resulting in the deaths of four or five individuals.⁵²¹⁹ Not simply “individuals” but soldiers, who were retreating unarmed, and didn’t represent any threat. What army would allow this kind of conduct? And what was the aim of those Muslim armed groups for doing this? During the course of the day, a check-point at the intersection of the Ključ-Sanica road came under fire, and in the evening, a “squa[d] of extremists” attempted to blow up a road above Velagići.⁵²²⁰ (A Muslim extremists, why not to say it? When the Muslims do something, the Chamber names them as “extremists” without affiliation, and when the Serb extremists and renegades do something, they are named as the “Serb Forces”, although they had been arrested by the real Serb forces!) In addition to the incidents that occurred that day, the Ključ SJB discovered that seven members of Serb Forces had been captured in Crljeni two days before.⁵²²¹ (But, let us see what the main commander of the Muslim Army Sefer Halilovic said about the situation in the Sana River Valley, see D3904, sent to the Una-Sana Operations Group, which indicates how strong those forces were:

We think that your region, taking into account the command of the Una-Sana Operations Group, the Bihać District Defence Staff, the municipal staffs in the region and other bodies, has a good personnel basis for a corps command.

The Chamber received conflicting evidence regarding the establishment and level of organisation of a Bosnian Muslim TO, as well as its involvement in the events of 27 May 1992. (That could be a “conflicting evidence” only compared to the stereotypes established by the Prosecution and international media? Those are a genuine contemporaneous documents indicating that the #Muslim side planned, organised and initiated the turmoil and finally a war against the Serbs in the area.#) According to a Ključ SJB dispatch dated 25 September 1992, Bosnian Muslim forces began to obtain weapons through individual purchases in early 1992, and established a “Bosanski Ključ TO” in April 1992.⁵²²² Asim Egrić acknowledged that guards

5 p.m. on 28 May 1992.⁵²³¹ Filipović was also taken into custody.⁵²³² However, after the 4 p.m. announcement, the Ključ Defence Command issued a further statement at 8 p.m. ordering the residents of Pudín Han and Velagići to surrender their weapons by 9 p.m. that evening.⁵²³³ Failure to comply with the provisions of the statement would result in a state of armed conflict.⁵²³⁴

1510. As a result of this “new security situation”,⁵²³⁵ Banjac, as President of the Ključ Crisis Staff, issued an order prohibiting citizens from moving from one area to another within the municipality without special permission from the Ključ SJB.⁵²³⁶ Additionally, the Ključ Battalion⁵²³⁷ was deployed to “mop up” the town and surrounding settlements by disarming “all paramilitary formations in the direction of the attacks and to arrest members of these formations”,⁵²³⁸ while the 1st Brigade of the 30th Partisan Division was also deployed in the area.⁵²³⁹

1512. Beginning while the combat operations were underway and continuing throughout 1992 some 3,500 houses in Bosnian Muslim villages including Pudin Han, Velagići, Biljani, and Prhovo were razed to the ground and burned.⁵²⁴⁷ Furthermore, during the same period, members of the Serb Forces “illegally appropriat[ed]” Bosnian Muslims’ movable property, such as cattle, housing materials, and vehicles.⁵²⁴⁸ (This assertion about #“members of the Serb Forces”#, is also general and not supported. ⁵²⁵⁰ D1738 (Report of the Assistant Commander for Civilian Affairs of the Military Post 7286, 16 February 1993), pp. 2–3. (#No criminal intent#! However, this document is a genuine evidence that nothing what happened wasn’t an intention of the local authorities, but a “viss maieour” – a chaos that occurred after the war broke out. In this document there are proofs on many aspects: there was no sufficient food for the inhabitants; a lack of discipline and safety for the sitizens; #General shortage#!)
 - prices soar day and night; nobody is trying to curb them; citizens, with their modest income, cannot keep up.
 - there are serious deficiencies in providing supplies for the families of soldiers who were killed. The records with necessary details about dead soldiers are not kept updated as they /the soldiers/ deserve. Pay for soldiers is sometimes late, while some soldiers do not receive it for several months.

Anyway, this genuine document shows contrary to what is suggested in the Judgment, namely, that there were many weaknesses in exercising the rule of law and to make the municipal organs functioning, but exactly this document shows that it wasn’t because of any plan or an intention of the local, or central authorities. So, for how many times the Chamber accepted the Prosecution’s tricks to use against the Serbs all the Serb endeavours to make the things better? This is an absurd! Further, there was a full awareness of what was going on, and this was criticised and attempted to cease the unloawfulness, as we can see:

appropriation of state property continued [...] [and] nothing was done to prevent further acts of unlawful appropriation”.⁵²⁵¹ The 1st Krajina Assistant Corps Commander for Civilian Affairs reported that as late as 1 February 1993, such acts were occurring in “full co-ordinated action and co-operation of the Military and civilian police”.⁵²⁵² The Chamber is therefore satisfied that such crimes continued to be perpetrated by members of Serb Forces even after the measures taken by the Ključ Crisis Staff and Ključ Executive Board in June and September 1992. (#No liability#! #Individuals, not “Forces#! But, who would be liable for these felonies? The Serb authorities? It is clear from the very document that there was no any plan or any approval of the authorities for the perpetrators, had they been “members” of the Serb Forces, but certainly doing felonies out of the sight of commands, or civilians, in spite of the measures of the municipal authorities. Again, a document confirming the authority’s rightful endeavours are used against this President, although the real officials, such as 1st Krajina Corps Commander for Civilian Affairs and the authorities of Ključ were a real “Serb Forces”, while nobody could confirm that the perpetrators had been a legal Serb forces!)

1104. Killings on or around 1 June 1992

a. Scheduled Incident A.7.1

1513. The Indictment refers to the killing of “a number” of people in Pudín Han on or about 28 May 1992.

1514. As the Chamber has previously noted, a Bosnian Muslim TO was headquartered in Pudín Han.⁵²⁵³ At the time, Pudín Han was almost exclusively a Bosnian Muslim village located approximately three kilometres north of Ključ town.⁵²⁵⁴ Even as the Ključ Crisis Staff issued its Individuals and small and large groups of people began illegally appropriating Muslim property in Muslim villages and hamlets during combat operations in the local communes of Velagići, Sanica, Humići and Peći, and continued to do so when the operations ended. This was done by military personnel, members of the police and local Serbs. Later, acts of unlawful appropriation spread like an epidemic. This certainly happened although such acts have not been typical of the Serbian people throughout its history. There were cases of appropriation of cattle or buying /?them/ for next to nothing and of taking away all other movable property.

Had it been a goal of the authorities, there wouldn’t be any objection and attempt to rectify the misdoings. In addition to all the troubles the local authorities had also a very wide territory and couldn’t easily communicate, let alone control the processes and events, see the same document:

Since the authorities in Ključ have no contact with local communes, that is with the grassroots, it is perfectly evident that the lack of good communications with the grassroots may have serious consequences and cause immeasurable harm to those who live, work and produce there and the authorities that give guidelines and initiate progress.

The Humići local commune is the closest to the municipal authorities (four kilometres). Vrbļjani is the farthest (34 km), followed by Sitnica (24 km), Sanica (18) and so on. These figures are presented here not because the competent organs are unaware of the distances, but to remind them that good work and cooperation with local communes can only be accomplished with good communications.

The entire document is genuine and frank, and can only confirm the local authorities tries to make the things better.

ultimatum on 28 May 1992,⁵²⁵⁵ Pudín Han had already begun to be shelled from locations controlled by Serb Forces on the previous day.⁵²⁵⁶ (#Before VRS#! However, depicted as it is here, it looks as if the Serb units attacked a peaceful place before the ultimatum expired. First of all, these units had been formed by the JNA, in April 92. Second, as evident from the P06543, this was an inevitable action against the paramilitary groups which already started to ambush and kill both, the JNA, the VRS, the police and civilians, see what was the task of these units, P06543, p.3

2nd company and the anti-tank platoon attacked from their positions in Brežčice, the area of the village of /illegible/ -the village of Hadžići-the village of Pudín Han

The task of the companies was to disarm all paramilitary formations in the direction of the attacks and to arrest members of these formations.

Many people were hit by the shells as they tried to flee.⁵²⁵⁷ While at his house on 28 May, KDZ024 could see smoke coming from the houses in Pudín Han.⁵²⁵⁸ During the attack on Pudín Han, the mosque in Pudín Han was blown up and leveled.⁵²⁵⁹ KDZ024 visited Pudín Han after it was shelled, and found everything burned, destroyed, and in ruins.⁵²⁶⁰ Electricity poles had fallen down, and dead livestock littered the roads.⁵²⁶¹ (However, in spite of fact that there was a well armed Muslim unit and their Headquarters, the Chamber missed to establish #who started# the fights. We already know that the Muslim side started the war in Ključ a day earlier, on 27 May, by a simultaneous attack on many spots. This contemporaneous document of the Prosecution is clear: the Serbs had been attacked from Pudín Han and it's hamlets!)

1515. The Chamber notes that the Prosecution alleges that “a number” of people were killed in Pudín Han on or about 28 May 1992.⁵²⁶² The Chamber took judicial notice of the fact that, at a minimum, three civilians from Pudín Han died as a consequence of the shelling.⁵²⁶³ Additionally, KDZ024 testified that on 30 May 1992, [REDACTED] found and buried the bodies of more than ten people, including children, who had been killed by the shelling.⁵²⁶⁴ The bodies of eight Bosnian Muslims killed during the shelling of Pudín Han were exhumed from graves in Velagići in 1996,⁵²⁶⁵ but the Chamber notes that five of those eight were last reported alive on 1 June

⁵²⁵⁵ See para.1509. During a meeting at the youth centre in Pudín Han, the vast majority of inhabitants of Pudín Han were in favour of surrendering their weapons, and those who disagreed left for Bihać. Adjudicated Fact 920.

The Chamber notes that the Accused concedes that Pudín Han was shelled even prior to the expiration of the Crisis Staff’s ultimatum, and that at least three civilians died, but suggests that the shelling was not carried out by Serb Forces, who “had no interest in shelling since they had information that the Bosnian Muslim extremists who remained armed had left for Bihać”. Defence Final Brief, para. 1517. However, the Chamber is satisfied beyond reasonable doubt that, as stated in the main text above, the shelling was carried out by Serb Forces, not by any other armed group.

The bodies of an additional four Bosnian Muslims who went missing from the Pudín Han area on 27 May 1992 were exhumed from graves in the same area, but the evidence before the Chamber is insufficient to conclude that they were killed by Serb Forces during this attack. 1992.⁵²⁶⁶ Accordingly, the Chamber concludes that, at a minimum, three civilians were killed by Serb Forces during the attack in Pudín Han and that the village—including the mosque⁵²⁶⁷—was destroyed on or about 28 May 1992. (#Legal, military necessities#! However, the Chamber takes it as if this was an unprovoked attack on a civil settlement, regardless of the international provisions that guarantee the right to defend! It was a usual practice of the Muslim forces to deploy their heavy artillery in the settled areas and fire against the Serbs. Neither the Chamber established whether there was a military necessity on the Serb side, nor whether the mosque had been used as a military object. Presenting as if the Serbs attacked a peaceful settlement, and preventing the Defence to depict the other side’s conduct makes any defence impossible and any trial unfair! Aside from all of that, there is a crucial question unanswered: what does it have to do with the President? All of those “wars” were a #municipal wars#, because started in a different times and because of different causes and incentives! #Nobody could unilaterally influence an attacked side#!)

b. Scheduled Incident A.7.2

1516. The Indictment refers to the killing of at least 38 people in Prhovo village and further on the road to Peći on or about 1 June 1992.

1517. Around 1 June 1992, approximately 100 members of the Serb Forces armed with automatic weapons arrived in Prhovo,⁵²⁶⁸ (#Masks and insignias#! The masked civilians within this group weren’t the Serb soldiers, nor the Serb Forces, but somebody who did some revenge and didn’t want to be recognised and “awarded” by the Serb authorities. This can not be any responsibility of the Serb authorities!) a village located northeast of Ključ town and southeast of the village of Peći which was then inhabited primarily by Bosnian Muslims.⁵²⁶⁹

1518. The Serb Forces ordered approximately 40 unarmed male residents of Prhovo, as well as a number of unarmed women and children, to line up facing the wall of Karanfil Osmanović’s house, and then began to beat some of them.⁵²⁷⁰ #Adjudicated Fact! Four Bosnian Muslim men were called out by name, told to run away, and then shot dead.⁵²⁷¹ Adjudicated Fact#!

1519. The Serb Forces ordered the approximately 30 remaining Bosnian Muslim men from Prhovo to form a column and walk to the nearby village of Peći.⁵²⁷² Adjudicated Fact#! On the way to Peći, three Bosnian Muslim men from the column were killed after they failed to drag a military vehicle out of the mud.⁵²⁷³ Adjudicated Fact#! The commander of the unit, Marko Adamović,⁵²⁷⁴ ordered that the village be set on fire and the women and children be killed.⁵²⁷⁵ KDZ056 then heard shooting and an explosion from the village.⁵²⁷⁶

⁵²⁷⁴ While testifying in this case, Marko Adamović denied that he was the commander of the operation in Prhovo and claimed that he only learned what took place there when a military officer who was crying arrived at the Crisis Staff meeting on the same day. D4165 (Witness statement of Marko Adamović dated 1 December 2013), para. 23; Marko Adamović, T. 44458–44459, 44464–44466, 44470 (4 December 2013). The Chamber notes that at the time of his testimony, Adamović was awaiting judgement in the re-trial of his case in BiH, which related to the events in Prhovo. Marko Adamović, T. 44457–44458

1520. Only 12 men from the column survived the trek to Peći.⁵²⁷⁷ Adjudicated Fact! Sulejman Medanović, having survived the walk, died during the following night as a result of beatings he sustained while the group was detained overnight in a co-operative centre called “Dom”.⁵²⁷⁸ (#Deadly combination#! Adjudicated Fact! 92bis!!! In the morning, the 11 survivors were taken to the Nikola Mačkić Elementary School, arriving around 11:00 a.m.⁵²⁷⁹ 92bis

1521. A total of 51 bodies identified as those of Bosnian Muslims who were killed in Prhovo on or around 1 June 1992 by Serb Forces were exhumed from two mass graves located in Prhovo.⁵²⁸⁰ 92bis! The Chamber also received forensic evidence that Sulejman Medanović died as a result of injuries consistent with the beatings he received while the group was detained en route to the Nikola Mačkić School,⁵²⁸¹ bringing the total number of bodies linked to the attack on Prhovo to 52.⁵²⁸²

1522. The Chamber therefore finds that Serb Forces killed 52 Bosnian Muslims in Prhovo and on the road to Peći on or about 1 June 1992. (#Deadly combination#! All of that is based on many

(4 December 2013). The Chamber thus considers that Adamović had an incentive to be less than forthcoming about his role in those events. Moreover, Adamović was evasive throughout his testimony, particularly when questioned about how he had come to know about what had happened in Prhovo. D4165 (Witness statement of Marko Adamović dated 1 December 2013), para. 23; Marko Adamović, T. 44459–44464, 44467–44473, 44478–44479, 44485–44487, 44489 (4 December 2013) (denying involvement but conceding that the minutes of the Crisis Staff meeting did not reflect that he was present); P2606 (Minutes from sessions of Ključ’s Crisis Staff, 27 May–10 July 1992), pp. 7–8. The Chamber therefore shall not rely on Adamović’s evidence in relation to this incident. Although Rajko Kalabić corroborated Adamović’s testimony that a tearful military officer informed the Crisis Staff about the events in Prhovo on 1 June 1992, Kalabić, who was himself evasive throughout his testimony, was inconsistent regarding Adamović’s presence at the meeting. Compare Rajko Kalabić, T. 44578–44580 (5 December 2013) (explaining that he had only disclosed that Adamović was present at the Crisis Staff meeting during the appellate phase of a case in BiH and not before because the Prosecutor had not asked about Adamović’s presence during the trial) with Rajko Kalabić, T. 44582–44583 (5 December 2013) (accepting the possibility that the Crisis Staff had actually only learned about the events in Prhovo two or three days later, as Kalabić had testified in the Brđanin case). Accordingly, the Chamber finds that Adamović was present and in command of the Serb Forces in Prhovo. (#Deadly combination#! So, the Chamber is deciding on a “negative basis”, i.e. no evidence that he wasn’t there, therefor, he was there! And this way discredited several Defence witnesses.

5275 Adjudicated Fact 2438; KDZ056, P686 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Brđanin), T. 10346 (testifying that the commander ordered that no one be left alive in the village). Adjudicated fact!

5276 KDZ056, P686 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Brđanin), T. 10346. 92bis! KDZ056 later learned that the Serb Forces in the village had killed the people who had remained behind. KDZ056, P686 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Brđanin), T. 10346.

5277 See Adjudicated Fact 926. The Serb Forces killed two or three more Bosnian Muslim men when the group reached the crossroad junction for Sokolovo and Peći, and, after having ordered the remaining men to take off their shoes and clothing from the waist up, opened fire on them in a field, leaving only 12 survivors. KDZ056, P686 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Brđanin), T. 10349–10351 (testifying that although 14 men originally survived, the soldiers shot the two youngest survivors after stating that 14 survivors were two too many for the soldiers to be able to exact “[their] revenge”). But see D4165 (Witness statement of Marko Adamović dated 1 December 2013), para. 8b (stating that he heard that Bosnian Muslims had opened fire on the Bosnian Serb unit from a small forest and that the unit had reacted by firing randomly in the direction of the forest). In light of the fact that the Bosnian Serb unit’s acts could bear on Adamović’s culpability in relation to this incident, the Chamber declines to rely on Adamović’s evidence in this regard.

5278 KDZ056, P686 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Brđanin), T. 10352–10353; P6690 (Addendum to Nicolas Sèbire’s report, 16 May 2003), pp. 79–80 (stating that a post mortem examination of Medanović’s body revealed that the cause of death was force trauma to the head and chest, including brain injury). See also Adjudicated Fact 927. The Serb Forces tied the surviving men’s hands with wires and strings, beat them, and ordered them to lie down near an electricity pole, where the survivors were held overnight without access to food or water, and told them that they would all be killed in the morning. KDZ056, P686 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Brđanin), T. 10352–10353.

5279 KDZ056, P686 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Brđanin), T. 10353. See also Scheduled Detention Facility C.15.2.

5280 KDZ056 testified that the 27 persons listed in P531 were killed in Prhovo village, as well as on the road and in the field on the way to Peći. P531 (List of persons captured/killed in Prhovo), p. 1; KDZ056, P686 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Brđanin), T. 10346, 10357–10359. Autopsy reports and exhumation reports demonstrate that the bodies of these 27 persons, as well as the bodies of 24 others, were exhumed from two graves associated with the Serb Forces’ attack on Prhovo on 1 June 1992; all of these persons died as a result of gunshot injuries to the head, thoracic cavity, and/or limbs. P622 (Record of autopsies of bodies from Prhovo, 13 May 1997) (recording the autopsy results for 36 persons killed by Serb Forces in Prhovo on 1 June 1992 who were wearing civilian clothing and who died of gunshot injuries to the head, thoracic cavity, and/or spine); P4882 (Bihać Cantonal Court record of Prhovo exhumation, 7 May 1997) (relating to the autopsies compiled in P622); P623 (Record of autopsies of bodies from Prhovo, 25 September 1999) (recording the exhumation of 15 bodies from a mass grave at Ciganska Dolina, 13 of whom were listed in P531). In light of the similarity in the causes of death and having cross-referenced P531 with P22 and P623, the Chamber concludes that all 51 persons included in P622 and P623 were killed by Serb Forces in Prhovo on or around 1 June 1992. See also P6690 (Addendum to Nicolas Sèbire’s report, 16 May 2003), pp. 76–79; Asim Egrić, P6586 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Krajišnik), T. 4810–4812 (testifying that he attended the exhumation of a Prhovo gravesite); Adjudicated Fact 928. In addition to the exhumations of the 51 persons mentioned above, Amor Mašović recorded the exhumation of the body of one additional person who went missing from Prhovo on 1 June 1992 from the Ciganska Dolina grave. P4853 (Updated Table 2 to the Report of Amor Mašović), pp. 7–8; P4850 (Witness statement of Amor Mašović dated 23 March 2012), Annex A, p. 5. However, this individual is not listed in P623 and no evidence in the record provides either an explanation for this omission or forensic information regarding the death. Accordingly, the Chamber cannot be satisfied that this person was killed by Serb Forces in Prhovo on or around 1 June 1992.

5282 The Chamber notes that the Accused concedes that the local authorities were informed that “a number of civilians” were killed during fighting in Prhovo. Defence Final Brief, para. 1518 (citing the witness statement of Slobodan Jurišić). Jurišić testified that the Crisis Staff was informed on 1 June 1992 that “a number of Muslim civilians” were killed in Prhovo, although he did not mention any fighting. D4363 (Witness statement of Slobodan Jurišić dated 8 February 2014), para. 23.

Adjudicated facts and evidence due to Rule 92bis, although some of it rebutted by the Defence witnesses, which, according to the Tribunal's Statute, should be sufficient to rebut it. Again, the Chamber didn't establish how many of those casualties had been a combat casualties, how many combat casualties had the Serb side, and left it to be interpreted as one like it. Finally, no answer how does it involve the President, who didn't have any communication with Kljuc for a long period? And if he had, how would he prevent the attacked Serbs to secure their safety? Of course, if "forgotten" that the Muslim side launched a synchronised attack on 27 May, an impression that the evil Serbs did their attacks without any reason!

1105. Arrests, detentions, and killings associated with detention facilities

a. Scheduled Detention Facility C.15.3 and Scheduled Incident B.10.1

1523. The Indictment refers to the use of the Velagići School as a detention facility at least between 30 May and June 1992,⁵²⁸³ and to the killing of at least 77 men at the school on or about 1 June 1992.⁵²⁸⁴

1524. On the evening of 1 June 1992, approximately 100 unarmed Bosnian Muslim men who had surrendered to members of Serb Forces at the check-point in Velagići, a majority Bosnian Muslim village,⁵²⁸⁵ arrived at the Velagići School,⁵²⁸⁶ which was guarded by soldiers.⁵²⁸⁷ The men's names and dates of birth were recorded.⁵²⁸⁸ Two soldiers ordered the group to line up, raise their hands, and empty their pockets, and collected any documents or money that had been discarded in the process.⁵²⁸⁹ #Combatants, not civilians#! The Chamber missed to establish whether those "who had surrendered" had been in combat prior to the surrender! Certainly they had been, otherwise they would be at their homes! All other was a part of a prescribed procedure, the same as in any prison!

1525. The two soldiers then ordered the group of Bosnian Muslim men to enter a small room on the first floor, where they were crowded in so tightly that they "literally had to sit in each other's laps".⁵²⁹⁰ The Bosnian Muslim men were cursed and told to "bow down. You'll never again have the opportunity."⁵²⁹¹ At one point, the Bosnian Muslim men heard several men who were being held downstairs being told to stand up, and when they could not, the Bosnian Muslim men upstairs ⁵²⁸³ Indictment, Scheduled Detention Facility C.15.3. In Appendix B to the Prosecution Final Brief, however, the Prosecution only refers to men being detained at the school on 1 June 1992.

⁵²⁸⁴ Indictment, Scheduled Incident B.10.1. The Chamber also notes that the Accused appears to characterise this event as two separate killing incidents, but observes that the evidence he cites, which the Chamber has analysed below, does not support this theory. On their way to the school, the group had encountered Željko Radojčić as well as one or two soldiers wearing olive grey uniforms, and Radojčić had told the soldiers: "Kill them all. They're not going to form a džamahirija here". KDZ024, P713 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Brđanin), T. 9123 (under seal). 1526. The Bosnian Muslim men remained in the classroom at the Velagići School while the soldiers cursed and maltreated them, until approximately 11:30 p.m.⁵²⁹³ At that point, the soldiers ordered the detainees to stand and line up in a single file; as they exited the school, they were ordered to form a column, two by two.⁵²⁹⁴ Once the entire column had exited and lined up against the building, two soldiers who had been crouching in the nearby grass and pointing their automatic rifles began to fire at the column.⁵²⁹⁵ When the shooting stopped, the soldiers approached the fallen detainees and shot any apparent survivors,⁵²⁹⁶ [REDACTED].⁵²⁹⁷ The soldiers began to drink rakija and sing “Chetnik songs about Draza Mihajlović and about the establishment of an empire”.⁵²⁹⁸ (#Deadly combination#! The main point is that the local authorities reacted and didn't even try to cover up the crime. This is senseless to bring it and charge the President for this crime. 1528. Seventy seven bodies linked to the killings at Velagići School on 1 June 1992 were exhumed from the Lanište II “Babina Dolina” mass grave in Ključ in the autumn of 1996.⁵³⁰³ Although three of the bodies were so skeletonised as to preclude the establishment of a cause of death, the remainder all bore signs of fatal gunshot wounds, mostly to the head or trunk, and all were found in civilian clothing.⁵³⁰⁴

b. Scheduled Detention Facility C.15.1

1530. The Indictment refers to the use of the Ključ SJB Building as a detention facility at least between May and August 1992.⁵³⁰⁵

1531. On the morning of 28 May 1992, Asim Egrić was arrested at a check-point just outside Ključ; he was then escorted to the SJB building in Ključ,⁵³⁰⁶ which was staffed and operated by the Bosnian Serb police.⁵³⁰⁷ While detained at the SJB building, Egrić was beaten and sustained extensive injuries to his head and body before being transferred to the hospital, where he remained for approximately one hour.⁵³⁰⁸ While in the hospital, Veljko Kondić and Tihomir Dakić came to see Egrić.⁵³⁰⁹ (Not to forget, it happened the next day after the multiple and simultaneous ⁵³⁰⁵ Indictment, Scheduled Detention Facility C.15.1. In Appendix B to the Prosecution’s Final Brief, however, the Prosecution only referred to the period “following attacks in May and June [19]92”. The Chamber received evidence referring to the building housing the Ključ SJB as the “SJB building”, the “SUP building”, and the “police station”. For clarity, the Chamber will use the term “SJB building” throughout this section to denote this building.

D1748 (Official note of 2nd Krajina Corps Command, 11 July 1992), p. 3 (naming Egrić as one of the attackers); D4169 (Witness statement of Rajko Kalabić dated 1 December 2013), paras. 6, 20. Egrić contested the veracity of the narrative contained in D1748, suggesting that the statements on which it was based were obtained from persons detained in Manjača who may have been under duress and that he had actually wounded himself by shooting himself in the foot. Asim Egrić, T. 19971–19974 (5 October 2011); Asim Egrić, P6586 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Krajišnik), T. 4788–4789, 4795, 4945. Although the Chamber considers Egrić’s account of his wounding implausible, the Chamber does not consider that Egrić’s involvement in this event, if any, would have any impact on the credibility of his testimony regarding the treatment he received during his subsequent detention.

⁵³⁰⁷ See Adjudicated Fact 933. On the same day, Muhamed Filipović, a Bosnian Muslim member of the Ključ Municipal Assembly,⁵³¹⁰ was arrested by two Bosnian Serbs in military uniforms and taken to the SJB building, where he was subjected to beatings by Bosnian Serb soldiers.⁵³¹¹ At the time, at least 22 other Bosnian Muslims were held at the SJB building.⁵³¹² (#Legal#! 1532. Those arrested were beaten in a gauntlet at the steps of the entrance to the SJB building with feet, fists, batons, rifle-butts and chair legs, and were subjected to ethnic slurs.⁵³¹³ They were then beaten inside the SJB building, including during interrogations.⁵³¹⁴ The perpetrators of these beatings were Bosnian Serb police officers and local civilians.⁵³¹⁵ (#No Karad'i}'s liability!#! Is the Chamber of an opinion that this President wanted, o ordered those local Serbs to beat those local Muslims? This was a civil war, the local Serbs and Muslims maintained the peace for seven weeks after the war erupted throughout the BiH. 1533. A prominent Bosnian Muslim was thrown down the stairs, and was carried into the SJB building unconscious, whilst another suffered a cut lip and broken ribs.⁵³¹⁶ As a result of the severity of the beatings, the former suffered a serious, lasting injury with continuing effects to date.⁵³¹⁷

c. Scheduled Detention Facility C.15.2

1537. The Indictment refers to the use of the Nikola Mačkić Elementary School as a detention facility at least between 1 May and July 1992.⁵³²⁸

1538. From 2 June 1992,⁵³²⁹ approximately 300 Muslim men were detained and guarded by Bosnian Serb regular and reserve civilian police in the Nikola Mačkić Elementary School in Ključ.⁵³³⁰ When the detainees arrived at the Nikola Mačkić Elementary School, they were forced to run through a gauntlet of Bosnian Serb civilians armed with cables, bats, clubs, and other objects, while being beaten, spat on, and verbally degraded.⁵³³¹ Before entering the gym, all detainees were searched by Bosnian Serbs, who seized the detainees' valuables and documents.⁵³³² Some detainees were also interrogated about whether they had weapons and whether they were combatants.⁵³³³ (#Deadly combination#! All founded on the Rule 92bis evidence and "adjudicated facts". 1539. 1540. Former Bosnian Muslim police officers were the object of particularly severe physical abuse and humiliation.⁵³⁴⁰ Atif Džafić was taken from the gym to a classroom,⁵³⁴¹ where he was interrogated by a Bosnian Serb police officer, Nedeljko Vasić.⁵³⁴² Džafić was then returned to the gym and “put on display” in the middle of the gym floor with his hands behind his back, where his former subordinates beat him.⁵³⁴³ (So, his “former subordinates” didn’t respect him at all, particularly after he abandoned his professional duties and initiated the armed crushes against his “former subordinates”, capturing and killing, among others, “his subordinate”, as a matter of fact, his deputy Dusan Stojakovic. #What the President has to do with it?#) After one hour, Džafić was again taken to the corridor by two masked policemen wearing camouflage uniforms. These policemen beat him and took him for further interrogation by Duško Miličević, who was an inspector from the Banja Luka CSB and dressed in the uniform of a military captain, and another military captain. Miličević and the other military captain beat Džafić with desk legs, cables, and bats.⁵³⁴⁴ The other military captain asked Džafić what Džafić knew about who had killed Dušan Stojaković and why Džafić had not signed the SJB loyalty oath.⁵³⁴⁵ Džafić denied involvement in Stojaković’s death,⁵³⁴⁶ but was given a piece of paper and asked to “write everything down” before being returned to the gym, where he was again placed in the middle of the floor.⁵³⁴⁷ (#Interrogation#! How serious suspicions were associated with this witness, can be seen from the fact that the military investigators came from Banja Luka to investigate and interrogate him!)

⁵³⁴⁸ Adjudicated Fact 944. Slobodan Jurišić testified that he did not know or hear that Muslims were being beaten at Nikola Mačkić School, nor was this discussed at the Crisis(to see a real meaning!!! Staff. D4363 (Witness statement of Slobodan Jurišić dated 8 February 2014), para. 26. Considering, however, that Jurišić was a member of the Crisis Staff, and that whether the Crisis Staff was informed of the beatings at the Nikola Mačkić’s school could bear on Jurišić’s responsibility in relation to those events, the Chamber shall not rely on Jurišić’s evidence on this point. The Chamber notes that the Accused relied on Jovo Kevac’s evidence to support his assertion that “all reported incidents of abuse were dealt with” by the Ključ authorities. Defence Final Brief, para. 1524. However, Kevac merely stated his belief that the Crisis Staff was not aware of the beatings, and even admitted a lack of knowledge in this regard. D4268 (Witness statement of Jovo Kevac dated 25 January 2014), para. 33. The Chamber will therefore not rely on Kevac’s opinion. (#Deadly combination#! If this criterion is taken without any selectivity, none of the Muslim witnesses, particularly those who took part in the fights, either as an organizers or combatants, shouldn’t be trusted at all. This “carnage” of the Defence witnesses is without a precedent.

1543. On 5 June 1992, other detainees were transferred directly from the Nikola Mačkić School to Manjača.⁵³⁵⁰ On approximately 7 June 1992, the detainees in Sitnica were also transferred to Manjača.⁵³⁵¹
1544. The Chamber therefore finds that during the period between 2 and 5 June 1992, members of Serb Forces detained Bosnian Muslim men at the Nikola Mačkić School, and subjected them to severe beatings with such objects as cables, bats, and clubs, as well as verbal abuse and other forms of humiliation.
1106. Killings after June 1992: Scheduled Incident A.7.3
1545. The Indictment refers to the killing of at least 144 people in Biljani on or about 10 July 1992.
1546. Around 6:15 a.m. on 10 July 1992, all men in Biljani between the ages of 18 and 60 were told to gather at a field near the village⁵³⁵² while the women and children were allowed to remain at home.⁵³⁵³ Approximately 20 or 30 soldiers were visible on the elevations surrounding the village, which was consequently completely surrounded and cut off.⁵³⁵⁴ Between 50 and 70 men arrived at the field, where they found Marko Samardžija, a captain in the reserve forces,⁵³⁵⁵ waiting with Mladjo Tesić and ten other soldiers.⁵³⁵⁶ The soldiers ordered the men to line up so they could be questioned.⁵³⁵⁷ The Bosnian Muslim men remained there for approximately one hour while the village was being searched; What was the result of the search? they were then marched in a column to the Biljani Primary School, approximately one kilometre away.⁵³⁵⁸
1547. When the men arrived at the Biljani Primary School, a van was parked under a tree with about ten military policemen from Ključ wearing white belts.⁵³⁵⁹ Many soldiers stood around the school and approximately ten were in front of a shop, guarding women and children brought from

1548. Between 120 and 150 men were confined in two classrooms inside the Biljani Primary School.⁵³⁶⁴ Before entering the classrooms, the group of men from KDZ075's hamlet, were made to empty their pockets and their documents in the corridor.⁵³⁶⁵ Mihić and another reserve policeman spent approximately 45 minutes writing down the detainees' names before leaving the classroom.⁵³⁶⁶

1550. After leaving the classroom, the groups of five detainees were lined up in the corridor and let out of the building one by one.⁵³⁷³ Some were beaten while passing through a line of 20 to 30 Bosnian Serb soldiers on the way to two buses parked near the school,⁵³⁷⁴ while others were taken

(1) Scheduled Incident D.13

4. The Indictment refers to the destruction of eight mosques and a Catholic church between at least May and August 1992.⁵³⁹⁰

1557. Eight mosques in Ključ municipality were destroyed during the period between May 1992 and August 1992.⁵³⁹¹ With regard to the destruction of specific sites and the identities of those responsible, the Chamber received evidence indicating that the Velagići-Pudin Han mosque was blown up by Serb Forces during the attack on Pudín Han on 28 May 1992,⁵³⁹² and that the Biljani Mosque was set on fire in the morning of 10 July 1992 when the village was attacked by Serb Forces.⁵³⁹³ (#Armed stronghold#! The Chamber trusted the KDZ075, Dzafic and others when stated that there was no soldiers in Biljani, but there wouldn't be any attack had that been so. Biljani was a stronghold as any other numerous Muslim settlement!) The Ključ mosque was blown up at approximately 3:05 a.m. on 30 July 1992.⁵³⁹⁴ According to a report issued the following day, although the perpetrators were unknown, an investigation was underway to uncover their identities.⁵³⁹⁵ The Chamber also took judicial notice of the fact that following the Crisis Staff's order, at least four Muslim monuments in Ključ municipality, including the Atik mosque in the town of Ključ, were either completely destroyed or heavily damaged by fire and explosives set by Serb Forces during 1992.⁵³⁹⁶ (If the state organs undertook an investigating process, what the President has to do with it, since there was no evidence that he was against this process, and was strongly opposed to this kind of conduct.)

In light of the evidence described above and noting the pattern of destruction of the mosques in Ključ municipality, particularly the temporal proximity of the destruction of the Velagići-Pudin Han Mosque and the Biljani Mosque to the attacks by Serb Forces on those villages,⁵³⁹⁷ the Chamber finds that eight mosques in Ključ municipality were destroyed by Serb Forces between May and August 1992. (#Ad absurdum#! (1) Movement of the population from Ključ 1559. At a meeting on 20 May 1992, the ARK Crisis Staff adopted several conclusions which were later endorsed in Ključ,⁵³⁹⁸ including that there was “no reason for the population of any nationality to move out of the territory of the [ARK]”.⁵³⁹⁹ (#EXCULPATORY!!!#) However, one week later, the Ključ Crisis Staff established an Agency for the Reception and Removal of Refugees, (That was a two way process, “reception and departure”, meant that there was a #fluctuation of population!#) adopted a Decision on the Organisation of Departure from the Area of the Municipality, and decided that the National Defence Council would be responsible for organising departures from the municipality.⁵⁴⁰⁰ Over the next several days, during its meetings, the Ključ Crisis Staff considered the resettlement of the Bosnian Muslim population.⁵⁴⁰¹ (#Superiors rectify#! The P03431 is an excellent evidence of the authority’s endeavour to rectify all illegal matters that may happen in the municipality. Let us see: 2 June meeting:

- Intensify propaganda to make the public aware of the necessity for caution because of the outlaws who have not been caught yet.
- There have been requests for the resettlement of a certain number of people from Krasulje.
- The population is against paramilitary formations.

Certain individuals who have nothing to do with the armed forces of the Serbian Republic of BH have behaved badly.

Conclusions:

- Movement in villages, random taking of people into custody or mistreatment of innocent civilians are forbidden.
- House searches must be done in an organised manner.
- Those who take unauthorised action are subject to severe punishment. They will be put on trial, sentenced and sent to prison.

Now, let us see what had been an attitude of the municipal authorities next day:

1. Food rationing AD1 - The distribution of food is put under control.

Just for the allegations that the POWs didn’t receive enough food. Nobody received sufficient food. But, let us see the agenda pertaining to the movement of the population:

- AD4 - Reporting on the situation at the front;
 - Free movement allowed.
 - Uniform reporting;
 - The situation in Sanica;
 - The protection of Moslem villages;

This wasn’t aimed to the public, but had been the directives to the municipal services and departments. It is visible that the authorities had been aware of a problems, but neither the authorities ordered and managed this irregularities, nor remained blind! #Responsible conduct of officials#!)

1560. On the morning of 29 May, the Ključ Defence Command and Crisis Staff jointly issued an order for “all citizens of Muslim ethnicity, women, children, and men loyal to the Serbian Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina” to gather at various points in Ključ, including the football grounds in Ključ, the Social Centre in Šehići, the factory grounds in Hanlovska Vrelo, and the ŠIPAD warehouse in Ključ, by 11 a.m. that day.⁵⁴⁰² (#Who started#! The Chamber didn’t explicate what was its position towards this document (P3473), but it should be noticed that it was issued two days after the start of the attacks of the Muslim forces on Ključ, 27 may.

1561. The Ključ War Presidency adopted a decision pursuant to which “all citizens”, regardless of ethnicity, would be allowed to leave the municipality if they gave a statement to the relevant organ that they wished to do so.⁵⁴⁰³ People who wished to move out of the municipality were required to obtain permission to do so from the municipal authorities.⁵⁴⁰⁴ (#Obstacles to leave#! From this so far it is clear that it was a voluntary, since on the side of a person wanting to leave there was an obligation to do some moves in order to be allowed to leave!) Anyone who wished to leave was required to state that their departure was voluntary as well as permanent.⁵⁴⁰⁵ (#No permanent removal possible#! A “permanent” was illegal, and the President had already issued his decision that the refugees and abandoned property are temporary issues!) Moreover, those who owned real property were required to make a declaration renouncing that property by either exchanging it or placing it at the disposal of the municipality.⁵⁴⁰⁶ (#Legal and obligatory#! To put this aspect in the Judgment of this President is senseless. First, in a war conditions any municipality authorities were entitled to mobilize and require any property needed for the defence. Second, this President, once after learning about this kind of provisions of the local authorities had issued an order forbidding this kind of provisions and announcing all such a documents null and void, see: D101

3. Forcible resettlement and other illegal measures against the civilian population should be prevented, and any certificates of sale of property or statements that refugees will not return shall be considered as legally invalid and are declared null and void; his Order of the President of 19 August 1992 was carried out, and never and nowhere happened that somebody lost his #property#, or was #forbidden to return#! For at least a month, such housing was reassigned to Bosnian Serb refugees.⁵⁴⁰⁷ While these declarations were ostensibly made voluntarily, Asim Egrić testified that they were made under duress and that the people decided to relinquish their property in order to save their lives, irrespective of the words contained therein.⁵⁴⁰⁸ (#Ad absurdum#! Egrić further explained that despite what was stated on such declarations, in practice, property was forcefully confiscated before being disposed of by the administrative organ of Bosnian Serb Ključ municipality. Asim Egrić, T. 19933 (5 October 2011).

there was no any theat o matter what Egrlic said, the provision wasn't effective, ever or anywhere. Full stop. In accordance with the ARK decision of 4 August 1992, individuals leaving the ARK could take with them no more than 300 German marks.⁵⁴⁰⁹ (Lawful#! It had already been proven (in the case of Vlasenica) that there was a federal limitation for carrying a cash, while the legally possessed money issued with the banking documentation was not limited. This practice is usual in many countries, in peace as well as in war.

1562. The Accused contends that the renunciations and reassignments only pertained to temporary use, and not to ownership of such property.⁵⁴¹⁰ (That was corroborated by a several orders of the President, as well as by the practice!) The Chamber received evidence that the municipal authorities did not pass any decision which would have collectively converted abandoned properties into state property, and that no changes were made to the land registry books such as would indicate a permanent change in property ownership.⁵⁴¹¹ However, the Chamber notes that on 19 June, the ARK Crisis Staff took a decision that all “abandoned” property would be proclaimed property of the state and placed at the disposal of the municipal assemblies.⁵⁴¹² The Chamber is therefore satisfied that such real property was effectively seized by the Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs on a permanent basis. This is completely wrong inference! “A presumption of guilt.” To have some property “at the disposal of the municipal assemblies” was regulated by the domestic laws pertaining to the National defence, even if an owner was not in refuge, and this never pertained to any owner’s rights. Any abandoned property had to be maintained and given to use to the municipal authorities, which could give it further on a strictly temporary basis, and with the obligations to maintain it and return it in the same state. But, no matter what the ARK institution issued, the D101 annulled all of it on 19 August 92.

1563. Mass departures began to take place as of 1 June 1992.⁵⁴¹³ (#Context#! To put this into a context, just note that it happened more than eight weeks after the war started (in Bijeljina, B. Brod, Kupres and seven weeks after the war broke out in Sarajevo) but the civil peace couldn't survive the Muslim attacks commencing 27 May. Without the context it looks different, but the context is crucial. Why it didn't happen before the Muslim rebellion on 27 May? Because the Serbs didn't intend to wage a war, and in particular, didn't intend to expel anyone, or in any way spoil the lawful order. It is of a crucial importance to always have in mind that at the end of the war there were many Muslims in every single Serbian settlement where they have lived prior to the war. The difference between those who remained to live in the Serb surrounding and those who left is important, and didn't concern the Serbs, but those who wanted to leave. On 4 June, the President of the Ključ Crisis Staff made a statement indicating that all citizens who wished to leave Ključ permanently would be allowed to do so in an organised manner, assisted by international humanitarian organisations and the competent organs of the Ključ Municipal Assembly.⁵⁴¹⁴ Those who wished to leave were to report to the Civilian Protection Department of the Municipal Assembly or to the local committees in local communes.⁵⁴¹⁵ (#Obstacles to leave#! The authorities only facilitated leaving, but those who didn't want, didn't have to report and apply, therefore, they hadn't been expelled by the authorities, but by the events of the civil war. And every family which had their members in the Muslim Army have rather chosen to leave to the Muslim controlled territory!)

1564. A number of convoys of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats were first organised by the police prior to a convoy of approximately 1,000 people, the majority of whom included Bosnian Muslim women and children, leaving Ključ for Travnik in late July 1992.⁵⁴¹⁶ Very few able-bodied men left in this convoy.⁵⁴¹⁷

1565. On 11 September 1992, approximately 500 Bosnian Muslims were transported to Travnik.⁵⁴¹⁸ At least two other Travnik-bound convoys left in September, including one in which an over-crowded convoy transported 1,000 Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats, whose names were called prior to their boarding from a list of people who had paid a fare.⁵⁴¹⁹ At a meeting in September 1992, Jovo Banjac informed Mladić that only 5,000 Bosnian Muslims remained in Ključ as of the date of their meeting, and that another 1,500 left on the same day.⁵⁴²⁰

(#Voluntary leave#! This is another proof of the voluntary nature of leaving. So, having in mind that some of the Muslims had every opportunity to stay, or leave in an organised and satisfactory manner, and some had suffered arrests, detentions, mistreating and even killing, brings us to the question: what was a difference between the two groups? The later was composed of the people that participated in the hostile acts, while the Muslims who didn't, didn't have problems!)

1566. Approximately 2,500 Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats, the majority of whom were women, children and elderly, were also transported from Ključ towards Travnik on 1 October 1992.⁵⁴²¹ Bosnian Serb local police and the Bosnian Serb army were at the departure point with a list of those who had paid what was asked of them and signed over their property.⁵⁴²² Bosnian Serbs escorted the convoy to a location 25 kilometres away from Travnik, whereupon they demanded money and valuables from the passengers, who then walked to Travnik.⁵⁴²³

1567. Numerous Defence witnesses testified that many Bosnian Muslims remained in the municipality throughout the war.⁵⁴¹⁶ However, other evidence indicates that between May 1992 and January 1993, 4,154 of the 4,200 residents of Sanica, 3,429 of the 3,649 residents of Velagići, 2,655 of the 2,815 residents of Peći, 1,250 of the 1,732 residents of Humići, all of the 778 residents of Sokolovo, and all 24 residents of Gornji Ribnik left Ključ municipality.⁵⁴¹⁷ (All of those remote settlements were a real #armed strongholds# of the Muslim secret army, which started conflicts in the surroundings, and that is why the population felt insecure!) By 1995, only about 1,200 of Ključ's original 17,000 Bosnian Muslims remained.⁵⁴¹⁸

1568. Having considered the totality of the evidence and assessed the circumstances in which departures occurred, the Chamber finds that Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats were forced to leave Ključ. (#Ad absurdum#! By whom? Why the Muslims wanting to leave made meetings and a waiting lists, and payed a fee for transport? If they had been forced by circumstances, #no liability of the Serb officials#, if it was "somebody" , the Chamber should have addressed the responsibility, who or what forced them. If they had been forced by the events and the war, that is one thing, and if the authorities were responsible, it had to be proven, which was not!)

(A) Prijedor

(1) Charges

1569. Under Count 3, the Prosecution alleges that persecution, a crime against humanity, was committed in Prijedor as part of the objective to permanently remove Bosnian Muslims and/or Bosnian Croats from the Municipalities.⁵⁴¹⁹ Under Count 1, the Prosecution further alleges that in certain municipalities, including Prijedor, this persecutory campaign included or escalated to include conduct that manifested an intent to destroy in part the national, ethnical and/or religious groups of Bosnian Muslims and/or Bosnian Croats as such.⁵⁴²⁰
1570. Acts alleged to have been committed in Prijedor by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs include killings during and after the take-over;⁵⁴²¹ killings related to detention facilities;⁵⁴²² and killings committed during, and deaths resulting from, cruel and inhumane treatment at scheduled detention facilities.⁵⁴²³ The Prosecution characterises these acts as killing, an underlying act of genocide, under Count 1; persecution, a crime against humanity, under Count 3; extermination, a crime against humanity, under Count 4; murder, a crime against humanity, under Count 5; and murder, a violation of the laws or customs of war, under Count 6.⁵⁴²⁴
1571. Other acts alleged to have been committed in Prijedor by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs include torture, beatings, physical and psychological abuse, rape and other acts of sexual violence during and after the take-over and in scheduled detention facilities, as well as the establishment and perpetuation of inhumane living conditions in detention facilities, as cruel or inhumane treatment, an act of persecution under Count 3.⁵⁴²⁵ In relation to Count 1, the Prosecution alleges that in scheduled detention facilities in Prijedor, thousands of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats were subjected to cruel or inhumane treatment, including torture, physical and psychological abuse, rape, other acts of sexual violence, and beatings by the Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs; the Prosecution characterises this inhumane treatment as causing serious bodily or mental harm to members of the Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat groups, an underlying act of genocide.⁵⁴²⁶ In addition, under Count 1, the Prosecution alleges that members of the Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat groups were detained under conditions of life calculated to bring about physical destruction, namely through cruel and inhumane treatment, including torture, physical and psychological abuse, rape, other acts of sexual violence, inhumane living conditions, forced labour, and the failure to provide adequate accommodation, shelter, food, water, medical care, or hygienic sanitation facilities.⁵⁴²⁷
1572. Under Count 3, other acts of persecution alleged to have been committed in Prijedor by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs, include (i) forcible transfer or deportation of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats from their homes within Prijedor;⁵⁴²⁸ (ii) unlawful detention in scheduled detention facilities;⁵⁴²⁹ (iii) forced labour at the frontline and the use of Bosnian Muslims and

RECAPITULATION OF PRIJEDOR

ALL IN THIS RECAPITULATION IS FIRMLY PROVEN BY THE EVIDENCE IN THE FILE

- 1. Prijedor had over 112,000 inhabitants, closely balanced between the Serbs (+ Yugoslavs) and Muslims;
- 2. The area of Prijedor (Mt. Kozara and several cities and towns around it) had a heavy history in WWII. Many helpless civilians of the Serb ethnicity had been killed in the nearby concentration camp Jasenova, Gradi{ka and all over the area;
- 3. The interethnic relations and reconciliation had been managed by the Comunist authorities, since the majority of the Serbs and a substantial number of Muslims had been in the Tito's Army;
- 4. The relation drastically deteriorated already in 1990, before the first multiparty elections, partly because the SDA legitimized as a fundamentalist party, and partly because of the secessionist policy in Slovenia and Croatia. Still, the SDA kept claiming to be pro-yugoslav until one month after the elections. Already in January 1991 the SDA turned towards the secession, and immediately started to prepare for a war.
- 5. Dr. Mirsad Mujad`i} said in an interview with the Muslim media that the first efforts to establish a secret army (The Patriotic League) had been undertaken in January 1991, see: D1834 below!
- 6. This made the functioning of the common municipal authorities impossible, because the SDA – Muslim side didn't respect any agreement about ethnic-party distribution of the posts, particularly the sensitive ones, connected to security, smuggling of weaponry, illegal gatherings and organization of the secret armed groups;

7. This tricky and dishonest arrangement in the authority dramatically deteriorated as of September 1991, when the Patriotic League had been established in 98 municipalities and nine regions. While the Serbs (lawfully and obligatorily) responded to the JNA mobilisation calls, the Muslim side boycotted it and continued to strengthen the secret Army of Patriotic League, which additionally frightened the Serb population, which remained without any protection;
8. Still, there had been some peace and order all until 30th April 1992. The Serb side proposed an internal reorganisation of Prijedor, due to the Brussels model, i.e. formation of the two municipalities, one for each community. The SDA (Muslim side) initially accepted it, but reneged on it due to pressure of authorities from Sarajevo. On 30th April 1992, an order of the rump Presidency of BiH and the Muslim Minister of Interior, to the Muslim policemen and the Patriotic League in Prijedor to massively attack the JNA and the Serbs in Prijedor. Although there was a fierce war in Sarajevo, the Drina River Valley, the Neretva River Valley, Kupres, along Sava River, in Prijedor and surrounding municipalities there was a peace preserved, the hopes in peaceful solution disappeared after this telegram, and the Serb side enacted the Serb municipality of Prijedor, suggesting the Muslim side to do the same.
9. The Muslim-Croat side started to form their municipality, but soon gave it up, and opted for a war;
10. Because of a high mutual distrust, many concentrated settlements, both the Serb and Muslim, established the check-points at the outskirts of their neighbourhoods, but it was mutually tolerated, because it was a defensive, precautionary measure;
11. On 22nd May 92, on such a check point in Hambarine the Muslim crew fired at the car with six JNA reservists, three Serb and two Croats, killing two, heavily wounding two, and slightly wounding two;
12. The Army and Police came and demanded that the perpetrators surrender to the authorities, and the skirmishes developed in Hambarine, and soon after that, in Kozarac, another military stronghold of the Muslim extremists.
13. It had been a short lull until 30th May, when the Patriotic League and Green Berrets attacked Prijedor in five columns, and such the war started in Prijedor; During all the period of combats, all the Muslim civilians took refuge in Prijedor, under the Serb control;
14. The Muslim (and partly Croat) sides lost the battle, retreated to the surrounding hills and forests, digging the dug-outs for a long residing, or lived in the Muslim villages, organizing a terrorist actions on a daily basis, killing both the civilians, soldiers, policemen and a Serb officials;
15. Thus there appeared an urgent need for a larger detention unit, and the investigating centres had been formed in Keraterm and Omarska;
16. All together, there was brought in about 3,000 combatants and civilians caught in the zone of battles; The investigations had been conveyed every day, by the highest professionals available, which resulted in the release of 59% of the brought in, while

41% had been found responsible for the armed rebellion and the consequent casualties, and sent to Manjača, a regular POW prison, being treated as POWs, although they could have been treated as terrorists, which they had been indeed;

17. All of this “triage” was accomplished by early August 92. Out of around 50,000 Muslims in Prijedor, there had been suspected and brought in only 3,000 or around 5,5%, while only 1,400 of them had really been imprisoned as POWs, which makes around 2,8% of the non-Serb population. All of it is well documented, and can not be any discriminatin, let alone mass crimes, or a genocide;

18. Therefore, there is no a single attack on a village that wasn’t militarised. The municipality of Prijedor has 9 Croat villages and 39 Muslim cillages. Why all of those non-Serb villages were not attacked?

(1) Background

1574. Prijedor is a municipality in northwest BiH in the ARK and is surrounded by Bosanski Novi, Bosanska Dubica, Bosanski Gradiška, Banja Luka, and Sanski Most.⁵⁴³⁷ In 1991, the population of Prijedor was approximately 112,543, among whom 43.9% were Bosnian Muslims, 42.3% were Bosnian Serbs, and 5.6% were Bosnian Croats.⁵⁴³⁸ This is also a false fact “sui generis”: the rest of 8,2% were mainly the Serbs declared as Yugoslavs, and as such, voted for the leftist parties. In any case, they certainly were against the secession from Yugoslavia.

(a) Division of municipal structures and establishment of Bosnian Serb institutions

1. In 1990, multi-party elections were held in Prijedor, resulting in the SDA taking 30 of the 90 seats in the Municipal Assembly, the SDS taking 28 seats, the HDZ taking two seats, and the remaining seats going to smaller parties.⁵⁴⁴¹ Subsequently, and on the basis of a prior agreement between the national parties concerning the division of powers, it was agreed amongst the elected Assembly members that the SDA should nominate the president of the municipality and the SDS would nominate the vice president.⁵⁴⁴² The SDS would also nominate the president of the Executive Board and the SDA would nominate the vice president.⁵⁴⁴³
2. As a result, Muhamed Čehajić was nominated as President of the Prijedor Municipal Assembly, Milomir Stakić was nominated as the Vice President, and Milan Kovačević was nominated as President of the Executive Board.⁵⁴⁴⁴ There was disagreement between the SDS, SDA, and HDZ over other appointments to public office in Prijedor.⁵⁴⁴⁵ (#Not correct#, #not sufficient# the whole 1991 went out in a massive abuses of the common life and institutions. The SDA didn't respect any of the inter-party agreements, particularly those important for the matters of security. In 1991, SDS representatives proposed to other parties and local politicians that Prijedor be divided into two municipalities and that the municipal institutions be divided along ethnic lines.⁵⁴⁴⁶ (#Incorrect, #time shifting#! Presented as it is, it seems that the Serbs in Prijedor initiated a new conditions and worsened the relations, and this is not allowed. See how early the SDA leaders started with formation of a secret army (The Patriotic League) already in January 1991, a month after the coalition Government had been formed: D1834:

So, it is not correct that the SDA said to people the notorious words: “sleep tight, there will be no war”. That is simply not the truth, because we had warned people already at the beginning of 1991, that it was not avoidable, and that people had to start psychological and factual preparations for the defence.

See more below, at paragraph 1584! That is not the “whole truth” that the SDS proposed division of Prijedor in two municipalities, because that was proposed as a compromise over the independence, which was pursued by the SDA-HDZ (Muslim/Croat) coalition, and in order to avoid a war, the Serbs searched for a solution! In September 1991, the President intervened to replace the local SDS President in Prijedor, Srdo Srdić, with Simo Mišković, who promised to follow the policies of the SDS Main Board.⁵⁴⁴⁷ S. Srdic already was the president for over a year, and at the same time he was the president of the local Red Cross, which was incompatible, and he had to relinquish one of the posts! In December 1991, Mišković received the Variant A/B Instructions at a meeting of the SDS Main Board, over which the President presided.⁵⁴⁴⁸ No matter who created this document, it was not distributed during the meeting “presided by the President” but in some breaks. Mišković then conveyed the Variant A/B Instructions to the Prijedor SDS leadership.⁵⁴⁴⁹ On 7 January 1992, the SDS members left the Prijedor Municipal Assembly and formed their own assembly, proclaimed as the Assembly of the Serbian People of the Municipality of Prijedor (“Prijedor Serb Assembly”); Milomir Stakić was appointed as its President, and Milan Kovačević was appointed as President of the Executive Board.⁵⁴⁵⁰ (Missing the #context# is detrimental for the Defence position: already as of 19 December 1991 the situation in BiH was not regular, since the common rump Government illegally applied for the independence, in spite of the Serb opposition to that anti-constitutional move! The Conference in the Hague (ICFY) has already taken position that the ethnic communities in BiH will have a high degree of autonomy, and a sub-conference on Bosnia (Cutileiro-Carrington) was going on to this direction! # Due to the ICFY#! A Crisis

Staff, later renamed the War Presidency,⁵⁴⁵¹ was also formed by the SDS Municipal Board in line with the Variant A/B Instructions, to act as a 24 hour information and communication centre.⁵⁴⁵²

@@@ there is a correction by the expert@.

1576. On 17 January 1992, the Prijedor Serb Assembly unanimously voted to join the ARK.⁵⁴⁵³ Stakić, Mišković, Drljača, and Kovačević were elected as ARK Assembly representatives on 26 March 1992.⁵⁴⁵⁴ In February 1992, Mišković attended another meeting with the President in Sarajevo; at the meeting, the President ordered the implementation of stage two of the Variant A/B Instructions.⁵⁴⁵⁵ (#Due to ICFY#! That was done in the context of the Cutileiro-Carrington conference, since on 13 February it had finally been agreed that BiH will be transformed into three member-states!) Mišković later passed this instruction on to the SDS Municipal Board.⁵⁴⁵⁶

1577. On 16 April 1992, the Prijedor Serb Assembly elected individuals to different positions amongst whom were Boško Mandić, elected Deputy Chairman of the Executive Board, and Drljača, elected Chief of the SJB.⁵⁴⁵⁷ Drljača only assumed the position on 30 April 1992 once Prijedor was taken over.⁵⁴⁵⁸ On 23 April 1992, the SDS Municipal Board decided, inter alia, to reinforce the Crisis Staff, to subordinate “all units and staff in management posts” to the Crisis Staff, and “to immediately start working on the takeover, the co-ordination with JNA notwithstanding”.⁵⁴⁵⁹ Regardless of the absence of the President’s signature, (which means that we do not know whether the President Miskovic agreed with the wording of the record, let us see what was the letter and spirit of this document of 23 April 92: the first issue was whether the JNA will protect the people: D1830

1. To approach the garrison command and ask them if they were going to protect the Serbs in the event of a conflict or not;

The next was a threat to the JNA to withdraw the conscripts and reservists of the Serbian ethnicity, since the Muslims and Croats anyway didn’t join the JNA, and the Serb people would be exposed to a great danger:

6. Put the point across that - if ZELJAJA (JNA) does not declare that the JNA is indeed going to protect the Serbs, the SDS will call upon all Serbian soldiers to leave the JNA and take all their weapons;

(#Defense necessity#! So, it is misinterpreted: the Prijedor SDS was concerned for a defence, and had taken a precautionary measures, clarifying whether the JNA was to protect the people, or the people had to do by themselves. Since the municipal organs, in an absence of the state army, were sovereign in self-defence, all the decisions pertaining to the Territorial Defence were legal: the President of municipality was “ex officio” president of the Defence Board and the supreme commander of the TO!#Legal and obligatory#!) Up until 30 April 1992, the SDA and HDZ continued to engage in talks with the SDS.⁵⁴⁶⁰ On 30 April 1992, Stakić was appointed President of the Prijedor Municipality.⁵⁴⁶¹ At this time, the Prijedor SDS was regularly receiving instructions from the central SDS and the Prijedor Crisis Staff received and implemented decisions from the Bosnian Serb Assembly.⁵⁴⁶² (This is not entirely correct. Several of those documents allegedly received in the Prijedor SDS were forged, some of them had been sent to Prijedor before the war abruptly, and it was completely known that there was no a satisfactory connection between the Republican leadership and Prijedor. Not to forget that on 30 April the Muslim MUP sent an order to the Muslims in Prijedor to take over the municipality, and the Serbs intercepted it!)

1578. On 20 May 1992, the Prijedor Serb Assembly formally adopted a Prijedor Crisis Staff decision of 1 May 1992, which implemented the 26 April 1992 Instructions issued by the Bosnian Serb Government, reorganising the Prijedor Crisis Staff, and creating a unified command of Crisis Staff, TO, police, and military.⁵⁴⁶³ (#All legal and obligatory#! On the same day, the Prijedor Serb Assembly also appointed Stakić as President of the Crisis Staff and Dragan Savanović as Vice President; other members appointed to the Crisis Staff included Kovačević, Slobodan Kuruzović, Boško Mandić, Drljača, and Slavko Budimir.⁵⁴⁶⁴

When the mobilisation of conscripts to be sent to Croatia with the JNA started, many Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats chose not to respond to the call-up; this lack of response by non-Serbs resulted in Bosnian Serbs constituting the majority of JNA conscripts who went to fight in Croatia.⁵⁴⁶⁶ At the same time there was a rise in propaganda designed to instil fear among the population.⁵⁴⁶⁷ (#Illegal and criminal# to a void and sabotage mobilisation! was the same “repeator” - not two separate actions. The reason was in an illegal act of the official BiH TV, excluding the Yugoslav channels, and using the most dreadful anti-Serb propaganda. The Croatian and Sarajevo programs were available through other transmitters. #Far before VRS, the Serb authorities had nothing to do with this JNA legal move#!) Radio and TV broadcasts relayed propaganda and used derogatory names for non-Serbs.⁵⁴⁷⁰ Announcements were made on Radio Prijedor that Bosnian Muslim doctors were trying to reduce the birth rate among Serbs in that part of BiH, either by sterilising Serb women or giving pregnant Serb women injections so that they could only give birth to female children; these allegations caused great fear among the Serb population of Prijedor, and negatively impacted inter-ethnic relations in the municipality.⁵⁴⁷¹ Propaganda was also used to encourage Serbs to accept a policy of discrimination against non-Serbs; those Serbs who refused to comply with this policy of discrimination against non-Serbs were branded “traitors”.⁵⁴⁷² (#Deadly combination#! This is a shameless AF. Not true at all! All other only shows a state of mind in public, and this was created first in Sarajevo, by the Muslim Government! Particularly important: neither the Prosecution nor the Chamber felt any obligation to specify as whom they keep responsible for this propaganda! The Serb authorities?!?)

1580. Starting in 1991 and lasting until spring 1992, weapons were distributed in Prijedor from JNA storage facilities to Prijedor TO units and then to local communes.⁵⁴⁷³ (As it is said in this para, it was a JNA regular and legitimate job, because the JNA expected an attack as in Croatia.) Check-points were also established throughout the Prijedor area during this time.⁵⁴⁷⁴ (#Muslim criminal conduct#! Against JNA. Not specified by whom! That was done by the Muslim extremists, aimed to make obstacles to the JNA movement. Even Mr. Cehajic, the president of the Municipality, participated in this criminal activity!) By late 1991, Prijedor contained the largest concentration of former JNA weapons.⁵⁴⁷⁵ The weapons given to Bosnian Muslim communes were antiquated and were matched with the wrong type of ammunition, whereas Bosnian Serb communes were given more weapons which did not have these problems.⁵⁴⁷⁶ (#Legal and obligatory#! The Serb TO got the JNA armament not because of being Serbs, but because of being the JNA reserve. Why the JNA would arm it’s potential, or already declared enemies?) By late 1991, JNA military helicopters landed several times a day in Serb areas of Prijedor distributing weapons.⁵⁴⁷⁷ (#Deadly combination#! All the “adjudicated facts” from other cases. Had it been so, then the leadership of the Serb municipality of Prijedor wouldn’t in April 92 wonder whether the JNA will defend the Serbs or not! But, this Defence didn’t have a chance to challenge this and other hilarious “facts”!) In early 1992, the SDA Municipal Board received reports from people who saw JNA lorries with JNA soldiers distributing weapons in Serb villages, as well as reports of training groups run by the JNA for Serbs.⁵⁴⁷⁸ (All of that, even if true, was in the #JNA competence#, and was no a responsibility of the local Serbs. Why the JNA preferred the Serb villages? Simply, only the Serbs were friendly towards the JNA, and the JNA didn't expect this weapons to be pointed against its soldiers, but rather counted on the reservists of the Serb ethnicity to respond to its calls!)

1584. In August 1991, 300 to 400 Serbs from Prijedor and the Krajina region were sent to Podgradci for a secret, advanced police training course by instructors from Serbia under Captain Dragan.⁵⁴⁷⁹ Radoslav Brđanin, Stojan Župljanin, and Drljača visited the course.⁵⁴⁸⁰ (Let us see what made the JNA and the Krajina Serbs to have a trainings: already in January 1991, the very same month the common Government had been appointed, the SDA started preparations for a war against the JNA and Serbs in BiH! See what Dr. Mirsad Mujadžić said in an interview in the Muslim media, D1834:

So, it is not correct that the SDA said to people the notorious words: “sleep tight, there will be no war”. That is simply not the truth, because we had warned people already at the beginning of 1991, that it was not avoidable, and that people had to start psychological and factual preparations for the defence.

NO: Who were the participants on the first meetings back in 1991?

Mujadžić: On the first meeting, in the mid January in Kladusha, there were a president and two vice-presidents of the party and one MP candidate from the SDA list. From Bosanska Gradiska there was Senad Kubat, Fatima A, from Bosanska Dubica Junuz Hasic, president of the party, from Sanski Most there was a president and a vice-president of the party. So, the party leaders were gathered. We did not find a greater number of people who were aware of the situation, who would accept such an idea, which at that moment was still a heresy. The idea that the JNA was the army which will become the aggressor to Bosnia and Hercegovina and Bosniak people. At that time, in 1991, that idea was still a heresy. It was too liberal to say something like that, especially to start a broader discussion about that. So the gatherings had been organized in a narrower circle among the trustworthy people from the party. They were mostly party leaders, presidents, vice-presidents of parties, members of the republican parliament, from the whole of Bosnian Krajina. The next meeting was organized in March 1991, in Bosanska Krupa, in the premises of the SDA of Bosanska Krupa. After that, we had two or three meetings held in May, Juni and July in Cazin. One meeting was in Bosanska Dubica. And we had several meetings in Prijedor. One of the meetings was held in the premises of Mesdzida mosque in Charakovo. One in the SDA premises in Prijedor and the other in Mesdzidu because, you know, when the people come from a side, and there had been thirty to forty people gathered, that would become immediately visible.

That is how Sefer Halilovic came, I think it was at the beginning of September 1991 when he came to Prijedor, spent three days. During this time, we had talks on this regional level, on the level of Prijedor. He wanted to get acquainted with the situation, with the mood of people, and to see what in fact could have been done. Based on these information, and he had already spent some time before in a similar way in Cazin, a

Until that moment, many of the Muslims, in an arrangement of the SDA had already accomplished their illegal training in Croatia, started already in June 91. The Serb training was no illegal, while the Muslim training in the Croatian secessionist armed forces was an illegal, see D1518 above!)

1585. By the end of April 1992, a number of clandestine Serb police stations were created in Prijedor and more than 1,500 Serb policemen were mobilised.⁵⁴⁸¹ (#Context#, Time shifting#! What “clandestine Serb police stations”? The document quoted here is P05518, a report of the SJB Prijedor on 30 April 92. But, it can not and must not be skipped to point out that this happened after the Serbs in the police stations intercepted the dispatch from the Muslim Ministry of interior ordering the Muslim policemen to start the war against the JNA and the Serbs. How possibly this can be missed? This was the crucial event in Prijedor, which caused further mistrust among the communities. There is no a similar example, to pick up a fact out of context and present it as an illegal and unjustified act.)

1586. In early May 1992, the Prijedor Serb Assembly ordered mobilisation pursuant to orders from the ARK and the RS Defence Ministry, requiring all men liable for military service in the ARK to mobilise for the TO.⁵⁴⁸² (How this is unlawful?#Legal and obligatory#! Did this Chamber knew that there was the war started even in March 92, but generally throuout the BiH on 6 April 92?) On 22 May, the Crisis Staff ordered a further mobilisation pursuant to the 20 May 1992 SerBiH Presidency order, requiring conscripts to report to their war unit, and only Serbs were mobilised.⁵⁴⁸³ (Wrong and mean!# However, these documents (P03537, and P3919, the Karad'i}'s order) didn't say what is alleged in this paragraph! No mentioning of the ethnicity. Apart from that fact, the Serb authorities weren't specifying the ethnicity for an obvious reason: the war had the inter-ethnic nature, and they never forced the Muslims or Croats to respond to mobilisations, although accepting all who responded. So, in the Prijedor area there was many Croats joining the VRS, while much fewer Muslims, contrary to a neighbouring municipalities of Srbac, Derventa etc, where the Muslims joined the VRS massively!#Regardless of ethnicity!#. The JNA withdrew from BiH around 20 May 1992, a few days before the (the Muslim ATTACK! #OBSCURE#!Left like that, it is aimed to produce an impression that the Serbs attacked!) attack on Hambarine; however, according to Sejmenović, the JNA did not really withdraw, rather “[t]hey just changed their name” and “[t]he officers started calling themselves the Serb army”.⁵⁴⁸⁴ In fact, the number of troops increased in the Prijedor area after the JNA pulled out of BiH.⁵⁴⁸⁵ Radmilo Željaja, commander of the 43rd Motorised Brigade, which was later called the 343rd Motorised Brigade, fully co-operated with Drljača and the SJB during this period.⁵⁴⁸⁶ (So what? From where the Muslim Army (ABiH) and it's officers came? Also from the JNA! And much earlier than Zeljaja and others became the “Serb army”, the JNA Muslim officers formed a secret Muslim Army. A very few officers that hadn't been born in BiH remained in BiH, all others, 98% were the Bosnian Serbs, as same is in the ABiH.)

1587. A civilian police unit—later called the “intervention squad”—was formed in Prijedor in June 1992 by conscripting members of the civilian police in Prijedor; Captain Jović, head of the MP in Prijedor, placed Milutin Čađo in charge of its establishment.⁵⁴⁸⁷ The intervention squad was established by order of the Prijedor Crisis Staff.⁵⁴⁸⁸ It was headed by Miroslav Paras and was comprised of two squads; one of the squads was headed by Pero Čivčić and the other was headed by Dragoljub Gligić.⁵⁴⁸⁹ The duties of the intervention squad included the prevention and deterrence of crime, arresting and detaining individuals from Bosnian Muslim groups who were allegedly involved in the “attacks on Prijedor”

(1) Take-over of Prijedor town

1588. Prijedor town is located in the centre of Prijedor municipality.⁵⁴⁹³ The town of Prijedor itself had a mixed population, although the Stari Grad area in the centre of the town was a predominantly Bosnian Muslim neighbourhood.⁵⁴⁹⁴ There was an old mosque in the centre of Stari Grad, surrounded by a Muslim cemetery called Mezar.⁵⁴⁹⁵ The Municipal Assembly, the seat of the local government in Prijedor municipality, was located in the centre of town, as was the Executive Council and other executive bodies.⁵⁴⁹⁶

1589. In the beginning of April 1992, there was an increase in the number of armed Serbs in the streets and cafes in the town of Prijedor;⁵⁴⁹⁷ many of them wore JNA uniforms and insignia while others wore police uniforms.⁵⁴⁹⁸ (#Before VRS# JNA competence#! 1590. On 29 April 1992, the Prijedor SDS received a fax, which appeared to be from Alija Delimustafić and the BiH Presidency, ordering police stations in BiH to “commence operations” and secure the surrender of the JNA.⁵⁴⁹⁹ On 29 April, Mirsad Mujadžić, President of the SDA Municipal Board, was invited to meet with Colonel Arsić, of the 5th Corps of the JNA, and Mišković at the Prijedor barracks at Urije, where he was shown the fax; Mujadžić immediately believed it to be forged and conveyed this belief to Colonel Arsić and Mišković.⁵⁵⁰⁰ At dinner that

1. Carry out the full and massive blockade, along with the MUP, of all road intersections on the territory of the Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina, on which the units of the former JNA are beginning to withdraw technical and material assets.
2. Carry out the blockade of the wider region of military objects from which technical-material assets are attempted to be taken out of, with various methods of formational and natural barriers which should be secured for the units of the territorial defense of the Republic of BiH and MUP.
3. Unannounced convoys of units of the former JNA and those that are not escorted by the MUP should be prevented from leaving the barracks and communicating on the territory of the Republic of BiH.
4. Within the scope of the battle activities plan all encompassing measures of protecting the population and the material assets of the citizens of the Republic of BiH.

MINISTER OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS

Alija Delimustafic

This was a declaration of war, second after the Order for readiness of 12 April, against the JNA in withdrawal, and the Serbs in BiH! Could it be more clear? Had not the JNA and the Serb part of authorities took control over the Serb parts of Prijedor, already next morning there would be a carnage. Still, after this “decalation of war’ the Serb side recommended to the Muslim side to organise their municipality, see Stakić’s interview, P##) Defence witnesses have testified that on 23 April 1992, at a meeting of the Prijedor SDS Municipal Board, the SDS was still not certain how it would act in the event of a conflict, and that the take-over of Prijedor was an unplanned response to the fax from Alija Delimustafić.⁵⁵⁰² (#EXCULPATORY#! No criminal plan!#) The Chamber has considered the following evidence which confirms that the take-over of Prijedor was planned in advance of receiving the 29 April fax: (i) according to Mandić, the Prijedor SDS had organised themselves well in advance of receiving the fax on 29 April; (Organised, for what? which confirmed that the main concern of the Serbs was whether the JNA would protect the Serb population or not. Is there any evidence that the SDS was preparing for a “take-over”? NO! (ii) Kovačević stated on Radio Prijedor that well before 30 April, “it was all neatly prepared and done and we waited for the moment which we had set and then on [29 April 1992] at 0400 hrs [...] we did it” and that “it really went the way we had planned”; (iii) according to Sejmenović, the Prijedor SDS in fact “had well-laid plans” by 23 April; (#Defense necessities#! #Legal and obligatory#! How come the precautionary defensive measures are a crime? Was the Serb population supposed to wait and sustain a new genocide, as in WWII? other groups. Certainly, Prijedor was one of the best organized. In all of these municipalities the Serb community, sometimes a huge majority, had been aware of these preparations! It was inevitable, necessary, legal and obligatory to prepare for a defense!

(iv) Mišković considered the take-over of Prijedor town on 30 April 1992 to be part of the implementation of Variant B and that “preparations had to be made [...] in order to take over power”; and finally, (v) Dušan Janković testified that a decision was made on 16 April to install Drljača as Chief of the SJB on 30 April.⁵⁵⁰³

(#Serb parts only#! #Two municipalities – peace#! Why it would be equal as a plan to take the power? Before that, there was a flagrant violation of the inter-party Agreement on distribution of power, and both the chief of the SJB and the commander of the police were Muslims, which must not be? The Chamber also took judicial notice of the fact that the forcible take-over of the municipal authorities in Prijedor was prepared well in advance of 1 May 1992 and that a transmission by BiH leaders was used as a pre-text for the take-over of Prijedor municipality.⁵⁵⁰⁴

So, is it a presumption of the Chamber that the take-over would be carried out even if there was no such a dispatch by the BiH Presidency? Certainly, a war plans are always prepared “just in case” and that kind of planning was a lawful obligation, as Kapetina testified, and as it is prescribed in the law and sub-law documents. Would the Chamber appreciate the Serbs had they been naïve and not prepared, and therefore killed and butchered? No President would be entitled, or finally obeyed, if ordered something else. The Chamber therefore finds that the take-over of Prijedor was planned well in advance of 30 April 1992, and was not an unplanned act in response to threats to Bosnian Serbs in Prijedor.

(This is wrong conclusion. Even after the “take over” the Serbs counted only on the Serb part of Prijedor, offering the Muslim side to form their own municipality, which was accepted and started to realise. If it was not so, how the Muslims could erect so many barricades? No a Serb controlled Hambarine, Kozarac, Ljubija, “old town” and other predominantly Muslim or Croat settlements. According to the domestic Law on all-peoples Defence, as Kapetina testified (seeT41257-58: A First of all, I authored this manual, and as chief republic inspector, it was my duty to inspect together with other inspectors contingency plans, and through this manual I tried to help those who made such contingency plans in Bosnia-Herzegovina to make them more easily. And those who made such plans was everybody from local authorities, local communes, businesses, socio-political organisations, even associations of citizens. Each one had the obligation to develop a contingency plan, and I wanted this manual to facilitate their work and to teach them how to make these plans. On this page I tried to define contingencies using, of course, the provisions of the Law on All People's Defence A Yes, it was their legal obligation. All those who made contingency plans were legally obliged to do so in keeping with the Law on All People's Defence. Everybody had to develop a contingency plan for contingencies such as aggression, military aggression, or internal conflicts that involved the use of weapons. Q When you said a moment ago socio-political organisations were also an entity in the defence system, can you translate that into normal language? What are socio-political organisations? A I'll try. In the previous system it was the League of Communists, The Socialist Alliance of Working People, The Socialist Alliance of Youth, and in the multi-party system it was the political partie. T41267 A The plan for contingencies at municipal level contains an assessment of the political security situation in the municipality, then tasks, measures, and procedures, organisation, forces, and resources for the elimination of contingencies and measures of readiness.:s.. So, every single socio-political organisation was obliged to have it's own “war plans.” So, to have a war plan was an obligation, not a felony. Who can say with any integrity that there would be a take-over had the Muslim side hadn't planned to take over and capture the JNA? Nobody! And any inference of this Chamber towards a Serb felony is wrong, and would be as if the Chamber, and the laws, demand from the Serb politicians and military commanders to be disobedient to the laws, irresponsible to their people, and finally stupid above all limits. Nobody has any right to presume that kind of conduct in a situation of a war against the federal state, which was primarily defined by the ethnicities, and the war in other parts of BiH, with a high sufferings of the Serbs! Finally, all the Prosecution's allegations about a criminal meaning of Variant A/B was definitely rebutted by Mr. Kapetina, a long period official of the Ministry for Defense!)

1591. On 30 April 1992, a take-over of the town of Prijedor was organised by the Prijedor Serb Assembly and the Prijedor SDS and executed by JNA forces, including the 5th Kozara Brigade, and members of the Prijedor SJB and other clandestine Serb police stations.⁵⁵⁰⁵ Those "clandestine" police stations were called in this report (P02968) as a shadow stations:

and formation of shadow police stations and the arming and equipping of the personnel. In this manner, 13 police stations were established with a total staff of

And it was said why and in what circumstances it had been done:

In these circumstances, and at a time when ethnic maps were being drafted which were placing Prijedor in the Cazin Krajina, activities were launched to prepare for a take-over by force. These activities gained momentum in April, and the actual date of the take-over was forced upon us by the Presidency of the then Socialist Republic of BH, when they issued the order to attack military installations and Therefore, there was an imminent attack of the Cazin Krajina forces, (which was in an accord with the testimony of M. Mujadzic in this case, saying that their "strategic objective" was to take at least everything western of the Sana River, see T20659 Q. I have to go back to the interview again. Is it true that you very early on concluded that it -- it would be very hard to defend Prijedor and that your strategy was to defend the left bank of the Sana river in which a lot of Sanski Most and Bosanski Novi would not be part of the territory you would defend? A. That's correct. With a slight correction here, Mr. Karadzic. That was not my personal plan. That was a plan proposed by people who knew something about strategic defence preparations, who were experts in the area. I, as a political figure, accepted the reality of the situation given the fact that the potential ratio of forces was absolutely negative at our expense -- or, rather, in favour of the other so I accepted that to be the reality, although many in Prijedor and Kozarac did not come to terms with that very easily. But that was the reality.) and the Presidency of BiH Order to attack the JNA was a momentum to prevent a carnage, and it had been achieved without any firing. Of course, those who planned it and didn't succeed, like Sejmenovic, Mujadzic and other extremists, didn't like it, and testified in their interests, but the Chamber didn't notice their interest to lie. During the night between 29 and 30 April 1992, members of the SJB and reserve police stations, some of whom were wearing military uniforms, gathered in Ćirkin Polje, an area of Prijedor town.⁵⁵⁰⁶ Between 1 and 5 a.m., Serb Forces set-up patrols, sniper nests, machine-gun nests, sandbags, and check-points throughout Prijedor town in several locations; there was no resistance from the non-Serb population.⁵⁵⁰⁷ And there was no firing and casualties either.

1592. By the morning of 30 April, soldiers occupied all of the most important institutions and buildings in Prijedor, such as the Municipal Assembly building, the police station, medical centre, court building, bank, post office, and radio station.⁵⁵⁰⁸ (No doubt, it was a precautionary #measure of the JNA# because of the dispatch from the Ministry of Interior to attack the JNA and force it to surrender. Later that day, flags on municipal buildings in Prijedor town were also changed to Serb flags with the four Cyrillic letter “Cs”.⁵⁵⁰⁹ 1593. A declaration on the take-over prepared by the SDS was read out on Radio Prijedor the day after the take-over and was repeated throughout the day.⁵⁵¹⁰ That morning, a group of armed soldiers surrounded the Radio Prijedor building.⁵⁵¹¹ Stakić came to Radio Prijedor and was introduced to employees as the President of the Serb municipality of Prijedor.⁵⁵¹² (#Two municipalities – peace#! In all the cases where there was this “Serb municipality” it was understood that there will be the Muslim municipality too. That is why Banja Luka, Bijeljina and other municipalities without conditions to have more municipalities didn’t have this prefix “Serb municipality”). A press release was read out on-air, and Stakić was interviewed.⁵⁵¹³ During that interview, Stakić stated that he represented the Serb municipality of Prijedor, as its President, and that the leadership of the Serb municipality could no longer wait for an agreement with the SDA, which was the reason for the take-over of territory which rightly belonged to them. When Stakić was asked what would happen with the Bosnian Muslim residents of Prijedor, he stated: “We have nothing to do with them. On their portion of the municipal territory, they are free to organise themselves as they please, as they see fit and best for their interests.”⁵⁵¹⁴ Stakić mentioned several areas of the municipality that were considered to be Muslim, including Kozarac, Brdo, and the Stari Grad neighbourhood of Prijedor town.⁵⁵¹⁵ (#No “Take-over”, Serb territory only#! Then, how could it be concluded that the Serbs “took-over” the Prijedor municipality??? It couldn’t be more blatant and clear that the Serbs took control over the #Serb parts# of municipality only, leaving the Muslims as same opportunity, including the participation in the urban core of Prijedor: Stari Grad was a very core of the town, from the Turkish times, and in all such a cases there was envisaged that both ethnicities would have a part of the urban core, and a belonging villages with their majority. It is so common throuout the world. Why the Serbs wanted that? Because, even in a peace time, before the war, the Muslim side abused the common state institutions to subjugate the Serbs and to be able to arm their followers without a Serb insight, see P5528

of the now already former Bosnia and Herzegovina. The territory of our Municipality has not been spared these bloody conflicts and everything that preceded them. On the contrary, due to the fact that the SDA /Party of Democratic Action/ was in practice the ruling party in Prijedor and had control of all significant positions, from the SO /Municipal Assembly/ President, SJB /Public Security Station/ Chief, secretary to the Secretariat for National Defence and director of the Revenues Administration, a proper and fair division of power could not be achieved by agreement. In addition, extremists from the ranks of the SDA and HDZ /Croatian Democratic Union/ were preparing to take absolute power and engage in unprecedented terrorism against the Serbian population, which necessarily resulted in intensive and continuous preparations for a take-over of power by force which was carried out on 29 April 1992 without a single shot being fired and without bloodshed. The extremists from other national parties did not accept this situation. They prevented non-Serbian SJB employees from signing statements of loyalty and together with other strong paramilitary forces, they pushed them into a bloody and hopeless conflict. In these conditions, intensive activities were underway to create shadow

But, this interview is opposing to everything what the Prosecution alleges against the Serbs. It was clear that the Serbs in Prijedor wanted only to protect themselves by introducing their own municipal authorities, recommended the same to the Prijedor Muslims. How can be meditated any “ethnic cleansing”, while both communities would have their own municipal authorities, their own police, schools, economy, security? And the same was in all the municipalities where there was an incrise of misunderstandings and ethnic tensions.

1594. After the take-over, movement outside of Prijedor municipality was initially prohibited for both Serbs and non-Serbs, and later movement towards Prijedor town from non-Serb areas inside the municipality was also prohibited.⁵⁵¹⁶ (#Ad absurdum#! But, during the fights in Hambarine and Kozarac, the Muslim population from those settlements had been allowed to take shelter in the Serb controlled parts of the Prijedor urban area!)

1595. On 30 April, non-Serbs were refused entrance into their work places and other institutions and were dismissed from management positions.⁵⁵¹⁷ (#Wrong, out of context#! That was the most critical day in Prijedor, with a complete insecurity, and this measure probably was necessary, particularly for the Muslim extremists! All the Muslim policemen were welcome, provided they accept the Serb municipality, otherwise, they were to work in the Muslim police station!)

Nusreta Sivac, a Bosnian Muslim municipal court judge in Prijedor town, went to work on 30 April and found armed Serb military and paramilitary units at the court building.⁵⁵¹⁸ She tried to enter the building and one of the soldiers asked her name and informed her that she no longer worked there.⁵⁵¹⁹ The majority of Bosnian Muslim judges, prosecutors, and public attorneys were similarly dismissed in the first few days after the take-over and were replaced by Serbs.⁵⁵²⁰ Nusreta Sivac identified several Bosnian Muslim court officials who were dismissed and taken to Omarska camp where they were singled out as Bosnian Muslim intellectuals.⁵⁵²¹ (#Wrong in fact#! This is not true and didn't happen before the 30th May and attack on Prijedor, because prior to this massive attack there was no any detention facilities in Omarska, see P02640, which undoubtedly defines the date of the establishment of Omarska as a detention-investigation unit on

1. The industrial compound of the “Omarska” Mines strip mine shall serve as a provisional collection centre for persons captured in combat or detained on the grounds of the Security Services’ operational information.

Such a unilateral information is invalid, since we already know that there was no any arbitrary arrest or dismissals. The list of the final number of about 3,000 people arrested, 59% of them had been released, and about 1,400 kept as responsible for the attack and conveyed to Manjaca. So, out of 49,500 Muslims in Prijedor 1,400 were conveyed to Manjaca, which makes 2,28% of the Muslim population, and added the Croatian population it was even less. Does anybody asserts that there was no 2,3% of the Muslim extremists, while only those who attacked Prijedor throuout the war was more that 5,000? Only in the Kozarac area prior to the attack on Prijedor 30 May 92 there was a big unit of the “Green berets” up to 2,000, as can be seen from D1743:.....

Concerning the destruction of the “Green Berets” in the wider area of Kozarac village we submit the following report:

1. The armed conflict started on 25 May 1992 and ended on 27 May at 1300 hrs.
2. Participating in the armed conflict on our side were components of the 343rd Motorised Brigade (an enlarged motorised battalion), supported by two 105 mm howitzer batteries and one M-84 tank squadron.
3. The total strength of the “Green Berets” was 1,500 – 2,000 men without heavy weapons.

An the results of this skirmish was as notified in the same D1743, only on the VRS side, i.e. without the police casualties:.....

4. Overall results:

- The wider area of Kozarac village, i.e. the area of the villages of Kozaruša, Trnopolje, Donji Jakupovci, Gornji Jakupovci, Benkovac, Ratković /grid coordinate 830/ has been entirely freed of “Green Berets”;
 - 80 – 100 “Green Berets” were killed and about 1,500 captured;
 - part of the “Green Berets”(100-200 persons) at large on Mt. Kozara;
 - our own casualties are five killed and 20 wounded, and
 - minor damage (already repaired) on the track assembly of two M-84s.
- The B. Luka – Ivanjska – Kozarac – Prijedor – Bosanski Novi road and the wider area of Kozarac completely under the control of the 1st KK.

And this kind of situation so deep in the Serb territory is unbearable and could be detrimental. Those 1,500 that are captured were characterised by the Sivac group of witnesses as a civilians. Already at the beginning of May, a few days after 30 April, the Muslim extremists killed a Serb reserve policeman from behind, just like that, and a relative of the killed took revenge killing four Muslims just like that! What the authorities could have done about this development? “Milos” reported on this event, D1832:

The situation is difficult. Communications are down. A Serbian reserve police officer was killed from behind in Prijedor yesterday. Immediately after that, a relative of the killed policeman killed four Muslims.

1596. Non-Serb members of the police were disarmed and dismissed or forced to sign a statement of loyalty if they wanted to stay employed.⁵⁵²² This is not true, because, as seen from the Stakic interview, the Muslim community was advised to make their own municipality and all the structures, and a police stations as well, see.... Also, it is not true that anyone was “forced” to sign a statement of loyalty, it was completely free, and even there was a deadline postponed several times, and it pertained the Serbs also, see

After the take-over, all personnel of Croatian and Muslim ethnicity were summoned to interviews by the Chief of the SJB, and the option of signing declarations of allegiance to the Republika Srpska was explained to them. They were all given a reasonable time-limit, and in response to various requests - mostly from the police sections in Ljubija and Kozarac- this time-limit was extended twice. Additionally, interviews were also conducted with a number of Serbian members of the staff who had not been explicit enough in defining their future work engagement.

But, to 30 May majority of the Muslim policemen joined the rebels and fought against the Serb civilians, the VRS and the Serb police, see P02968 village of Jakupovići on 24 May 1992. The conflict escalated and the policemen of Muslim ethnicity became fully engaged on the Green Berets' side in the area of Kozarac, while many others who had been working in the town or in Ljubija and living in the areas populated primarily by non-Serbs, made their services available to the enemy, or returned the equipment and weapons they had been issued by this Public Security Station. Three police employees signed the declaration of allegiance:

: Non-Serb commanders in the police were replaced with Serbs—Drljača assumed the position of Chief of the (the Serb, not common SJB) Prijedor SJB to which he was elected two weeks prior, Dušan Janković became Commander of the Prijedor Police Station, and Željko Mejakić became squad commander of the police.⁵⁵²³ A few days after the take-over, most non-Serb teachers were also dismissed from schools.⁵⁵²⁴ (This is not correct, since there is a confusion about 30 April, when the Serbs took control over the Serb municipality only, and 30 May, when the Muslim/Croat forces attacked Prijedor with more than 5,000 combatants! After this attack, everything changed!)

1597. Also on 30 April, KDZ094 (92bis, who was KDZ094?) found that the vehicle he drove for work had been moved from the depot to the Urije headquarters of the company, where the main gate was closed, and an armed Serb guard in a green military uniform tried to search him for weapons, but he refused; KDZ094 then went home and did not return to work again, and neither did other non-Serbs who worked for the company.⁵⁵²⁵

1598. After the take-over, Atlija went to work at the Ljubija mines and his manager told him that the SDS had taken power in Prijedor and that he should go home; Atlija returned to his home town of Briševo.⁵⁵²⁶ He was told later that a Serb had moved into his apartment in Prijedor.⁵⁵²⁷ Furthermore, one day after the take-over, KDZ611 was stopped on his way to work at a check-point manned by armed Serbs in JNA uniforms; they forced all of the non-Serbs to get off the bus KDZ611 was on and told him that he should no longer report for work.⁵⁵²⁸ (Again, Rule 92bis, not cross-examined)

1599. For several days following the take-over, employees at Radio Prijedor were given several announcements to read out, such as one concerning a curfew imposed by the Serb authorities in Prijedor.⁵⁵²⁹ On one of these days, two Bosnian Muslim men, one of whom was Bećir Medunjanin, a local SDA leader, came to the radio station asking that an announcement be made that the people of Kozarac wished to live in peace and that there was no threat or danger coming from them.⁵⁵³⁰ However, soldiers inside the studio building prevented this announcement from being made on air, stating that police permission was required. When the men returned to the studio an hour later, they said that they had been denied permission by a police officer for the announcement to be made.⁵⁵³¹ Employees at Radio Prijedor were later fired pursuant to a decision of the ARK Crisis Staff.⁵⁵³² . (#A Muslim extremists#! Becir Medunjanin was a very extreme in his anti-Serb actions, (seeD1833, a Muslim document, which contains an evidence and names of all those “prominent” Muslim citizens as a prominent organizers of the rebellion! He prepared the entire rebellion and fights in Prijedor.

1600. On 22 June 1992, the ARK Crisis Staff issued a decision stating that all posts important for the functioning of the economy may only be held by “personnel of Serbian ethnicity”;⁵⁵³³ this was then forwarded by Župljanin to all SJBs for its immediate implementation within the ARK.⁵⁵³⁴

However, this was an obligation due to the #Law of Defence#. Remember Muhamed Ali of USA, how he was treated after the refusal to participate in a war thousands miles away from USA. Let us see what was said in a military document, P05405

The AR /Autonomous Region/ Bosnian Krajina Assembly has taken all possible measures to remove from important posts those persons who have failed to meet their obligations, who have boycotted all earlier mobilisations or unfairly treated the Krajina fighters - soldiers who have been fulfilling their patriotic duty since the very beginning and who went into battle sacrificing their lives and their human dignity. Most of the officials relieved of office are Muslims and Croats, but there are also some Serbian degenerates.

So, #regardless of ethnicity#, those who avoided to fulfil their obligations towards the defence of the country, couldn't keep a posts from which they could damage the interests of the country pertaining defence and security. And the Serbs who didn't fulfil their obligation were called “Serbian degenerates”. Not to justify or oppose, but simply this was the practice envisaged by the laws. #In no case it was the President's liability#! In July 1992, the Prijedor Crisis Staff and the Prijedor SJB reported that the ARK Crisis Staff decision was implemented in the municipality.⁵⁵³⁶ (This had nothing to do with the President, and was #in contrast to all the presidential orders# and all what he was stating and advocating. But, by that time there was many armed skirmishes between the Muslim irregulars and the police and VRS. As we can see from the next documents, the police had many casualties: D04414

The forces of the Serbian Army and Police are in control of the whole municipality. Search of residential and other buildings is underway with the purpose of finding and confiscating weapons, ammunitions, mines, and explosive mechanisms from the citizens who are not engaged in the units and formations of the army and police.

So, within these two days the Police in Prijedor sustained a number of casualties, although being far from the confrontation line, and deep in the Serb territory. At the same time, the police in Prijedor investigated and charged a Serb for blackmailing a Muslim, see D01925

Pursuant to Article 151, paragraph 6 of the Law on Criminal Procedure, we hereby submit

A CRIMINAL REPORT

AGAINST:

Zoran ŽIGIĆ, son of Nikola and Savka GRAHOVAC, born 20 September 1958 in Balte in the Prijedor municipality, permanently residing in Prijedor at M. Softića street number 10, a Serb, has completed military service, literate, with completed secondary education, unemployed, married, father of two children, according to Prijedor SJB /Public Security Station/ information has previously been convicted, a member of the Unit securing the Keraterm Temporary Prison in Prijedor, arrested for the duration of three days under a Prijedor SJB decision, number 11-12/02-1-JM-KM-KU-218/92 dated 1 July 1992.

The report is filed on the the reasonable grounds of suspicion that he committed the crime of receiving a bribe from Article 230, paragraph 1, 4 and 5 of the SR BH Criminal Code.

(a) House searches and surrender of weapons

1602. Following the take-over, there was a military presence on the streets of Prijedor town.⁵⁵³⁷

(#Legal and obligatory#! Shouldn't it be? There was a number of the groups of terrorists killing those people. According to our domestic laws, the police and the Army had to be on the streets, but our enemies objected it in front of this court, and obviously got a support for it's terrorism! The war was going on in the entire Bosnia, and finally came to Prijedor, what else could be expected but to protect the population?)

On 8 May 1992, Vahid Cerić, who worked for the TO, was arrested.⁵⁵³⁸ In accordance with a decision of the ARK government on 4 May 1992,⁵⁵³⁹ there were announcements on the radio that Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats had to hand in their weapons by a certain deadline, and that white flags should be hung from the front of houses as a sign of loyalty to the authorities.⁵⁵⁴⁰

(#EXCULPATORY#! A GB journalist Ed Wulliamy, certainly not pro-Serb, reported about it on 6 August 92, see D100:

But down the road are other Muslim villages intact, peasants calmly bringing in the hay. Every house hangs a white flag - a piece of sheet or pillowcase - from the roof or from a tree: it is a guarantee against Omarska or Trnopolje.

"These are the people who accept the Serbian republic," explains Maj. Milovan Milutonic from army headquarters in Banja Luka. "If they do that, we just leave them alone."

There are Croatian communities around Banja Luka too, exchanging their docility to the new order for a relatively quiet life.

This was the Prosecution's witness, but (inadvertently or not, maybe professionally) he gave a crucial evidence that rebut all the allegations about any discrimination on a religious basis! Also, he reported that the Muslim women and children had felt free to take shelter in Prijedor under the Serb control, while their men were a captured rebels, see the same D100:

As ever in this war, there are extraordinary elements that complicate any simple interpretation. Women flock into Prijedor, carrying their children, telling how their menfolk were rounded up and taken to Omarska, Kereter (And further, the same D100:

Back in the town of Prijedor, women line the pavement outside police headquarters, waiting for transit papers to leave the area. Some say their menfolk had been in Omarska for four months. Some of the inmates we were allowed to see had clearly not eaten properly for weeks or months.

And, also the same document discloses the real reason for the "detention of civilians":

"I was taken here from Rizvanovici, after the fighting started," says Azmir. "There was some shooting from the Muslim side, then the police came and took the people away, to clear the village of Muslims and to do the fighting."

The situation is, says Azmir, that he can leave only if his family arrives to claim him, or if he can produce some sort of guarantee or transit papers. "But how am I supposed to do that?"

Prominent non-Serbs in the community, amongst whom were Dr. Esad Sadiković and Dedo Crnalić, went around to houses of non-Serbs encouraging them to hand in any weapons that they had in order to avoid conflict.⁵⁵⁴¹ The Serb residents of Prijedor town were allowed to keep weapons and local Serbs were given weapons.⁵⁵⁴² (#The JNA competence#! All about the weapons was a JNA concern until 20 May 1992. Crnalic and Sadikovic were very famous for their extremism, and this is an afterwards (post festum) “make-up” by another Muslim extremist!)

1603. In addition, houses of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats were frequently searched and looted.⁵⁵⁴³ On 12 May 1992, two men from the CSB came to see Nusret Sivac, a journalist for Sarajevo TV, at his apartment and informed him they had orders to bring him to the CSB to meet with the chief, Ranko Mijić.⁵⁵⁴⁴ Mijić told Nusret Sivac that he had orders from the “new Serb authorities” and the Crisis Staff to seize all of his camera equipment.⁵⁵⁴⁵ They confiscated all of his equipment, including a large van equipped with cameras and his private tapes.⁵⁵⁴⁶ Nusret Sivac was held at the CSB for a while longer and then was allowed to go home after Mijić warned him not to leave Prijedor in case they needed to ask him further questions.⁵⁵⁴⁷ (#Legal police work#! We already know that Mr. Sivac was a suspect for a while, on the basis of what his followers said about him, but he wasn’t arrested immediately, on the first information about his conduct. When, later, after many Muslims mentioned him as an organizer of the armed rebellion, he was brought in and detained. But, let us see why the police in Prijedor was cautious about the activities of the Muslim extremists, see D01816, of 18 May 92

PRIJEDOR PUBLIC SECURITY STATION
No. 11-12-01-1-1975
Date: 18 May 1992

In reference to your dispatch, number and date of reference document, we wish to inform you that paramilitary units are present in the following areas of the Municipality of Prijedor:

- In the area of the Ljubija and Donja Ljubija local communities, a unit the size of a platoon, armed mostly with rifles and sniper rifles.
- In the area of the Rizvanovići, Hambarine and Biščani local communities, a unit the size of a company and armed with rifles, mortars and recoilless guns.
- In the area of the Carakovo local community, a unit the size of a platoon, armed mostly with rifles.
- In the area of the Kozarac and Kozaruša local communities, a unit the size of a company, armed with rifles and mortars.

We do not possess details on the quantity, origin or type of weapons, or the amount of ammunition. The above intelligence has been acquired by intelligence work on the ground, and we shall continue to gather and record further information.

And this was the situation in May, after the take-over of the Serb parts of municipality, and an offer to the Muslims to form their own municipality, which they initiated, but prolonged, expecting to take the whole municipality through the attack that took place on 30 May. In this situation, knowing only a bit of the organization and armament of the Muslim terrorist groups, (see the last para above) the Chamber presumes that the police didn’t have rights to search for the illegal armament!!! This is a unique example in history, and nobody has any right to do that.

1604. During May 1992, continuous references were made by Serbs on the police radio about destroying mosques and everything that belonged to the “balijas”, as well as the need to destroy the “balijas” themselves.⁵⁵⁴⁸ (Is this serious? What Adjudicated fact? When was it adjudicated? Was there any corroboration. Somebody may say anything allegedly being said on the “police radio” while nobody can check it. There is a big doubt about that, and apart from the factual matter, what does it have to do with the President what some may be irresponsibly chatting of the police radios? And how any Muslim adversary could have heard the police radios? However, many mosques had been #abused for a military purposes#. See what Mirsad Mujad`i} said in an interview in a Muslim journal, D1834: among the trustworthy people from the party. They were mostly party leaders, presidents, vice-presidents of parties, members of the republican parliament, from the whole of Bosnian Krajina. The next meeting was organized in March 1991, in Bosanska Krupa, in the premises of the SDA of Bosanska Krupa. After that, we had two or three meetings held in May, Juni and July in Cazin. One meeting was in Bosanska Dubica. And we had several meetings in Prijedor. One of the meetings was held in the premises of Mesdzida mosque in Charakovo. One in the SDA premises in Prijedor and the other in Mesdzidu because, you know, when the people come from a side, and there had been thirty to forty people gathered, that would become immediately visible.

So, mosques and Mesdzids are a pure religious facilities!

(a) Clashes in Prijedor town

1605. On 30 May 1992, a group of around 20 Bosnian Muslims led by Slavko Ećimović attacked Prijedor town.⁵⁵⁴⁹ (#Wrong in fact# Who said it was only 20 Bosnian Muslims? There were many of them, in a five columns, up to several hundreds of combatants, see evidence in the file, who were promised that the local Muslims, already in the town, would join them, see: evidence!) Announcements were made on the radio that Ećimović, a Bosnian Muslim who had been the target of threats by Serb police officers following the SDS take-over, was attacking Prijedor town in an attempt to “liberate” it.⁵⁵⁵⁰ (S. Ecimovic wasn’t a Muslim, but a Croat, who organised the Muslims and some Croats. He wasn’t any target of the Serbs, otherwise he would be taken in prior to this attack. He was simply hunting a glory, and probably was on line with the Croatian secret service, while the majority of the Prijedor Croats joined the VRS. Let us see what a Muslim, Dr. Mujadzic said about it, D1834:

whom there was not too much communication or cooperation. One exception to this was Kozarac. Kozarac was well self-organized and connected with the TO Staff, so they even had their own command on the level of Kozarac, and well functioning system. In the rest of the local communities the situation was not such, because people refused to have any kind of cooperation with the SDA. After the failure to establish any kind of close cooperation with the party, with the Patriotic League, a spontaneous activity had been established which, I think, started with one random incident with Slavko Ecimovic. In fact, his house was attacked by, I think Serbian forces. That was probably organized by KOS, because the KOS had some information that he was arming Croats, through Silvo Saric. I only know that during one conversation with Silvo Saric I got some signals that he could also provide some weapons to us by using the same line. However, Serbs have soon realized that, and carried out the attack on Ecimovic. He later retrieved to one abandoned house between Hambarine and Carakovo. Several man from Carakovo joined him there, from Zecovi, mainly people from the hills and a couple of them from Prijedor. That is how the very core was founded, at the beginning it was ten people.

I supported such activities, we gave our support to Slavko both political and support in weapons. Even though we did not have our weapons, we took the weaponry from the people we had information they had a rifle, and we thought they did not intend to use it in combat.

Stakić testified that early in the morning on 30 May 1992, gun-fire and shooting could be heard in Prijedor town and explosions around the MUP building. Milomir Stakić, T. 45232 (17 December 2013).

⁵⁵⁵⁰ Nusret Sivac, P3478 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Stakić), T. 6572–6573. See also P2630 (Transcript of broadcast of Radio Prijedor), p. 6. According to Nusreta Sivac, allegations on the radio stated that the small armed group of non-Serbs did not agree with Prijedor becoming a Serb town. Nusreta Sivac, T. 20398 (26 October 2011).

NO: What was happening at that time with “Kurevska group” of Slavko Ecimovic?

Mujadzic: They were having a training every day in the woods. Gymnastics, this, that. Slavko was a legionary, he knew things well, he was training people. That was one pretty well organized group, although immediately before the war they had only 40 people. If it had lasted, we had the idea that in time we would have transformed the school in Hambarine into the army barracks. And we would organize a bigger formation there.

So, in front of a substantial presence of the Serb community in Prijedor, Slavko E}imovi} formed another illegal armed unit and trained it in a school, and the Serb “police officers” knew that, and were after him, not because he was a Croat, but for being a criminal! Many Croats joined the VRS, as well as many secular Muslims!) According to Nusreta Sivac, however, the group was too small to successfully take-over the buildings belonging to the radio station, MUP, or other important institutions.⁵⁵⁵¹ (In spite of “beign too small” this group made a casualties on the side of the Serb police, but it wasn’t so small as alleged by these biased witnesses. Anyway, it doesn’t change the fact that they made an attack aimed to take control over the entire municipality, including the Serb parts, while the Serbs didn’t make such a move to take control over the Muslim/Croat parts of Prijedor.)

1606. Around 9 a.m., a Serb tank and troops moved from the area around the Municipal Assembly Building towards the Stari Grad neighbourhood of Prijedor town.⁵⁵⁵² Radical “Chetnik” songs also played on the radio calling for the killing of “Turks and other non-Serb people” and radio announcements called on all armed Serbs to defend the town and destroy the extremists.⁵⁵⁵³ (And this witness, Mr. N. Sivac, #known as an extremist#, is credible so that his allegations are taken for granted? What the soldiers were singing is irrelevant to the fact that this morning there were five columns of attackers on the Serb controlled parts of Prijedor! This kind of shifting the attention from the crucial facts to what had been sang is ridiculous!) Sometime that day, there was a confrontation between Ećimović and his group on one side and the Serb Forces on the other; Ećimović’s group ultimately retreated towards the Sana River, but Ećimović was captured.⁵⁵⁵⁴ After Ećimović’s group retreated, Serb Forces, with APCs, heavy artillery weapons, and tanks, encircled Prijedor town, section by section.⁵⁵⁵⁵ From the morning until the late afternoon, a tank and several grenade launchers fired at the old town of Prijedor from the bank of the Bereg, setting parts of the area ablaze for several hours.⁵⁵⁵⁶ At around 6 p.m. that day, Serb Forces set fire to the main mosque in the centre of Prijedor town, called the Čaršijska mosque.⁵⁵⁵⁷ The Zagrad mosque in Prijedor town was also burned and destroyed.⁵⁵⁵⁸ The majority of Stari Grad was destroyed or left in ruins during the attack; the mosque in Stari Grad was torn down by Serb Forces using tanks.⁵⁵⁵⁹ (#Abuses of civilian objects and settlements#! Old town was known as a stronghold for launching attacks on Prijedor, mosques as a storages and sniper nests! #Military necessity#! Did anyone establish whether it was a military necessity, or not? Why the Serbs didn't destroy the said mosques before the 30 May attack? We remember that the organisers of the attack promised to their combatants that they will be met by the "fifth column" in the city! From where these "fifth comuln" combatants could join them? From the Old Town (Stari Grad) and the mosques and other facilities where the Serbs didn't control anything for the sake of decency!)

1607. Throughout the day on 30 May, soldiers wearing red berets with red straps, and various different insignia, searched apartments, including that of Nusret Sivac, for weapons and alcohol and removed what they wanted.⁵⁵⁶⁰ Serb Forces also escorted columns of people, amongst whom were elderly people and children with white armbands; each column was led by a man carrying a white flag to different locations in Prijedor town, where buses arrived to take them to Trnopolje, Omarska, and Keraterm camps.⁵⁵⁶¹ Non-Serbs who remained outside the detention facilities were required to wear white armbands to distinguish themselves and were subjected to harassment and beatings.⁵⁵⁶² (#Contrary to evidence#! This is so nasty and so dishonest assertion. Gen. Talic ordered both, the Serb soldiers and the civilians out of combats, to mark themselves, so that they wouldn't be mixed up with the combatants, see fn. 5644, see...@... How it is possible that the Chamber didn't notice this evidence? What kind of charge is this assertion that the police searched a town that was attacked from five directions?)

1608. There was no large-scale fighting the following day, but there was intermittent shooting and explosions.⁵⁵⁶³ Serb Forces continued to loot the homes of non-Serbs in the days after the attack.⁵⁵⁶⁴⁽⁵⁵⁷¹⁾ Furthermore, soldiers wearing olive-green colour uniforms with the Serbian four "S" insignia and "kokarda" caps, formerly worn by the JNA, (#Insignias#! The JNA as a successor of the Tito's partizans would be the last one to wore cokardes, and the VRS also had been forbidden to have any ideological insignia, such as communict pentagram and royalist cocarda! Therefore, a lie, or a group out of the Serb authorities control!) stormed into houses and arrested people; non-Serbs in Prijedor town lived in fear of being attacked or taken away to Omarska and other camps.⁵⁵⁶⁵ The movement of non-Serbs was restricted by means of a curfew and check-points; (There was no any curfew on an ethnic basis! Since there was an armed rebellion with casualties, too far from any frontline, in any country in the world it would be considered as terrorism, and adequate measures would include a check-points and a curfew. There was no ethnic control, all the people in movement were controlled, but equally treated, and equally let pass if there was no weapons or explosives, see the evidence in file!) registers in apartment buildings were also used to record their movements.⁵⁵⁶⁶ The same as the above. There was no any visible difference between the Serbs, Croats and Muslims, so that it would be possible to notice who was who, see the evidence in file!#Regardless of ethnicity#!)

1609. In the days after the 30 May attack, Radio Prijedor broadcast reports stating that Serbs had taken over Prijedor town and were “controlling all power and authority” there.⁵⁵⁶⁷ Propaganda against non-Serbs later intensified on the radio, including appeals to Serbs to “lynch” all non-Serbs.⁵⁵⁶⁸ (#Military necessity# to “control Prijedor after the Muslim attack! Legal and obligatory#! But, about calls for “lynch” - this would be recorded and broadcasted throughout the world, had it been true. Those are horrible lies, nobody ever reported such a thing, and the courtroom had been turned into a theatre stage for the Muslim extremists to continue their war against the Serbs. How come the Chamber didn’t even mentioned that those assertions require further corroborations, as it did when the Serb witnesses were testifying? Second, this paragraph is in contrast to all the prior assertions of the Prosecution/Chamber that the Serbs took control over Prijedor on 30 April. The Defence position is that on 30 April the Serbs took control only over the Serb parts of municipality, offering the Muslim-Croat coalition to form their own municipality, see P5528, quoted in para 1594 of the Judgement! “When Stakić was asked what would happen with the Bosnian Muslim residents of Prijedor, he stated: “We have nothing to do with them. On their portion of the municipal territory, they are free to organise themselves as they please, as they see fit and best for their interests.”

1610. From 10 June 1992 on, Prijedor town was in a terrible state; there was no electricity or water and soldiers frequently searched apartments and evicted people from them.⁵⁵⁶⁹ (#Regardless of ethnicity#!) All of it pertained to the Serbs too. No ethnic electricity. The homes of non-Serbs were searched by the police and military, allegedly looking for weapons; however during those searches, valuables were taken.⁵⁵⁷⁰ Non-Serbs were evicted from their houses and apartments and Serbs moved in.⁵⁵⁷¹ Serb families were protected and lived a normal life; they went to work, shopped, and walked around town.⁵⁵⁷² Non-Serbs were taken away “in an unknown direction” and rumours started spreading about the existence of “concentration camps” in Prijedor municipality.⁵⁵⁷³ (It is miraculous how the witness being in prison have seen all of this that she testified? But, why it wasn’t implemented to all Muslims? Why only 2,3% of the Muslim population in Prijedor were of the interest of the security services? Or, if we discount the minors, (some 22% those below 16,) the percent would be slightly higher, but still significantly lower than if it was, as alleged, an ethnic discrimination.)

(4) Attacks on surrounding villages

1611. Prior to the 30 May attack on Prijedor town, Serb Forces had launched attacks on other villages and areas in Prijedor municipality, starting with the villages of Hambarine and Ljubija on 23 May, Kozarac on 24 May, and Kamičani on 26 May 1992.⁵⁵⁷⁴ (#Who attacked#! This is highly wrong! There is an overwhelming evidence that the Muslim side initiated all the attacks in Prijedor. It started with the Muslim ambush in Hambarine, where they had been keeping their barricades tolerated by the Serbs. On 22 May the group of Muslims on this barricade fired to a car with six reservists, killing two and badly wounding two of them. A Muslim policemen (Aliskovic) organised and participated in this killing, and in later denial to give the bodies of the killed soldiers, resisting the police search for the perpetrators. If this kind of shifting the facts is allowed, there will be no any justice in the future! Let us again see what is said in this document (P02968, and also P05405)

In these circumstances, and at a time when ethnic maps were being drafted which were placing Prijedor in the Cazin Krajina, activities were launched to prepare for a take-over by force. These activities gained momentum in April, and the actual date of the take-over was forced upon us by the Presidency of the then Socialist Republic of BH, when they issued the order to attack military installations and convoys. As a result, in the night between 29 and 30 April 1992, following very

Therefore, the other side was preparing an armed attack on Prijedor, with the aim to merge it with the Cazinska Krajina area. No doubt, the JNA intelligence found it out, and strengthened those who they could rely on, i.e. the Serb reservists and police. Let us see further, when and how the armed skirmishes started!. In the Judgment it was said as is in para 4, and presented as if the Serbs launched attacks against those villages, but in the document it is different:

In our Municipality, combat operations commenced on 22 May 1992.

Employees of this Station actively participated in these operations, primarily members of both the active and the reserve forces of the police. Combat activities were at their most intense in the areas of Kozarac, Kozaruša, Trnopolje, Kamičani, Rizvanovići, Bišćani, Hambarine, Zecovi, Čarakovo, Kurevo, Rajlaš, Ćela, and the town of Prijedor itself. Eleven policemen were killed in combat^x, and 25 were lightly or seriously wounded. After these operations, the policemen engaged in intensive

The killed and wounded 36 policemen, in the town that was far from the frontline, while the Prijedor conscripts and reservists were on the front, is nothing but a terrorism. Which country and police would tolerate this? But see how the combat commenced:

These activities were interrupted by the outbreak of conflict, which started on 22 May 1992, when Muslim extremists attacked five military conscripts in the village of Hambarine, and gained intensity when a military convoy was attacked in the village of Jakupovići on 24 May 1992. The conflict escalated and the policemen of Muslim ethnicity became fully engaged on the Green Berets' side in the area of Kozarac, while many others who had been working in the town or in Ljubija and living in the areas populated primarily by non-Serbs, made their services available to the enemy, or returned the equipment and weapons they had been issued by this Public Security Station. Three police employees signed the declaration of allegiance:

So, this had nothing to do with the alleged Serb attacks on the "surrounding villages." It is well known that the skirmishes had been initiated by the Muslim extremists, attacking the conscripts and convoys, just as S. Halilovic demanded, (see: D3904, p.1 war days till today is completely familiar to me. ) and as the BiH Presidency ordered on 29 April. No evidence that the Serbs wanted or initiated the armed conflict. The Chamber shouldn't mix it up and change the causes and consequences. Also, a Serb preparations for defence must not be treated as preparation for offensives and "taking over" of the non-Serb territories and settlements! But, let us see the Army report about those two days of fights in the “surrounding villages”, D1743:

Concerning the destruction of the “Green Berets” in the wider area of Kozarac village we submit the following report:

1. The armed conflict started on 25 May 1992 and ended on 27 May at 1300 hrs.
2. Participating in the armed conflict on our side were components of the 343rd Motorised Brigade (an enlarged motorised battalion), supported by two 105 mm howitzer batteries and one M-84 tank squadron.

3. The total strength of the “Green Berets” was 1,500 – 2,000 men without heavy weapons.

4. Overall results:

– The wider area of Kozarac village, i.e. the area of the villages of Kozaruša, Trnopolje, Donji Jakupovci, Gornji Jakupovci, Benkovac, Ratković /grid coordinate 830/ has been entirely freed of “Green Berets”;

– 80 – 100 “Green Berets” were killed and about 1,500 captured;

– part of the “Green Berets”(100-200 persons) at large on Mt. Kozara;

– our own casualties are five killed and 20 wounded, and

– minor damage (already repaired) on the track assembly of two M-84s.

The B. Luka – Ivanjska – Kozarac – Prijedor – Bosanski Novi road and the wider area of Kozarac completely under the control of the 1st KK.

There is no person with a military education that would not understand the #security necessity# of quitting such a huge presence of an armed enemies deep in the territory under the control of the regular army!)

(a) Kozarac area

1612. The area of Kozarac is located approximately 12 kilometres to the east of Prijedor town, with Kozarac town lying on the main road from Prijedor to Banja Luka, beneath Mount Kozara.⁵⁵⁷⁵ Before the events of 1992, Kozarac town and the surrounding villages were inhabited by Bosnian Serbs and Bosnian Muslims alike; however some of the villages in the area were almost entirely inhabited by Bosnian Muslims (such as Garibi, Kamičani, Kevljani, Babići, and Hrnići), and other villages had a majority Bosnian Serb population (such as Vidovići, Balte, Lamovita, Omarska, Jelicka, Maricka, Tomašica, Jaruge, Orlovći, and Garevći).⁵⁵⁷⁶ As of 1991, 27,000 people lived in the whole area and in Kozarac town alone, over 90% of the population was Bosnian Muslim; Bosnian Serbs comprised 3% of the population and there were very few Croats.⁵⁵⁷⁷

1613. Beginning in March 1992, tensions increased among the population in the Kozarac area and military troops and equipment were brought in by the JNA.⁵⁵⁷⁸ (Kozarac was full of the Muslim extremists, armed up to 1,500 long barrels and 3,000 combatants, and it was well known to the Chamber!

It has been determined that in addition to SDA leaders Mirza MUJADŽIĆ, Hilmija HOPOVAC, Muhamed ĆEHAJIĆ and Bećir MEDUNJANIN, a significant role in the organisation of police units and formations was played by former Prijedor SJB officers Hasan TALUNDŽIĆ and Fikret KADIRIĆ, who were in direct contact with the responsible people in the BH MUP and with Avdo HEBIB personally. In addition, it has been proven that the following persons were particularly to the fore in organising of military formations of the Muslim people in the Kozarac area: Sead ĆIRKIN, until recently an active-service JNA officer, and in the Ljubija and Hambarine area another former JNA Captain, Suad HALILOVIĆ.

Local Serbs in Kozarac began openly carrying weapons, which they had brought home from fighting in Croatia.⁵⁵⁷⁹ As a result of these tensions, in April 1992 in various locations in Kozarac, some joint check-points were supplemented with, and eventually replaced by, Serb check-points.⁵⁵⁸⁰ (#Who started#! It is already well known that the Muslim side made their check-points around all of their settlements. One of this check-points caused the first skirmish, in Hambarine on 22 May, when the Muslim policemen Aliskovic with the other members of the Green Berets fired against a car killing at least two, heavily wounding two and lightly wounding additional two conscripts. Such a unilaterally depicted events suggest the Serb responsibility, which is not correct.) By early May 1992, there was a Serb check-point at the main entrance to Kozarac and a tank was posted there.⁵⁵⁸¹

1614. In October 1991, the President of the local board of the SDA of Kozarac mobilised around 120 men for the TO in Kozarac.⁵⁵⁸² Beginning in the period before the take-over of Prijedor,⁵⁵⁸³ members of the TO, the Green Berets, and other armed Bosnian Muslim groups were active in the Kozarac area.⁵⁵⁸⁴ (#The Muslim paramilitaries#! That was not “before the take over of Prijedor”, this happened a half of a year before April 92, and seven months before the “take over”. All of this activities and preparations for the war against their Serb neighbours was entirely known to the secret services, and even to the ordinary people! Would the Serbs be expected not to take any precautionary measure? This secret and dangerous activity was led by the common state institutions, turned to be a private SDA services!)

1615. Immediately following the take-over of Prijedor, there were also efforts on the part of the local non-Serb population to organise themselves to defend their homes from the attacks they anticipated, but they were poorly armed and equipped with no artillery or heavy equipment.⁵⁵⁸⁵ Members of the TO patrolled Kozarac on night duty.⁵⁵⁸⁶ Other local Bosnian Muslims set up armed guard posts at various places around Kozarac.⁵⁵⁸⁷ In Javori, five to ten Bosnian Muslims, including Sead Ćirkin, a former JNA officer, participated in guard duty to protect the outer border of Kozarac; they were armed with hunting rifles.⁵⁵⁸⁸ This is a #“post-festum” explanation#. They didn’t have any need to form their secret units, what they did even in October 1991, but it was a task of Sefer Halilovic, to organize the Units in every single settlement, and which Halilovic achieved until September 91. However, this did have a detrimental impact on the common life. At the same time there was the war in Croatia, the Muslims went the same way and participated on the Croatian side against the common state of Yugoslavia and the Serbs. The forming of a massive secret Muslim army warned and scared the Serbs, and that was why they insisted to have the sensitive posts in the governments, police and other distributed as agreed, because the entire state apparatus was abused by the Muslims. But, if the Chamber found what it said in this para, then why it didn’t see the entire development in the light of those facts? Accepting those facts, everything looks like an axiomatic development towards a civil war, and not as a Serb criminal plan #No Serb officials responsible#!.

1616. After the take-over in Prijedor, the town of Kozarac was cut off.⁵⁵⁸⁹ On 22 May 1992, the telephone lines were disconnected and entry to and exit from the area, as well as medical supplies, were controlled.⁵⁵⁹⁰ (Again, a #shifting in the sequence of events#: this what is described here happened only after the Muslims killed the reservists in the vicinity of Kozarac, in Hambarine. If it is not said, then there is created a false picture, as if the Serbs took some measures without any reason. Why the Serbs didn't do that immediately after the war started, or at least on 6 April? No, all what happened – happened #after the Muslim attacks# and their activation of the secret units about which the Serbs, and particularly the JNA knew everything. This instilled a feeling of insecurity in the local residents.⁵⁵⁹¹ The local radio and television stations broadcast announcements that the local population and members of the police and TO should sign an oath of loyalty to the SDS (This is a #simple forger#y, nobody was expected to sign an oath of loyalty to the SDS, but obly to the authorities, as in any country!) and the authorities in Prijedor, including to Drlijača, Željaja, and Kovačević, and only upon such signature would members of the police and TO be allowed to keep their jobs.⁵⁵⁹² That is why the Defence insisted that the translation of a document about the oath was wrong: it wasn't any oath to the SDS, but to the Republika Srpska, and all the authorised public officials, regardless of the ethnicity, had to accept the Constitution and laws of the RS. See in D02968 that the Serbs too had been given some time to make up their mind whether they will continue their employment in the police, or go another way:

Additionally, interviews were also conducted with a number of Serbian members of the staff who had not been explicit enough in defining their future work engagement. Through these interviews, and talks with representatives of the local authorities and political leaders in areas populated mostly by Muslims and Croats, there was differentiation between certain staff who were willing to sign a declaration of allegiance, and on the other hand, a number of Serbian staff who were given a period of three or six months, to show what they can do and prove their worth in this new situation, which would secure their further engagement in the SJB.

∴ The majority of the population of Kozarac, however, refused to sign the oath.⁵⁵⁹³ Local non-Serb leaders, Ćirkin and Medunjanin, sought to negotiate with the new SDS authorities in Prijedor, amongst whom was Župljanin, and to reassure them that the population had no intention of attacking them.⁵⁵⁹⁴ (Why would the Serb authorities trust them, since they had been forming a secret army already well in advance, and finally attacked the Serbs? It was too late to trust them, or if they really didn't intend to attack, why they didn't surrender their weapons? What kind of responsibility would it be if a state authorities “trusted” potential enemies that they wouldn't attack, if they could do it? It is always essential that the enemy is not able to attack, not to depend on his good will, and a Center of Security Services (CSB) would make an unforgivable mistake to trust and armed group!) (The population was not asked to sign the outh, but only the state officials, even not all of them, but only those with the special authorisation. Remember, the Muslims/Croats could have continued to work in MUP without any outh, but not with a special authorisation to arrest, or shoot!) The local TO and police of Kozarac were ordered to surrender all of their weapons and if they did not, Kozarac would be attacked; the TO and police did not obey and the attack on Kozarac began shortly after the ultimatum expired.⁵⁵⁹⁵ (#After the Muslim attack only#! At one point the general political and security situation in Bosnian Krajina took on all the attributes of a civil war characterised by the aggressive posture of the Ustasha-Muslim armed formations. The present situation started after the energetic involvement of the SR /Serbian Republic/ BH Army. In the area of Ključ and Sanski Most, the Serbian forces are controlling the situation and blocking all Zelene beretke /Green Beret/ forces, while in the area of Mrkonjić Grad, enemy forces are not even attempting any hostile action. Following the attack on conscripts in the area of Hambarine village the SR BH Army Regional Command launched armed operations to mop-up the village, disarming all Green Beret members (about 320). At the same time, this command inflicted severe casualties on the Green Berets in the village of Kozarac, capturing in the process about 300 members of enemy formations and inflicting heavy casualties on the enemy. The area of Banja Luka and the town of (#Peaceful municipalities, two third of them!# Please notice that in Mrkonjic Grad “enemy forces not even attempting any hostile action”. As we all know, nothing bad happened to the Muslims and Croats in Mrkonjic Grad. Now, it is a time to aks whether the Chamber denies that there was a civil war, and that it had been wanted by the Muslim side and the Serb side didn’t, and that the Muslim side first attacked in every single Krajina municipality. If the Chamber denies this fact, then we have to find another court which wouldn’t be blind for a blatant facts. Let us see what the same document (P05405) said about the neighboring municipalities:

The political and security situation in the area of Bosanska Gradiška, Srbac, Laktaši and Prnjavor is favourable, and no individual incidents have been registered.

Any reasonable chamber would see all of it in a wider context, including the geography, and find out why nothing happened in those municipalities? As a Muslim witness said, the Serbs didn’t bother the Muslims in the areas and municipalities where they had been in majority, see Dr. Mujad`i’s testimony, T.29664 Q: Now, it will be difficult for me to identify the page, but perhaps 220 of Exhibit 3517, but I’m not absolutely certain. Now, on this page you talk about when happened in Prijedor. You provide some examples to point out that there were other places where these things did not happen. [As read] “[In English] At the same time, if you compare these with some other localities in Bosnian Krajina such as Sipovo which had a clear Serb majority and were only -- and were there only about 20 per cent of Bosniak, we see that there were almost no crimes committed in the area with the exception of several individual killings. The similar situation can be found in some other areas of Bosnian Krajina, that is the areas which had a Bosniak minority such as the town of Bosanska Dubica and some others.” [Interpretation] Would you agree that to this we could add also Gradiska, Srbac, Laktasi, even Prnjavor, and that in these municipalities other than the opportunistic killings there were no major problems? A. Yes, that’s correct. That’s what I said.”:.... That inevitably leads us to a conclusion that there was no any plan of eviction of the non-Serbs from the Serb areas. What would be easier than to evict them from the areas where they had been minority? Why it didn’t happen? At the same time, in those municipalities numbered in this document, including Mrkonjic Grad, the presidents of municipal Assemblies were at the same time the members of the SDS Main Board. Had the SDS had a plan that is alleged in the Indictment and accepted by the Chamber, such an alleged plan would be carried 1617. The Prosecution alleges that a number of people were killed in Kozarac and the surrounding areas between 24 May and June 1992.

1618. On 24 May 1992, Kozarac was attacked.⁵⁵⁹⁶ (This is an example how the events must not be presented! Kozarac would never be attacked, if there was no the Muslim attack in the neighbouring Hambarine on 22 May 1002, after which the perpetrators withdrew to Kozarac, and the leadership of Kozarac refused to hand them to the police, but instead reorganized and started to shoot to the police patrol.) Around 12 p.m., shells were fired from the direction of Mount Kozara in the north.⁵⁵⁹⁷ A column of military vehicles, mounted with heavy machine guns and anti-aircraft guns, advanced on Kozarac from the directions of Prijedor and Banja Luka.⁵⁵⁹⁸ The column was followed by infantry soldiers who fired towards the civilian areas in Kozarac, including on houses and religious buildings, as well as at the Bosnian Muslim manned check-points.⁵⁵⁹⁹ They were supported by artillery fire and shelling from the surrounding hills.⁵⁶⁰⁰ After the shelling started, the population of Kozarac town and the surrounding villages retreated towards the centre of Kozarac.⁵⁶⁰¹ (Is it a Prosecution position, or the Chamber accepted it?)

1619. Also on 24 May 1992, after inhabitants had been told to hand over their weapons, several shells were fired at the Bosnian Muslim inhabited hamlet of Garibi; Garibi was in Trnopolje, seven kilometres from Kozarac.⁵⁶⁰² At least four Bosnian Muslims from Garibi, including two women and an invalid elderly man, were killed during the attack.⁵⁶⁰³ (#Contrary to documents#! Following the attack on conscripts in the area of Hambarine village the SR BH Army Regional Command launched armed operations to mop-up the village, disarming all Green Beret members (about 320). At the same time, this command inflicted severe casualties on the Green Berets in the village of Kozarac, capturing in the process about 300 members of enemy formations and inflicting heavy casualties on the enemy. HVO forces around Kozarac, see: D02221

26.05.'92 21:00:00 /hours/ 25239

At 19.40 hours, the 5. K /5th Corps/ Command received a report that the HVO /Croatian Defence Council/ forces near Kozarac were routed and reduced to small groups that were moving towards Mrakovica, Vitlovska Kosa and Orahovo. The Command was requested to close the road leading to Orahovo and Bosanska Gradiška, and the road to Dubica is already closed.

But let us see what "Milos", a very critical and responsible high official of the State Security Service, reported about this events, D04421, of 29 May 92:

We have fairly reliable and verified reports that the main leaders of the extremist nationalist movement within the SDA /Party of Democratic Action/ in the Kozarac area in the Municipality of Prijedor are: Suljo KUSURAN, a.k.a Kole from Kozarac, Ramiz ČIRKIN from the hamlet of Mahovljani in Kozarac, Hilkan MEMIĆ and his brother called Puc, Besim ALIĆ, Bećo MEDUNJANIN, president of the SDA in Kozarac, Velida MAHMULJANIN, a teacher from Kozarac, Mujo REDŽIĆ, son of Dedo, his brothers Idriz and Dalija, Harem BEŠIĆ, and certain persons of Muslim nationality who have the following nicknames: Didin, Sutko, Šara, etc. Most of these persons were wearing camouflage uniforms and berets bearing the insignia of the Territorial Defence of Bosnia and Herzegovina. They were armed with automatic weapons and they acted and spoke and behaved in a way that encouraged the uniting of the Muslim People in this area and the organization of armed resistance to the members of the Army and the Territorial Defence of the Serbian Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina. They assumed the roles of leaders and potentates in the environment in which they lived. They verbally threatened loyal citizens of Muslim nationality and called anything that had to do with Serbs Chetnik. Suljo KUSURAN known as Kole was particularly short-tempered, and he said at assemblies of the local commune and citizens' meetings that he would kill anyone who recognized the newly formed organs of power in Prijedor as well as anyone who returned weapons. Since a According to our operative data, the following persons were involved in the organization of the SDA's military formations: Sejfo JAKUPOVIĆ, a former colonel in the JNA /Yugoslav People's Army/ who left the JNA of his own free will towards the end of 1991; Mirsad SELIMBEGOVIĆ, son of Raza, a former major in the JNA who left it of his own free will; Abaz PIDIĆ, a retired staff sergeant 1st class; Suljo BEŠIĆ, reserve captain 1st class; Emir SINANAGIĆ, an employee of the SJB /Public Security Station/ in Prijedor; Turkan ARNAUTOVIĆ, son of Munib, a retired JNA colonel; Vasko KULAŠIĆ and certain other persons whose identity we have not managed to discover yet. Certain data shows that these persons themselves organized the acquisition of arms for the needs of the SDA in the Kozarac area and elsewhere Intelligence indicated that about 1,000 long-barrelled weapons have been distributed to citizens of Muslim nationality in this area through the SDA and the Territorial

So, only in Kozarac there was 1,000 long-barrelled weapons and several Muslim officers that deserted the JNA in order to organise the rebellion. But, let us look at what "Milos" reported to the authorities, without any hesitation and with a certainty founded on his insight in the events in the terrain: D4421:

All in authority should consider the consequences of military action in Kozarac, since certain problems encountered by Prijedor Municipality are impossible to solve without wider support and understanding. Above all this concerns providing accommodation and food for citizens of Muslim nationality who have been retained, brought in or captured. Particular attention should also be paid to individuals and smaller groups from the ranks of the Territorial Defence of the Serbian Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina who treat citizens of Muslim nationality with extreme cruelty indiscriminately and without verifying whether they deserve such treatment. Individuals from these ranks are slaughtering and eliminating people at will and burning and plundering everything they can get their hands on. All this contains elements of anarchy that are not in the interest of the Serbian people, its dignity, its honourable history or the current organs of power.

We are under the impression that the regular units and commanding officers of the Army of Serbian Bosnia and Herzegovina are impotent to deal with these individuals and informal groups which are fighting on the side of the Serbian people for their own sake and profit. There is the serious danger that extremist individuals from our side may seize power and thus prevent the legal establishment of government.

(#Officials vs. crimes#! So, there was a crimes, but it was completely out of the control of the legal forces. The police had a data about a very heinous crimes against the non-Muslim citizens too, see D04220 and there was to be expected that there may be a personal revenges of the people who were armed and acted independently in a certain occasions. Let us see what the police did on this subject, P02968:

54 murders were recorded in 1992 in the Prijedor Municipality, including 7 committed by known perpetrators and 47 committed by unknown perpetrators. Out of the murders committed by unknown perpetrators, 8 murders were committed by Muslim extremists against Serbs, so that criminal reports were submitted for these crimes charging war crimes against civilians. Most of the other cases of murders committed by unknown perpetrators were murders of Muslims during the war or in combat areas. It was difficult to differentiate between the areas where combat operations were ongoing and where they were not.

(#Officials vs. crimes# There was no any cover up. A rate of killed: Serbs vs. Muslims: 8 : 39.) The local inhabitants of Garibi fled towards Sivći, Huskići, and other nearby villages.⁵⁶⁰⁴ In the evening, the other Muslim villages in the area, including Huskići, Kevljani, Hadžići, Jakupovići, Kamičani, Softići, Brdjani, Kozaruša, and Mujkanovići, were shelled.⁵⁶⁰⁵ #Abuse of civil settlements#! The village of Kozaruša was destroyed and only Serb houses remained, for the most part, untouched.⁵⁶⁰⁶ (Because nobody fired from the Serb houses towards the Serb Army! Since there was no any possibility to differentiate houses by ethnicity of owners, it is the only reasonable inference that the Serb Army fired only to the houses from which the Army was fired at! But, let us see what was the situation in those settlements on 18 May, prior to the Muslim attack on Hambarine, D1816:

In reference to your dispatch, number and date of reference document, we wish to inform you that paramilitary units are present in the following areas of the Municipality of Prijedor:

- In the area of the Ljubija and Donja Ljubija local communities, a unit the size of a platoon, armed mostly with rifles and sniper rifles.
- In the area of the Rizvanovići, Hambarine and Bišćani local communities, a unit the size of a company and armed with rifles, mortars and recoilless guns.
- In the area of the Čarakovo local community, a unit the size of a platoon, armed mostly with rifles.
- In the area of the Kozarac and Kozaruša local communities, a unit the size of a company, armed with rifles and mortars.

We do not possess details on the quantity, origin or type of weapons, or the amount of ammunition. The above intelligence has been acquired by intelligence work on the ground, and we shall continue to gather and record further information.

As confessed, it was not a complete information, while we know that there was up to 3,000 armed people only in Kozarac, and up to 5,000 of the #Muslim irregulars attacked#! Prijedor on 30 May 92!)

1620. The units involved in the attack on Kozarac and the operation following the attack included units of the 1st Krajina Corps, such as the Banja Luka Corps, the 343rd Motorised Brigade, and the 6th Krajina Brigade,⁵⁶⁰⁷ as well as units of the Prijedor TO, Serb paramilitaries, and members of

Since the Muslim armed forces weren't legal and legitimate, they could have been treated as terrorists, but they hadn't been. Any crime that happened was out of sight of the very immediate superiors. Many Muslims remained living in the center of Prijedor, without any problem. We have heard Mr. Akashi testifying that in 1994 there was so many Muslims in Prijedor, that the President was asked to allow up to 80 buses and trucks a day to transport the Prijedor Muslims to Croatia. Therefore, there can not be any talk about persecution on an ethnic basis, and everything depended on the Muslims and their will and conduct. The neighboring municipalities, as well as the Muslims remainins to live in all and every municipality in the RS are the first class evidence about that.

As far as it is concerned with Kozarac, see P05405, the military report depicting the action and reasons, as well as disarmament of 320 and capturing 300 Green Berets members. Even if accepted that the firing lasted for two or three days, a question "why" appears, and a response would be: the number of armed people was over three hundred, and they fought against the VRS. Which army in the world would be indifferent to a fact of having such a powerful group of terrorists behind it's backs?

1621. The Shelling and firing lasted for two to three days and caused panic amongst the local population.⁵⁶¹⁰ Houses and buildings in Kozarac and the surrounding villages were damaged by the shelling and shooting, and some were destroyed.⁵⁶¹¹ The Serb infantry soldiers also set houses on fire; in some areas, such as Jakupovići and Končari, entire villages were "razed".⁵⁶¹² Sejmenović witnessed the Serb infantry set fire to houses with people still inside; those who were able to escape said that special bombs were used to set the houses on fire in a second.⁵⁶¹³ (As it is well known, Sejmenovic was one of the leaders of rebellion, and therefore had every motive to lie and exaggerate! In contrast to his testimony, there are a "strictly confidential" reports of the VRS commanders. Also, "Milos" clearly differentiated the perpetrators of crimes from the legal forces, see: D: 4421

We are under the impression that the regular units and commanding officers of the Army of Serbian Bosnia and Herzegovina are impotent to deal with these individuals and informal groups which are fighting on the side of the Serbian people for their own sake and profit. There is the serious danger that extremist individuals from our side may seize power and thus prevent the legal establishment of government.

#Serb officials vs. crime#! Organised looting also occurred; looted property, including refrigerators and stoves, was collected in a large truck and every three or four days, the truck would take it all away to Kozarac and then come back for more.⁵⁶¹⁴ (However, a Prosecution witness, known as a very anti-Serb journalist Eduard Vulliamy, brought to us a different picture, see: P3788, p.6

But down the road are other Muslim villages intact, peasants calmly bringing in the hay. Every house hangs a white flag - a piece of sheet or pillowcase - from the roof or from a tree: it is a guarantee against Omarska or Trnopolje.

'These are the people who accept the Serbian republic,' explains Major Milovan Milutonic from Army HQ in Banja Luka. 'If they do that, we just leave them alone.'

There are Croatian communities around Banja Luka too, exchanging their docility to the new order for a relatively quiet life.

Therefore, all the Prosecutor's allegations about the Serb attacks on a non-Serb villages are rebutted by this article published on 7 August 1992. The only condition was: not to fire against the Serb civilians, the Police and the Army, and everyone could have lived peacefully! How possibly this evidence could skipped and neglected?)

1622. The majority of the Bosnian Muslim employees of the Kozarac police station were killed during the take-over of Kozarac; a small number was taken to Omarska and Keraterm.⁵⁶¹⁵ (The Muslim policemen from Kozarac were the main organisers and combatants of the rebel units, and all of those killed had been a combat casualties, while those captured alive were the POWs. No executions had been registered or reported!) However, the Chamber does not have sufficient evidence as to the circumstances surrounding the deaths of these policemen to make a finding on these killings.

1623. Arifagić was on guard duty in Javori during the attack and he saw six men killed as a result of the shelling.⁵⁶¹⁶ At least three individuals were killed in Duračci, a village outside of Trnopolje in the Kozarac area.⁵⁶¹⁷ However, the Chamber does not have sufficient evidence as to the circumstances surrounding the deaths of these three individuals, or as to their status at the time of their deaths, to make a finding on these killings.

1625. On 25 May 1992, Merdžanić decided to move the clinic to a location more accessible to the population on the outskirts of the town.⁵⁶²¹ When he tried to negotiate through a police radio in order to obtain the safe passage of the wounded, including two children, one of whom had her legs completely shattered, he was told over the radio: "Let all of you balija [...] die there. We'll kill you all anyway".⁵⁶²² (#An uncorroborated lie#! Who said that? Did he ask a contact with the commander? However, he anyway was enabled to move his clinic to Trnopolje. 1626. On the morning of 26 May 1992, the terms of surrender for the population of Kozarac were agreed upon, after which the shelling stopped.⁵⁶²³ (#Wrong, nobody demanded surrender of the population, but only of the armed formation that intermingled with the population. A convoy was organised to leave the town.⁵⁶²⁴ The wounded were allowed to leave first, followed by police officers, and then the remaining civilian population.⁵⁶²⁵ (It would be fair and would complete the truth if noticed that the wounded Muslim combatants had been housed in the Prijedor Medical Centre, under the Serb control. There is a book of admittance, depicting many Muslim patients!) A convoy of primarily Bosnian Muslim villagers formed and moved towards Kozarac town.⁵⁶²⁶ They travelled through Kozarac town, which was completely destroyed, and by the time they reached the intersection at the main Prijedor-Banja Luka road, their group had been augmented by many others moving in the same direction.⁵⁶²⁷

Stories in Trnopolje, more freely told than at Omarska, are brimful of the squalid violence and black absurdity of civil war. There is Sana, aged 13, who says: 'I was a fighter for the Muslims. They used to put us at the front when the fighting started. I was so scared that I ran away to the Serbian side of the village, to come here. I am still frightened, but I feel safer.'

What do we see here? The #Muslim irregulars in Prijedor mobilised a 13 years old boys# and put them in the first line. When such a boy is captures, it is depicted in the Prosecution arrangement as a civilian boy detained by the Serbs. But this boy escaped to the Serbs in order to reach Trnopolje! And the autor, Mr. Vulliamy would be the last one in the world to mitigate a picture of the Serbs! At the intersection, KDZ048 also saw at least ten dead bodies in police uniforms, one of whom he recognised as a local Bosnian Muslim police officer.⁵⁶²⁹ However, the Chamber does not have sufficient evidence as to the circumstances surrounding the deaths of these ten individuals during the attack on Kozarac to make a finding on these killings.

1628. At the same intersection, the men were separated from the women and children by Serb soldiers; the men were taken to Keraterm and Omarska primarily, though some were sent to Trnopolje, and the women and children were put on separate buses and taken to Trnopolje.⁵⁶³⁰

1629. After the convoy set off, Merdžanić and the other staff members of the clinic went back to the original location of the clinic to check if there were any wounded.⁵⁶³¹ When they arrived they were captured by Serb soldiers wearing camouflage uniforms, red berets, and armbands.⁵⁶³² (#Security reasons#! The armbands were ordered by the Command as security against a friendly fire, and both the Muslim and Serb civilians were recommended the same, while there is an intention to compare these bands with the Nazi bands for Jews, which is shameless!) After a few minutes, a JNA truck arrived and the soldiers loaded it with all the medical supplies of the clinic and the truck left; Merdžanić and the other staff were taken to the centre of Kozarac.⁵⁶³³ While in the centre, Merdžanić saw one of the soldiers single out Nihad Bahonjić, the ambulance driver from the Kozarac clinic, and take him away; it was confirmed later that Bahonjić was killed.⁵⁶³⁴ (How, where and when he was killed? Could he have been exchanged or released, and killed during combats?) Shortly after, the group was forced to enter a jeep and taken in the direction of Prijedor, where they were put on to a bus full of women and children and were transferred to Trnopolje.⁵⁶³⁵

1630. By 26 May 1992, most of the population of Kozarac had surrendered; however, those who had not surrendered, amongst whom were armed members of the Bosnian Muslim TO and SDA leaders, retreated to Mount Kozara.⁵⁶³⁶ See also D2221:

26.05.'92 21:00:00 /hours/ 25239

At 19.40 hours, the 5. K /5th Corps/ Command received a report that the HVO /Croatian Defence Council/ forces near Kozarac were routed and reduced to small groups that were moving towards Mrakovica, Vitlovska Kosa and Orahovo. The Command was requested to close the road leading to Orahovo and Bosanska Gradiška, and the road to Dubica is already closed.

One group, which included Arifagić, came under fire at a place called Zeciji Kamen and a fight ensued.⁵⁶³⁷ (Therefore, Arifagic was a combatant!)

1631. Another group of approximately 100 Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats from the Kevljani area was arrested by armed Bosnian Serbs wearing different kinds of uniforms; one man was shot dead after they found a Croatian passport on him.⁵⁶³⁸ (It is pity, but the Croatian Secret service was alleged to be involved in the rebellion organisation. This group was taken to the Benkovac training grounds, which had been used for military purposes before the conflict, but had been turned into a detention camp run by the military.⁵⁶³⁹ At the Benkovac training grounds, the detained group was ordered to line up in front of a building, and a Bosnian Serb soldier with the last name of Romanić singled out four individuals.⁵⁶⁴⁰ They were taken to one of the rooms inside the building and shot dead.⁵⁶⁴¹ The “hodža” was also beaten to death by the soldiers.⁵⁶⁴² In the course of the day, 60 individuals were taken to the woods in groups, from where bursts of gunfire could be heard; all of these individuals were killed.⁵⁶⁴³ (#Heard, not seen#! the Judgement, not even in the Indictment, since the Prosecution has an obligation to bring about the truth! If any of this was true, it would be unlawful, but what it has to do with this President? This is an argument against any civil war, not against this President! Have we forgotten that this President did everything to “avoid a war under any cost” see D1833, confirmed by the highest authority involved on behalf of the UN, US and Europe?)

1632. Arifagić was not captured with the group taken to Benkovac, but he stayed in the forest with a group of people who then made contact with Čirkin and Medunjanin.⁵⁶⁴⁴ (#Muslim extremists#! Cirkin and Medunjanin were the main organisers of the rebellion, but in the Indictment and unfortunately in the Judgement they had been mentioned as a civilians and conciliatory Muslim leaders!)

1633. Another group of approximately 35 to 40 people left Kozarac after the attack and moved towards Kozarački Kamen to reach the Sava River in order to cross over to Croatia.⁵⁶⁴⁵ After the group passed Kozarački Kamen, they were noticed by “uniformed reconnaissance men” who opened fire on them and a member of the group was killed.⁵⁶⁴⁶ The Chamber, however, does not have sufficient evidence as to the circumstances surrounding the death of this individual, or regarding his status at the time, to make a finding about this killing. The remainder of the group fled and returned to a suburb of Kozarac; they were later captured and brought to the Prijedor barracks on or around 9 June 1992.⁵⁶⁴⁷

1634. On 14 June 1992, Arifagić was captured by Serb soldiers at Mujkanovići, a village close to Trnopolje, where he had gone in the hope of seeing his mother.⁵⁶⁴⁸ He was in a group of about 40 men, who had all been captured at the same time and were ordered to march towards Kamičani.⁵⁶⁴⁹

(#Terrorist# It should be said that Mr Arifagic had been captured as a combatant, or a member of “diversant-terrorist group – DTG, which had been active in the region. Let us see what the Prosecution exhibit P3665 sais about that, on 17 June 1992:

The situation in the Prijedor, Kotor Varoš and Sanski Most areas is stable and under the control of our forces.

During the day, combat groups (newly formed out of the 30th pd /Infantry Division/ elements) have started mopping up the area of the villages around Jajce – Borci, Šebezi, Brda and Vlasinje.

Fragmented enemy groups in the areas of Prijedor, the Sana river valley and Jajce are still occasionally active.

A series of measures have been undertaken in units to prevent DTG activities and to control and secure the territory.

The refore, the diversant-terrorist groups had been present there, and the VRS units were entitled and obliged to neutralise them. The Serb soldiers were after them, not after civilians!) The men in the group were beaten and forced to sing “Serbian songs” along the way. Upon arriving at a check-point in Kamičani, they were further beaten and mistreated.⁵⁶⁵⁰ This group of men was then put on a bus from the “Prijedor Autotransport” company and they were taken to Omarska, and then on to Keraterm.⁵⁶⁵¹

1635. While the Chamber took judicial notice of two adjudicated facts which state that as a result of the shelling of Kozarac on 24 May 1992, over 800 of its inhabitants were killed,⁵⁶⁵² the Chamber cannot be satisfied beyond reasonable doubt as to the precise circumstances surrounding these deaths, nor about the status of these individuals in light of the other evidence before it. The Chamber is therefore unable to include these deaths in its findings on the killings for this Scheduled Incident. (Had it been so, the VRS “strictly confidential” report would mention it. However, the report, see: D1743, mentioned only 80 killed members of the Green Berets, and captured 1,500 combatants and probable suspects!)

1636. The Chamber also took judicial notice of the fact that at least 80 Bosnian Muslim civilians were killed when Bosnian Serb soldiers and police entered the villages of the Kozarac area.⁵⁶⁵³ The Chamber has made findings above in respect of approximately 80 individuals who were killed during the attack on Kozarac and the surrounding areas.⁵⁶⁵⁴ In addition, the Chamber received forensic evidence to support the deaths of some identified individuals from Kozarac and the surrounding areas between 24 May and June 1992.⁵⁶⁵⁵ (#Combatants, not civilians#! It is highly unlikely that this Adjudicated fact can survive. First of all, the first class evidence of the D1743, a contemporaneous and “strictly confidential report of the VRS 1st Krajina Corps, depicted exactly “80 to 100 Green Berets casualties”, see: D1743 once again:

Concerning the destruction of the “Green Berets” in the wider area of Kozarac village we submit the following report:

1. The armed conflict started on 25 May 1992 and ended on 27 May at 1300 hrs.
2. Participating in the armed conflict on our side were components of the 343rd Motorised Brigade (an enlarged motorised battalion), supported by two 105 mm howitzer batteries and one M-84 tank squadron.
3. The total strength of the “Green Berets” was 1,500 – 2,000 men without heavy weapons.

4. Overall results:

- The wider area of Kozarac village, i.e. the area of the villages of Kozaruša, Trnopolje, Donji Jakupovci, Gornji Jakupovci, Benkovac, Ratković /grid coordinate 830/ has been entirely freed of “Green Berets”;
- 80 – 100 “Green Berets” were killed and about 1,500 captured;
- part of the “Green Berets”(100-200 persons) at large on Mt. Kozara;
- our own casualties are five killed and 20 wounded, and
- minor damage (already repaired) on the track assembly of two M-84s.

The B. Luka – Ivanjska – Kozarac – Prijedor – Bosanski Novi road and the wider area of Kozarac completely under the control of the 1st KK.

Even due to the Tribunal Statute, this Adjudicated fact is not valid after admittance of this document. Had the Prosecution obtained the names of those “civilians”, the Defence would be able to compare this list with the ABiH record of combat casualties. Even if some civilians died, all of it happened during the military action against the terrorists and illegal armed forces that had been hiding behind the civilians. Also, almost all of the terrorists were in a civil clothings.

⁵⁶⁵² See Adjudicated Facts 1046 (stating inter alia that as a result of the shelling in Kozarac, over 800 of its inhabitants were killed and that the remainder, including those from surrounding Muslim villages, were expelled), 1057 (stating that: “On 27 May 1992 senior military officers met to be briefed on the attack on Kozarac: Lieutenant-General Talić, as Commander of the Banja Luka Corps, the 5th Corps of the old JNA, was informed that 800 people had been killed in the attack on Kozarac and an additional 1,200 had been captured; casualties on the part of the units of the Corps were four soldiers killed and fifteen injured.”).

⁵⁶⁵⁴ See paras. 1619, 1623–1624, 1629, 1631. See also D1743 (Report of 1st Krajina Corps Command, 27 May 1992) (reporting that between 25 and 27 May 1992, 80 to 100 Green Berets were killed and approximately 1,500 more were captured in Kozarac town and the surrounding villages).

⁵⁶⁵⁵ P4853 (Updated Table 2 to the Report of Amor Mašović), pp. 15–16, 20, 23 (confirming the deaths of 11 identified individuals from Kozarac and the surrounding areas who were exhumed from graves in Trnopolje-Redži, Huskići, Jakarina Kosa, Dera-Bešići, and Kamičani in 2000, 2001, 2003, 2006, 2007, 2009); P4888 (Bihać Cantonal Court record of Huskići-Kamičani and Prijedor exhumations, 16 June 2000), p. 3 (confirming the exhumation of two of the same individuals identified by Mašović, Enver Huskić and Šerif Huskić, in June 2000). The Chamber notes that there is a discrepancy between the forensic reports regarding the name of one of the victims of this Scheduled Incident. More specifically, Mašović contains a reference to Edhem Huskić, son of Sulejman born on 15 August 1929, while the Bihać Cantonal Court record contains a reference to Šerif Huskić, son of Sulejman born on 15 August 1929. The Chamber considers this inconsistency to be minor. Accordingly, the Chamber concludes that this is in fact the same individual. See also P4850 (Witness statement of Amor Mašović dated 23 March 2012), Annex A, p. 8; P646 (Excerpts from report on exhumations in Prijedor municipality, 28 August 2002), pp. 16, 19, 84, 113–114, 238 (under seal) (confirming the deaths of nine identified individuals, including eight of the same individuals identified by Mašović, as having been killed in Kozarac and the surrounding areas in May and June 1992).

So, none of those deaths was intentional, but rather collateral. And the full responsibility is on the Muslim illegal forces.)

1637. In light of the above, the Chamber is therefore satisfied that at least 80 Bosnian Muslims, including civilians, (#how many civilians, how the Chamber knew that?) were killed by Serb Forces in Kozarac and the surrounding areas between 24 May and June 1992. (#Combat casualties#! For the above reasons, and for a high and absolutely unjustified confidence of the Chamber in the Prosecution, this deliberation is invalid and wrong!)

(iii) Aftermath of the attack

1638. By 28 May 1992, 50% of Kozarac was destroyed, with the remaining damage occurring between June and August 1992.⁵⁶⁵⁶ By the end of summer 1992, the area of Kozarac was desolate; many of the buildings which had survived the attack undamaged were subsequently looted and destroyed.⁵⁶⁵⁷ (#No officials responsible#! Neither the Prosecution alleged, nor submitted any evidence that the local Serb authorities were responsible for these lootings. On the contrary, we have seen the “Milos’s report” on this issue, D:4421:

We are under the impression that the regular units and commanding officers of the Army of Serbian Bosnia and Herzegovina are impotent to deal with these individuals and informal groups which are fighting on the side of the Serbian people for their own sake and profit. There is the serious danger that extremist individuals from our side may seize power and thus prevent the legal establishment of government. #N o officials responsible#! Therefore, a looting after a fights was not tolerated or ordered by the authorities, but in such a situation, the legal forces were unable (impotent) to maintain the law and order!) During the attack on Kozarac, however, care was taken to try to avoid damage to Serb houses and property.⁵⁶⁵⁸ (However, another, #more reasonable inference# is that from the Serb houses and properties nobody fired against the Army, while the terrorists had been deployed in the Muslim houses and properties. It is well known that the local commanders of the JNA, and later of the VRS asked the inhabitants to mark their house windows by a white textile as a sign that they are not participating in the skirmish, so to be safe, see D3788, (Vulliamy) quoted in para 1621 above). After the take-over, Kozarac was occupied by Serb Forces under the control of the Serb authorities.⁵⁶⁵⁹

1639. In early June 1992, KDZ392 saw that the Mutnik mosque in Kozarac was burnt; it was later destroyed.⁵⁶⁶⁰ Unlike the mosque, the Serbian Orthodox church in Kozarac was not damaged during the attack.⁵⁶⁶¹ (#Abuse of religious objects#! The same inference, nobody fired towards the VRS from the Church, but usually a mosque minarets were used to deploy snipers, or machineguns, or even recoilless cannons.) When KDZ048 returned to Kozarac in 1997, none of the 16 mosques that had previously been there remained intact.⁵⁶⁶²

1640. During his journey on 5 August, Edward Vulliamy, a British journalist covering the conflict in BiH in 1992, was escorted by Major Milutinović, who told Vulliamy that the only remaining inhabitants

This had been written in afterwards, since we know that even in 1994 there were thousands of Muslims in Prijedor, for whose transfere to the third countries Mr. Akashi and many others intervned with the President to allow them to go. Even at the end of war in November 1995 there was about 2,000 non-Serbs, according to the Muslim sources, D4002. Why it was so easy to lie before this Chamber???) When KDZ048 returned in 1997, he found Serb refugees from Croatia living in his house.⁵⁶⁶⁴ (Therefore, it was not ruined, because probably he was not there to fire from his house! Had he used own house as a trench, it would be hit and ruined!)

(iii) Scheduled Incident A.10.3

1641. The Prosecution alleges that a number of people were killed in Kamičani on or about 26 May 1992.

1642. Kamičani is a village located approximately two kilometres to the southeast of Kozarac; in 1992, Kamičani was predominantly Bosnian Muslim with 2,000 to 3,000 inhabitants.⁵⁶⁶⁵

1643. Between 24 and 26 May 1992, Kamičani was shelled by Serb Forces.⁵⁶⁶⁶ Houses in Kamičani were damaged by the shelling.⁵⁶⁶⁷ Additionally, the mosque in Kamičani was set alight by Serb Forces.⁵⁶⁶⁸ During the attack, at least eight Bosnian Muslims took refuge [REDACTED]⁵⁶⁶⁹ in Kamičani.⁵⁶⁷⁰ (Unclear why it was redacted!!! 1649. Based on the above, the Chamber therefore finds that at least nine Bosnian Muslim men and women were killed by Serb Forces in the village of Kamičani on or about 26 May 1992. (#Combat casualties# Kami-ani was a #militarised settlement#, see the documents! But the Prosecution, and consequently the Chamber owe to us an evidence of the illegal and unlawful nature of this killings. It is undoubtably established that in these days there was a fighting initiated by the Muslim extremists deployed in those villages. Therefore, there is no a single attack on a village that wasn't militarised. The municipality of Prijedor has 9 Croat villages and 39 Muslim cillages. Why all of those non-Serb villages were not attacked? Without an answer on this question there is no valid inference in the Judgment so far. There was no attacks on the villages as a civil settlements, because in such a case all of the villages, or at least majority, would be attacked! It was also known that Kamicani, although small settlement, had a very prominent organiset of the rebellion, see: D1826, (Milos) an instructor and organiser of "Green Berets" in Kozaruša; Irfan BAHONJIĆ from Kamičani, president of the SDA, a PTT /post, telephone and telegraph/ technician by occupation, employed in the hospital in Prijedor; Hilmo HOPOVAC from Prijedor, (#Abuse of settlements#! (iii) Scheduled Incident A.10.4

1650. The Prosecution alleges that a number of men were killed in the village of Jaskići on or about 14 June 1992.

1651. Jaskići is a Bosnian Muslim village located to the south of Kozarac, near Trnopolje.⁵⁶⁸⁷ During the attack on Kozarac, Bosnian Muslim refugees from all over, including from Brdjani, Jakupovići, Kamičani, Kozaruša, and Bešići, travelled to Jaskići to seek shelter.⁵⁶⁸⁸

1652. On 14 June 1992, soldiers arrived in Jaskići between 2 and 3 p.m.⁵⁶⁸⁹ Senija Elkasović, a Bosnian Muslim woman, heard shots behind her house, two soldiers then came to the entrance of her house, pointed rifles through the front door, and ordered the women and children to step back and for the men to step forward.⁵⁶⁹⁰ Elkasović's husband, brother, and brother-in-law were taken from the house while one of the soldiers ordered Elkasović and eight other family members, all women and children, to lie down in the kitchen.⁵⁶⁹¹ Before lying down, she saw Duško Tadić, wearing a multi-coloured camouflage military uniform, standing in her yard.⁵⁶⁹² The soldier who remained in the house searched the house for money and jewellery, as well as for anyone hiding; he opened closets, emptied drawers, shouted threats and cursed their mothers and insulted them, saying that they would be sent to Turkey.⁵⁶⁹³ Elkasović heard voices and shouts coming from outside and then she heard shots.⁵⁶⁹⁴ The soldier left her house and Elkasović looked out of the window to see soldiers leaving towards Kozarac.⁵⁶⁹⁵

1654. Three days later, Elkasović, her father-in-law, and another man, Huse Jaskić, went to Trnopolje camp to ask permission to bury the bodies of the men killed in Jaskići.⁵⁶⁹⁹ They were told by soldiers guarding the camp to speak to Kuruzović; he then gave them permission.⁵⁷⁰⁰ They returned and buried the bodies in a common grave.⁵⁷⁰¹ Thereafter, soldiers came through Jaskići, and into Elkasović's home, on a daily basis, as they searched for cars, tractors, fuel, livestock, brandy, and other items.⁵⁷⁰²

1655. After 14 June 1992, only a small number of families and Huse Jaskić remained in Jaskići.⁵⁷⁰³ Elkasović stayed in Jaskići for another month and then she and her children were forced to leave by members of the police and were taken to Trnopolje camp.⁵⁷⁰⁴ (#Military necessity# why would the police bring civilians, guard and feed them without any reason? (a) Brdo area

1658. The area of Brdo is located to the southwest and west of Prijedor town and comprises the villages of Biščani, Rizvanovići, Rakovčani, Hambarine, Čarakovo, and Zecovi.⁵⁷⁰⁹ In 1992, the village of Hambarine was inhabited solely by Bosnian Muslims and was the highest elevation point in Brdo.⁵⁷¹⁰ The village of Biščani itself had a number of hamlets, namely Mrkalji, Hegići, Ravine, Sredići, Duratovići, and Kadići.⁵⁷¹¹ Prior to the conflict, Čarakovo was a predominantly Bosnian Muslim village with about 800 to 900 houses and Rizvanovići was a Bosnian Muslim village with one Croat.⁵⁷¹² The Brdo area was surrounded by predominantly Serb villages.⁵⁷¹³

1659. After the take-over of Prijedor, the village of Biščani was cut off; all of the Bosnian Muslims there were dismissed from their jobs, and they could not go into Prijedor town because of the check-points that had been set-up.⁵⁷¹⁴

1660. There was a check-point manned by Serb soldiers in camouflage uniforms in the village of Gomjenica, (Just to remind: Gomjenica was entirely Serbian settlement, and the ckech-point was aimed to control who was to enter the village, as same as in front of the Muslim settlements, which was never objected until the Muslim attacked in Hambarine on 22 May 92.) and another on the main road between Prijedor town and Sanski Most, in Tukovi.⁵⁷¹⁵ After 30 April 1992, Bosnian

Ja sam na Brdu jednom prilikom se vozio u autu sa Hilmom Hopovcem i Eminom i još jednim čovjekom. Nas četvorica smo bili zaustavljeni u Rizvanovićima. Bilo je to negdje krajem aprila. Dakle, zaustavljeni smo od grupe ljudi, izašli smo i pitali u čemu je problem. Onda su oni rekli: "Jesi li ti Mirza Mujadžić?"

“Šta ti hoćeš, što hoćeš ovuda, koje su ti namjere?”

NO: To se dešava u Rizvanovićima?

Mujadžić: U Rizvanovićima. Krajem aprila u naselju Dedići. Ja sam odgovorio: „Zašto momci? Pokušavamo da napravimo nešto, da se napravi neka organizacija, odbrana neka.“

“Slušaj ovđe nas niko nije dirao ni za vrijeme Drugog svjetskog rata, neće nas ni sada niko dirati. Nama ne trebaš ni ti ni bilo ko iz SDA da nas brani i da nas organizuje. This is a document admitted, an interview of M. Mujadzic pertaining to Rizvanovici, where the Muslims have chasen him out, because they estimated that he was doing very bad job, confronting the Muslims with the Serbs, who didn't touch the Muslims during the entire WWII. Here is a translation: *“Once in the Brdo area I was driving a car with Hilmo Hopovas and Emin and another man. Four of us had been stopped in Rizvanovići. I vas somewhere at the end of April. So, we had been stopped by a group of people, we went out and asked what was a problem. Then they said: “Are you Mirza Mujad`ić?” – “Yes, that’s me.” “What do you want, why you are wondering around, what do you want, what are your intentions?” NO: Had it happened in Rizvanovići? MUJAD`IJ: Yes, in Rizvanovići. by the end of April, in a hamlet of Dedići. I responded: “Why, guys? We are trying to achieve something, some organisation, some defense.” He said: “Listen to me, nobody touched us here during the World War Two, nobody will touch us now. We don’t need you, nor anyone from the SDA to defend us and to organize us. With such your activities and doings you are going to cause a war only, and the most clever would be not to come here ever. Both you and we will be more secure (and calm)” So, the Chamber never submitted any credible evidence that the Serbs ever attacked any non-Serb village without military reason. The war in Prijedor had already started, and a regular Muslim citizens were able to go to the city centre, provided they had been checked, as in any war zone!)

1662. 1663. On 22 May 1992, there was a shooting incident involving five to six Serb soldiers at a Bosnian Muslim check-point near Hambarine.⁵⁷²³ Later that day, Serb soldiers arrived in Hambarine in a tank and presented an ultimatum to the villagers, namely that Aziz Ališković and Ferid Sikirić, the Bosnian Muslim policemen believed to have been involved in the incident at the Hambarine check-point, should surrender, or the village would be attacked.⁵⁷²⁴ The tank fired four shells at the village that night.⁵⁷²⁵ (#Wrong presentation#! accurate presentation of this crucial event! There was a check-point in Hambarine for a quite some time, but nobody objected, because it was conceived as a precautionary and defensive measure. However, on 22 May the Muslims at the check-point acted by shooting at a car with the six reservists, four Serbs and two Croats, killing two, and heavily wounding two and lightly two. Aliskovic as a policeman prepared and carried out this crime together with others. And that was a beginning of the war in Prijedor. The Army was only after the perpetrators, as any army would be.)

(iii) Scheduled Incident A.10.2

1664. The Prosecution alleges that a number of people were killed in the Hambarine and Ljubija area between 23 May and 1 July 1992.

1665. On 23 May 1992, a broadcast was issued over Radio Prijedor calling for a number of identified people, including Aziz Alisković, to surrender and warning that all weapons in the possession of non-Serbs should be handed in to the authorities or Hambarine would be attacked.⁵⁷²⁶ (#Legal and obligatory#! Certainly, in the context of the killing of the soldiers on 22 May. The most proper move was to demand the perpetrators to surrender in order to be processed!)

1666. Around noon that day, Hambarine was shelled from different directions for several hours.⁵⁷²⁷ Ivo Atlija witnessed the attack on Hambarine from Briševo and saw two or three tanks firing at the town; he later saw smoke, houses burning, and a large number of soldiers moving around the village.⁵⁷²⁸ All of the houses in Hambarine were shelled and the old mosque in Hambarine was targeted and shelled.⁵⁷²⁹ (#Muslim military stronghold# in the middle of the Serb territory! Neither the Prosecution, nor the Chamber even mentioned whether somebody from Hambarine fired against the “Serb Forces”, since we see in the next para that they had a quite amount of weapons. For instance, there somebody fired from the mosque! This is not a valid presentation of facts!)

1667. After several hours of artillery shelling, armed Serb Forces entered the area supported by one or two tanks.⁵⁷³⁰ After a brief period of intermittent fighting, local Bosnian Muslim leaders collected any remaining weapons from villagers and surrendered these, as well as most of the weapons that had belonged to the TO and the local police force, to the Serb Forces.⁵⁷³¹

In his final brief, the Accused argues that Serbian forces were met with “strong resistance” in Hambarine when they attempted to dismantle the check-point there. See Defence Final Brief, para. 1547. However, the Chamber has received credible and mutually corroborative evidence that the fighting in Hambarine on 23 May 1992 was brief, and that the armament on the Bosnian Muslim side was poor. See Adjudicated Facts 1035, 1038, “intermittent fighting” a “remaining weapons surrendered”, there is no dilemma: the willage was #militarised# and reluctant to pacify. Many villages handed over only weapons out of order or very old, while they maintained the new one, and continued to act as terrorists. See D4257, of 27 May:

OFFICIAL NOTE

Of an interview conducted with Mehmed JAKUPOVIĆ, son of Sulejman and Rasima ne ALIĆ, born on 1 April 1944 in Kevljani, which is where he resides.

“A truck arrived, they stayed with me, they spent the night at my son’s, his name is Husein JAKUPOVIĆ.

Weapons, rifles, Zolja /hand-held rocket launchers/ and anti-tank barriers were stored in Mustafa’s and Asim’s basements. Iron anti-tank barriers were transported by “Kolini” from Kozarac; someone made them at the saw-mill.

The anti-tank barriers were set up before they came to stay the night.

Then follows a long list of weapons and “owners of it, among whome was one of Elkasovic’s, we remember a withes Elkasovic:

- Ibrahim ELKAZKOVIC’s son had a rifle grenade?”

And that was the result of searching houses and basements!)

1668. The units that took part in the 23 May attack on Hambarine included units of the 1st Krajina Corps, including the 6th Krajina Brigade and the 43rd Motorised Brigade,⁵⁷³² the Prijedor SJB, including the intervention squad, joined by members of Bosnian Serb paramilitary groups.⁵⁷³³

(#Incorrect#: the Intervention squad was not formed before 17 June 1992, and this may happen if the Prosecutor’s witnesses are trusted unreserved, see: D2039:

1669. During the attack, villagers fled south to the Kurevo woods,⁵⁷³⁴ some were pursued by tanks, which opened fire towards the woods.⁵⁷³⁵ KDZ092 testified that as she fled her home, she saw a lot of soldiers in multi-coloured uniforms, armed with automatic rifles, passing by and shooting at the villagers, accompanied by tanks firing at the houses.⁵⁷³⁶ She saw houses burning as a result.⁵⁷³⁷ In addition, at least 50 houses along the Hambarine-Prijedor road were damaged or destroyed by Serb Forces.⁵⁷³⁸ (#Deadly combination#! Rule 92 bis evidence!How to deal with this kind of evidence? A lady witness saw a battle, without knowing who the fighting side were, who fired at whom, and it is understood that only the Serbs fired. Why would the Serbs fire if there was no another, adversary armed force? Any living Serb is considered as a “Serb Force”.)

1670. No one in the group she was with was returning fire, although she conceded that some people had pistols.⁵⁷³⁹ KDZ092 also saw the dead body of a woman she knew lying at the entrance to her house with her head severed from her body, and the dead body of another woman she knew who was lying in the entrance to her house with blood surrounding her body.⁵⁷⁴⁰ KDZ092 further testified that her best friend’s husband and son were killed in Rizvanovići after having fled Hambarine during the attack.⁵⁷⁴¹ Her son’s throat was slit and her husband was shot and killed as he ran out of the house to his son; his wife buried both men in a shallow grave in Rizvanovići.⁵⁷⁴² (The entire content pertaining to the armed conflict in the Brdo area is based on a Rule 92bis and adjudicated facts, without any established connection between these events and the President, and without a cross examination! This issues demand an independent investigation, or at least a cross examination of such a detailed witness statements and testimonies! Doesn’t look like a fair trial!)

1671. Also on 23 May, about 400 refugees from the Hambarine area, mostly women, children, and elderly men, but also some young men, went to Briševo.⁵⁷⁴³ (#False# Those who went to Briševo were willing to fight, while many others went to the Prijedor City center, under the Serb control, which is a first class evidence that the Serbs were only against the armed Muslim combatants, not against the civilians!)

1672. On 24 May, KDZ092 and her family went to Ljubija, where they stayed until it was attacked.⁵⁷⁴⁴ During this period, Serb soldiers came and took some people away from Ljubija, including a former police officer who KDZ092 knew.⁵⁷⁴⁵ One day, very early in the morning, soldiers in camouflage uniforms came to the house where KDZ092 was staying and told the 38 occupants, all Bosnian Muslim men, women, and children, to go outside.⁵⁷⁴⁶ The men were separated from the women and children and the men were then taken away to the Ljubija stadium.⁵⁷⁴⁷ However, one of the men, [REDACTED], had a kidney condition and his family called an ambulance to take him to the hospital to receive treatment; a military ambulance with two soldiers took him and on the way home, the soldiers took him out of the ambulance and killed him.⁵⁷⁴⁸ The women and children were returned to the cellar, verbally abused, and robbed of their valuables.⁵⁷⁴⁹ (What any defence could do with such an assertion, with no any opportunity to challenge it? Nothing! There is no any document to corroborate this assertions!)

1673. During May and June 1992, announcements calling for weapons to be turned in and for certain individuals to surrender were made on Radio Prijedor.⁵⁷⁵⁰ In particular, the local population of Bišćani was instructed to hand in their weapons and any uniforms they had from previous reserve service in the army.⁵⁷⁵¹ They did as instructed.⁵⁷⁵² During the attacks on the villages in the Brdo area, Radio Prijedor broadcast that “an Ustasha fundamentalist stronghold” had fallen, and that it had been a great success of the Serb army.⁵⁷⁵³ (#Armed stronghold#, abuse of civil settlements#! Wasn’t the local authority entitled to disarm peacefully all that had been illegally armed? If there was no a complete disarmament, the fights were inevitable! To the end of the war there were dug-outs of the groups of Muslim terrorists that used to kill civilians, and occasionally to attack the Serb Army! There is a sufficient evidence on that!)

1674. During June 1992, Serb soldiers came to Čarakovo, demanding fuel, vehicles, and livestock, and looking for local men.⁵⁷⁵⁴ KDZ014 was aware that some of the local leaders in Čarakovo had a meeting with Serb officials around this time, but that they had not been able to agree on anything except that the Bosnian Muslims should put up white sheets or flags on their houses.⁵⁷⁵⁵ This they did.⁵⁷⁵⁶ (Again the Rule 92bis evidence, with no possibility for the cross examination! The white sheet on the houses was a voluntary signe that the VRS and the police may pass freely, because from this building there was not going to be firing against them. So, the main issue was whether the inhabitants will fire, or not. The OTP witness E. Wulliamy wrote about it, that he had seen the whole Muslim villages with those sheets, the people were freely working their agriculture, see D3788:

But down the road are other Muslim villages intact, peasants calmly bringing in the hay. Every house hangs a white flag - a piece of sheet or pillowcase - from the roof or from a tree: it is a guarantee against Omarska or Trnopolje.

'These are the people who accept the Serbian republic,' explains Major Milovan Milutonic from Army HQ in Banja Luka. 'If they do that, we just leave them alone.'

There are Croatian communities around Banja Luka too, exchanging their docility to the new order for a relatively quiet life.

And that was a minimum of security that the “Serb Forces” required: not to be fired at, and the citizens could have “a relatively quiet life”!) After the (Muslim) attack on Hambarine, life in the area, including in Bišćani, was difficult, as the Brdo area remained isolated. (#And who attacked in Hambarine#? Well known, the Muslim extremists, including some policemen!#

After the Muslim extremists had been defeated, many of them escaped in the Brdo area, as it is said in the Muslim documents!)

1675. On 9 June 1992, soldiers wearing drab olive uniforms and helmets arrived at a shop and café in Hambarine, which they looted and subsequently set on fire.⁵⁷⁵⁷ On 11 June 1992, KDZ074 took shelter in his cousin's garage nearby, along with members of his family, who were all unarmed civilians.⁵⁷⁵⁸

(Why KDZ074 had to hide, while many thousands of other Muslim males didn't have to? Were the policemen or the soldiers looking for him?)

He then departed with two male relatives, and subsequently was told by his mother that one of his brothers had been shot and killed in the garage by four Serb police officers; KDZ074's wife was also shot in the leg and wounded.⁵⁷⁵⁹ After the survivors escaped, the garage was then set on fire by one of the Serb police officers.⁵⁷⁶⁰ (#Deadly combination#!

Again, no possibility to challenge it. The main source of the Chamber is 92bis and A(djudicated) F(acts). Then, why to have any process after the first one, which may obtain 92 bis and Adjudicated facts? But, the Chamber didn't even mentioned any of a huge number of evidence, given by the Muslims, about the strength of the Muslim forces only in Prijedor. Let us see what had been said in D04417, a statement of the Muslim activist Sabahudin Jakupovic:

Captain ČIRKIN was in charge at the staff headquarters, he gave me a telephone number at which I called him, 31-522 in Barahovo. It was dug into a hill, it could fit five or six people, they installed a telephone, radio sets, typewriters, a table, two beds. Next to the staff headquarters there was a big tent; commanders came to the tent for meetings. There were tables in the tent. There were two houses higher up the hill.

Staff members:

1. Captain ČIRKIN
2. Besim ALIĆ
3. PARATUŠIĆ—Deputy
4. Bećir MEDUNJANIN aka Bećo

I went to the staff headquarters regularly. There I saw that 25-30 men came, the Company Commander, ten meetings.

The meeting was led by Captain ČIRKIN, and Besim ALIĆ and PARATUŠIĆ were present. The defence plan was discussed. They were talking about where the men should be deployed, where the combat lines were.

They had 3,000 men, and commanders pointed out the problem regarding inadequate weapons.

Note 3,000 combatants deep in the Serb territory. Any common sense, let alone a military expert, would recognize this as a formidable terrorist force deep into the rear of the Serb forces. The Defence didn't assume it would be contested, the Chamber didn't allow the Defense to present it, and neither the Prosecution, nor the Chamber had a personnel with military education and experience!)

In addition to the deaths of the six individuals confirmed by witnesses above,⁵⁷⁶¹ the Chamber also received forensic evidence to support the deaths of at least six additional victims who were killed in the areas of Hambarine and Ljubija between 23 May and 1 July 1992.⁵⁷⁶² However, the Chamber does not have sufficient evidence as to the circumstances surrounding the deaths of these six latter individuals to make a finding in this regard.

1676. Based on the above, the Chamber therefore finds that at least six Bosnian Muslims were killed by Serb Forces in the areas of Hambarine and Ljubija between 23 May and 1 July 1992.

(#Combatants, or civilians#! But neither for those six the Chamber had a sufficient evidence about how and why they had been killed. As of 22 May, after the Muslim attack on the car with reservists, there was a real war in Hambarine, Kozarac and surrounding settlements! There is no reliable evidence that these casualties were anything but the combat casualties. And if somebody had been hiding and when found tried to escape, there was an obvious reason to warn him, then to shoot, because there were the Muslim terrorist dug outs all around, all to the end of war!)

(iii) Scheduled Incident A.10.5

1677. The Prosecution alleges that a number of people were killed in the villages of the Brdo area between 1 and 23 July 1992.

1678. Beginning on 20 July 1992, Serb Forces, including units of the 1st Krajina Corps, such as the 6th Krajina Brigade, as well as the Reconnaissance and Sabotage Company and members of the intervention squad, attacked villages around the entire region of Brdo.⁵⁷⁶³ (the Brdo area and all of the villages had been a #military stronghold#, which is evident btoh from the Muslim anmd Serb documents! Why these attacks happened? How any chamber could leave this question without answer? It is the crucial element, to differentiate whether the attacks had been illegal and criminal, or militarily justified. Left as that, and in the light of the media campaign and denigration of the Serbs, unknown to the human history so fa, it is to be understood that the attacks had been illegal and criminal!)

1680. Karagić also saw a tank fire about 20 shells towards the mosque in Hambarine.⁵⁷⁷⁰ The mosque in Rajkovac was also shelled.⁵⁷⁷¹ According to Nasić, three young men were taken away from Rizvanovići in late July 1992; they were never seen again.⁵⁷⁷²

1682. The village of Čarakovo was attacked on 23 July 1992, after several demands that residents should hand in their weapons.⁵⁷⁷³ According to KDZ014, all rifles, pistols, and other weapons in Čarakovo were handed in by residents to Serb Forces by June 1992.⁵⁷⁷⁴ Based on the evidence before it, the Chamber finds that the TO and other Bosnian Muslim units were not active in Čarakovo at this time and that there was no armed resistance to the attack on the village by Serb Forces on 23 July. . (#Absurdity#! What does it mean? If the terrorists took a lull, it doesn't mean the regular security forces, Army and Police, should let them recover! But meantime? We know that the Muslim terrorists who escaped from Hambarine, Kozarac and other strongholds escaped to Brdo and it's villages, turning the houses into fortified objects, and making dug-outs for a long term, and this way presented a constant jeopardy to the Serb civilians, Army and police. See D04417,

Captain ČIRKIN was in charge at the staff headquarters, he gave me a telephone number at which I called him, 31-522 in Barahovo. It was dug into a hill, it could fit five or six people, they installed a telephone, radio sets, typewriters, a table, two beds. Next to the staff headquarters there was a big tent; commanders came to the tent for meetings. There were tables in the tent. There were two houses higher up the hill. Staff members:

1. Captain ČIRKIN
2. Besim ALIĆ
3. PARATUŠIĆ—Deputy
4. Bećir MEDUNJANIN aka Bećo

I went to the staff headquarters regularly. There I saw that 25-30 men came, the Company Commander, ten meetings.

The meeting was led by Captain ČIRKIN, and Besim ALIĆ and PARATUŠIĆ were present. The defence plan was discussed. They were talking about where the men should be deployed, where the combat lines were.

They had 3,000 men, and commanders pointed out the problem regarding inadequate weapons.

I know a machine-gun nest, towards Kozariša 3, towards Lamovita 3, there was no machine-gun nest up to Omarska, in Trnopolje in one location they set it up in Petrov Gaj /as printed/.

They were in contact with Ivanjska and expected help.

They maintained radio contact with Prijedor and Ivanjska.

The “Barahovo” in the second line is “Carakovo. There is no a reasonable and responsible authority which would neglect a 3,000 of enemies hidden in woods and dug-outs of Brdo and other hills around Prijedor! ...But, even if not active this very day, their mere existence deep into the Serbian territory, so far from the front line, was not acceptable, and it was completely legitimate to issue an ultimatum, and if rejected, to destroy the units. Let us see what is in the regular combat report of the 1st Krajina Corps of 28 July 92, D3094:

3. – The situation on the ground is characterised by the gradual capture and elimination of extremist groups in the Prijedor and Kotor Varoš areas.

This is what was going on, and no attacks against civilian settlements. The Prosecution obtained this document, and the Chamber saw it and admitted it. Why it was not evaluated?)

1683. That day, KDZ014 was hiding in a corn field, trying to get to her children in her house, when she heard the sounds of tanks and shooting and women and children screaming.⁵⁷⁷⁵ She saw houses burning and soldiers in camouflage uniforms moving through the woods nearby.⁵⁷⁷⁶ During the attack, Čarakovo suffered extensive damage and destruction and houses were looted.⁵⁷⁷⁷

1684. The mosque in Čarakovo, including the minaret, was destroyed by Serb soldiers on 23 July 1992, and 17 people, including the “hodža”, were killed outside.⁵⁷⁷⁸

1685. After the initial attack on Čarakovo, soldiers mistreated and killed some of the villagers.⁵⁷⁷⁹ (#Deadly combination# it is unbelievable that a serious chamber relies on such a “deadly combination, 92bis evidence, transcripts from other cases – see this footnote - and no cross examination, no number or names of victims, no perpetrators, no circumstances, only “some Serbs killed some Muslims”! What does it have to do with the President, since the Muslim side decided to wage the war against the Serbs in Prijedor, far from any front line? #Appart from the allegations about the fate of mosque, such a laconic and by-pass assertion about 17 men killed, without any specificity in terms of “combatants – civilians” is not fair, and should be dismissed immediately!) For instance, on or around 23 July 1992, Besim Musić was approached by Serb soldiers while he was shredding corn; they took him into a car, beat him, and then threw him out on the road.⁵⁷⁸⁰ The soldiers also shot around Musić, causing the bullets to rip skin on his head, arms, and legs, while not actually hitting him.⁵⁷⁸¹ Another villager told KDZ014 that Musić’s wife had been killed, along with another man, by soldiers who questioned them about the whereabouts of hideouts used by the Green Berets.⁵⁷⁸² (First, it is obvious that the Serb soldiers weren’t after civilians, but after #the Green Berets.# Second, no any investigation stands behind those assertions, only 92bis and AFs, and “somebody said to somebody about something”, which is unprecedented in the criminal practice. The Muslims who testified had every reason and motive to lie and invent the stories. Hoever, there is a document of the 1st KK pertaining to the treatment of the enemies: D04234, 7 June 92:

1. – During lulls in the fighting, agreed cease-fires, and similar situations, facilitate the /?clearance/ of the battlefield and the burial with religious rites of enemy soldiers who have been killed.

2. – Allow prisoners to receive food and cigarettes from their families, the Red Cross and Red Crescent, religious and other types of humanitarian organisations.

3. – Behave towards prisoners of war in a dignified way, act humanely, without violence, insults or intimidation. Provide them with accommodation, sustenance and, if sick, medical care, in accordance with the provisions of international war law.

Which was perfectly in accord with many orders issued by the President! The same day the SJB Prijedor filed the criminal report against 39 leaders of the armed Muslim terrorists, whose last names unbelievably resemble the last namer of several “key” witnesses in this case. See D04419

On reasonable grounds for suspicion that the persons reported committed the crime of armed rebellion (Article 124, paragraph 2 of paragraph one of the KZ RJ Republic of Yugoslavia penal code/ and the crime of attacking an officer on duty (pursuant to Article 193, paragraph one and two) of the same law (Article 206, paragraph 3 of Article 1 of the KZ RJ).

The first named Sejad ČIRKIN, the second-named Suljo KUSURAN and the third-named Sakib POLJAK organised and directly participated in the creation and illegal arming of paramilitary formations exclusively composed of Muslims and prevented them from being disarmed which had been requested by the legal organs of authority in order to organise an armed rebellion and overthrow the legal organs of authority through violent methods. With the objective of realising the above-mentioned goals they carried out a general mobilisation on 23 May 1992. On 24 May 1992, around 1430 hours in Jakupovići, on the Banja Luka–Prijedor main road they carried out an armed attack on an army convoy during which private Jova ZGONJANIN, son of Ranko, born 29 July 1968, residing in Prijedor, was killed and one soldier was wounded.

(Instead a “somebody something to somebody about something”, the Chamber had a contemporaneous and strictly confidential documents, obtained by the Prosecution. Why the Chamber payed more attention and credit to “hear-say” evidence, than to the first class documented evidence?)

1686. Also in Čarakovo, KDZ014 saw the dead bodies of Rubija Redžić, a local Bosnian Muslim woman, Fehim Karupović, a local Bosnian Muslim man, and her neighbour, Adem Hopovac. They were all unarmed, wearing civilian clothes, and had been shot.⁵⁷⁸³ (The families of Karupovic and Hopovac were very prominent in the rebellion, in all the relevant documents it was mentioned! But it didn’t mean they hadn’t an armament, but no army leave weaponry with a killed adversaries. It would be as if the wining army helps it’s adversaries in arming. For being in civilian cloathes, and not in a proper uniforms, only made them terrorists, provided they participated in any way in the rebellion!) In the swampy area known as Bare, between Zecovi and Čarakovo, KDZ014 also saw eight dead bodies of Bosnian Muslims in civilian clothes.⁵⁷⁸⁴ (How she knew they were Muslims? No racial or cultural differences in cloathing! No evidence which would exclude the Serb ethnicity of victims! Cloathes doesn’t make one civilian!) She and her brothers then collected and buried these bodies.⁵⁷⁸⁵ KDZ014 also assisted in burying the bodies of two Bosnian Muslim men found in a field on 24 July 1992.⁵⁷⁸⁶ On 27 July 1992, she saw the body of another Bosnian Muslim man as it was buried by his son.⁵⁷⁸⁷ (As we can see from D04234, the Command of the 1st KK ordered to be allowed to burry the bodies of the enemies. Had the Serbs been after the civilians, there wouldn’t be such an activities of civilians!)

1687. In the days following the attack, (#Unestablished, who attacked#! Neither the Prosecution, nor the Chamber ever established whose attack it was? Such a general and unprecise use of the term “attack” leaves an impression, certainly wanted by the Prosecution, that all of those skirmishes were the Serb “attacks”! The Chamber’s treatment of these activities, exactly as the Prosecution wanted it to be, skipped a “whole truth” and is not fair to the Serbs, and particularly to the President, who was both physically and operationally too far to be responsible fot that! The most significant is the fact that the “Serb Forces” posed an ultimatum for a disarmament, and handing over perpetrators of crimes!) KDZ014 and the other local residents sometimes slept in the woods and returned to their homes in the mornings to collect food; they were afraid that if they were found they would be killed.⁵⁷⁸⁸ (Why so many thousands of the Muslim civilians lived without any hiding, but only 1,400 had been conveyed to Manja~a and their related people had to hide? The three thousands brought in, 1,700 released and 1,400 detained at Manja~a hadn’t been killed! Those who had hiden had their own presumption, but they could have been killed only if found in a close vicinity of a men who fired against the VRS or police.) We have seen that the Muslim civilians from Hambarine and the Kozarac region didn't feel any fear to take shelter in the urban area of Prijedor, under the Serb control, or even the youngsters forcefully mobilized in the Muslim units didn't have any fear to run to the Serb side, see: P3788, p. 5, E. Wullianmy:

Stories in Trnopolje, more freely told than at Omarska, are brimful of the squalid violence and black absurdity of civil war. There is Sana, aged 13, who says: 'I was a fighter for the Muslims. They used to put us at the front when the fighting started. I was so scared that I ran away to the Serbian side of the village, to come here. I am still frightened, but I feel safer.'

Having the whole picture in mind, it must be clear that these witnesses that hadn't been cross examined could say whatever they wanted in the other cases, in which the Defences even didn't feel any need to rebut something that is not damaging for their defendants. And this is not a fair trial!

The Serb soldiers stole vehicles, farm machinery, money, and gold from the local residents in Čarakovo; household items were also stolen and loaded on to vehicles.⁵⁷⁸⁹

92bis!!!, no chance to do anything. No names, no cross. KDZ014 also saw men, women, and children from the area being forced on to buses by Serb soldiers and driven away. Other groups of villagers left on foot in the days after the attack; KDZ014 did not know where buses or groups of villagers were going.⁵⁷⁹⁰

1. In late July 1992, KDZ014 decided to leave Čarakovo; she and approximately 100 other people, primarily women, children, and elderly, assembled and went to the village "dom" carrying a white flag; they were kept there for three hours and verbally abused by Serb soldiers.⁵⁷⁹¹ They were then escorted by the Serb soldiers to an area of Čarakovo known as Žeger, where the road to Čarakovo meets the main road from Prijedor to Sanski Most.⁵⁷⁹² (Look at that now: all of a sudden the white flag, legitimising the large group of Muslims as a non-combatant, led them to security and safety!)

1689. Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat men were stopped and killed at a bridge in Žeger.⁵⁷⁹³ KDZ092 testified that she saw buses from Prijedor with men from Čarakovo stop and unload the men at Žeger Bridge.⁵⁷⁹⁴ KDZ014 also testified that she saw men stripped down to their waists and detained at Žeger Bridge.⁵⁷⁹⁵ Soldiers in camouflage uniforms, with white ribbons on the shoulders, and camouflage caps shot the men who were dressed in civilian clothes at the bridge and threw their bodies into the Sana River.⁵⁷⁹⁶ Other Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat men

The Chamber notes the discrepancy surrounding the date of the killings at Žeger Bridge. Adjudicated Fact 1070 states that the date of the killings was 23 July 1992. This adjudicated fact is based on KDZ092's evidence in the Stakić case, as admitted in the Brđanin case, and KDZ092 confirmed in the Stakić case that this incident occurred on the same day as the attack on the village of Čarakovo, which was 23 July. However, KDZ014 testified that she saw men at Žeger Bridge on 28 July 1992, the day on which she left Čarakovo. Based on the evidence before it, the Chamber considers that the killings at Žeger Bridge occurred on or around 23 July 1992 following, and as a part of, the attack on Čarakovo and thus finds that they occurred within the period of the Indictment for this incident.

(#Combatants, or civilians#! And also within the fighting in Carakovo. However, being killed on the bridge is not indicating that they had first been captured and then killed. It could have happened during the fights, if they found themselves on the bridge and noticed by the Serb soldiers. No names, nothing, and this is not sufficient in a criminal case. Apart of it, what it has to do with the President? They attacked each other always when they had an opportunity, in any civil war, how anyone could have expected this time it wouldn't happen?)

were put on to buses at Žeger Bridge and taken away.⁵⁷⁹⁷ (Again, ribbons! When the Serbs wore it, no problem, when given to the Muslims, it was presented as a discriminatory measure) that was exclusively a measure against a “friendly fire”, there is many evidence to that respect!)

1690. At Žeger Bridge, women, children, and elderly, including KDZ014, were loaded onto “Autotransport Prijedor” buses driven by Serb soldiers.⁵⁷⁹⁸ She saw one of her neighbours, Hasib Simbegović, try to board one of the buses, but he was prevented from doing so by Dragan Tintar, a local Serb from Tukovi wearing a camouflage uniform, who then shot him in the head.⁵⁷⁹⁹ After they were loaded onto the buses, the women, children, and elderly were driven to Trnopolje, where they spent one night before being transported by trucks and buses to Vlasić.⁵⁸⁰⁰ At Vlasić, they got off of the buses and were told to walk to “their country” and were received by Bosnian Muslim soldiers, who took them to Travnik.⁵⁸⁰¹

1691. The Chamber took judicial notice that a large number of killings of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats occurred in the Brdo area around 20 July 1992 as a result of the campaign conducted by Bosnian Serb forces.⁵⁸⁰² (A #legal action#! No a reasonable chamber would make that kind of deliberation, without even taking into account the legal action of the Serb military and police against the Muslim terrorists, “accommodated” in the villages, woods and dug-outs, as seen from the evidence. Also, no any inquiry into the question which killings were illegal and criminal, which not. If there was a civil war, initiated by the Muslims, and procrastinated by the Muslims, there must be established what was a crime!) In addition, the Chamber has received forensic evidence to support the deaths of some identified individuals who were killed in the Brdo region between 1 and 23 July 1992.⁵⁸⁰³

1692. Based on the above, the Chamber therefore finds that a number of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats, including civilians, were killed by Serb Forces in the Brdo area on or around 23 July 1992. (#Including civilians#! How many civilians? How come civilians were among the Muslim combatants?) #After the Muslim attack#! The Chamber neglected the fact that it happened two months after the first attack of those terrorists in Hambarine, and that there is a plethora of evidence that after the fights at the end of May and couple of weeks in June, the Muslim/Croat extremists withdrew to Brdo, Arakovo, Kozara and other surrounding woods, reorganizing, digging the combat shelters and getting out to kill the Serb civilians and military. The Chamber didn’t succeed to differentiate who was killed in fights and who in an illegal manner. Since there is no doubt that there were the fights, there must have been casualties on both sides. This paragraph brings a little light saying: “including civilians”, which means that the Chamber was aware that the main issue was fight against those that are not “including civilians”!)

1693. The Prosecution alleges that a number of men were killed in the village of Bišćani and in the surrounding hamlets of Hegići, Mrkalji, Ravine, Duratovići, Kadići, Lagići, and Čemernica on or about 20 July 1992. (#Abuse of civil settlements#! All the settlements known as a “reserve position” of the terrorists, occupied after the failure of the 30th May attack on Prijedor. All of those settlements are registered in the regular reports!@)

1694. On 20 July 1992, the village of Bišćani and the surrounding hamlets were attacked by Serb Forces, including the 6th Krajina Brigade and members of the police and the intervention squad.⁵⁸⁰⁴

1695. Starting around 10 a.m. on 20 July, the village of Bišćani was attacked by Serb Forces from the direction of Tukovi.⁵⁸⁰⁵

1696. On 20 July 1992, Bosnian Muslim males in Bišćani as young as 16 years old were told to gather at various collection points manned by Serb soldiers throughout the village; the women stayed in their homes and were eventually taken away to Trnopolje or other places.⁵⁸⁰⁶ Several people were beaten and killed at these collection points in Bišćani.⁵⁸⁰⁷ All 92bis!!! For instance, one of the collection points was a coffee bar; at that location, a uniformed soldier instructed two men, Mirhad Mrkalj and Ferid Sabanović, to carry the dead body of Hamdija Fikić behind a house.⁵⁸⁰⁸ KDZ038 saw the soldier fire “into” Mrkalj and Sabanović and they did not come back.⁵⁸⁰⁹ Additionally, KDZ038 saw three other men killed at the coffee bar collection point—Mirsad Medić and another colleague who worked with Medić at the petrol station, as well a former policeman, Saša Karagić.⁵⁸¹⁰ The Chamber is therefore satisfied that in total six men were killed by Bosnian Serb soldiers at the coffee bar collection point on 20 July 1992. (#Deadly combination#! All based on Rule 92bis evidence and adjudicated facts, both without an opportunity to cross-examine! Let us see what the MUP RS established on 11 July 92 about the terrorist activities in Prijedor, D447:

“Unfortunately 43 members have been killed, 65 have been severely wounded and 70 lightly wounded. 14 people are reported missing”.

He said that the radicalisation of the security situation was in a close relation to the organised extremist activities of groups and individuals, which were directed to overthrowing the government and endangering the security in the Republic. Such activities materialised in organising and starting armed rebellion and other violent acts against the Army and the police members who are performing their duties. They did this in order to overthrow the legal government institutions. Terrorist operations were being planned, illegal mass arming was going on, paramilitary units of Muslim and Croat extremists were being formed and becoming active, there was unauthorised use of weapons and disobedience, the law is being ignored. They carried out sabotage and terrorist operations against private and public property, spread rumours, contributed to the serious crime rate and all of this was making the overall political situation very complex and was creating an atmosphere of fear and disorder.

It happened that already until 11 July there had been killed 43 policemen and wounded 65 policemen, in five weeks of the terrorist activities, which started on 30 May 92. See the

"We have reasons to believe that these are the illegal and organised, long prepared activities, directed against the Constitution and towards overthrowing government institutions and spreading terror and violence. We obtained information on this through operative work and investigating into the Croat and Muslim paramilitary units' attack on the Army of the Serb Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina and on the police in Kozarac, Prijedor, Ključ, Sanski Most, Blagaj, Bosanski Novi, Barevo, Jajce and the attack on Prijedor. These attacks significantly destabilised the situation.

Preparations for war have been made in certain parts of Bosanska Krajina for a long time, well organised, intensive and co-ordinated. Every detail is being planned and organised according to military principles. In Kozarac alone more than 3500 persons were armed and organised in military units. Mobilisation was carried out, deployment plan of all the units was made, the operation areas and assembly points were appointed, large quantities of food and medications were procured, even syringes for drug users. Observation posts were built, topography maps were made with plans of the units' deployment and movement. The attack on Prijedor was also

A while later, a "Prijedor Autotransport" bus arrived at the coffee bar collection point and soldiers instructed some of the men in the group, including KDZ038, to get on the bus, while other men were instructed to stay behind.⁵⁸¹¹ In Prijedor town, they stopped and changed to another Autotransport bus, which drove them on the main Prijedor-Banja Luka road and stopped near Keraterm for awhile.⁵⁸¹² They then went to Omarska, where the bus waited outside, before continuing on to Trnopolje.⁵⁸¹³

1698. Sometime later in the afternoon on 20 July, a second bus arrived at Trnopolje with the other group of men who had stayed behind at the coffee bar collection point; however, KDZ038 noticed that a number of men who had been in this second group were not in the group that arrived at Trnopolje.⁵⁸¹⁴ KDZ038 later heard from a survivor that the whole second group of men had been put on to a bus but that, at a sand pit along the road towards Prijedor, some of the men were taken off the bus, lined up, and shot with an automatic rifle by a soldier wearing an olive drab uniform and helmet.⁵⁸¹⁵ When the remaining villagers from Bišćani were later taken to Trnopolje along that road, they saw the bodies of these men.⁵⁸¹⁶ (All unproven, uncorroborated, all a third class evidence, without cross examination and documents!#Deadly combination#!)

Two of the brothers of KDZ074 were also killed on 20 July 1992, while taking shelter in the basement of a house in Bišćani with their families.⁵⁸¹⁷ They were taken from the basement along with other men by Serb police officers wearing blue uniforms, led to the yard of another house nearby, shot,

92: To: MUSLIM CHARITABLE SOCIETY
MERHAMET

We hereby inform you that our General Hospital treats patients, including a large number of refugees, from our municipality, as well as from Sanski Most and Bosanski Novi municipalities. From the outset of war, our hospital incurred an increased level of consumption and costs in an effort to provide care for the wounded and the sick. The share of burden is almost equally distributed among hospital wards, but particularly affected are the surgery and hemodialysis wards where research materials are needed for securing the necessary drugs and medical supplies for these services to function properly. We must emphasise that we had serious financial difficulties before the conflict broke out, and that the present situation, when we treat 150 Muslim patients on a daily basis without anyone paying for their treatment, may end up in a total suspension of health care services. For the sake of a better insight, we should add that the above-mentioned figure encompasses patients of all ages and with all kinds of diseases.

The only purpose of this information is to prompt your charitable society to get organised and aid our institution by providing drugs, medical supplies, food or money, so that we can continue to treat members of your ethnicity, to which our institution remains committed.

1703. The hamlet of Čermernica was also attacked on 20 July 1992.⁵⁸²⁸ Soldiers in blue uniforms, along with a few others in green and olive-grey camouflage uniforms, arrived on foot in Čermernica, followed by military vehicles and APCs.⁵⁸²⁹ Around 35 to 40 residents of Čermernica assembled at the village cemetery and were lined up by the soldiers.⁵⁸³⁰ Two soldiers approached one of the men, Muhamed Hazdić, and asked him his name; when he responded, one of the soldiers said “are you a pejgamber?”, referring to a Muslim word about God, and then shot and killed him.⁵⁸³¹ KDZ094 noticed that elderly people in the line had been beaten and their clothes were cut; [REDACTED].⁵⁸³² Two other soldiers arrived, Rade Bilbija and Miodrag Glusac, also known as “Tosa”, dressed in camouflage uniforms; Bilbija, seemed to be in charge and upon his instructions, the soldiers then left.⁵⁸³³ KDZ094 buried Muhamed Hazdić the next morning.⁵⁸³⁴

1704. Around 20 July 1992, 12 persons were lined up in an orchard in Hegići and shot dead.⁵⁸³⁵ Also on or around 20 July, between 20 to 30 people were killed at a bus stop at a crossroads between Alagići, Čermernica, and Jugovći; an elderly woman, went looking for her three sons who had gone missing and saw heaps of bodies at this location.⁵⁸³⁶

1705. On 21 July, soldiers returned to Čermernica in small groups and stole television sets, valuables, and gold items.⁵⁸³⁷ They took away several of the villagers to collect the bodies of people who had been killed in the area, and two of those men, Husnija Hadzić and Hare Pelak, never returned.⁵⁸³⁸

1706. Serb soldiers continued to take away several villagers from Čermernica each day to collect bodies and load them into trucks in the surrounding villages.⁵⁸³⁹ On 23 July around 8 or 9 a.m., two Serbs in camouflage uniforms, Ranko Došen and Slavko Petrović, arrived in Čermernica in green military trucks and instructed KDZ094 to go with eight to ten other Bosnian Muslim men to collect bodies from the Biščani area and load them onto trucks.⁵⁸⁴⁰ They were accompanied by armed escorts, Serb soldiers in green, olive-grey military uniforms with rifles.⁵⁸⁴¹ They first went to Hegići, where they found the badly decomposing bodies of Salih Hegić and Esef Avdić, both with gunshot wounds, and loaded them into the truck using blankets which they collected from

Since there was no any cover up or a clandestine removal of the corps, it is clear that those killed had been combatants, not civilians. Why KDZ094 and other Muslim civilians who were engaged in the sanitation hadn’t been killed? Because the Serbs had nothing against civilians! And finally, how was it possible that the Chamber relied upon such an important witness, and not calling him to be cross-examined in this case? Either they should call him, rejecting the 92 bis offer, or exclude his testimonies admitted in such a peculiar way!)

1707. After Mrkalji, KDZ094 and the other men with the truck went to the neighbouring hamlet of Kadići, where they picked up the bodies of Sead and Kemal Kadić, which had gunshot wounds in the chest.⁵⁸⁴⁴ They then went towards Ravine, and KDZ094 observed that the Biščani mosque no longer had a roof or munara and had been damaged by fire, as had nearby houses.⁵⁸⁴⁵ He stated that he had last seen part of the munara on 23 July 1992, from his house, before it was burned.⁵⁸⁴⁶ The Chamber received evidence that throughout the whole area of Biščani, Rizvanovići, and Rakovčani, “all the mosques were burned and looted”.⁵⁸⁴⁷ These mosques had been intact in April 1992.⁵⁸⁴⁸ The mosque in Biščani was destroyed on 20 July 1992 and the Rizvanovići mosque and other mosques in the area were destroyed in the summer months, and by August 1992.⁵⁸⁴⁹ (#Legal combat activities#! Why the Serbs didn’t destroy those mosques in April, or May, or June 92? Because there was no fightings in those villages during those months! Or, why the mosques in other villages where there was no fights hadn’t been damaged? An answer is so simple, and the only reasonable inference would be that in a combat zones the mosques had been damaged!)

1708. At some point on 23 July, KDZ094 was ordered by Došen to drive a second truck and they continued to Ravine; they collected a few more bodies along the road and then five or six more in a field about 50 metres from the turn-off to Ravine, all of which had gunshot injuries.⁵⁸⁵⁰ In a forest in Ravine, they picked up another 25 to 30 bodies near the woods and outside of houses; [REDACTED].⁵⁸⁵¹ One of the bodies was a young female [REDACTED] found naked, lying on a couch inside a house with a bullet hole in her head.⁵⁸⁵² (#Deadly combination#! 1709. Near a place called Bijela Zemlja, KDZ094 picked up the body of Mirhad Mrkalj and a few other unidentified people.⁵⁸⁵³ Further along, they picked up another 15 to 20 bodies close to the main road between Ravine and Biščani.⁵⁸⁵⁴ Near the “Diskont” shop in Bijela Zemlja, an area near the hamlet of Duratovići, they found the largest number of bodies and spent some time there collecting them.⁵⁸⁵⁵ (It looks like a #sanitation# action after the battle. Had it been an execution, the bodies wouldn't be all around, in woods and different places. 1710. The group continued on towards Tukovi, and at the coffee production plant near the junction leading to Sredice, they picked up another 10 to 15 bodies.⁵⁸⁵⁶ Further along the road, at the Sredicko Polje sand pit, they retrieved another 15 to 25 bodies from the right hand side of the road, also with gunshot wounds.⁵⁸⁵⁷ Close to the turnpike at Tukovi, they found another two groups of bodies with gunshot wounds, including some women and children, who were 12, 13, and 14 years old.⁵⁸⁵⁸ (What kind of truck was it? 1711. At the check-point in Tukovi, KDZ094 parked the truck and got out, and some soldiers drove two of the three trucks, which were full of bodies, off in the direction of Sanski Most; KDZ094 heard Došen and Petrović complaining that they did not want to drive much further and that they would go somewhere “closer”, which he interpreted to mean that they did not want to drive all the way to Tomašica, but would rather find somewhere closer to take the bodies.⁵⁸⁵⁹ (So, KDZ094 was competent and allowed to “interpret” what some soldiers meant? How come the Chamber accepted such an improvisation?) The third truck was used to return the other Bosnian Muslim villagers, and the two armed Serbs, to the Hegići area.⁵⁸⁶⁰ (#Combat casualties, sanitation#! Why those “Bosnian Muslim villagers” hadn't been killed? If all others, whose bodies had been collected, had been killed in an unlawful manner, why those hadn't been killed, as a dangerous witnesses? 1711. On 24 July, six to eight young men who had been captured were brought to the check-point in Tukovi to help KDZ094 collect bodies; they went to the area of Sredicko Polje to resume collecting bodies.⁵⁸⁶¹

1712. KDZ094 estimated that in two days, he collected between 300 to 350 bodies, all of which were Bosnian Muslims, as well as a few Bosnian Croats, who had been unarmed and wearing civilian clothes.⁵⁸⁶² (#Ad absurdum#! How KDZ094 could have known that they had been unarmed? If they got killed out of his site, he couldn't know anything but that the bodies had been in a civil clothing. As known, the Muslim terrorists in the Prijedor and Sanski Most area wore only civil clothing. And no a warring faction would leave an armament with a body of killed enemy, but would take it not only as a trophy, but as a usable mean!) While many were from the Brdo area, there were also others who had been displaced from other areas and had taken shelter there.⁵⁸⁶³ The women, children, and elderly people who had remained in Bišćani and other villages went to Tukovi and were then transported to Travnik.⁵⁸⁶⁴

1713. The Chamber considers that while it does not have specific evidence about the circumstances of each of the deaths of the 300 to 350 individuals whose bodies KDZ094 collected on 23 and 24 July 1992 in Bišćani and the surrounding villages,⁵⁸⁶⁵ the evidence before it establishes a pattern of killings on or around 20 July throughout this area. Furthermore, the Chamber finds that there was no armed activity in the area of Bišćani during this period.⁵⁸⁶⁶

(#Contrary to documents#! However, there is a plethora of evidence that there was a two months of everyday fights, as it was said in the Prosecution exhibit P03482, on 17 July:

It was a long time, almost a month, that the Prijedor municipality was a scene of war clashes and a place kept in isolation of all kinds. For almost two months, the people of Prijedor and their neighbours in Bosanski Novi and Sanski Most fought heavily on a day-to-day basis against Muslim extremists who were supported by the HDZ /Croatian Democratic Union/ and HOS /Croatian Defence Forces/. During that time, the Prijedor war unit and the police lost 43 soldiers, including members of the Serbian Republic of BH Army killed in Hambarinsko polje on 22 May this year, when Muslim extremists and members of the Green Berets decided to respond to Alija IZETBEGOVIĆ's call for a war to the death. The events that followed are more or less known to the public in Prijedor and Banja Luka, yet a great deal remains unknown. Yesterday, this should have become obvious to the Krajina representatives, (#Muslim terrorists, Serb victims#! So, sustaining a lost of 43 soldiers deep into the Serbian territory is a horrible and wouldn't be acceptable to any army all over the world!) Accordingly, the Chamber finds beyond reasonable doubt that most of these 300 to 350 individuals were non-Serb civilians who were deliberately killed by Serb Forces after the attack on the village of Bišćani and the surrounding hamlets. (#Contrary to documents#! However, the Prosecution exhibit P03487 sais otherwise, #document said otherwise#! :

Wearing their berets, they fled to the nearby forests and there they continue to provoke the army and police. On Sunday in the village of Rizvanovići, only a hundred metres from the village mosque and several hundred meters from the site where four soldiers of the Serbian Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina were wounded and two killed on 22 May 1992, soldier Slave PANIĆ, son of Živko, of the Prijedor combat unit was killed, and the army moved again to cleanse the terrain in the area of the former Ljubija Municipality in the villages of which the Green Berets and Muslim renegades have taken shelter, despite the fact that most of the population has expressed its loyalty to the Serbian Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

(#abuse of the sacral objects#! This was a report in Kozarski Vjesnik for 24 July, pertaining to several previous days. Wrong inference on a wrong assumption.

⁵⁸⁶³ KDZ094, P706 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Stakić), T. 5966 (under seal).

⁵⁸⁶⁴ KDZ074, P709 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Stakić), T. 2345.

⁵⁸⁶⁵ See paras. 1700, 1703, 1706–1709.

⁵⁸⁶⁶ See KDZ523, P4257 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Brđanin), T. 21076, 21081–21082 (under seal).

1714. The Chamber also received forensic evidence to support the deaths of some identified individuals who were killed in the village of Bišćani and in the surrounding hamlets on or about 20 July 1992.⁵⁸⁶⁷ (Combat or civil casualties#!)

1715. Based on the above, the Chamber therefore finds that at least 300 non-Serbs, including civilians, were killed by Serb Forces in the village of Bišćani and in the surrounding hamlets of Hegići, Mrkalji, Ravine, Duratovići, Kadići, Lagići, and Čemernica on or about 20 July 1992. (1). This is completely wrong inference, based only on the testimonies of the Muslim extremists, or their relatives.

(2).The mere formulation “including civilians” compromises this kind of deliberation: including unknown number of civilians clearly shows that there were the Muslim combatants as a target of the action, not civilians!

(3).The VRS wouldn't skip to brag and mention such a high number of casualties on the enemy's side, the police too. No such a reports.

(4) However, from the reports available, we see that the rest of the Muslim terrorists from Kozarac, Hambarine and other places in and around Prijedor, after the defeat in May and June 92, withdrew to the Brdo area, and to neighboring villages and hamlets, living in dug-outs and acting as terrorist to the end of the war on the entire area between Prijedor and Sanski Most. SeeD4415, of 2 June 92:

In summing up the casualties suffered in the fighting for the town of Prijedor so far, please be informed that except for the casualties stated in the dispatches nos. 2032 and 2034, we have also suffered the following /casualties/:

Nota bene: "about ten minors!!! Nota bene: family Sivac! Some of these "distinguished citizens of the Muslim ethnicity had even been the OTP witnesses, presenting themselves as a victims, civilians and innocents! See D1826 of 4 June 92:

According to checked and verified information, extremist members of the SDA from the region of Prijedor cooperated directly with extremists from Bosanska Dubica, Gradiška and wider. And so Junuz HAŠIĆ, until recently the SDA president, had close relations with Mirza MUJAČIĆ, from the Prijedor area and the president of the Court in Bosanski Novi, who in turn had close relations with exponents of the positions of the HDZ /Croatian Democratic Union/. Junuz and his wife Namka obtained and distributed weapons and explosives in the Bosanski Novi, Prijedor and Bosanska Dubica area; member of the ZNG. All this information indicates that there was close cooperation between extremists of Muslim nationality. It is interesting that most jobs for Mirza MUJAČIĆ in the Prijedor area and wider were carried out by his brother Emir MUJAČIĆ, an agricultural technician by occupation, employed in the Ljubija mine. Verified information indicates that the persons most responsible for arming the Muslim and Croatian peoples in the Prijedor area were: Elvedin RIZVAN from Donja Kuharska, owner of a restaurant in Prijedor; a certain ZENKOVIĆ from Donja Ljubija, president of the SDA party in Ljubija; Muharem FAZLIĆ from Kozarac, a returnee from the SR /Federal Republic of/ Germany; Ramiz CIRKIN from Kozaruša, an instructor and organiser of "Green Berets" in Kozaruša; Irfan BAHONJIĆ from Kamičani, president of the SDA, a PTT /post, telephone and telegraph/ technician by occupation, employed in the hospital in Prijedor; Hilmo HOPOVAC from Prijedor, employed in the Ljubija mine; Jasmin ALIŠIĆ from Tukovi; Adir GANIĆ, owner of the Gan café bar in the Tukovi settlement; Samir REŠIĆ from Prijedor, a driver; Slavko EĆIMOVIĆ from the Tukovi settlement, a private haulier; Enver ALIĆ called Eno; Hasan TARUNDŽIĆ, chief of the Prijedor SJB; the VELIĆI brothers from the village of Kevljani; Alid KADRIĆ from the village of Rizvanovići, purchased weapons and ammunition from military reservists from the village of Volari; Said KARAGIĆ; Sefer DEDIĆ, commander of the Patriotic League in Rizvanovići, where there were around 100 people in the formation; Bećir MEDUNJANIN from Kozarac, SDA president.

These activities were supported and financed by Emir VOJNIKOVIĆ, employed in the Prijedor SO, a certain ADEMI of Albanian nationality, a junior officer, left the JNA /Yugoslav People's Army/ of his own will, a certain Suljo, temporarily employed in Australia, and a man with the last name of KULENOVIĆ from the Kozarac area.

The above-named received assistance for their activities in obtaining arms from Muslims temporarily employed abroad.

This information will be supplemented and expanded later on.

This morning at 0430 hrs, members of the Muslim paramilitary units launched an attack from several directions and particularly from the direction of Stari grad, Pećani and Tukovi, against the buildings of the Prijedor SO /Municipal Assembly/, the SJB /Public Security Station/, the Prijedor hotel, the town's bridge across the Sana river and several other facilities controlled by the Army of the Serbian Republic of BH and the police.

The Crisis Staff announced that the Army and police forces are keeping the town under their control and have launched an operation to catch and place the attackers in custody.

Citizens are called upon to remain calm and stay in their homes, where they will be safe. All able-bodied citizens are called upon to take part in the defence of the town by guarding the buildings where they live, and to be on the lookout for the possible presence of infiltrated, professionally trained and armed groups and individuals who are ready for anything.

Remember, the Chamber treated this as a Serb attack on Stari grad. See further, D4419 of 7 June 92, a Criminal report to the prosecutor in Prijedor against the main organizers of the armed rebellion in Prijedor:

1. – Ensure at all levels of command that religious buildings or cemeteries of any religion are not desecrated in combat operations or any other situations.
2. – In combat operations, fire may be opened on religious buildings only when our forces are being engaged from such buildings or when it has been determined that they house an armed enemy who refuses to surrender. The intensity of fire and the type of weapons used should be such as to destroy or neutralise only enemy personnel, without destroying the building.

In this connection members of the Corps are hereby informed that the SR BH Army will fight the war against the enemy in a military and honourable manner, consistently abiding by the provisions of the Geneva Conventions.

3. – I hereby forbid harassment or maltreatment of clerics. Such persons who are known, or suspected of being on the side of the enemy should be arrested and taken into custody by the Military Police, Security Service or MUP /Ministry of the Interior/ organs. The civilian population should be treated in the same manner.
4. – I shall hold all unit commanders, but also all Corps members, responsible for consistent execution of this order.

That is the answer on all the matters of ruined sacral objects: these objects could have been hit only if #abused for a military purposes#! See further, all to the mid of July 92, so intense terrorist activities deep into the Serb territory, D1942, of 14 July 92

In the area of responsibility of the Prijedor command, there are still defeated groups of Muslim extremists who wish to break through and link up with Bihać and the Cazinska Krajina. They have been prevented from doing so at present, and this command is successfully controlling the area of Bosanska Krupa – Bosanski Novi – Bosanska Dubica – Sanski Most as far as the village of Ivanjska.

During all this period, many Muslim and Croat settlements and villages didn't have any problem with the "Serb Forces" i.e. VRS and Police, see what E. Wulliamy wrote on 7 August 92, D100:

But down the road are other Muslim villages intact, peasants calmly bringing in the hay. Every house hangs a white flag - a piece of sheet or pillowcase - from the roof or from a tree: it is a guarantee against Omarska or Trnopolje.

"These are the people who accept the Serbian republic," explains Maj. Milovan Milutonic from army headquarters in Banja Luka. "If they do that, we just leave them alone."

There are Croatian communities around Banja Luka too, exchanging their docility to the new order for a relatively quiet life.

No a reasonable chamber would neglect these contemporaneous genuine documents, nor would make any decision about Prijedor as it is in this Judgment!

(5). Further, why the witnesses hadn't been killed? How come the Serb soldiers employed the Muslim civilians in the sanitation job? Hadn't it be a legal job and a combat casualties, it wouldn't be entrusted to the Muslim civilians to collect bodies.

(6). The Chamber accepted every single allegation and testimony of the Muslims, regardless of their interest in denigrating the Serbs, and the basis for those inferences were a general assertions without any objective corroboration.

(7). The Chamber accepted a general allegations about ruining the buildings and properties, but there was an order to clear up all the buildings damaged during the combats, that couldn't be repaired: see P03484:

Pursuant to Article 12 of the Constitutional Act on the Implementation of the Constitution of the Serbian Republic of Bosnia-Herzegovina (Official Gazette of the Serbian People in BH, no. 3/92) and Article 74 of the Executive Committee Rules of Procedure (Official Gazette of the Prijedor Municipality, no. 6/91), the Executive Committee, at its meeting of 21 July 1992, adopted the following

on the demolition of structures damaged beyond repair

1. It is hereby agreed that the Municipal Secretariat for Town Planning, Housing, Public Utilities and Legal Property Affairs in Prijedor, because of the impossibility of repairing structures damaged in the recent fighting, as determined by the commission of Experts, may take measures for the demolition of the following buildings:

This is followed by the list of 166 objects to be cleared, because the damages that occurred during the fights couldn't be repaired. This also did cost the municipal authorities a lot, and nobody can say that it was a deliberate damaging of anybody's property! No reasonable chamber would allow this kind of mess!

(a) Briševo

1716. Briševo is a village in the local commune of Ljubija and is located to the south of Prijedor town.⁵⁸⁶⁸ Prior to the conflict, Briševo was inhabited mainly by Bosnian Croats.⁵⁸⁶⁹ The villages in the Ljubija commune were primarily comprised of Bosnian Croats, while within the town of Ljubija itself, Gornji Ljubija was almost purely Croat, and the other part, Donja Ljubija, was predominantly Bosnian Muslim.⁵⁸⁷⁰

1717. Briševo was first shelled on 27 May 1992 from the direction of the Serb villages of Rasavci and Oštra Luka; the shelling lasted the entire day but there was no physical damage to the village during this attack.⁵⁸⁷¹ (#Obviously, the Serbs didn't aim the village itself, but the surrounding woods where the Muslim terrorists spread and hide after defeated in Hambarine and Kozarac!) After the attack, Atlija, together with other men in the village, decided to send a delegation of five men to Rasavci and Oštra Luka to ask why they were being attacked.⁵⁸⁷² When the delegation returned, they informed the villagers that the Serbs had issued an ultimatum requesting them to surrender their arms, and that if they failed to do so, the Serbs would search their houses.⁵⁸⁷³ The residents of Briševo only had five or six hunting rifles and a few pistols among them which they handed over to the Serbs; however, the Serb representatives demanded more weapons and said that houses would be searched and people would be killed.⁵⁸⁷⁴

1718. No one came to search houses in Briševo following the hand-over and the following weeks were relatively peaceful, although the village was completely blocked by Serb-manned check-points and no one could enter or leave for food or medicine.⁵⁸⁷⁵

1719. On 24 June 1992, a police van from Ljubija came to Briševo and three or four police officers took at least six male villagers from Briševo to be interviewed at the police station in Ljubija.⁵⁸⁷⁶ These men never returned to Briševo and Atlija later found out that they had been questioned and beaten in Ljubija, taken to Keraterm camp, then to Omarska, and finally to Manjača.⁵⁸⁷⁷ (#Legal#! So, those six male villagers were not among those 59% released from Omarska. It is obvious that they hadn't been arrested and brought in arbitrarily, because to Manjaca were directed only those who were to be exchanged!)

(i) Scheduled Incident A.10.9

1720. The Prosecution alleges that at least 68 people were killed in the village of Briševo between 23 July and 26 July 1992.

1721. On 23 July 1992, a Serb from Oštra Luka told Atlija and his cousin to leave Briševo because it would be “cleansed” the following day.⁵⁸⁷⁸ However, they chose not to leave and Atlija was awoken by explosions at around 3:30 a.m. on 24 July 1992; Atlija ran to hide in a neighbour’s cellar.⁵⁸⁷⁹ Infantry fire increased during the early hours; some people were killed, and the shelling continued until the evening of 25 July.⁵⁸⁸⁰ That evening, Bosnian Serb infantry entered the village.⁵⁸⁸¹ The soldiers wore JNA uniforms with red ribbons around their arms and some had red ribbons tied around their helmets.⁵⁸⁸² (Note the #“ribbons#! not discriminatory, but very useful, to differentiate the friends from the enemies. The same was with the civilians, and the civil homes.) They identified themselves as “Serb soldiers” and told some of the inhabitants that if they went to their homes, nothing would happen to them.⁵⁸⁸³ As a result, Atlija and the others who were hiding in the cellar dispersed.⁵⁸⁸⁴ (#Insignias#! That was the VRS, but after them, there were irregulars with “Subara” cap.)

1722. After 10 minutes, Atlija heard shouts from the Dimač house and ran towards it, seeing two soldiers engaged in discussion with Pero Dimač, a 65 year old man, and Atlija’s mother.⁵⁸⁸⁵ The soldiers wore JNA uniforms, as well as “Subara” hats with cockades, and carried different hunting knives than those weapons carried by regular JNA soldiers.⁵⁸⁸⁶ (#Insignias#! “Subaras” and cockardes weren’t the Serb soldier’s cap, not permitted, as well as a “different knives”, and this must be a paramilitary.) Atlija approached his mother, who was crying and shouting, and she told him that his father had been killed and that he should leave.⁵⁸⁸⁷ Atlija left his mother and ran to the woods from where he saw several hundreds of soldiers arrive in the village.⁵⁸⁸⁸ The soldiers then locked his mother in the pigsty, threw Dimač to the ground, beat him with a bible they had found inside his house, shouted “let the Catholic Jesus help him now”, and asked “why Tudjman wasn’t helping him”.⁵⁸⁸⁹ They then set fire to the house and made Dimač take off his clothes and pray “according to the Catholic ritual”; they continued to beat and taunt him.⁵⁸⁹⁰ The soldiers eventually forced him to run between them and shot him in the head.⁵⁸⁹¹ (#Against President orders#! All of that had been strictly and repeatedly prohibited by the President and all the military commanders: uniforms, insignias, equipment, and particularly conduct, making the immediate commanders responsible for conduct of his soldiers, which was entirely accepted by the commanders. The President also disowned all of paramilitaries and independent groups, ordering their arrest, which happened many times!)

1723. From his hiding position in the woods, Atlija saw houses in the village burning and groups of soldiers, both JNA soldiers in uniforms with the JNA insignia and “Chetniks”, passing by, shooting, and taking away looted property; over 100 houses in Briševo were destroyed during the attack.⁵⁸⁹² (#Insignias#! “Cetniks” weren’t the VRS members, and they would fall within the Order of the Banjaluka CSB on 30 July 1992, D1539, p.1:

Since the outbreak of armed conflict, the security situation in the area of this centre has been characterised by the organisation and carrying out of armed uprisings and other acts of violence aimed at overthrowing the legal organs of government, the planning and preparing of terrorist acts, the setting up and activation of paramilitary formations and armed groups, sabotage and terrorist acts against socially-owned and private property, the increasingly frequent occurrence of the gravest crimes and robberies, lawlessness and civil disobedience, the unauthorised use of weapons, and the spreading of rumours and disinformation. In some areas, the security situation has been further complicated and rendered more difficult due to avoidable shortcomings, such as serious breaches of legality in the work of a number of Public Security Service staff, reflected primarily in their participation in various criminal activities and the unauthorised taking of certain measures and actions which do not fall within the jurisdiction of organs of internal affairs, as well as their tolerant attitude towards crime and other socially harmful developments, which undermines trust in the legal institutions of the system and causes widespread concern among citizens. This continues to happen, even though the centre has repeatedly warned against the extent and harmfulness of these developments.

Some of these groups and criminals often use uniforms and insignia of the Serbian army and police while carrying out their criminal acts, most often in areas where there have been war operations. Thus, when army units leave an area, groups and individuals come in and indulge in mass looting of technical goods, household appliances, gold, money and, not infrequently, even the pettiest household utensils. The criminals are often dressed in camouflage uniforms and tend to present themselves as Serbian soldiers or police who are “mopping up” the terrain, and they deal brutally with anyone who opposes them.

The above developments and activities have caused anger and resentment, primarily among Serbs themselves, in whose name and under whose symbols loathsome criminal activities such as burglary, arson, plunder and violence are being committed. Fear is being created among other ethnic groups, leading inevitably to ethnic divisions and mistrust in the institutions of the system. There is a real and objective danger that if they are not stopped these developments will get out of control and have unforeseeable consequences for the security of the public order.

Further in this document follow a set of orders to quit this criminal development. As can be seen, this document reflected the attitude of the Serbs, both of ordinary people and authorities, towards this feature. The President could not be kept liable for a conduct of those outlaws!#No officials responsible#!)

1724. The units involved in the attack on Briševo were units of the 1st Krajina Corps, including the 6th Krajina Brigade⁵⁸⁹³ and 5th Kozara Brigade, as well as paramilitary units.⁵⁸⁹⁴ (#Legal antiterrorist action#! Certainly, those paramilitary units weren't responsible to anyone, and the state wasn't responsible for them all until the state became able to disband all of them, arresting many of them. Within the Atlija's testimony there was a visible difference between the two kind of soldiers: the first one, the VRS soldiers, told them that if they stay at their homes, nothing wrong would happen to them. The other group, with "Subaras" acted completely different, in a criminal manner. D1539 exactly described how these groups used to come after the legal activities, presenting themselves as a "Serb soldiers" #Insignias#!) There were no announcements or warnings made on Radio Prijedor for villagers to surrender, or do otherwise, before the 24 July attack on Briševo, unlike in Hambarine and other villages.⁵⁸⁹⁵ (Another proof that it was not initiated by the authorities!) Furthermore, there were no military units in Briševo and none of the residents were armed when the village was attacked on 24 July 1992.⁵⁸⁹⁶

1725. The majority of the Serb soldiers left Briševo the evening after the attack, taking with them 36 men.⁵⁸⁹⁷ Atlija later found out that this group of men was taken to Krings Hall in Sanski Most and that, after bribing someone, they were released from the camp alive after two months.⁵⁸⁹⁸ (More than 41% of those in Sanski Most had been released, and this remark about the "bribe" is a speculation, because he couldn't know that, and they wouldn't talk about it!)

But see Ivo Atlija, P3672 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Stakić), T. 5643–5644 (stating that Kuprešanin told Atlija after the attack that "a renegade group had committed" the killings in Briševo). The Chamber notes that in his final brief, the Accused argues that the soldiers involved in the attack on Briševo were not wearing the regular JNA uniforms and that Kuprešanin described the soldiers as a renegade group of the 6th Sana Brigade, referring to Atlija's testimony which repeated Kuprešanin's statement in this regard. See Defence Final Brief, para. 1554, fn. 3528. However, the Chamber finds that members of at least the 6th Krajina Brigade and the 5th Kozara Brigade took part in the attack on the village of Briševo. In reaching that conclusion, the Chamber has considered the evidence before it. It also considered that the Accused only refers to evidence from Atlija recounting that Kuprešanin said the soldiers were a renegade group, whereas Kuprešanin in fact testified that the "army" was the perpetrator of the attack and of the killings in Briševo. See Vojislav Kuprešanin, T. 43532–43533 (14 November 2013). (THE EVIDENCE SUCH AS D1539, QUOTED ABOVE, TOGETHER WITH THE ASSERTIONS FROM KUPRESANIN AND ATLIJA TESTIMONIES CLEARLY CONFIRMED THAT THE LEGAL AUTHORITIES AND REGULAR SOLDIERS DIDN'T PARTICIPATE IN CRIMES! #No officials responsible#!)

1726. The evening after the attack Atlija found his father's body, with three gunshot wounds to his back, about 15 to 20 metres away from his house.⁵⁸⁹⁹ Atlija buried his father and Dimač that evening in Mustanica.⁵⁹⁰⁰
1727. The following day, Atlija returned to the village and found 68 houses, out of 120 houses in the village, burnt to the ground.⁵⁹⁰¹ In addition, the Catholic church in Briševo was burnt.⁵⁹⁰²
1728. In the weeks after the attack, Atlija went around Briševo and neighbouring hamlets and found piles of bodies, including in the Kurevo hills.⁵⁹⁰³ Atlija testified that, in total, 68 people were killed during the course of the attack on Briševo, including 14 women, two males under 16 years old, and four invalids, and that in the days after, their bodies were lying around.⁵⁹⁰⁴
1729. Specifically, Atlija first found the remains of Stipo Dimač, an elderly man around 76 or 78 years old, as well as the bodies of Franjo Marijan and Mara Marijan, in a house in Dimanci.⁵⁹⁰⁵ Atlija then found at least six more bodies in a pile in Mlinari, who he helped bury.⁵⁹⁰⁶ Also in Mlinari and nearby the other pile, Atlija found a grave with at least six more bodies, including an invalid, and another grave with the body of Mara Mlinar, a 74 year old woman.⁵⁹⁰⁷
1730. In Buzuci, Atlija then found at least three more bodies, Milan Buzuk, Mate Buzuk, and Ivica Buzuk, an invalid, in front of a house.⁵⁹⁰⁸ Atlija next found in Jezerce the bodies with bullet wounds of Srečo Buzuk, Ivo Lovrić, Miroslav Buzuk, and Vlatko Buzuk, an invalid.⁵⁹⁰⁹ In Cengije, Atlija found the body of Marko Buzuk, which was badly burned from the waist down, and another grave with several bodies, including women.⁵⁹¹⁰

The Chamber notes that Atlija refers to an individual named “Stipo Dimač”, while Mašović's report identifies a “Stipan Dimač”. The Chamber considers this inconsistency to be minor and concludes that this is in fact the same individual.

The Chamber notes that there are some discrepancies between the forensic evidence and the evidence of Atlija regarding the names of some of the victims of Scheduled Incident A.10.9. More specifically, Atlija's testimony contains references to “Mate Buzuk” and “Ivica Buzuk”, whereas Mašović's report identifies the bodies of “Mato Buzuk” and “Ivo Buzuk”. The Chamber considers these inconsistencies to be minor. Accordingly, the Chamber concludes that these are in fact the same individuals. The Chamber also notes that the report of Amor Mašović confirms that the bodies of two men named Mato Buzuk, born in different years, were exhumed from graves in Prijedor, one from Briševo in 1998 and one from Stara Rijeka in 1997. Although it is unclear to which “Mato Buzuk” Atlija is referring as being found in Buzuci, the Chamber is satisfied that the body of one man named Mato Buzuk was found in Buzuci by Atlija after the attack on Briševo on 24 July 1992.

1731. In Mustanica, Atlija found and buried the body of Ante Matanović, another invalid, who had a bullet wound to the back.⁵⁹¹¹ Also in Mustanica, Atlija saw the body of Jozo Jakara lying near a church, but Atlija did not go close enough to the body to see how he died; Atlija was later told by an eyewitness that Jakara's throat had been slit with glass.⁵⁹¹² In Ivandići, Atlija next found several graves and the bodies of "practically the whole Ivandić family" with bullet wounds, including the bodies of Bato Ivandić, Sreto and Danica Ivandić, an elderly couple, Mara Ivandić, and several more women.⁵⁹¹³ Atlija also testified that several members of the Komljen family were killed in Ivandići, including Luka Komljen, Ivo Komljen, Kaja Komljen, and another son.⁵⁹¹⁴ On Raljaš Hill, Atlija found two individual graves, one with the body of Luka Mlinar, a 14 year old boy, and another with the body of Mirsad Švraka, a 14 or 15 year old boy.⁵⁹¹⁵
1732. Finally, Atlija also saw a pile of 10 to 12 bodies under a tree in Stara Rijeka, all of whom seemed to be men around 20 years old.⁵⁹¹⁶ The bodies appeared to have bullet holes in them.⁵⁹¹⁷
1733. Atlija was able to bury some of the bodies he found in Briševo and the surrounding area after the attack with the help of other villagers who survived.⁵⁹¹⁸
1734. The Chamber also received forensic evidence to support the deaths of at least 57 identified individuals who were killed in the village of Briševo and the surrounding areas between 24 and 26 July 1992.⁵⁹¹⁹

1735. Based on the above, the Chamber therefore finds that at least 68 people were killed by Serb Forces in the village of Briševo between 24 and 26 July 1992. (However, the Chamber had the opportunity to see what was the #official attitude# towards those features, crimes and other unlawful acts. The official position was even harsher than this one of the Prosecution and the Chamber. But, both the Prosecution and the Chamber allocate all the crimes and other anomalies and unlawfulnesses to the state organs, without any evidence and on the basis of the testimonies of the Serb enemies. However, the Chamber completely neglected the Police contemporaneous document (D01539) that explains all the situation, particularly pertaining to the crimes: D01539:.....)

The Chamber notes that Atlija refers to an individual named "Sreto Ivandić" who he found in Ivandići, while Mašović's report identifies a "Srećko Ivandić". The Chamber considers this inconsistency to be minor and concludes that this is in fact the same individual.

The Chamber notes that Atlija did not refer to the second Komljen son by name, while Mašović's report identifies "Ante Komljen", who was born in 1956. The Chamber is satisfied that Ante Komljen is the second Komljen son listed by Atlija. The Chamber also notes that Atlija refers to "Kaja Komljen" as being killed in Ivandići, while Mašović's report identifies a "Kata Komljen". Since the outbreak of armed conflict, the security situation in the area of this centre has been characterised by the organisation and carrying out of armed uprisings and other acts of violence aimed at overthrowing the legal organs of government, the planning and preparing of terrorist acts, the setting up and activation of paramilitary formations and armed groups, sabotage and terrorist acts against socially-owned and private property, the increasingly frequent occurrence of the gravest crimes and robberies, lawlessness and civil disobedience, the unauthorised use of weapons, and the spreading of rumours and disinformation. In some areas, the security situation has the spreading of rumours and disinformation. In some areas, the security situation has been further complicated and rendered more difficult due to avoidable shortcomings, such as serious breaches of legality in the work of a number of Public Security Service staff, reflected primarily in their participation in various criminal activities and the unauthorised taking of certain measures and actions which do not fall within the jurisdiction of organs of internal affairs, as well as their tolerant attitude towards crime and other socially harmful developments, which undermines trust in the legal institutions of the system and causes widespread concern among citizens. This continues to happen, even though the centre has repeatedly warned against the extent and harmfulness of these developments.

That pertained to the Muslim terrorist activities, but the following is the review of the “Serb” misdeeds against which the police and other state organs fought #Officials vs. crime#:

and further, also on the misdeeds of the Serb “forces” #Officials vs. crime#:

For example, a number of active and reserve policemen are taking advantage of the war conditions to participate in various criminal activities and misappropriate objects and personal possessions from citizens for their own use, which is among other things profoundly against the ethics of their profession. The situation appears even more tragic if one bears in mind that some senior officials in public security stations are involved in these criminal activities, which dangerously undermine the reputation of the profession and the dignity of the decent and honest majority of members of this service.

who also abuse and physically mistreat people. There have even been cases when armed groups have inspected authorised officials or on-duty police officers, searched official vehicles and mistreated the officers in other ways. The police officers, however, taking the line of least resistance, often react passively to such incidents and those responsible for them, allowing themselves to be mistreated and humiliated in other ways, thus undermining the dignity of the service to which they belong. The public impression is being created that the police are unable to confront these developments, which bring into serious question the efficiency of the police and the legal institutions of the system. Because of fear of the facts and in some cases their own involvement in criminal scandals, taking the line of least resistance, they often fail to perform some duties and try to put the blame on others, including often the centre.

Now

, we see what was the #official position of the chief of the Center in BL#:

The above developments and activities have caused anger and resentment, primarily among Serbs themselves, in whose name and under whose symbols loathsome criminal activities such as burglary, arson, plunder and violence are being committed. Fear is being created among other ethnic groups, leading inevitably to ethnic divisions and mistrust in the institutions of the system. There is a real and objective danger that if they are not stopped these developments will get out of control and have unforeseeable consequences for the security of the public order.

In order to find a way out of the current situation and ensure that the centre carries out its functions effectively, I hereby order:

1) All public security stations shall, as organisational units of the centre, carry out only duties and tasks within their jurisdiction in accordance with the Law on Internal Affairs of the Serbian Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina and other currently valid regulations, applying only appropriate measures and activities within the framework of their legal jurisdiction.

5) The public security stations are required to continuously and systematically investigate all persons who are of interest to security for reasons such as terrorist activities, armed rebellion and so on.

6) Public security stations may not accept, without prior approval from the centre, obligations to guard persons arrested by unauthorised individuals, as such tasks are not within the jurisdiction of the service.

7) Immediately establish the existence and operation of paramilitary formations and inform the competent military security organs and the centre. Since the operations of paramilitary formations are forbidden, the public security stations are required to provide direct assistance to the military authorities in documenting the criminal activities of these formations and other armed groups and individuals. The public security stations alone are required to take action against civilians operating within such groups.

(#Renegades#! And this was followed by other orders to the police stations, with the most rigorous warnings and obligations. After these moves of the Banja Luka CSB there was a chain of measures: disbanding the Special police unit, conflicts with a disobedient reserve, and even professional policemen, attacks of the disobedient groups on the police stations, a forceful releasing captured trespassers and other measures. So, the #Chamber avoided to see who was behind certain misdeeds, and who were those who intruded the areas after the fights# “when army units leave an area, groups and individuals come in...” and do whatever they wanted, being very cruel against everyone who opposed them. Having this document in the file of the case, and having the evidence that after his Order there were a very harsh measures against renegades, the Chamber should have differentiated what was done by the “Serb Forces” and what was done by those that couldn’t be a Serb Forces in any case, because the state organs fought against them. And this is the essence of the Prosecution’s victory in promoting everyone in the “Serb Forces”.

The President #disowned all of such forces at the beginning of the war#, on 13 June 92. How come this doesn’t fly? Disowning them, and ordering their persecution, the President disowned everything they may be doing. Thus these “forces” had been put out of law, persecuted and arrested!)

(iii) Visit of ARK authorities to Stara Rijeka

1736. At the beginning of August 1992, representatives of the authorities of the ARK, including Kuprešanin and Nedeljko Rašula, President of the Sanski Most Municipal Assembly, visited Stara Rijeka accompanied by a bishop, Bishop Komarica, (this was a Catholic Church Bishop, who was respected by the Serb authorities!) to attend an open meeting with several hundred villagers from the village of Stara Rijeka and surrounding villages, including Atlija.⁵⁹²⁰ Kuprešanin said that he had come, at the request of Bishop Komarica, to find out about the situation in the Sanski Most and Prijedor areas.⁵⁹²¹ Kuprešanin stated that he had heard about some incidents in the area, but before that, he did not know that Croats lived in the area; furthermore, he said that everything was going to be fine as soon as they established a “Serb state” in BiH.⁵⁹²² When Atlija challenged him during the meeting, informing him about what happened in Briševo, Kuprešanin replied that “such things occurred in wars”, and that unfortunately the attack on Briševo and all of the killings had been carried out by a renegade group from the 6th Brigade and were not directed against the Croats in the area, but rather against the Muslims in the area.⁵⁹²³ Bishop Komarica promised the villagers that they would receive humanitarian aid and encouraged them to stay in their villages.⁵⁹²⁴

1737. One month later, Atlija had another meeting at the Ljubija church with Bishop Komarica and Kuprešanin.⁵⁹²⁵ Kuprešanin asked him if the situation in Briševo had improved and asked him to present the issues to Milomir Stakić.⁵⁹²⁶ Thus, a couple of days later, Atlija and two others went to Prijedor town and met with Stakić, and asked him for his help to leave the area.⁵⁹²⁷ Stakić suggested that people from Briševo should move to abandoned houses in Biščani but that he could not help them to leave the area because “they were being President of ethnic cleansing already at that point”.⁵⁹²⁸ Atlija informed him they were not inclined to accept his offer and would continue to try to leave the area.⁵⁹²⁹ (#Official proper attitude# So, the Serb official Stakić opposed their attitude to leave the area. From one side – irregulars, from the other side the war-caused insecurity, from the third side – a good conditions in the European receptive countries. No ethnic cleansing as an act of the authorities, but the interethnic war produced what this President predicted in the BH Assembly in October 91!)

(1) Detention facilities in Prijedor

1738. From about 24 May 1992 until at least the end of September 1992, Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats were detained at the Prijedor SJB Building, Omarska camp (“Omarska”), (Omarska was founded on May 31, 92, after the Muslim attack on Prijedor, so the allegation that somebody was detained after the take-over, April 30, was not true, see P02640!) Keraterm camp (“Keraterm”), Trnopolje camp (“Trnopolje”), the Miška Glava community centre or “Dom” (“Miška Glava Dom”), the Ljubija football stadium (“Ljubija Football Stadium”), and the Prijedor JNA barracks (“Prijedor Barracks”).⁵⁹³⁰ The detention facilities in Prijedor were established by the Prijedor Crisis Staff, which was presided over by Stakić.⁵⁹³¹ There was co-ordinated co-operation between the Crisis Staff and members of the Serb Forces in operating the detention facilities.⁵⁹³² The Crisis Staff participated in overseeing security at the facilities, took decisions on the continuing detention of non-Serbs in Prijedor, provided transport, as well as the necessary fuel, for the transfer of detainees between the various detention facilities, and co-ordinated the provision of food for detainees.⁵⁹³³ The Crisis Staff also prohibited the release of detainees from the detention facilities and prevented them from returning to their homes in Prijedor.⁵⁹³⁴

Stakić also testified that the Crisis Staff did not co-operate with members of the police and army in operating the camps; rather the police was in charge of Omarska and Keraterm, and the army was in charge of Trnopolje. Furthermore, Stakić stated that the police and army “turned to the [C]risis [S]taff for aid in food and medicines, just like the Red Cross”. 1739. The Indictment refers to the use of the Prijedor SJB Building as a detention facility in Prijedor municipality between 24 May and September 1992.⁵⁹³⁵

(iii) Arrival of detainees and control over the detention facility

1740. Located in the town of Prijedor, the Prijedor SJB Building was used as a detention facility beginning on or around 26 May 1992 until approximately 24 June 1992.⁵⁹³⁶ (#Wrong#! This is not correct: the Prijedor SJB Building had always a detention unit, but during the peace times there was no need for a bigger detention space. Had it been large enough, there wouldn't be any Omarska and Keraterm!) During this period, Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats, including many prominent men of the Prijedor community, as well as two women and a 13 or 14 year old boy, were detained there.⁵⁹³⁷ (#All legal and obligatory#! Pertaining to a minor of "13 or 14 years", see D100, the Wulliamy's report, mentioning 13 year old boy, who confirmed to be mobilized as a combatant! The "prominent men of the Prijedor community" were leaders of the armed rebellion. Many prominent men hadn't been even questioned, but some were proven guilty for participating in the bloodshed, and their names are on the lists in official reports submitted and depicted above! For instance, Dr. Beglerovic was also a prominent man in Prijedor, and was also taken in, but immediately after established that he wasn't responsible for any crime, he was pardoned and released, see D01745...

1741. The Prijedor SJB Building had two wings; two floors were on one side and three floors on the other, and a courtyard was at the back of the building.⁵⁹³⁸ The detention cell where detainees were held was located in an auxiliary building across the courtyard from the main building.⁵⁹³⁹

D4228 (Witness statement of Zdravko Torbica dated 18 January 2014), para. 11; Dušan Janković, T. 47283–47284 (18 February 2014). The Chamber, however, does not rely on their evidence on this issue. In reaching that conclusion, the Chamber considers that Janković and Torbica contradicted themselves on several occasions. The Chamber further considers the body of credible evidence before it which demonstrates that women and a minor were detained at the Prijedor SJB Building.

1742. Before being brought to the Prijedor SJB Building, detainees were arrested by members of the Prijedor SJB, including Ranko “Bato” Kovačević.⁵⁹⁴⁰ Once there, they were held in the detention cell and guarded by members of the intervention squad.⁵⁹⁴¹

(iii) Conditions of detention and treatment of detainees

1743. The cell in which detainees were held was small, and there were no windows; the only source of light was a tiny hole in the wall.⁵⁹⁴² In that cell, there was a bed frame and a couple of blankets.⁵⁹⁴³ There were no toilet facilities; there was only a bag which was used in place of a toilet.⁵⁹⁴⁴

1744. Detainees were generally held at the Prijedor SJB Building for a short period and were mistreated during their detention.⁵⁹⁴⁵ Nusret Sivac was arrested on 20 June 1992 and taken to the Prijedor SJB Building.⁵⁹⁴⁶ He and a group of other detainees, including two women, a 13 or 14 year old boy and a prominent Muslim doctor, Osman Mahmuljin, were forced to gather in the courtyard.⁵⁹⁴⁷ (#Contra the President orders#! This was highly irregular and prohibited by the orders of the President and all the superiors, including the Minister for Interior, and the army commanders. But, the suggestion that a 13 or 14 years boy was civilian is not proven. Just see what Eduard Vulliamy wrote, P3788:

Stories in Trnopolje, more freely told than at Omarska, are brimful of the squalid violence and black absurdity of civil war. There is Sana, aged 13, who says: 'I was a fighter for the Muslims. They used to put us at the front when the fighting started. I was so scared that I ran away to the Serbian side of the village, to come here. I am still frightened, but I feel safer.'

If this boy didn't escape to the Serb side, he would be captured with weapon and detained as combatant, rightfully! As far as it is concerned with the “prominent doctor”, it was evident that these “prominent” Muslims organised and financed the rebellion! Those who had been proven innocent, as dr. Beglerovic, they had ben pardoned and released!

Members of the intervention squad, including Rade Strika, ordered the detainees to remove their belts and the laces from their shoes.⁵⁹⁴⁸ (#A regular# and usual procedure, because somebody could commit suicide.) The detainees were then forced to run a gauntlet formed by members of the intervention squad who proceeded to savagely beat the detainees with metal rods.⁵⁹⁴⁹ Following these beatings, the detainees

The Chamber does not find this evidence to be convincing. In reaching that conclusion, the Chamber considers that Janković contradicted himself and evaded questions on several were locked in the detention cell until they heard members of the intervention squad shout: “The doctor didn’t get enough”.⁵⁹⁵⁰ Members of the intervention squad then rushed into the cell and again beat the detainees.⁵⁹⁵¹ One of the detainees was struck on the head with a metal rod.⁵⁹⁵² Members of the intervention squad threatened to kill Mahmuljin and they beat him the worst.⁵⁹⁵³ At one point, he fainted and later it was confirmed that his left arm had been fractured in several places.⁵⁹⁵⁴ That evening, the detainees were forced to board a police van and were taken to Omarska.⁵⁹⁵⁵ Sivac and two other detainees had to drag Mahmuljin into the vehicle as he could not move after the beatings.⁵⁹⁵⁶

1745. Kerim Mešanović was arrested on the morning of 24 June 1992 and held in the detention cell with seven other detainees.⁵⁹⁵⁷ Later that day, one of the detainees, Nihad Basić, was taken out by the intervention squad, subjected to ethnic slurs, and beaten.⁵⁹⁵⁸ When he returned, he was covered in blood.⁵⁹⁵⁹ In the evening, the detainees were removed from the cell and lined up against the wall outside where they were searched again and forced to make a three-finger salute.⁵⁹⁶⁰ The detainees were then ordered to run a gauntlet formed by the intervention squad towards the police van.⁵⁹⁶¹ Members of the intervention squad yelled ethnic slurs and beat the detainees as they ran.⁵⁹⁶² Mešanović fell and was kicked in the head, losing four teeth from the blows.⁵⁹⁶³ Once the detainees were seated in the van, they were so afraid that they held hands.⁵⁹⁶⁴ This group of detainees was then transferred to Omarska on 24 June 1992 around 10 p.m.⁵⁹⁶⁵

1746. All of the non-Serb male detainees held at the Prijedor SJB Building were transferred either to Omarska or Keraterm camps.⁵⁹⁶⁶

(iii) Conclusion

1747. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that non-Serb civilians, including women and a minor, were detained at the Prijedor SJB Building by Bosnian Serb Forces between around 26 May and 24 June 1992. Detainees were held in a small cell for up to two days in poor conditions before being occasions and that there is significant evidence before the Chamber which confirms that detainees were forced to run a gauntlet while held at the Prijedor SJB Building.

transferred to Omarska or Keraterm camps. The Chamber also finds that detainees were subjected to severe beatings by Bosnian Serb Forces. (#Combatants, not civilians#! At that time the police detenten could have lasted for 72 hours, now for 48 hours. That meant that the investigation wasn't completed, and they had been moved to other investigative centres. Being civilians doesn't mean being innocent. Since they had been detained by the police, (not the army) there must have been some suspicion about some crime, and that is why people are brought in in all countries.)

(a) Scheduled Detention Facility C.20.2 and Scheduled Incident B.15.2

1748. The Indictment refers to the use of Omarska as a detention facility in Prijedor municipality between 15 May and 21 August 1992. The Prosecution alleges that a number of people were killed at Omarska and at various places after they were taken from the camp between 27 May and 21 August 1992.

(iii) Arrival of detainees and control over detention facility

1749. The village of Omarska is located to the southeast of Prijedor town, on the train line to Banja Luka.⁵⁹⁶⁷ Omarska was located at the Ljubija iron-ore mine, about two kilometres to the south of Omarska village.⁵⁹⁶⁸ Omarska operated as a detention facility from 25 May 1992 until 21 August 1992,⁵⁹⁶⁹ holding as many as 3,000 detainees at one time, primarily Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat men.⁵⁹⁷⁰ Boys as young as 15 were detained at Omarska, as well as some elderly and physically and/or mentally impaired individuals.⁵⁹⁷¹ (#Legal and obligatory#! When mopping up people in a combat area there is no possibility to differentiate those people, but we know and have seen the evidence that such a people hadn't been kept longer than till establishing whether they participated in the attack or crimes. But, Omarska was an investigation centre, as it was clearly written in D470:

During these conflicts, the Army of the Serbian Republic captured many members of hostile formations and other persons who had been in the zones of armed conflicts, and a number of citizens leaving their homes and flats sought help and protection. In order to solve the problem that had arisen, the Crisis Staff of the municipality of Prijedor decided to organise reception and accommodation in the settlement of Trnopolje for persons who sought protection, and that prisoners of war should be held for processing in the building of the Keraterm RO /work organisation/ in Prijedor, or in the administrative building and workshop of the RŽR /Iron Ore Mine/ in Omarska.

:Here is said that Trnopolje was a reception centre for those who strived for a shelter and protection, (confirmed by the Wulliamy's report, P3788) while Keraterm and Omarska served for a processing of the POWs. See P3788:

'I was in the defence force - but not caught in a fight. I tried to get to Trnopolje transit camp (a civilian camp) but the army caught me on the way and brought me here.'

Sebakoudin, who shows no signs of beating, says: 'We are being investigated. Because I know that nothing can be hidden, I tell the truth and hope I will be OK. If I am guilty, then I'll have to face the consequences. I speak only of myself - personally, nobody touched me.'

Trnopolje cannot be called a 'concentration camp' and is nowhere as sinister as Omarska : it is very grim, something between a civilian prison and transit camp. The Yugoslav Red Cross has a small station here, and there are meagre cooking facilities.

In addition, approximately 40 women were held at Omarska; they were kept in the canteen during the day to help with the preparation of the food.⁵⁹⁷² (#Civilians and combatants#! However, there was a number of women involved in the very core leadership of the armed rebellion, as can be seen from D4421:

We have fairly reliable and verified reports that the main leaders of the extremist nationalist movement within the SDA /Party of Democratic Action/ in the Kozarac area in the Municipality of Prijedor are: Suljo KUSURAN, a.k.a Kole from Kozarac, Ramiz ČIRKIN from the hamlet of Mahovljani in Kozarac, Hilkan MEMIĆ and his brother called Puco, Besim ALIĆ, Bećo MEDUNJANIN, president of the SDA in Kozarac, Velida MAHMULJANIN, a teacher from Kozarac, Mujo REDŽIĆ, son of

Velida Mahmuljin is a woman. Further

Dedo, his brothers Idriz and Dalija, Harem BEŠIĆ, and certain persons of Muslim nationality who have the following nicknames: Didin, Sutko, Šara, etc. Most of these persons were wearing camouflage uniforms and berets bearing the insignia of the Territorial Defence of Bosnia and Herzegovina. They were armed with automatic weapons and they acted and spoke and behaved in a way that encouraged the uniting of the Muslim People in this area and the organization of armed resistance to the members of the Army and the Territorial Defence of the Serbian Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina. They assumed the roles of leaders and potentates in the environment in which they lived. They verbally threatened loyal citizens of Muslim nationality and called anything that had to do with Serbs Chetnik. Suljo KUSURAN known as Kole was particularly short-tempered, and he said at assemblies of the local commune and citizens' meetings that he would kill anyone who recognized the newly formed organs of power in Prijedor as well as anyone who returned weapons. Since a certain number of armed men were committed to him, he inspired fear in all those who did not agree with such behaviour and ideas.

As can be seen, those leaders made a pressure and threats to those who were in favour of peace. Further, the same D4421:

According to our operative data, the following persons were involved in the organization of the SDA's military formations: Sejfo JAKUPOVIĆ, a former colonel in the JNA /Yugoslav People's Army/ who left the JNA of his own free will towards the end of 1991; Mirsad SELIMBEGOVIĆ, son of Raza, a former major in the JNA who left it of his own free will; Abaz PIDIĆ, a retired staff sergeant 1st class; Suljo BEŠIĆ, reserve captain 1st class; Emir SINANAGIĆ, an employee of the SJB /Public Security Station/ in Prijedor; Turkan ARNAUTOVIĆ, son of Munib, a retired JNA colonel; Vasko KULAŠIĆ and certain other persons whose identity we have not managed to discover yet. Certain data shows that these persons themselves organized the acquisition of arms for the needs of the SDA in the Kozarac area and elsewhere and were involved in the organization and formation of units of the Territorial Defence of Bosnia and Herzegovina in this area. Suljo KUSURAN and the other persons whose names are mentioned above were under their command and carried out their requests.

Prominent members of the Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat local communities, including women involved in local affairs, were detained at Omarska. ⁵⁹⁷³ (As can be seen, these prominent Muslims and Croats decisively participated in the rebellion which brought deaths so far from any frontline! A civilians participated in rebellion too!)

1750. Detainees at Omarska were either transferred from other camps, such as Trnopolje or Keraterm, or were arrested in different areas of Prijedor municipality.⁵⁹⁷⁴ Various buildings in the mine complex were used to house detainees, including a hangar, the largest of four buildings at the camp, the administration building, and two smaller structures, known as the “white house” and the “red house”, which was at the edge of the compound.⁵⁹⁷⁵ To the north of the hangar and separated by an open concrete area, known as the “pista”, was the administration building, which contained a kitchen, an eating area, as well as sleeping quarters for female detainees, and offices upstairs used, inter alia, for interrogation.⁵⁹⁷⁶ There was also a small garage to the far north of the administration building and a grassy area to the west of the hangar.⁵⁹⁷⁷
1751. Omarska was established by the Prijedor Crisis Staff through a written order issued by Drljača on 31 May 1992.⁵⁹⁷⁸ As Chief of the SJB in Prijedor, Drljača ordered that security at the camp be provided by the Omarska SJB under the command of Omarska SJB commander Mejakić.⁵⁹⁷⁹ Dušan

Janković was Mejakić’s superior and was directly subordinated to Drljača and supervised the implementation of Drljača’s 31 May 1992 order in Omarska.⁵⁹⁸⁰ Miroslav Kvočka, patrol sector leader in the Omarska SJB, was delegated the authority to activate the reserve police force in order to serve as guards in the camps.⁵⁹⁸¹ Members of the VRS formed an external security ring around Omarska and members of the TO staffed posts in a second ring and were tasked with preventing unauthorised persons from entering the camp and ensuring that detainees did not escape.⁵⁹⁸²

1752. Drljača further ordered mixed teams of investigators, comprised of representatives from civilian public security, state security, and military security, to interrogate and categorise detainees at Omarska.⁵⁹⁸³ Mejakić and the heads of the interrogation teams reported to Drljača every day pursuant to his order.⁵⁹⁸⁴

1753. Following interrogation, detainees were grouped into three categories.⁵⁹⁸⁵ The first category was to be comprised of individuals who were suspected of “the gravest crimes” and who had directly organised or participated in “armed rebellion”.⁵⁹⁸⁶ However in practice, the first category also included intellectuals and political leaders from the Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat communities.⁵⁹⁸⁷ (#Distorted#! This is an invalid chategorisation, since they weren’t detained because of being “intellectuals” but because of being a leading persons in the armed rebellion.) The second category included individuals who had supported or assisted detainees in the first category in the armed rebellion, while the third category encompassed detainees who were of “no security interest”, or the “least guilty”, including women and children, and who were to be eventually released.⁵⁹⁸⁸ (What “children”? why it was so difficult to be accurate?)

However, the Chamber does not find Janković’s evidence on this issue to be reliable, in light of the accepted testimony of Kvočka, who was stationed at Omarska during the relevant period. In reaching this conclusion, the Chamber also considered that Janković’s evidence in this regard was contradictory; he was also evasive and lacked sincerity.

1754. Conditions at Omarska were appalling. The food was grossly insufficient, the medical care was inadequate, and the hygiene facilities were poor.⁵⁹⁸⁹ Some days, the detainees received no food at all.⁵⁹⁹⁰ Groups of about 30 men at a time were taken to the canteen to receive their daily meal, and had to eat in under two minutes to avoid being beaten.⁵⁹⁹¹ Nevertheless, detainees were often beaten in the canteen, to the point they could not walk and had to be carried.⁵⁹⁹² Detainees often chose to skip meals in order to avoid the beatings that accompanied them.⁵⁹⁹³ Sejmenović recounted how the arms of a 13 year old boy were broken so badly that he had to be carried into the canteen and fed by other detainees.⁵⁹⁹⁴ However, there was a number of youngsters who participated in the armed rebellion from the very preparations, as can be seen from P3788, or D04681:

We have in possession the strength /as printed/ of the BiH Patriotic League in Trnopolje area, as well as names of members of other military units of the Patriotic League in Kozarac area.

Many detainees lost between 20 to 30 kilograms during their detention, others lost considerably more.⁵⁹⁹⁵ (#Fake#: nobody spent so much time to have lost so many kilograms! The families were allowed to bring in a food, and did it, see D4234 bellow!) Serb nationalist songs were loudly and continuously played over speakers.⁵⁹⁹⁶ Detainees were denied drinking water for long periods and when water was provided, it was not potable.⁵⁹⁹⁷ This caused the detainees intestinal problems.⁵⁹⁹⁸ (It is not specified whether it was a willing and intentional deprivation of water, or a “vice majeure”? “For long periods” is not sufficient, because we know that nobody could live without water.)

1755. The detainees had only occasional access to water for washing, and were given no soap or toothpaste, or any change of clothing.⁵⁹⁹⁹ (Who could provide so many underwear and other needs? The conflict abruptly suddenly, and nobody was prepared for such a great number of detainees. Not to forget that the RS was under the sanctions!) Their access to toilet facilities was also limited, depending on which room they were held in; detainees had to wait hours before being allowed to use them, and sometimes risked being beaten if they asked.⁶⁰⁰⁰ Detainees were often forced to excrete and urinate in their rooms.⁶⁰⁰¹ Skin diseases were prevalent as well as acute cases of diarrhoea and dysentery.⁶⁰⁰² Some detainees were able to receive personal items from their families outside the camp, through individual guards, but these cases were rare.⁶⁰⁰³ But we have seen the document which confirmed that the VRS ordered to facilitate the detainees to get their needs from their homes and families. See D04234, as early as of 7 June 92:

1. – During lulls in the fighting, agreed cease-fires, and similar situations, facilitate the /?clearance/ of the battlefield and the burial with religious rites of enemy soldiers who have been killed.
2. – Allow prisoners to receive food and cigarettes from their families, the Red Cross and Red Crescent, religious and other types of humanitarian organisations.
3. – Behave towards prisoners of war in a dignified way, act humanely, without violence, insults or intimidation. Provide them with accommodation, sustenance and, if sick, medical care, in accordance with the provisions of international war law.

Having in mind that in Omarska there were the investigators, working from 9 to 5 pm. And the detainees could have objected those conditions, therefore, these are #exaggerations# :

1756. The rooms at Omarska were extremely crowded; sometimes 200 to 300 detainees were confined in rooms that were too small.⁶⁰⁰⁴ Around 29 May 1992, 120 detainees were transferred to the camp from the Benkovac military barracks and crammed into a garage for several days; two young men suffocated to death as a result.⁶⁰⁰⁵ (#Deadly combination#! When it was adjudicated? How this Defence is to check it? What were the names of those that suffocated?) Detainees were also crowded together in the lavatories where they were packed one on top of the other and often had to lie in the midst of excrement.⁶⁰⁰⁶ The crowded and overflowing rooms at Omarska were stifling in the summer heat and guards often refused to open windows or demanded that detainees pay them with one of their possessions in exchange for opening a window or obtaining a glass of water.⁶⁰⁰⁷ (#Dealdy combination#! Here is very easy to allege anything, since this Defence can not do anything about that. As we have seen in D4234, the VRS envisaged and ordered a regular procedure. The Defence witnesses testified that the conditions were as it could be, and that in the same facilities there were accommodated the Serb refugees and the Serb army before and after the detainees. What this President has to do else?)

However, Momčilo Gruban testified that (i) the conditions at Omarska were humane under the circumstances; (ii) the detainees had access to water, toilets, and showers; (iii) they received sufficient food, including the same food eaten by the guards; and (iv) detainees did not fear ill-treatment. D4388 (Witness statement of Momčilo Gruban dated 31 January 2014), paras. 8, 16–23. The Chamber does not find Gruban's evidence to be credible in this regard. In reaching that conclusion, the Chamber considers that he was not forthright with the Chamber on several occasions and that due to his involvement at Omarska, he had an interest in distancing himself from any knowledge of conditions there. (#Deadly combination#! Without any evidence, this is nothing but a garbage, and the Chamber shouldnt expose the Defence to an impossible task to deal with so general assertions.

(iv) Treatment of detainees

Beatings and killings

1757. Upon arriving at Omarska in buses, the guards on duty approached the detainees, demanded all of their belongings, verbally abused them, and then beat them, sometimes to death.⁶⁰⁰⁸ (Who died that way? If there is no an objective evidence, why the Chamber accepted such a #general assertions#?) On one occasion, the guards who escorted one of the arriving buses formed a gauntlet through which the detainees had to pass while being beaten and forced to sing nationalist songs.⁶⁰⁰⁹ The detainees were then escorted to the “pista”, to rooms in the hangar, or in the majority of cases, to the white house, and were often beaten on the way.⁶⁰¹⁰ Kvočka, Drago Prcać, Mladen Radić, or “Krkan”, a shift commander at Omarska, and Milojica Kos, or “Krle”, a shift leader, were often present during these beatings.⁶⁰¹¹ They did nothing to prevent them.⁶⁰¹² (#Deadly combination#! Without any evidence, this is nothing by a garbage, and the Chamber shouldnt expose the Defence to an impossible task to deal with so general assertions.)

1758. Several non-Serb detainees arrived at Omarska after being held in the same cell at the Prijedor SJB Building earlier that day. When they arrived, they were made to line up against a wall, where they were beaten and insulted.⁶⁰¹³ They were then taken to the white house and put in a small room, which was already crowded with about 60 to 70 men.⁶⁰¹⁴ All the men were extremely frightened and were not allowed to speak.⁶⁰¹⁵ (#Deadly combination#! Looking at the sources, this is really not correct to have this kind of unproven assertions, based mainly on 92bis and Adjudicated Facts.)

1759. Other detainees were immediately brought to an office in the administration building and interrogated upon arrival.⁶⁰¹⁶ For example, upon Sejmenović’s arrival at Omarska from Trnopolje, an inspector from the Prijedor SJB, Dragan Radaković, interrogated him.⁶⁰¹⁷ On the third day of questioning, two inspectors from Banja Luka arrived and questioned him for about an hour.⁶⁰¹⁸ When Nusreta Sivic arrived at Omarska, she was immediately taken to the reception office of the 1760. While in detention, beatings of detainees were frequent.⁶⁰²¹ It was commonplace for detainees to be called out during the night by the guards.⁶⁰²² Indeed, it was the nights that were most feared by the detainees for this reason.⁶⁰²³ In addition, detainees were beaten constantly by the guards, at the slightest perceived provocation, and some were beaten to death.⁶⁰²⁴ (#No names#! The Defence can not take it seriously without the names and times. If it was a part of any of his plans, why it didn't happen prior to the attacks of the Muslims?) KDZ392 was beaten on numerous occasions during his detention at Omarska.⁶⁰²⁵ At one point, KDZ392 and his father were beaten two days in a row by Dušan Knežević, a.k.a “Duca”, and Zoran Žigić. Zigic was noticed as a trespasser and there was an official note, see: D1440:

Compiled on 4 July 1992 in the offices of the Prijedor II RSM regarding Zoran (/son of/ Nikola) ŽIGIĆ from Muharema Suljanovića street number 8.

Zoran (/son of/ Nikola) ŽIGIĆ, an armed uniformed person (I do not know which unit he belongs to) came to the Keraterm reception centre several times at night, together with Duško KNEŽEVIĆ, Zoran VOKIĆ and Željko TIMARAC. Despite our warnings not to enter the reception centre compound, they entered explaining that they were going to talk to one of the prisoners.

According to the guards, they beat prisoners to exhaustion after which they left. Those beaten would die a few days after they left.

I hereby ask the responsible bodies to suggest to the military command that /overwritten by hand: such/ conscripts should be prevented from committing these arbitrary acts.

Any intervention on our part would result in an armed conflict, which is not in anyone's interest at this moment.

1761. One room in the white house was reserved for brutal assaults on prisoners, who were often stripped, beaten, kicked, and otherwise abused; many detainees died as a result of these repeated assaults on them in the white house.⁶⁰²⁹ (#“Many died”!!! in which court this sentence may have any consequence? Did anyone challenge this allegation? And how to challenge this “many”?)

1754. Between 600 and 700 detainees at a time were held outside in the “pista” area of Omarska for prolonged periods.⁶⁰³⁰ The detainees had to sit, and sometimes lie, on the ground, with machine-guns pointed at them.⁶⁰³¹ While on the “pista”, KDZ026 witnessed the guards forcing a young mentally handicapped detainee by the name of Crnalić to drink motor oil. He then heard gunfire and the young man was not seen again.⁶⁰³² (#Heard, not seen#! A famous sentence, suggested in the same workshop. On 10 June 1992, Nusreta Sivac saw Žigić call out the names of three male detainees on the “pista”; when these three men finally returned, they were swollen, covered in bruises, and their “faces were completely distorted”.⁶⁰³³

1755. Detainees were also severely beaten during interrogations.⁶⁰³⁴ Detainees brought to the red house for interrogation were often killed.⁶⁰³⁵ (#Some maybe killed some#! How many, who, when, by whom? Without a credible evidence, no a serious chamber should even mention this. This is rather a sort of an anti-war propaganda than a serious criminal case.) KDZ093 (Who was he/she?) testified that in July 1992, she saw men, including a Muslim or Croat doctor and a Muslim teacher she recognised, being called out from an area in the restaurant building in Omarska called the “glass house”.⁶⁰³⁶ They were taken to the red house and later that night, KDZ093 heard gunfire and guards cursing, using the words “Ustashes” and “balijas”.⁶⁰³⁷ (#Heard, not seen#! Does it mean that somebody got killed? Is it enough? The two features, somebody taken to the red house and “later that night” gunfire heard, may not be in any connection. Was it so unexpected to hear a gunfire in a civil war?#Deadly combination#!)

1756. After their interrogation, detainees were often made to sign false statements regarding their involvement in acts against Serbs.⁶⁰³⁸ (This is not true, since the authorities (CS Prijedor) as early as 2 June ordered that all that had been detained by mistake be released immediately, see: P2741:

At its meeting held on 2 June 1992, the Crisis Staff of the Prijedor Municipality adopted the following han, it was numbered several categories that were to be released, and finally the next:

All persons older than 60 for whom an investigation has confirmed that they did not commit an offence are hereby released from further imprisonment.

All soldiers and military personnel who have been imprisoned by mistake while actually on leave with the authorisation of the appropriate military authorities are hereby released from further imprisonment.

was regardless of ethnicity, as well as the next:

Other prisoners who may be found not guilty in legal proceedings conducted by competent organs shall be released from further imprisonment.

since there was so many that had evidently been responsible, the Omarska authorities didn't need to force anyone, and since there was 59% of the released, that means that there was no any successful "persuading" to admit any felony! Finally, the investigations had been conveyed by the best professionals available !

Detainees were also ordered to beat other detainees.⁶⁰³⁹ They were humiliated in front of other detainees, forced to sing Serbian nationalist songs, make the three fingered Serbian sign, and were subjected to ethnic slurs by the camp guards.⁶⁰⁴⁰ On one occasion, on a Serb holiday, guards at the camp got drunk, set fire to rubber tires, and threw Smail Duratović, a well-known Bosnian Muslim athlete, into the fire, along with at least nine other detainees.⁶⁰⁴¹ Detainees, including female detainees, were regularly threatened with death.⁶⁰⁴² At one point during his detention in Omarska, KDZ026 was told by two guards that his name was on a list of detainees to be "liquidated", but that he would be saved if he gave them money.⁶⁰⁴³

1757. The beatings were administered by camp guards at Omarska, including Milutin Popović, a.k.a. "Pop", and Žarko Marmat,⁶⁰⁴⁴ as well as by individuals from outside the camp who were permitted to enter and mistreat detainees, including Žigić and Knežević.⁶⁰⁴⁵ Detainees feared these outside individuals even more than the camp guards, as the beatings were worse when they appeared; the detainees were beaten with a variety of sticks, iron bars, and lengths of heavy electric cable, sometimes with nails embedded in them to pierce the detainees' skin.⁶⁰⁴⁶ They were also attacked with knives.⁶⁰⁴⁷ Members of the intervention squad also mistreated detainees at Omarska.⁶⁰⁴⁸

1758. Prominent Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat political leaders, including SDA officials and members, as well as doctors, professionals, and police, were among the individuals most often mistreated and killed at Omarska.⁶⁰⁴⁹ (#So arbitrary#, so unofficial, like a gossip, but certainly not like a criminal case material! What kind of argument is this. This is a sort of political and propaganda statement. In a criminal case either you do not mention it, or you prove it!) Detainees frequently saw dead bodies on the lawn in front of or near the white house.⁶⁰⁵⁰ The detainees witnessed bodies being taken away by truck and they could also hear the sounds of earth-moving equipment in the vicinity of the camp.⁶⁰⁵¹ Detainees were required to clean the white house and the red house and they often found hair, teeth, skin, blood, clothes, footwear and empty pistol cartridges.⁶⁰⁵² Camp guards also forced detainees to load onto trucks dead bodies of detainees who had been killed in the white and red houses.⁶⁰⁵³ As a result, the detainees constantly lived in fear of being killed at any time.⁶⁰⁵⁴

1766. Detainees were also taken from Omarska and killed outside the camp.⁶⁰⁵⁵ In late July 1992, 46 detainees, including two female detainees, were taken out of Omarska, put on a bus, and told that they would be exchanged in the direction of Bosanska Krupa.⁶⁰⁵⁶ They were to beat somebody. But the authorities were strongly opposed to it, and how anyone from the authorities, let alone the President, could be convicted for such a cases? #No official responsible!#)

The names in the above fn. 6061 are very famous names. For instance, Muhamed Cehajic was a president of the municipal Assembly, but he was acting as an enemy of Yugoslavia and the Serbs from a very powerful position in the common authorities. He organized the blockade of the JNA and encouraged and orchestrated the Muslim organization and armament. Many people have loste their dearest and kept him responsible. The state had only one interest, to organize a trial for him and others, but pitifully he was killed. Certainly, this was against the state interests. All other names are very known as a Muslim extremists, who initiated fights and prepared a hell to the people in Prijedor.)

Sexual violence

1769. At Omarska, there were frequent incidents of female detainees who were called out of their rooms by different guards, as well as the camp commander, and were raped or sexually assaulted.⁶⁰⁵⁹ (But, the witness N. S. lied in the New York Court about her being raped. There would be more hard evidence to put this in the Judgment. How come the Chamber was so easily satisfied with such a testimonies? As if they needed anything, in order to convict the President.) On one occasion, Krkan called a female detainee into his office and told her that he knew high-ranking military officials and could help her if she had sexual intercourse with him.⁶⁰⁶⁰ Nedeljko Grabovac, a.k.a. “Kapitan”, who stayed at Omarska for only a short period and wore an olive uniform similar to the former JNA uniform, also sexually assaulted female detainees.⁶⁰⁶¹

1770. KDZ093 testified that several times during her detention at Omarska, she was called out at night and during the day, by the same guard, and taken to another room in the restaurant building where she was raped by this guard; afterwards, several other men entered the room and raped her repeatedly.⁶⁰⁶² (And she never reported this to any superior in Omarska?)

1771. Guards at Omarska also attempted to force a male detainee to rape another female detainee.⁶⁰⁶³ On the night of 26 June 1992, a detainee heard some guards laughing, the voice of a young woman crying, and a man he recognised as Mehmedalija Sarajlić pleading with the guards.⁶⁰⁶⁴ Sarajlić was told by the guards to rape the young woman and when he refused he was beaten.⁶⁰⁶⁵ The next morning, the detainee saw Sarajlić's body lying outside, not far from the white house.⁶⁰⁶⁶ (The Muslim witnesses were totally free to lie and tell stories without any possibility to check it?)

1772. Female detainees were also physically assaulted at Omarska. On one occasion, a man, wearing a camouflage uniform and a cap with a cockade symbol on it, entered the restaurant and started shouting and hitting a Bosnian Muslim female prisoner sitting at a table; he then carved a cross on her cheek and she started to bleed.⁶⁰⁶⁷ (Certainly, not a regular soldier, cockarde was not allowed! #Insignias#!) On another occasion, a guard approached a female detainee in the restaurant, uncovered her breast and took out a knife and went over her breast with it for several minutes, while other guards watched laughing.⁶⁰⁶⁸ (#No evidence#! If this horror really happened, there should be a strong evidence, heard and seen in the courtroom. Therefore, the Defence has every reason to doubt it, apart from the unavoidable fact that the President had nothing to do with that crime. The President prevented it by a general order of 13 June 92, Djerić did it even in April 92, Mladić in May 92. And the President repeated it many times, through the orders that went to the services, and had been published, so that everyone knew what must not be done ever, under the threat of punishment. Would any president be liable for such an exceptional event, not approved, not tolerated and prohibited the strictest way and repeatedly, nominating the most immediate commanders responsible for a conduct of subordinates? Or, would any president be liable for misdeeds of a renegades that he banned and disowned, and ordered their arrest and prosecution?)

1773. Female detainees were made to work in the canteen at Omarska.⁶⁰⁶⁹ On one occasion, Milorad Tadić, a.k.a. "Brk", Mejakić's driver and bodyguard, entered the kitchen and shouted at the women for giving prisoners more bread than permitted; he ordered them to face the wall with their hands up for 40 minutes, then laughed, and said it was a "warning" and he would shoot them if they gave out too much bread again.⁶⁰⁷⁰ After completing their work duty during the day, the women would clean the interrogation rooms in the evening; they found blood on the floors and walls, traces of torn clothing, and various devices, such as batons, with traces of blood as well.⁶⁰⁷¹ (#Uncorroborated and unbelievable#, since all the interrogations had been made by the highest professionals from Banja Luka. They worked every day, from 9 to 5, in order to scan all 3,000 detainees. As a result of their work, 59% of those brought in had been released!)

1774. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that non-Serbs, including civilians, were transferred to and detained at Omarska by Serb Forces between 25 May 1992 and 21 August 1992.

(Here is why these inferences and findings are wrong:

(1). All that had been detained in Omarska were #caught in the combat zone# after the Hambarine (22 May) and Kozarac (24 May) attacks of the Muslim forces;

(2). Immediately after establishing that somebody was civilian without participation in the attacks, these persons had been pardoned and released. What was the meaning of these releases, and why all of them hadn't been released?;

(3). #Being civilian doesn't mean not to be perpetrator of a crime#!;

(4). All of them formally had been civilians, because they had been a secret, clandestine part of the ABiH, not formed and declared as an army unit, therefore they had been in a status of terrorists; The detainees were held in poor conditions characterised by lack of space, poor sanitary conditions, inadequate medical care, and insufficient food.

(5). Nobody expected such a huge rebellion, with the participation of thousands of perpetrators, so the poor conditions wasn't any wilful determination of the authorities, but there was no other possibility;

6. In the same facilities there were the Serb refugees, and then the Serb army soldiers before and after the detainees, without any improvement of the facilities; The Chamber finds that the male detainees at Omarska were subjected to severe beatings by Serb Forces.

(7). The evidence of beatings is very weak and unconvincing, particularly since throug the working hours there vere a highly professional investigators, whom a mistreated detainees could report, and beside that, we did see an evidence that the officials endeavoured to protect the detainees from the intruders and outsiders, who did some misdeeds. The Chamber also finds that a number of Bosnian Muslim women detained at Omarska were subjected to acts of sexual violence by Serb Forces and were forced to work.⁶⁰⁷²

(8). There had been an evidence that some women worked in the cantine, but we do not have a convincing evidence that they had been forced to work. We do not have any convincing evidence about a sexual violence. Nusreta Sivac was lying in the New York court, while in this court she denied any sexual assault, which makes her uncredible witness. (if we are disabled to obtain the evidence of that, it still doesn't change the substance) Finally, the Chamber finds that a large number of non-Serbs were killed by Serb Forces at Omarska, or after they were taken from the camp, between 25 May 1992 and 21 August 1992.⁶⁰⁷³

(9). This is also too general, unspecified assertion, not corroborated by a hard evidence as it would be required in a criminal case. We have seen an evidence that 59% of the detained persons was released. If they joined the ABiH and got killed, and recovered from some grave, it is not a sufficient proof that they had been killed while in Omarska. A "large number" is not enough, it should be specified by their names and circumstances of their deaths, as well as about the shifts and the chiefs if it, and finally of a perpetrators. Certainly, there is a degree of the command responsibility of the commander of the detention, but it is limited strictly to him and his knowledge and abilities to prevent or punish.

⁶⁰⁷² However, the Chamber notes that this type of forced labour is not charged in the Indictment, which only covers forced labour at the frontlines.

⁶⁰⁷³ This finding does not include the persons alleged to have been killed in Scheduled Incidents B.15.3 and B.15.4, which are discussed below.

(10). Anyway, whatever happened, it was in a sharp contradiction with everything what the President ordered in many occasions!(# In contrast with presidential orders#!)

(iii) Scheduled Incident B.15.3

1775. The Indictment refers to the killing of a number of men and women taken from Omarska in the area called Hrastova Glavica on or about 5 August 1992⁶⁰⁷⁴ (#Some killed some!# Who was killed by whom, wneh and where?)

1776. On 5 August 1992, two bus loads of approximately 120 detainees from Keraterm were brought to Omarska.⁶⁰⁷⁵ Dr. Esad Sadiković, who was regarded by other detainees as a “moral and spiritual authority” at the camp, was called out by Prcać that night and he was made to board one of the buses along with the other detainees from Keraterm already on the buses; they left Omarska in the direction of Sanski Most.⁶⁰⁷⁶ (But in the Serb community Dr. Sadikovic had a terrible reputation. The rumors about his activities against the fertility of the Serb women may have been exaggeration, and probably it was an exaggeration, but still it indicates a bad reputation. So, beloved by the Muslims and demonised by the Serbs, he must have been a bit more than “moral and spiritual authority”, regrettably.)

1777. The Chamber took judicial notice that on the way to Sanski Most, unidentified Bosnian Serbs shot dead a number of the detainees being transported on the buses.⁶⁰⁷⁷ (#Somebodi unknown#! How do we know that it wasn't a Muslim ambush shooting at the Serb bus, or some of many groups of the Muslim terrorists operating in the zone, see the documents pasted above! And is this President responsible for misdeeds of these unidentified Serbs, or others?) The bodies of 126 individuals were later found in an area called Hrastova Glavica and 46 individuals were identified.⁶⁰⁷⁸ (#Identified, as who?# the same way would be identified all the combat casualties, buried druging the sanitation process after a battle! What happened to the others? A combat casualties? How come that one third of the remains were found to be illegally killed, and for the two third the causes and manner of death unestablished? Wouldn't it be the most reasonable to infer that all of them were combat casualties, and that those who once were in Omarska had been exchanged, then joined the BH Army and got killed in skirmishes? For 121 of the 126 bodies, the forensic experts determined that the cause of death was a gunshot wound.⁶⁰⁷⁹ (No wonder, taking into account a permanent armed skirmishes. How the Chamber differentiated who were a combat casualties from those allegedly killed. The Chamber had an evidence from May 28, 1992, signed by “Milos” (P06685) stating that there were a hundreds of casualties in the combats, even before the attack on Prijedor on 30 May 92, see P06685:

The situation in the area of the Municipality of Prijedor is gradually returning to normal. The fighting in the Kozarac area is coming to an end and most of the places are held by the Army of the Serbian Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina. Our forces have lost 5 men and about 10 have been wounded, whereas, according to many fairly reliable sources, it is estimated that enemy losses amount to several hundred men. A huge number of persons have been arrested or have surrendered and the municipal authorities are having great difficulty in providing them with food and shelter, especially since there are many children, women and old people amongst them. There is fighting in the area of the Municipality of Sanski Most and it is thought that it could escalate and become even more violent. Once we have processed and analysed the data we have gathered we will provide you with more detailed information on this situation as well as on other events.

1) First, we see that the civilians were a big burden to the local authorities, because there was no sufficient space for accommodation, there was no food, and so on, which explicitly depicts that a “detaining” of civilians was not an objective of the authorities, but a taking care of them in the combat zone!

(2) What happened with those #“several hundred” combat casualties#? Had they been buried? When exhumed, how this combat casualties were characterised? As a civilians? They had to be buried, and eventually exhumed after the war. How many times the Muslim commission for missing persons reported that there were a combar casualties? Never, they presented all of them as a civilian victims of an unlawful killing. And this court is to help them in forging the history of this conflict, or the Chamber will be so easy to be deceived? #Combat casualties as civilian#!)

1778. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that approximately 120 non-Serb civilians taken from Keraterm and Omarska were killed by Serb Forces on or about 5 August 1992 in the area of Hrastova Glavica. (Again, an #abuse of a “Serb Forces”# although it was an “unidentified Bosnian Serb”, although the “Serb Forces” had about 215,000 soldiers, and about 2,150 professional and several hundred reserve policemen, and nobody out of this official forces was a member of the “Serb Forces”. So, this is deeply unfair to allocate every single crime in a civil war to the official “forces”. Nobody denied that some outsiders sometimes succeeded to intrude in the Investigation Center, but were prevented whenever it was possible, see D3488.

i. Scheduled Incident B.15.4

1779. The Indictment refers to the execution of over 150 men from the Brdo region of Prijedor at Omarska on or about 20 July 1992.

1780. On 16 July 1992, a group of about 200 people from the Brdo area, including Hambarine, were brought to Omarska in buses and detained in the white house.⁶⁰⁸⁰ In the middle of the night, KDZ048 heard gunshots and saw a number of dead and wounded people lying in front of the white house.⁶⁰⁸¹ He then saw camp guards, including Zivko Marmat, firing one additional shot into the heads of each of these people.⁶⁰⁸² A truck arrived, and detainees held in the hangar were given the task of loading the bodies on to the truck, which was then driven away.⁶⁰⁸³ The truck returned several times to be re-loaded and KDZ048 estimated that there were about 180 bodies in total.⁶⁰⁸⁴

(#Dealdy combination#! How possibly any reasonable chamber could accept this “esteem” from a phantom like KDZ048, 92bis, not cross examined or tested in any way in this case?)

All of the detainees held in the white house were killed that night and it was empty the following day.⁶⁰⁸⁵ (#Impossible#! It would be impossible to have such a mass execution in a facilities full of detainees and guards, close to many settled places, and not to have a general knowledge about that. If the white house “was empty the following day”, there are many possible inferences, more probable than executions!)

1781. Based on the totality of the evidence before it, the Chamber therefore finds that at least 150 non-Serb detainees from the Brdo region were killed by Serb Forces on or around 20 July 1992 at Omarska. (#Muslim strongholds#! The Brdo region was full of the combatants, there were certain fights, but it was visible (Atlija) that there were a two kinds of “soldiers”, a regular one, and another kind, with the insignias not characteristic for the VRS, and their conduct was not a typical one. We saw how the authorities characterized this conduct, in the Drljaca and Zupljanin, and Milos documents, see it pasted!)

(vi) Visits to Omarska and transfer of detainees

1782. On or around 15 July 1992, a high-ranking delegation from Banja Luka and Prijedor, including Brđanin, Kuprešanin, Župljanin, Stakić, Radoslav Vujić, Predrag Radić, and Talić, visited Omarska and were received by Drljača and Mejakić.⁶⁰⁸⁶ Nusreta Sivac and other women watched the delegation arrive through the glass walls of the canteen at Omarska; a choir of detainees—“living skeletons”—had been lined up outside the canteen and they sang Chetnik songs and gave the three finger Serbian salute as the delegation passed by.⁶⁰⁸⁷

1783. According to Mejakić, Drljača then met with the delegation in the administration building without Mejakić present, where Župljanin denounced the camp and asked that it be dismantled immediately.⁶⁰⁸⁸ However, the camp was not closed immediately after this visit and, in fact, on 20 July 1992, Župljanin sought the view of RS officials regarding the status of detainees of no security interest being held in ARK detention facilities and recommended that they be treated as ⁶⁰⁸⁵ P3528 (Witness statement of Kerim Mešanović, undated), p. 56. However, Mejakić gave evidence that crimes in Prijedor were “fabricated and attributed to Serbs under RS leadership”. According to him, this includes the killing of 3,500 civilians at Omarska and, in particular, the killing of a group of 250 detainees brought in from the Brdo area; he stated that this incident was fabricated and is not supported by evidence. D4138 (Witness statement of Željko Mejakić dated 26 November 2013), pp. 3–4. However, the Chamber does not find Mejakić’s evidence to be reliable on this issue in light of the other evidence before the Chamber regarding this incident. This is totally unacceptable, to discredit Mejakić, and to trust KDZ048, on such a drastic allegation. There is no chance that such a thing happened and not to be seen by many, many witnesses. Any sanitation of the battlefield, any combat casualties could have been, and had been presented as a civilian casualties of some Serb bestialities. But, anyway, the Chamber doesn’t have a credible evidence that those witnesses told the truth.

“hostages” to exchange for Serb detainees.⁶⁰⁸⁹ Furthermore, following the visit, Brđanin publicly stated that: “What we have seen in Prijedor is an example of a job well done”.⁶⁰⁹⁰ According to Kuprešanin, following the delegation visit, the President called Kuprešanin to suggest that he influence the municipal authorities in Prijedor to close the “investigation centres” in the municipality.⁶⁰⁹¹ #EXCULPATORY!# Kuprešanin subsequently asked the authorities of Omarska and Keraterm to close the facilities and to improve the living conditions for the detainees until their disbandment.⁶⁰⁹²

1784. As mentioned above, pursuant to an order issued by Mladić on 3 August 1992, Talić ordered the authorities at Omarska, Trnopolje, and Manjača to urgently prepare for visits by the ICRC and teams of reporters.⁶⁰⁹³

1785. In early August 1992, the majority of detainees remaining at Omarska were transferred to either Trnopolje or Manjača camps.⁶⁰⁹⁴ #This is incorrect#: the majority had been released and went elsewhere, or to Trnopolje for their own safety, see P:3788, p.5 ,Edward Vulliamy’s report

Stories in Trnopolje, more freely told than at Omarska, are brimful of the squalid violence and black absurdity of civil war. There is Sana, aged 13, who says: 'I was a fighter for the Muslims. They used to put us at the front when the fighting started. I was so scared that I ran away to the Serbian side of the village, to come here. I am still frightened, but I feel safer.'

1786. On 5 August 1992, Dragoljub Prcać came to the restaurant building at Omarska and read out a list of women’s names, including the names of KDZ093 and Nusreta Sivac.⁶⁰⁹⁵ Although Prcać said they were “going home”, that day a bus came to pick up this group of women and took them to Trnopolje.⁶⁰⁹⁶ (As already clear: Trnopolje was a #reception centre# for securing people in jeopardy!)

1786. On 5 August 1992, Vulliamy and two television reporting teams from ITN, including Penny Marshall and Ian Williams, visited Omarska and met with Drljača, Stakić, Kovačević, and an interpreter, Nada Balaban, upon their arrival.⁶⁰⁹⁷ The journalists interviewed detainees; however, the detainees were told not to complain about the conditions of detention.⁶⁰⁹⁸ (#Adversary testimony#! This witness was an organizer of the rebellion, and was not entirely credible while testifying about his adversaries!) The journalists were not allowed to see anything beyond the cafeteria, despite informing Drljača and Mejakić that they had approval from the President to visit the whole camp.⁶⁰⁹⁹ On or around 12 August 1992, representatives from the ICRC, as well as international and Serbian journalists, visited Omarska.⁶¹⁰⁰ The ICRC delegation was given access to visit the whole camp.⁶¹⁰¹ (#The President is criticized by all# Being kept responsible and guilty before the locals in Prijedor, but also before this Tribunal. He invited the journalists, brought them in his (governmental) plane and have given them all freedom to visit anything in the RS. The Chamber should at least notice and mention this in the Judgment.)

1787. Sejmenović was present when international journalists arrived at Omarska and was brought out to speak to them; however they did not interview him.⁶¹⁰² He had been interviewed by Serbian journalists earlier, but he did not tell the truth; rather he answered in the manner he was told in order to save his life.⁶¹⁰³ The day after the international journalists visited Omarska, Sejmenović met with Kuprešanić who informed him that he would be leaving Omarska for Banja Luka that day.⁶¹⁰⁴ Later Sejmenović learned Kuprešanić's intentions for taking him out of Omarska when he overheard a phone conversation between Kuprešanić and the President.⁶¹⁰⁵ Kuprešanić "received instructions" and responded that he was planning to get a suit for Sejmenović and allow him time to recuperate, and then he was planning round-table discussions for Sejmenović to speak publicly about the situation in Bosnian Krajina.⁶¹⁰⁶ At his own request, Sejmenović was then taken to his sister's house in Vrbanja, where Kuprešanić visited him three times.⁶¹⁰⁷ On the third visit, Kuprešanić informed Sejmenović he was going to Banja Luka to meet with the President and others.⁶¹⁰⁸ Sejmenović was brought by Kuprešanić as one of the two official SDA functionaries to meet with the President, Vance, and Owen.⁶¹⁰⁹ Following the meeting, Sejmenović confirmed Vance's public statement that Vance did not agree with the President that "no ethnic cleansing was taking place" in BiH, and stated that this was consistent with his own observations of what was occurring in the region.⁶¹¹⁰ Sejmenović left Vrbanja on 15 January 1993 after obtaining the proper documents to present to international agencies and officials to be able to leave.⁶¹¹¹ Kuprešanić wrote an accompanying letter, confirming Sejmenović's identity, which referred to the fact that he was released from Omarska at the request of the President.⁶¹¹²

1788. On 6 August 1992, around 600 of the Omarska detainees were called out as being "not dangerous" and were sent to Trnopolje.⁶¹¹³ (#Investigation results#! But, behind this decision there was a long way of investigation. So, nothing had been arbitrary, the professionals were working all the times, every day, in clarifying who was responsible and dangerous for the peace and order, and who was not. As it is presented here, with the quotation marks, looks bad and not correct. Let us see what Drljaca reported about the ending of the investigating process: P02772 on 5 August 1992:

Please be advised that the Prijedor Public Security Station, in cooperation with the competent security services of the Banja Luka CSB and the army of the Serbian Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina, has completed the processing of the prisoners of war.

:And further: .

The investigation has found elements of criminal liability in 1,466 cases, for which valid documentation exists, which we shall transfer under guard, along with the persons it pertains to, to the Manjača military camp on 6 August 1992. The remaining persons are of no security interest, and will be transferred to the reception camp in Trnopolje on the same day and under escort provided by this SJB. Trnopolje is a location where Muslims fleeing from the combat operations in the municipality have found shelter. Security at the camp is provided by the army of the Serbian Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

(#Innocent released#! So, behind the entire job after the capture of the suspects had been entrusted to the highest officials from Banja Luka, who investigated and gave the conclusions. As in any other country. The 59% of detainees had been released! The investigating documentation had been taken away by the SFOR! But the release happened all the time, immediately after established innocence, see a certificate of 24 July 92, D4714:

It is hereby certified that Dr. Ibrahim BEGLERBEGOVIĆ was taken by mistake to the Omarska refugee camp. He was subjected to operational processing and it was established that there were no elements for his further detention.

! On the same day, a second group of approximately 1,300 detainees, including KDZ026, were taken to Manjača.⁶¹¹⁴ The men in this second group were put on to buses by members of the intervention squad and the buses departed Omarska; there were approximately 100 to 120 men on KDZ026's bus.⁶¹¹⁵ Between 170 and 180 detainees remained at Omarska after these transfers.⁶¹¹⁶

a. Scheduled Detention Facility C.20.3

1790. The Indictment refers to the use of Keraterm as a detention facility in Prijedor municipality between 15 May and 6 August 1992.

i. Establishment of camp and arrival of detainees

1791. A former ceramic tile factory located on the eastern outskirts of Prijedor, Keraterm operated as a detention facility between 24 May and 21 August 1992.⁶¹²¹ Keraterm was clearly visible from the main road from Prijedor to Banja Luka.⁶¹²²

1792. Keraterm was established by the Prijedor Crisis Staff.⁶¹²³ The camp operated under camp commander, Duško Sikirica, and security at the camp was provided by members of the Prijedor SJB and MP.⁶¹²⁴

1793. Approximately 4,000 detainees, primarily Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat men, were held at Keraterm throughout its operation as a camp.⁶¹²⁵ Some of the detainees brought to Keraterm were originally detained at the Prijedor SJB Building, but were brought to Keraterm when the SJB was unable to accommodate the increased number of detainees.⁶¹²⁶

See also P2741 (Decision of Prijedor Crisis Staff, 2 June 1992); P2637 (Report of Prijedor SJB, 1 July 1992). Defence witnesses Milomir Stakić and Slavko Budimir testified that the Crisis Staff did not participate in the formation of Keraterm and had no authority over the facility; rather that only the police was in charge of the facility. D4195 (Witness statement of Milomir Stakić dated 16 November 2013) paras. 23, 48–49; Milomir Stakić, T. 45242–45246, 45254 (17 December 2013); Slavko Budimir, D4463 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Stakić), T. 12947–12958, 12964. However, the Chamber does not find this evidence to be credible based on the accepted evidence before the Chamber to the contrary which confirms that the Prijedor Crisis Staff was involved in the establishment of Keraterm and in its operations. Again, this is not correct, because this is another thing to allow the police to use some facilities, and another thing is an operational governing of an institution established that way. The same kind of confusion is shown when the operational command of the VRS is in question. Once again we have to state that the Chamber was very keen to discredit a Defence argument no matter what.

Beside that, this Commission had been formed and tasked by the very same Accused, in the realm of his efforts to introduce the rule of law. How this could be used against him? #Good deeds#!

1794. Keraterm held up to as many as 1,500 prisoners at one time, crowded into a number of large rooms or halls.⁶¹²⁷ Between 200 and 500 Bosnian Muslim and Croat men, between the ages of 17 and 55, were detained in Room 2 at Keraterm.⁶¹²⁸ There were other rooms used to house detainees, known as Rooms 1, 3, and 4.⁶¹²⁹ Between 250 and 270 men were initially held in Room 3 but later two more groups arrived and the number grew to 570.⁶¹³⁰ There were machine guns placed near the entrance to the camp.⁶¹³¹

1795. Interrogation teams were sent to Keraterm to interview and investigate detainees there;⁶¹³² the teams were comprised of representatives from civilian public security, state security, and military security.⁶¹³³ Dragan Radetić, a Serb military prosecutor appointed as a member of one of the commissions investigating detainees at Keraterm, testified that over a period of 15 days, his commission interviewed 50 detainees, all adult men who denied having been involved in the conflict or with the armed forces.⁶¹³⁴

ii. Conditions of detention

1796. Conditions in Keraterm were atrocious.⁶¹³⁵ Detainees were crowded into unlit, windowless rooms, with barely enough space to lie down on concrete floors.⁶¹³⁶ In Room 3, the floor was wet and the walls were stained.⁶¹³⁷ The rooms in Keraterm were intensely hot in the summer with no ventilation and the detainees were kept locked in these rooms for days on end, crowded together.⁶¹³⁸

1797. There were few toilet facilities and the detainees were allowed to go to the toilet only once a day, five men at a time, and escorted by guards.⁶¹³⁹ Initially, one lavatory was available for all of the detainees but it became blocked and barrels were supplied instead which leaked, causing an

However, Dragan Radetić testified that (i) the number of Bosnian Muslims held at Keraterm was much lower than 4,000, and he had never heard of any Serbs or Albanians being held there; (ii) Keraterm camp could not have possibly held 1,500 prisoners at once; (iii) the number of 570 being detainees held in Room 3 is exaggerated. D4226 (Witness statement of Dragan Radetić dated 17 January 2014), paras. 36–38. The Chamber does not find Radetić's evidence to be credible in this regard. In reaching that conclusion, the Chamber considers that he was not forthright with the Chamber on several occasions and that due to his involvement in interrogating detainees at Keraterm, he had an interest in distancing himself from any knowledge of conditions there. But why Radetic would be distancing himself from a knowledge of the number or conditions, since he was not responsible for the number, nor he brought anyone in? This shows how low threshold for discrediting the Defence witnesses had the Chamber! This was a completely neutral issue, particularly from the standpoint of Radetic! #Easy discrediting Defense witnesses!#!

1798. At Keraterm, both the quality and quantity of food provided to the detainees were totally inadequate, and they suffered from malnutrition and, in some instances, starvation.⁶¹⁴⁵ The detainees received two pieces of bread that they had to eat very quickly or they would be beaten.⁶¹⁴⁶ Furthermore, the food was not delivered regularly and sometimes there was no food provided at all.⁶¹⁴⁷ To supplement the meagre camp provisions, detainees were sometimes allowed to receive food brought to the camp by their families, although these occasional supplements were not sufficient to alleviate their hunger and malnutrition.⁶¹⁴⁸

iii. Treatment of detainees

1799. Detainees were beaten upon arrival at Keraterm.⁶¹⁴⁹ Jusuf Arifagić was brought to Keraterm on 14 June 1992, by bus, along with a group of about 40 other men captured with him in Mujkanovići.⁶¹⁵⁰ When his group arrived at the camp, two “Serb soldiers” entered the bus, ordered the men to get off in small groups, and began beating and kicking them as they lay on the ground.⁶¹⁵¹ Safet Tači, a young Bosnian Muslim man who resided in Kozarac with his family until 1992, was also taken to Keraterm by “Serb forces” in mid-June 1992.⁶¹⁵² Arifagić and Tači were put in Room 2, where other men from villages in the Prijedor region, who had also been physically mistreated, were being held.⁶¹⁵³ On the evening of their arrival, Arifagić and the men who had been brought in with him were ordered to leave Room 2 and to lie down on the ground outside, where they were severely beaten and told to confess to being members of the Green 1800. KDZ074 was captured in the woods between Čarakovo and Hambarine by armed men in camouflage uniforms and taken to Keraterm on 8 July 1992.⁶¹⁵⁵ Upon his arrival, he was interrogated and beaten, and then taken to Room 2.⁶¹⁵⁶ (#Combatant#! 1801. While in detention, beatings were very frequent at Keraterm.⁶¹⁵⁷ The guards called out the names of detainees, often at night, and they were taken outside and beaten.⁶¹⁵⁸ Those who returned were bloody and bruised all over; some died of their injuries.⁶¹⁵⁹ Some detainees who were called out never returned, and the other detainees assumed that they had died as a result of the beatings.⁶¹⁶⁰ (#Assumption that they died#! Zoran (/son of/ Nikola) ŽIGIĆ, an armed uniformed person (I do not know which unit he belongs to) came to the Keraterm reception centre several times at night, together with Duško KNEŽEVIĆ, Zoran VOKIĆ and Željko TIMARAC. Despite our warnings not to enter the reception centre compound, they entered explaining that they were going to talk to one of the prisoners.

According to the guards, they beat prisoners to exhaustion after which they left. Those beaten would die a few days after they left.

I hereby ask the responsible bodies to suggest to the military command that /overwritten by hand: such/ conscripts should be prevented from committing these arbitrary acts.

Any intervention on our part would result in an armed conflict, which is not in anyone's interest at this moment.

Subject: Order for Detention of Zoran ŽIGIĆ

TO THE PRISON ADMINISTRATION

Banja Luka

Prijedor SJB on 1 July 1992 detention is ordered for Zoran ŽIGIĆ, son of Nikola, from Prijedor, M. Softića street number 10, on suspicion that he committed the crime of Accepting Bribery described in Article 230, paragraphs 1, 4 and 5 of the SR BH Criminal Code.

(#Officials vs. crimes#! So, the position of the Serb officials was the same as the one of the Prosecution and the Chamber. In the first year of the war there were many groups and individuals with armament, with an unknown affiliation. Those were the forces which the President disowned 13 June 92, ordering their legal persecution.) Additionally, some prisoners were questioned about money and taken to their homes and were made to search for money, which was handed over to the guards if found.⁶¹⁶⁸

1803. Women detained in Keraterm were also raped.⁶¹⁶⁹ KDZ093, a Bosnian Muslim woman from Prijedor, was arrested with others from her apartment building on 14 July 1992 by “Serb forces” wearing police uniforms—light blue shirts and grey-blue trousers—and brought to Keraterm.⁶¹⁷⁰ They were immediately brought to a room and Sikirica, who introduced himself as the commander of the camp, ordered them to take off their jewellery and everything they had

See also Dragan Radetić, T. 45681–45684 (20 January 2014), T. 45689–45690 (21 January 2014). Stakić also testified that at Keraterm, “people would be taken away by armed individuals”, but he did not know who these individuals were. Milomir Stakić, T. 45250–45251 (17 December 2013).

⁶¹⁶⁸ See Adjudicated Fact 1214. See also D1925 (Prijedor SJB criminal report, 2 July 1992) (stating that Zoran Žigić was under suspicion of having received a bribe from Esad Marošlić, a detainee held at Keraterm, on 9 June 1992); D1926 (Order of Banja Luka CSB, 1 July 1992) (ordering that Žigić be detained for three days for accepting the bribe from Marošlić). However, Radetić stated that (i) he never noticed that the persons he interviewed had any signs of physical abuse; (ii) beatings did not occur during interrogations while he worked at Keraterm; (iii) beatings never occurred in his presence; (iv) “Muslim members of the security structures, including the police, were not kept together with the civilians held at Keraterm” and he believed they were interviewed separately; and (v) he never heard of any cases of detainees being made to search for money in their homes by guards and he is convinced it was not done by anyone participating in the commissions interviewing detainees. D4226 (Witness statement of Dragan Radetić dated 17 January 2014), paras. 32, 43–46, 48; Dragan Radetić, T. 45680 (20 January 2014). However, Radetić also admitted that he received information and was aware that Žigić, Knežević, and others beat prisoners at Keraterm, after which the detainees died. Dragan Radetić, T. 45681–45684 (20 January 2014), T. 45689–45690 (21 January 2014). See also D4140 (Official note of Prijedor SJB, 4 July 1992). Based on these internal inconsistencies in Radetić’s evidence, as well as the Chamber’s observation that he was not forthcoming on several occasions, the Chamber does not find Radetić’s evidence that beatings did not occur at Keraterm to be reliable. The Chamber also notes that during his testimony, as demonstrated by these statements, Radetić attempted to distance himself from any knowledge of mistreatment of detainees or conditions of detention.

on.⁶¹⁷¹ That night, Nedeljko Timarac took KDZ093 and another Muslim woman who was her neighbour, to two separate offices inside the Keraterm building.⁶¹⁷² KDZ093 was then repeatedly raped by Timarac and “other men” throughout the night on a table.⁶¹⁷³ A guard found her in the morning in a pool of blood and ordered her to wash up and brought her out to the yard where she sat for two to three hours in bloodstained clothes.⁶¹⁷⁴ The same guard brought KDZ093’s neighbour out that morning; she looked frightened and was crying.⁶¹⁷⁵ That afternoon, KDZ093, her neighbour, and a group of six or seven men were taken to Omarska camp in a “police van”.⁶¹⁷⁶

(It is not believable that Sikirica had to do anything with this Timarac, since he reported one Timarac (FN unclear in the original) further, the prompt removal to Omarska was motivated by an attempt to spare the women. #Officials vs. crimes#!)

1804. Detainees at Keraterm were eventually transferred to Omarska or Trnopolje.⁶¹⁷⁷ Arifagić was transferred by bus from Keraterm to Trnopolje on 1 August 1992, along with many others.⁶¹⁷⁸ On 5 August 1992, a soldier read out a list of names of detainees, numbering about 120 men in total, and they were put on to two buses and drove away.⁶¹⁷⁹ After those two buses were driven away, new buses arrived and the remaining detainees in Keraterm, including KDZ050, were put on these buses and taken to Trnopolje.⁶¹⁸⁰

(iv) Conclusion on conditions of detention and treatment of detainees

1805. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that non-Serb civilians from multiple locations were brought to and detained at Keraterm by Serb Forces from 24 May 1992 until at least 5 August 1992. (#Distorted and fake#!T his finding can not survive, since the term “civilians” is not corroborated with any proof. There was an armed rebellion, the uprising of the terrorists who weren’t either declared or marked as an army, and certainly having a civil cloathings. How come so many Serb soldiers and policemen got killed? Why the Serb Army and Police would detain so many civilians, while so many contemporaneous documents confirmed arrest and capture a couple of thousands of the Muslim terrorists who made this armed rebellion and killed so many Serbs? Every civilian without participation in this criminal act had been released immediately! So, only after the first triage, a separation of those that had been detained by mistake from those that were responsible for the bloodshed, one could mention civilians, but only as released.) The detainees were held in poor conditions which included lack of space, inadequate bedding, poor sanitary conditions, lack D4226 (Witness statement of Dragan Radetić dated 17 January 2014), para. 47. The Chamber does not find Radetić’s evidence in this regard to be credible given his attempt to distance himself from any knowledge of mistreatment of detainees at Keraterm. How possibly a military prosecutor would be responsible for what was happening in a detention unit after a working hours? Why would he distant himself? He simply testified that this was not known at the time, otherwise he would have it in his investigating evidence. Why would he hesitate to react, whyle Sikirica, as the commander, filed a criminal report? If the Chamber didn’t trust another lawyer, a military prosecutor, whom it would trust? The Chamber really didn’t think twice.

of food, and inadequate medical care. (Still, it doesn't prove an official intention to be that way, but only a conditions and capability of the authorities to find out a solution for a sudden event that wasn't expected in such an extent!) The Chamber finds that detainees were subjected to regular beatings by Serb Forces at Keraterm. The Chamber finds that at least one detainee died as a result of beatings.⁶¹⁸¹ (#Abuse of the "Serb Forces# term#! The "Serb Forces" was Zigic, for whom Sikirica didn't know to what formation he belonged, and made a criminal report against him, demanding the prosecution!) The Chamber also finds that a number of Bosnian Muslim women were raped by Serb Forces at Keraterm. (The Defence wasn't in a position to challenge the rapes allegations.)

(v) Scheduled Incident B.15.1

1806. The Indictment refers to the killing of approximately 150 people in Room 3 at Keraterm on or about 24 and 25 July 1992.

1807. On 20 or 21 July 1992, the detainees held in Room 3 were relocated to Rooms 2 and 4.⁶¹⁸² Room 3 was then filled with groups of Bosnian Muslim men who arrived in buses from the Brdo area.⁶¹⁸³ A few days later, on or around 24 July 1992, the detainees held in Room 3 were allowed to leave the room to lie on the grass outside for two or three hours.⁶¹⁸⁴ On that day, there was a noticeable increase in activity at the camp, with more vehicles and more "soldiers" present, who were singing.⁶¹⁸⁵ Early that evening, the detainees were brought back to Room 3, and the door was locked.⁶¹⁸⁶ The detainees in Room 2 were also told to go into their room early, just before nightfall, face the wall, and stay calm.⁶¹⁸⁷

1808. Later that night, around 9 or 10 p.m., the detainees heard a lot of commotion outside, including trucks and members of the army entering the camp.⁶¹⁸⁸ A table was set up opposite Room 3, with a chair beside it and the area was lit up with strong lights; later, a heavy machine gun was placed on the table, pointed towards Room 3.⁶¹⁸⁹

1809. At around 11 p.m. or midnight, there was a short burst of gunfire towards the window of Room 3, and later pebbles were thrown at the windows and on the roof.⁶¹⁹⁰ The detainees inside began to behave strangely, their eyes stinging, and KDZ050, who was at the back of the room, began to feel faint.⁶¹⁹¹ He concluded that some kind of tear gas or other poisonous gas must have been thrown in the room.⁶¹⁹² (#"He concluded"???? He may have said it, but the Chamber shouldn't take it for granted!) The detainees began to push against one another, and then broke the door down in an effort to escape, at which point KDZ050 heard the first burst of machine-gun fire from outside.⁶¹⁹³ The shooting lasted for four or five minutes, and then there was a lull, before it started again.⁶¹⁹⁴ KDZ050 passed out briefly, but counted three such bursts of machine-gun fire in total.⁶¹⁹⁵ He heard men crying out for help, as well as the sound of the soldiers outside trying to prevent people from escaping.⁶¹⁹⁶ Afterwards, he also heard infantry weapons being fired outside a couple of times.⁶¹⁹⁷ (#Distorted#! There is a clear indication of a riot among the detainees. To guess the reasons is not a recommendable, and it should have been established by professionals. It is pity that no live witnesses of this incident was heard in the courtroom, but such a general assertions are not acceptable in a criminal case! One fact is beyond a reasonable doubt: there was an attempt to escape, and since the detainees had been captured in the Brdo area, that could have been a desperate attempt to escape, since they were aware of their own responsibility for so many victims of their rebellion!)

1810. Detainees in Room 2 heard a burst of gunfire from automatic rifles, the sounds of metal and glass breaking, and men crying out from Room 3.⁶¹⁹⁸ One of the detainees in Room 2 heard one of the “Serb soldiers” swearing and saying: “Don’t come out or we’ll shoot. There they are. They’re fleeing” and then the sound of gunfire.⁶¹⁹⁹ (Another evidence in favour of an escape attempt.)

1811. The next morning, KDZ050 saw blood all over the inside of Room 3, as well as the bodies of injured and killed men lying around.⁶²⁰⁰ He estimated that there were around 200 dead bodies piled inside and outside the room.⁶²⁰¹ (His #“esteem”# is not a judicial fact, there should be an exact evidence. Not to forget that he was in the opposite Army, or rather a terrorist group affiliated to this Army, a group that had been defeated, and therefore he was interested in lying!) The survivors were then told to come outside, where they stayed on the grass for three or four hours.⁶²⁰² Also that morning, a large truck arrived in the camp and was parked in front of Room 3.⁶²⁰³ All the detainees were told to come out of their rooms, and those who looked strongest, including Tači and Arifagić, were directed to load bodies from Room 3 into the truck.⁶²⁰⁴ It took about an hour to load all of the bodies, and then the truck drove away.⁶²⁰⁵ In addition, those who had survived but were injured were also taken away in the truck.⁶²⁰⁶ Blood dripped from the truck as it left.⁶²⁰⁷ A fire engine, or some type of truck equipped with water and

1812. Those who survived were returned to Room 3 after it was cleaned.⁶²⁰⁹ The following night, Arifagić heard shooting again from Room 3, although it did not last as long as the first time.⁶²¹⁰ At one point he heard someone shouting: “What are we going to do? There are survivors here”, and he then heard about 40 individual shots.⁶²¹¹ Once again, the next morning, a truck arrived and bodies were loaded on to it.⁶²¹² In addition, the occupants of Rooms 1, 2, and 4 were ordered to go outside, and those who had injuries were told to board the truck, as were the six men who had been involved in loading the bodies, and it drove away.⁶²¹³ A day or two after the shootings, Arifagić saw Simo Drljača in the camp, near Room 1.⁶²¹⁴ Some of the detainees approached him, and he said that “this” should not have happened and they had his assurances that they would not be harmed again.⁶²¹⁵ (#Official vs. crime#! So, the most important official distanced himself from the incident, seems to be sorry and promised to undertake a security measures not to have it repeated. Certainly, the incident was not a part of any policy of the RS!)

1813. Defence witnesses testified that the killing incident which occurred in Room 3 at Keraterm (i) resulted from a rebellion or an escape attempt by the detainees;⁶²¹⁶ or (ii) were spontaneous killings by local battalions or reservists, committed in revenge for Serbian soldiers killed at the frontline.⁶²¹⁷ The Chamber considers that these claims are speculative and hearsay; therefore, the Chamber does not find the evidence of these witnesses to be reliable. (#Not intended#! But, certainly, the Chamber didn't have any evidence that it was a premeditated move within the state policy, and that is the most important from the standpoint of this Defence. Once it is excluded, all other reasons and inferences are irrelevant from the standpoint of this President.)

1814. The Chamber took judicial notice that a minimum of 190 persons were killed in Room 3 at Keraterm.⁶²¹⁸ Furthermore, in assessing the overall number of persons killed during this incident, the Chamber has considered witness testimony that (i) there were approximately 200 dead bodies piled inside and outside of Room 3 the morning after the killings there;⁶²¹⁹ and (ii) out of approximately 570 Bosnian Muslim men who were detained in Room 3, about half of them survived the killings in Room 3 on or around 24 July 1992.⁶²²⁰ In addition, the Chamber received forensic evidence to support the deaths of some identified individuals at Keraterm in connection with the killings in Room 3 on or around 24 July 1992.⁶²²¹

1815. In weighing the totality of the evidence before it, the Chamber is therefore satisfied that at least 190 Bosnian Muslim men were killed in Room 3 at Keraterm by Serb Forces on or about 24 and 25 July 1992. (#Not intended, but incident#! Let it be even much less, this is a horrible crime only if it wasn't caused by an attempt to break through and escape. Otherwise, it would be a tragedy of a civil war among neighbours. Had it been an attempt of escape, there must be taken into account that the guards are also scared and facing a possibility of their deaths every day. However, what happened in this incident was in a #sharp contrast to everything what this President had ordered or banned#. Also, there are elements which indicate that there was really an attempt of an escape, and this can not be dismissed so easy, since several Muslim witnesses testified that had heard such a noises. In any case, this incident wasn't proven to be a premeditated even by the local authorities, let alone the central one, or the President himself. This can only be a strong evidence against a civil war, not against this President.)

D04675, Milos about the Muslim forces around Prijedor, 23 May 92 (by mistake 93)

We have highly reliable information at our disposal that there are very strong, organised Zelene Beretke /Green Beret/ military formations in the Kozarac area, Prijedor municipality. In the Ljubija area, Prijedor municipality, there are extremist HOS /Croatian Defence Forces/ armed groups which are in control of government in one part of that area, and hold some vital facilities. Kozarac poses the greatest threat to the security situation in Prijedor municipality. It is to be expected that there will be inter-ethnic incidents and armed conflicts in almost all the municipalities in the Bosanska Krajina, most of all in the Kotor Varoš, Prijedor, Ključ and Skender Vakuf municipalities.

It is very well documented that the area of Prijedor was a battlefield with a very intense armed skirmishes, with the fear on all the sides, with many combat casualties, and without any insight into the situation by the central authorities, let alone any possibility to help, influence or intervene! Let us see how was in at the end of July 92, D3827:

3. – The situation on the ground is characterised by the gradual capture and elimination of extremist groups in the Prijedor and Kotor Varoš areas.

Requests to move out from the Muslim and Croatian populations have intensified.

(#Combat casualties as civilian# POW-s as civilians#! What happened with those captured during these two months combats? They had to be detained somewhere. How the casualties had been depicted? In these fake testimonies, none of the combat casualties were mentioned, all had been depicted as a different killings in detention facilities! How the President could have been liable for such a development which depended exclusively on the conduct of the local sides, particularly the Muslim one?)

(d)Scheduled Detention Facility C.20.4 and Scheduled Incident B.15.5

1816. The Indictment refers to the use of Trnopolje as a detention facility in Prijedor municipality between at least 15 May and 30 September 1992. The Prosecution alleges that a number of people were killed at Trnopolje and at various places after they were taken from the camp between 28 May and October 1992.

i. Arrival of detainees and control over detention facility

1817. Trnopolje is located in the village of Trnopolje, which lies to the southeast of Prijedor town and on the train line from Prijedor to Banja Luka.⁶²²² The camp was established in a former elementary school and its surrounding buildings, which included a gymnasium, shop, the former municipal centre, and an attached theatre, known as the “dom”.⁶²²³ (Trnopolje was a predominantly Muslim settlement, 2,677 Muslims and 583 Serbs, and the Muslim refugees were in a position to get out in the villages and collect food, which they did!)

1818. Trnopolje became operational on or around 24 May 1992 during the attacks on Hambarine and Kozarac when residents of those areas who had been displaced from their homes were brought there.⁶²²⁴ (This is an #incorrect interpretation#, since it implies that somebody displaced the residents of those areas. There is a sufficient evidence that the population escaped from the fights which appeared after the Muslim attacks on the reservists in Hambarine, and on 24 May, an attack from Kozarac. At the first moment the population was gathering in the Prijedor town, which was under the Serb control. After the City core was full and without sufficient place, the population was redirected to Trnopolje. There is a sufficient evidence that it was so. Even Wulliamy wrote in his interview with two Muslims that Trnopolje was what the Defence sais, a reception centre, see P3788!) Initially, primarily Bosnian Muslim and

Bosnian Croat women, children, and elderly were brought to Trnopolje; however, later Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat men of military age were transferred there from Keraterm and Omarska.⁶²²⁵ (Only those that hadn't been found responsible for the rebellion, and there was 1,773 of them, many more than those sent to Manjaca!)

1819. The President presented evidence that Trnopolje was an “open reception centre” where Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat refugees went voluntarily and stayed for their own protection and shelter during the conflict.⁶²²⁶ The President argues that due to its “civilian nature”, Trnopolje was only partially enclosed by a fence.⁶²²⁷ The Chamber considers that although Trnopolje was not entirely fenced in, a barbed wire fence surrounded parts of the compound.⁶²²⁸ (But, in this compound there was no any people, the compound was a storage of the construction tools, and this is not disputable!) Further, the Chamber considers that despite Trnopolje being “open” in certain areas, detainees were not allowed to leave unless under certain circumstances.⁶²²⁹ For instance, some people were allowed to leave the camp to collect food from nearby villages, as long as they left their identification documents at the camp or were escorted by guards.⁶²³⁰ (There was a war zone out of the Trnopolje reception centre, who would be responsible if something happened to the refugees? It seems that whatever the Serbs did, no matter how noble, they are guilty!) Others could leave only if they were authorised for release by Drljača or the camp commander, Slobodan Kuruzović, or if they were transferred to another camp.⁶²³¹ Furthermore, Trnopolje was otherwise surrounded on all sides by guards, machine-gun nests, and armed posts pointing guns towards the camp.⁶²³² (This was a lie, without any corroboration!) Idriz

Merdžanić, a physician brought to Trnopolje, testified that “apart from the checkpoints and the guards, even if only a simple line had been drawn on the ground, nobody would dare cross that line”.⁶²³³ Stakić further testified that people were not brought to Trnopolje, or held there, voluntarily.⁶²³⁴ The Chamber considers that in light of evidence of the security conditions surrounding the camp, the poor conditions and mistreatment which occurred there, and the testimony of witnesses who were held there,⁶²³⁵ it finds that Trnopolje was a detention facility for the duration of its existence. (This is #not correct# finding. Probably there was some shortages in food and other needed stuff, but it was the same with all population and the army. Also, there may have happened some rude expressions and conduct, but generally, it was a chelter. Ed Vulliamy should be trusted, since he was really an anti-Serb reporter!)

1820. Trnopolje was established by the Prijedor Crisis Staff.⁶²³⁶ The camp commander was Slobodan Kuruzović, a former TO commander and member of the Prijedor Crisis Staff; he was referred to in the camp as “Major”.⁶²³⁷ Kuruzović and all of the camp guards at Trnopolje wore military uniforms.⁶²³⁸ Kuruzović stayed in a house on the camp premises and was often seen by the detainees with his body guards, the Balaban twin brothers.⁶²³⁹ Slavko Puhalić assisted Kuruzović in the operation of the camp early on.⁶²⁴⁰

7327. See also Adjudicated Fact 1230. However, Puhalić testified that Trnopolje was not surrounded by soldiers, nor were there machine-gun nests or armed positions with guns pointed at the camp. D4008 (Witness statement of Slavko Puhalić dated 11 November 2013), para. 21. The Chamber does not find Puhalić’s evidence to be credible in this regard. In reaching that conclusion, the Chamber considers that he was not forthright with the Chamber on several occasions and that due to his involvement at Trnopolje, he had an interest in distancing himself from knowledge of conditions there. Puhalić was not his superior, but vice versa, and he would have an interest to see that his superior is accused of something, and there was no his interest to distant himself. This is already seen, a Serb witness doesn’t have any chance. However, there was no any new fences, but only a partial and already existing fence. The barrels hadn’t been pointed towards the camp, no evidence except Merdzanic, who was interested in denigrating the Serbs..

1821. Trnopolje was officially closed at the end of September 1992 but some people remained there until December 1992.⁶²⁴¹ (The Muslim civilians re-opened it several times, and voluntarily remained there, which is a firm evidence that this wasn't any "detention" facility. How anyone can say that there was any enforcement?)

i. Conditions of detention

1822. Detainees were held in poor conditions at Trnopolje.⁶²⁴² (The whole country was in a "poor conditions", it wasn't only Trnopolje. The country was in the war, and under the sanctions and without any contact with the world, particularly economic, except with FRY, which itself was under the sanctions too.) Early on, the buildings at Trnopolje could not house all of the detainees, so detainees were forced to sleep outdoors in makeshift shelters of plastic bags, sticks, and blankets.⁶²⁴³ (Nobody forced them, there was no alternative. It is #not fair# to leave that question this way, as if the Serb authorities had a room, but didn't give it!) Only after the majority of the women and children were transferred out of Trnopolje were male detainees able to sleep inside in the sports hall of the school or elsewhere.⁶²⁴⁴ Even then, there was little space to sleep, no beds or blankets, and detainees had to sleep on the floor.⁶²⁴⁵ (Nothing of that was due to a bad will of the authorities!)

1823. Little or no food was supplied to the detainees by the camp authorities;⁶²⁴⁶ detainees received some food which was brought to them by relatives or local residents in the area, but it was insufficient.⁶²⁴⁷ Detainees who had money were able to buy bread, but the remaining detainees had to rely upon others sharing food with them.⁶²⁴⁸ There was almost no potable water at Trnopolje, as only one pump existed for the whole camp.⁶²⁴⁹ There was no running water and only limited lavatory facilities.⁶²⁵⁰ Furthermore, there were no facilities to wash and the heat and flies made the situation unbearable.⁶²⁵¹ Due to the lack of food and unsanitary conditions, lice and scabies were rampant, and the majority of detainees suffered from dysentery.⁶²⁵² There was no organised medical care at Trnopolje but some medical assistance was provided by non-Serb detainees held in the camp, including Merdžanić and Azra Blazević, a veterinarian.⁶²⁵³ They worked out of a clinic at the camp but were not provided with any medical supplies by the camp authorities until the International Red Cross arrived.⁶²⁵⁴ (The same was with the medical institutions in Prijedor, which depended on the ICRC, and also the authorities appealed to other humanitarian organisations to help. To: MUSLIM CHARITABLE SOCIETY

We hereby inform you that our General Hospital treats patients, including a large number of refugees, from our municipality, as well as from Sanski Most and Bosanski Novi municipalities. From the outset of war, our hospital incurred an increased level of consumption and costs in an effort to provide care for the wounded and the sick. The share of burden is almost equally distributed among hospital wards, but particularly affected are the surgery and hemodialysis wards where research materials are needed for securing the necessary drugs and medical supplies for these services to function properly. We must emphasise that we had serious financial difficulties before the conflict broke out, and that the present situation, when we treat 150 Muslim patients on a daily basis without anyone paying for their treatment, may end up in a total suspension of health care services. For the sake of a better insight, we should add that the above-mentioned figure encompasses patients of all ages and with all kinds of diseases.

The only purpose of this information is to prompt your charitable society to get organised and aid our institution by providing drugs, medical supplies, food or money, so that we can continue to treat members of your ethnicity, to which our institution remains committed.

Why it was so difficult to understand in what kind of troubles was the country in a war and under a sanctions? The Chamber is #selectively collecting# and #distorting# evidence, so tu fit to the Prosecution needs!)

i. Treatment of detainees

Beatings and killings

1824. Although the scale of abuse at Trnopolje was less than that at Omarska, mistreatment was common there.⁶²⁵⁵ Camp guards cut male detainees with knives and beat them with baseball bats, iron bars, rifle butts, or whatever they had at their disposal.⁶²⁵⁶ Detainees who were taken out for questioning would often return badly beaten and covered with blood.⁶²⁵⁷

1825. A laboratory inside the clinic at Trnopolje was used for interrogations and beatings.⁶²⁵⁸ Merdžanić could hear the sounds of camp guards beating and verbally abusing the detainees there.⁶²⁵⁹ Merdžanić treated some of the detainees after they were beaten there and photographed them without anyone knowing.⁶²⁶⁰ Beatings also occurred outside and in a boiler room in the school building.⁶²⁶¹ On one occasion, Žigić beat and kicked one of the detainees who had arrived from Keraterm and no one tried to stop him.⁶²⁶² (#Arrested, criminally reported#! Obviously, this happened before Zigić was arrested. All the above described misconduct could have been reported to Kuruzovic, and he would find a remedy. 1826. Detainees, including female detainees, at Trnopolje were verbally abused, insulted with ethnic slurs, and threatened with death.⁶²⁶³ Detainees were forced to fight each other in the camp.⁶²⁶⁴ Detainees were selected to bury dead bodies in nearby villages and in the camp.⁶²⁶⁵ They were also taken out to perform forced labour.⁶²⁶⁶ (#All uncorroborated lies#! How possibly these inmates from Trnopolje could have been “forced” to a frontline, while the closest frontline was distant from Trnopolje a hundred and more kilometres? However, burying a bodies was an obligation for all the citizens, as well as other works, not related to fights. Namely, according to the law, all able bodied people had to have either military, or working compulsory obligation. Since the Muslims and Croats hadn’t been under the compulsory combat duties, the working obligation remained!)

1827. Detainees at Trnopolje were killed inside and outside the camp.⁶²⁶⁷ A number of detainees died as a result of the beatings by the guards during interrogations.⁶²⁶⁸ At least two detainees died in Trnopolje as a result of lack of medical care.⁶²⁶⁹ Others were killed by camp guards or other soldiers who entered the camp.⁶²⁷⁰ For instance, on the first night of KDZ038's detention in the shop building at Trnopolje, a uniformed Serb he knew took out an elderly man, Sulejman Kekić, and beat him.⁶²⁷¹ Later that night, the same man was taken away, KDZ038 heard two shots, and the man did not return.⁶²⁷² (#Some killed some#! #Heard, not seen#! #Didn't return#! What else could have happened with him? Only killing? Did anyone see his body or buried him? In any case, even if that happened, this would be an individual crime, not a crime of the system, for which this President would be liable!) The Chamber is satisfied that this individual was killed. (Would any court in the countries of origin of the Honourable Judges be satisfied with this kind of evidence?) KDZ054 recalled one night during his detention when soldiers from a reserve unit came into the camp and called out six detainees from the Forić family.⁶²⁷³ They took them behind the corner of the building and about 10 to 20 minutes later, KDZ054 heard shooting.⁶²⁷⁴ Later, the detainees who were selected to bury the bodies confirmed that the six detainees who had been taken out earlier were shot dead.⁶²⁷⁵ (All and every single example indicates a sort of #personal revenge#, which is still a crime, but certainly not induced by the authorities, which can be liable for a negligence, incompetence and other omissions. This has nothing to do with the President!)

1828. Shortly after KDZ038 arrived at Trnopolje on 20 July 1992, a group of men from Bišćani arrived at the camp on a bus; KDZ038 saw that 12 of the men were called out and sent back to the bus, which drove them away.⁶²⁷⁶ Later, he was told by people who had walked some of the way from the Brdo area to Trnopolje that they had seen the dead bodies of these men in an area called Kratalj.⁶²⁷⁷ (How those being in Brdo could have known who were those taken out of Trnopolje, and how they could have recognized them as bodies?) KDZ038 later spoke to a man who had been in this group of 12, who told him that the bus drove them back towards Bišćani, but that it stopped along the way and the men were lined up and shot with some kind of automatic rifle.⁶²⁷⁸ He and one other man survived the incident.⁶²⁷⁹ (A third and fourth hand evidence! why the survivors didn't come to testify?)

1829. Furthermore, on or around 8 September 1992, KDZ050 saw some of the detainees taken out to a nearby fish pond.⁶²⁸⁰ Shortly afterwards, KDZ050 heard rounds of fire from that direction, and those detainees never returned.⁶²⁸¹ The Chamber is satisfied that these individuals were killed in this incident. (#Heard, not seen#! #Never returned#! Why would they return, since the Trnopolje reception centre was on the way to be disbanded and closed, and the detainees transferred to the Central Bosnia or elsewhere? Not necessarily all shootings were a criminal events, or executions. There was always some shooting to be heard in a civil war. This can not be taken for granted, as it is so far: nobody had seen, many "had heard"!)

1830. There were many incidents of rape at Trnopolje between May and October 1992.⁶²⁸² During one of these incidents, the perpetrator told the victim: “Muslim women should give birth to Serb children”, and he also told her earlier that “Muslims were not human beings”.⁶²⁸³ [REDACTED].⁶²⁸⁴ [REDACTED].⁶²⁸⁵ [REDACTED].⁶²⁸⁶ [REDACTED].⁶²⁸⁷ [REDACTED].⁶²⁸⁸ [REDACTED].⁶²⁸⁹ [REDACTED].⁶²⁹⁰ [REDACTED].⁶²⁹¹ [REDACTED].⁶²⁹² [REDACTED].⁶²⁹³ (Such a protected witness, admitted here due to Rule 92bis, could have lied as much as he wanted!)

1831. Camp guards at Trnopolje allowed men from outside the camp, including Serb soldiers and other Serbs, to enter the camp and rape women and girls.⁶²⁹⁴ Detainees assigned to work in the clinic at Trnopolje, including Merdžanić and Vasif Gutić, treated and counselled many victims of rape there, including a 12 year old girl.⁶²⁹⁵ The incidents of rape at Trnopolje caused terrible fear and mental trauma among all of the detainees.⁶²⁹⁶ (#Lies, not reported by ICRC#! There was nothing to prevent the alleged victims of rapes to report it to the ICRC, but there was no such a reports, because there would be an immediate investigation!)

(iv) Conclusion on conditions of detention and treatment of detainees

1832. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that non-Serbs, including women and children, were transferred to and detained at Trnopolje by Serb Forces beginning on or around 24 May 1992 until at least 30 September 1992. The detainees were held in poor conditions, including lack of space, poor sanitary conditions, inadequate medical care, and insufficient food. The Chamber finds that male detainees at Trnopolje were subjected to beatings by Serb Forces and were forced to work.⁶²⁹⁷ The Chamber also finds that a number of women detained at Trnopolje were raped by Serb Forces, including by the camp commander, Kuruzović. Finally, the Chamber finds that a number of non-Serbs were killed by Serb Forces in Trnopolje and at various places after they were taken from the camp between 28 May 1992 and approximately 8 September 1992.⁶²⁹⁸ (#Deadly combination#! The “findings” are completely based on 92bis evidence, on adjudicated facts,

Puhalić also testified that he was aware of rapes committed at Trnopolje in the beginning before the military guard was established by “unknown people who were outside any control” who broke into the camp. He stated that he reported the incidents to Kuruzović and some of the individuals who committed the rapes were arrested by the military police, but he did not know if any of them were prosecuted. However, Puhalić stated that it was not true that people were allowed to visit the camp from the outside. ⁶²⁹⁷ However, as noted above, the Chamber notes that the Indictment only covers forced labour at the frontlines.

⁶²⁹⁸ This finding does not include the persons alleged to have been killed in Scheduled Incident B.15.6 which is discussed below.

and on a several testimonies of a very extreme Muslim adversaries of their Serb neighbours in Prijedor! Even if some cases really happened, it could only have been an individual crime committed clandestinely by a disobedient individuum, and nothing in the system enabled this kind of conduct!)

i. Scheduled Incident B.15.6

1833. The Indictment refers to the killing on or about 21 August 1992 of approximately 200 men taken from Trnopolje to Vlašić mountain in Skender Vakuf.

1834. On 21 August 1992, a convoy of four buses marked “Autotransport Prijedor”, organised by the Prijedor Crisis Staff and the Prijedor Red Cross to transport people out of Prijedor into Muslim-held territory, arrived at Trnopolje.⁶²⁹⁹ Primarily male detainees, including witnesses KDZ038 and KDZ611, as well as some women and children, were loaded onto them.⁶³⁰⁰ Kuruzović and members of the intervention squad were present as the detainees boarded the buses.⁶³⁰¹ When the buses were full, they left in the direction of Kozarac, accompanied by members of the intervention squad and escorted by police and military vehicles.⁶³⁰² Near Kozarac, the convoy stopped and was joined by four other buses and eight trucks, which had been loaded in Tukovi with Bosnian Muslim men, women, and children under orders from intervention squad commander, Miroslav Paraš.⁶³⁰³ Paraš and Kuruzović spoke to each other during this stop.⁶³⁰⁴ At this point, the convoy included eight buses and eight trucks, accompanied by a number of police vehicles.⁶³⁰⁵ The convoy continued through Banja Luka and on to Skender Vakuf, moving towards their final destination, which was the line of separation between Serb and Muslim controlled territory near Travnik.⁶³⁰⁶

1835. The convoy stopped a number of additional times on the way.⁶³⁰⁷ At one stop, one of the guards on the bus ordered KDZ038 to collect money and valuables from the men on his bus.⁶³⁰⁸ Members of the intervention squad also collected money and other valuables from the detainees and placed them in plastic bags.⁶³⁰⁹ At another stop, soldiers in olive drab uniforms boarded the buses and remained for the rest of the journey.⁶³¹⁰

1836. Shortly after Skender Vakuf, the convoy stopped again near a stream; young men of military age were then pulled out of the convoy by members of the intervention squad at Paraš's orders and loaded into two empty buses.⁶³¹¹ The men on KDZ038's bus were ordered to line up outside of the bus.⁶³¹² They were then told to board one of two empty buses and to lie on the floor.⁶³¹³ KDZ038 estimated that there were 100 men packed on to the first bus.⁶³¹⁴

1837. The men of military age on the bus of KDZ611 were separated and loaded into the other empty bus; some women and older men were allowed to stay on one of the original buses.⁶³¹⁵ KDZ611 estimated that there were "well over 100 people" on his bus, which proceeded, behind the first bus while the rest of the convoy carried on ahead of them, towards Travnik.⁶³¹⁶

1838. The buses continued for another 10 to 15 minutes before stopping again on a road flanked on one side by a steep cliff and on the other by a deep gorge; an area referred to as Korićanske Stijene.⁶³¹⁷ Members of the intervention squad directed the detainees on the bus KDZ038 was on to disembark, form a column two by two, and walk down the road.⁶³¹⁸ After they walked for about 100 metres, the men were ordered to stop, turn left, take three steps forward, and kneel down facing the abyss.⁶³¹⁹ KDZ038 heard a man in police uniform in charge say: "Here we exchange the dead for the dead and the living for the living" and then shots were fired towards the line of men at the edge of the gorge.⁶³²⁰ KDZ038 saw people falling down and shouted at his father to throw himself into the abyss; his father then pushed him into the gorge.⁶³²¹ KDZ038 then found himself at the bottom, his ankle broken, and his foot hanging by a tendon.⁶³²² Two men came down into the abyss and shot anyone who tried to escape in the head; KDZ038 pretended to be dead.⁶³²³ He then heard more shooting and saw dead bodies around him.⁶³²⁴

1839. Once the second bus stopped, the men on board, including KDZ611, were told to disembark by a soldier in a red beret.⁶³²⁵ KDZ611 saw the other bus parked ten metres away.⁶³²⁶ They were ordered to form a column two abreast and to walk for several minutes until they reached a wooded area with a steep slope on one side of the road and a steep drop on the other side.⁶³²⁷ The men were ordered to face the drop, to step forward to the edge, and to kneel down, at which point gunfire was directed at them by members of the intervention squad.⁶³²⁸ KDZ611 was pushed by the man beside him down the slope.⁶³²⁹ He fell to the bottom uninjured, and continued to hear the sounds of gunfire for a number of minutes.⁶³³⁰ He saw many other men falling down the slope to the bottom.⁶³³¹ Individuals who did not fall into the abyss were pushed into it by the men shooting at them.⁶³³² Grenades were also thrown into the gorge.⁶³³³

1840. When night fell, KDZ038 crawled to the river at the bottom of the gorge and spent the night there. He roughly bandaged his foot and the next day began to crawl along the river until he came to a derelict mill where he took shelter.⁶³³⁴ He was later found by some soldiers who took him to Skender Vakuf, where he was given medical attention and a statement was taken from him about the killings at Korićanske Stijene; he was then taken by ambulance to a hospital in Banja Luka.⁶³³⁵ (#Real “Serb Forces”#! 1841. KDZ611 and another man who had survived the shooting⁶³³⁶ remained hidden in the woods for two or three days, after which they surrendered to a group of Serb soldiers at a place called Galica.⁶³³⁷ They were then taken to Skender Vakuf and held with three other wounded survivors of the incident, and interrogated about what had happened at Korićanske Stijene by both

Why would several criminals and renegades, who didn’t respect the strictest orders from the President and their Minister for Interior, be considered as a “Serb Force” while the vast majority of the officials involved in this case wouldn’t be considered the “Serb Forces” that acted in accordance with the President’s orders?)

1842. In the hospital, KDZ038, KDZ611, and other survivors were beaten and mistreated by other patients and by local civilians, police, and soldiers, with the permission of the guards who were watching them.⁶³⁴⁰ Later, they were transferred to another hospital at Paprikovac, near Banja Luka, where they and other non-Serbs were also mistreated.⁶³⁴¹ Following his release from the hospital, and after being interviewed by a judge in Banja Luka about the incident at Korićanske Stijene, KDZ611 was housed by a Muslim charity in Banja Luka called Merhamet.⁶³⁴² Later, an international organisation took him back to Trnopolje to get the necessary papers to permit him to leave RS, and then on to Karlovac, from where he travelled to a third country.⁶³⁴³ KDZ038 remained in the Paprikovac hospital until 15 October 1992, when he was told that he was free to leave and, with the assistance of Merhamet, he went to stay at the mosque.⁶³⁴⁴ The wound on KDZ038’s ankle festered badly and his foot was finally amputated.⁶³⁴⁵ (#Deadly combination#! #All of this is a massive lie#, simply unbelievable and impossible, since the doctors would never allow this, and the Red Cross and the Muslim Charitable Society Merhamet were included in rescuing the survivors! It was so easy to check it, the Chamber missed the opportunity to do that, which would discredit so many fake witnesses!)

1843. On 22 August 1992, a meeting was held with Paraš, Župljanin, Bogdan Subotić, Drljača, and other high level officials at the Prijedor SJB to discuss the incident at Korićanske Stijene.⁶³⁴⁶ That day, members of the intervention squad who had been told to go into hiding after the incident returned to Prijedor and resumed their duties.^{6347 (6354)} Even far before this incident the Minister for Interior was dissatisfied with such a units within the police, and therefore ordered to disband them, see: D1534:

number of the members of police and the VRS came, as always, from the grassroots, and the only that could prevent it was a judicial record of a fine for crimes! There were several instances to decide before it reached the President.)

1846. The Chamber took judicial notice of the fact that on 21 August 1992, approximately 200 men travelling in a convoy over Mount Vlašić were killed by Serb armed men at Korićanske Stijene.⁶³⁶⁰ Furthermore, in assessing the overall number of persons killed during this incident, the Chamber has considered witness testimony that there were two buses with approximately 100 men or more on each bus.⁶³⁶¹ In addition, the Chamber received forensic evidence to support the deaths of some identified individuals in connection with the killings at Korićanske Stijene.⁶³⁶² (This is not accurate data, nor a reasonable inference: there were many busses and tracks, up to 2,000 people, and there were disembarked about 140 and killed the way it is depicted in the Judgement. There is no a Serb that can stay calm before this data, and this is a moral stain and moral responsibility of all the Serbs. But, the criminal responsibility belongs only to those who committed the crime, because it was clear that there was no any plan, that there was no any military, or political, or ethnical reason, since the people were moving to the Muslim controlled zone. But, there is a very persuasive evidence that the robbery and private criminal interests were present and had been crucial, because all the valuables taken from the people had ended in the dormitory of the perpetrators!)

1847. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that approximately 200 non-Serb men, some of whom were taken from Trnopolje, were killed on 21 August 1992 by Serb Forces at Korićanske Stijene. (The crime was committed by a small group of the police unit, but all the other #Serb officials acted the most adequate# way, saving and healing the survivors. The Judgement didn't mention that at that time the President was in London for the Conference, and as soon as the President was notified about the crime, he ordered the strictest investigation and legal action, as several witnesses testified! Finally, but not the least: another Chamber of this Court RIGHTFULLY ACQUITTED MR. STANI[I], THE MINISTER OF INTERIOR FOR THIS INCIDENT! HOW A MORE REMOTE OFFICIAL, AS PRESIDENT WAS, COULD HAVE BEEN KEPT LIABLE FOR THAT SAME INCIDENT!

Another question was: how come the main perpetrator, almost the only one, but certainly a chief of this “heroic endeavour” got a “guilt plea” status and protective measures???)

i. Transfer of detainees out of Trnopolje

1848. Women and children were taken away in convoys from Trnopolje early on until there were primarily only men left in the camp.⁶³⁶³

1849. As mentioned above, pursuant to an order issued by Mladić on 3 August 1992, Talić ordered the authorities at Omarska, Trnopolje, and Manjača to urgently prepare for visits by the ICRC and teams of reporters.⁶³⁶⁴

1850. When journalists and foreign delegations visited Trnopolje, camp officials would take down the barbed wire fence and sometimes a sign would be put up saying that it was a “collection centre”.⁶³⁶⁵ (This is a #MEAN AND MALICIOUS LIE#, uncorroborated by any document. That would be widely known it that happened! The area was never fenced, and the barb wire was all the time only around a compound-storage for a construction tools!) On 18 August 1992, ICRC representatives were denied access to Trnopolje for a week.⁶³⁶⁶ In that week, officials prepared the camp for subsequent visits by journalists and ICRC representatives by organising numerous convoys, including the convoy to Mount Vlasić on 21 August 1992, to transfer Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats out of Trnopolje in order to empty the camp.⁶³⁶⁷ (#Distorted#! The objective was not “to empty the camp”, but to comply with the three-party agreement on a unilateral release of civilians, signed in London, as it is confirmed in the ICRC document, see: D3110:

The operation took place under the terms of the agreement reached in London last August whereby the three parties to the conflict pledged to release all civilian detainees unilaterally.

So, a noble and charitable agreement and it’s realisation is depicted as a cunning move aimed to deceive somebody. Again, #testimonies of the Muslim adversaries contra ICRC documents# are more powerful than a genuine contemporaneous documents!?) The convoys transferring detainees out of Trnopolje were organised and secured by the Prijedor Crisis Staff, Prijedor SJB, Banja Luka SJB, and the VRS.⁶³⁶⁸ ICRC re-gained access to Trnopolje on 26 August 1992 and began registering detainees for the first time.⁶³⁶⁹ Let us see P807, p. 3 the most precarious situation of detention of the several thousands civilians kept there. After many demarches at local and the highest political level it was only this very morning that our delegates were able to enter in these camps again. One full week we were prevented to fulfil our humanitarian mandate with possible transfers, as it has already been the case. I expect it shall not happen again.

(NOTA BENE: “”...to enter these camps again!” Therefore, that was not for the first time they visited the camps! This is not correct assertion in the Judgment. The ICRC had been

Pursuant to our document of 13 June 1992 concerning the observation of international standards in war, I hereby re-issue the following

ORDER:

1. All protagonists should fulfil their obligation to observe international humanitarian law, especially the Third and Fourth Geneva Conventions;

See D01853:

Pursuant to the agreement which was signed by the Minister of Health, Labour and Social Welfare on the authorisation of the President of the Serbian Republic in the International Committee of the Red Cross, Geneva, the authorities of the Serbian Republic are obliged to send certain information about the prisons under the control of the Serbian Republic.

See D01874, p.1 of 23 September 92

In accordance with agreement no. 3 which was ratified on 6 June 1992, Mr KALINIĆ, a representative of Mr Radovan KARADŽIĆ, President of the Republika Srpska, on 16 September 1992 allowed delegates of the International Red Cross (ICRC) access to prisoners in Manjača for the /circled: seventh/ time.

The ICRC delegates conducted a general visit which includes access to all detention facilities, a visit to previously registered prisoners, the registration of new prisoners, tête-à-tête conversations with prisoners according to their choice and with no time restrictions.

The ICRC is taking this opportunity to thank the camp administration for its cooperation and full support which was extended to the ICRC delegates during the visit.

The ICRC would like to thank Commander POPOVIĆ and his associates for their excellent cooperation and help during the whole operation.

So, as early as 6 June 92 the President authorised his Minister for Health to commit to the agreement, which served as a basis for the engagement of the ICRC throuout the entire period of war. And the Manjaca camp administration, and the Commander himself, deserved the official thanks for being cooperative and well minded.

See: D01872; See D01875, See D00103, see D04740, see D01876, see D04821, see: D01850 see D03110, p. 1 of 2 October 92:

Geneva (ICRC) - The International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) confirms having evacuated on 1 October 1,560 people from Trnopolje camp (near Prijedor in northern Bosnia-Herzegovina) to a reception centre in Karlovac, south-west of Zagreb, where they were handed over to staff of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR). The evacuation started in the early morning and was completed during the night.

The people concerned are civilian victims of the ongoing hostilities in northern Bosnia, and had all been visited and provided with assistance by ICRC delegates since the ICRC was first able to enter the camp on 10 August. Each of them was given the opportunity to confirm that he or she did in fact wish to be evacuated.

The operation took place under the terms of the agreement reached in London last August whereby the three parties to the conflict pledged to release all civilian detainees unilaterally.

So, this #contemporaneous and genuine document# from an international organisation that hadn't been understanding the Serb position and problems, is in contrast to everything that the Prosecution, and now the Chamber find about Trnopolje. Therefore, there had been the only one week of a standstill of the regular visits, certainly without and against the President's orders.

1851. Trnopolje was officially closed at the end of September 1992, but some detainees stayed there longer so that they could be registered and leave.⁶³⁷⁰ (This is an evidence that the people decided by themselves to be in Trnopolje, because nobody would register them while in their homes.) A large convoy from Trnopolje was organised by the ICRC on 1 October 1992; 1,560 people were transferred from Trnopolje to a reception centre in Karlovac.⁶³⁷¹ All of the detainees transferred in this convoy were required to sign documents relinquishing their property rights in Prijedor to Serbs.⁶³⁷² (And this is another #horrible lie#, which disqualifies witness Merdzanic and many others. First, had it happened, it would be recorded in the ICRC document (D03110) Second, the President had already annulled any such a statement pertaining to the property matters. Third, even the Chamber accepted that there was no any transference of private property whatsoever!) It was only after signing these documents that they were permitted to leave.⁶³⁷³ (No ends of the false testimonies: on one hand, there are the accusations for an “ethnic cleansing”, on the other hand the assertions that the local authorities made many obstacles to those who wanted to leave, including many papers, and finally a demand to hand over properties! Why would anybody collect so many papers and documents, , if didn’t want to leave? And even and allegedly to give up properties?) According to the Prijedor Red Cross, over 23,000 people had been “housed” at Trnopolje by the end of September 1992.⁶³⁷⁴

1852. Some detainees remained at Trnopolje until the end of 1992.⁶³⁷⁵ (They remained there #by their own will#, as those coming to the Center from the beginning!) On 2 December 1992, Kirudja co-ordinated a convoy of 600 to 800 people out of Trnopolje to Dvor, in Croatia.⁶³⁷⁶

a. Scheduled Detention Facility C.20.5

1853. The Indictment refers to the use of the Miška Glava Dom as a detention facility in Prijedor municipality between 21 and 25 July 1992.

i. Arrival of detainees and control over the detention facility

1854. Located in the village of Miška Glava, the Miška Glava Dom was used as a detention facility in Prijedor from around 21 to 25 July 1992.⁶³⁷⁷ Miška Glava Dom was a cultural club which had been transformed into a command post staffed and guarded by members of the Miška Glava TO.⁶³⁷⁸

1855. Around 21 July 1992, a group of approximately 114 Bosnian Muslim men and boys were captured by Serb soldiers and transported in buses to Miška Glava Dom.⁶³⁷⁹ This group had been part of a column of between 200 and 300 men and boys walking in the direction of Bihać.⁶³⁸⁰ The column was attacked by Serb soldiers in the Kalejevo woods and it broke apart.⁶³⁸¹ A group from the column, including Nermin Karagić and Elvedin Nasić, ran into the woods near Miška Glava and were surrounded by about 20 soldiers dressed in olive-grey JNA uniforms and blue reserve police uniforms.⁶³⁸² The group was lined up in four columns, searched, and ordered to throw all of their possessions in a pile on the ground.⁶³⁸³ They were then led to the road, where a van was brought to take them in groups to Miška Glava Dom.⁶³⁸⁴ Three men tried to escape on the way to the van, one of whom was shot.⁶³⁸⁵

1856. When they arrived at Miška Glava Dom, the detainees were locked in a room that had served as a café.⁶³⁸⁶ Their names were recorded by an officer.⁶³⁸⁷

ii. Conditions of detention and treatment of detainees

1857. Detainees were held in the café at Miška Glava Dom for between three to five days.⁶³⁸⁸ The room was small and so overcrowded that detainees had to sit in a crouching position, with their knees to their chests and their arms around their legs.⁶³⁸⁹ It was stiflingly hot.⁶³⁹⁰ While at Miška Glava Dom, detainees received little to no food and they had to “earn” drinking water by singing songs about Greater Serbia.⁶³⁹¹ (#Deadly combination#! There is no any evidence except these 92bis! So, the Muslim extremists (because those who hadn't been extreme, continued to live in Prijedor until 94 and 95.) are free to lie as much as they wanted!)

1858. Detainees were regularly called out of the café to a smaller room to be interrogated and were beaten by soldiers with their fists and rifle butts.⁶³⁹² They suffered concussions, bleeding, and heavy bruising.⁶³⁹³ Karagić heard the moaning of his father as he was being beaten and when his father returned, he was covered in bruises.⁶³⁹⁴ Karagić also saw a man named Islam Hopovac beaten until he was “black and blue”.⁶³⁹⁵ Detainees were also beaten when they went outside to go to the bathroom.⁶³⁹⁶

1859. At one point, a man whose son was allegedly killed by Muslims in Rizvanovići entered the room and called out ten men from Rizvanovići, including Ismet Hamulić, and said he would “do the same” to them; these men were never seen again.⁶³⁹⁷ In addition, at least three men were taken out of the room by soldiers and did not return.⁶³⁹⁸ (#Did not return# how many outcomes and reasons could have been? This should not be sufficient to conclude that they had been killed, and beside that, a #personal revenges# can not be allocated as a responsibility of the authorities, particularly a distanced ones!)

1860. On around 25 July 1992, the remaining detainees were put on to two buses and transferred to the Ljubija football stadium.⁶³⁹⁹

(iii) Conclusion

1861. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that Bosnian Muslims, including minors, were detained at Miška Glava Dom by Serb Forces from around 21 July to 25 July 1992. The Chamber also finds that detainees were held in poor conditions characterised by lack of space and insufficient food and were subjected to severe beatings by Serb Forces. (#Deadly combination#! To keep somebody between three to five days, it looks like the civilians had been housed while the combats were around. However, the Defence couldn’t check anything, since all about this incident C.20.5 was based on the Rule 92bis and adjudicated facts, and the Defence was helpless in this case!)

1862. The Indictment refers to the use of the Ljubija Football Stadium as a detention facility in Prijedor municipality on or about 25 July 1992.⁶⁴⁰⁰ The Prosecution alleges that a number of men were killed at the Ljubija Football Stadium and surrounding areas on or about 25 July 1992.⁶⁴⁰¹

i. Arrival of detainees and control over the detention facility

1863. On or around 25 July 1992 in the afternoon, Bosnian Muslim civilians who had been detained at Miška Glava Dom were transferred by bus to the Ljubija Football Stadium.⁶⁴⁰² Ljubija Football Stadium was located at the entrance to Gornja Ljubija.⁶⁴⁰³ On the way to the stadium, one of the buses stopped at the entrance to an iron ore mine near Gornja Ljubija.⁶⁴⁰⁴ (All #92bis evidence#.) A policeman named “Simo”, soldiers wearing dark blue and black camouflage overalls, and members of a “Special Forces intervention squad” boarded the bus and began to beat and kick the detainees.⁶⁴⁰⁵ The bus then continued on to the stadium, and the detainees were ordered off.⁶⁴⁰⁶ (#Deadly combination! 1864. Upon arriving at the stadium, children were separated from the other detainees and held in a building that served as a changing room for athletes.⁶⁴⁰⁷

1865. Ljubija Football Stadium was guarded by Bosnian Serb policemen, members of the military, and members of the intervention squad who accompanied the buses.⁶⁴⁰⁸ A guard in civilian clothes, who was called “vojvoda”, was also present at the stadium.⁶⁴⁰⁹

i. Treatment of detainees

1866. As they exited the bus, the detainees were beaten by civilians who had assembled at the stadium, as well as by soldiers and members of the intervention squad and police, with metal rods, rifle butts, baseball bats, and other implements.⁶⁴¹⁰

1867. Some detainees were ordered to bend forward against a brick wall surrounding the stadium and were kicked until there was a stream of blood running along the wall.⁶⁴¹¹ Karagić was kicked in the face and from behind; he sustained a broken nose and hit his head against the wall.⁶⁴¹² Detainees were made to raise their arms so that their hands were positioned on top of the wall; the driver of the bus then walked on top of the wall, stepping on their fingers.⁶⁴¹³ While being beaten, the detainees were forced to sing songs about Greater Serbia.⁶⁴¹⁴ (There is no such a song!) For several hours, the soldiers beat the detainees until some of them died.⁶⁴¹⁵ (#Not corroborated# by any document, depending only on 92bis evidence!)

detainee being shot.⁶⁴¹⁷ Furthermore, Nasić's cousin, Irfan Nasić, was singled out, sent to the fence, and shot by Stiven with a pistol at close range.⁶⁴¹⁸ Nasić saw a guard nicknamed "Duča" fire at Muharem Petrovac, splitting his head in two.⁶⁴¹⁹ (All #92bis evidence.) Nasić also saw a third man shot and killed.⁶⁴²⁰ Nasić was then beaten on the head with a metal baton by a soldier and lost consciousness. When he regained consciousness, he was ordered to move the bodies of the three men who had been killed.⁶⁴²¹ (#Deadly combination# All 92bis evidence. This kind of allegation should have been presented at the courtroom and exposed to a verification through the cross examination!)

1869. The surviving detainees were then lined up in columns, with their hands behind their necks, and forced to board a bus as they were beaten further by soldiers with baseball bats.⁶⁴²² Some detainees were ordered to load the dead bodies on to the bus.⁶⁴²³ Karagić thought that one of the bodies he was made to carry was his father's, but he was not sure as the body was missing half of the skull.⁶⁴²⁴ As Karagić was carrying the bodies, he saw a pile of between 15 and 20 bodies that were already in the back of the bus.⁶⁴²⁵ After loading the dead bodies on to the bus, the detainees had to sit in the bus with their heads down, while the soldiers shouted ethnic slurs at them.⁶⁴²⁶ The detainees were then transported to the "Kipe" mine.⁶⁴²⁷ (#Deadly combination! All 92bis evidence.)

1870. The Chamber took judicial notice of the fact that at least 15 detainees were killed at Ljubija Football Stadium.⁶⁴²⁸ The Chamber also received forensic evidence to support the deaths of three identified individuals who were detained at Ljubija Football Stadium on or around 25 July 1992.⁶⁴²⁹ Furthermore in assessing the total number of detainees killed at the stadium, the Chamber has considered witness testimony that there were between 15 to 20 dead bodies loaded on to the bus before the detainees were transferred out of the stadium.

i. Conclusion

1871. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that on or around 25 July 1992, Bosnian Muslims, including minors, were transferred to and detained at Ljubija Football Stadium for several hours by Serb Forces, and that while held there, the detainees were subjected to severe beatings by Serb Forces. The Chamber also finds that at least 15 detainees were killed by Serb Forces at Ljubija Football Stadium on or around 25 July 1992. (#Deadly combination#! Based only on a few 92bis testimonies? evidence about who were those Muslims, why they had been detained, what did it mean “minors”, since we saw from Vuliamy’s report that the Muslims mobilised even 13 years old boy... Also, what does it means, “for several hours” while it was clear that it was the combat zone, which required removal of the civilians out of this zone? However, there is a regular combat report of 15 July 1992 confirming the existence and permanent activities of the Muslim armed groups in Prijedor, see D1942:

In the area of responsibility of the Prijedor command, there are still defeated groups of Muslim extremists who wish to break through and link up with Bihać and the Cazinska Krajina. They have been prevented from doing so at present, and this command is successfully controlling the area of Bosanska Krupa – Bosanski Novi – Bosanska Dubica – Sanski Most as far as the village of Ivanjska.

All of the #combat casualties# there had been depicted by the Muslim witnesses-members of the Muslim Army, as a detainees killed while detained. It was impossible to have somebody killed at a stadium and not to have it public! See what was reported on 17 July 92 by the 1.KK intelligence: D1941:

-The situation in the Cazin Krajina is again becoming complicated. About 700 Croats that live in this area want to leave this area in an organised way. Muslim forces from the Cazin Krajina are infiltrating DTG /sabotage and terrorist groups/ into our dispositions and upon the completion of an action they are paid 1,000 German marks.

So, not only the military and police forces in Prijedor had to oppose the internal terrorist groups, hidden in the woods and dug-outs, but they had to face a DTGs from the Bihać region, which made the #area of Prijedor a constant battlefield#!)

(iv) Scheduled Incident A.10.7

1872. The Indictment refers to the killing of a number of men in the Ljubija iron ore mine Kipe on or about 25 July 1992.⁶⁴³⁰

1873. On or around 25 July 1992, at least 50 detainees from Ljubija Football Stadium were put on a bus, provided by a local public transport company and guarded by numerous armed soldiers.⁶⁴³¹ They were taken to an iron ore mine southwest of Ljubija referred to as “Kipe” (“Kipe mine”).⁶⁴³²

1874. The bus stopped at Kipe mine between 8 p.m. and 10 p.m. and the soldiers called the detainees off the bus in groups of three and shot them.⁶⁴³³ The dead bodies were thrown into a hole in the ground.⁶⁴³⁴ As Nasić and two other men were getting off the bus, four other detainees broke a window and tried to escape, distracting the soldiers.⁶⁴³⁵ In the confusion, Nasić and the other two men were not shot, and Nasić hid in the hole between the bodies and pretended to be dead.⁶⁴³⁶ While this was going on, Karagić jumped through the broken bus window.⁶⁴³⁷ He managed to run away without being shot because the soldier guarding the bus was changing his ammunition clip.⁶⁴³⁸ As he was fleeing, Karagić recognised two other detainees from the bus who had also managed to escape.⁶⁴³⁹ (Why he didn't testify? Looks rather like a movie. And if the guards fired during this escape, which would be legitimate, this would be an incident in this Indictment!)

1875. After the commotion, one of the soldiers said that some of the men were still alive so they illuminated the area with flashlights to ensure that everyone was dead.⁶⁴⁴⁰ If they noticed any survivors or heard moaning, the soldiers shot them again while cursing their “Muslim mothers”.⁶⁴⁴¹ Nasić was still lying in the hole but he was not hit by any bullets.⁶⁴⁴² Once the soldiers were certain that everyone had been killed, they left.⁶⁴⁴³ Nasić returned to the site a few days later and the hole had been covered with dirt and he saw blood and pieces of clothing and shoes.⁶⁴⁴⁴

1876. The Chamber took judicial notice of the fact that all of the detainees on the bus, save Nasić and Karagić, were killed.⁶⁴⁴⁵ The Chamber also received forensic evidence to support the deaths of some identified individuals who were executed at Kipe mine on or around 25 July 1992.⁶⁴⁴⁶

1877. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that about 50 non-Serbs were killed by Serb Forces on or about 25 July 1992 at Kipe mine. (#Some killed some#! This is not a serious presentation of a case! Neither the story sounds convincing, nor there is mentioning any name of perpetrators, which would have to be the case since they knew each other very well, nor there are any document to corroborate this story of the two. This is too serious case, with references and consequences to the entire future of the region, and there shouldn't be anything “easy to sell”, through the Rule 92bis and adjudicated facts! Finally, there is no any connection with the President!)

1878. The Indictment refers to the use of the Prijedor barracks as a detention facility in Prijedor municipality between at least May and June 1992.

i. Arrival of detainees

1879. Located in Urije, the Prijedor Barracks, also known as the Žarko Zgonjanin barracks, was used as a transition detention facility in Prijedor in June 1992.⁶⁴⁴⁷ Prijedor Barracks was one of the locations in Prijedor used by the military and civilian police to investigate and interrogate suspects.⁶⁴⁴⁸ (#Legal and obligatory#! What is wrong with that? There was a terrorist rebellion causing a horrible consequences so far from the front line, that interrogations were inevitable, to separate a responsible one from those caught by accident because they had been present!)

1880. In early June 1992, KDZ026 was arrested and detained at Prijedor Barracks for a few hours; while there, he recognised another man detained there.⁶⁴⁴⁹

1881. Around 9 June 1992, KDZ392 92bis (a #very extreme family#, leading the rebellion!) and his mother and father were captured in Bešići by soldiers wearing camouflage uniforms.⁶⁴⁵⁰ They had been trying to reach the Sava River in order to cross over to Croatia.⁶⁴⁵¹ (#Combatants only#! A many thousands of the Prijedor Muslims didn't try to "reach the Sava River" because didn't participate in the rebellion. This family did, and this is so obvious from the documents, and from this escape too!) At the time, the father of KDZ392 had a pistol with him but KDZ392 and his mother were not armed.⁶⁴⁵² After being captured, KDZ392 and his parents were taken to Prijedor Barracks.⁶⁴⁵³ On the way, the soldiers captured two other men, a father and son named Suad and Fehid Trnjanin.⁶⁴⁵⁴ En route, KDZ392 also observed traces of burning in all of the villages inhabited by Bosnian Muslims along the main road leading from Prijedor to Banja Luka; while the villages approaching Omarska and at the exit of Prijedor inhabited by Serbs were not burned.⁶⁴⁵⁵ (#The only reasonable inference# is that from the Serb houses nobody attacked the Army. There is missing an unbiased and comprehensive review of what was a cause for the detention of those people, and what was the difference between them and the others that hadn't been detained ever, which is far more than 90% of the Muslim population in Prijedor!)

(ii) Treatment of detainees

⁶⁴⁴⁷ P3528 (Witness statement of Kerim Mešanović, undated), pp. 2–4; P3532 (Map of Prijedor with photographs); P3533 (Photograph of barracks in Prijedor); P3534 (Photograph of barracks in Prijedor); KDZ392, P707 (Transcript from *Prosecutor v. Defence witnesses testified that the Prijedor Barracks was not set up as a “prison” and that no civilians were detained there. D4226 (Witness statement of Dragan Radetić dated 17 January 2014), para. 27 (stating further that Prijedor Barracks was only used for holding suspects); Slavko Budimir, D4463 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Stakić, T. 12946 (testifying that he did not see any civilians being detained at Prijedor Barracks when he visited from time to time). However, the Chamber does not find this evidence to be reliable based on the evidence before the Chamber to the contrary which suggests that non-Serb civilians were brought to the Prijedor Barracks and detained there for a short period before being transferred to other detention facilities. In reaching this conclusion, the Chamber also considered that Radetić was not forthright with the Chamber on several occasions.

⁶⁴⁵⁵ KDZ392, P707 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Kvočka, T. 2646–2647 (under seal).

1882. While held at Prijedor Barracks, detainees were interrogated and mistreated by soldiers and military and civilian police.⁶⁴⁵⁶

1883. When KDZ392 and his parents arrived at the barracks, they were hit and made to kneel down in the field outside of the barracks with their hands behind their heads.⁶⁴⁵⁷ KDZ392 was taken to a building while his mother and father remained in the field.⁶⁴⁵⁸ He could hear the soldiers shouting ethnic slurs outside, and when his father entered the building, he was covered in blood and one side of his nose had been slit.⁶⁴⁵⁹ KDZ392 and his parents were then taken to the prison building in the barracks.⁶⁴⁶⁰ Despite being injured and physically exhausted, they did not receive medical treatment.⁶⁴⁶¹

1884. Detainees were held at Prijedor Barracks for a short period before being transferred to Keraterm or Omarska.⁶⁴⁶²

(iii) Conclusion

1885. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that non-Serb civilians were detained at Prijedor Barracks by Serb Forces in June 1992. (#Combatants, not civilians#! The Chamber doesn't have any basis to conclude that they were "civilians", since there is a firm evidence that they had been involved in the armed rebellion, causing the war in Prijedor, in the status of terrorists, being responsible for many deaths. The mere fact they escaped towards Croatia confirms that there was a founded reason to capture and detain them. Also, there is no connection to the President, since he didn't decide to start the war in BiH and certainly not in Prijedor!) To find evidence about Med.392@ The Chamber also finds that detainees at Prijedor Barracks were subjected to beatings and deprived of medical treatment. (What a "medical treatment" for such a short period?)

1886. The Indictment refers to the destruction of 18 mosques and two Catholic churches in Prijedor between at least May and December 1992.⁶⁴⁶³

1887. The Chamber recalls its finding that Serb Forces burned and destroyed the Čaršijska mosque in Prijedor town on 30 May 1992 during the attack.⁶⁴⁶⁴ (#Whose attack?# Wasn't it a very famous Muslim attack on Prijedor? Wasn't the Sarsijska mosque used as a military object, as was every single mosque in the combat zones?) As it was damaged beyond repair, in July 1992, pursuant to orders from the Prijedor Executive Board, Serb engineers and architects demolished the remainder of the Čaršijska mosque, as well as houses in the area, and removed the rubble.⁶⁴⁶⁵ The Chamber recalls that the Zagrad mosque in Prijedor town was also burned and destroyed on 30 May by Serb Forces.⁶⁴⁶⁶ (#All within the battle, none before the Muslim attacks.# The main question is: why not other non-Serb civilians? Why so many Croats. And a bit less Muslims from the Prijedor area were in the VRS throughout the war? Why so many Muslims stayed in Prijedor until 94, and then asked to be allowed to leave after some Muslims butchered six Serb policemen? Why some remained in Prijedor the entire time? Why less than 5% of the Muslim population was subject to the police-army investigations? What should be expected that some of these 5% would testify, particularly if not cross examined?)

1888. The Chamber recalls that the Mutnik mosque, as well as other mosques in Kozarac, were destroyed during the attack on the area by Serb Forces at the end of May and June 1992.⁶⁴⁶⁷ The Chamber further recalls that the mosque in Kamičani was set alight by Serb Forces between 24 and 26 May 1992.⁶⁴⁶⁸ (All of it after 22 May and the beginning of the armed conflict instigated by the Muslim extremists in Hambarine, and within the fights! #None before the Muslim attack#!)

1889. Additionally, the Chamber recalls that the mosque in Hambarine was shelled during the attack on Hambarine in May 1992, and again during the attack on the village in July 1992, by Serb Forces.⁶⁴⁶⁹ The Chamber also recalls that the Rajkovac mosque was shelled in late July 1992.⁶⁴⁷⁰ The Chamber further recalls that the mosque in Biščani was destroyed on 20 July 1992, and that the mosque in Rizvanovići was destroyed in the summer months, before August 1992.⁶⁴⁷¹ The Chamber also recalls that the mosque in Čarakovo was destroyed on 23 July 1992 by Serb soldiers.⁶⁴⁷² (#Abuse of religious objects#! The Chamber should also have in mind that mosques were a very suitable military objects, for firing from it, and also that many mosques served as military storages. But the main objection is such a general assertion concerning “Serb Forces”. As we all know very well, in this civil war everyone was armed, but not all of the armed Serbs were the “Serb soldiers”. In a criminal case Prosecution should be supposed to be quite specific, and a chamber should establish beyond reasonable doubt that it was the “Serb soldier”, and not an armed civilian.)

1890. In addition, the Donja Puharska mosque in Prijedor was blown up and destroyed on 28 August 1992 by Serb Forces; the explosion occurred within ten minutes of the explosion that destroyed the Catholic church in Prijedor town.⁶⁴⁷³

1891. The Chamber took judicial notice of the facts that within the summer months of 1992, the mosque in Gornja Puharska was razed to the ground,⁶⁴⁷⁴ the minaret of the mosque in Kozaruša

1892. The Prijedor SJB reported that by September 1993, not a single Bosnian Muslim place of worship remained in Prijedor.⁶⁴⁷⁷ (#No Serb officials liable#! The Prijedor SJB belonged to the authorities, and certainly wasn't responsible for what happened to the mosques. As a matter of fact, the very same document named by the Chamber sais that what happened was out of the intentions and control of the authorities. This is a document for the internal purpose, and not for the public, and the Chamber didn't do it correctly, and have hidden the right sense of the document: see D04010

In the course of combat operations and later on, many things went on that were not in keeping with official stands and views. There was uncontrolled /?exploitation/ and destruction of property, looting, abuse, arson, blowing up of privately owned buildings and places of worship of other faiths. On the basis of this, it may be concluded that currently not a single Muslim place of worship remains in the municipality of Prijedor and that over 80% of the housing that belonged to this part of the population has been demolished, destroyed and looted.

The Chief of the SJB was not happy because of that!

The increased presence of armed persons has led to an uncontrolled use of firearms which has resulted in a number of murders, suicides, serious or minor injuries and damage to several privately owned buildings in town, to say nothing of the constant disturbance of people by shooting and explosions. The village of Puharska, which had a majority Muslim population before the war, is the worst case in point. The Muslim population there continues to be more numerous than in other areas where Muslims have moved out completely because of the war. Most of the buildings in this village were spared by the combat operations and the population mostly remained in them. Over the past few months, due to the mass influx of refugees from other areas and resettlement from neighbouring Serbian villages, there have been undesirable security problems, i.e., frequent incidents in which buildings are blown up, locals intimidated, or even murdered, all with the aim of unlawfully obtaining their property.

In light of the fact that the Green Berets and their collaborators were active in the area of Kozara, Briševo and Raljaši, Prijedor Public Security Station, together with Republika Srpska Army personnel and neighbouring public security stations, in the course of last year and the first half of this year carried out a number of very successful search operations in the field, setting up ambushes and blockades, uncovering about 50 various dug-outs and other shelters and accommodation facilities, caught and liquidated a considerable number of extremists, seized a large quantity of weapons, ammunition, mines, explosives and various food items, thus breaking up those groups and drawing the conclusion that there are no such groups any more in these areas.

(#Serb officials vs. crime#!There is no doubt that the Chief of the Prijedor SJB in his "strictly confidential report# was critical of the features, not jubilant, and we see the reasons for the irregularities. And this is an official position, against any unlawfulness, crimes and chaos!)

1893. In regard to the Catholic churches, the Chamber further recalls that on 29 July 1992, the Catholic church in Briševo was destroyed.⁶⁴⁷⁸ Furthermore, the Catholic church in Prijedor town was destroyed on 28 August 1992 when Bosnian Serb soldiers broke into it and planted explosives which later detonated and destroyed the church.⁶⁴⁷⁹ (#Officials not liable# The Court in this footnote was the Serb municipal court, which indicates that the authorities didn't have any connection with this destruction. Also, taking into account the extent of destruction, it is evident that somebody without any knowledge did these explosions, since the houses in the vicinity of mosque, including the Serb houses, were damaged, see D4381:

It must be pointed out that the religious buildings were destroyed during curfew. When the explosion destroyed the church, private and socially-owned residential and business buildings in Vladimira Nazora, Ratka Maruša, Moše Pijade and Maršala Tita streets were damaged, and so were some buildings in the wider surroundings of the site.

There should be noticed that the refugees from Croatia and the Muslim-Croat parts of BiH had many reasons for revenge, since their churches had been all destroyed. For instance, the Serb refugees in Eastern Bosnia, coming from the Muslim areas only, and in this region there was not a single Catholic church damaged! Serb engineers and architects later toppled the bell of the Catholic church and used heavy machinery to remove the rubble.⁶⁴⁸⁰ (It would be more, and the only correct to quote the reason for which the bell was toppled, see: D4381:

Catholic priest's house damaged. The bell tower was badly damaged: it came out of its foundations, one storey was destroyed and it was moved from its original position. It remained standing in a leaning position and, as far as could be seen with the naked eye, it is no longer joined to the ground with a foundation.

So, had it not been removed, the public would be jeopardized, for it could have fallen!

1894. According to Riedlmayer's reports, a total of 18 mosques and two Catholic churches in Prijedor were damaged or destroyed during the war.⁶⁴⁸¹ The Chamber notes that with respect to one mosque, the Gomjenica mosque, Riedlmayer describes it as "lightly damaged" and that it was the only mosque in the Prijedor region that still had a roof at the end of the war.⁶⁴⁸² Riedlmayer states that all of the remaining 17 mosques and two Catholic churches were heavily damaged, almost destroyed, or completely destroyed. The Chamber therefore finds that 17 mosques and two Catholic churches were heavily damaged, almost destroyed, or completely destroyed. (And to whom the Chamber allocates this crime? To the local authorities? To the President? Such an absurd doesn't have any precedents!)

1895. The Chamber has considered the evidence it has received which identified Serb Forces as responsible for the destruction of mosques in Prijedor between May and December 1992.⁶⁴⁸³ It also had regard to the fact that almost all mosques in the municipality sustained heavy damage or were completely destroyed after Serb Forces took over the municipality. (#Wrong! And drastically incorrect#! A mere "taking over" of #only the Serb municipality# had nothing to do with it, but the fights that occurred three weeks later and lasted in an intensive degree till the end of July caused both detention of combatants – not civilians – and destruction of properties! Even after the "take over" the Serbs controlled only their settlements, while the Muslims and Croats were free to form their own municipalities and organise their life, and this process started, but was interrupted by the Muslim attack in Hambarine, and all the fights afterward! ONLY A COMPLETE BLINDNESS OR MALICE WOULDN'T DIFFERENTIATE THE #CAUSES AND CONSEQUENCES#!) Having weighed these factors, the Chamber is satisfied beyond reasonable doubt that Serb Forces were responsible for the attacks on and destruction of mosques and Catholic churches in Prijedor.

1896. Therefore, the Chamber finds that 17 mosques and two Catholic churches were heavily damaged, almost destroyed, or completely destroyed by Serb Forces in Prijedor between May and December 1992. (Incorrect! There is no single evidence that the official "Serb Fosces" did any of these crimes. But, the Chamber, just like the Prosecution, equalize the entire Serb population with the "Serb Forces" as a criminal organisation, just as the biased media did! #No Serb officials liable#!)

So, the general plan for Prijedor in the beginning was to evacuate population to the left bank of the river Sana, in accordance with the general defence plan, in case the general security of the population was compromised. In that case they should be given the opportunity to go to the free territory.

⁶⁴⁸³ In his final brief, the Accused argues that some of the cultural sites in Prijedor were destroyed by forces outside the control of the legal authorities in Prijedor. See Defence Final Brief, para. 1612. However, the Chamber considers that in support of this argument, the Accused only refers to testimony from Drasko Vujić, who recounted that his soldiers told him that the explosion which destroyed the Donja Puharska mosque was "a total surprise". See D4242 (Witness statement of Draško Vujić dated 24 January 2014), para. 11. The Chamber does not consider that Vujić's evidence in this regard contradicts the evidence which relates to the conduct of Serb Forces in the destruction of the mosques and Catholic churches during the attacks on villages throughout Prijedor. However, the D04010 is an internal document of the Serb MUP, and it is clear that the official authorities were against that feature, but were unable to prevent it. #Officials against crimes#!) start fights with the JNA, or not? If had, all that followed was an inevitable consequence, with the full responsibility of the Muslim side. It is undoubted fact that the Muslim extremists started skirmishes in Hambarine on 22 May, with the casualties, it is undoubted fact that the “Green Berets” started armed conflict from Kozarac, and finally, it is a marble truth that the Muslim-Croat extremists attacked Prijedor on 30 May from five directions.)

1898. At a meeting on 20 May 1992, the ARK Crisis Staff adopted several conclusions, including that there was “no reason for the population of any nationality to move out of the territory of the [ARK]”.⁶⁴⁸⁵ However, on 29 May 1992, the ARK Crisis Staff decided that Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats would be allowed to leave Prijedor and other municipalities in the ARK, as part of an organised resettlement of non-Serbs in central BiH and Serbs in Krajina.⁶⁴⁸⁶ On 1 June 1992, Kuprešanin informed the Civil Affairs Office in Sector North that 15,000 Bosnian Muslim refugees from municipalities in the ARK, including Prijedor, were moving across the border towards Dvor, Croatia, and that another 15,000 would likely follow.⁶⁴⁸⁷ (#No system, no expulsion#! But this can not and must not be qualified as an expelling, because there is no any prerequisite for that. An unease among the general population in the entire BiH was a consequence of the war. Prijedor left many Serbs and Muslims even before the war, and particularly after the fights initiated by the Muslim extremists. The evidence supporting this assertion is numerous, and it is numbered in the final appeal. But, let us post a principle of comparison:

1) the Chamber can not accept the Prosecution’s exclusion of so many municipalities without any problem. Had it been a system, there would be the same in all of them.

2) not only there was a significant difference between different municipalities, but even in the very same municipalities with problems, there was a great difference between a vast majority of the Muslim-Croats who didn’t have any problem, and much smaller groups, always less than 10% of the population of this communities that did have a problems. In any of those municipalities there was a few percent of the minority population being arrested, detained, questioned, and even fewer that had been found suspect of some crimes and detained after the investigation. A picture created by the media and the Prosecution is extremely distorted on the account of the Serbs, while the Muslim/Croat federation (now FBiH) conducted the total ethnic cleansing and killed many more Serbs, ruining literally every single settlement of the Serbs!) in such a situation of a lynch there can not be a fair trials!)

1899. On 7 June 1992, Prijedor municipal authorities decided, along with six other municipalities in the region, that “Muslims and Croats should move out to a level at which all the municipalities can maintain Serbian power on their territories”.⁶⁴⁸⁸ (#Forgery#! his is below any criterion, to accept such a papir, that is entirely forged, informal, unbelievable, no names of the participants, no signature, nothing. The Appeal Chamber should extract it from the file to save at least a bit of the face... Neither there existed any “sub-region” organisation, not even in an informal sense, nor there was such a meeting, but was some on the next day, but without any conclusions like that. even if considered, it wasn't and wouldn't ever be adopted and carried out. This is a pure idiotism. Why the Chamber was so easy to be deceived?)

1900. Mass departures from Prijedor began to take place after the attack on Hambarine in late May 1992 and gained momentum through June and July 1992.⁶⁴⁸⁹ The Prijedor SJB estimated that 20,000 citizens, primarily non-Serbs, had moved out of Prijedor by mid-1992.⁶⁴⁹⁰ (#Who attacked# Hambarine? Left as that, it is suggested that the Serbs attacked, while it is clear that the Muslim extremists, including a policeman Aliskovic, started the war by attacking in Hambarine! Regardless of so many evidence indicating that there was no any "deportation" but just contrary to that, a reluctance of the local Serb authorities to allow the leave of the non-Serbs, while these "departed" insisted to be allowed to leave. There were many obstacles to those who wanted to leave, demanding many papers to be obtained by the migrants, to deregister themselves, to pay all the taxes, electricity and housing fees, and finally to pay a ticket for a bus. Those who didn't want to leave could have simply decided not to obtain some or any of those requirements, and they wouldn't be boarded on bus. But, as before the war both the Serbs and Muslims left Prijedor en mass, so both continued to leave Prijedor, sharply demanding to be approved. See what the 1st Krajina Corps reported on 2 August 92: D3833:

established. Organised Muslim-Croat extremists continue to be active in the area of Kotor Varoš, putting up resistance in an organised manner, carrying out operations and bringing fresh troops in from the Lašva river valley.

There are no significant enemy activities in Prijedor area. Pressure, requests, and organised emigration on the part of Muslims and Croats from the wider area of Krajina are increasing, although some of the émigrés do return in organised manner and join the enemy ranks.

More comprehensive measures are being taken to control the situation in the city of Banja Luka, as well as to bring various formations under the command of the Army.

The same continued to the very end of the war. For instance, in 1994 there were international pressures on the President to allow the Muslims and Croats to leave Prijedor!)

1901. The Prijedor Crisis Staff and civilian authorities facilitated the movement of the non-Serb population of Prijedor out of the municipality through the use of buses, trucks, and other vehicles, and by negotiating with the ICRC and the Prijedor Red Cross regarding the movement of convoys.⁶⁴⁹¹ (This is rather #commendable#, because the authorities served the citizens in their needs! Would it be reccomendable to ban them from leaving the combat area? At the London Conference on BiH there was adopted an agreement on 22 May, D01603, p.6-11, and then in mid July, D04710, and September 30, October 1 1992, D01141, that all the sides are obliged to facilitate a movement of the civilians from the combat zones. 1902. The Chamber recalls that thousands of non-Serbs were transferred to, and detained at, detention facilities in Prijedor municipality in 1992.⁶⁴⁹² As detention facilities were closed in Prijedor, detainees held there were transferred around the municipality as well as to camps outside of the municipality and ultimately often to third countries.⁶⁴⁹³ (The “whole truth” would be to say that there were #1,400 combatants captured# and detained, and conveyed to Manjaca the POWs camp, treated as POWs, although being terrorists, that there were 1,700 accidentally captured and released after the first interrogations as innocent civilians, and that all the others were not detained, but received in the centers like Trnopolje. 1903. Non-Serb residents of Prijedor who left the municipality during the conflict had to sign over their property to the Serb authorities in Prijedor, either to the ARK or to the RS;⁶⁴⁹⁴ at first, real property certificates were issued in order to justify the confiscation, but later on certificates were no longer issued.⁶⁴⁹⁵ In contrast, Bosnian Serb residents did not have their property confiscated.⁶⁴⁹⁶ (This is also #not correct, and against documents#! Those Serbs who left the RS were even in much worse position than the Muslims or Croats, because they did have a military obligation, while the Muslims-Croats didn’t. This is a complete absence of knowledge of the domestic laws. Once somebody changes a place of residence, it must have been registered, for many reasons: first, he is not going to be charged of taxes while out of the place, second, the courts were to know where-about of all the citizens in a case they are needed, third, the Ministry for Defence must have known about where-about of the able-bodied men. So, to say “in exchange for the permits” is not correct, because it was not “in exchange”, but a part of the process of changing place of temporary (boraviste in Serbian) or permanent (prebivaliste in Serbian) place of residence!) By the end of September 1992, the Prijedor SJB reported that due to the “increasing migration of the population, especially of the Muslim and Croat population”, it had received and processed 15,280 applications for departure.⁶⁵⁰¹ Those who desired to leave the municipality were first required to unregister their official residences with the local Serb authorities as a condition to receive an exit permit.⁶⁵⁰² (This is all in vain! Now, we see a duplicity: When the Serbs are President for something that had been committed by the locals – no matter the central authorities didn’t order or even banned it, the Serbs were not excused when acting minimally in an ultimate defence... Another word: the Serbs were indicted for the misdeeds on the terrain, which the officials didn’t order, but contrary, have banned, the Serbs are still not recognised for a good documents issued. On 19 August 1992, representatives from Prijedor, including both Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Serbs, met with UNHCR and the UN Civil Affairs Office to discuss, inter alia, whether the UN would assist in evacuating thousands of Bosnian Muslim “applicants”.⁶⁵⁰³ (However, the exhibit D470 brings the data that even before the war abrupted some ... Muslims left Prijedor, see D00470, p. 5

- According to the operational findings of SJB Prijedor, about four to five thousand persons, mainly of Muslim ethnicity, left the municipality before the armed conflict. On the basis of public complaints discussion and some other indicators, it is assumed that the immediate families of advocates of armed conflict with the Serbs are among this group. Prijedor SJB has no information about these persons, since they did not submit any application to unregister their place of residence in line with the law.

(The document confirms that an unregistration was a law provision! Also, as objected by the ordinary Muslim people, the first to leave Prijedor were families of those who secretly prepared the attack and war in Prijedor!)

⁶⁵⁰³ P3804 (Witness statement of Charles Kirudja dated 17 November 2010), para. 111.

- From the beginning of the armed conflict in the municipality of Prijedor until 16 August 1992, according to data that have been insufficiently checked out, about 20,000 citizens left the municipality, mainly of Muslim and Croatian, but also of Serbian ethnicity, of all age groups and both sexes. Prijedor SJB has no records about this group of citizens either, because they also did not follow the legally prescribed procedure for unregistering citizens' legal places of residence.

(Again, repeated that it was a #law obligation#, which wasn't always respected, i.e. one could leave the municipality without procedure. It is not clear why the Chamber didn't notice that the Serbs were leaving Prijedor too?)

Slovenia or other countries of Western Europe. This group still has not left the municipality, but has just completed the unregistering of residences, and is now, with the help of religious and humanitarian organisations, looking for a way of resettling in the desired direction. Prijedor SJB has no data about what these people have done with their immovable assets or what they have done or will do with their movable assets.

(Unregistering the residence is a #legal obligation#, which discharges the people from owing the taxes and other obligations, and this is the same in a peace as in a war times. In this para it was said that their property wasn't managed by the municipal authorities. Is anyone in the court able to read the documents properly, and to see how these documents are standing within the domestic laws, and how the Prosecutor's allegations were senseless and the findings of the Chamber unfounded?)

1907. The Prijedor delegation wanted a convoy to go through Sector North, and the applicants included 8,000 Bosnian Muslims from Prijedor who, according to the delegation, wanted to leave the municipality "voluntarily".⁶⁵⁰⁴ This was primarily a request of the Muslim representatives in the mixt delegation. Look what para 113 of the Kirudja's (P03804) statement said:

ISLAMČEVIĆ prefaced his remarks with a statement that he was "authorized" to request that UNPROFOR escort the convoy. He claimed that those requesting evacuation did not want to go from one part of BiH to another; that they had guarantees from relatives to support them elsewhere; that the Serbian authorities were treating them fairly; and that they wanted to ensure that no one was taken from the convoy until they reached Karlovac.²⁶⁸

(Islam~evi} is, as his own name sais, a Muslim by ethnicity, and he was speaking on behalf of his Muslim community. What else is needed to persuade the Chamber that it was the Muslim's decision, and that the local authorities didn't have any misunderstanding with the ordinary people, not involved in the extreme military activities?) The UNHCR representative responded that UNHCR would not assist with the removal of people.⁶⁵⁰⁵ Kirudja did not believe that these people wanted to leave voluntarily and furthermore, thought that the detailed lists of applicants prepared by the delegation demonstrated the "meticulous" system used to remove people from the area.⁶⁵⁰⁶ (This is an #outrageous conduct# of an international official#, which certainly did cost the region more tensions! What Kirudja "thought" is his private matter, but a very irresponsible move in an area of a high tensions! Who would force the Muslim people to prepare so many papers and documents, and plus to pay the transport fees? Why he didn't believe Islamcevic and other Muslims in the delegation?)

1907. According to Serb assessments, by October 1992, about 38,000 Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats had left the municipality of Prijedor.⁶⁵⁰⁷ Approximately 3,600 of these individuals left the area with the help of the ICRC and the Prijedor Red Cross.⁶⁵⁰⁸ (#Good deeds used against

Serb officials#! This was not a “Serb assessment” but an assessment of the Serb officials in Banja Luka! This document is another proof that the authorities tried to improve the situation, but it is, as usually, used against the Serb authorities. In the same document it is said what is happening, and why the chaos is developing in Prijedor, see: P03852, p. 2:

The remainder of the Muslim and Croatian population – at least the more extreme ones among them – must be treated with extreme caution, for they refuse to accept the present situation and are undoubtedly trying to consolidate their ranks and act at an opportune moment.

This entire period is characterised by the blowing up and destruction of buildings owned by Muslims and Croats, as well as of places of worship. This represents a direct threat to the life and property of all the citizens of the municipality. The harassment of citizens of other nationality by individuals wearing military uniform is also evident. Such individuals are increasingly becoming a threat to all the other citizens of the municipality of Prijedor. For instance, they can be seen drunk almost every day, breaking and destroying anything they can lay their hands on, making threats and harassing the citizens, and all this with impunity and without being prevented by anyone.

The document of the Serbian officials, clearly shows who were the perpetrators of these crimes: “they can be seen drunk every day, breaking and destroying anything... making threats and harassing citizens...” and those are exactly the groups that this President “disowned” on 13 June 92 and ordered their legal persecution. This document in no case can be used to prove the Serb liability for crimes. See further P3852: #No liability#!

Out of this number, 1,561 persons have left the area through the International Committee of the Red Cross assisted by the Prijedor Municipality Red Cross. The Prijedor Red Cross organised the departure of 1700 people to Travnik, and of another 300 to Novska, on the grounds of reuniting families, sick people and foreign nationals./as printed/

Further:

Available information suggest that some of the Muslims and Croats who have left Prijedor may get involved in hostile activities against Republika Srpska, organised in commando, terrorist, reconnaissance, intelligence or military groups whose goal would be to threaten R. Srpska, and particularly the area of Prijedor.

This assessment is proving true, and the enemy POWs or their papers showing that they come from the area are a proof of it.

Further:

The degree of alertness in guarding facilities and property has decreased, which has resulted in daily plundering of steadily shrinking and increasingly worthless socially-owned property.

It is clear that this “Official document, Strictly confidential” is a honest one, and that depict the chaos in Prijedor as a consequence of the fights, and not as a wanton action of the official authorities.)

1908. By 1993, the vast majority of non-Serb towns and villages in Prijedor were uninhabited and destroyed.⁶⁵⁰⁹ (It should be pointed out that #only those villages# that did have a terrorist groups# were damaged, 11 of them heavily, but ten of others with a significant Muslim population nobody touched. Why? Because they didn’t fight.) In September 1993, the Prijedor SJB estimated that 80% of Bosnian Muslim houses in Prijedor had been destroyed.⁶⁵¹⁰ (This is again a document of the Serb authorities, and this document clearly states that the authorities are #against any illegal conduct#! The inference is wrong.) The Chamber also recalls that by mid-1993, most of the Bosnian Muslim places of worship in Prijedor had been almost or completely destroyed.⁶⁵¹¹ (It is also seen from the official Serb documents. If these destructive acts had been done by the responsible Serb authorities, why the same authorities would denounce themselves? The most reasonable move would be to cover it, not to report it, but since it had been reported with criticism, it is obvious that the authorities were #against this kind of conduct#!)

1909. In May 1993, the Bosnian Serb MUP estimated that 42,000 Bosnian Muslims and 2,000 Bosnian Croats had moved out of Prijedor, while 14,000 Bosnian Serbs had moved in.⁶⁵¹² Some of the Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats who had moved out of Prijedor had been “deported in cattle cars”.⁶⁵¹³ Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats continued to move out of Prijedor into 1994.⁶⁵¹⁴ (#The Serb refugees#! But, what made these Serbs to come to Prijedor? Did they leave their homes and their goods elsewhere? Were the Serbs refugees too? No a Serb authority’s liability for the state in Prijedor at all. Everything that the Chamber knew was coming from the Serb official documents. Would it be so, if the Serb authorities wanted that to happen? Why would the Serb authorities criticize themselves in a strictly confidential documents?#No Serb liability#!)

1910. Slobodan Kuruzović, the commander of Trnopolje, confirmed that the plan of the Serb authorities was to reduce the number of Bosnian Muslims in Prijedor to 10% or less, and then later to reduce this to 2% or less.⁶⁵¹⁵ (#Deadly combination#! Such a drastic element is included in this case as an adjudicated fact!!! When and where he heard it? And how would he and only he would know what the authorities wanted. Had it been so, it would be on the front pages of all the world media! What would happen if the Muslims accepted to form their own municipality and to live together with the Serbs, i.e. what would happen if they didn’t attack the Serbs in Prijedor? Why nothing similar happened in the neighbouring municipalities, as Srbac, Gradiska, Prnjavor, ^elinac, Derventa, Mrkonji} Grad, all the municipalities that didn’t have a war? Why it was so easy to “sell” such a fake assertion, and associate it with a very decent man as Kuruzovi} was? Was there a war in the “Municipalities” named in the Indictment, and did there existed the Muslim secret Army, Patriotic League and Green Berets!)

1911. The President contends that Bosnian Muslims, and to a lesser extent, Bosnian Serbs and Bosnian Croats, left Prijedor voluntarily and without external pressure, and that non-Serbs were not forced to sign over their possessions in order to receive permits to leave the municipality.⁶⁵¹⁶ Furthermore, Budimir testified that everyone who applied to him for permission to leave Prijedor received it, but that many people left on their own in their personal vehicles without approval from the municipality.⁶⁵¹⁷ (#Obstacles to leave#! But Budimir testify that he didn’t condition them with the statement pertaining to the property! A. Yes. Everything had to be paid for, every certificate of this kind had to be paid for, and nothing was free. I can't remember how much I paid for it, but I also had to sign another Q. We are almost at the end of my questions for you. After you got this document, did you leave Prijedor and the ARK?

A. Not immediately, because it wasn't easy to reach the free territory but in any case, this certificate was great help. Without it, I wouldn't have been able to leave Prijedor at all. I left soon after I was issued with it and I crossed over to the free territory. Of course, I stayed with friends and relatives, because I had no apartment of my own, no where to stay. I was just waiting out a period of time before I would be able to leave Prijedor.²¹²

This testimony, which was in accord with all others pertaining to the leaving Serb areas, is in a #sharp contrast with all the allegations# about a forceful displacement and ethnic cleansing!@)

1912. However, the Chamber recalls the movement on a mass scale of non-Serbs within and out of Prijedor and the fact that non-Serbs in Prijedor were forced to sign over their property to Serb authorities. (#This is a lie!!! No evidence on that!!! And even if they signed, which they didn't, the President cancelled it in August 92, and this was never and nowhere carried out in practice, see D101. Anyway, according to the domestic Law on Defence, all the private property could have been used by the local authorities for the war purposes, of course on a temporary basis!) The Chamber has had regard to the immense pressure put on Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats, given the surrounding circumstances in the municipality, including inter alia: (i) armed attacks against their towns, villages, and homes; (ii) destruction of religious and cultural property; (iii) forcible arrest and removal from their homes; (iv) detention in multiple detention facilities; as well as (v) mistreatment and killings. (#Why not in other municipalities?# Whether the Chamber infers that there was no a Muslim and Croat terrorists? And why it didn't happen in any other municipality where there was no a Muslim/Croat attacks? And what was the number of those arrested and investigated in comparison with the total Muslim/Croat population? All together no more than 5%, and the number of those who were found guilty and sent to the POWs prison was less than 2,8%! Only in Kozarac there was between 2,000 and 3,000 combatants, while those sent to the POW-s camp Manjaca was only 1,466, see: P2772):

The investigation has found elements of criminal liability in 1,466 cases, for which valid documentation exists, which we shall transfer under guard, along with the persons it pertains to, to the Manjača military camp on 6 August 1992. The remaining persons are of no security interest, and will be transferred to the reception camp in Trnopolje on the same day and under escort provided by this SJB. Trnopolje is a location where Muslims fleeing from the combat operations in the municipality have found shelter. Security at the camp is provided by the army of the Serbian Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Non-Serbs: Croats: 6,300 + Muslims 49454 + "ostali" others 2,600 = 58354 Serbs + Yugoslavs: 47,745 + 6,371 = 54,116 – which makes less than 2,51% of the non-Serb population of Prijedor) 1913. For these reasons, the Chamber finds that Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats were forced to leave Prijedor. By 1995, the population of Prijedor municipality consisted of approximately 92% Bosnian Serbs, 5% Bosnian Muslims, and 1% Bosnian Croats.⁶⁵¹⁸ (#All wrong inferences#! We have seen that the President had been under the tremendous pressure in 1994 to allow some 80 busses and tracks a day for the evacuation of the Muslims from Prijedor. the Serb refugees arrived in Prijedor also influenced this percentage, and should have been taken into account!

(But, the most important is the fact that the President didn't have anything to do with all what happened in Prijedor and other, particularly those distant municipalities. Both, the central organs of the SDS and central authorities of the Republic of Srpska undertook all needed measures to prevent the war, and when the war broke out, all the needed measures to maintain the peace and respect for the human rights and provisions of the Law of war. Once the war abruptly, it became a local, municipal matter. There was as many civil wars as many municipalities being embattled and participated in fights. There was no authority which was entitled or able to order what kind of defence respective community would implement. If the state couldn't protect the peace and security of the citizens, they had all rights to do so, according to the domestic laws, as well as due to the basic human right for life.)

1. Charges

2. Under Count 3, the Prosecution alleges that persecution, a crime against humanity, was committed in Sanski Most as part of the objective to permanently remove Bosnian Muslims and/or Bosnian Croats from the Municipalities.⁶⁵¹⁹ Under Count 1, the Prosecution further alleges that in certain municipalities, including Sanski Most, this persecutory campaign included or escalated to include conduct that manifested an intent to destroy in part the national, ethnical, and/or religious groups of Bosnian Muslims and/or Bosnian Croats as such.⁶⁵²⁰

1915. Acts alleged to have been committed in Sanski Most by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs include killings during and after the take-over,⁶⁵²¹ killings related to one detention facility,⁶⁵²² as well as killings committed during, and deaths resulting from, cruel and inhumane treatment at scheduled detention facilities.⁶⁵²³ The Prosecution characterises these acts as killing, an underlying act of genocide, under Count 1; persecution, a crime against humanity, under Count 3; extermination, a crime against humanity, under Count 4; murder, a crime against humanity, under Count 5; and murder, a violation of the laws or customs of war, under Count 6.⁶⁵²⁴

1916. Other acts alleged to have been committed in Sanski Most by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs include torture, beatings, and physical and psychological abuse, rape and other acts of sexual violence, during and after the take-over and in scheduled detention facilities, as well as the establishment and perpetuation of inhumane living conditions in detention facilities, as cruel or inhumane treatment, an act of persecution under Count 3.⁶⁵²⁵ In relation to Count 1, the Prosecution alleges that in scheduled detention facilities in Sanski Most thousands of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats were subjected to cruel or inhumane treatment, including torture, physical and psychological abuse, rape, other acts of sexual violence, and beatings by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs; the Prosecution characterises this inhumane treatment as causing serious bodily or mental harm to members of the Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat groups, an underlying act of genocide.⁶⁵²⁶ In addition, under Count 1, the Prosecution alleges that members of the Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat groups were detained under conditions of life calculated to bring about physical destruction, namely through cruel and inhumane treatment, including torture, physical and psychological abuse, rape, other acts of sexual violence, inhumane living conditions, forced labour and the failure to provide adequate accommodation, shelter, food, water, medical care or hygienic sanitation facilities.⁶⁵²⁷

1917. Under Count 3, other acts of persecution alleged to have been committed in Sanski Most by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs include: (i) forcible transfer or deportation of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats from their homes;⁶⁵²⁸ (ii) unlawful detention in scheduled detention facilities;⁶⁵²⁹ (iii) forced labour at the frontlines and the use of

1918. Under Counts 7 and 8, the Prosecution alleges deportation and inhumane acts (forcible transfer), respectively, as crimes against humanity.⁶⁵³⁴ In this regard, the Prosecution alleges that by the end of 1992, Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs had forcibly displaced Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats from areas in Sanski Most in which they had been lawfully present.⁶⁵³⁵ It is alleged that from March 1992, restrictive and discriminatory measures, arbitrary arrest and detention, harassment, torture, rape and other acts of sexual violence, killings, destruction of houses, cultural monuments, and sacred sites, as well as the threat of further such acts caused Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats to flee in fear, while others were physically driven out.⁶⁵³⁶

1919. Sanski Most is a municipality centrally located in the ARK and is surrounded by Bosanski Novi, Bosanska Krupa, Bosanski Petrovac, Prijedor, Banja Luka, and Ključ.⁶⁵³⁷ In 1991, the population of Sanski Most was approximately 28,000 Bosnian Muslims, 25,000 Bosnian Serbs, and 4,000 Bosnian Croats.⁶⁵³⁸ Villages with a predominantly Bosnian Muslim population included Vrhopolje, Hrustovo, Sehovći, Begići, and Kenjari.⁶⁵³⁹ Škrļjevitā was a village with a predominantly Bosnian Croat population.⁶⁵⁴⁰ (#Only a few villages embattled#! Any reasonable chamber should be expected to find out what happened and why. There were seven (7) almost exclusively Croatian villages, and several other where the Croats lived with the Serbs, and a fewer where they lived with Muslims. Out of those 7 Croatian villages, there was only one incident in the vicinity of only one, Škrļjevitā, and none of other Croatian villagers sustained any disturbance. There wrer 26 (twenty six) predominantly Muslim villages, and many villages where the Muslims lived as a minority with the Serbs and a fewer with the Croats. The Chamber doesn't have any explanation, if accepts the allegation on the Overarching JCE, for the following:

(1) Why #only five Muslim villages# did have the problems, fights and arrests?

(2) Why none of the Croat villages did have any combat, except for an isolated incidents out of the Skrljevita village?

(3) Why the Muslims and Croats living in the mixed villages with the Serbs didn't have any problem?

(4) Had there existed any Overarching Joint Criminal enterprise to expel the non-Serb population from the Serb areas, why the Serbs didn't expel those Muslims that had lived as a majority in 21 villages, and those who lived as a minority in the predominantly Serb villages?

(5) Why the Serbs didn't expel the Croats from any of those 7 villages, or at least from the Serb villages with the Croatian minority?

But, after a reasonable answer to these questions, there wouldn't be any Indictment, and any Judgement, except for a possible direct perpetrators of crimes. WHY IT WAS IMPOSSIBLE?

WHO NEEDS SUCH A DISASTROUS START OF THE INTERNATIONAL JUSTICE?

1920. The SDS, SDA, and HDZ parties were formed in Sanski Most in 1990.⁶⁵⁴¹ The President and Krajišnik came to Luči Palanka, a Bosnian Serb village in Sanski Most, on the occasion of the formation of the SDS in Sanski Most.⁶⁵⁴² As a result of the multi-party elections in November 1990, the SDS won 23 seats, the SDA won 22 seats, the HDZ won 4 seats, and the reform party won 11 seats in the 60 seat Municipal Assembly.⁶⁵⁴³ Nedeljko Rašula, who was then the president of the Sanski Most SDS, became the president of the Municipal Assembly.⁶⁵⁴⁴ Vlado Vrkeš was the secretary of the Sanski Most SDS and he later became its president.⁶⁵⁴⁵ Mirzet Karabeg, a Bosnian Muslim, was appointed as the president of the Executive Board.⁶⁵⁴⁶ (From the election results it is clear that the census wasn't accurate, and that the Serbs were majority, because the Yugoslavs were also the Serbs. Beside that, there was a majority of the Serbs in the adult stratum of population.)

a. Militarisation of Sanski Most

1921. The arming of the Bosnian Serb population in Sanski Most began in late 1990, with the distribution of JNA weapons to SDS members.⁶⁵⁴⁷ (However, as proven many times, this is a #distorted fact#! The JNA didn't make any difference between the national parties, and didn't favour the SDS, but only the Serbs were ready to accept mobilisations and to form the reserve batalions, because there was a civil war with Slovenia and Croatia undergoing. However, this Court is acting as the majority of the western International Community, assuming that only Serbs armed themselves, and only Serbs wanted the war, and everything depended on them. This brings us in front of the main question: why this Court pretends not to incriminate the crime against peace, and thus avoids to establish truth, meanwhile putting all the burden on the Serbs, inferring that they must have been responsible since they "armed themselves" with an aim to make the Greater Serbia. However, the Serbs responded to the federal mobilisation and were ready to defend the existing status quo, or at least to prevent an unlawful violent change of it.)

1922. As in other municipalities in BiH, the armed conflict in Croatia led to a mobilisation call in Sanski Most for volunteers to fight in Croatia with the JNA.⁶⁵⁴⁸ (Right!) Those who did not respond to the call-up were ordered to return their uniforms and weapons and were to be deleted from the mobilisation lists.⁶⁵⁴⁹ (Naturally!!! #Legal aand obligatory#! And that was how the Serbs kept their weapons. In the light of this fact, the inference in the first paragraph is wrong.)

1923. At the end of 1991, Mladić attended a meeting in Sanski Most and, afterwards, JNA weapons were distributed to Bosnian Serbs in the area.⁶⁵⁵⁰ (Again #wrong#! It was preparation for the war in Croatia, not in BiH. At that period there was the Conference on Bosnia, and there was a good prospective that there wouldn't be any war in Bosnia. But still the JNA needed reservists, and could rely only on the Serb reservists.)

1924. In November 1991, weapons owned by the staff of the TO were transferred to the goods reserve of the TO.⁶⁵⁵¹ This order came from the 5th corps of the JNA to the local TO staff.⁶⁵⁵² In 1992, the weapons were taken by Colonel Branko Basara and distributed to the Bosnian Serbs in Sanski Most.⁶⁵⁵³ (#Before VRS#! That was an order of the 5th Corps of the JNA, and can not be in any way connected to the Serbs in Bosnia. The order that all the TO weapons be handed over to the JNA had been issued by the federal Presidency of the SFRY even before the first multiparty elections. Until SFR Yugoslavia existed, and the JNA had been legally present there, which was until the end of April 1992, there existed an obligation to defend the country, and those who fulfilled this obligation had been entitled to keep the weaponry and equipment of the JNA! See D5, 7 March 92 belowe.:)

1925. At the end of 1991, the Serbian Defence Forces (“SOS”) an armed group, was formed.⁶⁵⁵⁴ They were commanded by Duško Šaović, a.k.a. Njunja.⁶⁵⁵⁵ The SOS received orders from the SDS in Sanski Most.⁶⁵⁵⁶ (This is an #exaggeration#, they didn't receive orders from anyone. Their letters of criticism of the SDS are the best prove for that. The SOS were formed in Banja Luka too, both because of a suspicion that the JNA would defend the Serbs, and it was done against the President's recommendation that the Serbs have to rely upon the JNA and vice versa, which was a very known attitude of the President, confirmed in many intercepts admitted by the Chamber!) On 28 February 1992, members of the SDS and the SOS broke into the premises of the Public Auditing Service and tried to physically remove the head of the institution.⁶⁵⁵⁷ Karabeg and the Executive Board condemned this action.⁶⁵⁵⁸ (Of course, #a Muslim extremist# Karabeg condemned this action, because Karabeg sabotaged the nomination of a Serb to this position, as agreed among the parties. The Muslim side didn't respect any agreement, and particularly wanted to continue to keep such a significant posts as the police commander and the chief of the SJB, which was incompatible, or the Public Auditing Service. All of that was with the aim to arme the Muslims and prevent the Serbs to get an insight in these illegal actions! And that was a pattern used in many municipalities! There is sufficient evidence on that in the file!) Soon after, the SOS started targeting buildings and businesses belonging to Bosnian Croats and Bosnian Muslims and blew them up with explosives.⁶⁵⁵⁹

1926. Soldiers of the JNA's 6th Partisan Brigade arrived in Sanski Most in early April 1992.⁶⁵⁶⁰ This brigade initially consisted of three battalions but later expanded.⁶⁵⁶¹ It was commanded by Basara.⁶⁵⁶² Rašula invited the SDA leaders to a meeting with Basara where Basara introduced himself and stated that he had brought the 6th Krajina Brigade to Sanski Most because they were on leave from fighting in Croatia and that they were "guarantors of peace".⁶⁵⁶³ The 6th Krajina Brigade was later subordinated to the 1st Krajina Corps.⁶⁵⁶⁴ By the end of May 1992, the 6th Krajina Brigade was comprised of 3,907 soldiers, making up 11 battalions and artillery units.⁶⁵⁶⁵

1927. After the arrival of the 6th Krajina Brigade, check-points were set up throughout the municipality and soldiers from the 6th Krajina Brigade asked residents to stop and show their identity cards.⁶⁵⁶⁶ A #legal and legitimate# action, since just across the boarder there was the war going on!

1928. On 22 April 1992, the Crisis Staff decided to integrate the SOS as a special unit of the TO.⁶⁵⁶⁷ The Crisis Staff also provided financial assistance to the SOS.⁶⁵⁶⁸ (That also was a #legal move#, since the TO was the legal municipal armed force, while the SOS weren't! How fragile and arbitrary is the construct called "the Serb Forces" could be seen from several contemporaneous documents, such as D1806:

2523. Dušan Mudrinić testified that he was not aware of such explosions blowing up buildings and denied that the SOS was involved in these acts. Dušan Mudrinić, T. 47377–47378, 47385 (19 February 2014). The Chamber does not find his evidence on this point to be reliable. In reaching this conclusion, the Chamber found that the evidence of Mudrinić was evasive, contradicted on numerous occasions by other accepted evidence, including P3397 (Report of Sanski Most SOS Intervention Platoon, 16 September 1992), and was overall unconvincing.

PUTTING A STOP TO PARAMILITARIES

Military sources have reported at the Command of the 1st Krajina Corps that measures have been taken to prevent activities by a group that calls itself the Serbian Defence Forces in Sanski Most. This concerns a group of around 40 armed people under the command of someone called Duško SAOVIĆ, aka Njunjo, owner of a café, Josip Mažara Street, Sanski Most. The same sources reported that the group had been active for a while as part of the 6th Krajina Brigade as an intervention platoon and had distinguished itself when mopping up the terrain around Sanski Most and Jajce. For a while it was under the immediate command of the former Chief of Staff of Veljko BRAJIĆ's Brigade. He took part together with his /?comrades/ in the crushing of the Zelene Beretke /Green Berets/ group of Arif /?ZUKANOVIĆ/, who is a very wealthy Muslim from the Sanski Most area. Although the operation was planned together with the civilian police, BRAJIĆ organised the operations with Duško SAOVIĆ's group which, after crushed the group, appropriated extremely valuable booty – Veljko BRAJIĆ disassociated himself from the distribution and appropriation of a part of this booty. The Command of the 1st Krajina Corps is emphatic that an end must be put to all paramilitaries in the Krajina territory and that they must be prevented from operating or, rather, from meting out justice and frightening the population. Measures have already been taken with this aim at the Corps' Military Police Battalion: to hold talks with this group and to place it under the command of the 6th Krajina Brigade or to disarm it, as set out in the Order of the Presidency of Republika Srpska.

This is an #official attitude towards the paramilitaries#, which the SOS became after insincere integration in the 6th Brigade of VRS. The document confirms that this order was founded on the #Order of the Presidency# of Republika Srpska!

1929. On 28 April 1992, the Crisis Staff decided that Basara would meet with the Crisis Staff and “start regulating the relationship” between the TO forces and the JNA.⁶⁵⁶⁹ (Once a JNA unit is present, the TO is obliged to subordinate to the JNA!) On 7 May 1992, the Crisis Staff held a meeting where Mladen Lukić and Mirko Vrućinić were ordered to hold talks with Basara to involve him in transforming the JNA into the “Serbian TO”.⁶⁵⁷⁰ (That was just after the SFRY ceased to exist, and it was evident that the JNA will leave BiH. #All legal and legitimate#. Before VRS# The Sanski Most boys had been in this unit anyway.) The TO was ordered to set up a MP platoon.⁶⁵⁷¹ All “able-bodied persons” were required to report to the Red Cross, the list would be forwarded to the TO staff, and those who were not registered would be “detained and sent to the municipalities of their residence”.⁶⁵⁷² (#Defence necessity#! Now, it is time to show why the Serbs in Sanski Most were taking these precautionary measures, and what had been known to the security services. Let us see D5, from 7 March 92:

⁶⁵⁶⁹ P3328 (Conclusions of meeting of Sanski Most Crisis Staff, 28 April 1992), para. 4.

⁶⁵⁷² P3645 (Conclusions of the Sanski Most Crisis Staff, 7 May 1992), p. 1.

According to verified information, several people dressed in Zelene Beretke /Green Beret/ uniforms were observed in the vicinity of the Sanski Most DP /joint stock enterprise/, moving freely around inhabited areas, i.e. Sanski Most. They wear the crescent and star insignia on their berets, are armed with APs /automatic rifles/, and they are brazen and aggressive. Particularly prominent among the aforementioned members of the ZB /Green Berets/ are the brothers Arif and Izet HURANOVIĆ from Vrpolje. About 500 armed civilians were noted at a recent meeting of Muslim citizens in the village of Donji Kamengrad. Also present among them were members of the ZB who sought that everyone who was armed launch an attack on the Serbian village of Suhača. According to realistic estimates, about 3,000 Muslims own long barrels and are part of the SDA /Party of Democratic Action/ armed formations. Those mainly responsible for the SDA's activities are: Imet ŠARČEVIĆ, a lawyer, Suad ŠABIĆ, a lawyer, Adil DRAGANOVIĆ, president of the court, Revzid KURBEGOVIĆ, president of the SDA board, Mirzet KARABEG, chairman of the Sanski Most IO /Executive Committee/ and Enver BURNIĆ, commander of the Sanski Most SM /Police Station/.

(#Muslims attacked#! Therefore, the most powerful Muslim officials in the common institutions had already at the beginning of March been fully dedicated to the future armed conflict with their Serb neighbours!!! How come this document didn't deserve any attention of the Chamber? After this information, the entire self-defence and All-Peoples Defence mechanisms had to be started. According to the domestic laws, the Serbs were obliged to undertake all precautionary measures. And, remember those names, and those villages, and you will see where there the battles took place, and who were those detained. Those the highest officials of the "common" municipal authorities, at the same time a members of the complot core, and some of them appeared as the Prosecution witnesses. How "unbiased" witnesses! And an imminent attack on the Serb village of Suhaca (327 Serbs, 1 Croat) without any army facilities!)

(b) Establishment of Bosnian Serb institutions

1930. The regionalisation process with the formation of the ZOBK led to increasing disagreements between members of the SDS, SDA, and HDZ in Sanski Most.⁶⁵⁷³ Faik Bišćević, the president of the SDA, stated that the SDA could not agree with this regionalisation process.⁶⁵⁷⁴ (#Legal and constitutional#! What does it mean, they "could not agree with this regionalisation process"? This was not only a constitutional right of any sovereign people, but it was a Serb concession and a condition for the BiH to leave Yugoslavia. Does it mean that the Chamber would justify the Muslim dictate to the Serbs, to obey with the Muslim decisions to secede and not to secure a safeguards for their freedom, security and legitimate interests? The whole world knows, all the prominent leaders of the then world knew that this kind of butchering a sovereign state of Yugoslavia before securing the legitimate rights of peoples, would result in a horrifying bloodshed. Why the Serbs would accept the illegal secession, and the Muslims wouldn't agree with a legal decentralisation of the country? Anyway, the Indictment, and unfortunately even the Judgement look like a political materials of the SDA and the Islamic fundamentalists!)

1931. In February 1992, the SDS encouraged “all the Serbs of [BiH]” to abstain from voting in the upcoming referendum on the independence of BiH, claiming that it was against the interests of the “Serbian people”.⁶⁵⁷⁵ (#Not criminal, not forbidden#, a guaranteed democratic right! Who was in charge of taking care about the interests of te Serbian people? It sounds like it was a felony, a nasty conduct of people in some colony. So ignorant of the domestic laws and constitution, the chambers couldn't decide otherwise!)

1932. In March 1992, the main issue that the SDS raised for discussions in the Municipal Assembly was whether Sanski Most should declare itself as “Serbian Sanski Most”, (#Two municipalities – peace#! All distorted: it was under the presumption that the Muslim community would form their own Muslim municipality, which may not want to join the ARK.a part of the ARK.⁶⁵⁷⁶ (The main villain and responsible for the war in Sanski Most, M. Karabeg was free to lie! It was never envisaged that the entire municipality would be proclaimed for a Serb municipality, but only the newly formed Serb municipality!) Sanski Most was the only municipality (out of the 17 municipalities in the Bosnian Krajina) whose assembly had not yet decided on this matter.⁶⁵⁷⁷ On 25 March 1992, Rašula and Vrkeš signed a proclamation declaring that all Bosnian Serb territories in Sanski Most were part of the SerBiH, “as a unique Serb municipality of Sanski Most”.⁶⁵⁷⁸ (Exactly, #only the Serb parts# of Sanski Most, unified in the Serb municipality, which in no way concerned the Muslim part of the municipality. Until that moment there was still the valid Lisbon agreement about forming the three ethnic states in BiH. But, if the Chamber listened only to the Muslim extreme leaders (Biscevic, Karabeg) that are named in the D5, than there will not be “the whole truth”!)

1933. On 3 April 1992, Rašula issued a decision on behalf of the “Serbian People's Assembly” that the “Serbian Municipality” of Sanski Most would become part of the ARK.⁶⁵⁷⁹ This decision was made by the Sanski Most SDS deputies only.⁶⁵⁸⁰ By 6 or 7 April 1992, the Sanski Most Municipal Assembly stopped meeting altogether.⁶⁵⁸¹ (#Only the Serb municipality#! That means that the Serbs formed their own municipality. Having in mind exhibit D5, and how many Muslim officials in the municipal organs had been taking part in the secret preparations to count down with the Serbs, the formation of the Serb municipality was a minimal measure. Karabeg was one of the most prominent extremists! To keep in mind that the war already started elsewhere in BiH!)

1934. On 14 April 1992, the Crisis Staff of Sanski Most was established at a session of the Municipal Board of the Sanski Most SDS.⁶⁵⁸² Rašula was appointed as president.⁶⁵⁸³ The Crisis Staff was the “centre of power” in Sanski Most and had, for instance, authority over the police.⁶⁵⁸⁴ (The municipal Crisis Staffs were the substitutes of regular organs of authorities, and it’s members were ex officio officials of these regular organs!)

1935. On 16 April 1992, the “Serbian Municipality” of Sanski Most was formed.⁶⁵⁸⁵ (And the Serb Municipality of Sanski Most comprised of #only the Serb parts# local communes and settlements, see: D1682

Serbian Municipality of Sanski Most shall comprise the following entities: Serbian local communes and Serbian settlements, as set out in the Decision adopted at the session of the Serbian Assembly held on 3 and 4 April 1992.

And these settlements are numbered in the document from the said session of the Serb Assembly, see D1804. Therefore, the Muslims in Sanski Most hadn’t been restricted in their legitimate rights, but we just saw how their tactics was to “procrastinate” agreements and get stronger, see bellow D1678)

1936. On 17 April 1992, Stojan Župljanin, head of the Banja Luka CSB, ordered that all police employees must sign a statement of loyalty to the Serb Municipality of Sanski Most.⁶⁵⁸⁶ The police then became effectively divided along ethnic lines: all of the Bosnian Serbs signed the statement, only one Bosnian Croat signed it, and none of the Bosnian Muslims did.⁶⁵⁸⁷ Those who did not sign the loyalty oath left the police.⁶⁵⁸⁸ (#Two municipalities accepted#! The principle of the “whole truth” would require to be presented that the Muslim side accepted to form their own municipality and municipal organs, including the police station, and those who didn’t want to work in the Serb police station, obviously decided to cross over to the Muslim police station!) The chief of the SJB ordered all police members to change the emblems on their caps to the Serbian tricolour to show loyalty as Serbs.⁶⁵⁸⁹ (Of course, a Karabeg’s malicious interpretation! That was not to “show loyalty as Serbs”, but that was an official emblem of one of the three states-entities agreed to be formed in BiH. Therefore, #legal, legitimate and agreed on the ICFY#!) This was done in accordance with the order from Župljanin that police employees should wear new uniforms with sleeve insignias of the word “milicija” written in Cyrillic and blue berets with the tricolour badge.⁶⁵⁹⁰ Rašula enforced this order by stating that all police members who accepted this would retain their jobs and those who refused would be transferred.⁶⁵⁹¹ (Transferred, where? Certainly, to the Muslim police station and the Muslim municipality of Sanski Most!)

1937. After refusing to sign the loyalty oath, the Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat policemen who had left the police went to the fire brigade building on the other bank of the Sana River to establish their own police force.⁶⁵⁹² (#Two municipalities#! That was understood, because the Serbs expected the Muslims to form their own municipality, with all the belonging structures and organs. In such a case, nobody and never would expel anyone from the municipality of Sanski Most. Karabeg and other Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat leaders then went to the municipality building in Sanski Most both as a sign of protest and in order to organise their own administration.⁶⁵⁹³ In discussions on 18 April 1992, the SDA, SDS, and HDZ agreed that the municipality should be divided; however, the Executive Board of the SDS later rejected the agreement.⁶⁵⁹⁴ (#SDA reneged on agreement#! However, it seems that the SDA felt “coerced” and it wasn’t the SDS who rejected the agreement. Obviously, as in all other municipalities where an agreement was on the way, the central of SDA forced their own members to reject it, as happened in Vlasenica, Bratunac, Foca and others. Simultaneously, there was a pressure by General Halilovic, the Commander of the Muslim Army, to stop talking with the “agresors” and to start the war, see: D3904:

I have followed the development of the BH Army in the Bihać region with full attention, and in organising its embryo, the Patriotic League, I was in the region personally on six occasions. Therefore, the situation in the wider region from the pre-war days till today is completely familiar to me. I was even in a position to alert the government organs in that region that armed combat was being obstructed, since they waited rather long and, while war was raging in all of the RBH /Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina/, in this region they were still negotiating with the aggressor.

1938. On 30 April 1992, the Crisis Staff appointed Vručinić as acting chief of the SJB and Mladen Lukić as president of the Executive Board.⁶⁵⁹⁵ Rašula maintained his power as the president of the Crisis Staff.⁶⁵⁹⁶ (All of it #only in the Serb municipality# of Sanski Most, nothing in the Muslim parts of municipality!)

1. Take-over of Sanski Most

1939. At approximately 9:30 p.m. on 19 April 1992, Rašula issued an ultimatum to the Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats inside the municipality building to surrender by 10 p.m. or the Crisis Staff would not be responsible for the consequences—the 6th Krajina Brigade, which had been in Sanski Most since early April, was deployed close by.⁶⁵⁹⁷ In response, the Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats exited through the back of the municipality building and escaped to Sehovći.⁶⁵⁹⁸

The building was subsequently attacked by the 6th Krajina Brigade and members of the SOS and TO.⁶⁵⁹⁹ (#Vice versa#! The document contains a firm evidence about the subversive conduct of the Muslim side. Let us see what had been said on the meeting with Gen. Talić: P3329, p.17

- Col. BASARA: He was told (by Redo) that his having come with the Army wasn't good. The negotiators said that the MUP would be divided painlessly. Redo again exerted pressure that I not bring the Army. I made the rounds, but in our absence, which the colonel's driver noticed, they deployed snipers on the roofs in the organisation (Muslims).
Territorial Defence = expected HALILOVIĆ, but he did not want to come to carry out his orders.
The unit (6th Krajina) did not succeed in arriving /on time/ to separate the two sides.
- Major ZELJAJA: Divide yourselves, but without war and /?clashes/. Redo said that the Army's arrival meant the occupation of Sana. We have problems around noon. The Territorial Defence, and the next day you accept when you receive your suggestions from Sarajevo. The Executive Council President wants the Army to inform him of its movement, while we receive orders that you are spying on the Army and informing Sarajevo.
/added: Muslims/

The JNA was a legal and legitimate force there at the time, and the Muslims opposed it's arrival. And it was spied by the highest Muslim official of the municipality, M. Karabeg, a witness in this case

- Col. HASAGIĆ: He was present at a distant and famous theatre of war. Horrifying images from the theatre. Agreements and agreements! We are preventing the transfer of the focus of war here.
- General TALIĆ: (concluding remarks) Reach agreement, but without undue delay. The police /added: military police/ from Prijedor shall remain, and if need be, from Banja Luka. We do not recognise the paramilitary formations. We are not allowing barricades to be put up.
The JNA /Yugoslav People's Army/ will guarantee the peace of the citizenry and the security of property. We are asking for your help. /added otherwise you will see; /"see" crossed out/

Colonel Hasagic was a Muslim in the Command of 5th Corps of JNA in BL. Talić wanted them to agree fast. And only then we see the critical sentence quoted in the Judgment, as if only this sentence was pronounced:

threatening that the SDA should not call anyone for help.⁶⁶⁰² On the same day, the Crisis Staff held a meeting in which it concluded that it only recognised the “Serbian Municipality” of Sanski Most, including the “Serbian TO” and the “Serbian SJB”.⁶⁶⁰³ The Crisis Staff also declared that the “former Municipal Assembly of Sanski Most” was illegal and that only the laws of the SerBiH would be in effect in Sanski Most.⁶⁶⁰⁴ (#For the Serbs only#! That was a provision for the Serb Municipality of Sanski Most, not for the Muslim one! The Chamber is in an obligation to see and to bring the whole truth, that means that the Serbs in Sanski Most have lost their fate in their neighbours Muslims, because they had been undertaken many measures to attack the Serbs, see D5. Instead of attacking them first, the Serbs founded their own municipality, recommending to the Muslims to do the same, which was initially accepted, but later the Muslims wanted to “buy some time” and deceive the Serbs, which the Serbs rejected! But, without any contact with the central organs, the local Serbs did have every rights to secure themselves against the wide organisation, coordinated with Sarajevo, aimed to destroy the Serbs. Even if the local Serbs were able to contact the central RS organs, nobody could stop them to prevent their catastrophe. According to the then laws, they had every single right to protect themselves.)

1941. On 28 April 1992, the Crisis Staff concluded that all citizens in Sanski Most must surrender their weapons.⁶⁶⁰⁵ (All the citizens, which were not engaged in the JNA, #regardless of ethnicity!#) Radio Sana then broadcast a message that all citizens in Sanski Most must turn in their weapons to the SJB or the TO by 3 May 1992 and that their security would be protected.⁶⁶⁰⁶ Operations were carried out to disarm the citizens in predominantly Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat villages.⁶⁶⁰⁷ There were never any efforts made to disarm the Bosnian Serb population.⁶⁶⁰⁸ (#Within JNA#! Why would the Serbs be disarmed, if they had been within the framework of the JNA, still legally present there? Had the Muslim and Croat reservists joined the JNA, as certain number did in all municipalities, or the TO which was under the JNA, they would be in the same position as the Serb reservists! Many Muslims and Croats joined the VRS, defending the secular way of life together with the Serbs, and were treated the same as the Serbs!)

1942. On 11 May 1992, the ARK Crisis Staff issued a decision to the presidents of the municipalities in the ARK that the deadline for the voluntary surrender of “illegally acquired” weapons, as ordered in a decision issued by the ARK government on 4 May 1992,⁶⁶⁰⁹ was

Don't call anyone for help; otherwise you will have Kupres, Bosanski Brod, Vukovar.
The /? Banja Luka/ Mufti has appealed for peace; listen to him.

But, this sentence has to be seen in the light what Col. Hasagic have said just before Talic: “Horrible images from the theatre (of war) Agreements and agreements! We are preventing the transfer of the focus of war here.”

1943. Beginning on 20 May 1992, the Crisis Staff ordered the disarmament of “paramilitary formations” in Sanski Most in accordance with the decision from the ARK government.⁶⁶¹¹ (#All legal and obligatory due to the law!#)

1944. By 25 May 1992, soldiers from the 6th Krajina Brigade searched the houses of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats in Sanski Most in order to disarm them.⁶⁶¹² The Sanski Most SJB reported on the total number of weapons seized from Muslim villages.⁶⁶¹³ In Mahala, an announcement was made on the radio that people should hand over weapons to check-points.⁶⁶¹⁴ In addition, an announcement was made that all Bosnian Muslims who were loyal to the Serbian state should fly white flags in front of their houses.⁶⁶¹⁵ (The same as described in the Edward Villiamy’s report, see: P3788, p.6)

But down the road are other Muslim villages intact, peasants calmly bringing in the hay. Every house hangs a white flag - a piece of sheet or pillowcase - from the roof or from a tree: it is a guarantee against Omarska or Trnopolje.

There are Croatian communities around Banja Luka too, exchanging their docility to the new order for a relatively quiet life.

‘These are the people who accept the Serbian republic,’ explains Major Milovan Milutonic from Army HQ in Banja Luka. ‘If they do that, we just leave them alone.’

Therefore, both the white #ribbons# on shoulders and white textile on the houses, served in prevention of a “friendly fire”. The only what the Muslims and Croats were supposed to do to be “left alone” was – not to fire!)

1945. On 25 May 1992, the 6th Krajina Brigade attacked the Bosnian Muslim neighbourhoods of Mahala, Muhići, and Otoka in Sanski Most town.⁶⁶¹⁶ The attack started with shelling, followed by soldiers entering the area.⁶⁶¹⁷ The soldiers set houses on fire.⁶⁶¹⁸ According to a Sanski Most SJB report, the attack against Mahala resulted in the “capture of 2,000 civilians” but no significant amount of weapons was found.⁶⁶¹⁹ Because it was concealed earlier, as was said in the document P3928 :

Mihajlo Orlović testified that he passed through Mahala two or three years later and did not see houses burned. He also refuted the shelling of Mahala. Mihajlo Orlović, T. 46643–46645 (6 February 2014). The Chamber does not find this evidence to be reliable. In reaching this conclusion, the Chamber found that Orlović was not completely forthright with the Chamber and his evidence was contradicted on numerous occasions by other accepted evidence, including P3928 (Report of Sanski Most SJB, 15 June 1992), witnesses Faik Bišćević, KW545, Sakib Muhić, KDZ474, and Adjudicated Fact 2528.

The action of peaceful disarming and surrendering of weapons was carried out in the period between 10 May and 25 May 1992. During that period, the Muslim and Croatian population handed over only hunting weapons and other legally owned weapons, but illegally obtained military weapons were not surrendered, and were concealed (buried) on instructions from above.

On 25 May 1992, this “disarming” was followed by a military action (attack) against the downtown neighbourhood of Mahala, which resulted in the capture of 2000 civilians, but no significant amounts of weapons have been found because they had been concealed earlier. Several days later there was a synchronised attack on the Muslim villages of Vrhpolje and /?Hrustovo/. On that occasion a Muslim force of about 800 men was broken up and militarily defeated, while the houses were destroyed and burnt down. Army units’ casualties on that occasion amounted to 12 men (killed) and eight wounded, while the number of killed and wounded on the other side is unknown.

Why this fact #was skiped#, and the matter presented selectively? But there is an additional fact: the VRS sustained a significant loses,

So, obviously, this was an #attack on a stronghols# in the middle of the urban core of the Sanski Most town itself. Which army would tolerate such a stronghold on it’s A(rea) O(f) R(esponsibility)AOR?

1946. Attacks continued the following day.⁶⁶²⁰ Neđeljko Aničić ordered “upon completion of the task, [to] take the prisoners to the sports hall” and “hand over the war booty” to the “Sanski Most Serbian TO Staff”.⁶⁶²¹ Other villages in Sanski Most were subsequently attacked, including Hrustovo, Vrhpolje, Lukavica, and Trnovo.⁶⁶²² (#Armed strongholds#! This is incorrect, because it is only four villages out of many Muslim and Croat settlements. It must be kept in mind that Prijedor was not to far, several tens of km down the River Sana, and that the Muslim forces started their attacks in Prijedor on 22 May in Hambarine, and then on 24 May from Kozarac. And keeping in mind that the Sana River Valey was a unique space, see D3904,

I have followed the development of the BH Army in the Bihać region with full attention, and in organising its embryo, the Patriotic League, I was in the region personally on six occasions. Therefore, the situation in the wider region from the pre-war days till today is completely familiar to me. I was even in a position to alert the government organs in that region that armed combat was being obstructed, since they waited rather long and, while war was raging in all of the RBH /Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina/, in this region they were still negotiating with the aggressor.

We think that your region, taking into account the command of the Una-Sana Operations Group, the Bihać District Defence Staff, the municipal staffs in the region and other bodies, has a good personnel basis for a corps command.

#A huge Muslim terrorist presence#! Sefer Halilovic, 10 September 1992! Neither the Prosecution, nor the Chamber even tried to contest that there existed this Una-Sana Operational Group deep in the Serb territory! According to a military report, there was a “comprehensive operation” undertaken between 25 May and 4 June 1992 to “mop up the terrain and disarm Muslim extremists” in Sanski Most.⁶⁶²³ (Since this document, P3663 had been quoted extremely selectively, let u see what was said in this “strictly confidential” military report: P3663, p. 4:

On the basis of information gathered by the Sanski Most Public Security Service and staff of the Banja Luka CSB /Security Services Centre/ National Security Service, the intentions of the Muslims and the SDA were uncovered and measures taken to expose and arrest the planners of a heinous massacre of the Serbian people. The Muslims and the Croats were politically and militarily organised throughout the territory of Sanski Most municipality, in their local communes - džemat – where they had set up detachments, companies and platoons with their commands and officers corps. Their units were part of the Bihać-Cazin TO Corps. They had about 2000 armed men and intended to arm a further 4000. They got arms from SDA leaders who for their part obtained them through various channels, from Zagreb, the MUP /Ministry of the Interior/ of BH / Bosnia and Herzegovina/ and the BH TO. The best organised and the most inveterate extremists were Muslims from Vrhpolje, Hrustovo, Mahala and Trnova. The principal leaders and ideologists in all Muslim villages were their imams and SDA leaders. As they had to keep a low profile and did not dare take (#Only strongholds#! All the toponyms that later became the battlefields, unlike the rest of 22 Muslim villages, where there was no fights, because the Muslims didn't decide to attack the Serbs! See further, pp4-5:

The documents found show that they intended to commit genocide against the Serbian people, kill them and expel them, and create a Muslim state in these parts; all renowned Serbs and their families were to be killed and hanged in the park in Sanski Most; Serbian girls and women were to be put in brothels to bear offspring to the mujahedin and janissaries; Sharia laws and government were to be introduced as in Iran; male Serbian children were to be circumcised and brought up according to Islamic laws and principles.

And, finally, the result of the fights against the Muslim extremists, P3663, p.7:

/first part of sentence illegible/ several mopping up operations in Sanski Most municipality, the brigade achieved major results. The enemy suffered heavy losses in personnel, materiel and equipment. The following were taken or seized: 664 pieces of various infantry weapons, factory or hand-made, intended to liquidate the Serbian people, a quantity of explosives, hand grenades, rifle grenades, objects made of iron, equipment and medical supplies. In these operations 12 men of the brigade were killed, one of whom was badly mutilated.

(#Serb loses#! Certainly, those military casualties hadn't been inflicted by some Muslim civilians, but by an organized and well equiped secret Army. If there was an individual misconduct, it should be investigated, but the Prosecution – the Chamber alliance theat all the Serb political or military legal actions as a crime, and therefore all the consequences of such a legal actions as a criminal deeds! Why this document was taken so selectively? Depicting the consequences, i.e. the Serb reactions, without depicting the context and causes is not a fair trial!)

1947. Meetings of the Crisis Staff were to be held daily to discuss a “long-term solution” for the “problem of refugees from the Mahala area, as well as the Muslims and Croats who are not loyal to the Constitution and laws of the [SerBiH]”.⁶⁶²⁴ The Crisis Staff concluded that all “those who have not taken up arms and want to change their municipality” should be allowed to move out.⁶⁶²⁵

(This was #in accord with the Agreement# of the three sides signed in London on 22 May, which regulated an obligation of the warring sides to facilitate the free movement of civilians, or a displacement of civilians “if the security of the civilians involved, or imperative military reasons so demand: see: D1603 p. 9:

The displacement of the civilian population shall not be ordered unless the security of the civilians involved or imperative military reasons so demand. Should such

That is why no Muslim or Croat was disturbed in any village where there was no fights! Why the Chamber didn't consider this Agreement, which served as a basis for several other similar agreements, comprised under the same exhibit number: Agreement on the release and transfer of prisoners, of 30 Sept. and 1. Oct. 1992, and also D4710 signed in London on 17 July 92, p. 1:

We agree that all refugees will be permitted to return to the places from which they have been expelled and that civilians who are caught up in or trapped by the military situation, will be given freedom of movement.

Why these documents “does not matter?!”

1948. Pursuant to an order from the Crisis Staff, the “displaced population” from the Mahala, Muhići, and Otoka areas was to be transferred by a Sanatrans bus to the sports hall for “care and accommodation”.⁶⁶²⁶ (#Legal as illegal#! Exactly as it was #provided by the Geneva Conventions# and repeated in the document above! However, as usually, the Serb moves are depicted as illegal, no matter what circumstances demanded!) The following day, the TO ordered the “clean up” of the terrain in Mahala, Otoka, and Mahići and the search, identification, and burial of dead bodies.⁶⁶²⁷ (So what? Remember, the VRS and the police had their own casualties, in the very urban core of Sanski Most. A sanitation of a battlefield was a #legal obligation#!)

1949. On 27 May 1992, Bišćević was arrested, beaten, and taken to Radio Sana, which was by then controlled by the SDS.⁶⁶²⁸ He was forced to read a statement on the radio.⁶⁶²⁹ The statement announced that the VRS had taken over the municipality and all Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats must unconditionally surrender their weapons in order to prevent the destruction of the town.⁶⁶³⁰ After making this statement, Bišćević was taken to Magarice village.⁶⁶³¹ An additional announcement was broadcast on the radio stating that residents who wished to leave Sanski Most would be allowed to and those who wished to stay were required to submit a request for a permanent residence permit.⁶⁶³² (#All vice versa#! (But let us see what the Radio and the News Agency Tanjug reported about the events in Sanski Most on 27 May, when Biscevic was arrested: D4295:

/crossed out: Banja Luka, 27 May (Tanjug)/ - Today in Sanski Most clashes broke out between Muslim extremists and units of the 1st Krajina Corps. According to Tanjug's military sources, the clashes were preceded by attacks launched by the Green Berets on men guarding the bridges over the Sana River in the villages of Demiševići and Vrhpolje. Six soldiers were wounded in the attack.

A local radio station, a silo and the public security station in Sanski Most were hit in the mortar attack by the Green Berets and several houses were either set on fire or destroyed. Clashes also broke out in the villages of Čatići and Kamengrad. The Croatian National Guard Corps participated in the attack and three of its members were captured. So far there have been no reports on possible casualties.

Therefore, it was not a Serb attack, but contrary, #the Muslim attack,# just as it was meditated on the meeting of SDA Board ON 16 March 1992, while the Lisbon Agreement was just been finalised, see: D1678:

S. ŠABIĆ: "I think that our people are very well organised. I think that our people know how to react when the situation becomes critical. We have accepted the proposal to sign the statement on the freeze of all activities relating to the proclamation of the Serbian, or Muslim Municipality. They would under no

Now, knowing that Biscevic was among the most radical and responsible for this attack, it is clear why he was arrested and brought to the Radio station to call the people to calm down and stop fighting!)

1950. Those who didn't accept the Republic of Srpska Constitution and laws, had their alternative, to join the Muslim municipality of Sanski Most which was in the forming process!) This included judges and employees of the municipal court, directors of public companies, and employees of the local radio and health centre.⁶⁶³⁴ Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat political leaders were arrested.⁶⁶³⁵ (#Legal and obligatory#! There was #no any arbitrary arrests#! Those who were arrested were a very famous Muslim extremists who actively participated in preparations and actions of the rebellion! But, see the fn. 6645, and it is clear that those who didn't respect the RS Constitution couldn't carry out a sensitive duties. And concerning judges, remember D5 exhibit, and the President of the Court Adil Draganovic was, among the most prominent people in the conspiracy against the Serbs. There were the Serbs

Mikan Davidović testified that non-Serbs did not show up for work, rather than being dismissed from employment in May 1992. However, he confirmed that Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats in top positions, such as directors and judges, were replaced by Bosnian Serbs. Mikan Davidović, T. 44521-44522 (5 December 2013). Vinko Nikolić testified that all citizens were allowed to maintain their employment if they respected the RS constitution. Vinko Nikolić, T. 45446–45451 (16 January 2014). However, his testimony was contradicted by evidence showing that Bosnian Croat and Bosnian Muslim employees were removed from their jobs. The Chamber notes that this was one of many contradictions in his evidence which magnified his lack of credibility on the stand.

Illegally possessed weaponry and large amount of ammunition was confiscated from a person residing in Husimovci, during a successful action undertaken by the units of the 6th Corps Brigade and by the operative activities of the SJB /Public Security Station/ S. Most /Sanski Most/. The actions took place on 26, 27 and 28.05.1992. and the following weaponry was confiscated: one sniper gun produced in Yugoslavia, one automatic gun produced in Switzerland, one automatic produced in Hungary, large amount of the ammunition for the listed weaponry and 2.5 kg of explosives.

Further operative activities and the apprehension of a large number of persons, resulted in discovering bigger amount of weaponry (approximately 30 pieces of automatic weapons of various types and calibre) in Husimovci residential area.

Based on the gathered information, the residents of Husimovac were given an ultimatum to surrender their arms until 1200 hrs on 28.05.1992.

The citizens met the deadline and surrendered the large part of the requested weaponry listed below:

1. One rifle produced in Singapore and 1000 bullets,
2. Four automatic rifles type Kalašnjikov and large amount of ammunition,
3. Thirteen automatic rifles produced in Yugoslavia with a large amount of ammunition.
4. Two anti-aircraft guns
5. Two guns
6. Six rifle-launched-grenade
7. One hand-grenade

We need to mention that through our operative activities we gained information on the certain amount of illegally possessed weaponry in the village of Žegar near Husimovci. Persons in possession of that weaponry are requested to surrender their arms until 1700 hrs, or a detailed search of the field and houses will be conducted in order to find the arms. The persons in possession of arms will not be guaranteed safety if they refuse to surrender arms within the deadline.

There was no shooting or casualties, just disarmament! Let us see further:

Scheduled Incident A.12.1

1952. The Prosecution alleges that about 28 men were killed between Begići and Vrhpolje Bridge on or about 31 May 1992.

1953. Begići is a hamlet in the village of Kljevci with approximately 80 inhabitants.⁶⁶³⁹ Begići is divided into two halves: Gornji Begići and Donji Begići, which were several 100 metres apart.⁶⁶⁴⁰ In 1992, the majority of the population in Begići was Bosnian Muslim.⁶⁶⁴¹

1954. On 25 May 1992, soldiers from the 6th Krajina Brigade entered Gornji Begići and Donji Begići.⁶⁶⁴² They damaged property and beat some of the residents.⁶⁶⁴³ The soldiers then returned to their check-point near Stojanovići.⁶⁶⁴⁴

1955. On 31 May 1992, soldiers from the 6th Krajina Brigade entered Donji Begići and ordered the residents to come out of their houses and to go towards Gornji Begići.⁶⁶⁴⁵ Once they arrived there, they saw that the men from Gornji Begići had gathered outside.⁶⁶⁴⁶ The women and children were separated from the men and taken away.⁶⁶⁴⁷ The soldiers ordered the men, approximately 20 in the group, to go towards the Vrhpolje Bridge where they were told there would be buses waiting to transport them to Sanski Most.⁶⁶⁴⁸ The men walked, two-by-two, in a column through the fields towards the Vrhpolje Bridge.⁶⁶⁴⁹ According to Rajif Begić, there were 20 Bosnian Muslim men in this column, including himself, and they were escorted by eight armed soldiers.⁶⁶⁵⁰ 1956. Jadranko Palija, a soldier from the 6th Krajina Brigade, was in charge of leading the column of men from Begići to the Vrhpolje Bridge.⁶⁶⁵¹ During the walk to the bridge, two of the Bosnian Muslim men were taken out of the column by Palija, shot, and killed near a slaughterhouse.⁶⁶⁵² As the group continued towards the bridge, Palija shot and killed another man near the crossroads of the main road connecting Sanski Most and Ključ.⁶⁶⁵³ Before the group reached the bridge, approximately 50 metres away, a military van pulled up and Palija got in to speak to the driver.⁶⁶⁵⁴ Palija ordered another man, Ismet Kurbegović, from the column to come to the passenger side of the van, which he did.⁶⁶⁵⁵ Palija shot and killed Kurbegović.⁶⁶⁵⁶ (Begić and Kurbegović were on all and every lists of the #leaders of the criminal conspiracy# to kill the Serbs. 1957. When the remaining men reached the bridge, armed soldiers were waiting for them.⁶⁶⁵⁷ The men were ordered to line up along the bridge and told that they would be killed because VRS soldiers had been killed.⁶⁶⁵⁸ They were ordered to take off their clothes and shoes.⁶⁶⁵⁹ One of the men was ordered to jump into the river.⁶⁶⁶⁰ He did and as he was swimming in the river, the soldiers leaned over the bridge, shot, and killed him.⁶⁶⁶¹ The soldiers repeated this with every man.⁶⁶⁶² Begić was the sixth man who was ordered to jump off the bridge.⁶⁶⁶³ He did so and

#Combatant# no doubt! Who else confirmed this story? If nobody, and no documents, how come one serious Chamber put it in the Judgment? However, the document P557 sais somewhat different story:

ON-SITE INVESTIGATION RECORD

Compiled by the investigating judge of Sanski Most Serb Municipality Lower Court on 16.07.1992. during the identification of people killed in the village of Hrustovo, Sanski Most Municipality, during an attack by Muslim extremists and an armed conflict with the Serb Army of Sanski Most Serb Municipality. The on-site investigation was carried out on 02.06.1992.

So, this Prosecutor's document sais that there was an #attack of the Muslim extremists#, and then "an armed conflict with the Serb Army of Sanski Most Municipality" Prety accurate, since this civil war was not a unique one, but rather many municipal civil wars:

The duty service of the SJB of Sanski Most Serb Municipality informed the investigating judge of the Sanski Most Serb Municipality Lower Court that during a military intervention and the opposing of Muslim extremists in the village of Hrustovo and Vrhpolje there were victims whom it was necessary to identify.

The investigating judge went to the scene to do the on-site investigation.

Soldiers of the internal /sic/ company of the Tomina battalion and their commander Gojko ŠAULA from Tomina was also present at the on-site investigation and the identification of bodies and they secured the area.

See that!!! The document said that "there were victims whom it was necessary to identify!" Had those Muslim extremists been captured and then executed as the Muslim extremists "testified", (Rajif Begic, as the only one, a member of a very extreme family Begic, brother of Nedzad and relative of Daut, who died in this skirmish) there would be no any need to organize the whole team to identify them! The bodies would be naked and without any ID or money, which was not the case! Further, the same P557

Thirteen (13) bodies were found in the village of Vrhpolje, on the right bank of the Sana river, under the bridge that connects Vrhpolje and leads towards Tomina, near Dizdarević, Enes Dizdarević, and Elmedin Begić. Enes Dizdarević was shot on the bridge before he could jump off. Rajif Begić, P691 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Krajišnik), T. 2989–2990. See also Adjudicated Facts 1304, 1306; P3634 (Witness statement of KDZ490, undated), p. 77 (under seal).

Others hadn't been identified, but those identified belong to the top #elite of the Muslim rebels#, organizers and commanders. Another argument in favour of the Defence position: since it was an armed skirmish, were the combat casualties had been depicted, how many of them, and who? If not, then it is clear that Rajif Begic deceived the Chamber! Let us see what other evidence says about this: a Muslim source D01677:

Simultaneously with the increasingly prominent presence of the regular units of the former JNA /Yugoslav People's Army/ and Chetnik paramilitary formations, some individuals and the Party of Democratic Action initiated the collecting of weapons and formation of small combat assault groups supported by the Bosnae Green Berets organisation. One such group was active in the town itself and very soon groups were also organised in Vrhpolje, Trnova, Hrustovo and part of Kamengrad.

“A group was active in the town itself...” that was why Mahala was “attacked” but it was this “group of the Green Berets” that had been attacked!

Vrhpolje is in many ways specific in the organisation of resistance against the Serbian fascists in this part of the Sanski Most municipality. The collection of money for weapons started in late 1991. Weapons were intensively acquired in January and February 1992. According to Ifet HUKANOVIĆ, one of the people organising the acquisition of weapons and later one of the key figures in the Vrhpolje resistance, intense training started with the first aggressor attacks on Sarajevo.

Vrhpolje was ready for the April 1992 events with about 300 armed villagers, mainly younger men. Simultaneously with the developments accompanying the occupation of Sanski Most (which will be described in a separate chapter, author's note) there were intensive preparations for resistance. Right at the beginning of April roads to the village were blocked, armed guards were set up around the village and special patrols were tasked with observing enemy movements and monitoring the whole area. This manner of preparations for defence had its good and bad sides. The enemy was indeed prevented from immediately entering the village, but because combat groups were not pulled out much farther from the village and due to insufficient coordination with the armed groups from other villages, the enemy was able to separate the villages physically and totally encircle them, which would later provide them with favourable tactical requirements for successful armed assaults and actions.

A troop review of the Vrhpolje Territorial Defence unit was conducted in Vrhpolje on 15 April 1992. There were about 300 armed soldiers at the review. The unit commander was the late Arif HUKANOVIĆ, and the anti-tank company commander at the time was Bećo BULJUBAŠIĆ, a captain in the former JNA. The second company commander was Said KERANOVIĆ, and Ifet HUKANOVIĆ was the Green Berets platoon commander.

The first clash broke out between 14 and 15 May 1992. The Vrhpolje forces deployed around the school offered unexpectedly strong resistance to the aggressor, and the enemy was forced to withdraw. They had losses in manpower and it is estimated that about ten enemy soldiers were put out of action.

artillery fire on these villages from several aggressor strongholds. The defence lines of the Vrhpolje unit were established near the Vrhpolje bridge and at the time they were an impenetrable rampart for the aggressor. Using the tactics of softening up the (#Armed strongholds#! This is a Muslim source! Nota bene: these names of persons and places, because the Indictment alleged that these villages had been a civilian settlements attacked by the Serbs! Who and why prevented the Chamber of reading this exhibit? So, the Vrhpolje bridge was a first line, "impenetrable" and we only can imagine how many Serbs and Muslims died around this bridge. The same Muslim source, document D1677, p. 9-10 describe the critical time:

The people of Vrhpolje were tasked with setting up the blockade of the Sanski Most – Ključ road. Arif and Ifet HUKANOVIĆ were directly in charge of this road blockade. The task of the third group, equalling a reinforced platoon in strength, was to attack the village of Peći. The rest of the battalion was deployed at the most favourable positions so that they could provide assistance in a swift manoeuvre if necessary. The operation was coordinated, and it started on 27 May 1992 with the blockade of the Sanski Most – Ključ road at the entrance to the village of Gornji

(Let us see what had been said in the Serb document, D4295 about the Vrhpolje Bridge: /crossed out: Banja Luka, 27 May (Tanjug)/ - Today in Sanski Most clashes broke out between Muslim extremists and units of the 1st Krajina Corps. According to Tanjug's military sources, the clashes were preceded by attacks launched by the Green Berets on men guarding the bridges over the Sana River in the villages of Demiševići and Vrhpolje. Six soldiers were wounded in the attack.

A local radio station, a silo and the public security station in Sanski Most were hit in the mortar attack by the Green Berets and several houses were either set on fire or destroyed. Clashes also broke out in the villages of Ćatići and Kamengrad. The Croatian National Guard Corps participated in the attack and three of its members were captured. So far there have been no reports on possible casualties.

Said – done! The Muslim extremists planned in advance to pose their blockade at the Vrhpolje Bridge, and there was a skirmish with the VRS, which sustained at least six soldiers wounded at the first day of fights! Let us see what was said further in the Muslim document, D1677:

while the Party Municipal Board coordinated all the activities regarding the collection of funds and arming. In August 1991 some funds for arming were collected. The weapons were then still being purchased from the Serbs, and that was a mistake. The Serbs, therefore, had information about the quantities of weapons and ammunition available and later when the aggression started they accordingly adjusted the force of their attacks on individual parts of the municipality.

And that was the only Serb crime: to know what the Muslims were preparing as of the beginning of the 91. This kind of presentation of events by the Prosecution is a crime, and the Chamber didn't make a minor effort to protect the truth. Let us see the same Muslim source D1677, p. 11

However, certain quantities of weapons were obtained from Croatia. One of the persons in charge of organising procurement of weapons in Sanski Most municipality was Hasib KAMBER, who was the SDA Secretary at the time. Together with Rasim KARABEG, KAMBER managed to acquire a certain quantity of explosives in late 1991 and early 1992. In addition to the two of them, the following persons were also engaged in the collection of funds and procurement of weapons: Emir SEFEROVIĆ, Mesud BEGIĆ aka Sudo, Redžo KURBEGOVIĆ, Suad ŠABIĆ, Enver HURLIĆ, Nedžad MUHIĆ, Faik BIŠČEVIĆ, Mirzet KARABEG, Husein Ef. KOVAČEVIĆ, Arif and Ifet HUKANOVIĆ, Rifet BAHTIĆ, Ilijaz KUŽELJ, Ismet ŠARČEVIĆ, Nihad KLJUČANIN, Osman TALIĆ, Fikret MAJDANKIĆ and Adem KREHIĆ.

(This is the list of those “prominent” citizens of Sanski Most, known to all the Muslim authors and citizens as the #main organizers# of the arming, preparing, planning and finally realising the armed attacks on the JNA (later the VRS) and the Serb settlements. Some of them “testified” in this case, without the cross examination (Rules 92bis or 92ter) as a “credible” witnesses, not interested to lie!?! Remember, this document is a book of the Muslim elite in Sanski Most, of which 14 pages had been admitted. And, finally, D1677, p. 12 identifies the area of the battles imposed by the Muslim forces:

The first organised preparations to offer resistance to the mounting Serbian nazi-fascism in certain parts of Sanski Most municipality, such as Vrhpolje, Trnovo, Hrustovi, Šehovci, Kamengrad, the urban and suburban settlements of Mahala and Muhići, on the one hand, provided a certain sense of security to the Bosniaks but, on the other hand, most Bosniaks could still not believe that the Serbs would harm them.

(This is a partial list of the Muslim settlements where the Green Berets organised their secret units and prepared for the war! Remember what the Prosecution alleged, and the Chamber unfortunately uncritically accepted, about the “villages” attacked by the Serb Forces. Was Mahala attacked without any justifiable reason? See this paragraph! Why, for what reasons, and under what justification the Chamber neglected this genuine document of the Muslim provenance? See also D01678, a minutes of the SDA meeting with Osman Brka from the Central SDA, 12 April 92! In the light of these Muslim documents nothing concluded about Sanski most can survive!)

1958. Begić identified 19 Bosnian Muslim men who were killed in relation to this incident.⁶⁶⁶⁷ The Chamber also received evidence that in July 1992, the bodies of 13 males were found buried under the Vrhpolje Bridge on the right bank of the Sana River, the bodies of 11 other males were taken out of the Sana River, and Irfan Begić was found dead by the road near the bridge.⁶⁶⁶⁸ Of the 11 bodies taken out of the river, five of them match the names of men that were identified as having been with Begić’s group.⁶⁶⁶⁹ (What this “Begić’s group was doing? Why they grouped? #A combatants?# What else?!) Further, the Chamber received evidence that in May 1996, the bodies of 28 males were exhumed from mass graves connected to this incident.⁶⁶⁷⁰ Of those 28 males, seven were identified as having been with Begić’s group and four were also named in the July 1992 report as bodies taken from the Sana River.⁶⁶⁷¹ Injuries noted by the forensic report include gunshot wounds and fractured bones, mainly of the skull and ribs.⁶⁶⁷² Some of the bodies in one part of the mass grave were in civilian clothing and another section of the mass grave contained a large quantity of civilian clothing.⁶⁶⁷³ The Chamber also received evidence that the body of Ismet Kurbegović was discovered in a mass grave in Prijedor.⁶⁶⁷⁴ (#Ad absurdum#! Why would the Serbs from Sanski Most, in a shortage of everything and fuel in particular, transport one body to Prijedor? It is obvious that Ismet Kurbegovic didn’t die that day in Sanski Most, but some other time, in combats around Prijedor. Since the Chamber “received” so many “evidence” why the Chamber didn’t check what happened with the combat casualties? Or this was the only war without a combat casualties? All of the combat casualties had been depicted as a victims of an alleged execution, and this is responsibility of the Prosecution and the Muslim witnesses!)

a. Scheduled Incident A.12.2

1961. The Prosecution alleges that a number of people in the village of Hrustovo were killed on or about 31 May 1992.

1962. Hrustovo is a village in Sanski Most.⁶⁶⁷⁶ It has six hamlets: Merdanovići, Keranovići, Jelečevići, Kukavice, Handanovići, and Zukići.⁶⁶⁷⁷ In 1992, the population of these hamlets was primarily Bosnian Muslim.⁶⁶⁷⁸

1963. On the morning of 31 May 1992, in Jelečevići, approximately 20 to 25 Bosnian Muslim civilians, mainly women and children, were ordered by soldiers wearing JNA uniforms to go to Kukavice.⁶⁶⁷⁹ The reason given was that the soldiers were going to search houses for weapons and it would be easier if there were fewer people in the village.⁶⁶⁸⁰ (In #accordance with the law of war#, civilians had to be removed out of the combat zone!) In Kukavice, the group grew to about 30 individuals who were gathered in the garage of a house.⁶⁶⁸¹ Shortly afterwards, soldiers came to the garage and opened fire at the garage door.⁶⁶⁸² The soldiers yelled for everyone to come out of the garage.⁶⁶⁸³ Husein Merdanović went outside and told the soldiers to stop shooting and that there were only women and children inside the garage.⁶⁶⁸⁴ The soldiers shot and killed him.⁶⁶⁸⁵ The soldiers opened fire on the garage a second time.⁶⁶⁸⁶ As the civilians panicked, they came out of the garage and started running away, the soldiers fired at them.⁶⁶⁸⁷ Only eight people survived the attack.⁶⁶⁸⁸

1964. The Chamber took judicial notice of the fact that at a minimum, 15 people were killed in this incident.⁶⁶⁸⁹ The Chamber received evidence that bodies were found in a mass grave in Hrustovo in relation to this incident.⁶⁶⁹⁰ (#Deadly combination#! 92.bis testimony, the Defence is defenceless and helpless in such a cases. This is no a fair trial.)

1965. Accordingly, the Chamber finds that a number of people were killed by Serb Forces in Hrustovo village on or about 31 May 1992. (#Combats and casualties#! Even this Chamber can not deny that there was an armed group of several hundred Muslim combatants, and that at the time there was a battle between them and the VRS. It should be notified, because as it is presented now, looks as if the Serbs killed “a number of people” out of any other events. However, nothing in this incident was properly investigated, and can not bear this qualification! It looks as if there was no any combat casualties on the Muslim side, all of them are depicted as a victims of the Serb attacks on villages!)

a. Scheduled Incident A.12.3

1966. The Prosecution alleges that about 18 men from Kenjari were killed on or about 27 June 1992 in the hamlet of Blaževići.

1967. Kenjari is a hamlet located north of Begići.⁶⁶⁹¹ In 1992, the population of Kenjari was primarily Bosnian Muslim.⁶⁶⁹² Around 27 or 28 June 1992, Bosnian Serb soldiers, led by Milorad Mijatović, entered Kenjari and started searching houses for weapons.⁶⁶⁹³ The Bosnian Muslims in the hamlet were ordered to leave their houses and wait outside at the crossroads.⁶⁶⁹⁴ After the soldiers were finished searching the houses, they ordered that all the men be taken elsewhere for interrogation, while the women and children could return to their homes.⁶⁶⁹⁵ KDZ052 testified that about 18 or 20 men were with him when they were taken to a house to be interrogated.⁶⁶⁹⁶ They were kept at the house in Kenjari until the following day when Vrkeš, the president of the SDS in Sanski Most, came to see the men and told them they would be exchanged for Bosnian Serbs in eastern BiH.⁶⁶⁹⁷ The men were then taken to a house in Blaževići.⁶⁶⁹⁸ While they were in the house, there was an explosion inside.⁶⁶⁹⁹ KDZ052 managed to jump out of the window and hide.⁶⁷⁰⁰ He and others were shot at while they attempted to escape out of the house.⁶⁷⁰¹ The does not find his evidence on this point to be reliable as it amounted to mere speculation. The Chamber also found that the evidence of Orlović was marked with numerous contradictions and that he was not completely forthright with the Chamber. (This is a most usual manner in #discrediting the Defence witnesses.# There was no any reason that Tadic or Orlovic were not completely forthright with the Chamber. Had this crime happened, everyone would have known about it. But, the Prosecutor’s evidence is due to Rule 92bis, and under the seal, so neither the Defence could contest it, nor a public could object it!)

bodies of the men who were killed were taken by the soldiers back to the house and the house was set on fire.⁶⁷⁰² KDZ052 survived and made his way to Tomina.⁶⁷⁰³

1968. The Chamber received evidence that the bodies of 18 men were identified in a mass grave and linked to this scheduled incident.⁶⁷⁰⁴

1969. What happened with the #combat casualties?# Or this was another battle without a combat casualties, and all the combat casualties are presented as a casualties of an execution?)

a. Scheduled Incident A.12.4

1970. The Prosecution alleges that a number of people from the hamlet of Budim in Lukavice village were killed on or about 1 August 1992.

1971. Lukavice is a village in the northwestern region of Sanski Most municipality.⁶⁷⁰⁵ The population of Lukavice was primarily Bosnian Muslim.⁶⁷⁰⁶ The Chamber took judicial notice of the fact that on 1 August 1992, Bosnian Serb Forces attacked Budim and killed 14 members of the Alibegović family, all of whom were unarmed civilians.⁶⁷⁰⁷ The Chamber also took judicial notice of the fact that the victims were shot from a close distance with automatic weapons.⁶⁷⁰⁸ Why there is no record of the action either in the military, or in the police records?

1972. The Chamber also received evidence that 14 bodies were exhumed in a mass grave in relation to this incident.⁶⁷⁰⁹ These bodies were determined to be Bosnian Muslim male civilians.⁶⁷¹⁰

⁶⁷⁰⁸ See Adjudicated Fact 1315. In his Final Brief, the Accused acknowledges that “[o]n 1 August 1992, Serb soldiers attacked Budin[sic] and killed 14 unarmed members of the Alibegović family”. However, the Accused also submits that “KDZ097 testified that large numbers of people roamed his area in uniform”. The Accused therefore argues that there was “no plan to perpetrate killings by official Serb authorities.” Defence Final Trial Brief, p. 437 (section on Persecution), para. 1623. The Accused also submits that the crimes committed in Sanski Most cannot be attributed to him because they were acts committed without his knowledge, against his policies, and by people outside of his control. He also submits that there was no plan to permanently remove non-Serbs from Sanski Most. Defence Final Brief, paras. 2894–2900. This submission will be dealt with in Section IV.A.3.iii: Authority over military and police forces acting in BiH.

a. Scheduled Incident A.12.5

1974. The Prosecution alleges that approximately seven men were killed near the village of Škrljevita on or about 2 November 1992.

1975. Škrljevita is a village in eastern Sanski Most.⁶⁷¹¹ In 1992, the majority of the population in Škrljevita was Bosnian Croat.⁶⁷¹² On 2 November 1992, Grgo Stojić and his cousin were walking from Sanski Most town to Škrljevita when they encountered two soldiers from the 6th Krajina Brigade on the road near the Glamošnica forest.⁶⁷¹³ The soldiers asked them for identification.⁶⁷¹⁴ After looking at their identity cards, the soldiers asked Stojić and his cousin to follow them.⁶⁷¹⁵ They were led through the forest and to the Glamošnica River, where four of Stojić's neighbours were already lined up.⁶⁷¹⁶ A soldier was pointing a machine gun at the four men.⁶⁷¹⁷ Stojić and his cousin were told to line up next to his neighbours.⁶⁷¹⁸ They were searched, their personal belongings were taken, and they were questioned.⁶⁷¹⁹ The soldiers declared: "We are Šešelj army," and shot Stojić, his cousin, and his neighbours, killing five of them.⁶⁷²⁰ Stojić was the only survivor.⁶⁷²¹

1976. Stojić was shot in his left arm and hip.⁶⁷²² He continued heading through the forest towards Škrljevita.⁶⁷²³ While in the forest, Stojić heard strong bursts of gunfire.⁶⁷²⁴ He later learned that this gunfire came from VRS soldiers killing four other men from Škrljevita.⁶⁷²⁵

1977. The Chamber took judicial notice of the fact that seven Bosnian Croats were killed in relation to this incident.⁶⁷²⁶ The Chamber received evidence from Stojić, an eye-witness to the incident that five men were killed and he learned after he escaped that an additional four men were killed soon after. The Chamber also received evidence that nine bodies were recovered in a mass grave and in relation to this incident, the identities of which are corroborated by Stojić's evidence.⁶⁷²⁷

1978. The Chamber finds that nine men were killed by Serb Forces near the village of Škrļjevita on or about 2 November 1992. (Here is all the #absurdity of the term "Serb Forces"#! From the very same Grgo Stojic we heard that he identified the "two soldiers" as a two criminals, see T.19756: *The witness primarily testified about the killing of a number of men of Croat ethnicity near the village of Skrljevita in the Sanski Most municipality on or about the 2nd of November, 1992. He is the sole survivor of this incident. On that day, he and his cousin were ambushed by the two persons of Serb ethnicity, one of whom he came to know as Danilusko Kajtez. The two Serbs ordered the witness and his cousin to follow them. They were taken a short distance to where four Croat neighbours were being detained by another two persons of Serb ethnicity. That was the Prosecutor's resume of the Stojic's testimony as a prosecutor's witness. This was an accurate qualification: "the two persons of Serb ethnicity". The witness gave his answers in cross examination about the situation in Sanski Most before and after the Muslim attacks at the end of May: T.19764: Q. So you went on Mondays. And tell me, is it correct that it was possible to go until the first attack, the first fighting in Sanski Most, until late May -- in late May? A. Yes, that's right. Q. Thank you. I'm not sure that I put a precise question. Moving around in the municipality was free and possible until the first attack in late May, the 25th, the 26th, and the 27th of May; is that right? A. Yes. Q. And then after the fighting there was a request to hand over weapons; is that right? A. Yes. The witness confirmed that before the attacks the Serb authorities and the "Serb Forces" didn't impose any restrictions to any citizens. Let us see what the Witness Stojic said further: T.19770: Q. When you were crossing the bridge on the little stream in Harkusa [phoen] you noticed two criminals behind a bush. Is that what you said? A. Yes. Q. You described this unfortunate event, and it struck me that these two people identified themselves to you as member of some kind of paramilitary; is that correct? A. Yes.(...) Q. They did not -- or, actually, what did they wear? What did they have on their heads? What insignia did they wear? A. One of them was dressed as a military policeman. He had a submachine-gun. He had a military cap and a badge. The other one was in civilian clothes. He had a leather jacket and also a submachine-gun. Q. And one of them had a sort of cockade; is that correct? A. Yes. Q. You immediately realized that those were paramilitaries and that, by definition, you knew that they were beyond any civilian or military command or control? A. I didn't realize that those were paramilitaries. But when we were brought to the four men who had already been captured before me, that's when I realized that Q. Thank you. But you certainly knew that paramilitaries were under nobody's control, and that is what you said in the transcript. A. That was clear to me, and that was how it should be in a normal -- The witness realized himself that there were criminals out of anyone's control! All what happened afterwards showed that it had nothing to do with the Serb authorities. All the Serbs, from a neighbour who first helped him, to the end, behaved properly. And they, the police, doctors, investigators, Red Cross, were representing the Republika Srpska and it's authorities, not Danilusko Kajtaz and another criminal with him. Let us see what Mr. Stojic said about the Serb policemen tha met him first, T. 19773: Q. Then the police arrived and took your statement, in which you explained in great detail about what had transpired? A.

Yes. Q. In your statements, you say that the policemen were polite and fair and caused no problems; is that correct? A. Yes. Q. They themselves told you that that was a group that was operating independently. A. Yes. T.19774: They gave you their ambulance and it took you to Prijedor. A. Yes, that's correct. Q. And you were escorted by a policeman whilst in the ambulance. A. Yes. Q. He accompanied you because there could have been extremists on the road and you would have been safer to have a policeman by your side. A. That's what he told me. Q. Thank you. You were immediately admitted at Prijedor hospital at 10.00. Risto Stojanovski examined you and said immediately that he has to make a referral to Banja Luka because he was not able to treat you. A. Yes. Q. It took you half an hour to reach Banja Luka, and in the next half-hour you found yourself on the operation table; is that correct? A. Yes. Q. And between the period when you were wounded until such time that you underwent surgery, you didn't have any criticism with regard to either doctors or the authorities. However, the first problems occurred after the surgery; is that correct? A. Yes. Now it looks different from the Prosecution/Chamber interpretation! We also have learned from the witness Stojic that his village Skrljevita didn't have any problem before or after this incident, a Serb teacher was coming regularly, the inhabitants, Croats, went to the town regularly. But, let us see how the Police of the Serb Sanski Most treated this crime: see D4356

a) Murder

There have been 19 murders in the territory over the past two months. Six Muslims, nine Croats and four Serbs were killed, as follows:

- Rajko TOPOLIĆ, a mental patient from Lipik, killed Stana TOPOLIĆ;
- Miroslav BORENOVIĆ, a military reservist from Fajtovci, killed the soldier Milenko RAJLIĆ;
- Branko VUKOJEVIĆ from Lukavica killed Jovan VUKOJEVIĆ from Lukavica in a dispute over property matters;
- Military reservists from Gornja Ravska, Prijedor SO /Municipality/, members of the 5th Kozara Brigade, killed two Muslims from Stari Mejdan. The names of the suspects have been given to the Prijedor SJB /Public Security Station/;
- Two Muslim women were killed in Kijevo. According to an eye-witness, the crime was committed by Lazar RISTIĆ from Kruhari, who was severely mentally distressed following the death of his only son. Proceedings are underway;
- Nine Croats were killed and one was wounded between Kruhari and Škrljevita. The most probable motive is ethnic vengeance. Prosecution of the case and gathering of material evidence is underway;
- Muhamed HALKIĆ was killed in Zdena by an unidentified perpetrator;
- A Muslim was killed in Kamengrad; an investigation is underway;
- Due to careless handling of a PAP /semi-automatic rifle/, the minor Radenko KONDIĆ from Podovi killed his brother in Podovi;

This is how the Chief of the SJB Vrucinic reported to his superiors in Banja Luka "over the past two months". And Vrucinic was the real "Serb Force", not those two criminals. Although, there was no any "attack on Skrljevita", but it was an ambush set by the two criminals. Let us see what was the reaction of the authorities of the Serb Municipality of Sanski Most, D: 4215

Meeting of the Coordinating Committee of the Sanski Most Municipal Assembly, 4 November 1992

A G E N D A :

1. Report and explanation in connection with the armed operation carried out at Trnovo and Šehovci;
2. Report on the measures taken and the course of the investigation in connection with the murder of Croatian civilians in Kruhari and Škrljevita;

Ad 2

The following took part in the discussion of this item of the agenda: Nedeljko RAŠULA, Mirko VRUĆINIĆ, Rajko STANIĆ and Milenko DELIĆ. The following conclusion was reached:

The perpetrators of this heinous crime must be discovered with all speed and the severest measures provided for by law must be taken against them.

The 6th Krajina Brigade and the Public Security Station are asked to provide personal security for and protect the property of all the citizens of the municipality of Sanski Most. Better cooperation is sought between the military and civilian police. In order to perform the above tasks, the 6th Krajina /Brigade/ and the Public Security Station are asked to carry out personnel changes and selection and to take the severest measures against any perpetrators of criminal offences from within their ranks.

s already established, the perpetrator was a criminal D. Kajtaz, he was arrested and tried, but only after the only witness, the survivor, was available! The next session, the civilian authorities accepted the SJB report (D4356) and concluded further:

1. The report by the Public Security Station of Sanski Most Municipality is hereby accepted. We condemn the crimes mentioned in the report and demand that the Public Security Station take action against the perpetrators of the crimes and bring them to justice.

5. The Public Security Station of Sanski Most Municipality and the 6th Krajina Brigade Command are instructed to launch a joint effort to disarm persons who carry arms and who are not members of the Brigade or soldiers and who are inclined to commit criminal acts. They will take their weapons, record them and store them at a designated location.

his at the first place pertained to the Serbs who weren't engaged in the Army units!

6. The president of the Municipal Assembly, the president of the SDS /Serbian Democratic Party/, a representative of the Command and the chief of the Public Security Station should intensify political work with citizens in the municipality by attending public meetings in all places and talking to people. Schedules of visits to meetings should be made beforehand.

his meant to have a public meetings in the villages inhabited with minorities Finally, there was formed the multi-ethnic Committee for distribution of humanitarian aid:

16. A committee for the distribution of humanitarian aid in Sanski Most Municipality is hereby appointed.

The following are appointed to the committee:

1. Đuro KALACUN, chairman of the committee,
2. Red Cross director, a member,
3. Welfare Centre director, a member,
4. Civilian Protection Staff commander, a member,
5. Brane DAVIDOVIĆ, a member of the committee,
6. Mica ĆUĆUN, representative of Kolo Srpskih Sestara /Serbian women's charity/, a member,
7. Mile MLINAR, the representative of Croatian citizens, a member,
8. /signed/ Hušida ALAGIĆ, the representative of Muslim citizens, a member.

The relation with the Muslim and Croat community was nourished with care. See what about that said Mr. Vrućini, D:3911, 20/7/92

It is important to note that in the second quarter, policemen were unable to exercise control in the domain of law and order on a large part of the territory of the municipality for security reasons. This refers primarily to territory populated by Muslims. The villages in question were Vrhpolje, Hrustovo, Domiševeci, Okroš, Modra and, to a lesser extent, some other places. Due to the military operations in some of these areas and open clashes with members of the so-called Green Berets, the situation improved in this respect, but still not sufficiently, and because of this real control over the situation has yet to be achieved.

Here is the report of the same official, Mr. Vrucinic, of 30 November 1992:

It is not our intention to discuss the broader aspects of threats to the territory and the people by armed enemy formations which is a matter of military and strategic assessment, but we must say that there is a real danger of a threat from the Cazin Krajina, which is known by the military commands and which our people should also know.

There is still no organised enemy activity in the territory of our municipality. However, regardless of our good relations and our tolerance of Muslims and Croats in the territory of the municipality, it must be borne in mind that they could very quickly become organised and turn against us if things took a favourable turn on the broader military and political plan, especially if there were a successful operation and a breakthrough from the Cazin Krajina.

For the time being, we have information that a 10-man group of Muslims is still hiding in the Hrustovo sector (the area of the Galaja woods towards the Sanica tunnel) and that Croats have begun to organise themselves in the area of Škrljevit

So, even during the lulls, there was a permanent danger of breaking through of a #formidable Muslim-Croat forces# from the Bihać pockit with a catastrophic results!

1. Detention Facilities in Sanski Most

1979. Detention facilities in Sanski Most were established by the Crisis Staff.⁶⁷²⁸ After military operations against Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat villages in Sanski Most, (As it is evident from the census list, there are many #Muslim and Croat villages that didn't have any problem# with the JNA and later with the VRS soldiers. Therefore, it is not correct to say that there were a "military operations against Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat villages", but at least to be more specific "...military operations against the Muslim/Croat irregulars in some of their villages"! Only such a formulation would be close to a proper one!) soldiers collected the able-bodied military-aged men from the village and transferred them by bus to Sanski Most town.⁶⁷²⁹ (Prior to any "collecting of the able-bodied" men, there was either an #attack from those villages, or a resistance to a disarming#. There is no army all over the world which could afford itself an armed groups and units, ready to engage immediately after demanded by the higher enemy's commands. Remember the Gen. Halilovic's report about his criticism of the Una-Sana Operational Group, D3904:

I have followed the development of the BH Army in the Bihać region with full attention, and in organising its embryo, the Patriotic League, I was in the region personally on six occasions. Therefore, the situation in the wider region from the pre-war days till today is completely familiar to me. I was even in a position to alert the government organs in that region that armed combat was being obstructed, since they waited rather long and, while war was raging in all of the RBH /Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina/, in this region they were still negotiating with the aggressor.

The Chamber never took in account a #military necessity# as a reason for an action. Without that, there is created an impression as if the Serb Army kept attacking the Muslim/Croat villages for entertainment and without any justifiable purpose!

In town, they were handed over to the civilian authorities.⁶⁷³⁰ An inspector from the SJB and an inspector from the CSB interrogated the men believed to be "military prisoners".⁶⁷³¹ KW540 estimated that 1,600 "military prisoners" were handed over to the civilian authorities in Sanski Most in 1992.⁶⁷³² The majority of detainees in Sanski Most were transferred to Manjača camp.⁶⁷³³

(Why not all of them? Why some of them, somewhere about #40% had been released# after the first steps of investigation? Those who had been sent to Manjaca, some more that 800, had been under a reasonable suspicion for crimes against the peace, Army and the Serb civilians!) They would be labelled into three categories of “prisoners”: (i) politicians, (ii) nationalist extremists, and (iii) people unwelcome in Sanski Most municipality.⁶⁷³⁴ The majority of detainees in Sanski Most were civilians, as will be addressed below. (Who were the #non-civilian “minority”#? their existence and action justified the mopping-up, but a differentiation between those innocent and responsible wasn’t possible at the spot, and all of them had to be detained and to undergo the investigation! The civilians had been released as soon as their civil status established!)

a. Scheduled Detention Facility C.22.1

1980. The Indictment refers to the use of the SJB building and prison in Sanski Most as a detention facility at least between 26 May and August 1992.

i. Establishment and control

1981. The SJB building and prison were located in the centre of Sanski Most town, near the Betonirka Factory Garage.⁶⁷³⁵ The prison facility was located behind the SJB police building.⁶⁷³⁶ The chief of the police station was Vručinić.⁶⁷³⁷ Miladin Paprić was in charge of the SJB prison until 4 June 1992, when he was dismissed and replaced by Drago Vujanić.⁶⁷³⁸ (This immediate detention unit existed in all the SJB!)

1982. Detainees started arriving at the SJB building and prison on 25 May 1992, after the attack on Sanski Most town.⁶⁷³⁹ (#Whose “attack”#? the town itself was a Serb majority place, and the Serbs didn’t initiate any attack on it). The majority of the detainees at the SJB building were prominent civilians who held important positions in the community.⁶⁷⁴⁰ There was one underage detainee.⁶⁷⁴¹ (All of this #“prominent civilians” prominent terrorists#! who held “important positions” abused these common positions, the infrastructure of the common authorities to procure the armament and organize the attack on Suhaca and other Serb villages, see already recommended documents, such as: P3663, D 5, D557, D1677, D1678 and others. In all the intelligence reports before the war named exactly those “prominent civilians” as the instigators and leaders of the war plans against the Serbs!)

⁶⁷³⁴ P2639 (Conclusions of Sanski Most Crisis Staff, 4 June 1992); see Adjudicated Fact 2558. Mile Dobrijević testified that he had no knowledge of the three categories of detainees and when presented with P2639, he insisted that he made no decisions on categorisation. Mile Dobrijević, T. 44636–44639 (6 December 2013). The Chamber does not accept his evidence on this point given that he was an SJB employee at Betonirka Factory Garage and the Hasan Kikić school and his claim to be unaware of these categories defy credibility. There is another reasonable inference: there was no such a document! Since the document doesn’t have any signature and seal, it can not be considered a valuable evidence. None of the Serb people from Sanski Most ever mentioned such a categorization. This kind of “evidence” is very easy to “produce” but any chamber would think twice.

(iii) Conditions of detention and treatment of detainees

1983. The detainees were held in small cells in the SJB prison and guarded by the police.⁶⁷⁴²

Due to the size of the cell, it was not possible for detainees to lie down to sleep and they had to sit very closely to each other.⁶⁷⁴³ The cells had a concrete roof, a metal door, and a metal plate with holes over the window.⁶⁷⁴⁴ During the summer months, the strong heat caused the room to be very hot and damp, with a terrible stench, making it very difficult to breathe.⁶⁷⁴⁵ There was no fresh air until someone removed the metal plate covering the window after approximately 40 days into the detention.⁶⁷⁴⁶ Furthermore, the guards did not permit the cells to be aired out.⁶⁷⁴⁷ There were blankets and an old mat for bedding.⁶⁷⁴⁸

(This is another proof that the Serbs in Sanski Most #didn't expect a rebellion# of such an extent, and the small detention unit was aimed to admit a few criminals and trespassers until a judge decide what would be done with them!)

1984. The detainees were not provided with sufficient food and water.⁶⁷⁴⁹ (#General shortage#!

Nobody had sufficient food and water!) After the first 15 days, the detainees' meals were reduced from three to two meals per day; these meals were insufficient and resulted in the detainees suffering substantial weight loss.⁶⁷⁵⁰ (It was a miracle that the whole 15 days the authorities had managed to deliver three meals a day! But, "In early June 1992, detainees in the SJB prison were transferred to Manjača camp pursuant to an order from the Crisis Staff", as is said in fn. 6781! How come, the food was such a problem within several days?)

Meals consisted of a piece of bread, a cup of something to drink and, if available, left-over food from the soldiers.⁶⁷⁵¹ For water, the detainees were occasionally allowed to fill up bottles, but only when there was enough water for the toilets in the detention facility.⁶⁷⁵² (#General shortage#! If there was no enough water, how there would be a water for the detainees?)

There were no toilets in the cells of the prison.⁶⁷⁵³ (Many official prisons do not have toilets in cells. And it was all of a sudden, nobody expected that kind of number of rebels!) The detainees had access to two toilets but they became blocked.⁶⁷⁵⁴ The detainees were allowed five minutes in the morning and five minutes in the evening to use the toilets.⁶⁷⁵⁵ They subsequently dug a hole behind the building, which they were only permitted to use during lunchtime.⁶⁷⁵⁶ Save for a couple of exceptions, it was not possible to shower given the lack of water.⁶⁷⁵⁷ (See, “the lack of water” – #not a bad will# of the authorities. So, who or what was to be blamed for that? Only the civil war, for which Osman Brka said at the meeting of the SDA in an Islamic community facilities that was necessary, see D01678, of 12 (or 16) March 92:

Mr. Osman BRKA thanked him and said that the tribute came as a surprise.

~~He then took the floor regarding the first item on the agenda. He began with the question: “Has everything that was supposed to happen really happened?”~~

~~I must say that all of this is absolutely necessary. We could have been destroyed as a people and that is why we took this stand. The space opened for democracy in the areas of the former Yugoslavia has enabled for the historic Muslim issue to be solved in a just way.~~

The awakening of the people (Muslim people) is in full swing. Relating to ones own religion and tradition is becoming more and more evident. The Muslims in the “The awakening of the Muslim people” as we remember from the Islamic Declaration and other program articles of Hasan Cengic, Omer Behmen and others, should be by hitting the Muslims hard and establishin an Islamic regime under any cost!

1985. The guards took the detainees out of the cells only for about 20 minutes per day, including for meals and for work they had to carry out.⁶⁷⁵⁸ On leaving the cell for work, the detainees were frequently beaten and mistreated.⁶⁷⁵⁹ (#All, Deadly combination#! Despite these conditions, Rašula told a detainee at the SJB: “[y]ou’re safest where you are. If we release you, you will be killed either by your people or by mine”.⁶⁷⁶⁰ (This indicates that outside the detention there were the fights going on. Should the authorities release those detained in the middle of fights?)

1986. The guards, regular police officers, and VRS soldiers beat the detainees.⁶⁷⁶¹ Sometimes the guards would hand over the keys to the cells to the VRS soldiers, and according to Bišćević, “[a]nyone could come in and beat us if they so pleased”.⁶⁷⁶² Some of the detainees were taken from their cells to the SJB building and interrogated.⁶⁷⁶³ During interrogations, regular police officers and VRS soldiers beat the detainees, using rifle-butts, electric cables, poles, and wooden planks.⁶⁷⁶⁴ Detainees were also beaten in their cells, and some were forced to beat each other.⁶⁷⁶⁵ The detainees did not receive any medical treatment for injuries sustained in SJB custody.⁶⁷⁶⁶ As a

1990. On 28 August 1992, the detainees were called out of their cells and told to take their belongings.⁶⁷⁷³ Some of the detainees were placed on a bus for transfer to Manjača camp.⁶⁷⁷⁴ Other detainees were transferred to different detention facilities in Sanski Most, including the Betonirka Factory Garage, the Hasan Kikić School, and a military facility at Magarice.⁶⁷⁷⁵

(iii) Conclusion

1991. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that Serb Forces detained non-Serb civilians, (What did make them “civilians”? The cloathing? But, their long term activities in preparing the uprisal made them #“non-civilians”# and those who were apprehended in the combat zones and were really civilians, after the interrogations had been released!) including prominent political leaders and an underage boy, at the SJB prison from 25 May until August 1992. The Chamber finds that the detainees were held in poor conditions, including lack of adequate food, accommodation, medical care, and sanitary facilities. The Chamber also finds that detainees were subjected to interrogations and beatings. (All of it would be reversed in a minute, once the Chamber, which would do any reasonable chamber, accepted that “civilian” in this civil war does not mean “innocent” and that “prominent political leaders” didn’t mean “innocent” but to the contrary, very responsible. There is a sufficient evidence on what those “prominent” did to this mixed municipality, and how many really innocent victims they did cost these two communities! As UN General Razek testified, #“civilians fough civilians”#

These killings are therefore not covered by the charges in the Indictment under paragraph 60(a)(ii). Further, the Chamber notes that there is no Schedule B killing incident charged with respect to this detention facility. This shouldn’t depend on the Prosecution’s attitude, but on the veracity of event and credibility of witnesses.

(b) Scheduled Detention Facility C.22.2

1992. The Indictment refers to the use of the Betonirka Factory Garage as a detention facility at least between 27 May and 7 June 1992.

i. Establishment and control

1993. The Betonirka Factory was located approximately 100 to 150 metres behind the SJB building in Sanski Most town.⁶⁷⁷⁶ The factory had a main building and three garages attached.⁶⁷⁷⁷ Each garage was five to six metres long and four metres wide.⁶⁷⁷⁸

1994. In May 1992, the Betonirka Factory Garage was set up as a detention centre by the Crisis Staff.⁶⁷⁷⁹ On 25 May 1992, Paprić, who was also in charge of the SJB prison, was appointed as the head of the detention facility but was later replaced by Vujanić, a member of the police.⁶⁷⁸⁰ Vujanić was the warden of both the SJB prison and Betonirka Factory Garage.⁶⁷⁸¹ The guards at the Betonirka Factory Garage were members of the Bosnian Serb police and reserve soldiers.⁶⁷⁸² Rade Martić was the chief of the guards.⁶⁷⁸³

1995. Approximately 120 detainees, all males, were held at the Betonirka Factory Garage.⁶⁷⁸⁴ Members of the core leadership of the SDA were detained at Betonirka.⁶⁷⁸⁵ Detainees were held at Betonirka Factory Garage up to one month.⁶⁷⁸⁶ In June and July 1992, the detainees were transferred to Manjača camp.⁶⁷⁸⁷ The first and the only para under b) Scheduled Detention Facility C22.2 it was said: “at least between 27 May and 7 June 1992.” Couldn’t be shorter, since all had to be questioned!

i. Conditions of detention and treatment of detainees

1996. The detainees were kept inside the cramped and over-heated garage with little water.⁶⁷⁸⁸ The detainees were given two meals per day, which usually were the left-over food from the staff.⁶⁷⁸⁹ (This is an #absurd assertion#! How many staffs were there? And how a “left-over” food after such a few staff could feed 150 detainees? The truth is that they got what the staff got, no more, no less.) Sometimes family members were allowed to visit the detainees and bring them food.⁶⁷⁹⁰ The sanitary conditions were inadequate as the detainees were only allowed out of their cells for five minutes in the morning and five minutes in the evening to use the toilet.⁶⁷⁹¹ There were no toilets inside the garage.⁶⁷⁹² There was only one small window in each garage that was open for ventilation, which was inadequate.⁶⁷⁹³ One of the garages was so overcrowded that the detainees were forced to sleep standing up.⁶⁷⁹⁴ (Those garages seem to be a kind of garages, not a hotel. What to expect from a garage? Was there such a big prison with all the required conditions, but the authorities didn't allow the detainees to be housed there, just for the purpose of spit? There was #no a bad will or malice# on the Serb authorities side, but only a #necessity#!)

1997. The detainees were interrogated and beaten regularly.⁶⁷⁹⁵ Ahmet Zulić testified that out of the 21 nights he spent at Betonirka, he was not subjected to beatings on only three of those nights.⁶⁷⁹⁶ The beatings caused serious injuries to the detainees.⁶⁷⁹⁷ There were no medical facilities available onsite.⁶⁷⁹⁸

i. Conclusion

1998. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that Serb Forces detained Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat male civilians, including some political leaders, from Sanski Most in the Betonirka Factory Garage from May until June 1992. (Let us see what meant “male civilian” in this civil war, already on 7 March 92, see D5: they are brazen and aggressive. Particularly prominent among the aforementioned members of the ZB /Green Berets/ are the brothers Arif and Izet HURANOVIĆ from Vrpolje. About 500 armed civilians were noted at a recent meeting of Muslim citizens in the village of Donji Kamengrad. Also present among them were members of the ZB who sought that everyone who was armed launch an attack on the Serbian village of Suhača. According to realistic estimates, about 3,000 Muslims own long barrels and are part of the SDA /Party of Democratic Action/ armed formations. Those (If those weren't “armed civilians” this wouldn't be called a Civil war”! How come it didn't matter in this court?) The Chamber finds that the detainees were held in poor conditions, including lack of adequate food and sanitary facilities. The Chamber also finds that the detainees were subjected to beatings. (This is an #erroneous conclusion#:

- 1. There was no any detention prior to the Muslim-Croat attacks on the Serb parts of the town and municipality;
- 2. There was no detention of the “civilians”, since all of the detained had been captured in the combat areas;
- 3. Only after the first interrogations, som 40% of the detained had been released;
- 4. the others were deeply involved in the armed rebellion, which embattled the municipality and caused many casualties;

i. Scheduled Incident B.17.1

1999. The Prosecution alleges that approximately 17 men were taken from the Betonirka Factory Garage to Kriva Cesta near the Partisan cemetery and killed on or about 22 June 1992.

2000. On 22 June 1992, Zulić was taken from the Betonirka Factory Garage, where he had been detained, and driven to Kriva Cesta.⁶⁷⁹⁹ He was taken down to the stream, given a hoe, and ordered to dig his own grave.⁶⁸⁰⁰ He saw 20 to 25 other men there doing the same thing.⁶⁸⁰¹ The men were being watched by Bosnian Serb soldiers wearing JNA uniforms.⁶⁸⁰² Rašula was also present.⁶⁸⁰³ During the operation, the soldiers pointed their guns at the men.⁶⁸⁰⁴ When the men had finished digging the holes, they were killed; their throats were either slit or they were shot to death.⁶⁸⁰⁵ Zulić was spared by Rašula, who stated that he should be kept alive in order to tell them where weapons were being hidden in Pobrjeđe.⁶⁸⁰⁶ Zulić was taken back to the Betonirka Factory Garage.⁶⁸⁰⁷ In total, three men survived.⁶⁸⁰⁸ (What are the names of the two others? Why it is founded only on this one testimony, while it was clear that the witness lied about presence of some people that hadn't been present, and among them a very high communist official and general from WWII, who would in no way be there?)

2001. The Chamber took judicial notice of the fact that 17 men were killed in relation to this incident.⁶⁸⁰⁹ The Chamber also received evidence that bodies of civilians were recovered in a mass grave in relation to this incident.⁶⁸¹⁰ (The Chamber didn't exclude a possibility that these were a #combat casualties#? There is no evidence about any Muslim-Croat combat casualties, since the #fake witnesses#, prepared by the Muslim secret services, depicted all

No names are included in this report); (How come? There were alleged 17 “executed” and more than a double buried? It is clear that the Decision had nothing to do with this allegation!) P4897 (Bihać Cantonal Court record of autopsy and identification of victims exhumed from graves in Greda, Kruhari, 9 June 1997) (listing 36 bodies exhumed from the Greda I-Kruhari mass grave. Eight were unidentified males, seven were females, and 21 were males identified by name. Of the males identified by name, Ibro Eminić was also named by Zulić). (Why would the bodies of allegedly executed in this incident be found in several graves?) See also P4853 (Updated Table 2 to the Report of Amor Mašović), p. 94 (listing three individuals in relation to this scheduled incident); P6690 (Addendum to Nicolas Sébire’s report, 16 May 2003), e-court pp. 66-70 (listing that at least two bodies exhumed from the mass grave are victims of the scheduled incident, but recovering 36 bodies total. Of those 36 bodies, there were 29 males and 7 females.). No serious chamber would allow anyone to deceive them so easily. Once the Muslims recovered some bodies, no matter how they died, it was very easy to allocate it to some “executions” although there is no any firm and credible evidence about it. Zulic named a very distinguished general from the WWII, and a man who was far from the site several hundred kilometres.

the casualties as a civil victims of an unlawful killings! However, the document mentioned as a basis for this conclusion, P5442, said something else, let us see:

1. The burial lots for the burying of the persons killed in the Sanski Most Municipality at the Greda Muslim cemetery have hereby been allotted.

The “persons killed in the Sanski Most” pertained to the combat casualties, since in Serbian “poginuli” means killed in combats, see the Serbian version of the Decision, the sixth word “poginuli”:

1. Опређује се локација за укуп погинулих на општинском Сانسком мосту на муслиманском гробљу звано “Греда”.

while “ubijeni” – verbatim meaning “murdered” – excludes a combat nature and confirms a “murderous”, criminal nature of death. And this Decision pertained to all the combat casualties until that moment! A #linguistic problem#!

2002. The Chamber finds that approximately 17 men were taken by Serb Forces from the Betonirka Factory Garage to Kriva Cesta near the Partisan cemetery and killed on or about 22 June 1992. (Zulic named a very distinguished general from the WWII, and a man who was far from the site several hundred kilometres, and also he mentioned Rasula, who was the president of municipality, and would never be on the terrain. It is clear that such a fake witnesses were free to lie and involve and incriminate persons they didn’t like!)

a. Scheduled Detention Facility C.22.3

2003. The Indictment refers to the use of the “Hasan Kikić School sports halls” as a detention facility at least between May and July 1992. The Prosecution submits that Hasan Kikić School and the sports hall are two separate detention facilities.⁶⁸¹¹ The Prosecution submits that while civilians were detained in both facilities, it proceeds on the basis that Scheduled Detention Facility C.22.3 relates only to the sports hall.⁶⁸¹² The Chamber will also proceed on the basis that the detention facility referred to in Schedule C.22.3 is the sports hall.

i. Establishment and control

2004. The sports hall was located in the northeastern part of Sanski Most town.⁶⁸¹³ On 26 May 1992, the Crisis Staff converted the sports hall into a detention centre.⁶⁸¹⁴ The sports hall was staffed by guards in police and camouflage uniforms, under the command of Martić.⁶⁸¹⁵ Milorad Krunić was appointed as the head of the detention centre.⁶⁸¹⁶ (The Chamber is presenting it as the authorities (CS) first converted the Sport hall into a detention centre, and then went out to find and capture detainees. However, if the truth matters, all depended on the Muslim side, and their initiation of fights. Then, the authorities had to accommodate them somewhere. That is exactly what is said in the Crisis Staff’s proclamation, @ .

2005. On 27 May 1992, an announcement on the radio ordered all Bosnian Muslims in Sanski Most town to gather at the training grounds of a driving school.⁶⁸¹⁷ (That was an appeal to the civilians to avoid the combat zones of the town! That is something commendable and also provided by the law!) Sakib Muhić went there.⁶⁸¹⁸ He estimated that 1,800 people had gathered there, including women and children.⁶⁸¹⁹ There were armed soldiers outside the driving school, and they shouted, “we will slaughter you all” at the people gathered there.⁶⁸²⁰ (Uncorroborated and irrelevant from the standpoint of the #President’s liability# – what was possibly said by an unknown and unidentified individual!) After an hour, the soldiers ordered everyone to go to the Krkojevcí football stadium.⁶⁸²¹ Around dusk, approximately 80 soldiers arrived at the stadium and began ordering people onto buses, which took them to the sports hall—the men left around midnight after the women and children.⁶⁸²²

2006. The next day at the sports hall women and children were separated from the men and sent to neighbouring villages.⁶⁸²³ (To shelter them far from the combats!) Approximately 900-1,000 men remained in the sports hall for approximately five days.⁶⁸²⁴ The detainees included 200 men brought in from Ključ.⁶⁸²⁵ People who were detained at the sports hall were also from Mahala, Muhići, and Otoka.⁶⁸²⁶ (A #terrorist strongholds#! Mahala, Muhici and Otoka are the suburbs-strongholds of the Muslim terrorists in the town, see a Muslim document D1677:

The first organised preparations to offer resistance to the mounting Serbian nazi-fascism in certain parts of Sanski Most municipality, such as Vrhpolje, Trnovo, Hrustovi, Šehovci, Kamengrad, the urban and suburban settlements of Mahala and Muhići, on the one hand, provided a certain sense of security to the Bosniaks but, on the other hand, most Bosniaks could still not believe that the Serbs would harm them.

No doubt, within the town urban core, apart from five villages, there was an armed formation. This is the Muslim document. How we already know, the sport hall had been used to accommodate the civilians from those urban parts, until the army and police finish their neutralisation of the terrorists. I will find those documents.

2007. The sports hall was guarded by men in both military and police uniforms.⁶⁸²⁷ After approximately five days, Muhić and four other men were taken to the SJB and interrogated.⁶⁸²⁸ Afterwards, they were transported back to the sports hall.⁶⁸²⁹ conditions worse.⁶⁸³¹ Some detainees were not provided with food for a few days but family members were allowed to visit and bring some food.⁶⁸³² Obviously, this was a shelter for the civilians from the embattled areas within the town. There was no bedding available for sleeping and no medical attention for the sick.⁶⁸³³ Some men were taken to the SJB, interrogated, and transported back to the sports hall.⁶⁸³⁴

2009. The detainees were beaten.⁶⁸³⁵ In particular, on 6 June 1992, detainees were beaten severely before being forced to board trucks.⁶⁸³⁶ Two trucks transported approximately 150 detainees to Manjača camp.⁶⁸³⁷ So, they spent several days in the sport hall!!!

2010. On 8 June 1992, pursuant to an order from the Crisis Staff, detainees at the sports hall were screened and those who were “brought in accidentally from other areas, persons from mixed marriages, persons in poor health, and persons who have fought on the front with the JNA” were to be released.⁶⁸³⁸ (So, there was some criteria? No arbitrariness!) Again on 18 June 1992, certain detainees were screened and released.⁶⁸³⁹ By 1 August 1992, the remaining detainees had been transferred elsewhere.⁶⁸⁴⁰

(iii) Conclusion

2011. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that Serb Forces detained non-Serb civilians in the sports hall in Sanski Most from May until August 1992. (Not “detained”, but “accommodated” as seen in the D1813 bellow!) The Chamber finds that some of the detainees were subjected to beatings. The Chamber further finds that the conditions of detention were poor, including a lack of adequate food and sanitary facilities. The Chamber should be more reasonable to conclude that the poor conditions weren’t due to any decision of the authorities, but due to the general conditions in the country and the entire region. But, let us see what the Sport Hall really was! See the Crisis Staff document of the Crisis Staff of 30 May 1992, D1813:

1. /number circled by hand/ Citizens from the urban area of Sanski Most whose relatives are accommodated in the Sports Hall and who want to help them, can bring food and the most essential clothing, which will be delivered to them. They should bring the food and the most essential clothing to in front of the Sanski Most Public Security Station where it will be gathered and then delivered.

2. /number circled by hand/ Citizens from parts of the town which have not been affected by combat operations and who have not been warned to leave the area have no reason for moving to other parts of the town. These citizens’ security is not under threat and they can return to their homes.

So, the civilians were “accommodated” in the sport Hall, not detained, and the relatives had a free access to them. The para 2. clearly and explicitly that those citizens from other parts of the town, where there was no combats, are safe. Therefore, the insistence of the qualification of these taking shelter instead of being accommodated for their own security is far from any fairness and far from any truth! No serious chamber should accep it! See the 2012. The Indictment refers to the use of Krings Hall as a detention facility at least between May and July 1992.

i. Establishment and control

2013. Krings Hall is located on the eastern edge of Sanski Most town.⁶⁸⁴¹ It was a large, empty hall situated next to an office building, that was formerly used to manufacture equipment for the Famos company.⁶⁸⁴² In May 1992, Krings Hall was set up as a detention centre by the Crisis Staff.⁶⁸⁴³ Initially, when detainees were brought to Krings Hall, they were guarded by soldiers and after one week, the soldiers were replaced by the police.⁶⁸⁴⁴

2014. In early July 1992, VRS soldiers drove into Tomina and ordered all of the “refugees” who were hiding in the town to come out of the houses.⁶⁸⁴⁵ (“the refugees who were hiding” is a clear indication that they hadn’t been an ordinary refugees, but a villains who committed crimes in their own villages!) People from Kamicak and Vrhpolje had fled to Tomina.⁶⁸⁴⁶ People came out of their houses and saw buses lined up on the main street.⁶⁸⁴⁷ Approximately 500 to 600 individuals were boarded onto buses and taken to Krings Hall.⁶⁸⁴⁸ The women and children spend one night there and were transferred out the following day to eastern or central BiH.⁶⁸⁴⁹ The men stayed behind in Krings Hall.⁶⁸⁵⁰

ii. Conditions of detention and treatment of detainees

2015. In the beginning, when the VRS soldiers were guarding the detainees, there were no beatings or mistreatment.⁶⁸⁵¹ However, when the police took control of Krings Hall, things changed.⁶⁸⁵² The police regularly interrogated and beat the detainees, sometimes with batons and rifles.⁶⁸⁵³ While KDZ052 was detained there, he witnessed one man who died as a result of a beating.⁶⁸⁵⁴ (Was there any name of the person? Why it was sufficient to sentence this President?)

2016. The detention facility had running water and a sink but no working toilets.⁶⁸⁵⁵ The hygiene conditions were extremely poor.⁶⁸⁵⁶ There was inadequate bedding for the detainees.⁶⁸⁵⁷ In the beginning, relatives of the detainees were allowed to bring food to Krings Hall but later this was not allowed.⁶⁸⁵⁸

2017. In August 1992, the detainees from Krings Hall were transferred to Manjača camp.⁶⁸⁵⁹ (All of them,, or some of them? On what basis some of them had been released?)

iii. Conclusion

2018. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that Serb Forces detained Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat civilians, mainly males, from Sanski Most at Krings Hall from May to August 1992. (What Croats? And what civilians? Nobody was detained because of being a civilian, but because of doing something illegal. Only in the beginning there were a few Croats, but later the Croats gave up any idea of the war.) The Chamber further finds that the detainees were held in poor conditions, including lack of sanitary facilities. The Chamber also finds that the detainees were subjected to beatings and that one person died as a result of the beatings.

(e) Scheduled Detention Facility C.22.5

2019. The Indictment refers to the use of the “Magarica military facility” as a detention facility at least between May and June 1992. In its Final Brief, the Prosecution alleges that the “evidence led shows Magarice military facility operated as a detention facility” in May 1992.⁶⁸⁶⁰

⁶⁸⁶⁰ Prosecution Final Brief, Appendix B, fn. 761.

2020. Magarice is a village located on the outskirts of Sanski Most town.⁶⁸⁶¹ The Magarice military facility consisted of a house and a barn in the village of Magarice that was used by Basara and the 6th Krajina Brigade for operations and the storage of weapons.⁶⁸⁶²

2021. On 27 May 1992, Bišćević was arrested at his home and taken to Magarice village.⁶⁸⁶³

(He wasn't arrested, but captured, because of the war he started? Why was it irrelevant? Bišćević was on all the lists of extremists and reports of the intelligence, and why he wouldn't be arrested? Also, Mirzet Karabeg, a municipal official who abused the municipal resources in the preparations for killing his Serb neighbours. See: a Muslim book, exhibit D1677, p. 11

Together with Rasim KARABEG, KAMBER managed to acquire a certain quantity of explosives in late 1991 and early 1992. In addition to the two of them, the following persons were also engaged in the collection of funds and procurement of weapons: Emir SEFEROVIĆ, Mesud BEGIĆ aka Sudo, Redžo KURBEGOVIĆ, Suad ŠABIĆ, Enver HURLIĆ, Nedžad MUHIĆ, Faik BIŠĆEVIĆ, Mirzet KARABEG, Husein Ef. KOVAČEVIĆ, Arif and Ifet HUKANOVIĆ, Rifet BAHTIĆ, Ilija KUŽELJ, Ismet ŠARČEVIĆ, Nihad KLJUČANIN, Osman TALIĆ, Fikret MAJDANKIĆ and Adem KREHIĆ.

And such a persons, several of them from this list, are trustful witnesses in this Court, which accepted that they had been arrested and detained as "civilians" as if civilians couldn't commit a crime in a civil war! Or, see D5, an intelligence report before the war, how prominent "civilians" were preparing for the war, D5

According to verified information, several people dressed in Zelene Beretke (Green Beret/ uniforms were observed in the vicinity of the Sanski Most DP (joint stock enterprise/, moving freely around inhabited areas, i.e. Sanski Most. They wear the crescent and star insignia on their berets, are armed with APs (automatic rifles/, and they are brazen and aggressive. Particularly prominent among the aforementioned members of the ZB (Green Berets/ are the brothers Arif and Izet HURANOVIĆ from Vrpolje. About 500 armed civilians were noted at a recent meeting of Muslim citizens in the village of Donji Kamengrad. Also present among them were members of the ZB who sought that everyone who was armed launch an attack on the Serbian village of Suhača. According to realistic estimates, about 3,000 Muslims own long barrels and are part of the SDA (Party of Democratic Action/ armed formations. Those mainly responsible for the SDA's activities are: Imet ŠARČEVIĆ, a lawyer, Suad ŠABIĆ, a lawyer, Adil DRAGANOVIĆ, president of the court, Revzid KURBEGOVIĆ, president of the SDA board, Mirzet KARABEG, chairman of the Sanski Most IO (Executive Committee/ and Enver BURNIĆ, commander of the Sanski Most SM (Police Station/.

Already in March 1992 the illegal army in Sanski Most had 3,000 long barrels, obtained by the "witnesses" against the President! He saw Basara there, along with other VRS soldiers.⁶⁸⁶⁴ He was taken to an orchard where one of the soldiers cursed at him about his "baliža God".⁶⁸⁶⁵ Bišćević was then taken to a meadow where he was handcuffed, searched, and his pockets were emptied.⁶⁸⁶⁶ The soldiers took his money and driving license.⁶⁸⁶⁷ They beat him severely with their truncheons and sticks.⁶⁸⁶⁸ He was then taken to the Sanski Most radio station.⁶⁸⁶⁹ After being forced to make a statement on the radio, Bišćević was brought back to Magarice.⁶⁸⁷⁰ (What statement? What was the message in this statement? Was it in favour of the war or of the peace? This is not without significance! He was "forced" to make a statement in favour of ceasing the military activities, which he was not willing to do, and had to be "forced"!)

2022. Bišćević was detained in the “curing room, hut” in the Magarice military facility for 30 hours.⁶⁸⁷¹ This was a wooden room with pebble stones on the floor and was two metres by two metres.⁶⁸⁷² There was no toilet in the room.⁶⁸⁷³ He was alone on the first day but two other Bosnian Muslim men were brought in the following day.⁶⁸⁷⁴ They were beaten and their personal effects were taken from them.⁶⁸⁷⁵ (In #accordance with the law#) During the time Bišćević was detained, he was not given any food or water.⁶⁸⁷⁶

2023. Bišćević and the two other men were then taken to the soldiers’ canteen, given food, and transferred to the SJB prison.⁶⁸⁷⁷

2024. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that Bišćević and two other Bosnian Muslim men were detained in a room at the Magarice military facility on or about 27 May 1992. The Chamber also finds that during their detention, these men were beaten and mistreated by Serb Forces. (Taking into account that the Serbs knew his role in starting the war, where there was casualties “at home,” far from the frontline, no wonder some of the police were angry. But the VRS behaved properly.)

(6) Scheduled Incident D.19

2025. The Indictment refers to the destruction of 17 mosques and one Catholic church in Sanski Most between at least between May and December 1992.⁶⁸⁷⁸

2026. The Chamber took judicial notice of the fact that the mosques in Sanski Most were subjected to major damage by Bosnian Serb forces.⁶⁸⁷⁹ The Chamber also took judicial notice of the fact that in mid-1992, the SDS ordered the destruction of the Donji Kamengrad mosque and that Mladen Majkić, a military engineer, was ordered by a member of the SDS to set explosives in the mosque.⁶⁸⁸⁰

2027. Bišćević testified that there were 26 mosques and four Catholic churches in Sanski Most municipality, and that all of them were destroyed.⁶⁸⁸¹ KDZ490 testified that by the end of 1992, all of the mosques in Sanski Most had been destroyed.⁶⁸⁸² According to KDZ490, the mosques were destroyed pursuant to orders from the Crisis Staff and were destroyed so that Bosnian Muslims would not return.⁶⁸⁸³

2028. By the end of May 1992, the Trnova mosque and the Hrustovo-Kukavice mosque had been destroyed.⁶⁸⁸⁴ In 1992, the mosque in Vrhpolje and the mosque in Stari Majdan were destroyed.⁶⁸⁸⁵ The Pobrježje mosque was destroyed in mid-1992.⁶⁸⁸⁶ The town mosque in Sanski Most was destroyed by October 1992.⁶⁸⁸⁷ The Šehovci mosque was blown up with explosives.⁶⁸⁸⁸ The mosques in Donji Kamengrad, Čaplje, Hrustovo, Lukavice, Šehovci, Stari Majdan, and Tomina were destroyed.⁶⁸⁸⁹ The Catholic church in Sanski Most was also damaged.⁶⁸⁹⁰ (In all of those villages #there was fighting#! This makes 14 mosques, while in the Sanski Most municipality there were 26 predominantly Muslim villages, with at least three mosques average, plus several tens of villages where the Muslims lived with the Serbs, where there were several tens of mosques. Why all of those mosques hadn't been destroyed? Why the mosques hadn't been destroyed in other villages, where there was no fights. #Abuse# of the religious objects#!)

2029. According to Riedlmayer's reports, a total of 17 mosques and the town Catholic church in Sanski Most were damaged or destroyed during the war.⁶⁸⁹¹ However, the Chamber notes that included in these 17 mosques is the Vrhpolje mosque, which Riedlmayer describes as only "lightly damaged" and as one of three mosques in Sanski Most that survived the war without structural damage.⁶⁸⁹² The Chamber therefore finds that 16 mosques and the town Catholic church were heavily damaged, almost destroyed, or completely destroyed. (A reasonable chamber would clarify whether there had been any armed skirmishes, or not.)

2030. The Chamber has considered the evidence it has received which identified Serb Forces as responsible for the destruction of mosques in Sanski Most.⁶⁸⁹³ It also had regard to the fact that almost all mosques in the municipality sustained heavy damage or were completely destroyed after Serb Forces took over the municipality. Having weighed these factors, the Chamber is satisfied beyond reasonable doubt that Serb Forces were responsible for the attacks on and destruction of mosques and the Catholic church in Sanski Most.

2031. Therefore, the Chamber finds that at least 16 mosques and the town Catholic church were heavily damaged, almost destroyed or completely destroyed by Serb Forces between May and December 1992. (But, the contemporaneous document D4334 clearly shows that the police of the Serb Municipality of Sanski Most was not prepared, educated, equipped and capable of dealing with so many unexpected detainees collected after the combats and the disarmament actions of the Army, see D4334:

To the Banja Luka CSB /Security Services Centre/
– To the Chief –

In accordance with current legal regulations and the place and role of the organs of internal affairs in the present situation, I ask you as Chief of the Centre to help us and determine the status of the prisons which, in this situation, have been simply /illegible/ to the SJB. Namely, a large number of prisoners, mostly of Muslim nationality, has appeared in this SJB (as well as in others) due to combat and disarming operations and other operations and activities regarding interrogation and operative processing, so that the SJB, besides its role prescribed by law, /illegible/ a detention facility. This brings with it a series of problems, such as accommodation of prisoners, their /illegible/, food, health care and visits by family members, which the SJB has neither the training nor the equipment to handle. That is why we are asking that you help us and intervene with the authorities of the Autonomous Region of Krajina and the municipality so that the status of the prisons is determined as soon as possible and they are /illegible/ from the SJB. We suggest that the municipalities be asked that the prisons be treated or formed /illegible/ as separate institutions, that wardens be appointed, security personnel designated, funds found to feed prisoners, health care provided, etc. We also ask you to issue an order giving the SJB strict orders regarding the treatment of prisoners.

Chief of the SJB

1. Movement of the population from Sanski Most and appropriation of property

2032. Following the attack on Sanski Most on 25 May 1992, the non-Serb population was expelled from the municipality.⁶⁸⁹⁴ (Contrary to a large amount of evidence that it wasn't so, the Chamber relies upon a testimony of a witness who had a reason to lie. Only in the town there was over 12,000 Muslims in 1995, when the ABiH and Croatian Army conquered Sanski Most. Why they weren't "expelled"?)

2033. On 2 July 1992, the Crisis Staff adopted a decision on the criteria for voluntary departure from Sanski Most.⁶⁸⁹⁵ (There exist #many documents proving#! that the Serbs demanded that the Muslim side allow the Serbs captured in the Muslim areas to leave temporarily or permanently, as they may like.) It ordered that those citizens who wish to permanently leave Sanski Most must hand over their real property to the Sanski Most municipal authorities.⁶⁸⁹⁶ (#Wrong and fake#! Due to the domestic laws, the authorities could have at disposal all the property for a temporary use in a war, but there was no any change of ownership!) People were allowed to take their movable property on the condition that they made a list of all of the property to be verified by an "authorised municipal administration organ".⁶⁸⁹⁷ People who wished to stay were required to sign a loyalty oath and those who refused were threatened and often left under duress.⁶⁸⁹⁸ (This is #not correctly presented#. An oath was needed only for those who wanted to exercise a specially authorised duties, connected to the constitutional and legal matters, and everyone had to sign it, because there was a new Constitution and a new state

2034. On 23 June 1992, the Crisis Staff formed a committee to deal with the “migration” of the population.⁶⁸⁹⁹ Vrkeš was appointed as the person responsible for matters relating to the removal and exchange of the population and prisoners and was to report to Vojo Kuprešanin of the ARK Crisis Staff.⁶⁹⁰⁰

2035. By 27 July 1992, the Crisis Staff estimated that approximately 18,000 Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats remained in Sanski Most and that approximately 6,000 to 7,000 had moved away.⁶⁹⁰¹ It stated that Bosnian Muslims were requesting to move and noted that it should be made possible for them to do so by organising their voluntary resettlement.⁶⁹⁰² (#All wrong and fake#! First objection: this wasn't any Crisis Staff, but the regular Executive council of the municipality. Second, Mr. Vrucinic, as the chief of the police, expressed his disappointment in the status of security in municipality, and numbered all the security problems. Had it been a plan of the authorities, they would celebrate this chaos, but it wasn't the case. Further, we see that at the end of July 92 there stil was 18,000 Muslims. To this time the fights ended, the rest of armed Muslims were not attacking, and there was 18,000 Muslims who didn't have any personal problems, except a general insecurity, which concerned the Serbs too. Let us see what Vrucinic said at this meeting.

Mirko VRUČINIĆ:

...according to a rough estimate, 60% of the enemy is armed (Demiševci, Okreč, Šehovci and D. Kamengrad is still not armed las printed). The police have interrogated 1245 prisoners; in KRINGS there are still some who have not been interrogated yet. Approximately 4,500 Muslims and Croats have left the territory. Some six to seven thousand have emigrated. Approximately 18,000 are still living in our municipality. The Muslims are requesting to leave and arrangements should be made for them to do so. Generally speaking, the security and political situation is not favourable. Among the Serbs under arms there are sick people, alcoholics, people like that. There is a lot of looting by the military and the civilians. There is even collective looting by the entire Local Communes, the collective crimes. Certain types of goods are sold on the black market. Houses and business premises get blown up at night; it should be seen who is doing it. The curfew imposed a long time ago is gradually losing its purpose because a lot of soldiers get around and a lot la word is missing, presumably: vehicles/ have been requisitioned illegally and are driven by the military day and night.

(“ #The Muslims are requesting to leav#e...” Some emigrated, some left, not a single “expelled”! This document clearly shows that the authorities had a big problem in dealing with many problems. And except with Banja Luka, they didn't have any contact with the central authorities. If there was any need to identify who were these “Serb Forces”, this is an answer: Vrucinic was a legal and official “Serb Force”, and those forces were taking care of the minorities as much as they could in this circumstances.)

2036. On 1 August 1992, the SJB reported that 12,000 individuals, mainly Bosnian Muslims but also some Bosnian Croats, had applied to the SJB to unregister their permanent residences in order to leave the municipality.⁶⁹⁰³ (Certainly, the applicants hadn't been happy about that, but still

The Chamber finds that Tadić's reliability was compromised to such an extent that the Chamber could not accept his evidence.

it was their own will. It was not the authorities who made any pressure on them to leave, it was a war situation, which was instigated by their own extremists, whose names can be found in all the intelligence reports before and during the war.)

2037. On 14 August 1992, the Sanski Most Municipal Assembly granted permission to transfer the ownership of movable and immovable property based on exchange contracts and gift contracts.⁶⁹⁰⁴ It also noted that the first group of 3,000 people would be “resettled” from the municipality and transported by bus.⁶⁹⁰⁵ It was decided that while Bosnian Muslims were voluntarily going into exile, their property would be taken over for “safe keeping and use”.⁶⁹⁰⁶

(Let us see what is said in this document P3659, p. 5:

D. KALACUN – I would like to ask the IO President to inform us of the general position of the Krajina AR /?Autonomous Region/ government on the exodus from the Serbian state.

N. RASULA – There is no general position, there are no instructions, nobody is forced to go into exile, the basic principle is that citizens should decide where they want to live. If they want to leave, they should be enabled to leave, with certain control and protection. Those who wish to remain in the municipality will be allowed to stay only if they have not participated in any dirty business. Those who wish to leave will have to cover the costs of that, because we have no resources for that.

M. LUKIĆ – According to international law, exodus cannot be prevented anywhere. Those who wish to leave should be enabled to do so, and those who wish to stay should be enabled to stay.

There could be no more genuine interpretation of the #official attitude# of the Serb authorities concerning the issue of moving from one to another municipality! However, there is another linguistic problem: “resettling” a people would in Serb mean “naseljavanje” as an operation of change of a demographic picture, which was not the case here. The Serb term “preseljenje” should be translated in English as “moving”, which was #provided for by the law# as an obligation towards the civilian population caught in a zone of battles. See further: P3659, p. 6

3. The Decision of the Čapljje Local Community, number 21/92 of 29 July 1992, to take over for safe keeping and use some of the property of the citizens of Muslim nationality who are leaving voluntarily, is hereby adopted, but Article 2 of the

2038. On 19 August 1992, Vrkeš and representatives of the Sanski Most Bosnian Muslims and Croats met with UNHCR and Civil Affairs to discuss, inter alia, whether the UN would assist in evacuating up to 11,000 Bosnian Muslim “applicants” for evacuation.⁶⁹⁰⁷ Vrkeš explained that all those who wished to leave, should be able to do so.⁶⁹⁰⁸ In addition, Vrkeš stated that those who were leaving would sign a declaration stating they were leaving voluntarily, they had no wish to turn, and they were leaving their properties to the authorities.⁶⁹⁰⁹ The UNHCR representative responded that UNHCR would not assist with the removal of people.⁶⁹¹⁰ (Kirudja didn’t understand what was “leaving property to the authorities”. It meant to leave it at disposal to the authorities to be used on a controlled way, and thus be of a help and be saved at the same time.)

2040. By February 1995, the population of Sanski Most municipality was approximately 3,350 Bosnian Muslims, 1,050 Bosnian Croats, and 33,600 Bosnian Serbs.⁶⁹¹¹ (That was an assessment, not census, but anyway, how come these Muslims and Croats stayed in Sanski Most the entire war? Why the hednt been expelled? Because neither the previous, who left before the war and during the war, hadn’t been expelled, but left because of insecurity and fear!)

a. Regional level

2041. As stated earlier, the Serb-majority community of municipalities called the ZOBK was transformed into the ARK on 16 September 1991.⁶⁹¹² (And that was done because of the development: the SDA party reneged the “Historic Serb-Muslim Agreement” created by the other Muslim secular parties, although Mr. Izetbegovic supported it at the beginning! This Agreement envisaged that the Serbs standstill the process of regionalisation for the sake of a new settlement between the Serbs and Muslims. Once the SDA reneged the Agreement, the Serbs legitimately continued with the regionalisation!) This community of municipalities included the following municipalities relevant to the Indictment: Banja Luka, Bosanski Novi, Ključ, Prijedor, and Sanski Most (“ARK Municipalities”).⁶⁹¹³ The ARK was vested with both executive and legislative powers within its area of jurisdiction and acted as an intermediate level of authority between the SerBiH and the municipalities.⁶⁹¹⁴ (The same as it is now in the Muslim-Croat Federation, FBiH, with cantons is case!)

2042. According to the ARK Statute, the ARK was a voluntary association.⁶⁹¹⁵ The statute provided that other municipalities could join the ARK.⁶⁹¹⁶ In this context, in the municipalities where the Bosnian Serbs were a majority, the respective decision to join the ARK was in fact taken only by the Bosnian Serb municipal delegates of these municipalities, with the SDA and the HDZ delegates either opposed to this idea or unaware that such a decision was being taken.⁶⁹¹⁷ (However, when the Muslim-Croat representatives ruined the Constitution deciding in favour of independence, the International Community didn’t react! What the Serb municipalities did was not a violation of the Constitution, because for that move there wasn’t envisaged concensus!) In the municipalities where the Bosnian Serbs were in a minority, the decision by the respective municipalities to join the ARK was taken either only by the Bosnian Serb delegates in the municipality or by the assemblies of the newly established Bosnian Serb municipalities.⁶⁹¹⁸ Despite provisions of the ARK Statute which established the ARK as a multi-ethnic institution,⁶⁹¹⁹ the ARK was in practice a Serb body.⁶⁹²⁰ Out of the 189 delegates to the ARK Assembly, only a negligible number were Bosnian Croats or Bosnian Muslims.⁶⁹²¹ (This illustrates their will to have a unitary Bosnia under their only control, and out of Yugoslavia, which was incompatible, because the Serbs accepted to meditate the independence only if they get their own state unit in BiH!)

⁶⁹¹¹ P5449 (Report of the MUP, Banja Luka RDB, February 1995), p. 8. In terms of percentages, in 1995, the population was 8% Bosnian Muslim, 2% Bosnian Croat, and 88% Bosnian Serb. P5449 (Report of the MUP, Banja Luka RDB, February 1995), p. 8. That was an assessment, not a census.

⁶⁹¹² See paras. 42, 75. On 16 September 1991, the ZOBK Assembly transformed the ZOBK into the ARK. P2536 (Patrick Treanor’s expert report entitled “The Bosnian Serb Leadership 1990-1992”, 30 July 2002), para. 136.

2044. On 4 March 1992, during its 15th Session, the ARK Assembly adopted a decision to form the CSB of the ARK; its seat was in Banja Luka and Stojan Župljanin was appointed as Chief of the CSB.⁶⁹²⁴ (This already was a CSB for the Community of Municipalities of Banja Luka, and only changed the name, because the Community of Municipalities changed the name into the ARK!) Furthermore, on 27 April 1992, the ARK Assembly established a “special purpose police detachment” within the Banja Luka CSB.⁶⁹²⁵ (But not to skip the fact that the war already started three weeks prior to that!)

i. Establishment of ARK Crisis Staff

2045. The ARK Crisis Staff was formally established on 5 May 1992 by a decision of the ARK Executive Council;⁶⁹²⁶ however, it had been functioning since January 1992.⁶⁹²⁷ (The Prosecution-Chamber again mixed the party Crisis Staff, which didn't have any prerogative of authority, with the Crisis Staff of a state nature, which temporarily replaced the state organs, in an absence of possibility to gather and make decisions! Brđanin was appointed as President of the newly created ARK Crisis Staff, which was later renamed the ARK War Presidency on 9 July 1992.⁶⁹²⁸ The President supported Brđanin to lead the ARK.⁶⁹²⁹ (This is also a #malicious inference#, because the President supported whatever the locals decided in a democratic procedure! However, the document from this fn. P2596 doesn't give any basis for this conclusion, see: P2596:

⁶⁹¹⁸ See Adjudicated Fact 521. For example, in Ključ, when the decision to join the ARK was confirmed by the SDS delegates of the Ključ Municipal Assembly on 26 December 1991, the SDA representatives at the Municipal Assembly walked out and did not vote on the issue. In Prijedor, the Prijedor Serb Assembly unanimously voted to join the ARK on 17 January 1992. In Sanski Most, Rašula issued a decision on behalf of the “Serbian People’s Assembly” that Sanski Most would become part of the ARK on 3 April 1992; the decision was only made by the Sanski Most SDS deputies. See paras. 1496, 1579, 1932–1933.

Radovan KARADŽIĆ	Go ahead, choose a mature personality, one that is politically strong and will be able to create.
Miroslav	Tell me ... you know what? I think that BRĐANIN ... but BRĐANIN is ... how could I explain it ... a bit, erm ... rash.
Radovan KARADŽIĆ	All right, but he's the Vice-Chairman of the Assembly... it would be difficult for him to ...
Miroslav	Yes, yes but I don't know how they planned to do it?
Radovan KARADŽIĆ	Yes ... then he'd have to leave the Assembly and someone else would have to be elected to the Assembly.
Miroslav	Anyway ... anyway ... erm ... yes. Someone would have to be ... So, would you ... would you perhaps speak to Vojo and BRĐANIN ?
Radovan KARADŽIĆ	Please, please ... you call them. Call them and tell them to discuss things. I think that JAKŠIĆ is not appropriate at this moment, because, because a person with political ... would suit you better now.

So, the President warned that Brđjanin was already the Vice-Chairman of the ARK Assembly. Before that the President encouraged the interlocutor to “choose a mature personality” Further:

Radovan KARADŽIĆ	Erm ... second of all ... as far as the election of a new person is concerned ... we should bear in mind that we need an efficient person, not some university professor or someone from the institute.
------------------	---

The President only suggested the criteria for election an efficient person. See further:

Radovan KARADŽIĆ	All right. I mean, if it can be done with no drama and with resignations rather without any argumentation, then that's better if possible. And do you ... who... who would be the second premier designate?
Miroslav	Well I think that ... one is from Kupres... I don't know, I don't remember the name but I think ... just a moment ... someone called HERCEG from Kupres.

The document confirms that the President “discouraged” the proposal of Brđjanin, and have spoken only about the criteria, suggesting what kind of person should be elected! Those who analysed the document on behalf of the Chamber misinformed the Chamber. Finally, Nikola Erceg was elected! The document never pertained to the ARK War Presidency!

Brđanin retained this position until the abolition of the ARK on 15 September 1992.⁶⁹³⁰ The ARK War Presidency continued to meet at least until 8 September 1992, one week prior to the adoption of the SerBiH constitutional amendment that abolished the ARK as a territorial unit of SerBiH.⁶⁹³¹

2046. Other members of the ARK Crisis Staff included Milorad Sajić, Secretary of the Regional Secretariat for National Defence, who was appointed Vice President of the ARK Crisis Staff; Vojo Kuprešanin, Deputy of the Bosnian Serb Assembly and President of the ARK Assembly; Milovan Milanović, Deputy of the Bosnian Serb Assembly; Nikola Erceg, President of the ARK Executive Council; Predrag Radić, President of the Banja Luka Municipal Assembly and Banja Luka Crisis Staff; Radislav Vukić; Talić; Župljanin; and Nenad Stevandić, head of the SOS.⁶⁹³² (All of them were the members ex officio, therefore not elected and not supported by the President)

2048. Decisions and conclusions of the ARK Crisis Staff were binding on the ARK Municipalities and were abided and implemented by the municipal Crisis Staffs.⁶⁹³⁸ Whenever the

See also P3645 (Conclusions of the Sanski Most Crisis Staff, 7 May 1992), p. 2. However, according to Kuprešanin, Erceg, and Sajić, the ARK operated independently from Pale as a “state within a state”. (This is another important evidence, that shouldn’t be in the footnote, because it is #EXCULPATORY# for this Accused!) D4011 (Witness statement of Vojislav Kuprešanin dated 11 November 2013), paras. 37–38; D4086 (Witness statement of Nikola Erceg dated 24 November 2013), para. 71; D4114 (Witness statement of Milorad Sajić dated 24 November 2013), paras. 51–53. Furthermore, according to Brđanin, the ARK Crisis Staff was not supported by the central republican authorities in Pale, primarily due to a rift between the ARK leadership and the RS leadership over what city should be the capital of the RS, Banja Luka or Pale; in addition, according to Brđanin, Kuprešanin, Erceg, and Sajić, until a corridor was opened on 28 June 1992, there was limited communication with the central authorities in Pale and Brđanin did not receive instructions from Pale or the Accused while the ARK Crisis Staff existed. (#EXCULPATORY!# Why it is sided ion a footnote?) D4034 (Witness statement of Radoslav Brđanin dated 8 November 2013), paras. 6–7, 9; Vojislav Kuprešanin, T. 43553–43554 (14 November 2013); D4086 (Witness statement of Nikola Erceg dated 24 November 2013), paras. 22–23, 29, 32, 34, 36, 42, 45–46, 57; D4114 (Witness statement of Milorad Sajić dated 24 November 2013), paras. 12, 47–52. See D4088 (Letter from President of ARK Executive Board, 18 June 1992). See also D4195 (Witness statement of Milomir Stakić dated 16 November 2013), para. 14. The Chamber considers that while there may have been limited communication at times between the authorities in Pale and the ARK authorities, the Chamber finds that instructions were indeed sent from Pale to the ARK and that, as such, the ARK Crisis Staff did not operate entirely independently as a “state within a state” as alleged by the Accused. (It was not “alleged by the Accused”, but confirmed by the most responsible officials of the ARK, who would do beter for themselves if stated the opposite!) The Chamber will discuss in further detail the relationship between the ARK Crisis Staff and the Bosnian Serb leadership and the impact of these lines of communication on the Accused’s responsibility. However, Brđanin, Kuprešanin, and Grahovac testified that there was no subordination and hierarchy in the relationship between the ARK Crisis Staff and municipal crisis staffs and they were independent of each other, in particular because the functioning of the ARK was dependent on funds provided by the municipalities and ultimately, the municipalities stopped earmarking funds for the ARK. Further, according to Brđanin, Erceg, Stakić, Mišković, and Sajić, although the ARK Crisis Staff tried to impose its decisions on the municipal crisis staffs, the ultimate implementation rested with the ARK Municipalities themselves and some chose to implement them while others did not. 2049. On 11 June 1992, the ARK Crisis Staff issued a statement setting forth the composition of municipal Crisis Staffs/War Presidencies in the ARK, which stated:

The War Presidency, that is the Crisis Staff, shall lead all-people's resistance on the territory of the municipality, ensure unity in implementing the policy of the [...] All People's Defence, repair war damage, coordinate the work of municipal administrative organs, adopt regulations within the competence of the Municipal Assembly if it is unable to convene and establish cooperation with the competent organs of other municipalities and the commands of armed forces units.⁶⁹⁴¹ (All of it is the regular duty of the regular organs of authorities, according to the domestic law on #“All-Peoples Defence”#. The President of Municipality was the supreme commander of the Teritorial defence units. Since the War Presidency (or the Crisis Staff, but not simultaneously) carried out all the duties of the regular municipal authorities, since both the War Presidencies and the Crisis Staffs were composed of the officials elected!)

in Prijedor used the ARK for inter-municipal co-operation, they never considered that ARK decisions or documents were binding on the municipal government in Prijedor); D4057 (Prijedor Crisis Staff conclusions, published in Official Gazette, 23 June 1992) (concluding that the Prijedor Crisis Staff does not accept, and deems invalid, all decisions of the ARK Crisis Staff adopted before 22 June 1992, but shall “give effect” to all documents of the ARK Crisis Staff adopted after 22 June 1992); Nikola Erceg, T. 44095 (27 November 2013). See P6437 (Minutes from inter-municipality talks, 14 June 1992), p. 3. However, the Chamber does not find this evidence to be convincing in light of other accepted evidence, in particular documentary evidence, demonstrating that the orders and decisions issued by the ARK Crisis Staff were implemented in the majority, if not all, of the ARK Municipalities. For example, the Chamber refers to the implementation of the orders related to the (i) disarmament of the non-Serb population; (ii) policy to “resettle” the non-Serb population; and (iii) dismissals of non-Serbs from management and other positions in the ARK. In addition, the Chamber considers that the evidence provided by these witnesses was marked with contradictions and evasiveness on this issue; they had a clear incentive to distance themselves from events in the ARK Municipalities and the Chamber did not find them forthright when they claimed the ARK Municipalities were acting independently and could not be controlled. The Chamber will therefore not rely on their evidence in this regard.

i. ARK Crisis Staff decisions

1. Disarmament of non-Serbs

2051. As discussed above, an imminent threat of war was declared by the SerBiH Presidency on 15 April 1992, and the following day, the mobilisation of the TO was ordered.⁶⁹⁴⁵ Minister of Defence Bogdan Subotić forwarded this decision for implementation to all Serb assemblies, including in the ARK,⁶⁹⁴⁶ and on 29 April 1992, the decision was then forwarded by Erceg to the President of Banja Luka Municipal Assembly also for implementation.⁶⁹⁴⁷ On 4 May 1992, the decision was implemented by the ARK Regional Secretariat for National Defence in an order issued by Milorad Sajić, the Secretary of the Regional Secretariat for National Defence, and forwarded to the ARK Municipalities, providing for the following measures: (i) general mobilisation of the territory of the ARK; (ii) imposition of a curfew; and (iii) disarmament of “[a]ll paramilitary formations and individuals who illegally possess weapons” by 11 May 1992.⁶⁹⁴⁸ (Therefore, #no ethnic difference in disarming process#!) Also on 4 May 1992, Župljanin ordered the SJB chiefs to implement the ARK decision of the same day.⁶⁹⁴⁹ In a decision issued on 11 May 1992, the ARK Crisis Staff reiterated the same measures as in the 4 May decision and extended the disarmament deadline to 14 May 1992 at 12 a.m. in response to the request of citizens to “return the weapons in a peaceful way and without the intervention of the police”.⁶⁹⁵⁰

2052. On 18 May 1992, the ARK Crisis Staff further decided that all individuals in the ARK who were “not part of the armed forces of the [SerBiH] or its police must hand in their weapons”.⁶⁹⁵¹ (#No ethnic differentiation!#) In accordance with the 18 May 1992 decision, Župljanin ordered all SJBs to report back to the CSB on the disarmament operations.⁶⁹⁵² The municipal SJBs, as ordered, reported back to the CSB on the operations implemented in their respective areas of control.⁶⁹⁵³

2053. The measures ordered in the 4 May 1992 decision were implemented in the ARK Municipalities through public announcements and ultimatums to hand in illegally owned weapons.⁶⁹⁵⁴ Although the calls for disarmament in the ARK were directed to all “paramilitary units and individuals who illegally possess weapons”, they were selectively enforced against non-Serbs.⁶⁹⁵⁵ (Maybe because the Serbs joined their own Army, or maybe the Serbs didn't fire against their own people, although we know that the CSB and Zupljanin disarmed and arrested some groups of the Serb paramilitaries, which caused a skirmish between them and the police, see: D1911, p.1, of 11 July 1991:

With reference to the recent events in Slovenia and Croatia, in the municipality of Bos. Novi, Bos. Dubica, Bos. Gradiška and Srbac, bordering with the territory of Croatia, the security situation has become drastically complicated, thus taking the characteristics of a state of emergency and even of war. However, due to a continuous reflection of all known incidents on the territory of Croatia, a few /crossed-out, illegible/ of special forces of Croatian MUP in Bosanski Novi, various /illegible/ repressive actions of the members of Croatian MUP towards citizens /illegible/ entrance and exit to the Croatian territory, occasional concentration of policemen and special forces at the crossings and the towns close to the border, persistent and increased spreading of various dangerous and disturbing rumours etc, over the last few months, the security situation in those municipalities has been permanently tense and complicated with an emphasised risk of serious incidents breaking out, violation of public order in higher degrees, as well as of the burst of an open conflicts and fights between the nationalities. Therefore, the recent events have increased the national tensions to a critical level, with a visible fear of citizens and inability to predict future developments, especially in towns of Kostajnica, Dobrljin and Ravnice in the area of Bosanski Novi municipality, Gradina, Draksenić, Komlenac, Johovo, Bačvani /illegible/ Grbac and Bosanska Gradiška.

That was the situation in the Area of Responsibility of the Banja Luka CSB even in July 1991. See further, D1911, p.1

From 25 June, at nights and in morning hours, fire is opened out of automatic weapons from the territory of Croatia, usually from Kozibrod direction, Unčani and Struga towards Dobrljin, Ravnice and other towns along Una and Sava on the territory of Bosnia and Herzegovina. At night of 26/27 June, from the direction of Kozibrod towards Dobrljin, a continuous fire was opened for more than two hours, also it was fired at the fast train. During the same night, an explosion occurred on the railway track Bos. Novi - /illegible/ etc. Occasional blockades of border-crossings on However, Brdanin, Erceg, and Sajić testified that the ARK Crisis Staff demanded the disarmament of all paramilitary formations, regardless of their nationality, though they were aimed first at Serb paramilitary units and individuals who possessed weapons illegally; its aim was to ensure the safety of all citizens of the ARK. Furthermore, they testified that a hierarchical relationship between the municipal authorities, the CSB, and the SJBs did not exist and it was purely upon the initiative of the municipalities themselves whether to implement these decisions or not. D4034 (Witness statement of Radoslav Brdanin dated 8 November 2013), paras. 24, 42–47; D4086 (Witness statement of Nikola Erceg dated 24 November 2013), para. 108; D4114 (Witness statement of Milorad Sajić dated 24 November 2013), paras. 40, 65–66; Milorad Sajić, T. 44135–44138 (27 November 2013). However, the Chamber does not find this evidence to be convincing in light of the other accepted evidence before the Chamber demonstrating that the ARK Crisis Staff decision ordering the disarmament of non-Serbs exclusively was implemented throughout the ARK Municipalities.

From the whole range of different stories and direct threats from the attack of armed groups from the territory of Croatia at the towns in Bosnia and Herzegovina, recently it has been going around that the members of MUP and other armed Croatian formations go into the territory of Bosnia and Herzegovina to the border towns, make a list of citizens and objects for liquidation and destroying, Over the last few days, there have been persistent stories that a few thousands of MUP members changed into Chetnik uniforms and that are preparing an organised incursion onto the territory of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Because of all mentioned events in the towns in border area towards Croatia, for months are disrupted normal life courses, the life has been lived with fear, different provocations and persistent anxiety, numerous nights without sleep, concern for own children and properties. Over the last days, a part of population from the towns along Una and Sava rivers in Bos, Novi /illegible/ Unsatisfied with undertaken measures and showing recently a visible mistrust towards the authorities, both municipal and republic, the population of the mentioned towns has joined a massive self-organising, mainly the Serb population, night guard are kept constantly and in the most threatened towns placed are the barricades. Individuals are making the lists of volunteers and troops, talk about attacks on police stations as for seizing weapons, with the most obvious request for a revenge-seeking fight with Croatian population, as well as to attack particular towns in Croatia from which the fire is opened more intensively.

See how early Zupljanin met with the self-organisation of the terrified people, pointing out the Serbs as the most frightened and dissatisfied with the measures undertaken by the common authorities in BiH. Zupljanin was very critical about that development. See D391, p1. of 3 April 1992, p 2.

In line with the Sarajevo Agreement on the possible future of the state organisation of BH, the provisions of which were also confirmed in the last Brussels Agreement, the collegium made a realistic appraisal of the security situation and took the view that the transformation of the existing Security Services Centre was being approached

The entire security situation in the area covered by the Centre was analysed at this meeting, and it may be said that although it is very complex, it remains more satisfactory than in many other areas of BH. Particular stress was thus laid on continuing to maintain control of all areas of public law and order, especially the security of person and property of the public. It was concluded that there was no mono-ethnic aspect to the transformation of the Security Services Centre that had been carried out, and that we would not permit facilities and equipment to be taken over on a mono-ethnic basis. Workers will volunteer their preferences for the work

See D1911, p. 3, the same document as the above:

In the last 24 hours the security situation in the CSB's area, especially Banja Luka SJB, has become more complex. Barricades were erected at the approaches to Banja Luka and in the town itself by members of the Serbian Defence Forces, who presented Banja Luka municipality Crisis Staff with certain conditions, which were accepted after lengthy discussion. One of the conditions was that the application of the Law on Internal Affairs of the Serbian Republic of BH should begin immediately, that the insignia envisaged by this law be introduced, and solemn declarations signed. All these activities must be carried out and concluded

It is easy to see that all the allegations that the Crisis Staff was in command of the SOS (Serbian Defence Forces) are fake, and that this formation was a result of the self-organisation of the scared people, to which the people had a right in an absence of the state measures. How was it possible that the next document, one of many of the same kind, didn't influence the judgements on the two authors and the President, whose officials they were, D474 of 92:

In reference to our dispatch No. 11-1/01-57 of 19 August 1992

In reference to our dispatch the number and date of which are mentioned above, the relevant text of the dispatch of the Minister of the Interior, referred to in the title of the dispatch, was omitted by error. For this reason, we forward herewith the full contents of the dispatch:

"I order again that all CSBs, SJBs and their organisational units, and all MUP /Ministry of the Interior/ officers, when dealing with prisoners of war and civilians – refugees, act in strict compliance with the law, within the competence of the MUP and according to the standards of the laws of war and international conventions regulating this matter. You are immediately to inform this Ministry of the existence of any alleged "underground" prisons, camps or similar, or the existence of EEEE /as printed/ or of instances of individuals treating prisoners of war or refugees contrary to the legal standards and international conventions.

If any person violates the existing regulations and acts contrary to our legal /standards/ and the international standards in this field, whether they be civilians or members of the MUP or the Army, it is necessary to proceed immediately with gathering information and documentation in order to submit a criminal report to the competent office of the prosecutor"

1. Resettlement of non-Serbs and appropriation of property

been declared as many times as somebody wanted, but this had #never been a valid decision#. At the beginning it was aimed to force the able bodied Serb to respond to mobilisation, and only for the Serbs, since the Republic of Srpska never made the Muslims and Croats to serve the Army or be a compulsory conscripts or reservists. That was a kind of a positive discrimination, since the Serbs couldn't have such a choice – either to serve the army, or to serve the compulsory labour service! Apart of that, the President ordered that all such a decisions pertaining to a property matters be annihilated, and that never happened, as the very same Chamber concluded, see Paragraph...@) At a meeting on 20 May 1992, the ARK Crisis Staff adopted several conclusions, including that there was “no reason for the population of any nationality to move out of the territory of the [ARK]”⁶⁹⁵⁷.

(#EXCULPATORY#!!!) However, on 29 May 1992, the ARK Crisis Staff issued a decision stating that “all Muslims and Croats, who so wish, should be able to move out of the area of the [ARK]” and based on a concern that “several thousand Muslims from Prijedor, Sanski Most and Bosanski Novi wish to move to Central Bosnia, of their own free will”, the ARK Crisis Staff provided for an organised “resettlement” of the population.⁶⁹⁵⁸ (#Linguistic problems#!Again, the term “resettlement” is not correct translation of the Serb term for seljenje (moving out) and resettlement has another connotation as to a permanent change of place of living. But, the most important is that between 20 May and 29 May there had been an #Agreement# concluded among the three sides concluded in Geneva on 22 May, see D1603, p.9:

All civilians shall be treated in accordance with Articles 72 to 79 of Additional Protocol I. Civilians who are in the power of an adverse party and who are deprived of their liberty for reasons related to the armed conflict shall benefit from the rules relating to the treatment of internees laid down in the Fourth Geneva Convention of 12 August 1949.

In the treatment of the civilian population there shall be no adverse distinction founded on race, religion or faith, or any other similar criteria.

As it is clear, the civilians could have benn “deprived of their liberty for reasons related to the #armed conflict#...#military reasons#” se further, D1603 of 22 May 92:

The displacement of the civilian population shall not be ordered unless the security of the civilians involved or imperative military reasons so demand. Should such displacements have to be carried out, all possible measures shall be taken in order that the civilian population may be received under satisfactory conditions of shelter, hygiene, health, safety and nutrition.

Therefore, both due to the domestic and the international normatives, the civilian population must be moved out of the region if the #“security of the civilians# involved or imperative #”military reasons so demand.”# The Prosecution have never proven that the displacements of the population was without “the security and military reasons”!!! the Prosecution shouldn't even mention any displacement in the Indictment unles had the proofs that it was unnecessary! Therefore, if the ARK Crisis Staff denied the right of the population that didn't feel secure to move out or be displaced, that would be a grave violation of the Geneva Conventions, not vice versa, as the Chamber accepted! Immediately after this first Agreement there were concluded a several other on the same subject, see D4710 p.1 of 17 July 92, signed by the President and the two other leaders and their plenipotentiaries:

⁶⁹⁵⁸ P3461 (Conclusions of ARK Crisis Staff, 29 May 1992). See Adjudicated Fact 541. Later on 10 June, the ARK Crisis Staff decided that only women, children, and the elderly could be moved from the ARK if they so wish, in co-operation with humanitarian organisations. D4046 (Decision of ARK Crisis Staff, 10 June 1992). See D4034 (Witness statement of Radoslav Brdanin dated 8 November 2013), para. 23(f) (stating that he does not remember the 10 June decision but that the police would have wanted to check able-bodied male non-Serbs before they left the ARK). Furthermore, the ARK Crisis Staff provided that there should be “reciprocity” with regard to the relocation of people throughout the SerBiH, including that Serbs should be given the freedom to choose their place of residence. D4038 (Conclusions of ARK Crisis Staff, 18 May 1992); D4044 (Conclusions of ARK Crisis Staff, 28 May 1992), p. 2. See D4034 (Witness statement of Radoslav Brdanin dated 8 November 2013), para. 23(b), (d).

We agree that all refugees will be permitted to return to the places from which they have been expelled and that civilians who are caught up in or trapped by the military situation, will be given freedom of movement.

Any allegation about a #“permanent removal”# of the non-Serbs are senseless, since the most authorised official of the Republic of Srpska signed an obligation that everyone #must be able to return#, and must be allowed to leave some areas under the adversary’s control! This commitment had been welcome by the President of the UN Security Council, D 4710, p. 2

The Council welcomes the provisions in the agreement concerning the return of all refugees and freedom of movement for civilians caught up in or trapped by the military situation. It

How come a Court founded by the same UN SC may neglect these agreements and pay more attention to some gossips and unofficial remarks? A similar provisions were provided in the document of the London Conference at the end of August 1992, see D1604, p.3

e) just and adequate arrangements for people who have been forcibly expelled from their homes including the right to return and compensation for their losses;

Having in mind those #obligatory commitments# of the President and his official representatives, there can not survive several corner stones of the Indictment and this Judgement, such as the Overarching Joint Criminal Enterprise – to permanently remove all the non-Serbs from the Serb areas, ...@in as ;c:

single deputy in the Assembly, as well as all the municipal presidents and organs. There is no any trace of this “meeting” in any other document or intercept, simply this was a primitive desperate move. Not mentioned in P2918, of 8 June 92, and if it was an official event, it would be, not mentioned in P5444 of 8 June 92, and it must have been if it was an official meeting. Finally, the Witness Brdjanin denied that this was accepted, see D4034:

letting Serbian families leave their territories and holding them hostage of sorts, but we pointed out that we were against any forcible relocation of the people and this had to be stopped with all legal means at our disposal. This particularly applied to the municipalities of Prijedor, Sanski Most and Bosanski Novi. Nine days after this decision, a meeting was held of the sub-regional municipal level which included the aforementioned three municipalities and it adopted a conclusion (P2641) which was in complete contradiction to the conclusion of the ARK (which could be seen from document 65#5074 that was shown to me). The sub-regional representatives, among which RAŠULA and SRDIĆ were the prominent ones, sent their conclusions to the ARK KŠ, that Muslims and Croats from those municipalities should leave and settle in Muslim-controlled territory and if the KŠ ARK did not enable this, they would be brought to the centre of Banja Luka. The next day, 8 June 1992, we at the KŠ ARK held a meeting of the KŠ ARK at which we rejected the sub-regional request for Muslims and Croats to leave because this was contrary to our policy.

Taking into account these documents, and the entirety of evidence, in particular the President’s attitude and explicit orders pertaining to the movement of population and the property rights, including D101 and #annihilation of all possible documents signed, # and taking into account the fact that the appropriation of a private property had never happened, this is not understandable why the Chamber payed any attention to this document! See what the same witness confirmed in his statement about the President’s position on the issue: D4034: as well as about the respect of the International Humanitarian Law, D4034:

32. President Radovan KARADŽIĆ has always promoted respect for the Geneva Conventions and insisted on humane treatment of non-Serbian civilians and prisoners of war. In Assembly sessions, he always said that we must all see to it that crimes are not committed as the Serbian people had never committed them in the past. In addition to that, I remember that he said we should insist on respect for the International Law of War.

There is many such a documents in favour of the President, and none contra!)

2057. On 12 June 1992, the ARK Crisis Staff established an Agency for Population Movement and Exchange of Material Wealth for the ARK (“ARK Agency”), appointing Miloš Bojinović as its Chief, to aid in the implementation of the resettlement policy.⁶⁹⁶² At the municipal level, other agencies were established throughout the ARK and, along with other competent institutions, were charged with establishing the resettlement procedures.⁶⁹⁶³ (#Linguistic trouble#! “Resettlement” is not an accurate translation, and “moving” would be more proper!) Departures of non-Serbs from the ARK had to be authorised by these competent institutions.⁶⁹⁶⁴ In order to obtain permits to leave the territory of the ARK, non-Serbs usually had to “de-register” from their places of residence and either relinquish their property to the SerBiH or the ARK without compensation (#No appropriation#! How possibly the Chamber could have repeated this lie, since there is a sufficient evidence that had never happened, and that there was not a single case of appropriation of property on that or any other basis. Also, the President have annihilated this possibility in his order of 19 August 1992, see D1754 or D101 :

3. Forcible resettlement and other illegal measures against the civilian population should be prevented, and any certificates of sale of property or statements that refugees will not return shall be considered as legally invalid and are declared null and void;

But let us see what had been said in the D4034, the statement of Mr. Brđjanin, the most responsible official in the ARK:

31. The opinion of President KARADŽIĆ on housing was that according to international law and international standards, the housing policy in times of war should be temporary, the property of everyone should be respected, and he favoured compensation to all Muslims who left Republika Srpska and cannot return (P1379).

The Chamber should be obliged to find out, and the Prosecution to prove, that some local decisions were carried out, or were rejected by the higher officials or bodies! Why it wasn't done?) or, in other cases, exchange their property for property located outside of the ARK.⁶⁹⁶⁵

The ARK Agency organised convoys, on a bi-weekly basis or more often, to transport non-Serbs to the Muslim or Croat-controlled lines near Travnik and Zagreb; passengers were required to buy tickets from the ARK Agency in order to leave on the convoys.⁶⁹⁶⁶ On 19 June 1992, the ARK Crisis Staff issued a decision declaring that all abandoned property will be declared state property and placed at the disposal of the municipal authorities.⁶⁹⁶⁷

2058. The municipal Crisis Staffs of the ARK Municipalities implemented this ARK policy.⁶⁹⁶⁸ For example, on 30 May 1992, the day following the ARK Crisis Staff decision setting out the policy, the Sanski Most Crisis Staff concluded that it would liaise with the ARK leadership regarding the “implementation of the idea on resettlement of the population”.⁶⁹⁶⁹ (So what, if they “concluded”? Or somebody said something, in the Assembly session, or in a joky intercepted conversation? Did it happen? What had been done, and was it illegal? The Chamber takes some #peripheral opinions and wishes# of the people who had been 40 years disidents to the communist authorities and were not familiar with the legislation as if it was an official opinion and as iif it was realised! The only relevan are the final official documents if carried out! Nobody should be indicted, let alone sentenced for somebody's ill intentions, if not accepted and not carried out!) On 4 June 1992, the Ključ Crisis Staff issued a statement regarding the resettlement of “all citizens who wish to permanently move out of the [m]unicipality

See also Miloš Bojinović, D4176 (Testimony from Prosecutor v. Brđjanin), T. 22790–22792; Adjudicated Fact 544. However, Brđjanin, Kuprešanin, Sajić, Erceg, and Bojinović testified that the ARK authorities never engaged in forcible displacement and that the positions of the ARK Crisis Staff in this regard developed depending on the “situation on the ground”. The ARK Agency was established to oversee the exchange of property and departure of people of all ethnicities, including Serbs, and furthermore, at the request of non-Serbs who were interested in having such services provided to them and was thus aimed at providing a humanitarian way to exchange property and secure transport. Finally, Brđjanin stated that “had we wanted to expel non-Serbs, we would not have set any requirements and conditions for their leaving the ARK”. Kuprešanin further stated he was not aware of the establishment of any agency to implement a policy of resettlement, nor that any such policy was co-ordinated at the regional level by the ARK. D4034 (Witness statement of Radoslav Brđjanin dated 8 November 2013), paras. 23, 49, 55, 57; Radoslav Brđjanin, T. 43666–43667 (18 November 2013) (testifying further that there was no “strategic plan ever about forcible relocation”, instead they “followed the situation which dictated for people to be relocated rather than to be killed or to perish”); D4011 (Witness statement of Vojislav Kuprešanin dated 11 November 2013), paras. 56–57, 60–61; D4114 (Witness statement of Milorad Sajić dated 24 November 2013), paras. 54, 67–69; D4086 (Witness statement of Nikola Erceg dated 24 November 2013), para. 95; Miloš Bojinović, D4176 (Testimony from Prosecutor v. Brđjanin), T. 22776–22777, 22783–22784. However, as further expanded upon above in relation to each of the ARK Municipalities, the Chamber does not find this evidence to be convincing in light of the accepted evidence before the Chamber demonstrating that the resettlement policy promulgated by the ARK Crisis Staff was in fact implemented in the ARK Municipalities, resulting in the movement of the majority of the non-Serb population out of the ARK. The Chamber also does not find the evidence of Brđjanin, Kuprešanin, Sajić, Erceg, and Bojinović to be reliable on this issue based on their close involvement in this policy and its implementation, creating an incentive to distance themselves from these events. Therefore, the Chamber will not rely on their evidence in this regard.

of Ključ in an organized manner”.⁶⁹⁷⁰ In August 1992, the Bosanski Novi SJB reported that following the ARK decision on “voluntary resettlement”, it de-registered 5,680 individuals, 5,629 of whom were Bosnian Muslim who had applied to leave the municipality “voluntarily”.⁶⁹⁷¹

(#Obstacles to leave#! This quotation marks are not correct, because there is no evidence that some authorities forced anyone to move out of the RS whatsoever! It had been proven that the applicants had to apply for moving out of the municipality, to pay for the transport, to de-register their place of temporary residence – in Serbian: mesto boravista, in contrast to a permanent residence, in Serbian: mesto prebivalista, which was a legal obligation so that the authorities could always had been able to contact them, additionally to obtain all the certificates about taxes and other obligations payed – all together about 10 to 15 different papers. Those who didn’t want to move out of a municipality, could achieve it easily, simply – not to apply, not to obtain so many documents, or one of them, and nobody would allow him to leave! But, in a case of prevention and denial of departure, the side would violate so many agreements concluded on this issue until 1 November 1992!)

Immediately following the issuance of the decision, the 1st Krajina Corps also reported on the implementation of the policy, reporting that the ARK had issued a decision to facilitate the departures of the non-Serb population and that those departing “will not be allowed to return” and referring to “public statements made in the media by SDS [ARK] leaders who advocate moving and expelling all Muslims and Croats from these areas”.⁶⁹⁷² disadvantageous influence on the morale of the troops. This is made worse by public statements made in the media by SDS /Serbian Democratic Party/ Bosanska Krajina Autonomous Region leaders who advocate moving and expelling all Muslims and Croats from these areas.

So, #somebody said something through media#! But it is significant that the translation is incorrect: in the original it was said “neki”, which means “some” and this part of sentence should be translated as follows: “To this contribute a public appearance in media of some of the leaders of SDS of AR Bosanska Krajina. “Some” of the leaders – clearly define the individual nature of this “advocating”. This is a hostile remark of the Army which was in a conflict with the civil authorities, but “advocating” something in media, on behalf only of these individuals is too far from any official form! How this irresponsible “bla-bla” could be used against this President, whose official position on the issue was very known?)

(#EXCULPATORY#! ALL OF THEM, Mr. Kupresanin and the mayors were the officials of the Republic of Srpska and members of the SDS. Had their goal been to harm the Muslim population, they wouldn’t ask for any assistance. Kupresanin himself was a personal plenipotentiary of the President in assisting the Muslim population and prominent individuals, such as Mevludin Sejmenovic, as it was confirmed in the Court room!)

Kuprešanin informed the office that 15,000 Bosnian Muslim refugees from these municipalities were moving across the border towards Dvor, Croatia, and that another 15,000 would likely follow, appealing to UNPROFOR to “find a way to protect the civilian Muslim population”.⁶⁹⁷⁴

(#EXCULPATORY!!! Now it is clear that the detainees hadn't been deprived from food, clothing and accommodation deliberately!#General shortage#!)

2. Dismissals of non-Serbs

2061. On 8 May 1992, 11 May 1992, and 13 May 1992, the ARK Crisis Staff issued decisions stating that all management positions in SerBiH must be filled by “people who are absolutely loyal”.⁶⁹⁷⁶ Later, in a decision adopted on 22 June 1992 and directed to all municipal Crisis Staff presidents, the ARK Crisis Staff stated that all posts important for the functioning of the economy may only be held by “personnel of Serbian ethnicity”.⁶⁹⁷⁷ The 22 June 1992 decision was forwarded by Župljanin to all SJBs on 1 July 1992 for its immediate implementation within the ARK.⁶⁹⁷⁸ In accordance with this decision, numerous municipalities dismissed non-Serb personnel; by the end of 1992, the majority of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats in the ARK had been dismissed from their jobs and were replaced by Bosnian Serbs.⁶⁹⁷⁹ (Neither this Court nor any reasonable chamber may deny that the #military security reasons# could have been neglected by the civilian authorities! See this foot note 6989 below!) ARK Crisis Staff member Radić confirmed that the policy of dismissals of non-Serbs originated in Pale at the republic level.⁶⁹⁸⁰ (Who at the republican level? Did late Radić associated the President with this alleged policy? What was Radić's proof? Already deceased, Radić couldn't have been cross examined, and this is not a fair trial to use such a general allegation against this President! Pertaining to the President, Radić testified that he used the President's name and authority to protect the non-Serb managers in Banja Luka, see @!)

However, Brđanin and Erceg testified that detention facilities in the ARK were not discussed at meetings of the ARK Crisis Staff and that ARK authorities had nothing to do with the facilities. D4034 (Witness statement of Radoslav Brđanin dated 8 November 2013), para. 52; D4086 (Witness statement of Nikola Erceg dated 24 November 2013), para. 89. The Chamber considers that the evidence given by Sajić regarding the discussion of the detention facilities in the ARK Municipalities at the ARK Crisis Staff meeting is reliable given the detail he provides regarding at least this one particular meeting. The Chamber shall not rely on the evidence given by Brđanin and Erceg in this regard given their potential interest in distancing themselves from any knowledge of conditions at ARK detention facilities or invoking their lack of recollection of such a discussion at the meetings.

See Adjudicated Fact 532 (stating that the replacement of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats personnel by Bosnian Serbs guaranteed “an overall Bosnian Serb control over public and private enterprises and institutions throughout the ARK”). See also P2637 (Report of Prijedor SJB, 1 July 1992) (reporting that the 22 June 1992 ARK Crisis Staff decision “has been implemented in this [SJB]”); Adjudicated Fact 534. However, Brđanin testified that a leak of sensitive information about the movements of the 1st Krajina Corps resulted in these measures being “temporarily” adopted by the ARK Crisis Staff and its decision involved the removal of executive positions of people that could misuse such positions and threaten the security of Krajina. Furthermore, the non-Serbs were not fired, but only removed from positions considered to be important due to security, and were given different jobs. D4034 (Witness statement of Radoslav Brđanin dated 8 November 2013), paras. 15–17, 39–41. According to Sajić and Erceg, although the 22 June 1992 decision provided for the dismissals of non-Serbs, it was implemented to “some extent”, but was not put into practice in all cases. Furthermore, Sajić did not believe that Brđanin personally called for the dismissal of non-Serbs despite what the decision states. D4114 (Witness statement of Milorad Sajić dated 24 November 2013), para. 41; Milorad Sajić, T. 44139–44142 (27 November 2013); D4086 (Witness statement of Nikola Erceg dated 24 November 2013), paras. 98–101, 107. See Defence Final Brief, paras. 1172–1175 (wherein the Accused submits that he does not dispute that there may have been individual incidents of people being dismissed from their employment, but “this had nothing to do with alleged persecutions”). However, the Chamber does not find this evidence to be convincing based on the considerable evidence before the Chamber demonstrating that this policy of dismissals of non-Serb personnel as ordered by the ARK Crisis Staff was, in turn, implemented throughout the ARK Municipalities. (Neither this Court nor any reasonable chamber may deny that the military security reasons could have been neglected by the civilian authorities!)

i. Charges

2063. Acts of persecution alleged to have been committed by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs in Hadžići include (i) torture, beatings, and physical and psychological abuse, during and after the take-over and in scheduled detention facilities, as cruel or inhumane treatment;⁶⁹⁸² (ii) rape and other acts of sexual violence, during and after the take-over and in the Hadžići Culture and Sport Centre, as cruel and inhumane treatment;⁶⁹⁸³ (iii) the establishment and perpetuation of inhumane living conditions in scheduled detention facilities, including the failure to provide adequate accommodation, shelter, food, water, medical care, or hygienic sanitation facilities, as cruel or inhumane treatment;⁶⁹⁸⁴ (iv) forcible transfer or deportation of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats from their homes within Hadžići;⁶⁹⁸⁵ (v) unlawful detention in scheduled detention facilities;⁶⁹⁸⁶ (vi) forced labour at the frontline and the use of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats as human shields;⁶⁹⁸⁷ (vii) the appropriation or plunder of property, during and after the take-over of Hadžići, during arrests and detention and in the course of or following acts of deportation or forcible transfer;⁶⁹⁸⁸ and (viii) the imposition and maintenance of restrictive and discriminatory measures.⁶⁹⁸⁹

2066. Before the conflict, the population of Hadžići municipality was about 24,000 inhabitants with the demographic breakdown of approximately 63.6% Bosnian Muslim, 26.3% Serb, and 3.1% Croat.⁶⁹⁹⁵ The town of Hadžići, however, had a Serb majority.⁶⁹⁹⁶ Tarčin,⁶⁹⁹⁷ Binježevo, and Pazarić were large settlements within the Hadžići municipality, each of which was composed of a number of villages.⁶⁹⁹⁸

2067. The municipality was strategically important because of its geographical position, as well as the fact that it contained a large engineering factory run by the JNA, called the TRZ,⁶⁹⁹⁹ and a sizeable weapons depot at Žunovnica.⁷⁰⁰⁰ JNA military barracks were also situated in Žunovnica, as well as in Ušivak⁷⁰⁰¹ and Pazarić.⁷⁰⁰²

In accordance with this agreement, SDA member Mustafa Dželilović, was made President of the Municipality.⁷⁰⁰⁷

1. Militarisation of Hadžići

2069. During the course of 1991, the number of military personnel and the amount of weapons in the municipality increased. Around mid-1991, tanks appeared in the hills around Hadžići, and mortar positions were established around the village of Bare.⁷⁰⁰⁸ Several tanks were also positioned in Binježevo.⁷⁰⁰⁹ During the last week of August and the first week of September, Bosnian Serb reserve soldiers in JNA uniforms who appeared to be mapping the area arrived at a barracks located in the village of Blažuj.⁷⁰¹⁰ Around the same time, Mehmed Musić saw men unloading boxes of ammunition,⁷⁰¹¹ and Zijad Okić noticed weapons were taken up to trenches built on Tinovo Hill.⁷⁰¹² (#Not the Serbs in Bosnia#! It has to be underlined that this event didn't have anything to do with the Serbs in Bosnia! Those deployments of the JNA structures were in connection with the events in Slovenija and Croatia, the war with Slovenija and the first skirmishes with Croatia. Having a huge military infrastructure in Hadzici, and having a negative attitude of the Muslim reservists and conscripts towards the JNA and mobilisation, the JNA had its own interests to secure it's assets in Hadzici. The Serbs in BiH didn't have any influence on that assessments or decisions, and they only responded to the mobilisations. So, what Mehmed Music and Zijad Okic had seen was a #regular activity of the JNA# and it's reservists, who happened to be the Serbs, because the Muslims didn't respond on the call.

2070. From its founding until the commencement of the war, the SDS provided Serbs with weapons taken from the JNA military warehouses in Žunovnica.⁷⁰¹³ Serbs also obtained weapons from the TRZ, which was controlled by the Serbs.⁷⁰¹⁴ In particular, Marinko Đukanović, who had been a warehouse clerk at the TO (and thus had access to the weapons),⁷⁰¹⁵ as well as Ratko Radić, the President of the Hadžići SDS,⁷⁰¹⁶ distributed weapons to the Serb population in Hadžići.⁷⁰¹⁷ (The Serb access to the TRZ and TO was facilitated by the fact that only the Serbs accepted

See also P41 (Witness statement of Ramiz Dupovac dated 16 January 1998), p. 5. The Chamber notes that Vidimir Banduka originally professed that he was unaware that Serbs obtained arms from the JNA, but when presented with his testimony in the Krajišnik case, wherein he had stated that the Serbs obtained weapons through the mobilisation of the reserve police, as well as the JNA reserves and the TO, Banduka clarified that reservists had obtained weapons through these channels but maintained that Serb civilians had not. Vidimir Banduka, T. 33499–33500 (12 February 2013). See also D2490 (Witness statement of Radojka Pandurević dated 27 November 2012), para. 62. However, the Chamber observes that according to a JNA report dated 19 March 1992, by that date, 1,500 “volunteers” who were not part of the JNA or the TO had been armed by the JNA or the SDS in Hadžići. P979 (Report from JNA 2nd Military District to JNA General Staff, 20 March 1992), pp. 1, 6, 11. The Chamber therefore finds that in addition to arms provided during the mobilisation process, arms from JNA sources were also provided to Serbs outside the JNA, TO, and police mobilisation processes.

their legal obligations towards the Law of Defence and the JNA competences over the factories and live force, i.e. reservists!)

2071. At the end of September and beginning of October, Croats in western BiH began to organise militarily, which contributed to incipient instability in Hadžići.⁷⁰¹⁸ During the course of 1991, troops from the JNA engineering unit stationed at the TRZ began to return from Knin and Slavonia and spoke of having seen JNA units fighting in Croatia wearing Chetnik insignia. Thereafter, Muslims began to avoid JNA conscription and training.⁷⁰¹⁹ (#Before VRS# This is a lie, there is a sufficient evidence that this absentism started much earlier, and much earlier Mr. Izetbegovic admitted that they “may be violating some laws, but everything is so fluid, there are laws and laws.” The “cetnik insignias” were impossible to be seen on the JNA soldiers, except for the Nemanjic emblem somewhere on pocket. This is a make up, an alibi for not responding to the obligation. But the main question was not under what insignias the JNA soldiers fought, the main question is why they had to fight in their own country?).

2072. In the interim, Bosnian Muslims had obtained arms. (#Time shifting#! It wasn't “in the interim” because the decision to form the Patriotic league was made 31 March 1991 and the PL existed as of 30 April 1991. on June 10 the Muslims formed the famous Council for the protection of the Muslim security, led by Mr. Izetbegovic. Until September 1991 the PL had its headquarters in 98 municipalities and the same number of the armed units, and 9 regional headquarters, See: D00298, p.2

After that I set about realising the plan that had been accepted and organising the Main Staff of the Patriotic League of the Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina, nine regional military staffs, 98 municipal military staffs of the PL /Patriotic League/ and a large number of manoeuvre, area and logistic units.

As far as it is concerned with Sarajevo, in the same document Halilovic said:

Immediately after involving myself in preparations for the defence of R BH /Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina/, in September 1991, together with the late Safet HADŽIĆ, who was appointed president of the crisis staff of the Sarajevo region, and with the help of Mirsad ČAUŠEVIĆ, now in the MIP /Ministry of the Interior/ and Senad MAŠOVIĆ, now at the command of the Third Corps, I drew up a proposal for organising the Patriotic League for the Sarajevo area, organised the regional staff of the Patriotic League and a plan for the defence of the Sarajevo area.

The JNA certainly knew all of that (see: @ A. Vasiljevic) and behaved in accordance to this knowledge. On 15 October 1991, pursuant to an order of the SRBiH Presidency,⁷⁰²⁰ the Hadžići MUP mobilised 480 members of the reserve police force;⁷⁰²¹ (This was the common Presidency under the Muslim domination, and “this enabled” the armament of the Muslim police reservists!, see fn. 7032!) this enabled members of the reserve police to obtain arms.⁷⁰²²

Meanwhile, the SDA was distributing weapons in municipalities within the city of Sarajevo, including Hadžići.⁷⁰²³ Some wealthier Bosnian Muslims bought weapons for themselves.⁷⁰²⁴

⁷⁰²² The number of reserve police forces was reduced pursuant to a SRBiH MUP order of 21 December 1991 before being re-mobilised in January 1992. D2491 (Report of Tarčin police station, 6 August 1992), p. 3. Bosnian Muslims began to obtain arms through this mobilisation of the reserve police force, which was primarily made up of Bosnian Muslims. ⁷⁰²³ Tihomir Glavaš, T. 11812 (14 February 2011). The police were also aware that SDA leader Hasan Čengić had sent Bosnian Muslim policemen to Croatia to receive training and that he had obtained weapons by forging MUP IDs. Tihomir Glavaš, T. 11814 (14 February 2011). See also D2915 (Witness statement of Vidimir Banduka dated 9 February 2013), para. 30. In February 1992, Serb policemen attempted to stop a vehicle carrying weapons from entering Hadžići municipality but were prevented by Bosnian Muslim police. Tihomir Glavaš, T. 11815 (14 February 2011). The vehicle escaped in the direction of Mokrin, a predominantly Muslim village in the northern part of the municipality. Tihomir Glavaš, T. 11815 (14 February 2011); D1087 (Map of Hadžići municipality marked by Tihomir Glavaš) (showing Mokrin as being located northwest of the town of Hadžići, near the border with the Kiseljak municipality).

2073. By the beginning of February 1992, residents of the Hadžići municipality had begun to organise nightly patrols and guards in the local areas where each ethnic group was prominent.⁷⁰²⁵ Around the same time, Bosnian Serbs began to leave the regular and reserve police units,⁷⁰²⁶ and the JNA began distributing firearms to the Serb population at night.⁷⁰²⁷ (The JNA still was the only #legal armed formation#, and they relied only on the Serbs, and formed the reserve battalions.)

2074. In late March 1992, the police warehouse in Rakovica, which was full of weapons, was broken into during a time when Bosnian Muslim officers were on duty.⁷⁰²⁸ Machine-guns, police gear, and some transportation devices all went missing.⁷⁰²⁹ By the end of the month, Bosnian Muslim formations in Hadžići were “well-organised and armed”.⁷⁰³⁰ (And that happened in March 92, while the sides negotiated “bona fide” the arrangement which would avoid the war! The Muslim side didn’t negotiate in a good fate, and the Agreement reached on 18 March had been denounced by the SDA on 25 of March! Meanwhile the Muslims continued to arm themselves, hoping that the Serbs would trust the fake negotiations!)

1. Division of municipal organs

2075. In the meantime, the work of municipal organs had ground to a halt; shortly after the first mobilisation of the reserve police in October 1991, the SDS delegates had stopped co-operating in the joint Hadžići Municipal Assembly and the Municipal Assembly Executive Board.⁷⁰³¹ (The foot note contains all the reasons for such a move, in particular D2917, which have depicted the whole picture of #abuses of the common institutions# by the SDA officials!) Eventually, only the Municipal Defence Council remained functional.⁷⁰³² Beginning in January 1992, at meetings of the Municipal Defence Council, Ratko Radić called for the establishment of a Serb assembly in Hadžići, an idea which had already been discussed by the Bosnian Serb Assembly in December 1991,⁷⁰³³ and which was later reiterated by other SDS delegates at successive meetings of the Hadžići Municipal Defence Council.⁷⁰³⁴ (#Two municipalities – peace#! Now, on this example it could be seen why the Serbs throughout the BiH wanted to have their own municipal administrations. The Muslim extremists in the SDA abused all and every common state organ for their own purpose – to kill and expel the Serbs from the entire Bosnia. Had the Serbs participated in such a common bodies, it would be a participation in a future

See also D2917 (Statement of Hadžići SDS Municipal Board, 10 October 1991). crimes against their own people. On the other hand, since the Muslims and Croats would have the same as the Serbs wanted for themselves, they could abuse only their state organs, not the Serb's and common bodies!

2076. On 11 April 1992, citing the “extremely difficult political and security situation”,⁷⁰³⁹ the SDS held a Serb Assembly session at the Hadžići Culture and Sport Centre,⁷⁰⁴⁰ (It had never been the SDS, because the Assembly had many Serbs in other parties, mainly leftist, but when it was to form the Serb municipal, as well as the central Assembly, all of the Serbs, regardless of the party belonging, crossed to the Serb Assembly! It is not correct to interpret these events as a party endeavour, since it was an endeavour of the Serb community as a whole!) where the Serb Municipality of Hadžići was proclaimed.⁷⁰⁴¹ At the same session, Nevenko Samouković was “given a mandate to form the municipal government”.⁷⁰⁴² The SDS selected Drago Milošević as President of the Serb Municipality of Hadžići as well as President of the Hadžići Assembly of the Serbian People,⁷⁰⁴³ but he was soon replaced by Ratko Radić,⁷⁰⁴⁴ who remained President of the Municipality until the end of the war.⁷⁰⁴⁵

2077. The SDS also decided to create a Serb SJB and appointed Tihomir Glavaš as Chief and Branislav Mijatović as Commander.⁷⁰⁴⁶ (This is why it shouldn't be associated with the SDS, since Glavas for sure was not in any contact with thje SDS, and maybe Mijatovic too. uniforms as the previous joint police, but replaced the star badge on their caps with a tricolour Serb badge.⁷⁰⁴⁷ (The Serb tricolour badge was without any ideological determination, since the President was against any ideological rift among the people, as it was during the WWII. Also, the Muslims and Croats didn't like the cocardes, and as could be seen from the pre-war intercepts, the President said to his interlocutors in Herzegovina that regardless of the respect for the royal army, the Serb neighbours of the Muslim religion didn't like to see "Chetniks" marching through the settled places. Therefore, all the #cocardes and all the insignias# except the Serb tricolour meant the paramilitaries, not the regular Serb forces! And the President disowned all the paramilitaries as early as on 13 June 1992!) Initially stationed at the Culture and Sport Centre where the proclamation session was held,⁷⁰⁴⁸ the Serb police later relocated to the ground floor of the Hadžići Municipal Assembly Building.⁷⁰⁴⁹ (That happened after the Muslim extremists shelled the police station and other places of the police seats, on 10 May 1992!) The SDS further called on Serbs of military age to register in the Serb TO, which was to be commanded by Mile Bratić,⁷⁰⁵⁰ or in the reserve police formation.⁷⁰⁵¹ (This is also a #distorted interpretation#: it was not a party obligation, it was a #legal obligation due to the law of Defence#, and all the state organs were separated from the party organs. Of course, the majority in the Serb assemblies was the SDS, but later it was not, and it was never a mono-party situation!)

2081. From about 10 April, the co-operation between the SDS and the JNA commanders at the barracks located throughout Hadžići became more overt,⁷⁰⁶² (Why this co-operation should be covered, since it was a legal obligation of all the citizens? The Muslims were obliged to co-operate too, but they #violated the federal laws#!) and reserve units from Serbia and Montenegro began to arrive in the municipality to be deployed at the TRZ.⁷⁰⁶³ Military preparations also began in the Serb-majority villages of Bare and Miševići.⁷⁰⁶⁴

2083. Between the morning of 16 April and the afternoon of 17 April, approximately 2,200 people reported to the SRBiH TO in Hadžići, which had been mobilised during the preceding days after fighting broke out in Zvornik and Bijeljina.⁷⁰⁶⁹ Most of those who reported were non-

ii. Take-over

1. Hadžići town

2085. Meanwhile, the SDS had issued an order demanding that the Muslim members of the police, TO Headquarters, and other municipal authorities leave Hadžići by 6 p.m. on 8 May.⁷⁰⁷⁹ The SDS provided residents with a map and indicated that they should leave in the direction of Pazarić.⁷⁰⁸⁰ That night, between roughly 2,000 and 3,000 Muslim and Croat men, women, and children withdrew from Hadžići town, leaving only 200 or 300 behind.⁷⁰⁸¹ (#Wrong presentation#: nobody forced those who left for Pazarić to leave, and nobody forces those who stayed to stay. Those who felt secure among the Serb majority, they stayed, and vice versa!) By 9 May, the Serbs had taken control of parts of the municipality of Hadžići and had encircled the TRZ.⁷⁰⁸² (As accepted by the Chamber, the Serbs controlled only about 20% of the municipal territory, and only those parts #with the Serb majority#, see: paragraph 2079 of this Judgement! Overview of the Daily Events

- Early this morning, around 0115 hrs, the JNA /Yugoslav People's Army/ barracks in Mioča in the territory of the Serb Municipality Ilijaš have been attacked by the members of the so called TO /Territorial Defense/ of the former BH and other Muslim paramilitary formations. After some 30 minutes of raphal and individual fire exchange, and several smaller detonations which are doing of the Muslim extremists from the direction of Hadžići, below Vlaskovo, the fighting ceased. There were casualties on both sides; on the Serb side there was one killed and one severely wounded soldier, while the enemy side suffered significantly bigger losses, it is assumed that there are more than 20 wounded and killed.
- The attacks to the Serb territories by the members of the members of the so called TO of the former BH are not ceasing on other directions. In that manner, early this morning, around 0115 hrs, the Serb SJB Hadžići has been attacked by the
- According to the latest information, in the area of Rakovica, all Muslims fit for combat escaped to the territory of the Kiseljak Municipality, only children and elderly remained in those villages. Nevertheless, the relationship between the Serb and Croat authorities on the border areas of the municipalities Iliđa and Kiseljak are, for the time being, satisfactory. Muslim population who remained on that area addressed the Serb authorities requesting them for help obtaining victuals, especially flour, to which the Serb side obliged positively and started collecting aid. Muslim extremists, besides the good will of the Serb authorities, again started cowardly attacks of the positions of the Serb TO members thus destroying every possibility to provide their own population with the necessary victuals.

: That is what was said about the “daily events” in Hadzici on 8 and 9 May 92. This document was at disposal in the e-court, but was not tendered, because nobody suspected that it was contested that the Muslim extremists initiated the war in Hadzici! Even the Serb good will to help their own population was abused to inflict the loses to the Serb neighbours!

2086. Over the following few days, Serb reservists began setting up check-points around Hadžići town, thereby restricting residents' movements.⁷⁰⁸³ (The #war in Hadzici was postponed# the whole four weeks after it broke out in a nearby Sarajevo. But, after the Muslim shelling of the Serb parts of town, there must have been a control of the movement, #for the security reasons#, otherwise the Serb community would sustain a tragic loses! As confirmed by this Judgement, as of 7 May the Muslim side used artillery against the Serb municipality of Hadzici, particularly sever on 10 May, see: para 2096 of the Judgement!) Serb women and children were put on buses headed toward Montenegro,⁷⁰⁸⁴ and the Serb Forces began to arrest, expel, or kill people who remained in the municipality.⁷⁰⁸⁵ (Rule 92bis! Not charged, but why it is here?) The Serb police went around to homes, instructing people to stay inside.⁷⁰⁸⁶ Police officers were placed in front of buildings in Hadžići, thus preventing any movement by the residents.⁷⁰⁸⁷ Many houses were searched.⁷⁰⁸⁸ (All of it on the basis of Rule 92bis! But, let us see whether there was a security necessities for that, see D1073, p.1, of 12 May 92. Nota bene the pace of the Muslim agressivness and hostilities against the Serbs: since 7 May and the shellings, till 11 May there was an intensive military development:

According to reliable information provided by the Ministry of the Interior of Srpska Republika BiH, members of the so-called TO of the former BiH and Muslim-Croat paramilitary formations are systematically preparing acts of sabotage on buildings of vital importance in the entire territory of the city of Sarajevo. Thus, in the past few days they have mined the bridge on Vrbanja, the "Brotherhood and Unity" bridge (on which there is momentarily a number of gas bottles and one transport vehicle, most probably full of explosive, facing the secondary commercial school) and the bridge at "Elektroprivreda" near the building of the Bureau of Social Security. A large grouping of these formations was observed in the same area, along the Vilsonovo alley, while in the Hrasno area "Green Berets" have gathered a large number of cars.

Since Hadzici was a Sarajevo city municipality, this pertained to Hadzici too. This is the most flagrant immergency situation with the #necessary cautious measures# and searches. See the same D1073 about Hadzici:

Heavy exchange of fire between Serb defence forces and members of the so-called TO of the former BiH has been going on for the two past days in the Hadžići area. Despite unequal balance of forces, with Serbs being less in number, attacks of Muslim paramilitary formations have been resisted successfully. The situation in Hadžići is still very difficult. At the moment, the area of Krnačka rijeka, Tinovo brdo and JNA facilities in Žunovica are besieged. However, Serb forces control this area and have the situation under control for the time being.

So, the Serb side proposed and implemented the #“two municipalities” policy#, while the Muslim side shelled the Serb parts of the municipality, and besieged many facilities, decisive to win over the Serb side, as mentioned in the next paragraph! But, the biase of these processes are visible from every line. The Judgement is pointing out to the searches by the “Serb Forces” but didn’t mention a flagrant example of the #Muslim mean orders# pertaining to the Serb peasants, see D2493:

Number: 17-8/01-29-17s/1/92

BRING IN all men of Serbian ethnicity.

Issue an order prohibiting all individuals of Serbian ethnicity from moving outside their houses.

Issue an order prohibiting all gatherings, get-togethers, field work and any other activity outside family houses.

Issue an order introducing night-time blackouts and the need and obligation to shut all windows on houses and facilities.

Carry out renewed searches of Serbian houses and facilities, paying special attention to /discovering/ radio and wireless sets, and detecting individuals who are collaborating with enemy forces in any way.

The Third Reich would be envious for such a condensed order that pertained to “all individuals of Serbian ethnicity”! If it is not condemned by this court, this would mean that it was not a crime!

2087. Between 10 and 12 May 1992, Serb Forces and the Bosnian Muslim TO engaged in a “heavy exchange of fire” in Hadžići.⁷⁰⁸⁹ By 12 May, Serb Forces in the Krupačka Rijeka area, near Tinovo Hill, and the JNA complex at Žunovnica were all surrounded by Bosnian Muslim forces; however, the Serb Forces maintained control over the situation and the area.⁷⁰⁹⁰ Fighting in and around Hadžići town continued throughout May and into June 1992.⁷⁰⁹¹

2. Attacks against surrounding villages

2088. Meanwhile, villages surrounding Hadžići had also come under attack. On 7 or 8 May 1992, using weapons stationed in front of the Culture and Sport Centre, Serb Forces opened fire on the village of Kovačevići.⁷⁰⁹² (And who shelled the Sport Centre since 7 May? From where all these shellings of the Serb municipality of Hadzici could have come, unless from the villages in the vicinity of the Hadzici town? What rule have #forbidden the Serb side to respond?# For that reason it must be said that the trials in this kind of the “ad hoc” courts are missing all points and create a confusion – if not bringing about “the whole truth”, particularly pertaining to a context and knowledge of the domestic laws.) this kind of presentation may be valid in a writing history of this conflict, but not in a criminal cases!) On 8 May 1992, some Kovačevići residents were killed by a Serbian paramilitary group.⁷⁰⁹³ (If “not charged”, why it is in the Judgement? To #denigrate the Serb side additionally?# Except this witness’s testimony, there was no other evidence on that allegation!) During the following two days, a peace commission was set up to calm the situation.⁷⁰⁹⁴ The Serb Forces took control of Kovačevići on 11 May 1992.⁷⁰⁹⁵

approached Musići from Tinovo Hill.⁷⁰⁹⁸ Realising that they would not be able to “offer resistance to the Chetniks”, the residents of Musići organised buses and had already begun taking the women and children out of Musići between 7 and 9 May.⁷⁰⁹⁹ (#Not expelled#! Right, they started shelling the Serb municipality on 7 May, and simultaneously removed their women and children away, while the Serbs appeared to the Muslici settlement only after the shellings!)

2090. Around 15 May, Serb Forces shelled houses and other buildings in Musići from positions located in Ušivak.⁷¹⁰⁰ After about two days, two Bosnian Serbs came to Musići and called on the residents to surrender.⁷¹⁰¹ They refused, so the shelling resumed that evening and continued for three days.⁷¹⁰² (Therefore, the Musici settlement was not a civilian settlement, but a militarised zone, which could afford itself not to surrender weapons!#Abuse of civil settlement#!)

⁷¹⁰⁵ P2296 (Witness statement of Tihomir Glavaš dated 13 February 2011), paras. 37, 68. ⁷¹⁰⁶ P2296 (Witness statement of Tihomir Glavaš dated 13 February 2011), para. 68. P2296 (Witness statement of Tihomir Glavaš dated 13 February 2011), paras. 37, 40–41, 43. ⁷¹¹⁰ P2403 (Witness statement of Mehmed Musić dated 28 February 2011), para. 41. According to Tihomir Glavaš, the men were arrested because long-barrelled weapons were found on them. P2296 (Witness statement of Tihomir Glavaš dated 13 February 2011), para. 45.

classroom on the first floor, the guards threatened to kill them and began to curse at them, stating, “there would be no balija state soon”.⁷¹¹² (A derogatory name of “balija state” means the #Islamic regime# as promised in the Izetbegovic’s Islamic Declaration! Not nice, but since the Serbs had a ground to believe that all their sufferings had to thank to the Islamic Declaration, could be understood!) The guards spat on the detainees and told them that they were finished.⁷¹¹³ After approximately 30 minutes, the detainees were taken out of the school and marched to the garage of the Municipal Assembly building, which was located approximately 150 metres away.⁷¹¹⁴ (As it was evident, the garages were the only prison in the Serb part of Hadzići, while the Sport Centre was a refugee’s reception center!)

(D) Detention facilities in Hadzići

2094. In the meantime, the Hadzići Crisis Staff had decided to arrest and detain all Bosnian Muslim men of military age from areas in the municipality such as Binježevo, Žunovnica, and Kućice.⁷¹¹⁵ According to Tihomir Glavaš, this decision was taken because the Serbs had information that Muslims were arresting military-aged Serbs and were preparing to attack;⁷¹¹⁶ the Serbs also claimed to be arresting Bosnian Muslims for possession of illegal weapons.⁷¹¹⁷ The arrests were carried out by the Serb police and the Serb TO.⁷¹¹⁸ (How possibly this may have any connection with the central authorities? According to our legislation, (#All-Peoples Law of Defense#!) every settled place was entitled to organize it’s own defence, and all locals did it according to their sense and feeling of security, as well as the intelligence information. That is why the D2493 shouldn in no way be neglected, because what is here adjudicated as a Serb crime – as a matter of fact it was a Muslim crime, see again D2493,

⁷¹¹⁷ P2296 (Witness statement of Tihomir Glavaš dated 13 February 2011), para. 45; Tihomir Glavaš, T. 11784 (14 February 2011). See also D3063 (Witness statement of Mladen Tolj dated 25 February 2013), para. 14 (suggesting that the records of detention reflected bona fide reasons for taking each person into custody). According to Tolj, the prevailing security conditions in Hadzići precluded compliance with the requirement that civilians be brought before an investigative judge within three days of their detention. Mladen Tolj, T. 34647 (1 March 2013). See also para. 305, fn. 935; D2915 (Witness statement of Vidomir Banduka dated 9 February 2013), para. 58 (stating that the Law on Criminal Procedure prevented anyone from being held for more than a month). According to Banduka, if there was a need to hold someone for a period that exceeded the three days prescribed by law, they were transferred to Kula prison. D2915 (Witness statement of Vidomir Banduka dated 9 February 2013), para. 58; Vidomir Banduka, T. 33520 (12 February 2013). Banduka also noted that the transport to Kula Prison would have required permission to transit through the airport, which was held at the time by international forces and thus would have required their consent. Vidomir Banduka, T. 33520–33521 (12 February 2013).

⁷¹¹⁸ Tihomir Glavaš, T. 11784 (14 February 2011); P2296 (Witness statement of Tihomir Glavaš dated 13 February 2011), para. 47 (stating that he as Chief of the Serb police was aware that the Serb TO and the Serb police were taking people out of their homes). Defence witnesses Nevenko Samouković and Vidomir Banduka suggested that Bosnian Muslims had gone voluntarily to the collection centres but when presented with the testimonies of Mehmed Musić, Adem Balić, and Tihomir Glavaš, all of whom acknowledged that the Serb police and Serb TO had taken people from their houses, Banduka admitted that he was not in a position to answer whether they were taken voluntarily or not, while Samouković speculated that the police “probably had some operative intelligence” or that the arrests had been the result of incompetence or abuses of power. Nevenko Samouković, T. 34613–34614 (1 March 2013); Vidomir Banduka, T. 33512–33513 (12 February 2013). The Chamber thus considers the evidence of Samouković and Banduka to be speculative and shall not rely upon it relation to whether Bosnian Muslims were taken “voluntarily” to detention centres.

- Motorised and foot patrols are to go to all Serbian villages and Serbian houses and issue the following order:

BRING IN all men of Serbian ethnicity.

Issue an order prohibiting all individuals of Serbian ethnicity from moving outside their houses.

Issue an order prohibiting all gatherings, get-togethers, field work and any other activity outside family houses.

Issue an order introducing night-time blackouts and the need and obligation to shut all windows on houses and facilities.

Carry out renewed searches of Serbian houses and facilities, paying special attention to /discovering/ radio and wireless sets, and detecting individuals who are collaborating with enemy forces in any way.

This is exactly what happen in a civil wars, particularly this one. And nobody could judge whether the locals exaggerated in estimating a possible danger, or not. There are the two armed communities, antagonized throughout centuries, suspecting each other, and what the President has to do with it, particularly since he fought against the war? And if the Muslim extremists shelled the Serb municipality of Hadzici from the surrounding Muslim villages, the only reasonable defence was to neutralise those who shelled!)

1. Scheduled Detention Facility C.11.1

2096. After the Hadžići SJB building was shelled around 10 May,⁷¹¹⁹ the Serb police moved into the Hadžići Municipal Assembly Building.⁷¹²⁰ (This is an insufficient and invalid finding, which contributes to the general confusion on the Serb account! Any ambiguity as this one is understood that it was the Serb responsibility. Why it was not relevant to specify WHO SHELLED THE SJB? And this incident was the crucial for the beginning of the civil war in Hadzici. Since it is clear that the Serbs didn't shell themselves, an inevitable conclusion is – the #Muslims shelled the Serb police station#, and thus started the civil war!) From 12 May until 1 June, Bosnian Muslims were arrested and held in the garage under the building “for interrogation”.⁷¹²¹ (#Nothing before the Muslim attack happened#! Why none of them hadn't been arrested before 10 May and the shelling of the police station? Was this shelling in any way associated with these arrests? The garages replaced a regular detention unit that exist in any SJB for a short detention and first interrogation (at that time the police detention could last 72 hours) and it was clarified that the Garages were for those who were suspected for crimes, and the outcome from the Garages were either to proceed to Kula prison for a processing, or at the Sport Center, which was a reception center, at least for a part of the inmates.)

2097. When the 14 men from Musići arrived on 20 May, one Croat and one Muslim prisoner were already inside the garage.⁷¹²² Mehmed Musić spent six days in the garage with about 47 other men.⁷¹²³ The detainees were only fed one slice of bread once or twice a day, as well as some watery soup, and were given only one or two bottles of water for the entire group.⁷¹²⁴

Pursuant to your memo number 01-127/92 of 25 July 1992, in connection with memo of the Ministry of the Interior of the Serbian Republic of BiH /Bosnia and Herzegovina/, strictly confidential number 10-14/92 of 19 July 1992, with the aim of solving the observed problem of jurisdiction, as well as other unsolved issues between the MUP /Ministry of the Interior/ and the Army of the Serbian Republic, we hereby submit to you the following information:

a) After the setting up of the Serbian Police Station Hadžići, that is, in the phase of its setting up, and in the following 40 days, we noticed the activities of certain small groups of so-called “free agents”, but there were no significant paramilitary units. In the period of organisation, setting up and initial activities of this Police Station, among other things, we proceeded with utmost dedication to carry out the tasks and duties, particularly providing personal and material protection and security of citizens, securing public law and order, and to some extent, crime prevention and detection of perpetrators. In that period (setting up of the SM /police station/) there was partial cooperation with the then police station, which had employees of Muslim nationality. This cooperation was very difficult, because the number of RSM /Reserve Police Force/ members in that station grew every day, and some individuals and groups of their members had already engaged in maltreatment, insults, unlawful arrests and detention, and so on, of citizens of Serbian nationality, as well as disdainful attitude, including even pointing weapons at employees of the Serbian police station, which was for the most part solved in the best possible manner at the time when this was still possible.

Since no mobilisation for the Serbian army was taking place at that time, this Police Station carried out mobilisation and provided uniforms for citizens of Serbian nationality. In that framework and with such activities, the number of groups and individuals forming paramilitary formations was reduced.

We can say that at this moment, we have no paramilitary formations in the area of the municipality, but there are indications of insertion of small groups, as well as sabotage and terrorist groups.

As mentioned above, small groups and individuals, so-called “free agents”, committed the crime of theft from other persons, mainly movable property and assets, thus achieving unlawful material gain for themselves or others. A certain small number of military conscripts and members of this Police Station did not stay immune to such activities.

It should be noted here that in an organised action, the greatest part of the illegally acquired property (mainly vehicles) was seized from police officers and placed at certain locations, and that measures are being taken to seize vehicles and other illegally acquired property from other citizens.

⁷¹²⁴ P2403 (Witness statement of Mehmed Musić dated 28 February 2011), para. 48; Mehmed Musić, T. 12838 (3 March 2011). Mladen Tolj testified that “until 1994 there was no water in Hadžići”. Mladen Tolj, T. 34652 (1 March 2013); D3064 (Report of Hadžići Secretariat for Housing, Public Utilities, Transport and Communications, 1 December 1992), p. 3 (stating that after the outbreak of the war, the Serb municipality of Hadžići was affected by a water supply outage, forcing the use of an improvised pipeline to reroute the well located at the TRZ, which enabled the water supply to the immediate centre of Hadžići to be re-established; however, other parts were supplied via water from cisterns); D2915 (Witness statement of Vidimir Banduka dated 9 February 2013), para. 64 (stating that because the water supplies were in territory held by Bosnian Muslims, the water supply was cut at the beginning of the war).

⁷¹²⁶ P2403 (Witness statement of Mehmed Musić dated 28 February 2011), para. 49; Mehmed Musić, T. 12834 (3 March 2011); P2405 (Map of Hadžići marked by Mehmed Musić) (showing Žunovnica at Point 3).

This is the #Serb official attitude# towards the problems that occurred when the war broke out. Nota bene: the police had to fight #against the Serb criminals and tiefs#, as well as against the Muslim extremists. See further, D1074:

d) As regards the procedure and jurisdiction in connection with the treatment and guarding of prisoners, it can be said that we had a large number of detained persons, who, once they were interviewed and after other relevant information had been gathered, were taken to state prison in Kula, or released. A small number of people brought in (currently 11 persons) are in the prison in Hadžići, and they are treated properly and in accordance with the law.

That was all what the President could have known about events in Hadzici, because this was a strictly confidential official report from a highly professional chief of the police station in Hadzici, who had no any connection with the SDS. From this report the President, as well as the superiors in the Serb MUP, could only conclude that the police in Hadzici was doing their best! #What President knew#)

2099. On 25 May 1992, all but three of the men from Musići were moved to the Culture and Sport Centre.⁷¹²⁷ The other detainees remained behind in the Municipal Assembly Building garage until 22 June,⁷¹²⁸ when they were transferred to the “Slaviša Čiča” Barracks in Lukavica.⁷¹²⁹ Those are the two outcomes from the garage. It #wasn’t arbitrary#, it was a result of an interrogation. Only three men were transferred to Lukavica, obviously found a reasonably suspected on crimes. Let us see what the chief of the CSB Sarajevo wrote to his subordinates, D3795:

“The Presidency of the Serbian Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina has adopted a decision that the Ministry of the Interior and the Ministry of Justice shall prepare a report on the Serbian authorities’ treatment of and conduct towards prisoners of war and the living conditions of prisoners in prisons in applicable municipalities.

This is what the #President ordered# to the Serb Ministry for Interior, promptly conveyed to See also D3063 (Witness statement of Mladen Tolj dated 25 February 2013), para. 13; Mladen Tolj, T. 34635–34636 (1 March 2013) (stating that people on whom no weapons were found were taken to the Culture and Sport Centre). See para. 2102.

⁷¹²⁸ Tihomir Glavaš estimated that by mid-June, approximately 30 Bosnian Muslims were being held in the garage of the Municipal Assembly Building. Tihomir Glavaš, T. 11793 (14 February 2011) (referring to the number of people being held when he prevented the White Eagles from entering the garage). See also fn. 7158.

⁷¹²⁹ P2403 (Witness statement of Mehmed Musić dated 28 February 2011), para. 65. See also Scheduled Detention Facility C.18.1. The detainees from the garage smelled badly and told Musić that they had spent 33 days in the garage without being able to bathe. P2403 (Witness statement of Mehmed Musić dated 28 February 2011), para. 66; Mehmed Musić, T. 12838 (3 March 2011). See also P161 (Adem Balić’s statement to BiH authorities dated 7 February 1993), p. 1. Around 25 June 1992, a woman and her sister were moved to the garage of the Municipal Assembly Building from the Hadžići civil defence headquarters. Adjudicated Fact 2613. The Chamber further notes that in early June, Arkan’s men also removed a man from the Culture and Sport Centre and took him to the garage of the Municipal Assembly Building, where he was detained for 40 days. P161 (Adem Balić’s statement to BiH authorities dated 7 February 1993), p. 1. The Chamber therefore concludes that people continued to be detained in the garage even after the group of men was transferred to the “Slaviša Čiča” Barracks in Lukavica on 22 June 1992.

the terrain. See further:

“All public security stations shall be required to act in accordance with the conclusions of the Presidency.

“All senior CSB officers are ordered to release civilian-category persons immediately, which implicitly entails all persons, irrespective of age, who have not been members of enemy formations, i.e. to allow them free movement.

“We particularly wish to stress that the Ministry of the Interior alone is the competent body for taking measures against civilians.”

After admitting this evidence obtained by the Prosecution, neither the Prosecution nor the Chamber should meditate the #President’s liability for the Hadzici development# of events. This pertains to all the terrain, particularly to those the most remote from the central authorities! See further:

In order to ensure strict adherence to the requirements of the conclusions of the Presidency of the Serbian Republic of BH, you are required to send to this Centre, by 20 August 1992 at the latest, a report on the Serbian authorities’ treatment of prisoners of war and the living conditions of prisoners in prisons in your municipality.

In municipalities where there are no such prisons, you are required to send a memo to confirm this.

In municipalities where there are prisons in which civilians are being held, regardless of their age, if they have not been members of enemy formations they should be released immediately, i.e. allowed free movement.

This Centre should also be informed on fulfilment of this Presidency Conclusion, by 20 August 1992 at the latest.

In those municipalities where there have been no such cases, this should be confirmed by a memo.

Having in mind the “entirety of evidence” the Indictment, let alone the Judgement, looks like an #insult of the President and the entire Serb people#!) .

2100. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that between 20 May and at least late June 1992, approximately 50 Bosnian Muslims, some of whom were civilians and two of whom were women, were detained in the garage under the Hadžici Municipal Assembly Building by members of Serb Forces and that while held there, the detainees were given inadequate food and water and on one occasion were forced to work. A #reasonable inference# for the detention is that they had been suspected for crimes, which is obvious from the outcome, all but three released, i.e. transferred to the Sport Centre. Another reasonable inference for the food is that there was no sufficient food for anybody, since the municipality was very distant and surrounded by the hostile territories from three sides. For the forced labour it should be checked whether they had been asked, or ordered. That the food was a big problem confirmed the statement of Samoukovic, D03062, para. 21 rule of law. I know that Dr KARADŽIĆ especially underlined that we in the municipal authorities had to look after every single citizen, regardless of their nationality or party affiliation. He also emphasized that we had to ensure that the population and the Army are supplied with food staples and that we had to organize the production of food and other goods.

1. Scheduled Detention Facility C.11.2

2102. The Indictment refers to the use of the Hadžići Culture and Sport Centre as a detention facility from at least 25 May until September 1992.

a. Establishment and control of detention facility

2103. Sometime prior to 25 May 1992,⁷¹³⁰ the Crisis Staff decided to detain military-aged Bosnian Muslims in the Culture and Sport Centre and to place the facility under military control.⁷¹³¹ As mentioned above,⁷¹³² on 25 May 1992, 12 men from Musići were moved from the garage of the Municipal Assembly Building to the Culture and Sport Centre.⁷¹³³ (Out of 14 men from Musići, #twelve# of them had been moved to the Culture and Sport Centre, i.e. found #not guilty#!) By that time, about 60 men—as well as a woman⁷¹³⁴—were already being detained in two locker rooms of the Culture and Sport Centre.⁷¹³⁵ The facility was first guarded by members of the Serb TO;⁷¹³⁶ although the Serb police began to provide security along with members of the military after approximately August 1992.⁷¹³⁷

a. Conditions of detention and treatment of detainees

⁷¹³⁰ The Chamber notes that Vidomir Banduka testified that the Crisis Staff only decided that the Culture and Sport Centre would be used as a “holding centre to accommodate people” after approximately 16 June 1992. D2915 (Witness statement of Vidomir Banduka dated 9 February 2013), paras. 53–54. However, Banduka conceded that he never visited the Culture and Sport Centre. Vidomir Banduka, T. 33510 (12 February 2013). The Chamber therefore considers that, even if taken as true, Banduka’s testimony does not preclude the possibility that the decision to use the Culture and Sport Centre to accommodate Bosnian Muslims was taken earlier than 16 June 1992, and recalls that Adem Balić testified that Serb Forces had taken him from his home in Hadžići to the Culture and Sport Centre already on 16 May 1992. P134 (Witness statement of Adem Balić dated 25 June 1997), p. 4; P161 (Adem Balić’s statement to BiH authorities, 7 February 1993), p. 1. The Chamber is therefore satisfied that the detention facility at the Culture and Sport Centre was established prior to 25 May 1992.

The Chamber notes that Vidomir Banduka and Mladen Tolj both testified that Muslims had chosen to be accommodated in the Culture and Sport Centre. D2915 (Witness statement of Vidomir Banduka dated 9 February 2013), para. 56; D3063 (Witness statement of Mladen Tolj dated 25 February 2013), paras. 9, 13. When presented with his testimony in the Krajišnik case, wherein he had conceded that Bosnian Muslims had been held against their will but stated that such detention “was for their own protection”, Banduka denied that he had so testified and suggested that his testimony had been misinterpreted. Vidomir Banduka, T. 33516 (12 February 2013); P6110 (Excerpt from Vidomir Banduka’s testimony in Prosecutor v. Krajišnik), p. 3. Having reviewed his prior testimony, the Chamber is of the view that the credibility of Banduka’s testimony in this case on this point is undermined. The Chamber also observes that Tolj conceded that “very few went voluntarily”, stating that “[m]ost were brought there and kept with the best of intentions because that’s where it was the safest for them”. Mladen Tolj, T. 34636–34637 (1 March 2013). The Chamber further notes that Banduka admitted that the guards would have had to give prior approval in order for anyone to leave. Vidomir Banduka, T. 33514–33515 (12 February 2013). (So what?!? The guards had been responsible for the inmates, and if anyone got killed out of the Centre, they would be kept liable!#Proper conduct#!) The Chamber therefore finds that the people in the Culture and Sport Centre were indeed detained and not accommodated pursuant to mutual agreement. See further P2296 (Witness statement of Tihomir Glavaš dated 13 February 2011), paras. 46, 49 (stating that people were “brought in [...] for their safety” and that men were detained because the Serbs needed people for exchange) (emphasis added). (However, from the testimony of the very same Mehmed Music, it was clear that those whom “Serbs needed for exchange” had been required by the Muslim side, including Music himself, whose family was exchanged only after six failures due to the Muslim mistakes!)

Momo Vujović and, occasionally, Sretan Krajišnik (a.k.a. Kekan) were in charge of the facility. P2403 (Witness statement of Mehmed Musić dated 28 February 2011), para. 54.

2104. Since the men from Musići could not fit in the locker rooms, they were taken to the main gym area, where they slept on the floor without blankets.⁷¹³⁸ The detainees were fed one slice of bread each day and some rice or soup in the morning and afternoon.⁷¹³⁹ Only two toilets were available to the detainees.⁷¹⁴⁰

2105. While in detention in the Culture and Sport Centre, the detainees were often beaten and sexually abused by members of paramilitary units.⁷¹⁴¹ (Certainly not in control of the authorities! But, such a #general assertions# are not sufficient in such a criminal case, particularly since this President put the paramilitaries out of law, forbade them and disowned them 13 June 92! How come nothing the President had done well – don't matter at all?) On or before 25 May,⁷¹⁴² three of Arkan's men, who were dressed in black uniforms, arrived and beat and humiliated the prisoners.⁷¹⁴³ (Everybody was able to proclaim himself as "Arkan's man" or anyone's other, such as "Red Berets" and so on. Before the state institution were capable of differentiating and #arresting paramilitaries#, there were many groups which could call themselves as they wanted!) On approximately 15 June, Šešelj's men arrived at the Culture and Sport Centre.⁷¹⁴⁴ The men wore gloves with the fingertips cut off, painted their faces black, wore camouflage uniforms, and carried big knives.⁷¹⁴⁵ A woman with dyed blond hair named Ljiljia who was with Šešelj's men removed one man's pants and told another man to "suck the first man's sexual organ".⁷¹⁴⁶ She then removed her own pants and told the second man to lick her buttocks, threatening to slit the men's throats if they did not comply.⁷¹⁴⁷ (All of that, even if true, could only be an argument against civil wars, not against this President and his subordinates!)

2105. Šešelj's men singled out certain detainees and beat them severely,⁷¹⁴⁸ while forcing other detainees to fight each other.⁷¹⁴⁹ These beatings took place in the presence of the Serb TO

⁷¹⁴³ P161 (Adem Balić's statement to BiH authorities dated 7 February 1993), p. 1; P134 (Witness statement of Adem Balić dated 25 June 1997), p. 4 (stating that the guards revealed that the men were Arkan's men). See also D3063 (Witness statement of Mladen Tolj dated 25 February 2013), paras. 9–10. Arkan's men also removed a man from the Culture and Sport Centre and took him to the garage of the Municipal Assembly Building. See fn. 7136.

⁷¹⁴⁴ P161 (Adem Balić's statement to BiH authorities dated 7 February 1993), p. 1. Mehmed Musić referred to this second group as Arkan's men, stating that one of the men had identified himself and the group as such. P2403 (Witness statement of Mehmed Musić dated 28 February 2011), para. 57. However, Musić also testified that this group arrived on the second day of Bajram, which was 12 June 1992. Mehmed Musić, T. 12833, 12866 (3 March 2011). Adem Balić identified the group that arrived 15 days after Arkan's men, which would have been around 12 June, as Šešelj's men. P161 (Adem Balić's statement to BiH authorities dated 7 February 1993), p. 1. This identification is corroborated by the testimony of Tihomir Glavaš, who testified that he heard that Šešelj's men had sexually abused the detainees in the Culture and Sport Centre. P2296 (Witness statement of Tihomir Glavaš dated 13 February 2011), paras. 53–54. The Chamber therefore concludes that the paramilitaries in the second group were Šešelj's men rather than Arkan's men.

a. Transfer and exchange of detainees at the Culture and Sport Centre 2106. By 22 June, 282 people had been detained in the Hadžići Culture and Sport Centre.⁷¹⁵² On approximately 22 June 1992, "a rather large group" of men, women, and children from Kučice, a settlement located nearby, arrived at the Culture and Sport Centre.⁷¹⁵³ Soon thereafter, the guards told the detainees that they were going to be exchanged.⁷¹⁵⁴ (The civilians from Kucice "arrived" at the CSC!!! They hadn't been brought in, #they arrived with the aim to be secured and to be exchanged#! But let us see how the para 65 looks like: It doesn't look as if they had been forced to be exchanged, or to be afraid of the guards, and some had been "allowed to stay behind, and later to be returned to their village Kucici, which obviously mean that there was their will respected. It is also obvious that they were waiting for the "exchange". We will see from the same witness that the people who didn't succeed to be exchanged once or several times, wanted to be returned to the CSC because they had been closed their households.

65. We were in the Sports Hall until 9:00 p.m. on June 22. The chetnik guards told us we were going to be exchanged. We were all very glad. Some of the men started to kiss the guards, because they were so happy. They put us on four buses. Three were full. The fourth was half full. They allowed the women, children and three men to stay behind. I heard later that the women and children were taken back to Kučice.⁸⁰

This was a Prosecution's witness, the Prosecution took this statement. The Muslim people were "all very glad" for #being able to go to the Muslim territory#, so that some of them "started to kiss the guards..." does it look like a terror, or any kind of violence or enforcement? Also, some of the Muslims "were taken back to Kucice" i.e. to their own homes, which confirms that any of them could have chosen either way! Around 10 p.m. that evening, in accordance with a decision of the Crisis Staff,⁷¹⁵⁵ the male detainees in the Culture and Sport Centre were loaded onto several buses.⁷¹⁵⁶ While en route, one bus stopped first in front of the garage of the Hadžići Municipal Assembly Building,⁷¹⁵⁷ where it picked up detainees before proceeding to Kula Prison.⁷¹⁵⁸ There, "Chetniks" boarded the bus, beat the detainees with rifle butts, and extinguished cigarettes on their faces.⁷¹⁵⁹ Ultimately, the detainees were taken to the Slaviša Vajner Čiča Barracks in Lukavica.⁷¹⁶⁰ (Is there any additional evidence about this. Was it registered when they arrived at the Kula Prison? Anyway, at least the #official guards are not alleged to being involved# in the mistreatment!)

2108. Thus, around 8 p.m., the convoy returned to the Culture and Sport Centre, where the detainees were placed under the guard of TRZ employees.⁷¹⁶⁵ At 9 a.m. on 8 September, the detainees were transported back to the check-point at Kobiljača, but again, no exchange took place.⁷¹⁶⁶ (That happened several times, because, as this witness, Music, testified, only because the Muslim side wasn’t readi for the exchange!) The convoy, which now numbered eight buses filled with approximately 500 people, returned to the Culture and Sport Centre by 10:30 p.m. that evening.⁷¹⁶⁷ When the detainees arrived, they were given some food for the children, who at that point had not eaten for two days.⁷¹⁶⁸ Thereafter, the group spent approximately 12 days in the Culture and Sport Centre, receiving food every third day.⁷¹⁶⁹ On about 18 September, the Serb Forces released all the women and children “to go home”, leaving 2110. During his second detention at the Culture and Sport Centre, Mehmed Musić was interrogated twice by Rade Veselinović.⁷¹⁷⁴ Zijad Okić gave conflicting evidence regarding whether or not the prisoners were abused, first stating that the detainees were beaten and abused most by Zoran Gašević, Nemanja Jovičić, and Rade Veselinović.⁷¹⁷⁵ However, Okić later stated that the detainees were not beaten or hurt during the 12 days in the Culture and Sport Centre.⁷¹⁷⁶ The Chamber considers this evidence insufficient to establish that the detainees were beaten during this period.

2111. On 22 October 1992, RS Ministry of Justice representative Slobodan Avlijaš submitted a report to the RS Minister of Justice, Momčilo Mandić, stating that at the time, 90 Muslim “prisoners of war” were being held in the Culture and Sport Centre, which was being secured by the Hadžići SJB.⁷¹⁷⁷ The report also stated that the Hadžići SJB did not have the authority to keep people in custody for longer than three days, and therefore was acting “without any authorisation or justification in law”.⁷¹⁷⁸ On the same day, Mandić ordered the Serb Municipality of Hadžići to transfer all of its detainees to the Butmir KPD Investigations Department in Svrake.⁷¹⁷⁹ (#EXCULPATORY!!! authorities corrected omissions of the lower level. Anyway, how possibly the central organs could have been liable for everything that happened between those two ethnic communities, antagonized as everywhere in BiH through centuries. There was no a satisfactory communication with Pale, as Samoukovic confirmed, D03062, para. 20.

I have not heard or seen Radovan KARADŽIĆ issue any kind of order to anyone in the territory of Hadžići municipality. Even if we needed to get in touch with someone from the Presidency or the Government in Pale, we could not do so because the telephone lines were down most of the time.

a. Conclusion

2112. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that Bosnian Muslims, including women and children, were detained at the Hadžići Culture and Sport Centre between at least 25 May and approximately 18 September 1992. In particular, during a first period lasting from at least 25 May to approximately 22 June, Bosnian Muslims were subjected to beatings by Arkan's men, as well as to beatings and sexual abuse by Šešelj's men, who each visited the premises once during the first half of June. The Chamber finds that throughout this period, the group was detained in poor conditions that included a lack of food and water. Additionally, the Chamber finds that between 7 September and approximately 18 September, when the women and children were released, Bosnian Muslims were held under conditions which included lack of food and poor sanitation and hygiene. The Chamber finds that after the women and children were released on 18 September, the men were forced to work by digging trenches near the frontlines. (However, the Chamber erred not to even mention what was the contribution of the Muslim side to the situation in the Hadzici Municipality. As usually in this Court, the other boxing fighter is invisible, and we see only the Serbs taking some measures that look unnecessary and with an aggressive purpose. For instance, the Chamber completely missed to notice that the Serbs controlled only about 20% of the territory of municipality, i.e. only the Serb settlements, as well as that the Muslims were the first one who attacked Hadzici, see D03062, para 9:

There were ongoing meetings with representatives of other political parties. Citizens of high standing were also present at these meetings, but all these attempts did not lead to any agreements. Soon thereafter war erupted and the Muslims attacked Hadžići municipality.

16. When the first Muslim attack began on Hadžići around 10 May, I was at home being treated because I was sick and was not up to date with many events that took place at the time. Then several people from my extended family were killed or as well as the #Serb strategy was only defensive# one, since the confrontation lines never changed, see D03062, para 19

19. With regard to the war strategy of the municipality of Hadžići, I know for certain that it was of a defensive nature because the front line facing the Muslims did not move from the beginning until the end of the war. The Serbs of this municipality protected themselves and their homes and conquest was not their objective.

Also, the rest of about 80% of the municipal territory was dominated and controlled by the Muslims, (see D03062, para.18 #The Serbs controlled only Serb areas#! .

18. News arrived daily about Serbs being arrested by the Muslims in the part of Hadžići where they were the majority population. The Muslim population that was on our side left our territory out of fear or went to the collection centre, from where they sought ways to leave and join their people. They felt safer in the collection centre. It is true that a small number of Muslims remained with us until the end of the war, and they were mainly engaged for compulsory work service.

and the Serbs suffered a #horrible torture in Tarcin and Pazaric#, detained in a small private facilities, in a tunnel and the most notorious Silos (Silo) in Tarcin. The Chamber should have known that this conduct of the Muslim side made a powerful impact both on the Serbs and Muslims in the Serb Municipality of Hadžici! One fact is never contested by anyone: THE MUSLIMS IN HADŽICI MUNICIPALITY STARTED THE WAR AND CONTINUED WITH THE ATTACKS, WHILE THE #SERBS ONLY DEFENDED# THEMSELVES! All the evidence must have been analysed within this light! If not, this was not a fair trial!

i. Movement of the population from Hadžici and appropriation of property

2113. On 24 May 1992, President of the Hadžici Crisis Staff appointed a commission charged with listing all abandoned flats and other property within the territory of the Hadžici Serb Municipality,⁷¹⁸¹ the “vast majority” of which belonged to Muslims.⁷¹⁸² Radić ordered that the flats be sealed, registered, and placed at the disposal of the Serb municipality.⁷¹⁸³ This was done immediately upon Radić’s order.⁷¹⁸⁴ On 19 July 1992, the President sent a memorandum to the municipality of Hadžici requesting an inventory of all vacant housing facilities following the “voluntary departure of Muslims”, (This nuance in the President’s memorandum excluded a very possibility that the apartments of those who may have been leaving municipality unvoluntarily, or being in the detention, be used for that purpose. Remember that the apartments were either municipal, or company property, given for use to the tenants, while the “one-family houses had been a private property!) explaining that vacant homes would be used to house Serb residents of the Muslim part of Sarajevo, who would soon be leaving the city.⁷¹⁸⁵

2115. The Chamber recalls that, as described above, a group of male detainees was transferred to the Slaviša Vajner Čiča Barracks in Lukavica on approximately 22 June 1992,⁷¹⁸⁹ and that another group was transferred to Planjo's house in Svrake on 23 October 1992.⁷¹⁹⁰ Defence witnesses testified that Bosnian Muslims left these areas of Hadžići of their own volition in order to move to areas with a Bosnian Muslim majority.⁷¹⁹¹ As a result, a Bosnian Muslim commission based in Tarčin and a Bosnian Serb commission based in Hadžići were formed to visit Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Serbs held in opposing territories and to interview them about their wishes to leave or stay.⁷¹⁹² Defence witnesses also testified that "many" Bosnian Muslims remained in Hadžići until the end of the war.⁷¹⁹³ Having considered this evidence, however, the Chamber observes that these assertions do not directly contradict the evidence indicating that the groups described above were transferred out of the municipality. The Chamber therefore finds that the two groups of male detainees held at the Hadžići Culture and Sport Centre were forced to leave and transferred out of the municipality on approximately 22 June 1992 and 23 October 1992, respectively. (It looks as if the Chamber checked only those allegations of the OTP, without considering what happened and why it happened. How come some #could stay in Hadzici till the end of war#? Neither of them had been forced to stay or to leave, they followed their sense of security, particularly if they had their close relatives in the Muslim Army. The OTP said there were detained people, and the Chamber said: yes, we could agree. In the meantime the Chamber believes everything to the Muslim witnesses, as if they weren't interested in exaggerating and telling lies to denigrate the opposite side. Also, neither the OTP, nor the Chamber established what all of that have to do with the President? A centuries long conflict and animosity brake out every forty to fifty years, and what this President has to do with it? It must have been kept in mind all the time that the inherited federal legislation gave a very wide competences to the local authorities pertaining the defence If the Prosecution and the Court in it's entirety took care of the "whole truth" they wouldn't miss to oversee the D317, a "military secret, Highly confidential report from Hadzici to the Operative Command of the SRK on 29 May 1992: who establishes combat balance, and with the action planned in detail which we undertook till 19 hours on 26/05/1992, by which we accomplished retaking of all depots, as well as dominant points on the Žunovnica location.

In the first combat phase, that is till the arrival of the combat group, we had following losses:

- killed 15 soldiers,
- wounded 25 soldiers,
- missing 9 soldiers,
- killed defenders of the Kasetići village 1 and
- slaughtered members of the Serb population of the Kasetići village 8.

(A formidable #Serb loses#: killed 15 + missing 9 + 1 + 8 civilians makes 43 killed, plus 25 wounded!!! Taking into account the fact that the "Serb Forces" was not a professional army, but a people's army composed of the local people, one can imagine how this "slaughtering" of civilians could have affected the Serb combatants!)

i. Charges

2118. Under Counts 7 and 8, the Prosecution alleges deportation and inhumane acts (forcible transfer), respectively, as crimes against humanity.⁷²⁰⁵ In this regard, the Prosecution alleges that by the end of 1992, Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs had forcibly displaced Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats from areas in Ilidža in which they had been lawfully present.⁷²⁰⁶ It is alleged that from March 1992, restrictive and discriminatory measures, arbitrary arrest and detention, harassment, torture, rape and other acts of sexual violence, killing,

ii. Background

2121. After the first multi-party elections held in November 1990, in which the SDA won the highest number of seats in the municipal assembly, there was an inter-party agreement on the division of power in Ilidža.⁷²¹² (#Manipulation with the municipal borders#! And that happened only because of a “gerrymanderism” of the Yugoslav kind: Ilidza as almost entirely Serb municipality had been “enriched” by adding a predominantly Muslim neighbouring settlement of Hrasnica, which changed the ethnic proportion. In addition, the Muslim communists built up another settlement, Sokolovic Kolonija, in the middle of the Serb territory, and settled it by the Muslims from Sandzak in Serbia! In any multi-ethnic country that would cause a big commotion, but the communists did it without troubles! The real ethnic distribution still was in favour of the Serbs, since the Yugoslavs in 1991 could have been 90% Serbs, because Yugoslavia was not beloved by the others in 1991. The ethnic picture was as follows: Total: 67438, Croats: 6914, Muslims: 28973, Serbs: 25061, Yugoslavs: 5134, others: 1356. Therefore, there was 30,195 Serbs, or at least those who were against the secession!) Husein Mahmutović, of the SDA, became the President of the municipality and Radomir Kezunović, of the SDS, became the President of the Executive Board.⁷²¹³ Momčilo Čeklić of the SDS became the Secretary of the Assembly.⁷²¹⁴ Nedeljko Prstojević became the Secretary for Communal Inspections and the SDS President for Ilidža municipality.⁷²¹⁵ Of a total of 13 official posts, Bosnian Serbs and Muslims each held six and one post was held by a Bosnian Croat.⁷²¹⁶

2122. Inter-ethnic tensions were rising in Iliđza from at least May 1991; however, Kezunović and Mahmutović made efforts to work together in the joint-Assembly.⁷²¹⁷ Despite these efforts, each side created separate institutions. The SDA formed a crisis staff for the Muslim part of Iliđza in July or August 1991,⁷²¹⁸ and starting that autumn, Muslim populations in majority Muslim settlements were arming themselves and organising military formations.⁷²¹⁹

2124. On 3 January 1992, the Iliđza Serb Assembly made a proposal to the Bosnian Serb Assembly to regulate, inter alia, the status of members of TO units and military-aged men as well as to take measures for the protection of the interests of Serbs in the territory of the Iliđza municipality.⁷²²³ Starting around the beginning of March 1992, local Serbs organised themselves and held neighbourhood watches in front of their houses.⁷²²⁴ In March and April 1992, Serb Forces distributed weapons seized from MUP storage units to Bosnian Serb civilians and members of the Serb TO.⁷²²⁵ Bosnian Serbs in Iliđza were also armed with weapons from JNA warehouses.⁷²²⁶ (Because only the Serbs made the JNA manpower!)

Not exactly, but after the Conference on BiH accepted that the constituent units would have their own police. The police station in Iliđza happened to be in the Serb part of Iliđza, and it was not “dismissal, but a separation in a good atmosphere.) the Bosnian Serbs stayed in the Iliđza police station.⁷²²⁷ Edin Mlivić, then Chief of the Iliđza SJB, and Tomislav Kovač, then Iliđza police commander,⁷²²⁸ agreed that the Bosnian Serb police would function in the parts of Iliđza that had a Serb majority and the Bosnian

2130. On 22 April 1992, the Bosnian Muslim forces attacked the western and central parts of Ilidža.⁷²⁵⁰ After this attack, a confrontation line was established. Bosnian Serb and Muslim forces established positions along the roads leading from Sarajevo.⁷²⁵¹ Combat activity continued in

It was a constant task issued by orders of the first Minister Stanisić, and his successors. people and the authorities, and not those individuals who have acted against the law and who will attempt to discredit us.

The MUP leaders had been aware of the irregular conduct of some of its members, See: P02761, p. 13 P02761 p. 13

It should also be stressed that among the perpetrators there was a certain number of individuals in uniform who were mainly members of some paramilitary formations, but also army and police reservists³, while some of the criminals used the camouflage uniforms and even the insignia of the Army of Republika Srpska and the police. There were difficulties in capturing and detecting perpetrators, due among other things to inability to access the crime scene, and in certain regions /because of problems/ with identifying persons, checks, bringing in and questioning suspects if there were indications that they had committed a crime and are in the zones of war operations or live outside our Republic.

The insufficiently competent reserve policemen were relocated to the VRS, while those who violated the rules had been dismissed, (#Police purged#! se P02761, p. 18

Considerable measures were also taken with the goal of profiling police personnel. In addition to placing almost 6100 members of the police at the disposal of the Army of Republika Srpska, 210 employees were dismissed from duty, 50 were suspended and 29 criminal reports were brought against police employees.

Finally, the combat activities had a crucial impact on the security situation and ability of the MUP to maintain law and order, see: D473, p.8.

Stressing the security situation in the Sarajevo CSB area, the CSB Chief, Zoran CVIJETIĆ pointed out that in areas of combat activities, like Hadžići, Ilidža, Ilijaš, Vogošća, Novo Sarajevo, the situation is different as it is complex and difficult. The situation is somewhat better in areas where there are no serious combat activities, like Pale, Sokolac, Han Pijesak, Vlasenica, Šekovići and the like. He is of the opinion that the serious problems began when the Sarajevo Airport was ceded to UNPROFOR, which is suspected of using the airport to supply enemy formations with, among other things, arms and ammunition.

The report mentioned the municipalities like Hadzici, Ilidza, Ilijas, Vogosca, Novo Sarajevo as the most problematic just because of the combat activities The same was with the VRS and the Assembly, permanently seeking for #more law and order#, see: D03484, p. 1

U R G E N T

To all brigades, regiments and independent battalions (to the commanders, personally)

At the latest session of the Assembly of Republika Srpska held at Pale on 19 May 1993, a number of deputies and the highest officials of Republika Srpska made a series of criticisms of the Army of Republika Srpska /VRS/ in their discussions.

Most of the criticism was related to members of the Military Police and other persons in uniform who engage in theft, black marketeering, profiteering, and other crimes which threaten to annul all the results of the one-year war waged by the army and people of Republika Srpska.

A number of deputies objected that individuals and groups behave irresponsibly in their zones and beyond. Drunkenness is wide-spread and individuals and groups and even entire units spend ammunition in great amounts in towns and villages behind the front line, instilling fear in residents. Their incidents tarnish the image of a member of the Army of Republika Srpska and all the Serbian people in the most brutal fashion, often in the presence of representatives of foreign institutions and the international media.

In the future, take rigorous measures, and in cases of theft, abuse of official position and weapons, mete out the strongest punishment, up to taking /the offender/ before a Military Court. Resolve such cases without delay, and personally inform me at once. Inform all unit members that no one's merits in combat to date suffice to protect any individual who engages in theft, robbery and other dishonourable acts, which are of the greatest detriment to the VRS and the Serbian people.

2. I strictly forbid any form of organising or behaving along the lines of a "para-army", "para-police", "para-policy"; arrest, eliminate and in case of resistance physically liquidate all individual groups and any units in existence on the terrain under anyone's competence.

Inform all organs of command and control to the level of squad commander of this order, as well as organs of authority on the terrain (everyone to inform his own level), and inform the military on a need-to-know basis and to the necessary extent.

5. Very rigorous measures shall be applied in the future for failure to implement this order.

Legija: I had about one hundred prisoners yesterday. But, to hell with these pussies, when they... started screaming this and that. You understand, those were armed men and I immediately wanted to ...
But SUP /Secretariat of Internal Affairs/ Chief made a fuss about it, he said they were their neighbors, fuck them all. I went crazy.

(#Officials proper conduct#! As it is clearly said by Legija, the Chief of the Serb police in Iidza (T. Kovac) didn't allow any killings of the captured Muslims, saying that these captured were "their neighbours. Now we will see that Prstojevic didn't bring the paramilitaries to Iidza, that it was sobedy else, see

Legija: Well, to start with, you know that DRAGIŠIĆ who.. Who called us and all.
You know what we were told, how it would be when we get here. Well, none of it was true, and he did not hook us up with anyone. Nothing, he completely deceived us.

And now I'll have to see, I'll have to find a solution.

p.18. And as for Dragiša, give him what he fucking deserves.

#Officials proper conduct#! So, neither Prstojević introduced the paramilitaries, nor they had been welcome, nor the Chief of the Serb police allowed any of the Muslims, the neighbours be killed! All very commendable, but used against the President!) In a conversation with Dragan Despotović regarding combat activity in Kasindolsko Polje on 14 June 1992, Prstojević asked: “What shall we do? Would it be good if we gave it a thought and if we organised people from aside/outside to expel them all. Nobody needs to be shot or killed. Everyone expelled”. Despotović responded: “That would be the right move.”⁷²⁶² (This still wasn't any crime to loudly meditate this possibility, since the Muslims from those settlements fired all the time, inflicting a great loses to the Serb civilians and military. Although Prstojević's interlocutor said that “that would be the right move”, it #never happened#, and the Serbs could have easily take these settlements, nor the Muslim population was expelled!) In June 1992, Tomislav Šipčić, the then SRK Commander, revoked Prstojević's military command responsibilities; however Prstojević remained as President of the Crisis Staff and the SDS in Ilidža.⁷²⁶³ Prstojević subsequently met with the President in Pale and when he returned to Ilidža, “things started to go wrong again.”⁷²⁶⁴ (A #nasty suggestion#! The same would be if it was said that after this visit to the President and return to Ilidza, there was a “horrible stormy rain”! What does it have to do with his visit to Pale? It is as the Chamber concluded that immediately after the President's visit ended, there had been a severe storm. Is there any evidence that the President was informed and supported eventual criminal activities in Ilidza? All of the irregular features were sharply in contrast to the orders, views and intentions of the President. But, it shouldn't be taken for granted that all the civilians of other ethnicities in the Serb areas of Sarajevo were harmless and innocent. There was a continued activity of the Muslim forces to attack the Serb settlements, relying on some of those civilians that remained in the Serb areas, see: D02854, p. 2

The Ilidža War Department of the National Security Service has certain information which indicates that the enemy is preparing a decisive attack/offensive on positions of our forces in the general area of the Sarajevo battlefield, i.e. on Serbian territories in this area, in order to unblock, first and foremost, the core part of the Sarajevo area which is under their control, and to take control of roads which are of prime importance for the Muslim-Croat coalition.

In this respect, we have information that they are psychologically preparing the members of their units and emphasising to them that there will be a considerable number of casualties in the coming action. Also, it is more frequently “reaching their ears”, and also being heard in the city, that they can seize the territory of the Ilidža Serbian Municipality in just one hour, but that they have not done this so far so that there would not be an “artillery reprisal” from the Serbian side, both against the city

The main – infantry – strike would be made against Serbian positions in Nedžarići from the direction of the City, and they would then, in synchronisation, commence fire and an infantry attack from Otes and Hrasnica. So as to conceal these intentions of theirs, they have been seeking all the while to show that the main strike will be from Igman, which, again, points to possible sabotage groups whose task would be to infiltrate behind Serbian positions.

They claim that they have sufficient quantities of infantry weapons and ammunition in the City. Recently they have been conducting the mass mobilisation of everyone subject to military service, including Serbian citizens whom, according to the available information, they intend to deploy in the front ranks of battle in these actions.

⁷²⁶² P1492 (Intercept of conversation between (i) Nedeljko Prstojević and Radomir and (ii) Nedeljko Prstojević and Dragan, 14 June 1992), p. 3. The Chamber notes that Prstojević testified that he did not say that outside groups should be organised to expel people. Nedeljko Prstojević, T. 13295–13298 (11 March 2011), T. 13547–13550 (17 March 2011). However, in his interview with the Prosecution, Prstojević stated that by “outside” groups, he was referring to Arkan's, Gavrilović's, and Boban's groups. P2512 (Excerpt from transcript and video of Nedeljko Prstojević's interview), pp. 2–3. Having reviewed the video and transcript of Prstojević's interview, the Chamber rejects Prstojević's testimony that he was not referring to those groups in the intercepted conversation.

That kind of activities never ceased in the zone of Sarajevo, not for a day, and all, the authorities, the VRS, Police as well as population were at a constant alert!)

2133. From mid-April 1992, there was intense fighting around Dobrinja where the territories controlled by the Serbs were severed from Lukavica, Pale, and Kotorac on one side and Ilidža, Rajlovac, and Vogošća on the other.⁷²⁶⁵ While the Bosnian Serbs tried to establish a corridor to connect these neighbourhoods, the Bosnian Muslims sought to link up the old centre of Sarajevo with neighbourhoods such as Hrasnica and Sokolović Kolonija.⁷²⁶⁶ In addition, there were rumours that the SRK wanted to take over Dobrinja because it was predominantly populated by Serbs.⁷²⁶⁷ On 21 May 1992, Prstojević had a telephone conversation with Colonel Gagović about Bosnian Muslims fleeing Dobrinja and Gagović advised him that he had ordered a press centre to release information that they were only allowing Muslims to leave Dobrinja as entire families because they did not want the men to be left behind.⁷²⁶⁸ Around 14 June 1992, the Serb Forces took Dobrinja 1 and Dobrinja 4 under their control.⁷²⁶⁹ Prstojević had a meeting with the President, Mladić, and other members of the Bosnian Serb leadership on 15 June 1992, in which it was concluded that they would “clear the Serbian territory”, starting with Mojmiilo and Dobrinja.⁷²⁷⁰ (There were a constant #military attacks# from those localities!). Mojmiilo anyway was a hill, dominant to all the Serb areas in the city of Sarajevo, while Dobrinja remained divided till now. Around 17 June 1992, SRK units took civilians out of Dobrinja to Lukavica barracks.⁷²⁷¹ At Lukavica barracks, the MUP separated and classified them according to their ethnicities and the Bosnian Muslims were then sent to Kula Prison.⁷²⁷² (First of all, the #Muslim civilians were housed in the SRK barracks#, for their safety, since in Dobrinja there were going on a fierce fighting. Second, The Muslim males who had been transferred to the Kula prison were combatants, not civilians. Finally, the Commander of the SRK asked that the civilians from the combat areas be housed somewhere else instead in the Barracks Lukavica, which disturbed the life in the Barracks. See: D432

COMMANDS OF ALL SRK UNITS

Having in mind that there are occurrences of collecting women, children and old people of Muslim nationality and transferring them in Corps Command where are additional difficulties regarding their accommodation, feeding and taking care of the above mentioned categories of population, and in effort to organize this matter in the future, hereby 1

1. Women, children and old people from places that are not loyal to our system of government should secure on territories of municipalities of their previous staying in organization of civilian authorities, enabling that they are treated correctly, secure safety of their lives, accommodation and feeding.
2. Prisoners from combats should be sent to Corps Command with taking care of all measures for their safety during the trip. After their processing by officials from Corps Command, they will be placed in "Kula" Prison where they would be handed over on further treatment to Police officials and Commissions for exchange. 2134. On 25 June 1992, Prstojević spoke with Rade Ristić, a member of the Crisis Staff, and gave him permission to transfer Bosnian Muslim apartments in Dobrinja to Serbs who were involved in the fighting there and advised Ristić that he had printed the requisite forms for such transfer.⁷²⁷³ 2134 During this conversation, Prstojević learned that Serbs Forces were holding their ground in the Kasindol area and told Ristić: “All right. But have them hold on to it tightly and have them all killed there, please. [...] All that is Muslim to be killed, like Alija [...] I don’t want to see one military aged Muslim alive there”.⁷²⁷⁴ (Is there any evidence that Rade Ristic took Prstojevic seriously and had he executed this “order”? A jokes and unofficial chattings by telephone are taken more seriously than the official documents! Not to ask: what all of such a hunted details had to do with the President? That way, not only the President is President, but the entire Serb people is President! There are many wishes and proposals that had never been accepted by the officials, and never influenced any event, but are still quoted in the Indictment/Judgement text! As the Prime Ministed Branko Djeric testified, there was many extreme opinions and proposals in the Assembly, but it never prevailed!)

2135. From September 1992, there was a confrontation line on the eastern side of Dobrinja, separating the SRK-controlled areas of Dobrinja 1 and 4 from ABiH-controlled areas of Dobrinja 2 and 3B.⁷²⁷⁵ There was combat activity in Ilidža for the duration of the war.⁷²⁷⁶ Discussions continued among municipal leaders in Ilidža as to expanding control over a broader territory.⁷²⁷⁷ (But the Serb side never made any decision to take the control over these Muslim settlements, although it would be perfectly legitimate, since the Muslim extremists constantly fired from these areas, killing both the Serb civilians, mainly children were jeopardized, and the soldiers! #Abuse of civil settlements#!)

1. Establishment and control

2137. Kula Prison was located close to the Sarajevo airport,⁷²⁷⁹ on a compound with other buildings, including a police station, the Ministry of Justice, and the military prosecutor's office.⁷²⁸⁰ The compound had a large warehouse for goods and food supplies.⁷²⁸¹ It also had its own farming facilities.⁷²⁸²

2139. As of 1 August 1992, Radoje Lalović was appointed as the first warden of Kula Prison and Soniboj Škiljević served as the acting warden from 16 December 1992 until 1 January 1994.⁷²⁸⁷ (Both of them had been professionals far before the war, but the SDS never made any party differentiation, and rather nominated the professionals, and it was in the hands of the Ministry for Justice!) The commander of the guards was Neđo Pandurević.⁷²⁸⁸ The police chief at Kula was Milenko Tepavčević and the police commander was Radenko Vujičić.⁷²⁸⁹

2141. Detainees began arriving at Kula Prison from May 1992 onwards.⁷²⁹⁴ Many detainees were transported from other detention facilities,⁷²⁹⁵ and others were transported directly from their homes or conflict zones.⁷²⁹⁶ The detainees held at Kula Prison included civilians, persons who had not violated any law, and persons held without official detention orders.⁷²⁹⁷ Mentally ill persons⁷²⁹⁸ and several elderly persons were detained in Kula Prison.⁷²⁹⁹ Bosnian Muslims, Bosnian Croats, as well as Bosnian Serbs were detained there.⁷³⁰⁰

2142. Detainees were brought to Kula by soldiers, members of the police, paramilitary forces, as well as special purpose units of the JNA.⁷³⁰¹ Members of paramilitary units, including the White Eagles, Arkan's men,⁷³⁰² and Oljača's Chetniks ate their meals at Kula Prison.⁷³⁰³

The Prosecution submits that the 10,000 Bosnian Muslim civilians accommodated at Kula Prison were detained. Prosecution Final Brief, Appendix B, pp. 20-21. Having reviewed all the evidence, the Chamber finds that the evidence is insufficient to determine whether these civilians were deprived of freedom of movement such that they were detained, as opposed to being merely accommodated due to the combat activity in the area.

(2) Conditions of detention and treatment of detainees

2145. At various times, some rooms in Kula Prison were so crowded that there was barely enough room for detainees to sit or lie down, and toilet access was so limited that detainees defecated and urinated in the room; the stench was over-powering.⁷³⁰⁸ The ground floor was damp; there was no heating and lice infestation was widespread.⁷³⁰⁹ Other rooms provided slightly better accommodation with mattresses on the floor or beds; the detainees also had access to the toilet at least three times per day, and access to water.⁷³¹⁰ (It is obvious that the lack of facilities wasn't any deliberate result, but a "viss major@")

2146. The food was insufficient.⁷³¹¹ (#General shortage#! There was no food for the population, the Army and police too. A lot of contemporaneous documents prove that the sanctions that had been imposed to the Serbs resulted, among others, in a shortage of food. Also, nobody even tried to prove that it was an intended, willing deprivation.) Several detainees were initially kept in crowded cells from which they were not permitted to leave; they were subsequently moved into more spacious cells and given access to the cafeteria.⁷³¹² In the former scenario they were only given one meal per day, which was brought to that cell.⁷³¹³ However, in the cafeteria, detainees were given two meals per day.⁷³¹⁴ On 20 May 1992, Tepavčević wrote to the MUP and Ministry of Justice advising of the inadequate conditions of accommodation, food, hygiene, and health of 156 detainees who had been present at Kula Prison since 12 May 1992.⁷³¹⁵ (That is the first class proof that it was a necessity, #not deliberate deprivation!#)

For example, Mušić received tea and bread in the morning as well as "some cooked food", such as pea soup, in the afternoon. P2403 (Witness statement of Mehmed Musić dated 28 February 2011), para. 98. The Chamber notes that Defence witnesses testified that detainees received three meals per day, the food served at Kula Prison was normal for wartime conditions, and the accommodation provided was very good. Having considered all the evidence and taken into account the fact that these Defence witnesses had an incentive to distance themselves from the poor conditions at Kula Prison, and that the witnesses who were detained there were better placed to report on the conditions in which they were detained, the Chamber does not rely on the evidence of these Defence witnesses in this regard. [REDACTED]. It is interesting how easily the Chamber found that so many Defense witnesses had a reason not to tell the truth, while the detained combatants of the opposite Army allegedly didn't have any interest to aggravate and denigrate the Serb enemies. However, there is no evidence that any deprivation was a bad will of the officials. The mentioned Defense witness Soniboj Skiljevic and his chief R. Lalovic were tried in the BiH court and had been acquitted. The opinion of the witness skiljevic that the conditions were "normal for wartime conditions" had been approved before the Bosnian court.

#“Adjudicated fact” against the Prosecutor’s witnesses, who rebutted it#!!!) In addition, local Serbs and armed groups frequently gathered around the prison compound attempting to gain access and on occasion made it through.⁷³²⁰ (#EXCULPATORY!!! The officials prevented these attempts, otherwise they would intrude, for their revengeful or pathology reasons!)

2148. Detainees at Kula Prison were detailed to perform work on the frontlines of the conflict, including de-mining, transporting material for barricades, digging trenches and retrieving the bodies of fallen Serb combatants.⁷³²¹ Several prisoners who were deployed to work were killed or injured by sniping or shells.⁷³²² Detainees were also engaged in work, such as farm work, around the prison, close to the confrontation line.⁷³²³ Shells frequently landed on the plantation where detainees were made to work and a few detainees were killed.⁷³²⁴ (If true, these shells must have fallen on the Serbs too, because the POWs weren’t alone there. There was evidence that many detainees wanted to go for a work, because they obtained more food, cigarettes and even drinks, see the next paragraph, but these allegations of the Muslim adversaries were not explored on veracity, and on whether some or all of them wanted to work at farm or not, while it is not probable that any wanted to do other dangerous jobs. However, if any of this felonies were committed, it was against the strictest orders of the President, who had many other duties! Are the Presidents in other countries liable for violations of their strictest orders?)

2149. The VRS decided which detainees would perform work outside of Kula Prison.⁷³²⁵ Mandić was also involved in providing detainees to perform forced labour.⁷³²⁶ The detainees could not refuse to work,⁷³²⁷ however some were not forced to work if they were unwell.⁷³²⁸ Detainees in work platoons were provided additional food by the prison staff and were sometimes given food or cigarettes by soldiers and locals in the locations where they worked.⁷³²⁹ However, they were not remunerated for their work.⁷³³⁰ (Since there is evidence that “somebody were not forced to work if they were unwell” and that those who worked had a benefits, then the Prosecution was obliged to prove who was forced in a manner that can be checked by the Defense.

2150. Detainees were registered with the ICRC.⁷³³¹ Around 9 August 1992, Karadžić visited Kula prison with representatives of the media and the ICRC.⁷³³² That day the food was better and only clean rooms were shown.⁷³³³ (Another proof that the President was not privy of the full information. If true, the on duty officials presumed that the President wouldn't be satisfied with food and rooms!#What President knew#!)

(3) Conclusion in relation to conditions of detention and treatment of detainees

2152. Based on the foregoing, the Chamber finds that Serb Forces detained non-Serbs from Ilidža and neighbouring municipalities, including civilians, from May 1992 until at least 28 October 1994 in Kula Prison. The Chamber further finds that the detainees were held in poor conditions characterised by inadequate space, bedding, and sanitary facilities. The Chamber also finds that detainees were provided insufficient food. The Chamber further finds that male detainees were subjected to forced labour and beatings while detained at Kula Prison. (The Chamber would be very reasonable if found that in the war conditions all of it may have been out of the abilities of the authorities to regulate it. Particularly, the Chamber would be reasonable if mentioned that there was no evidence that the President contributed to any of those irregularities, as well as that no state regulations enabled the felonies!)

(4) Scheduled Incident B.13.1

2154. On 7 May 1992, five detainees who had just arrived at Kula Prison from Grbavica were beaten so badly that one died immediately and another detainee, Zlatan Salčinović, died the next morning.⁷³³⁵ Mirsad Smajš and at least one other detainee took the bodies of these individuals to a van after which they were transported elsewhere.⁷³³⁶ The Chamber received forensic evidence that the body of an individual identified as Zlatan “Salčin” was discovered in a grave in Sarajevo.⁷³³⁷

2155. The Trial Chamber therefore finds that on or about 7 May 1992 two detainees were beaten to death at Kula Prison by Serb Forces. (#Before VRS, during JNA#! The “Serb Forces” is really not enough, since it was found by the Chamber, that paramilitaries as well as locals tried to reach detainees, see para 2147 of the Judgement. On 7 May there still was the JNA, and it can not be allocated to this President, since he didn’t have any state post or competence until 12 May 92, and over the JNA ever. Also, there is no evidence that the President had been informed of the deaths in Kula Prison, and at the time he couldn’t be informed as he was not in charge of the armed forces so widely called the Serb Forces, particularly since the JNA was there! Without several senseless constructs, like “Joint Criminal Enterprise” and the “Serb Forces”, which comprises all the Serbs, even the JNA which was never under the President influence, let alone control, or paramilitaries, which the President publicly and lawfully disowned at the beginning of the war, there wouldn’t be any indictment. With those constructs, none of the Serbs could be acquitted in such an “ad hoc” court! The UN should annihilate all the processes, and ban this kind of abuse of the justice!)

(5) Scheduled Incident B.13.3

2156. The Indictment refers to the killing of three detainees while performing forced labour at Kula Prison between 23 July and 24 November 1992.

2157. Adem Balić was detained at Kula Prison from 23 June to 24 November 1992.⁷³³⁸ After approximately a month in detention there, he was detailed to a work platoon and witnessed the death and wounding of detainees who were forced to work on or near the frontlines.⁷³³⁹ Vahid Gačanović was killed by incoming fire at Ozrenska Street; Ramic Smajić and Zido Nizić were killed by incoming fire in the Kula Prison agricultural complex.⁷³⁴⁰ The Chamber also received forensic evidence that the bodies of Gačanović and Smajić were found in a mass grave at Vrangeš, which was a wartime cemetery located close to Kula Prison.⁷³⁴¹

2158. Based on this evidence, the Chamber is satisfied that at least three detainees of Kula Prison were killed while performing forced labour between 23 July and 24 November 1992. (#Deadly combination#! This is entirely based on the Rule 92bis, no cross examination. Also, to recover somebody from a mass grave and allocate his death to the Kula Prison is much easier, than to explain why this body was in a mass grave, were there were buried only a combat casualties after the battle, and within the sanitation process! Anyway, if something like that really happened, it was strictly forbidden by the RS documents and the President’s orders! How the President could be kept liable for incidents like that?)

(E) Movement of the population from Ilidža

Stanišić & Župljanin*), T. 9484. At the 17th session of the Bosnian Serb Assembly, Prstojević said that when the Accused “visited [them] in Ilidža and encouraged [them], the Serbs from Sarajevo retained control over the territory, and even extended their territory in some areas, driving the Muslims out of the territories where they had actually been majority.” But, the President didn’t encourage them to do that what Prstojevic said. They had been encouraged by the President’s visit, since they even didn’t know whether he was alive or not, as it was said. During this visit the Acused told them (in Ilidza) to take care of the others, i.e. Muslims and Croats, so that not a hear from their head be lost. This was a possible flatering of Prstojevic, an attempt to show how the mere visit encouraged them to maintain what they kept, but certainly nothing proves that the President told them what to do. D92 (Transcript of 17th session of SerBiH Assembly, 24–26 July 1992), p. 66. The Chamber notes that Prstojević objected to the translation of “driving the Muslims out” and said that he did not say that Muslims were expelled, but rather that they were “pushed back”. P2513 (Excerpt from Nedeljko Prstojević’s transcript from Prosecutor v. Krajišnik), T. 14664–14665; Nedeljko Prstojević, T. 13017–13021 (8 March 2011). The Chamber notes that the BCS version of the transcript of the 17th session of the Bosnian Serb Assembly uses the word potjerali which means “to chase away”. The Chamber considers this to be synonymous with “driving away”. P2513 (Excerpt from Nedeljko Prstojević’s transcript from Prosecutor v. Krajišnik), T. 14673. However, Prstojević also denied that he would have used the term “potjerali” and testified that he used a BCS word that means to push back (potisnuli). P2513 Nedeljko Prstojević, T. 13554 (17 March 2011); (Excerpt from Nedeljko Prstojević’s transcript from Prosecutor v. Krajišnik), T. 14674. Given the plain text of the BCS version of the 17th Session of the SerBiH Assembly, the Chamber rejects his evidence in this regard. The Chamber further notes that Prstojević stated that he did not mean that civilians were expelled, rather that combatants were pushed back after armed combat, however, he admitted that the majority of the civilian population left with the combatants gradually. P2513 (Excerpt from Nedeljko Prstojević’s transcript from Prosecutor v. Krajišnik), T. 14665–14666. This is #not the only reasonable inference#, there is another, a several times more reasonable. Namely, Prstojevic was braging and celebrating their heroism, and it is more than reasonable to conclude that all he said pertained the military activities against the Muslim units, which was going on every day. For a chasing of civilians there is not needed any encouragement, and nobody normal would brag about that. So, the Chamber is too inclined to drawing an anti-Serb inferences.

⁷³⁴⁷ P1110 (Intercept of conversation between Momčilo Mandić and Nedeljko Prstojević, 2 July 1992), pp. 3–4. Prstojević testified that he had not been saying such things, that no ultimatums were issued, and that Mandić was incorrect. Nedeljko Prstojević, T. 13804, 13842 (21 March 2011). The Prosecution suggested that in the intercepted conversation, Prstojević only denied that he issued such ultimatums in public. See Nedeljko Prstojević, T. 13839–13842 (21 March 2011). In his testimony in the Krajišnik proceedings, Prstojević testified that: “With the exception of Kotorac, we did not have a policy of expelling civilians in any of the areas except where the circumstances required the population to leave the area because of the combat activities or where the population wanted to leave on their own initiative.” P2513 (Excerpt from Nedeljko Prstojević’s transcript from Prosecutor v. Krajišnik), T. 14649. In light of this qualification pertaining to Kotorac, the Chamber is satisfied that there was some truth to Mandić’s comments in the intercepted conversation.

⁷³⁴⁸ P1110 (Intercept of conversation between Momčilo Mandić and Nedeljko Prstojević, 2 July 1992), p. 4. The Chamber notes that Prstojević testified that he had not issued such ultimatums at all and that Mandić was incorrect. Nedeljko Prstojević, T. 13804, 13842 (21 March 2011). In his testimony in the Krajišnik proceedings, Prstojević said that he denied to Mandić that he issued such ultimatums at all and questioned where he said such things. P2513 (Excerpt from Nedeljko Prstojević’s transcript from Prosecutor v. Krajišnik), T. 14645–14646. However, the Chamber considers that a plain reading of the text of the intercepted conversation indicates that Prstojević merely denied giving such ultimatums in public. P1110 (Intercept of conversation between Momčilo Mandić and Nedeljko Prstojević, 2 July 1992), p. 4.

Momčilo MANDIĆ:	It has come to our attention and that of the Government that you are issuing ultimatums to some Turks; evicting people from certain settlements and people respond badly to it. They are abusing this, those Muslims and the media and so on.

Well, please do not do anything like it, consult with ĐERIĆ first and those people up there, because this is very bad publicity for us and for everyone. They have the civil option, and they are killing and expelling us. You have to be a little bit more flexible there and not touch those Muslims who are willing to listen and who are loyal. We cannot ethnically cleanse Ilidža or any other place. At least that is the attitude of the Government and political leadership and all. It has already reached the top how in some settlement you gave them 24 hours to move out and they... Not the se..., no, not the safety..., what was it; what did you say? You are not..., you are not responsible for their safety or something like that.

Nedeljko PRSTOJEVIĆ: Well, yes, but where did I say this? I know, but we did not say that, not in public. That's not our politics.

This is more than enough (#contemporaneous document#) to draw another inference, both pertaining to the policy of the central organs, and the Prstojevic's response. So, Kovac urged Mandic, Mandic reacted, but even Tomo Kovac didn't accuse Prstojevic (the Chief of Crisis Staff) as can be seen from D01239:

MANDIĆ, Momčilo: Well, bring criminal charges, come on, please, and come to me to..., come to me tomorrow to discuss that Chief of Crisis Staff...
KOVAČ, Tomo:	Hey, Momo, it is you who have to..., it is not... it is not just the Chief of Staff, he can't control them himself. You have to make a proclamation from the top and send armed here and towards the armed forces

SO MANY #MISINTERPRETATIONS, MISCONCEPTIONS, MISUNDERSTANDINGS, JUST TO INDULGE THE PROSECUTION'S INTENTION#!?!? If we were to be malicious, we would have to conclude that it couldn't be accidental, but intentional. Not even St. Peter would succeed to defend himself. The Defendant looks to himself like Don Quixote, fighting against a billion of mosquitos!

Nedeljko	Even with the best of intentions, with all that the Muslims from ⁷³⁴⁹ Momčilo Mandić, C2 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Krajišnik), T. 8868–8870, 8886–8889; P1101 (Intercept of conversation between Momčilo Krajišnik and Momčilo Mandić, 26 June 1992), p. 3. Mandić and Avlijaš testified that civilians from Dobrinja left on their own accord to flee the fighting. Momčilo Mandić, C2 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Krajišnik), T. 8869–8870, 8886–8889; P1101 (Intercept of conversation between Momčilo Krajišnik and Momčilo Mandić, 26 June 1992), p. 3; Slobodan Avlijaš, T. 35193–35194 (11 March 2013). However, in light of the evidence, discussed at paragraph 2133 that the Serb Forces took measures to clear the area, discussed giving Muslim owned apartments to Serbs, and that once the SRK took custody of the civilians, they separated the Bosnian Muslim civilians from the Serbs and Croats, the Chamber finds that the Bosnian Muslim civilians had no choice but to leave Dobrinja.

PRSTOJEVIĆ:	Ilidža have already done, and what they are doing, let's say, as long as there is a blockade of the Serbs in Hrasnica, Sokolović colony, it's been a month that no Serb has come out.
Momčilo MANDIĆ:	I know. My sister and my father are there.
Nedeljko PRSTOJEVIĆ:	No one has come out of there, despite the fact that we allow it, let them come out now, let them take 5000 Muslims from there, let them release as many Serbs. We are not in a position, I don't know where this took place, we are not in a position to let someone work at the moment. Our misdemeanour court did not receive a single report, no one submitted any.

It is obvious from this part of conversation that the Serbs are not allowed to leave Hrasnica and Sokolovic colony, while the Serbs from Ilidza “allowed ... them to take 5000 Muslims” from Ilidza. This is more complex, and the inference the Chamber have chosen is not the only one, not even a more probable than other. So, if Mandic assisted transfer of civilians, the Muslims neither indicted nor convicted him for that! All of the people from the President’s authorities were acquitted for, as alleged in this Court, immediate perpetrators of the “crimes” allocated to this President as their superior!

2161. For the duration of the war, not only Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat prisoners of war but also refugees and unlawfully detained civilians were transferred to non-Serb controlled territory from Kula Prison pursuant to agreements reached with UNHCR and the Central Commission for Exchange of Prisoners and Civilians or pursuant to private agreements.⁷³⁵⁰ Insofar as these exchanges related to refugees or unlawfully detained civilians, the Chamber finds that these individuals were forced to leave the municipality. This Chamber’s finding is in contrast to the principle # “in dubio pro reo”# since we already know that many civilians did everything they could, including a bribery, to come on the list for exchange of civilians, “rejoining of families” and similar agreements. The candidates for transfer had to submit many papers and documents to be put on the list for convoy. They had been “forced” but not by the authorities, the forcing power was insecurity, every day fighting, coming of the Serb combat casualties from the front line (for that reason the President forbaid the mass funerals, in order to prevent an increase of tensions) Since we know all of that, the feature can not be taken for granted, i.e. the Prosecution had to prove which cases were not wilful, and which where forceful!

of 1993, it made over 3,000 decisions to assign temporary flats.⁷³⁵⁵ The President argues that after the war, everyone's tenancy rights were recognised and people were permitted to buy and sell the flats in accordance with the law.⁷³⁵⁶ However, having considered all the evidence before it, the Chamber finds that the main purpose of the regulation was to facilitate the use of the vacant property in question by Serbs who had just arrived in the municipality. In turn, this ensured that those non-Serbs who left Ilidža would not return. Furthermore, on 4 April 1993, Prstojević issued a decision forbidding the return of Bosnian Muslims and Croats to the Serb Municipality of Ilidža for purported security reasons, unless they had written authorisation from the proper authorities.⁷³⁵⁷ Let us see how a #prematured return influenced the security# in municipalities: see D473,p.10

The situation in Bijeljina is relatively satisfactory, but in truth is much worse than at first glance. The problem with the Muslim section of the population is compounded by the arrival of Muslim refugees and the return of those who had left Bijeljina before, influenced by Mr. KARADŽIĆ's and Mr. PANIĆ's recent statements. This population includes a number of Muslim extremists, and it is believed that a large number of Muslim citizens own weapons. The misunderstandings between the MUP and the representatives of the Bijeljina SO /Municipal Assembly/ have partially been resolved following a meeting attended by the Minister of the Interior.

(To "find" that: "In turn, this ensured that those non-Serbs who left Ilidža would not return is mere# speculation of the Chamber#, and would be unacceptable in any court of the free world. The rights to return didn't depend on any statement or other unofficial document, but only on the international agreements, some of which had been proposed by the President, and all of them signed by him. Let us see the P739, quoted in this paragraph:

In close co-operation with public security stations, you are kindly requested to make an inventory of all housing facilities (summer cottages, houses and flats) in your Municipality that are vacant following the voluntary departure of Muslims. Pursuant to the Presidency's Decision no: ol-305/92, these facilities will be given for temporary use to Serbs from the Muslim part of Sarajevo.

Why the Chamber speculated, and why the verbatim meaning, and the most probable meaning of the contemporaneous documents was what was said in them? Second, the President proposed himself, and signed the other's agreement about the #property rights, and this commitment was obligatory#; third, the post-war practice confirms this standpoint. The Chamber's allegation about facilitation of the Serbs who had just "arrived" in the municipality is not fair, since the "just arrived Serbs" didn't arrive, they were a refugees too, they were sad and impoverished, angry and they would occupy those apartments anyway, in a chaotic manner and without obligation to save and preserve the property they occupied. Let us see how the influx of the Serbian refugees impacted the life in municipalities, particularly from the standpoint of law and order, see D473:

The large number of refugees (17,000 in Doboj) has influenced the increase in crime, the poor crime detection rate, and the failure of the civilian authorities to function, resulting in the establishment of military authorities in many areas.

⁷³⁵⁵ D2773 (Witness statement of Slavko Mijanović dated 19 January 2013), para.10. See e.g. D1241 (Ilidža Crisis Staff ruling, 19 July 1992). In addition, the Chamber notes that on 25 June 1992, Prstojević gave Rade Ristić permission to give Muslim apartments in Dobrinja to Serbs and advised him that they had already reassigned 30 apartments in Nedžarići. P1515 (Intercept of conversation between Nedeljko Prstojević and Radomir Ristić, 25 June 1992), p. 2. See also Adjudicated Fact 2666.

⁷³⁵⁶ Defence Final Brief, para. 1666.

⁷³⁵⁷ D1244 (Ilidža War Commission Decision, 4 April 1993).

Mount Ozren and the newly established municipality of Petrovo are one of the greatest problems in region. Namely, the area is huge and the concentration of refugees great, while the military authorities seem to be oblivious of all the problems. There are also all kinds of crime in Petrovo, the civilian authorities are not functioning and there are opinions that the SJB is entirely unnecessary in the area, which are very dangerous and need to be quelled. These are the reasons why those places may continue to present a latent danger from a security standpoint.

- About 10,500 non-Serbs have remained in the territory of the municipality of Banja Luka (7,500 Bosniaks – Muslims and 3,000 Croats).
- It is estimated that about 400 non-Serbs still remain in the area of Bosanska Dubica.
- It is estimated that about 2,000 non-Serbs have remained in Bosanska Gradiška.
- It is estimated that about 500 non-Serbs have remained in the area of Bosanski Novi
- Serbs made up Serbs 89% (16,591), Muslim 8% (1,440), others 3% (635). The total number of non-Serbs stood at 11% (2,075).
- It is estimated that about 500-600 non-Serbs have remained in the area of Ključ.
- It is estimated that about 600 non-Serbs have remained in Laktaši.
- About 300 non-Serbs have remained in Mrkonjić.
- Approximately 2,000 non-Serbs have remained in Prijedor.
- About 800 non-Serbs have remained in Prnjavor.
- About 1,500 non-Serbs still remain in Sanski Most.
- It is estimated that about 300 non-Serbs have remained in the area of Šipovo.

And so on. This is a Muslim esteem, and late Ugljen was known for his extremism, and this assessment is much lower than in reality. However, no matter how many Muslims and Croats remained in the Serb cities, the main question is: what was the difference between those who left and those who stayed? Having in mind the confirmed fact that these who left had to do many things to leave, why the Prosecution didn't prove that the authorities press them to leave? The Defence kept asserting that those who had the closest relatives in the Muslim Army didn't feel comfortable in the Serb areas, where the killed Serbs had been brought on a daily basis!)

Muslims left voluntarily;⁷³⁶⁰ (ii) civilians of all ethnicities left Ilidža due to the conflict;⁷³⁶¹ and (iii) Bosnian Muslims who wanted to stay could do so and that many Bosnian Muslims and Croats remained in Ilidža during the conflict,⁷³⁶² this evidence bears limited weight in light of the accepted evidence that Serb Forces participated in the expulsion of Bosnian Muslim civilians in Serb held parts of Ilidža and prevented their return. (The Prosecution kept claiming that #“some Muslims”# had been expelled, but it is not sufficient after so many witnesses denying this assertion! If the Defence had a single name of the Muslim family that had been expelled, it could have been checked, but with such a fluid charges, no defence could do anything. Is it possible that courts in the countries that support this Court accept such a fluid, unspecified and arbitrary assertions such as: #“Some Serbs have expelled some Muslims”#? Or “some Serbs killed some Muslims”#? This case is fool of such a charges, and the chambers accepted this kind of evidence! Such a conceived “Serb Forces” is deeply incorrect and arbitrary, since the “Serb Forces” are not differentiated from the legal Serb authorities, which fought against the parts of the “Serb Forces”, remember the intercept Mandić – Kovac, in which Kovac said that the Chief of the Crisis Staff can not control “them”. “...[I]n light of accepted evidence that the Serb Forces participated in the expulsion...” could also mean that this evidence was accepted wrongly and erroneously, and as such caused further damage of the interests of President, and this is not just and fair trial.)

2165. In light of the foregoing, the Chamber finds that members of the non-Serb population from the Serb-controlled parts of Ilidža were forced to leave. (Such a complex subject demands a more cautious approach and respect for the principle “in dubio pro reo”. Above all of this, there hadn’t been so many Muslims in the Serb Ilidža, because as accepted by this Chamber, the Serb Ilidža comprised #only the Serb settlement#s.)

iii Novi Grad

(A) Charges

2166. Under Count 3, the Prosecution alleges that persecution, a crime against humanity, was committed in Novi Grad as part of the objective to permanently remove Bosnian Muslims and/or Bosnian Croats from the Municipalities.⁷³⁶³ Acts of persecution alleged to have been committed by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs in Novi Grad include killings during the take-over of Novi Grad,⁷³⁶⁴ killings related to a detention facility as well as killings committed during, and deaths resulting from, cruel and inhumane treatment at this detention facility.⁷³⁶⁵ The Prosecution also characterises these killings as extermination, a crime

⁷³⁶⁰ Čeklić maintained that civilians left the eastern parts of Ilidža around 23 April 1992 on their own accord because weapons were found in their homes. Momčilo Čeklić, T. 35219–35226 (12 March 2013). According to Kovač, after the attack on Ilidža of 22 April 1992, civilians, including Serbs, left due to the proximity of their homes to the front. against humanity, under Count 4; murder, a crime against humanity, under Count 5; and murder, a violation of the laws or customs of war, under Count 6.⁷³⁶⁶

2167. Other acts of persecution alleged to have been committed in Novi Grad by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs include (i) torture, beatings, and physical and psychological abuse, during and after the take-over and in a detention facility, as cruel or inhumane treatment;⁷³⁶⁷ (ii) rape and other acts of sexual violence, during and after the take-over and in a detention facility, as cruel and inhumane treatment;⁷³⁶⁸ (iii) the establishment and perpetuation of inhumane living conditions in a detention facility in Novi Grad, including the failure to provide adequate accommodation, shelter, food, water, medical care, or hygienic sanitation facilities, as cruel or inhumane treatment;⁷³⁶⁹ (iv) forcible transfer or deportation of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats from their homes;⁷³⁷⁰ (v) unlawful detention in a detention facility;⁷³⁷¹ (vi) forced labour at the frontline and the use of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats as human shields;⁷³⁷² (vii) the appropriation or plunder of property, during and after the take-over, during arrests and detention, and in the course of or following acts of deportation or forcible transfer;⁷³⁷³ (viii) the wanton destruction of private property including homes, business premises, and public property including cultural monuments and sacred sites;⁷³⁷⁴ and (ix) the imposition and maintenance of restrictive and discriminatory measures.⁷³⁷⁵

constituted the western parts of Novo Sarajevo.⁷³⁸⁰ These areas included, inter alia, the local commune of Dobroševići which was comprised of the villages of Ahatovići, Bojnik, Dobroševići, and Mihaljevići, the local commune of Rajlovac, and Dobrinja, a set of large, high-rise residential complexes which housed around 40.000 people before the war.⁷³⁸¹ According to the 1991 census, Novi Grad's population was 136,616 of which 50.8% were Muslim, 27.5% were Serb, and 6.5% were Croat.⁷³⁸² (What ethnicity was the rest of 16% of population? Not even the Prosecution or the Chamber noticed this kind of #deception and manipulation#, so frequent in BiH. Obviously, this 16% were so called "Yugoslavs", i.e. the Serbs that disguised themselves, certainly because it was not so pleasant to be a Serb in Sarajevo!) The village of Ahatovići was inhabited mainly by Bosnian Muslims, while those living in Rajlovac and Dobroševići were mostly Bosnian Serbs.⁷³⁸³ Inhabitants of Novi Grad municipality generally lived together peacefully until the beginning of 1992.⁷³⁸⁴

2170. Novi Grad was host to a number of important commercial, industrial and military installations, including the Rajlovac Barracks, the Butile Barracks, and Orao (a military industrial factory dedicated to the overhaul of aircraft engines).⁷³⁸⁵

⁷³⁹⁰ The Prosecution alleges that in furtherance of the First and Fifth Strategic Goals, the Accused and the Bosnian Serb Leadership established the Serb municipality of Rajlovac in certain areas of Novi Grad, which included the Muslim village of Ahatovići. Prosecution Final Brief, Appendix A (Novi Grad section), para. 1.

2172. Near the end of 1991, members of the SDS municipal board from Novi Grad began contemplating the creation of the Serb municipality of Rajlovac on territory which belonged, in large parts, to the municipality of Novi Grad, in order to prevent Serbs being outvoted in the Novi Grad government and the Novi Grad Municipal Assembly.⁷³⁹¹ On 26 December 1991, Krajišnik informed the President that he had been to a Novi Grad Municipal Assembly session in which voting had been blocked.⁷³⁹² In addition, on 9 February 1992, Krajišnik informed the President of the meeting he had recently attended in Reljevo, a village in Novi Grad municipality, and the discussions he had had about forming the Rajlovac municipality.⁷³⁹³ A few days later, on 11 February, Jovan Tintor told a certain Prodanović that a new municipality called Rajlovac was being created.⁷³⁹⁴

The so called “take over” of the Novi Grad municipality look the most ridiculous, since the Serbs controlled only several of the Serb settlements, that made 15% of the Municipality!

(3) The arming and mobilisation of Bosnian Serbs in Novi Grad

2174. By 14 October 1991, Tintor and Ratko Adžić, who later became the President of the Serb Municipality of Ilijaš,⁷⁴⁰⁰ had already discussed the issue of arming and mobilisation and noted the inadequate response to the call for mobilisation of Serbs in Novi Grad and surrounding municipalities. Adžić specifically complained that despite a meeting during which he had announced that there was a unique opportunity for Serbs to come and take firearms, nobody from Novi Grad had shown up to collect such weaponry.⁷⁴⁰¹ This is an additional proof that the #Serbs joined the JNA as reservists#, and thus obtained the armament. It was all legal from the standpoint of the JNA, and particularly from the interests of local Serbs. The official Army called for mobilisation, as it was a regular practice, armed its reserve battalions, replenish its units and prepared for the coming war against the separatist republics. Meanwhile the Muslims already had their own secret army, the #Patriotic league and Green berets# in every municipality. Look how it was in the region of Sarajevo: D298, p 1

Immediately after involving myself in preparations for the defence of R BH /Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina/, in September 1991, together with the late Safet HADŽIĆ, who was appointed president of the crisis staff of the Sarajevo region, and with the help of Mirsad ČAUŠEVIĆ, now in the MIP /Ministry of the Interior/ and Senad MAŠOVIĆ, now at the command of the Third Corps, I drew up a proposal for organising the Patriotic League for the Sarajevo area, organised the regional staff of the Patriotic League and a plan for the defence of the Sarajevo area.

As we can see, the Serbs and the JNA were late at least a month behind the Muslims in Sarajevo. Let see further, D298, p.3

From the beginning of December 1991 until the end of March 1992, I stayed on five or six occasions in all the regional and municipal headquarters of the Patriotic League and in a large number of units of the Patriotic League in the whole territory of the Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina, constantly travelling with false and borrowed documents in order not to be discovered.

I led the establishment of contra-barricades in Sarajevo in March 1992 and led the armed resistance at the beginning of the aggression against the Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

On 2nd May 1992 I led the defence of Sarajevo in battle with the former JNA.

On 3rd May 1992 I prevented a coup attempted by Alija DELIMUSTAFIĆ who had

This is how it looks like when one side is prevented to depict the other side’s conduct, which directly influenced and caused the conduct of the first side. #Selective#! Nobody should mix it with “tu quoque”, it is simply necessary for understanding of events, and differentiation of the legal defence preparations from illegal one.

of the Chamber, since it was a perfectly #legitimane and legal activity of the JNA#, and far from even knowledge, let alone influence of the President?) From March 1992 onwards, local Serbs came to the Butile and Rajlovac Barracks in order to be issued uniforms and weapons, including sniper rifles, and to undergo military training.⁷⁴⁰⁴ (A reserve company of the Muslims from the neighbouring settlement Sokolje came to the Rajlovac Barracks and was equipped by the JNA, the same as the Serbs, see: the testimony of Mihajlo Vujasin!) Two Bosnian Serbs employed at the Orao factory, Stevo Petričević and Mirko Mirković, established and maintained connections between local Serbs and the officers in the Rajlovac Barracks, and were involved in the distribution of arms to the local Serbs.⁷⁴⁰⁵ At the same time, reserve troops, including Serbs from surrounding areas started arriving at the Butile Barracks.⁷⁴⁰⁶ They wore uniforms and were taught by Šuput's men how to operate mortars and other types of weapons.⁷⁴⁰⁷ In addition, Orao accommodated a Serb "paramilitary unit" which consisted of SDS members from the surrounding villages.⁷⁴⁰⁸ The insignias on the uniforms worn by this unit bore four Cyrillic "S" symbols and some of its members wore "kokarda" caps.⁷⁴⁰⁹ (#Before VRS# In February 1992 there was the former BiH and it's authorities, and the JNA, and the President, or SDS, or the Republic of Srpska had nothing to do with any event there, but it seems as if this Court doesn't care for the facts if it helps "the Prosecution's cause." The JNA had a shortage of the manpower and activated their reserve units, which was in accordance with the law!)

2176. On 3 March 1992, a certain Gvozden informed the President that he had mobilised Serbs from Pale and would do the same in other municipalities, including Novi Grad.⁷⁴¹⁰ The President then demanded that efforts be made to show that Muslim mobilisation preceded Serb mobilisation by a number of hours.⁷⁴¹¹ (#EXCULPATORY#!!! Let us see what is in the said Prosecutor's document, P5604:p. 1

Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Fine, they got mobilised, nothing has been spontaneous. They got mobilized and now they are attacking Serbian settlements.
Gvozden:	So they have been attacking?
Gvozden:	So they have been attacking, Sokolovići....
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Turn it down a little bit. (KARADŽIĆ is talking to unidentified person in the room)
Gvozden:Zlatište, Širokača, they are setting off towards Miljevići. There will be retaliation most probably. Kobilja glava, they are also setting off towards Sarajevo.

Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Aha.
Gvozden:	The students are slowly rising.
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Students, whose ones?
Gvozden:	Yes.
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Theirs?
Gvozden:	Yes, it looks like.
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Aha.
Gvozden:	Three hundred are at the Jewish cemetery, they are surrounding Remontni zavod /Repair and maintenance depot/, they've block...., they've blocked Lapišnica up there, Kolje.....
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Aha.
Gvozden:	I think, these are the latest information.
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Aha.
Gvozden:	We have just mobilized some. However, it is going very hard because our communications are bad onwards so I can't mobilized them.
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Yes, well I don't know. We should, we should make, if it doesn't put security in danger, to make time difference between their and our mobilization, so that it is clear who is, who is.
Gvozden:	They have already set off, it's been done.
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Aggressor. Where have they set off towards Serbian settlements, haven't they?
Gvozden:	We are now listening them. They are reporting starting from where, what and how everything is going.
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	You have, you can listen them, can't you?
Gvozden:	If you can just write down my number.
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Good, just a moment. Tell me, what should we do?
Gvozden:	Well, I have already mobilized one part.
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Call Rajko! If not, then call the General because these are not the barricades or spontaneous rebellion. It is an evident mobilization and beginning of civil war in Bosnia and Herzegovina. He doesn't not want to, to attend the conference. We received the letter.

Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Fine, the only thingnow only Sarajevo. I am scared that somebody does not launch something on their settlements from the big weapons.
Gvozden:	What?
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	I am afraid that somebody does not launch something on their settlements from the big weapons. If you're in contact with the people who are in possession of it, to tell them to control themselves till we see to where they'll go and what they will do.
Gvozden:	Fine, we are going to wait. I am in contact with the person over the hill.
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Good.
Gvozden:	And I am going to inform those in top.
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Good. Good. It is necessary because this time Serbs did nothing.
Gvozden:	Nothing. What did we do?
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Nobody did a thing. Now the time difference of already 3, 4 hours between our and their mobilization should be shown clearly.
Gvozden:	They started the mobilization earlier, two hours ago.
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Excuse me?
Gvozden:	They started the mobilization slowly two hours ago.
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Yes, yes. What are you suggesting? Should we do something more?
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	That they dismiss it, to dismiss it because I am scared that they will start shooting from big weapons, rockets and howitzers on their settlements, then Sarajevo will be fucked.
Gvozden:	They will most probably start.
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	I am scared that it doesn't start and then....If you have any connections with the people who are in possession of the weapons, tell them to wait, to control themselves as long as possible.
Gvozden:	Wherever they attack us, we will return the fire severely.

Here is completely clear that the Serb side didn't want to instigate any conflict, and that the President didn't have anyone under his control and command, that he even didn't know what should and could be done, nor he knew those who had the big calobres weaponry!

2177. By March 1992, Bosnian Serbs established a check-point on the bridge across the Bosna river in the Reljevo settlement and near the Butile Barracks, and gradually blocked the passage of Bosnian Muslims.⁷⁴¹² (Although the Prosecution/the Chamber had the insight in the previous document P5604, the Serbs are scotomised as the villains. Nota Bene: of 1 March 1992 there happened the killing on the wedding ceremony in front of the Old Christian Othodox Church, which caused the greatest unrest in Sarajevo. The President and his close associates were in Belgrade. But, both sides erected barricades, and the Muslim side was the first to mobilise, as seen from the P5604, and also they were "up-to-date" with the barricades, see ⁷⁴¹² Ramiz Mujkić, T. 12427, 12433–12434 (25 February 2011); P2314 (Witness statement of Ramiz Mujkić dated 4 February 2011), paras. 17–18; P2327 (Map marked by Ramiz Mujkić); P2329 (Rajlovac Crisis Staff Order, 9 April 1992); KDZ041, T. 12083–12086 (17 February 2011); D2387 (Witness statement of Stojan Džino dated 4 November 2012), para. 12. Mujkić testified that the check-point was erected in January 1992. See Ramiz Mujkić, T. 12427, 12433 (25 February 2011); D1101 (Excerpts from witness statements of Ramiz Mujkić, undated), e-court p. 3. By contrast, Stojan Džino, testified that it was after the murder of the wedding guest in Sarajevo in March 1992 that Bosnian Serbs erected the first barricades. See D2387 (Witness statement of Stojan Džino dated 4 November 2012), paras. 9, 70. KDZ041 could only recall that the Serb barricades were erected sometime by the end of February or the beginning of March 1992. See P2310 (Witness statement of KDZ041 dated 14 February 2011), para. 4 (under seal). But see KDZ041, T. 12083 (17 February 2011) (indicating that the barricades were erected in the period of 20 to 25 May 1992). See paras. 3533–3539.

Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Theirs, is it?
Gvozden:	Yes, yes.
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	No, they, they are starting the civil war.
Gvozden:	It's done, it's them. It would be a bad idea you to call Alija.
Radovan KARADŽIĆ:	Aha.

On 9 April 1992, the Rajlovac municipality Crisis Staff ordered the “active observation” of the entire territory of Rajlovac municipality by means of controlling all vehicles and people moving in the direction of the “Distribution Centre”.⁷⁴¹³ (Those are #all legal and legitimate activities# of the local authorities! If the authorities didn't do that, they would be criminally responsible due to the Law on All-People's Defence!) The Rajlovac municipality Crisis Staff also ordered that one policeman and two TO members should be present at all times at the check-point towards the Distribution Centre.⁷⁴¹⁴ (Those are #all legal and legitimate activities# of the local authorities. The Prosecution was obliged to present the facts in the light of the domestic legislation, so that the Chamber does not live in an illusion, and thus makes a wrong deliberations!)

2179. Sometime after 20 May 1992, Ramiz Mujkić met a group of Albanian JNA soldiers who were in charge of the security of the Butile Barracks and who told him that they would help the Bosnian Muslim TO take over the barracks.⁷⁴¹⁸ (Look at that! Was it legal? Were the Serbs supposed to just watch it and not do anything to protect themselves? Such a huge treason of the JNA should have been processed in the martial courts!) Ramiz Mujkić subsequently informed Hasan Mujkić of this proposal but was shown a written message from Alija Delimustafić, the Minister of BiH MUP,⁷⁴¹⁹ prohibiting any such take-over.⁷⁴²⁰ Three or four days later, Delimustafić reversed his position but the take-over of the Butile Barracks could not be carried out as a number of White Eagles had arrived there in the meantime.⁷⁴²¹

2180. On 22 May 1992, the SRK commander, Tomislav Šipčić, ordered the formation of the Rajlovac TO Brigade, thus subordinating the Rajlovac TO to the SRK, and appointed the Rajlovac Crisis Staff president, who at that time was Jovo Božić, to the post of the commander of the Brigade.⁷⁴²² On 28 May 1992, Božić reported to the Bosnian Serb government that the “Serbian Army of the Serbian Municipality of Rajlovac” included 1,280 conscripts.⁷⁴²³ (All of it was #regular and lawful#!)

Residents of the settlement Doglad informed us that HOS members and Green berets had set the ultimatum to the citizens of Serbian ethnicity to give in their weapons till 09:00 hrs on 03-06 or else they would be attacked.

And further, what was the situation in the region of Rajlovac-Ahatovići: D1240:

At 11:35 we were informed that members of Green berets were moving from the direction of Oštrik village redeploying their troops at Kobiljača towards the Serbian positions; then at 15:45 we received an information that Green berets attacked Rakovica from the direction of Oštrik.

On 02-06 at 12:00 a person with unknown identity informed us that there was a concentration of Green berets at Stup, assuming that they would try to break through up to Ahatovići, where the field is being cleared.

At 18:00 anonymous individual informed us that Green berets are preparing the attack on Rakovica from Otes.

Also, on 17 June 1992, during the 122nd Session of the BiH Presidency, Sefer Halilović reported that in the territory of Novi Grad, the enemy forces numbered 1,200 and had in their possession, inter alia, ten tanks, 26 APCs, 129 Mortars, 12 PEA guns, eight PEA machineguns, 22 hand-held rocket launchers, nine pieces of 82 mm mortar guns, four pieces of 82 mm recoilless guns, five cannons and several sniper nests. ⁷⁴²⁴ KDZ041, T. 12081–12083 (17 February 2011); P2310 (Witness statement of KDZ041 dated 14 February 2011), para. 5 (under seal). See also Adjudicated Fact 2607. The Chamber is cognisant of the fact that in his statement, Witness KDZ041 referred to the beginning of March 1992 as the period during which Serbs requested that the inhabitants of Ahatovići leave the area whereas during his testimony, he asserted that the request was in fact made at the end of May 1992, that is, after the outbreak of war in Sarajevo. The Chamber is also mindful that according to Adjudicated Fact 2607, this request was conveyed to the inhabitants of Ahatovići in March 1992. The Chamber considers, however, that the meeting in question took place around the end of May 1992 as stated by KDZ041 during his testimony. First, that period roughly coincides with the outbreak of hostilities in Sarajevo, as well as the alleged attack on the village of Ahatovići. Second, in his statement, Stojan Džino stated that the last meeting between Muslims from Ahatovići and Serbs took place on 27 May 1992. D2387 (Witness statement of Stojan Džino dated 4 November 2012), paras. 12–13. The Chamber notes, however, that this inconsistency in the evidence of KDZ041 is not so grave that it would affect his overall credibility.

⁷⁴²⁵ The Chamber notes that during his testimony before the Chamber, KDZ041 denied that there was a crisis staff in Ahatovići and instead referred to the existence of a group of village elders. See KDZ041, T. 12080, 12087–12089 (17 February 2011). The Chamber, however, does not accept this part of KDZ041’s testimony since in his witness statement, he stated that a crisis staff headed by Hasan Mujkić was formed in Ahatovići, and then proceeded to list its members. P2310 (Witness statement of KDZ041 dated 14 February 2011), para. 10 (under seal). Moreover, Ramiz Mujkić also indirectly confirmed the existence of the said crisis staff. See P2314 (Witness statement of Ramiz Mujkić dated 4 February 2011), para. 32. With respect to the existence of Muslim’s barricades, the Chamber notes that in one of his written statements, Ramiz Mujkić stated that Muslims had set up barricades in Dobroševići and Ahatovići. See D1101 (Excerpts from witness statements of Ramiz Mujkić, undated), e-court p. 5. However, during his testimony, he denied that there were such barricades. See Ramiz Mujkić, T. 12417–12420, 12432 (25 February 2011). In assessing this inconsistency, the Chamber considered the following: First, KDZ041 stated that after the Serbs had established barricades, the Muslims erected barricades of their own around Ahatovići. P2310 (Witness statement of KDZ041 dated 14 February 2011), para. 6 (under seal). Second, Ramiz Mujkić did in fact concede that the Muslim TO had a number of permanent positions, such as dugouts, around Ahatovići village. See P2314 (Witness statement of Ramiz Mujkić dated 4 February 2011), para. 25. The Chamber therefore does not rely on Ramiz Mujkić’s testimony that there were no Muslim barricades in Dobroševići and Ahatovići.

⁷⁴²⁸ According to KDZ041, the Serbs were ordered to leave their houses so that the paramilitary units could establish their positions. P2310 (Witness statement of KDZ041 dated 14 February 2011), para. 8 (under seal); KDZ041, T. 12090 (17 February 2011).

At 21:35 we were informed by an anonymous individual that Green berets were preparing the attack on Serbian municipality Ilidža, from the direction of Sarajevo.

As it can be seen, the entire area with all of the Muslim and Serb villages had been embattled, and Ahatovici was a very known Muslim armed stronghold, with a significant production of armament and ammunition. However, it had nothing to do with the President or anyone from the central Serb authorities. Nobody could, even if wanted, order the local people not to defend and not to take a precautionary measures! Simply, this shouldn't be a subject to this case, and could only be used as an argument against civil wars!): During the same period, the telephone and electricity lines to Ahatovići were disconnected.⁷⁴²⁹ By the end of May, Serbs had set up barricades on all the roads leading from Rajlovac and Bojnik to Sarajevo.⁷⁴³⁰ (Taking look of the above document D1240 and having in mind the intensive combat preparations and activities of the Muslim secret Army (the Patriotic League and Green Berets, no wonder the local Serbs took all of these precautionary measures. Is the UN Court of an opinion that the Serbs weren't entitled to defend themselves? If so, it should be said, and if not, the Indictment-Judgement are senseless. Patricularly it is senseless to charge this President for that, since there is no person or official all over the world who was entitled to order the jeopardized Serbs not to defend. Even if ordered, such an order wouldn't be obeyed, rightfully!) The individuals who manned these check-points stopped buses and vehicles and subjected the Bosnian Muslim passengers to searches, before refusing them passage to Sarajevo.⁷⁴³¹

i. Attack on Ahatovići

2184. On 27 May 1992, Serbs in both JNA and camouflage uniforms arrived on the hills around Ahatovići from the direction of Rajlovac with tanks and armoured vehicles.⁷⁴³⁴ Using megaphones, they urged the villagers to surrender.⁷⁴³⁵ They threatened: "Balijas, surrender, or we kill your children."⁷⁴³⁶ (#Deadly combination# Adjudicated Fact, unacceptable to the Defence. It is not serious to manipulate with so many adjudicated facts in such an important case, against such a highly positioned Serb official!) When the villagers refused, at around 11 p.m. Serb Forces launched an attack, which was eventually repelled.⁷⁴³⁷ During this initial attack two Muslims were killed and ten were wounded.⁷⁴³⁸ #Nota bene, civilians repelled attack#! The Chamber is mindful that in his statement, KDZ041 stated that the barricades were erected in March whereas during his testimony he indicated that the barricades were erected sometime between 20 May 1992 and 25 May 1992. The Chamber considers that KDZ041's live testimony is more credible on this particular issue.

Stojan Džino testified that Hasan Mujkić requested, on 29 May 1992, that Jovo Božić allow the evacuation of the convoy containing women and children from Ahatovići to Sarajevo but this was not allowed because the Serbs suspected the evacuation to be a preparatory step for an attack on Bosnian Serb settlements. come? The attack was repelled by the unarmed civilians? The village of Ahatovići was a fortified Muslim stronghold from where they attacked and threatened all surrounding Serbian villages. #Abuse of civil settlements# The local Serbs had their own assumption and their own fears, and their own reasons. It had nothing to do with the central authorities, and nobody could order them not to defend and not to take a precautionary measures.

2185. On 29 May 1992,⁷⁴³⁹ a final attack was launched on Ahatovići and Dobroševići, with heavy artillery.⁷⁴⁴⁰ The shells were fired from all directions, including the Butile and Rajlovac Barracks.⁷⁴⁴¹ At this time, the women, children, and the elderly were moved to basements of several houses in the centre of the village.⁷⁴⁴² On 31 May, pursuant to the instructions of Fikret Mujkić, a member of the Ahatovići Crisis Staff, a group of villagers left for Bioča in order to meet two TO platoons from Visoko that were sent to facilitate the withdrawal of the villagers.⁷⁴⁴³ (So, Ahatovići had a Crisis Staff, not only the Serb settlements? Also, Ahatovići had a help from Visoko. How many evidence is needed to accept the fact that Ahatovići was a #highly militarised village#, and that this hadn't been an attack on civilians?) Ramiz Mujkić was chosen to be a part of this group but did not manage to meet up with them and instead returned to Ahatovići on 3 June.⁷⁴⁴⁴ The shelling lasted until 1 or 2 June 1992, resulting in destruction of, and damage to, nearly 130 houses in Ahatovići and the death of 15 to 20 Bosnian Muslims.⁷⁴⁴⁵

2186. After the shelling stopped, Tintor as well as the local Serbs and members of paramilitary groups⁷⁴⁴⁶ mounted an infantry attack against Ahatovići.⁷⁴⁴⁷ During this infantry attack, about 20 Bosnian Muslim men were killed.⁷⁴⁴⁸ Subsequently, about 30 Bosnian Muslim villagers, including KDZ041, who had run out of ammunition (Sic!!!#Civilians run out of ammunition#!) decided to break through enemy lines and escape towards Visoko but were eventually hit by artillery fire.⁷⁴⁴⁹ In that instance, four Bosnian Muslim men were killed whereas a number of others, including KDZ041, were wounded.⁷⁴⁵⁰ (#And the killed had been depicted as civilians, ⁷⁴³⁹ The Chamber notes that according to KDZ041, the shelling of Ahatovići commenced sometime between 7 a.m. and 8 a.m. whereas according to the statement of Ramiz Mujkić, it began at 3 p.m.. P2310 (Witness statement of KDZ041 dated 14 February 2011), para. 17 (under seal); P2314 (Witness statement of Ramiz Mujkić dated 4 February 2011), para. 26. However, the Chamber finds that this discrepancy is not so serious that it would adversely affect the credibility and reliability of either witness.

⁷⁴⁴⁶ While KDZ041 testified that he saw men in JNA uniforms with white armbands and headbands and that those were members of the White Eagles, KDZ601 testified that the attack involved members of the “Oljača group of Chetniks” and that they were reinforced by VRS and MUP forces. See P2310 (Witness statement of KDZ041 dated 14 February 2011), para. 23 (under seal); KDZ601, T. 18588–18589 (8 September 2011). The Chamber also notes that it has received other evidence showing the participation of paramilitaries in this attack. For example, on 5 August 1992, the head of Ilidža Serb SJB lamented that the commander of the Ilidža Brigade had excluded “militia” from joint meals even though those forces had partaken in many combat activities such as those in Hadžići, Rakovica, Ahatovići and Dobrinja. P6639 (SJB Ilidža information, 5 August 1992), p. 6. On the basis of the foregoing evidence, the Chamber finds that paramilitaries took part in the attack against Ahatovići.

villagers?!?#) Soon after, Tintor, the local Serbs, and paramilitaries entered Ahatovići with APCs and tanks.⁷⁴⁵¹ Sometime during the shelling or the infantry attack, Ramiz Mujkić's younger sister and her daughter Elma Bešić who was only 15 years old at the time, were also killed.⁷⁴⁵²

(Regretable! But, keeping their own civilians within the combat zone was the responsibility of the Ahatovici leadership!#Abuse of civilians#!) Subsequently, houses belonging to Bosnian Muslims were looted and set ablaze.⁷⁴⁵³ The Serbs captured about 400 women and children and 80 men, in addition to the 150 women and children who had been captured in Dobroševići, Bojnik, and Mihaljevići prior to the attack on Ahatovići.⁷⁴⁵⁴ (See D1240 above, about the Muslim ultimatum to the Serb villages around Dobroševici. The Muslims #initiated the attacks, and had lost!#) Those captured in Ahatovići were subsequently taken in the direction of Rajlovac.⁷⁴⁵⁵ The attack was completed and Ahatovići came under Bosnian Serb control by 3 June 1992.⁷⁴⁵⁶

2187. On 5 June 1992, Mijatović, from the Rajlovac Municipal Assembly, informed Nedeljko Prstojević, the president of the Ilidža Crisis Staff⁷⁴⁵⁷ that Ahatovići was no longer a threat.⁷⁴⁵⁸

(Obviously, it was a threat, and that was a reason to demand their disarmament!) Following a request signed by the President and dated 19 July 1992, houses that were not destroyed in Ahatovići were provided to the Serb refugees from the Muslim part of Sarajevo.⁷⁴⁵⁹

(This is #not correct intervention# of the Chamber, because in the President's request there is not mentioned Ahatovici, nor it concerned the combat areas! Why it was necessary? Because the Chamber's young associates felt they needed everything against the President, since what they did have, was nothing!)

(Those were the #military and security reasons#. Let us see what was said in the P2308, which was the base for this findings: P2308, p.1.

Process of disintegration of Yugoslavia, and especially the events that have taken place on Croatian territory, indicated that similar fate could befall Serbian people living on the territory of then Bosnia and Herzegovina. This Public security station is obliged to undertake appropriate measures for protection of interests of Serbian people on the territory under its control and wider, due to the systematic take-over of the authority in the state and the economy, control and take-over of the capital, processes taking place in the army of that time, coalition between Muslims and Croats, created after the election and the creation of the multinational parties, against Serbian interests and the division of MUP.

Division of MUP of Bosnia and Herzegovina of that time, became more pronounced and radical, and was immediately applied in Public security stations within the city. Depending on the national structure of the employees, as well as the structure of the population in municipalities with active Public security stations, national parties took over the control over those stations and by doing so created the favourable conditions to control the entire municipality area, considering that the army remained passive to those events. Without any resistance, SDA party took control over Public security stations in Stari Grad, Centar, Novo Sarajevo and Novi Grad, resulting in death of one Serbian policeman in Novo Sarajevo and extremely difficult position of Serbs in the area of Ilidža municipality, where authority was taken by the SDA party after the elections.

This was the consequence of the real “take-over” by the SDA party! Further:

Muslims considered the territory of Ilidža municipality very important, from political and military aspect, because of its position and specific strategic structures like roads and railway that link Sarajevo with Eastern and Central Bosnia and Herzegovina.

p.4:

Since the defence line was created, the attacks on free territory increased, especially on the settlement in Kasindolska street and Nedarići, the line of Health Centre, Šumarska and Pejton.

From all attacks that have been carried out, we set apart as follows: Strong artillery-infantry attack was carried out on the frontline near Health Centre on the 04.04.1992, but was successfully repulsed by members of police force, even though the enemy used 2 APCs while the only thing we had at our disposal were infantry armament and a few anti-armoured devices.

General attack on all defence lines of free territory was carried out on 22.04.1992 with strong artillery equipment and lasted for 12 hours. 83 exploded shells were counted only in the immediate proximity of the Public security station. Police unit from Public security station Hadžići participated in defence of the Pejton front line.

Strong and sudden attack was carried out on 14.05.1992 from the direction of Sokolović Kolonija and Hrasnica, during which several volunteers lost their lives and the enemy seriously endangered our control on that territory.

And then the first Serb counteroffensives started 6 weeks after the first Muslim offensives, see the same document P2308, p.5:

13.05.1992, in joint action with Hadžići Public security station, Binježevo was liberated and by doing so, free territory of Hadžići municipality was joined to Ilidža.

In period between 15.15.-31.05.1992 big territory of Rakovica local municipality was liberated and by doing so free territories of Kobiljača and Blažuj were joint, while causing severe losses to the enemy.

01.06.1992, beginning of the action of liberation of Ahatovići, Muslim strategic point, where their factory for armament and ammunition was located. The action was successfully brought to an end, joining territories of Butile and Rajlovac. Mijanović Miroslav was killed in this action and one member was wounded.

Here is the village of #Ahatovici, almost eight weeks after the war broke out#, although the Serbs have known it as a #Muslim stronghold#, nobody touched them until the Muslim forces from Doglody issued an ultimatum to the Serb villages in the vicinity of Ahatovici! How it was possible that the UN Court justified so many illegal, unlawful and anti-Constitutional acts of the Muslim secessionists, and intend to sanction and punish every single defence of the Serb side? This is going to be mentioned throughout the time as a unique example!)

2191. Several days after the incident, Ramiz Mujkić, who was hiding in the forest above Ahatovići at the time, observed an excavator digging three holes in three different locations in the village and a number of Serb soldiers throwing bodies in these holes, which were then covered with soil.⁷⁴⁶⁸ (It is clear even to children that those bodies had been the combat casualties. If it was not so, why the Serbs would wait for several days to bury them. Obviously, when it was assessed that there was no more Muslim combatants, the civil protection made the sanitation of the battlefield!) In 1996, authorities from CSB Sarajevo exhumed the mortal remains of 25 Bosnian Muslim men and women from three different locations in Ahatovići.⁷⁴⁶⁹ KDZ041 identified four of these individuals as victims of the above-described execution.⁷⁴⁷⁰ (And how come they had been executed on some other places and buried with the combat

Contrary to this evidence, Džino stated that the 15 Bosnian Muslim men were combatants who were killed during combat. D2387 (Witness statement of Stojan Džino dated 4 November 2012). The Chamber, however, does not accept Džino’s evidence for the following reasons. First, KDZ041 gave reliable and detailed evidence of the executions of the 15 captured Bosnian Muslim men which he witnessed. Second, the Chamber found Džino’s evidence to be generally marked with contradictions. (But, how the Chamber would explain that there was no the Muslim combat casualties whatsoever, not only in Ahatovići, but everywhere? All the combat casualties had been depicted as a victims of executions, and that was the result of the “preparations of witnesses by the Muslim secret services, see KDZ065, or 045@@@)

See also D1105 (Supplemental information sheet for Ramiz Mujkić, 1 November 2004). On 3 June 1992, Ramiz Mujkić returned to Ahatovići and while moving through the village, was shot at. He escaped to the woods where he met Huso Gačanović and the two of them proceeded towards the forest known as Ptičija Glava, where they stayed until they were captured on 6 August 1992. These 25 individuals are Elma Bešić (female, 1976), Razija Bešić (male, 1953), Džemail Bukalo (male, 1959), Mesud Burić (male, 1965), Admir Čaušević (male, 1972), Osman Čaušević (male, 1948), Elvedin Đedović (male, 1975), Hamid Divolić (male, 1950), Osman Evendić (male, 1954), Avdo Gačanović (male, 1944), Hamid Gačanović (male, 1952), Šerifa Hrustanović (female, 1942), Ramiz Hrvačić (male, 1950), Vahid Ligata (male, 1966), Nihad Mešanović (male, 1970), Samir Mujkić (male, 1966), Ajša Novalija (female, 1951), Šaban Peljto (male, 1969), Meho Rizvanović (male, 1966), Jusuf Suljić (male, 1961), Nijaz Šehović (male, 1962), Nihad Tokmo (male, 1970), Ahmo Uhota (male, 1951), Bećir Žiga (male, 1953) and Meho Žiga (male, 1930). In P4853, the name Šerifa Hrustanović appears twice, once as the daughter of Meho with 1942 as the year of birth and once as son of Jusuf with 1950 as the year of birth. However, in P4883 (Data on exhumations in the Sarajevo region in the period of 1996–1998), p. 18, it is stated that Ramiz Hrvačić was born in 1950 and that his father’s first name was Jusuf. Having had regard to the name of father and the year of birth, the Chamber is satisfied that the second entry in P4853 was intended for Ramiz Hrvačić and not Šerifa Hrustanović. What is more, in P4883, the first name of Nijaz Šehović (male, 1962) is recorded as Nihaz. Nevertheless, the Chamber finds that this discrepancy is so minor that it does not have a bearing on the Chamber’s finding with respect to Scheduled Incident A.9.1. Also, in P4883 Džemail Bukalo’s first name is recorded as Džemal. However, the Chamber finds that this discrepancy is very minor. In P4883 Mesud Burić’s first name appears as Mensud. The Chamber finds that this inconsistency is also very minor.

⁷⁴⁷⁰ The individuals identified by KDZ041 as victims of Scheduled Incident A.9.1 are Jusuf Suljić, Nihad Tokmo, Bećir Žiga and Meho Žiga. P2310 (Witness statement of KDZ041 dated 14 February 2011), paras. 13, 26.

casualties, being killed on a quite different places? Who transported them, and for what purpose? Also, what prevented the KDZ041 to lie and count the combat casualties into his “list” of an alleged execution?)

2193. In light of the foregoing, the Chamber finds that, following the attack on Ahatovići, on or about 1 June 1992, the Serb Forces executed 15 Bosnian Muslim men who had surrendered. (#Protected lies#! This had not been proven properly, as a criminal law would demand. This fact compromises all the unnecessary “protective measures” because the protection enables endless lies! Thus the Defence do not have any possibility to rebut these kind of an obscure assertions with the help of the public!)

i. Scheduled Incident D.15

2194. The Indictment refers to the destruction of the Ahatovići mosque on or about 4 June 1992.⁷⁴⁷²

2195. The Chamber received evidence that a detonation destroyed the Ahatovići mosque, leaving only the stump of its minaret standing.⁷⁴⁷³ Stojan Džino testified that it happened on 4 June 1992, during the combat activities related to the attack on Ahatovići village, and that he observed the explosion from a distance.⁷⁴⁷⁴ Džino heard rumours that the ammunitions and the explosives that had been stored in the mosque by Bosnian Muslims had been hit by a heavy-calibre weapon, thus causing a significant explosion which destroyed the entire mosque.⁷⁴⁷⁵ Ramiz Mujkić denied that explosives were stored in the mosque.⁷⁴⁷⁶ Mujkić, moreover, testified that he returned to Ahatovići in the morning of 3 June 1992.⁷⁴⁷⁷ According to Mujkić, at that time, the Muslim houses were being guarded by local Serbs and that for this reason he had to travel through the village via Serb houses.⁷⁴⁷⁸ The Chamber also notes that contrary to Džino’s assertion that combat activities were still ongoing on 4 June 1992, a SerBiH MUP Report indicates that by 3 June 1992, Serb Forces had assumed control of Ahatovići.⁷⁴⁷⁹ (Since there is the evidence on the #abuse of the Islamic community# and Islamic objects# for the purpose of the war, this moment should have been treated due to rule “in dubio pro reo”. But, stil the main question is: what does it have to do with the President? The local people attacked and defended in accordance with the assumed jeopardy, and nobody could have influenced it!)

2196. On the basis of the foregoing, the Chamber finds that the mosque in Ahatovići was destroyed due to a detonation on 4 June 1992 and that Serb Forces were responsible for causing the detonation which destroyed the mosque. (#Absurdity#! Why the Serbs would bring such an amount of explosive so far from their barracks, just to use it without any purpose? If it was so, during the transport they could have been hit by fire, and all the construct is unbelievable! And what has it to do with the President?)

i. Scheduled Detention Facility C.17.1 and Scheduled Incident B.12.1

which housed approximately 130 Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats from Dobroševići, Mihaljevići, Bojnik, Kobiljska, and Bioča.⁷⁴⁹⁴

2199. The two cisterns formerly belonged to “Energopetrol Company” and had not been used since 1985.⁷⁴⁹⁵ They housed the male detainees.⁷⁴⁹⁶ Near the cisterns were two buildings which were the premises of “Tehnogas Company” and the Distribution Centre.⁷⁴⁹⁷

2200. On the morning of 2 June 1992, Mile Stojanović arrived and introduced himself as the commander of the “camp”.⁷⁴⁹⁸ He wore a blue uniform which, although very similar to the police uniform, did not have any insignia.⁷⁴⁹⁹ On that occasion, Stojanović was accompanied by an individual named Šok and four others.⁷⁵⁰⁰ Šok wore the same blue uniform and also had a Yugoslav flag sewn onto his shirt.⁷⁵⁰¹ Stojanović then asked the detainees for their identification cards and made a list of their names,⁷⁵⁰² while Šok asked them about the weapons they had used and the nature of their duties.⁷⁵⁰³ (Just to be clear: “[ok” in Albanian meant “friend” or “drug” in Serbian. Since the two belonged obviously to the “Orao” Factory, belonging to the JNA, he may have been an Albanian, but not necessarily!) Šok also inquired whether Hasan Mujkić, Husein Mujkić, and Meho Novalija, who were SDA political leaders, had been present during the attack on Ahatovići.⁷⁵⁰⁴ After the prisoners were registered, Šok and his four men took two Bosnian Muslim men out of the cistern and beat them while questioning them about the weapons they used.⁷⁵⁰⁵ When Stojanović returned on the same day, he saw the bruises on the men and promised that it would not happen again.⁷⁵⁰⁶ Stojanović then indicated that there would be two prisoner exchanges, one involving women and children and the other at Kobilja Glava, involving the prisoners from the smaller cistern.⁷⁵⁰⁷ Despite Stojanović’s pledge, however, on a nearly daily basis Šok took two or three prisoners in front of the cisterns and subjected them to beatings.⁷⁵⁰⁸ On one occasion, he and his men took out two men, beat them and broke the latter’s arms.⁷⁵⁰⁹

2201. Due to the deposit of rainwater in the cisterns, the detainees were forced to stand for the entire duration of their detention.⁷⁵¹⁰ They received no food or water during the first three days of their detention and afterwards received very little food and water.⁷⁵¹¹ On or about 3 June 1992, Šok forced a number of prisoners who did not have visible signs of injury to appear before a Serb television crew and state that they were being treated well.⁷⁵¹² (#Lie ad absurdum#! probable, since nobody would survive in a metal cistern in June for three days without water! If true about the appearance before the TV crew, it would obviously mean that Stojanovic as a superior, as well as the Serb public was not allowed to know the real state in the detention. But, from 1 June to 3 June is not as long period as said in these paragraphs, which probably was one and a half day!)

2202. During the first week of June 1992, three new prisoners, namely Hajro Delić, his son, and Džemail Sačić were brought to the smaller cistern.⁷⁵¹³ A few days into his detention, Delić was taken away and brought back the following day, severely injured.⁷⁵¹⁴ He told the other prisoners that he had been severely beaten and abused by Šok on orders from Nikola Stanišić and that during the questioning, Stanišić had asked for one million German Marks as the price for releasing him.⁷⁵¹⁵ Soon after that, Delić succumbed to his injuries and died.⁷⁵¹⁶ (A very #weak and loose evidence#. What does it have to do with the President?)

2203. On two occasions, a man by the name of Žuti who was rumoured to be Tintor's chauffeur and a former "member of the Special Forces of Dragan Vikić" came to the smaller cistern, called out the names of a number of prisoners, indicating that they were to be taken for exchange in Ilidža.⁷⁵¹⁷ None of these individuals have since been seen alive and KDZ041 heard that the remains of some of them were found at the Vlakovo city cemetery.⁷⁵¹⁸ (This level of #"hear-say"# is not correct and shouldn't be included in such a case!)

2204. On one occasion, Žuti approached one of the cisterns and threw in a gas grenade.⁷⁵¹⁹ Immediately after Žuti had left, one of the guards opened the door to the cistern so that the prisoners could come out for fresh air.⁷⁵²⁰ (So, the guard as an official helped the detainees, while "Žuti" and his capacity is unknown for sure! #Next level#!)

2205. Between 1 and 14 June 1992, Stojanović, Šok, and other members of the special unit accompanied a man to one of the cisterns; this man then pointed out Enver Čelik, alleging that Čelik had abused his sister.⁷⁵²¹ Šok and the other men took Čelik behind the cisterns, hanged him by his arms and killed him by hitting him twice in the back with iron bars.⁷⁵²²

2206. On 12 June 1992, the prisoners from the smaller cistern were told that they would be taken to Kobilja Glava, in order to be exchanged.⁷⁵²³ The next day, Stojanović called the names of 56 individuals and instructed them to board two trucks.⁷⁵²⁴ The two trucks travelled to a police station in Sokolac, then to the Koran Barracks, on to Rogatica, and finally to Pale, where they stopped near the Panorama Hotel.⁷⁵²⁵ At about 6 p.m., the trucks returned to Rajlovac.⁷⁵²⁶ At that point, the larger cistern was empty as the people detained there had been exchanged on that day so the 56 detainees were placed there.⁷⁵²⁷ On 14 June 1992, Hamo Karić, whose injuries had become infected, was taken out of the cistern in order to be exchanged.⁷⁵²⁸

2207. During the course of their respective cross-examinations, Stojan Džino and Mihajlo Vujasin both conceded that the civilians from Ahatovići had been taken to the Rajlovac Barracks and detained.⁷⁵²⁹ @@@ Vujasin even admitted that a few of the Bosnian Muslims were subjected to beatings there and that he had risked his life when ensuring that the detainees were not harmed by “certain individuals”.⁷⁵³⁰ (As usually, “the next level”, i.e the first immediate superior tried to rectify misdeeds of some individuals. The superiors are the legitimate representatives of the official policy, not some renegades that neglected the President’s order pertaining to the treatment of POWs and civilians! But, let us see what Mr. Vujasin said, T.31804 to T.31806, and how a “cleverness” of the Prosecutor distorted the answers: Q. The Trial Chamber has also heard evidence that by the end of the war there was only one Muslim family living in Ahatovici. Does that sound about right to you? A. I just know that the population had fled to Rajlovac and from Rajlovac into town and then wherever they wanted to go, that is to say in accordance with their own wishes. As for this family, I cannot say. I don't really know. They could have returned. Whoever wanted to could return after these unfortunate developments -- Q. All right. You -- A. -- because they had this free will that they could express. However, the set of circumstances then was very difficult. Would you allow me to explain that? Q. No. But you can explain it if Mr. Karadzic deems it important in redirect, but let me ask you another question. Were you aware that as a result of this operation several hundred people from this settlement were detained in different places in Rajlovac? Were you aware of that? A. That I do know, and I barely survived, I and Mirko Krajisnik, in terms of these consequences -- may I proceed? Q. Stop there for a moment and let's just back up. You just said -- I asked about people being detained, and you said, as I understand it, I do know and I barely survived in terms of consequences. Are you suggesting you were detained? A. No, not me, taking care that these people do not get hurt. I'm referring to people who sought shelter in the Rajlovac barracks, from Mijatovici Brda, Zenica. These people who were expelled from Central Bosnia, they were all in barracks and officers and soldiers and families and they were all there, whereas these people had fled to our territory so we saved them and we had to provide for them. We had nowhere else to put them up so we were taking care of them so they would not be victimised in any way, and that's what happened. Fire was even opened at Mirko Krajisnik. Q. All right. So you say that when this attacked happened, you were at a meeting elsewhere, but now I understand it that you are suggesting that when these people were detained, you had some -- some role in ensuring that they were safe. Is that what we're to understand? A. Saved, yes. Yes, saving these people who had fled. Q. Sir, the Trial Chamber has heard evidence that a number of these people were maltreated. They were beaten. They were kept in inhumane conditions. Were you aware of that? A. I knew that they were not beaten or anything. There were situations when one individual or two would be beaten up. There was this rage. We had terrible problems to prevent that, to prevent individuals from doing that. We had terrible problems to prevent these unfortunate things happening, and these unfortunate things being done by certain individuals. I mean, people had rifles and how would I know whether they'd open a burst of gunfire at them or whatever. I mean, it wasn't good. It's not even good to think about that, about all the things that could have happened but fortunately did not happen. Q.

2208. Between 9 and 18 June 1997, the remains of nine Bosnian Muslim men were exhumed from the Vlakovo cemetery in Ilidža municipality.⁷⁵³¹ Out of those, six were identified by KDZ041 as having been killed during their detention in the cisterns.⁷⁵³² According to Amor Mašović, with the exception of Edin Brajlović who was recorded as last seen alive on 17 June 1992 in Ahatovići, all these individuals were last seen alive on 1 or 2 June 1992 in Ahatovići.⁷⁵³³ The forensic evidence establishes the cause of death of seven of the nine victims as either gunshot to the head, gunshot to the chest cavity or injury to the head.⁷⁵³⁴ In light of the foregoing evidence, the Chamber finds that all of these nine individuals were killed, while detained in two cisterns near the Rajlovac Army Barracks some time during the first half of June 1992. (The Muslim-witnesses of the Prosecution were #free to lie# as much as they wanted. Vlakovo was a regular, official cemetery for the entire City of Sarajevo. It is a several tens of kilometres far from Sarajevo, and Rajlovac too. There is no a single proof that they hadn't been killed during the combats, and everyone could have stated they were executed, while they were not! Anyway, since there was several days of a fierce fighting in all, the Muslim and Serb villages: where are depicted the combat casualties? Edin Brajlovic was seen last time on 17 June, how it happened he was buried with the alleged execution victims from the Rajlovac Barracks? Why it was so easy to deceive the Chamber?)

2209. Based on the foregoing, the Chamber finds that two reservoirs or cisterns near the Rajlovac Barracks had been turned into makeshift prisons for the male detainees and that the men detained there were given very little food and water and were forced to stand for the duration of their captivity. Further, the Chamber finds that the guards at this makeshift detention facility routinely subjected the male detainees to interrogations and beatings. (That had not been established that these were the guards, but some other individuals, rarely and prevented by the officials!) The Chamber notes that some of the men, including KDZ041, were combatants

⁷⁵³¹ These nine individuals are Imer Bajramović (male, 1950), Edin Brajlović (male, 1963), Zajko Brajlović (male, 1939), Zijad Brajlović (male, 1962), Refik Džaferović (male, 1955), Džemal Efendić (male, 1958), Amir Habibović (male, 1955), Rusmir Pašić (male, 1969) and Kadrija Ramadani (male, 1933). As regards the death of Edin Brajlović whose date of disappearance is indicated as 17 June 1992 in P4853, the Chamber has given consideration to the following facts. First, Edin Brajlović's cause of death was established as gunshot wound to the head. Second, according to evidence, Žuti removed him and a number of individuals from the cisterns and none of these individuals ever returned. Third, the body of Edin Brajlović was discovered at the same location where the remains of the eight individuals killed by Serb Forces were found, that is, in the mass grave in Vlakovo cemetery in Ilidža municipality. Based on these considerations, the Chamber finds that the reference in P4853 to 17 June 1992 as the day Edin Brajlović was last seen alive must be erroneous.

⁷⁵³² These six individuals are Edin Brajlović, Zajko Brajlović, Zijo Brajlović, Amir Habibović, Rusmir Pašić and Kadrija Ramadani. P2310 (Witness statement of KDZ041 dated 14 February 2011), para. 44 (under seal).

⁷⁵³⁴ P4885 (Sarajevo Cantonal Court record of post-mortem examination of victims exhumed at Vlakovo, 25 August 1997), pp. 33–39. The forensic documentation does not indicate the cause of death of the remaining victim, namely Zajko Brajlović. In relation to Imer Bajramović, the Chamber notes that the cause of death was determined to be penetration of the body by harpoon. See P4885 (Sarajevo Cantonal Court record of post-mortem examination of victims exhumed at Vlakovo, 25 August 1997), pp. 29–30.

prior to their detention.⁷⁵³⁵ (It would be reasonable to presume that all the able bodied #Ahatovici men were combatants#!)

2210. The Chamber also finds that sometime during the first week of June 1992, Serb Forces killed two Bosnian Muslim detainees in or near the cisterns⁷⁵³⁶ and that sometime during the first half of June 1992, Serb Forces removed nine Bosnian Muslim men from the cisterns in the Rajlovac Barracks and subsequently killed them.⁷⁵³⁷ (Let us first see what really KDZ041 said on the subject, T. 12070-71: Q. Witness, in your statement, this is at paragraph 44, you state that on or around the 10th of June, Zuti came to your container and called ten people out. And you go on to say that you A. Yes. Q. They had never been heard of or seen again. Do you have any information as to what became of those ten men? A. These men were allegedly taken out for an exchange. As far as I can remember, it was stated that they were taking them to Ilidza. However, as far as I can remember, I never heard of them again. I mean, I heard that they had been killed and some of them were found at Vlakovo, in the city cemetery. (Is that all? How possibly any chamber could have drawn such an inference from this testimony? If the Muslims had been “taken out for an exchange” and all other is hear-say, while the same witness said that some of them had been found in Vlakovo the city cemetery. The most probable inference would be that they had been exchanged, and some of them died in combats, and were buried in Vlakovo! Another question is: what kind of the Serb forces were those from whom Vujasin, as an officer was scared and risked his life to protect the detainees? But, the main problem with this Judgement is – there is #no evidence that those men had been killed out of the combats#. How was it possible that so fierce fightings went without the combat casualties? It was possible, because all of them had been depicted as a men killed in executions!#Combatants depicted as civilians#!)

i. Scheduled Incident B.12.2

2211. The Indictment alleges that at least 47 men were taken from the cisterns and killed near Srednje in Ilijaš municipality on or about 14 June 1992.

cars which had been travelling behind the bus had disappeared.⁷⁵⁴⁴ Žuti proceeded to drive the bus for another ten minutes before stopping near the separation line.⁷⁵⁴⁵

2214. The four remaining survivors walked all night and eventually made their way to Vukašovići, a village under the control of Bosnian Muslim TO.⁷⁵⁵³ The residents of Vukašovići, along with the Bosnian Muslim TO, then went to the scene in order to pull the dead bodies from the bus and, while at the scene, discovered another two survivors.⁷⁵⁵⁴ In addition, two more survivors were later found in the village of Palanka.⁷⁵⁵⁵ (If so, then this point was #not under the Serb control#, i.e. on the Serb side of confrontation line. Otherwise the Muslim TO wouldn't be there without fighting!)

2215. The dead bodies were eventually removed from the bus, while the burned and damaged bus was filmed by a certain Ibrahim.⁷⁵⁵⁶ Towards the end of the removal, a number of VRS members, headed by Dragan Ikanović, who was from Srednje and who was allegedly a commander of Serb police,⁷⁵⁵⁷ appeared at the scene accompanied by two trucks in order to tow the bus.⁷⁵⁵⁸ Ikanović and his men were told to leave.⁷⁵⁵⁹ (How come, Ikanovic was not killed, if the Serbs did it? Also unusual and even peculiar: if it was the Muslim TO on the Serb territory, there would be a skirmish. It seems that there were the Muslim civilians, that the point where the bus had been probably the Muslim, or “on no man’s land.” It is also peculiar that the KDZ041 was there after what happened, and was able to see what happened).

P2310 (Witness statement of KDZ041 dated 14 February 2011), para. 55 (under seal). The Chamber however, does not find that this discrepancy is so acute that it would undermine the overall credibility of KDZ041's evidence with respect to Scheduled Incident B.12.2.

Members of the Bosnian Muslim TO then used tractors to take the bodies to the village of Ravne, in Ilijaš municipality, and buried them in a mass grave near that village.⁷⁵⁶⁰ Before the burial, the survivors of the attack managed to identify 40 out of the 47 individuals who had been killed on the bus.⁷⁵⁶¹ A few days later, Ikanović and his men came back and set the bus on fire.⁷⁵⁶²

(#Absurdity#! How the KDZ041 knew that? And would any of the Muslim combatants so easily come to the Serb territory to burn the bus? And why they burned the bus? Maybe because there were evidence that the Muslim side fired against the bus? And why the Serb soldiers would have come to tow the ruins of the bus? And if it was done by the Serbs, why the Serbs would destroy their own bus, which was a very valuable asset?)

2216. The remains of 47 Bosnian Muslim men were exhumed from a mass grave in the village of Ravne on 24–26 June 1996.⁷⁵⁶³ According to Amor Mašović, each of these 47 individuals was recorded as last seen in either Ahatovići or Dobroševići on 1 June 1992.⁷⁵⁶⁴ (So what? What does it says about the way they died and whose responsibility was that?)

2217. The President contends that due to conflicting evidence it is impossible to properly ascertain the identity of the perpetrators who carried out the attack on the bus.⁷⁵⁶⁵ He submits that there is evidence that tends to show, on the one hand, that Boro Radić—a man who frequently acted without orders and who was psychologically unstable—had organised the attack, and on the other hand, that the attack had been carried out by Brne’s group—a paramilitary unit led by

According to Ramiz Mujkić, his sister’s husband and her son who was almost 21 years old were both killed during the attack on the bus on or about 14 June 1992. Ramiz Mujkić stated, moreover, that 13 individuals with the last name Mujkić were killed in the incident. Mujkić added that Zaim Rizvanović who was the fifth son in his family survived the bus incident whereas his four brothers died. P2314 (Witness statement of Ramiz Mujkić dated 4 February 2011), para. 49.

In P4853 (Updated Table 2 to the Report of Amor Mašović), p. 88, reference is made to Midhat Muharemović, born on 1958 and son of Murat. However, in P4883 (Data on exhumations in the Sarajevo region in the period of 1996–1998), p. 32, reference is made to Fikret Muharemović, born in 1958 and son of Murat. Having had regard to the name of father and the year of birth, as well as the fact that KDZ041 mentions the name Midhat Muharemović, the Chamber is satisfied that the correct first name of the victim in question is in fact Midhat and not Fikret. P2310 (Witness statement of KDZ041 dated 14 February 2011), p. 59 (under seal).

⁷⁵⁶⁴ P4853 (Updated Table 2 to the Report of Amor Mašović), pp. 87–89. The Chamber notes that there are some discrepancies between the forensic evidence and the evidence of KDZ041 as regards the names of some of the victims of Scheduled Incident B.12.2. More specifically, KDZ041’s witness statement contains references to Meho Pašić, Salem Bešić, Ahmed Bečković, Šućro Bečić, Samir Hrustenmović, Almir Mujkić, Edmir Mujkić, Mehmed Mujkić, Šaćir Mujjić, Ismet Rizvan, Nedžad Rizvan, and Sulejman Rizvan. P2310 (Witness statement of KDZ041 dated 14 February 2011), para. 59 (under seal). By contrast, in the forensic reports of BiH authorities dealing with exhumation and identification of victims, the names of these individuals are recorded as Meho Bašić, Salem Bečić, Ahmilo Bečković, Šućrija Bešić, Samir Hrustemović, Armin Mujkić, Emir Mujkić, Hemed Mujkić, Šaćir Mujkić, Ismet Rizvanović, Nedžad Rizvanović and Sulejman Rizvanović. P4853 (Updated Table 2 to the Report of Amor Mašović), pp. 88–89; P4883 (Data on exhumations in the Sarajevo region in the period of 1996–1998), pp. 32–34. However, the Chamber considers these inconsistencies to be minor and accordingly concludes that these are in fact the same individuals. Further, KDZ041’s witness statement contains references to four persons who are not listed in the above-mentioned forensic reports, i.e., Nazif Mujkić, Safet Rizvan, Vahid Rizvan, and Nijaz Tiro. P2310 (Witness statement of KDZ041 dated 14 February 2011), para. 59 (under seal). Similarly, the forensic reports refer to 11 individuals who are not mentioned in the witness statement of KDZ041, i.e., Hamid Adilović, Fadil Bečković, Nusret Bečković, Ibrahim Boloban, Jusuf Džuhro, Ale Mehmedović, Nedžad Mešanović, Ramiz Peljto, Izet Rizvanović, Mehmed Rizvanović, and Ramiz Ušto. P4853 (Updated Table 2 to the Report of Amor Mašović), pp. 88–89; P4883 (Data on exhumations in the Sarajevo region in the period of 1996–1998), pp. 32–34. Having considered these inconsistencies, the Chamber does not consider them to be of significance, as it is satisfied, as will be seen below, that 47 men indeed died in this incident.

⁷⁵⁶⁵ Defence Final Brief, para. 1710.

Branislav Gavrilović, which the Bosnian Serb authorities tried to disband or even liquidate because of their criminal activities and substance abuse.⁷⁵⁶⁶ Finally, the President argues that there is also evidence which indicates that the attack on the bus was carried out by Bosnian Muslims who erroneously thought that the bus was filled with Serbs.⁷⁵⁶⁷

2218. The Chamber will now identify and analyse the relevant evidence which implicates Bosnian Serb forces in the attack on the bus and examine whether there are inconsistencies in such evidence: (i) KDZ041 testified that he heard that the “main organisers” of the attack on the bus were Boro Radić, Dragan Ikanović, and Ratko Adžić;⁷⁵⁶⁸ (How KDZ041 was “reliable witness “could be seen from his testimony on T.1266 The second thing I wish to point out is that when we were taken prisoner, when Joja Tintor came to us, he introduced himself to us and he asked whether there were any wounded persons there. And from his military bag he took something out and gave us something to keep us warm. He wore the summer uniform of the JNA. He had a pistol at the waist. He had a military bag, and on his head, he wore a cap with a five-pointed red star. (Mr. Tintor would be the last one all over the world to have red star on his cap, since he comes from the sworn royalist family. In June 92 it is unbelievable that anybody had the red star on cap.!) (ii) Eset Muračević, a Bosnian Muslim who was detained in Vogošća municipality in the second half of 1992, stated that he had heard from a fellow detainee that a Serb prison guard by the name Predrag Žarković, alias Božur, was “[a]mong the group of Chetniks” who carried out the attack on the bus;⁷⁵⁶⁹ and (iii) KDZ601 testified that [REDACTED], he heard [REDACTED] that Branislav Gavrilović from Vučija Luka and his unit had “hit” the bus with Zoljas.⁷⁵⁷⁰ 2219. The Chamber, Judge Morrison dissenting, does not consider that the evidence of KDZ041 contradicts the evidence of Muračević on this issue because Muračević simply stated that Žarković was among the group of Chetniks who carried out the attack on the bus; he did not claim that Žarković was a main organiser of the attack. (Why the Chamber “forgot” to point out that Muracevic #only heard# that Zarkovic was there? The Chamber, Judge Morrison dissenting, is also satisfied that the evidence of KDZ601 is not in conflict with the evidence of KDZ041 on this question because KDZ601 did not testify that Gavrilović and his men were the main organisers of the attack. Similarly, the Chamber, Judge Morrison dissenting, is of opinion that the evidence of KDZ601 does not contradict the evidence of Eset Muračević because Muračević merely spoke of one of the participants in the attack. (#He heard!#) In light of the foregoing, the Chamber, Judge Morrison dissenting, is of the view that there is no conflict in the evidence of these witnesses on the question of the identity of the perpetrators of the bus attack. (The only that hadn’t been established properly are the perpetrators! Not to mention what does it have to do with the President? But, this is the question that should be posed for every single incident!)

2220. The Chamber will now assess the evidence in light of the President’s argument that the bus was attacked by Bosnian Muslims who mistakenly thought that it was filled with Serbs.⁷⁵⁷¹ There is indeed evidence that Mirko Krajišnik informed Momčilo Krajišnik that Muslims had intercepted a bus carrying detained Muslims and, mistaking the occupants of the bus for Serbs, had opened fire on the bus, killing all the detainees and heavily wounding two Serb guards.⁷⁵⁷²

2221. However, there is also evidence that Momčilo Krajišnik gave instructions to the Bosnian Serbs in Rajlovac that nothing should happen to the Bosnian Muslim men detained there. More specifically, on 8 June 1992, Momčilo Krajišnik informed a certain Mijatović in Rajlovac that his brother Mirko had told him “about problems with these captured men”, and stated that nothing should be done which would be wrong or outside of the rules.⁷⁵⁷³ He also told Mijatović that he was ready to help find a solution.⁷⁵⁷⁴ Krajišnik reiterated his position to another interlocutor in the same conversation, emphasising that nothing should be done to the men.⁷⁵⁷⁵

(#EXCULPATORY#, for Mr. Krajisnik and the other Serb officials! How the Chamber excluded the possibility that Krajisnik spoke about other difficulties with the detainees, what Vujasin described as his personal risk? There is no a mere indication that Momcilo Krajisnik spoke about some future problem with the bus, that may happen after a week, whyle he couldn't know about this transport at all!!!)

2222. In this regard, the Chamber notes that Mirko Krajišnik himself was involved in dealing with the detainees at the Rajlovac Barracks. This was brought out by Ramiz Mujkić, who testified that, on the morning of 7 August 1992 while he was detained at the Rajlovac Barracks, Mirko Krajišnik and others visited him in his cell, and enquired about the whereabouts of Hasan Mujkić and his brother Husein, the witness's son Elvir Mujkić, and a person named Junuz Mujkić.⁷⁵⁷⁶

Ramiz Mujkić further testified that on 22 August 1992, Stojanović and two other members of the MP took him from the Žica Hospital in Blažuj to Planjo's House in Svrake.⁷⁵⁷⁷ According to Ramiz Mujkić, Mirko Krajišnik subsequently intervened in order to have him exchanged.⁷⁵⁷⁸ (One after another, #all exculpatory#, or irrelevant to this case! What does it have to do with the transfer of the Ramiz Mujkic to Planjo's hous? Mirko Krajisnik made a noble move to have exchanged this man!)

2223. The Chamber also notes that on 20 June 1992 in an intercepted conversation, Mirko Krajišnik informed two individuals with the names Ćamil and Šemso that 284 prisoners from the cisterns near the Rajlovac Barracks had been exchanged whereas 50 additional prisoners had been sent home.⁷⁵⁷⁹ During the same conversation, Mirko Krajišnik, referring to the group of 50 prisoners, told Šemso that there were people with the last name Gačanović amongst them and added “[y]ou heard that there were some casualties among them.”⁷⁵⁸⁰

The Chamber does not accept the Accused's assertion that since witness Ramiz Mujkić had failed to mention the visit by Vlasto Apostolski, Nikola Poplašen, and Mirko Krajišnik in his previous statements, his evidence on the same should necessarily be ignored by this Chamber. The Chamber has received evidence which corroborates Mujkić's account of the visit by Mirko Krajišnik. On 20 August 1992, during an intercepted telephone conversation, Bakir Alispahić informed Mirko Krajišnik that a person by the name Nikola had paid a visit to Ramiz Mujkić and asked whether Krajišnik could arrange for Mujkić's release. Although Krajišnik did not expressly acknowledge having seen Mujkić, he implied that he knew that Mujkić had been injured and subsequently told Alispahić that “[w]e agreed for some kind of exchange for him”. 2224. An engaging feature about this conversation, in which Mirko Krajišnik told Šemso, a Bosnian Muslim, that 50 detainees were sent home and that there were some casualties amongst them, was that at no stage did Mirko Krajišnik mention that Muslims were to blame for the casualties. The Chamber, Judge Morrison dissenting, is of the view that had Bosnian Muslims in fact been responsible for the attack on the bus, Mirko Krajišnik would have raised the matter with Šemso in that conversation which occurred less than a week after the bus attack. (Why would Mirko Krajišnik start a conversation with Šemso on such a sensitive matter? Was Krajišnik talking about those 50 Muslims, or other one, who tried to break towards Visoko? See what the KDZ041 said on T.12065 A. When we tried to make a breakthrough to the nearby forest and head onwards to Visoko, fierce infantry fire was opened from the forest and from the surrounding area at a group that was in a plum grove. Some ten men were either shot dead or wounded. I was among the wounded. I was wounded in the leg. Wasn't it more genuine and more probable what Mirko said to his brother Momčilo Krajišnik? Why here does not value the principle: #“In dubio, pro reo”#? Or it is sufficient that there existed Mirko Krajišnik, who had shown some interest in a humane outcome of the detention, to conclude that the Serbs are vilaines?)

2225. The evidence described in the foregoing paragraphs, when taken together, leads the Chamber, Judge Morrison dissenting, to conclude that Mirko Krajišnik deliberately provided Momčilo Krajišnik with misinformation on what had become of those Muslim detainees in respect of whose safety Momčilo Krajišnik had previously articulated his apprehensions. (Even if so, a high Serb official as Momčilo Krajišnik had an attitude completely opposite to what happened, committed by insufficiently identified individuals. Another question would be: why Mirko Krajišnik would lie to his older brother and thus lead him into an illusion? There is no logical defence to this assertion and finding of the Chamber!#Official proper attitude#!)

2227. First, KDZ041 stated that just before the attack, the two escort cars behind the bus left the scene; thereafter, Žuti claimed that the engine of the bus had overheated, and along with the guards left the bus. (This is #incorrect use of the facts#: first, it was not Zuti who said that the engine was overheated, it was the driver, se what KDZ041 responded to the Prosecutor, T. 12073: Q. Very well. I'll continue. Witness, I want to take you now to the moment when Zuti got off the bus to put some water into the cooler of the engine. Could you just describe, and keep it fairly short, what you were able to see or hear just when he -- when you -- when he decided to get off the bus? A. When we came to this place that was called Sokolina, I heard the driver, because on the bus there were two men who were escorts, guards, who asked him why he stopped. He said that the engine was boiling and that he had to add some water into the cooler. What I heard was the stream, the brook, nearby, when the bus stopped.) And it was a spot where the road was approaching the brook, because the witness heard the stream, therefore the bus stopped because of that, not because of some other count!#Had there been any intention to fire against the bus, there wouldn't be any question from the guards#!) Merely 10 to 15 seconds after Žuti and the guards had left the bus, the attack on the bus commenced.⁷⁵⁸¹ The Chamber, Judge Morrison dissenting, is of the view that had the attack been carried out by Bosnian Muslims, it would have been stretching coincidence past breaking point for them to have anticipated the precise time that the engine of the bus would have overheated and to have been in the right place at that exact time so that they could have sprung their ambush.⁷⁵⁸² (Again, #wrong

⁷⁵⁸¹ See paras. 2212–2213.

⁷⁵⁸² For this reason, the Chamber finds that Žuti and the guards were involved in the attack on the bus, although it is possible that they were not the main organisers of the attack as they could have found easier ways to kill the Bosnian Muslim men.

use of the facts#. The very same witness testified different, see T.12073, see above, that it was determined by the vicinity of the creek. But, if it were the Serbs, destroying the bus is so irrational and unrealistic, since there was a shortage of everything, and a bus was of a great value. This inference, together with the insecure identity of the perpetrators is also available. There is more that #enough doubts#!)

2228. Further, the evidence of KDZ041 is that he was face down in the bus and bodies were on top of him; he was therefore unable to see anything. KDZ041 testified that shortly after the shooting had stopped, he heard the engines of the escort cars start up and the cars drive off. He then heard two vehicles pull alongside the bus and two men discuss whether they should check for survivors. According to KDZ041, these two men did not enter the bus and instead got into their vehicles and left the scene.⁷⁵⁸³ It is clear to the Chamber, Judge Morrison dissenting, that notwithstanding his inability to see during and immediately after the attack, KDZ041 heard what was happening around him. The Chamber assessed KDZ041 to be a credible and reliable witness and accordingly, found no good reason to reject his evidence about the things he said he heard. (How many times the cars surrounding the bus had left the spot? If one count these cars, would see that it is inconsistent. The two cars behind left the scene before the attack. Immediately after the shooting the escorting cars left the scene. After that KDZ041 heard another two cars pull alongside the bus, and the two men discussing. This is too unbelievable. This witness may be prepared to testify by the Muslim secret service!)

2229. The Chamber also heard from KDZ041 that the residents of the Muslim village of Vukašovići and the Bosnian Muslim TO went to the scene and removed the bodies from the bus; that towards the end of the removal process, a number of VRS soldiers headed by Dragan Ikanović appeared on the scene with two trucks in order to tow the bus away; and that they were told to leave. The Chamber also heard from KDZ041 that a few days later, Ikanović and his men returned and set the bus on fire.⁷⁵⁸⁴ The Chamber, Judge Morrison dissenting, cannot comprehend the inordinate interest displayed by Ikanović and the VRS members in that bus, although allegedly it had been attacked by Muslims, to the extent they were bent on towing it away; and after that attempt failed, they returned and destroyed it a few days later. (This is only in a case of trusting the witness who couldn't know so many things. How possibly KDZ041 could have known the events after the 14 June? Did he returned to the spot, although he was wounded in leg while breaking through to Visoko, see: T.12065 ...and from the surrounding area at a group that was in a plum grove. Some ten men were either shot dead or wounded. I was among the wounded. I was wounded in the leg. (#A protected lies#! In spite of that wound, KDZ041 was everywhere and saw or heard everything, no wonder why he wanted the protected status!!! How possibly the Muslim TO had an access to the spot where the bus had been fired at? Had it been the Serb controlled territory, there must have been a confrontation line. How the Muslim TO would manage the bodies, how they would bury them? Why they would bury them in a mas grave, without dignity and ceremony? See T.12077-78: Q. And in the second part of that video we saw human bodies. Could you tell the Court what you know about those? A. Those were the bodies of the people who were butchered in the bus. They were pulled out by members of the TO. And with their assistance, since TO was in the area, and was commanded by Dzafer Heric, they were brought up there to this location and buried. They were loaded on two tractors. Q. Now, in your answer a moment ago, where you said that residents dug a mass grave in which the massacred residents of Ahatovici village were buried, were you referring to the victims of the attack on Ahatovici or to the victims of the bus massacre? A. I was referring to the victims of the attack on the bus.? (#A protected lies#! The Muslim territorial defence (TO) behaved as if they had been at their home, which was the truth, because the Muslim TO wouldn't be able to do so many operations on the Serb territory!

But, if the bus of the VRS was hit by the Serbs, and the escort disappeared, which is #not logical#, it is more than normal to expect somebody to come for the bus and the bodies. Contrary to the inference of the Chamber, it would be unusual that nobody appeared to see what happened. And since the Muslim villagers were still there, it must be that the VRS appeared pretty soon after the incident. The actions of Ikanović and the VRS members impel the Chamber, Judge Morrison dissenting, to the conclusion that they manifestly sought to destroy the important evidence of the large killing incident. Their actions would have made no sense if the attack had been carried out by the Bosnian Muslim forces. (#Not logical#! But, initially they came to tow the bus away, not to destroy it. If they wanted to destroy the important evidence, and if the "Serb Forces" did it, they wouldn't do that sacrificing the bus and leaving "the important evidence" on the road, but would rather execute the detainees somewhere else, and save the bus. And if the "Serb Forces" did it, they would resolve the bus problem without any delay.

2230. Finally, the Chamber must also address the evidence of KDZ601. In the opinion of the Chamber, KDZ601, [REDACTED], evinced pronounced bias in favour of the Accused during cross examination.⁷⁵⁸⁵ (The page 18597 didn't contain any of these what is suggested by the Chamber. The witness confirmed the facts known to all and everybody! There is nothing on the pages T.18604-18605, except if the Prosecution-Chamber expected the Prosecution's witness not to confirm the President questions with the answers known to everyone! Not a single confirmation of the Chamber suggestions on pages T, 18615-616! There was also nothing corroborative of the Chamber's conclusion on the pages T.18634-18635! Therefore, only if the Prosecutor's witness was supposed to be anti-Accused, would be credible!#Missing sense#!) In the throes of this bias, however, he implicated Serb paramilitaries in the attack, leaving the Chamber, Judge Morrison dissenting, with the abiding impression that he was being forthright with the Chamber in this respect.

2231. In conclusion, having found (i) that there is no inconsistency in the evidence of witnesses on the question of the identity of the perpetrators of the bus attack; (No positive identification!) (ii) that the evidence of KDZ041 is reliable; (Many things KDZ041 couldn't have known, but he said it!) (iii) that the initial attempt by Ikanović and the VRS members to tow the bus away and then their ultimate destruction of the bus is indicative of a determination on their part to destroy the evidence of the killing; (Illogical, as shown above!) (iv) that Mirko Krajišnik deliberately misinformed Momčilo Krajišnik; (How the Chamber knows that? And why would he misinform his brother?) and (v) that KDZ061 testified (#Contrary to the Chamber's conclusion#!) The KDZ061 didn't testify on this subject, but KDZ601 did, but he didn't say a bit of what the Chamber suggested! Finally, even if some witnesses implied the paramilitaries, the President couldn't be liable for the conduct of a formations that the President disowned, and the system persecuted!) with forthrightness when he described the involvement of Serb paramilitaries in the attack on the bus, the Chamber, Judge Morrison dissenting is satisfied beyond reasonable doubt that on 14 June 1992, Serb Forces, including Žuti, other guards, and paramilitaries, attacked a bus filled with Bosnian Muslim male detainees with grenades and automatic weapons, and killed 47 Bosnian Muslim men.

(H) Movement of the population from Novi Grad

Prstojević Nedeljko:	Alija is worrying me, he's not taking care of his people.
Gagović Milosav:	He's not?
Prstojević Nedeljko:	Not at all.
Prstojević Nedeljko:	I will have to explain to that people of his, explain them that it's his fault, it's because he doesn't care and he doesn't take care about the adults or the children.
Gagović Milosav:	Sure.
Prstojević Nedeljko:	That he is showing no interest.
Gagović Milosav:	You do what you can in that regard.
Prstojević Nedeljko:	Well, we fed them, we gave them errr, tea, bread, milk.
Gagović Milosav:	Those children aren't to blame for anything.
Prstojević Nedeljko:	No, they are not.

Prstojevic is informing Colonel Gagovic how the Serb authorities are taking care of the Muslim minors, for whom Alija (Izetbegovic) doesn't care! Further: pp.2-3

Gagović Milosav:	These Muslims are fleeing Dobrinja for no reason.
Prstojević Nedeljko:	Is that so?

So, Gagovic, a Colonel of the JNA is informing Prstojevic, a local Serb official, that the Muslims are “fleeing Dobrinja for no reason”. The JNA Colonel is suspicious why they are doing so, “for no reason”, and assumes that the Muslim secret army is trying to leave only combatants in Dorbinja, so to be free to fight against the JNA and the Serb population. Gagović Milosav:	Yes. I ordered the press centre to release the information that we are allowing Muslims to leave Dobrinja, but as long as it's only entire families that are leaving.
Prstojević Nedeljko:	Yes, yes.
Gagović Milosav:	That means the husband, the wife and the kids.
Prstojević Nedeljko:	Yes, yes.
Gagović Milosav:	Entire family, but we won't allow only women and children to leave and leave those men behind.
Prstojević Nedeljko:	Men you mean?
Gagović Milosav:	Yes.
Prstojević Nedeljko:	Not to leave the men behind, so that they can kill my people.

(#Wrong presentation#! The Chamber, or those interns who assembled this Judgement, didn't interpret this document properly. The JNA Colonel Gagovic said they were "fleeing Dobrinja for no reason", but it was dropped out of this paragraph, and the rest was misinterpreted, while it was clear that the Muslim side was preparing an attack, and wanted to remove their minors and women out of the area! What is a #liability of the President,# or even of Prstojevic in this JNA #legitimate precautionary measure#s?)

2233. According to KDZ041 and Ramiz Mujkić, during the period 1 to 14 June 1992, about 400 women and children from Ahatovići and the surrounding villages, including Ramiz Mujkić's mother, wife, and sister, were detained at the adjoining premises of Tehnogas Company and the Distribution Centre.⁷⁵⁸⁸ The VRS also temporarily placed the Muslim women and children in the Gavriilo Princip primary school after the attack on Ahatovići.⁷⁵⁸⁹ (#EXCULPATORY#!!! That is how it should be, to move the civilians out of the combat zone! On the other side, the Muslim extremists used to take their own civilians as a human shield, firing from the civil zones and exposing the civilians to the response fire!) Further, a memorandum from the Rajlovac municipality Executive Board, dated 2 June 1992, referring to "captives from Ahatovići, the women and children", reveals an intention on the part of the Executive Board to confine them in the new part of the Tehnogas-Kiskana building.⁷⁵⁹⁰ (Intention?!?!? Knowing that all the Muslim civilians from Ahatovici had been facilitated to enter the Muslim part of Sarajevo, without any exchange or reciprocal gesture, #the only inference is that the authorities wanted to secure them# and to have them go to Sarajevo, which was their preference! Let us see what the document P5484 really said:

3. Provide accommodation and food for the captives from Ahatovići, the women and children, in the new part of the TEHNOGAS-Kiskana building /?and secure / a permanent presence of women assigned from the S.O. /municipal assembly/ Rajlovac.

Alongside the already existing security, the Rajlovac Police Station is tasked with securing the facility.

4. The Centre for Social Work is tasked with providing documents on all captured persons and all of them were assigned a Red Cross family parcel which will be used in the prescribed manner.

This is drastic, but usual and very frequent #abuse and misinterpretation# of the documents. No "confinement" is even alluded, but only an #"accommodation and food"#, with a permanent presence of women assigned by the authorities to take care of the Muslim women and children, so

⁷⁵⁸⁸ On 13 June 1992, the women, including Ramiz Mujkić's wife, sister, and mother, as well as the children who were detained in the Tehnogas Company premises and the Distribution Centre were exchanged. 2234. Moreover, following the attack against Ahatovići, all the surviving Muslims in the village were either arrested or expelled, together with Serbs and Croats who were married to Muslims.⁷⁵⁹¹

(#Deadly combination#! Such a drastic “finding” based on an Adjudicated Fact, “adjudicated” in some other process, in which a defence didn’t have any interest to rebut it!!! Could this kind of deliberation happen in any of the countries that support this Court?)

In a telephone conversation conducted on 25 June 1992, Petko Budiša who was the chief of Iliđa SJB from August to 20 September 1992 and who later became Chief of the CSB in Bijeljina,⁷⁵⁹² informed Slavko Lazendić from the Rajlovac SJB that he should not allow the entry or exit of any Bosnian Muslims to and from the area via the Bojnik bridge.⁷⁵⁹³

“To and from” excludes any “ethnic cleansing”! But, let us see how this document was used against this President: P2335, p. 4

16 SL: Regarding taking Croats and Muslims there – is there any agreement about it?

18 PB: Listen, there is an internal agreement with Croats.

20 SL: Yes, but there is no agreement with Muslims, right?

22 PB: But Muslims, he shouldn’t the Muslims /as stated/.

24 SL: Well, there is a mess here. All police officers from the station have gathered here.

p.5

10 PB: As for the Croats, we shouldn’t make an issue of it.

15 PB: As for the Muslims, you should continue working on it in accordance with the information that you have. It is true that some of them are involved in their actions.

So, some of the Muslims are involved in the Muslim actions, but Budisa advised Lazendic to continue to work in accordance with the information...In other word, only criminals were of some interest of the Serb Police!# Proper conduct#!

19 SL: Hold on, Petko. We do not have some here /sic/. We neither let them come in nor do we let them out of here.

Since some of the Muslims are “involved in the actions”, the police is taking a precautionary measures

4 SL: But, we don’t know what to do with the Croats. We have Croats here in Bojnik. There are many of them and they are legally here. I don’t know. Bosniaks... there are here.

The translation is wrong. Lazendic said for the Croats: “There are many of them, and they are legal people” meaning they behave in accordance with the law!

12 PB: You shouldn’t make any problems for them.

14 SL: Yes, but what to do with the Muslims?

16 PB: You shouldn’t create problems and you should maintain good relations with them.

23 SL: But, what about the Muslims who go there and come back here via Bojnik, over the bridge?

26 PB: No, you shouldn’t let Muslims do anything. So, the superior police officer ordered his subordinate to maintain a good relation with the Muslims, but not to allow them to move around freely, because “some of them are involved in their actions”! A good relations with the Croats weren’t disputable! #Proper conduct#! During the same conversation, Lazendić claimed that the area had been “liberated” and that it was “ethnically clean”.⁷⁵⁹⁴ (This was a mere bragging, but from the entirety of the document it is clear that it was not “ethnically clean”, because there was “many” Croats, and obviously the Muslims too, otherwise the orders and advises would be senseless, and wouldn’t be said anyway! But, this was a war, and the only reasons were the security reasons. Lazendic clarified whether the Serb police made any agreement with the Croats pertaining to Stup, would it belong to Croats,P2335, p. 7

SL: Tell me, what is the agreement between you and Stup? Is there going to be... they?

PB: Yes. SL: There won’t be any fight? PB: No fight.

#Three municipalities – peace#! That was the whole idea: that every ethnic community manages it’s own settlements, without any domination, and no fight was needed! The matter of return of refugees was regulated on the highest level of negotiations, under the auspice of the UN and EC, and didn’t depend of anyone’s colloquial remarks, but a premature return was so risky that shouldn’t be advised! THE ENTIRE DOCUMENT IS EXCULPATORY, BUT ALSO USEFUL TO IDENTIFY THE SERB POLICY AND INTENTIONS OF COEGSISTENCE. AND NO “ETHNIC PURITY, NO ETHNIC CLEANSING!#)

2236. The Accused claims that after the take-over of Ahatovići, a number of Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat families wished to be taken to Sarajevo whereas some individuals remained throughout the entire war and even joined the VRS on a voluntary basis.⁷⁵⁹⁶ (The previous document P2335 corroborates what the President claimed for. If the Croats were “legal” there, do not make them any trouble. Maintain a good relations with the Muslims, but not let them to join their combatants! What is wrong with that, in a war zone?) The President brought Stojan Džino and Mihajlo Vujasin, the deputy commander of the Rajlovac Brigade, to testify that the movement of population was voluntary.⁷⁵⁹⁷ However, the Chamber found both witnesses to be evasive, biased and partisan. (None of the Prosecutor witnesses would “pass” this test, particularly the Muslim witnesses, but the internationals too. All of them had been motivated to lie against the Serbs, some because they were the adversaries, and some, the foreigners, being prejudiced.) The Chamber notes, as it did earlier,⁷⁵⁹⁸ that despite their evasiveness, both Stojan Džino and Mihajlo Vujasin conceded that civilians from Ahatovići had been taken to the Rajlovac Barracks and kept there against their will. (The civilians from Ahatovići tried to escape to Visoko, but there would be too many civilian casualties. They had to be #removed from the combat zone#, and the Rajlovac Barracks was the only choice. We saw the document P5484, how the Rajlovac authorities were concerned and acted responsibly with these civilians!) The Chamber also recalls the evidence of Vujasin about the beatings of the civilians from Ahatovići and the surrounding areas and the dangers that they were exposed to.⁷⁵⁹⁹ (Vujasin, as an official of the Serb Army, VRS, exposed himself to a risk by defending the Muslims against some irregulars, and this can not be used against the Serb officials, but rather to commend them!) The Chamber, further, notes the evidence concerning lootings and destruction of property.⁷⁶⁰⁰ The Chamber also recalls its earlier findings regarding the destruction of the

2237. Consequently, the Chamber finds that Serb Forces forced the non-Serb population out of the Serb-controlled parts of Novi Grad. (#Lawful and obligatory#! As it is regulated by the domestic laws, and the international humanitarian law provisions, as well as the mutual agreements of the sides to the conflict, concluded under the auspice of the ICRC and other mediators, the most decisive is: whether there were a military, or a security reasons for moving the civilians out of some areas, it had to be done. See: D4710 :

We agree that all refugees will be permitted to return to the places from which they have been expelled and that civilians who are caught up in or trapped by the military situation, will be given freedom of movement.

Or see D1141:

Considering that in the present situation in Bosnia-Herzegovina with generalized violations of International Humanitarian Law systematically committed against civilians, the lives of certain civilians in certain areas can only be saved if they leave temporarily their homes and reach temporarily other areas,

1. Civilians who desire to leave temporarily the territory controlled by one party to reach the territory controlled by another party should be entitled to do so.

3. The civilians should be able to leave in an organized transfer under international supervision and, if necessary, protection. Its security will be guaranteed by each party on the territory it controls.

4. Each party to the conflict guarantees to those who leave temporarily the territory it controls :

a) that their goods, assets and belongings will be respected and protected;

b) that they have a right to return home at a later stage if they wish so;

c) That any document, including a document renouncing or transferring property rights, assets or claims signed by a person who is about to leave temporarily has no legal validity and does not affect in any way that persons's rights or obligations.

5. Persons temporarily transferred to areas other than their areas of origin should benefit, as vulnerable groups, from international assistance, inter alia, in conformity with its mandate, by the ICRC.

Only the Serb side secured an organised way of the transfer of population. The provision under c) pertaining to property rights the President codified in his document D1754 of 19 August 1992.

3. That forced transfer of people and other illegal measures against civilian population must be prevented; certificates on property selling or written statements by refugees that they will not return, if any, are not legally valid and are out of force;

Or see: D1603, p.9, signed by the three parties in London as early as on 22 May 1992:

The displacement of the civilian population shall not be ordered unless the security of the civilians involved or imperative military reasons so demand. Should such displacements have to be carried out, all possible measures shall be taken in order that the civilian population may be received under satisfactory conditions of shelter, hygiene, health, safety and nutrition.

So, the displacement could have been done legally under these two conditions: the security of this population, and #“imperative military reasons”#! What was not understandable to the Prosecution here, in this document? Instead of warning the Prosecution for such an incompetent charges, and for an absence of any military expert while assembling this Indictment, the Chamber accepted these claimes as if there was no domestic laws, international norms and mutual agreements of the sides! #The Chamber neglected laws and agreements#!):

2238. Under Count 3, the Prosecution alleges that persecution, a crime against humanity, was committed in Novo Sarajevo as part of the objective to permanently remove Bosnian Muslims and/or Bosnian Croats from the Municipalities.⁷⁶⁰⁴

Acts of persecution alleged to have been committed in Novo Sarajevo by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs include: (i) torture, beatings, and physical and psychological abuse, during and after the take-over as well as in the Slaviša Vajner Čiča Barracks in Lukavica, as cruel or inhumane treatment;⁷⁶⁰⁵ (ii) rape and other acts of sexual violence during and after the take-over as cruel and inhumane treatment;⁷⁶⁰⁶ (iii) the establishment and perpetuation of inhumane living conditions in the Slaviša Vajner Čiča Barracks, including the failure to provide adequate accommodation, shelter, food, water, medical care, or hygienic sanitation facilities, as cruel or inhumane treatment;⁷⁶⁰⁷ (iv) forcible transfer or deportation of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats from their homes;⁷⁶⁰⁸ (v) unlawful detention in the Slaviša Vajner Čiča Barracks;⁷⁶⁰⁹ (vi) forced labour at the frontline and the use of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats as human shields;⁷⁶¹⁰ (vii) the appropriation or plunder of property, during and after the take-over, during arrests and detention, and in the course of or following acts of deportation or forcible transfer;⁷⁶¹¹ (viii) the wanton destruction of private property, including homes and business premises, and public property;⁷⁶¹² and (ix) the imposition and maintenance of restrictive and discriminatory measures.⁷⁶¹³

by the end of 1992, Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs had forcibly displaced Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats from areas in Novo Sarajevo in which they had been lawfully present.⁷⁶¹⁵ It is alleged that from March 1992, restrictive and discriminatory measures, arbitrary arrest and detention, harassment, torture, rape and other acts of sexual violence, killing, destruction of houses, as well as the threat of further such acts caused Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats to flee in fear, while others were physically driven out.⁷⁶¹⁶

2240. Novo Sarajevo, one of the ten Sarajevo municipalities, is located in the eastern part of Sarajevo city between Novi Grad and Ilidža on one side and Centar, Stari Grad, and Pale on the other.⁷⁶¹⁷ According to the 1991 census, the population of Novo Sarajevo comprised 95,089 people, among whom 35.7% were Bosnian Muslims, 34.6% were Bosnian Serbs, 15.9% were “Yugoslavs”, (At least 15% of the “Yugoslavs” were the Serbs, since Yugoslavia was not popular among the secessionist ethnics in 1991. So, there was over 50% of the Serbs, which was reflected in the results of elections!) 9.3% were Bosnian Croats, and 4.6% were “others and unknown”.⁷⁶¹⁸ The municipality included, inter alia, Grbavica, located south of the Miljacka River; Vraca, located 600 to 800 metres to the southwest of Grbavica; Pofalići in the north part of the municipality; and Lukavica in the southwest part of the municipality.⁷⁶¹⁹

2241. After the formation of the SDS, SDA, and HDZ, a Novo Sarajevo SDS Steering Committee was appointed to establish local boards in the local communes and an SDS Municipal Board of Novo Sarajevo.⁷⁶²⁰

As to whether Novo Sarajevo fell under Variant A or Variant B, Nešković initially thought that Variant B applied to Novo Sarajevo but later stated, based on the tasks assigned in P2575, that Variant A was implemented in the municipality. Radomir Nešković, P2568 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Krajišnik), T. 16662–16666; Radomir Nešković, T. 14352–14354 (7 June 2011). Some Defence witnesses from Novo Sarajevo stated that they were not familiar with the Variant A/B Instructions. Considering other reliable evidence to the contrary, including Šalipur's admission above, as well as the witnesses' evasiveness and lack of forthrightness with respect to the existence and implementation of the Variant A/B Instructions in Novo Sarajevo, the Chamber does not find their evidence on this point to be reliable. Nešković testified that no one from the Government came to or contacted Novo Sarajevo to monitor the implementation of the Variant A/B Instructions in the municipality. Radomir Nešković, T. 14272–14273 (6 June 2011). While the Chamber considers Nešković's evidence generally with regard to the Variant A/B Instructions to be reliable, the Chamber does not consider this testimony to contradict his or other evidence that the Variant A/B Instructions were carried out in Novo Sarajevo.

same evening after the Muslim extremists attacked a wedding ceremony in front of the oldest Serb Orthodox Church, killing the Groom's father. What is said about the Serb officials is not true, those named here only joined the barricades later, in order to be able to influence the course of events. Did the Chamber notice, or did it need to know why the barricades had been erected? Was there any killing of a Serb in wedding ceremony? In the area of Grbavica, there were barricades at the Vrbanja Bridge and Bratstvo-Jedinstvo Bridge.⁷⁶⁵⁷ Men wearing black masks were manning the barricades, and vehicles without license plates arrived every half hour with armed men inside.⁷⁶⁵⁸ (Were there any Muslim barricades? See: D298, p 3, a confession of Gen. Sefer Halilovic, the chief Commander of the Muslim Army:)

I led the establishment of contra-barricades in Sarajevo in March 1992 and led the armed resistance at the beginning of the aggression against the Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

(#Forgery#! There were no "armed SDS members", every single armed Serb was in the JNA, either as a conscripts, or as professionals, or reservists who responded to mobilisation. While the JNA was there, it was the only legal armed force, the Serbs didn't have other units, since the TO was always under the JNA control. Only if the JNA didn't arrive, the TO were entitled to act for a defense of the zone it covered! How it was possible that the Prosecution was so ignorant of the domestic laws, as well as the Law of war?)

2257. Bosnian Muslims also armed themselves and organised militarily in Novo Sarajevo.⁷⁶⁶⁹

They started forming units in the first half of 1991.⁷⁶⁷⁰ (Incorrect, because the Muslims accomplished the entire organisation and arming of the Patriotic League and Green Berets far before the Serbs organized themselves. See D298 the Report of Gen. Sefer Halilovic:

Immediately after involving myself in preparations for the defence of R BH /Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina/, in September 1991, together with the late Safet HADŽIĆ, who was appointed president of the crisis staff of the Sarajevo region, and with the help of Mirsad ČAUŠEVIĆ, now in the MIP /Ministry of the Interior/ and Senad MAŠOVIĆ, now at the command of the Third Corps, I drew up a proposal for organising the Patriotic League for the Sarajevo area, organised the regional staff of the Patriotic League and a plan for the defence of the Sarajevo area.

On the occasion of a meeting with President Alija IZETBEGOVIĆ in Hrasnica, when I informed him of what had been done up to then and proposed a way of organising the Muslim people and other citizens of the Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina, and a strategy for the defence of the Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina, he accepted and approved them.

After that I set about realising the plan that had been accepted and organising the Main Staff of the Patriotic League of the Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina, nine regional military staffs, 98 municipal military staffs of the PL /Patriotic League/ and a large number of manoeuvre, area and logistic units.

I organised and chaired the military consultation of the Patriotic League in the village of Mehurići near Travnik on 7/8 February 1992, when I approved the regional defence plans of regional military staffs of the Patriotic League when the plan for the defence of the Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina was harmonised, and after that I myself wrote the Directive for the Defence of the Sovereignty of the Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina, with the assistance of Rifat BILAJAC, Zičro ŠULJEVIĆ and in part Kemo KARIŠIK.

From the beginning of December 1991 until the end of March 1992, I stayed on five or six occasions in all the regional and municipal headquarters of the Patriotic League and in a large number of units of the Patriotic League in the whole territory of the Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina, constantly travelling with false and borrowed documents in order not to be discovered.

VERY URGENT

TO COMMAND: _____ /?VGr.d/

At a session held at 1500 hrs on 4 April 1992, the SRBH /Socialist Republic of BH/ Presidency decided to mobilise the SRBH TO /Territorial Defence/, MUP /Ministry of the Interior/ and BH CZ /BH Civilian Protection/ despite the objection that the Presidency is not competent to mobilise the TO as a component of the OS /Armed Forces/, to which it turned a deaf ear. In view of the overall negative attitude towards the JNA /Yugoslav People's Army/, which was especially displayed at the Presidency session at which the 2nd VO /Military District/ commander and SRBH TO commander were present, armed attacks on military facilities, apartments of AVLs /active military personnel/ and GLs /civilian personnel/ and JNA members and retired military personnel are to be expected on the nights of 4/5 and 5/6 April 1992 and during the following days. In connection with this, I hereby

ORDER

1. Raise the combat readiness of commands, units and institutions of the 2nd VO to the highest level.
2. Be ready to defend military facilities.
3. Pull part of units out of garrisons so they can participate in breaking blockades of military facilities and carry out other tasks.
4. Stimulate retired military personnel and GLs to be ready to defend residential buildings.
5. Nobody may issue TO weapons without a special order and signature by the 2nd VO commander, and bear in mind warnings about the seizing of weapons from military depots, and to this end take all measures to prevent such activities in the most vigorous manner.
6. In all their activities, JNA units and members must protect and defend endangered citizens from all ethnic groups from the terrorism and attacks of paramilitary formations and the negative consequences arising from the unauthorised decision of the SRBH Presidency.
7. It is especially important to ensure full combat readiness at isolated facilities and their defence by 2000 hrs on 4 April 1992.

DELIVER IMMEDIATELY!

To: /handwritten: OC /Operations Centre/ of the 2nd VO/

Pursuant to the Order of the Federal Secretary for National Defence, Strictly Confidential no. 1530-1 of 5 April 1992, and regarding the situation that has arisen in the zone of the 2nd Military District, I hereby

ORDER :

1. – Mobilise all war units which are part of the 2nd Military District.
2. – Start mobilisation at 0600 hours on 6 April 1992.
3. – The reserve force is to be called up using the call-up system of the military territorial organs and its own system for calling up war units.
In the event that individual v/o /conscripts/ who have RR /wartime assignments/ in RJ /war units/ fail to respond to the call-up by for ethnic and other reasons, other v/o are to be called up to replace them, taking into account their reliability.
4. – Mobilised units are to be manned according to wartime establishment, equipped with the required weapons and military equipment and prepared for implementation of the task.
5. – Reports on the course and completion of mobilisation and manning levels achieved are to be sent daily at 0600 and 1800 hours to the OC 2nd VO.

Colonel General
Milutin KUKANJAC

Under para 1. “all war units” were the local reservists of the JNA, of whom only the Serbs responded, see para 3, “In the event that unindividual... fail to respond to call-up by for ethnic reasons, other v/o are to be called up...”. Under para 3. means that the military territorial organs were obliged to call up the members of the war units, and all and everyone knew his deployment far in advance. So, when the Muslims testify that they had seen some activities, the Chamber must accept and differentiate what of the Serb conduct was legal due to the domestic laws, and what not, as well as to have in mind the challenges for the security caused by the Muslim preparations of the war!)

⁷⁶⁷⁶ D888 (Order of Novo Sarajevo Crisis Staff, 22 April 1992). But see KDZ310, T. 9271–9272 (29 November 2010) (testifying that he did not believe the 22 April 1992 order to be genuine or that it was ever implemented). According to KDZ310, in May 1992, a mobilisation of males from ages 18 up to 60 was carried out, which applied only to males of Serb ethnic origin, and men from other ethnic groups were not mobilised. P1938 (Witness statement of KDZ310 dated 28 November 2010), paras. 16–17. KDZ310 stated that this period was the only time that he knows of “when Mladić was present in Grbavica for an inspection of the troops”. P1938 (Witness statement of KDZ310 dated 28 November 2010), para. 17. See also P1145 (Intercept of conversation between Momčilo Krajišnik and Ratko Mladić, 24 May 1992), p. 5 (indicating that Mladić was located “by Miljacka” at that time). KDZ310 heard that Mladić confirmed that the mobilisation applied only to Serbs “for the time being”. P1937 (Witness statement of KDZ310 dated 28 November 2010), para. 17 (under seal).

and the Serb TO was formed a week after the Muslim side expelled the Serb component from the common TO. So, the SNB only supported replenishing of the manpower of the JNA, which was obligatory! The Crisis Staff's order also stated that those who did not report for mobilisation, in violation of the order, would be subject to the Law on Military Obligation and Military Court and their property would be confiscated.⁷⁶⁷⁷ (Obviously, the SNB was late 17 days after the Kukanjac order, which means that the 2nd MD was not satisfied with the response to call-up, and the SNB intervened!)

2260. In a report of 5 June 1992, the Novo Sarajevo Crisis Staff informed the President of the Bosnian Serb Presidency that it had mobilised about 900 people over the previous two months, including about 700 in the Lukavica and Tilava area and about 200 in Grbavica.⁷⁶⁷⁸

2261. Pursuant to an order of the SRK Command on 22 May 1992, the Novo Sarajevo TO comprising locals of Grbavica, Hrasno, Vrace, and Kovačići was organised into the SRK.⁷⁶⁷⁹ (Exactly, according to the law, since until 20 May the JNA was legally in charge in the BiH!)

i. Take-over

2262. Combat activity increased in late April 1992.⁷⁶⁸⁰ The Serb TO was engaged in Grbavica on 21 April 1992.⁷⁶⁸¹ Garić requested additional men, and Prstojević, from Ilidža, prepared a platoon from Kasindol to assist.⁷⁶⁸² JNA forces shelled Novo Sarajevo at the end of April 1992.⁷⁶⁸³ Fighting also took place in May 1992.⁷⁶⁸⁴ (#Serb suburb, no take-over#! What “take over”? Grbavica was over 80% Serbian settlement, and the Serb TO was obliged to protect the settlement that was the basis for this unit. Until an attack, nobody “engaged” in Grbavica. There is a complete ignorance of the Prosecution of the domestic laws, as well as of the reality. From any of those paragraph is visible that the Serbs would be innocent only if didn't defend and got killed, as the Serbs in Pofalici, just across the Miljacka River from Grbavica@!)

2263. By mid-May, Grbavica was occupied by the Serbs, after an initiative by Serb Forces to move the confrontation line.⁷⁶⁸⁵ (How the Serbs could have #occupied their own settlement#? Once there was a jeopardy, the Territorial Defence was obliged to protect the settlement, and if not, it would be punishable before the court!) The line was established on the bank of the Miljacka River, including by the Bratstvo-Jedinstvo Bridge and Vrbanja Bridge, extending west toward Hrasno and east toward Skenderija.⁷⁶⁸⁶ Serb Forces took Grbavica with little fighting.⁷⁶⁸⁷ After the Serb take-over of Grbavica, it became no longer possible to cross over the Miljacka River.⁷⁶⁸⁸ (For whom it was impossible to cross over Miljacka? An average people could do it, but the Muslim extremists who already started killing the Serb civilians couldn't. Before "the mid-May" there was a real terror of the Muslim Forces over the Serbs under their control, starting by the killing of the Serb Petrovic, a policement in the common police, and continuing as an every day terror. By mid-May (15 May) the Muslim forces attacked Pofalici, the Serb settlement in Novo Sarajevo Municipality, on the right bank of the Miljacka River, and killed up to 250 Serb civilians. Who had any rights to prevent the Serbs in other parts of the Municipality to prepare for the defence, particularly since the JNA took away all of the able-bodied Serbs? How come the international community didn't pay any attention to this horrifying crime, which influenced the rest of the country throughout the war?)

1. Searches of Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croat houses

soldiers came to the house of Smajš, a Bosnian Muslim, in Vrace to search for weapons.⁷⁶⁹⁰ Although they did not find any, they ordered Smajš to go with them.⁷⁶⁹¹ (#Muslim extremist#! Obviously, weapons was not the only reason for bringing Mr. Smajs in! he was a very known extremist, and on 5 April 92 the two Serb special policemen had been killed from the back exactly in this neighbourhood! It is not to justify the conduct of the armed people who brought him in, just to understand that it was not his religion or ethnicity that determined them to theat him that way!) Outside, a soldier ordered him to walk, with his head down, toward the Golf Café, in front of which a group of ten soldiers stood.⁷⁶⁹² He was ordered to strip to the waist and was then beaten with rifle butts, punched, and kicked all over for about 15 to 20 minutes.⁷⁶⁹³ He was then transported, along with his neighbour Mirsad Dedić, in a military vehicle to the MUP school at Vrace.⁷⁶⁹⁴ During the ride they were both beaten and one of the soldiers fired his unloaded automatic rifle three times into his temple; they were beaten again at the MUP school.⁷⁶⁹⁵ Smajš, blindfolded and with his hands tied behind his back, was then transported, along with Dedić, to “Kula prison”.⁷⁶⁹⁶

2265. Other Bosnian Muslims in Grbavica were frequently subjected to house searches by members of Serb Forces.⁷⁶⁹⁷ All Muslims had been asked to voluntarily surrender their weapons and a Commander Major Petković had told those who did so that the VRS would not search their flats.⁷⁶⁹⁸ (Therefore, it was not any kind of a persecutory conduct, but exacttly what had been said: to neutralise weapons, so to be secure not to lose lives from their back!)

2266. The 5 June 1992 report of the Novo Sarajevo Crisis Staff stated, in the section entitled “[t]reatment of Muslims and Croats”:

Citizens of all nationalities assemble frequently, especially in Grbavica, and our public attitude is very correct, we appoint a head of every building who is responsible for the situation in his building and for all the information about the occupants. Secretly, the police apply the usual procedure to people who were engaged in military activities against us. ⁷⁶⁹⁹ D885 (Letter from Novo Sarajevo Crisis Staff to Radovan Karadžić, 5 June 1992), pp. 3–4. According to Nešković, who signed the report, if “any inhabitants” noticed, in their building, Muslims who did not surrender their weapons and acted against the VRS, they were required to report the fact to the civilian police and “then further police procedures would be implemented”, including arrest of the individual concerned. Radomir Nešković, P2568 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Krajišnik), T. 16715–16716. See also Radomir Nešković, T. 14288, 14292–14293 (6 June 2011). The Chamber accepts Nešković’s evidence with respect to his statement that Muslims were arrested. However, considering Nešković’s interest in casting the report and the actions of the Crisis Staff in a favourable light, the Chamber does not consider that Nešković was entirely forthright in his explanation of “the usual procedure”, applied “[s]ecretly”, to which the report refers. The Chamber will therefore not rely on this portion of Nešković’s evidence.

responsible official of the Serb authorities in Grbavica. And that was the only what the President have known and what he should trust, nothing else, particularly not a Muslim propaganda! The Neskovic's report didn't contain any reason for an additional caution of the President, nor alarmed him to act in any direction! But, Smajs was an exception, probably known as an extremist. 5 of April the two Serb policemen were killed from behind in this neighbourhood, and all of this could have had some relation to it. No justification, but there must have been some reason, because Smajs wasn't treated this way only for being a Muslim, because other Muslims would be treated the same way, which was not the case! And the UN documents, like D2424 from 1993, see: D2424, p. 1 #UN documents contra Chamber findings#:

4. Minorities.

There are appr. 1200 Muslims still in Grbavica. The males are not drafted, but those of a certain age have to "do work". (follow up). Between 100 and 150 Muslims have indicated a willingness to leave to "the other side". They signed a declaration, stating that they will voluntarily leave their property behind. What will actually happen to their property will be "discussed" after the war is over. The departure of these people will be part of an exchange for a similar number of Serbs from "the other side".

as well as a lately disclosed document from 1994 say the same: "those Muslims and Croats who are not fighting against the Serbs seem not to have any problems, and do not want to leave Grbavica"! So, it was the case in June 1992, see D885 from this fn, it was the same in 1993, see D2424, and in 1994, which is ib the lately disclosed document!

obligation! There is no evidence that the President was informed about any unlawful “working obligation”!)

2268. Bosnian Muslims and Croats were beaten during the course of searches for weapons.⁷⁷⁰⁴ They were sexually assaulted and raped by soldiers wearing former JNA uniforms.⁷⁷⁰⁵ Bosnian Muslims and Croats were also killed.⁷⁷⁰⁶ Members of the VRS, including the MP, and of the civilian police engaged in mass looting from the point the VRS entered Grbavica.⁷⁷⁰⁷ While the looting did not take place pursuant to an order, it went unchecked without the perpetrators being brought to account.⁷⁷⁰⁸ Non-Serbs experienced psychological pressure as they feared being taken away or beaten.⁷⁷⁰⁹ (All of it such a general in the manner “#somebody killed somebody#y for some reasons”, but this is not sufficient for a serious court and a serious criminal case! All the sides in conflict wore the former JNA uniforms, it could have been anybody, and certainly it had not been even alleged, let alone proven that it had anything to do with the President! Those are arguments only against a civil war, not against this President! That is why it was unfair to prevent the Defense to depict what was doing the other side, whether the Serbs had been totally secured, or they had many reasons to control the armament and other matters that could jeopardise them. The Defense was prevented to tender the 1D2807, because of the negativism of the KDZ310, and because it was red to the transcript, but see what was red: KDZ310, T9209 "Regional Staff of the Patriotic League, Sarajevo.

#Formidable Muslim Forces#! "Regional Staff of the Patriotic League and Green Berets for the Sarajevo region consolidated and connected organisationally and at the same time subordinated, organised forces of the PO BiH and Green Berets that were formed in all municipalities of the region. At municipal level, these units, from squad level to company and detachment level, were subordinated to municipal staffs that guided their activities." So here is a review for the different municipalities in the city. [...] This is the municipality of Novo Sarajevo: "Composition of Municipal Staff of the TO Staff of Novo Sarajevo on the 18th of April, 1992. "Twenty-three active and reserve officers." And: "1.730 soldiers." And the total is 1.753. "Four detachments. "Three independent companies. "Three independent platoons." In a suburb with 10,000 to 12,000 inhabitants, this amount of the secret army members had been a formidable force, and the Serbs had every reason to be cautious!)

2270. Municipal authorities were aware of the crimes committed by Batko and others over a period of months. A note of the Novo Sarajevo SJB and Vraca Reserve Police Station dated 31 May 1992 identified “Veselin Vlaović” as among members of the MP formed as part of the Novo Sarajevo Battalion who were “undertaking certain operations on their own without any authority”, including carrying out searches of apartments and vehicles and taking “private and socially-owned property, securities and gold coins”.⁷⁷¹⁶ From around July 1992, municipal authorities discussed the problems caused by these men, did not support them, and, around September 1992, tried to remove Batko and the others from the municipality.⁷⁷¹⁷ Radan testified that “something could have been done earlier” to stop Batko’s crimes, before he was eventually removed from the municipality.⁷⁷¹⁸ Nešković stated that he informed Šipčić about Batko and that Batko was arrested by Šipčić on several occasions but “somebody would always release him”.⁷⁷¹⁹ Batko “terrorise[d]” the population for a period of months; the MP could have arrested him at any time and the prosecutor’s office could have tried him.⁷⁷²⁰ KDZ310 stated that no action was taken against Batko and that at some point he “disappeared” from Grbavica.⁷⁷²¹ (Here is what KDZ310 exactly said in the cross examination: T.9275: Q. And who did that? A. Veselin Blagojevic [as interpreted], nicknamed Batko. Q. Who is about to be tried in Bosnia; right? A. Correct. Q. So what do authorities have to do with Veselin Vlahovic, Batko? We are here discussing the position taken by authorities. There will always exist criminals, and what do authorities have to do with a man who was expelled and against whom serious measures were about to be taken when he fled? A. Yes, they wanted to do it, but they never did it. Q. Well, did he just disappear from Grbavica? A. While I was still there, yes, he disappeared. (So, KDZ310 was aware of the efforts of authorities to arrest or otherwise eliminate Batko, but he disappeared from Grbavica, obviously feeling that he will be apprehended. Had he felt himself secure and protected in Grbavica, he wouldn’t disappear!) KDZ354 testified that she reported crimes committed by Batko to the Bosnian Serb MP in July 1992 but was not approached at any time by Bosnian Serb authorities regarding any investigation into the incident she reported.⁷⁷²² (#Not reported to the President#! appear before the Neskovic's report in June 1992, D885, otherwise, he would be mentioned in it. But, such a kind of individuals are always present in the chaotic areas. There was no prosecutors and courts at that time, or were just in the forming. Still, what does it have to do with the President? The President issued many orders which banned this kind of conduct, and even didn't know about individuals!)

2271. Republic-level leaders were also aware of the ongoing crimes by Batko and others. Vladimir Lukić stated that he spoke about the situation in Grbavica, though not about "Batak" specifically, with Koljević.⁷⁷²³ Nešković also stated that "the top leadership at Pale was told about Batko by Biljana Plavsić and it never yielded any results [...]".⁷⁷²⁴ (Neskovic couldn't have known whether and what Plavsic may said to the other leaders! Plavsic was in charge of the humanitarian issues, and didn't have to report to anybody, but could issue a direct warnings to the officials on the terrain, and probably she did it!) Dobrislav Planojević, who worked in the MUP from 20 April 1992, stated that he heard about what Batko was doing and the absence of any reporting or investigation due to fear and that he informed Mićo Stanišić about this.⁷⁷²⁵ He also informed Prime Minister Đerić in 1992 about problems with crime in the area and with Batko.⁷⁷²⁶ (#Crimes hidden from authorities#! Obviously, after the Planojevic's and Plavsic's intervention, Batko had been arrested, but as Planojevic said, those who detained him didn't have a proper criminal reports, "due to fear" he could have been released prematurely, but the police was after him, and he disappeared from Grbavica! The Prosecution looks like desperate, trying to attach such a marginal renegade to this President! Nota bene: The KDZ354 testified that Batko brought her to another apartment clandestinely and in a dark environment, taking care not to be seen. Even this witness saw that he was doing this on his own. How the situation was difficult there is visible from the incident when the president of Executive Board, a very respected Budo Obradovic was killed in his office by a Serb renegade, although he was a very known and popular official.)

2272. On 20 October 1992, Defence Minister Bogdan Subotić proposed to the President the introduction of military rule in parts of the territory of RS, including the municipality of Novo Sarajevo.⁷⁷²⁷ Subotić set out as the causes for introduction of military rule "the fact that the political and security situation in some [RS] municipalities has become more tense due to the increasingly active paramilitary formations, quasi-state organs and institutions", that legal state organs were not performing their duties in accordance with the Constitution and laws and with adopted defence goals, and that decisions by the Government and other state organs were not being respected.⁷⁷²⁸ (This is another proof that it was not the Government or other state organs who tolerated, allowed, supported – let alone ordered any crime! This fact is #EXCULPATORY#!!!! Unfortunately, the Military rule could not be introduced in own territory, but only on the occupied one, while a state of war could be and would have a similar effects. But the President tried not to militarise the civil life, since the prospective was that it was to be a long lasting low intensity war! He spoke about it frequently, in the Assembly sessions!)

On 15 November 1992, at a meeting of the SRK Command where then-President of Novo Sarajevo Municipality, Milivoje Prijic, was present, it was noted that among the flaws of the operations was “genocide on other nations”.⁷⁷²⁹ The meeting also noted: “[t]he understanding and practice of individuals and groups that they are masters of life and death to every individual of different ethnicity, resulting in cases of unnecessary mistreatment and killing of members of other ethnicities, especially Muslims. Such people see the Geneva and other conventions as obsolete and unnecessary in this war.”⁷⁷³⁰ Prijic gave a speech about the situation in Novo Sarajevo in which he stated: “A great portion of soldiers is exercising unruly behaviour. Mass removals of property from the municipality, rape, expulsions from flats are going unpunished, affecting morale. Military police are consolidating but are still not strong enough.”⁷⁷³¹ (What we can see for sure is that there was a lot of incompetence, weakness, fear, lack of strength, but not criminal intent of the officials. But, how this document and this meeting could have been used against the President?!? This is an EXCULPATORY fact! This is a perfect example how the Serb military and civilian officials analysed the situation and tried to improve it, and to prevent any irregularity. The President was not present, nor he was informed about the conclusions. But, he didn't have to be, because the present authorities were doing their duties well and in the right direction. The President should be informed and asked for an assistance if there was an opposition of the participants to the respect of law and order. Let us see what had been concluded, and what was the attitude of the present officials towards the noted irregularities: see P5065: p. 5 - 10. This is how Lt. Col. Branko Radan, T. 31127 (6 December 2012). The Chamber notes Radan's interest in distancing himself from responsibility for addressing the crimes and does not consider his evidence reliable in this regard. The Chamber also considered its broader assessment of the testimony that the witness was withholding information from the Chamber on certain points. (This is an unacceptable disqualification of a Defence witnesses on a fake basis: both, Radan and Prijic were the SDS officials in the authorities, none of them had ever been mentioned, let alone indicted for any crime. Why would Radan distance himself, while he as well as Prijic were trying to improve the situation? Let us see what Branko Radan testified on T.31095-96: Q. Thank you. Can you tell us if you encountered any security problems in your municipality as of the date when the conflict broke out? A. I said that we had been trying the whole time to prevent anarchy. That is a normal phenomenon under such circumstances, so we were no exception. We tried in every possible way, because we lived mostly in the urban part of the city with all three ethnic communities. We wanted to protect everybody who remained with us. We had a huge problem with a group that came from outside, meaning that they were not locals. We had problems with them because they were maltreating and harassing our citizens of Muslim and Croat ethnicity. Therefore, we constantly pointed out to these happenings, and at our regular meetings that took place at least once a week, the civilian authorities, the police, and the army underlined, although I was not able to give any tasks to anyone, we made a joint effort to remove those nine persons who were constantly causing problems. And amongst them was Veselin Vlahovic, aka Batko, who was the worst. Q. Thank you. These nine persons, did they enjoy any support from the authorities? A. I already said that we could not support these individuals in any way whatsoever, quite the opposite. We did our best to remove them from our territory and prevent them from causing problems, and I think that we managed to do that step-by-step, to remove them from our territory. Taking into account the fact that the Batko's group #acted clandestinely#, during fights, Radan should be trusted!)

3. Submitter of introductory report: Lt. Col. Marko LUGONJA.

- War before the war;
- Overflow of weapons, prolonging war;
- During that period certain persons, prominent individuals, formal and informal groups (party leaders and various dealers) who had taken advantage of the Serbian cause for their own promotion were not subjected to exposure;
- Aggressive by nature, they tried to impose their standpoints and emphasized their achievements;
- The first battles of groups and individuals produced the first heroes who considered themselves competent and compelled to influence or take decisions relevant to the whole unit. Thus acquired "fighter status" gave many an excuse to start exercising self-will.
- War as the first experience of many. Many people had gained their education in that area and did not get any education for a civil war. Many if not all

No to much help of the general military knowledge, said Lugonja, because the army officers were not educated for a civil wars.

The situation in the Corps area is very favorable in that sense, and everyone (or almost everyone) is in favor of creating RS. Everyone is in favor of achieving this through an armed struggle, at this stage at least. From that aspect, the balance of power is very favorable and the situation is stable. In the Corps area, as far as we are aware, there is, conditionally speaking, no organized opposition to the Serbian people's struggle or opponents of war objectives. A share of the Muslim population and a relatively negligible number of Croats are, at least in the practical sense, loyal to the Serbian authorities.

The assessment of the position of Muslims loyal to the Serb authorities is consistent with the UN assessment in D2424, see above!

- Ill discipline and disobedience, self-will, various forms of abuse, mutual disrespect, etc.
- Non-recognition of army hierarchy, subordination and unity of command. Many believe that the fall of the former system also meant the fall of basic relations in the army, and the new system does not acknowledge some communist inventions. Certainly, the conductors of such activities see themselves as more educated and knowledgeable, and as having achieved so much for the Serbian people that they are entitled to exert major influence on everything.
- Creation of formal and informal groups and organizations, gathering around an already prominent and creditable individual. They exercise their status in units via threats, extortion, and other violent methods.

Lt. Col. Lugonja depicts the problems that arised from the fall of the previous system. Therefore, this was a state equal to a revolution. A "diagnosing" the causes was a #commendable#, because it was followed by the proposal of set of measures to extinguish crime! Se further: P5065, p. 9

- Extremely widespread theft, robbery, violent and other crimes. Everything is being stolen, starting from cars, household appliances, to clothing etc. It is worth emphasizing that many individuals feel that committing theft and robbery is their right and is the only way to refund what they have lost, or to compensate their participation in war.
- The understanding and practice of individuals and groups that they are masters of life and death to every individual of different ethnicity, resulting in cases of unnecessary mistreatment and killing of members of other ethnicities, especially Muslims. Such people see the Geneva and other conventions as obsolete and unnecessary in this war.
- Collective attempts to shelter individuals against whom security organs and military police organs have taken measures (tricks, transport etc.). In the process, threats and weapons are often used.
- Everything has been made relative, all previous values, knowledge, expertise, education.
- Security has been made worse by a number of individuals who under no circumstances should have contact with weapons.

#Authorities – proper conduct#! This is the first class proof that there was a chaos, and that was not either intention, or negligence of the authorities. The entire state structure is making an endeavour to overbridge the gap in regularities. If it was as the Prosecution alleged, and the Chamber “found” the authorities would jubilant and satisfied how the Joint Criminal Enterprise had been realised. But it was all the way around, and that is #EXCULPATORY#! See further: P5065, p.9

- Near-total absence of the rule of law (many legal matters haven't been solved) and many matters do not suit current war situation.
- In connection with the above, the rule might-makes-right applies, or if that doesn't help, weapons do (cases of SVČ /expansion unknown/ tricks and encirclement).
- Widespread theft, robbery, and all forms of violent behavior.
- Intensive war profiteering and organized crime activities, permeating all structures: civilian authorities, army, police etc.
- Nearly-total financial and legal insecurity particularly in specific areas (Grbavica etc.), widespread belief that war provides an opportunity to profit as much as possible, which is only viewed as normal.
 - Reporting and promotion of various power-mongers on a local level, refusing to acknowledge any authority, civilian or military.
 - Growing localism, particularism, and feeling of self-sufficiency in certain municipalities, settlements etc. (taking away of soldiers, material goods, other goods).
 - Long-term assumption of an unfavorable security picture: emptying of territory and merciless exploitation of various resources.
 - Tolerant attitude, organizing, requesting of various armed groups or individuals, preference for them over the members of the RS army.

Proposals:

Achieve complete unity of measures and activities in order to accomplish war objectives, to which everything should be subordinated (cooperation between the civilian and military authorities).

Ensure full implementation of subordination in units, and reinstate a lance corporal's role of a commissar.

Affirm and strengthen the repressive apparatus with skill and instances of repressive action, repressive action if required.

- Officers should be made responsible for the situation in their units, while turning random groups, which some units resemble, into military collectives with built-in positive attitudes; holding individuals responsible for their behavior.
- Ensure that legal and other sanctions are applied more swiftly in order to create a desired effect.

The only villain is the civil war, not those officials who are trying to establish the rule of law and order! Further, P5065, p. 12, the quoted sentence of Mr. Prijic, the then president of municipality of Novo Sarajevo:

The soldiers' morale in Novo Sarajevo SO is falling. A great portion of soldiers is exercising unruly behavior. Mass removals of property from the municipality, rape, expulsions from flats are going unpunished, affecting morale. Military police are consolidating but are still not strong enough.

Both, the military and civilian authorities are concurring about the situation and the causes. It is explicitly said that the "Military police are consolidating but are stil not strong enough! Batko already disappeared a couple of months prior to this meeting, and the military police then was even weaker!):

i. Scheduled Detention Facility C.18.1

2238. The Indictment refers to the use of the Slaviša Vajner Čiča Barracks in Lukavica as a detention facility from 22 June 1992 until September 1992.⁷⁷³²

2275. Lukavica, about three kilometres from Kula, was an area held by the SRK.⁷⁷³³ The Slaviša Vajner Čiča Barracks in Lukavica served as the Forward Command Post of the SRK.⁷⁷³⁴

2277. On 22 June 1992, around 9 p.m., approximately 280 men who had previously been detained in the garage of the Hadžići Municipal Assembly Building⁷⁷³⁵ and in the Hadžići Culture and Sport centre⁷⁷³⁶ were placed on four buses and transferred to the Slaviša Vajner Čiča Barracks in Lukavica.⁷⁷³⁷ The driver of one of the buses was Milan Ačimović.⁷⁷³⁸ The buses first went to Kula prison, in front of which two Serb individuals in camouflage uniforms got on the buses and started beating the detainees badly; these beatings resulted in head injuries.⁷⁷³⁹ One of the soldiers extinguished a cigarette butt on the face of one of the Bosnian Muslims.⁷⁷⁴⁰ The soldiers threw bullets among the detainees and said, "[h]ey, balija, you have ammunition!"; they then used that as "a pretext" to beat the detainees.⁷⁷⁴¹ The detainees were then taken to the Slaviša Vajner Čiča Barracks in Lukavica.⁷⁷⁴²

2277. Upon arrival at the Slaviša Vajner Čiča Barracks, the detainees exited the buses and were beaten by Serbs in uniforms as they made their way to the barracks.⁷⁷⁴³ Inside, the detainees were beaten with rifles, batons, and various objects when they went to the toilet or to get a drink of water.⁷⁷⁴⁴ Some people chose not to go to the toilet because they did not want to be beaten on the way.⁷⁷⁴⁵ All 280 of them were put in two empty rooms; as a result the rooms were very crowded.⁷⁷⁴⁶ During the first hours of detention, individual detainees were called out and beaten.⁷⁷⁴⁷ All 280 detainees were then taken to one room in another part of the barracks.⁷⁷⁴⁸ Subsequently, a man in uniform called out a list of 48 men.⁷⁷⁴⁹ Each of these men had to walk through a corridor with guards lined up on both sides and was beaten with various objects and kicked.⁷⁷⁵⁰ The guards swore at the detainees' "balija" mothers.⁷⁷⁵¹ One of the detainees, Mehmed Musić, saw his brother, covered in blood, lying on the ground and was told to carry him.⁷⁷⁵² Musić carried his brother into the room at the end of the gauntlet as instructed and saw the other detainees who had been called out, lined up against three walls, and three officers at a desk in the middle of the room.⁷⁷⁵³ They asked Musić his name, his father's name, and where he worked and "swore on [his] balija mother", and one of them kicked him.⁷⁷⁵⁴ One of the officers hit him and told him to get out, and as he went through the hallway, he was hit again.⁷⁷⁵⁵ Musić returned to the previous room and has not seen any member of the group of 47 since.⁷⁷⁵⁶ Soldiers later came twice to beat the detainees.⁷⁷⁵⁷ They also made the detainees make the sign of the cross and sing Serb songs.⁷⁷⁵⁸ Later "regular JNA soldiers" came in and told the detainees to stop singing, said no one would touch them anymore, and brought them some food.⁷⁷⁵⁹ (It is for sure that those "regular JNA soldiers" were not the JNA soldiers, because the JNA wasn't present in Lukavica after 20 May 92. 2278. The next day, the remaining approximately 233 men went back to the buses and were taken to Kula Prison.⁷⁷⁶⁰

2278. The Chamber took judicial notice of the fact that at the Lukavica barracks, detainees were forced to perform manual labour such as digging trenches and graves.⁷⁷⁶¹ However, the Prosecution, for the period charged, did not provide evidence on forced labour at this detention facility or on detention other than in relation to the 280 non-Serb men for a few days in June 1992 discussed above.⁷⁷⁶² The Chamber notes that the Prosecution itself limited its discussion of Scheduled Incident C.18.1 in the Final Brief to the detention and beatings of men from 22 June 1992.⁷⁷⁶³ The Chamber concludes that it does not have sufficient evidence on which to make a finding that detainees were forced to perform labour at the Slaviša Vajner Čiča Barracks.

2280. Based on the above, the Chamber finds that individuals were detained at the Slaviša Vajner Čiča Barracks in Lukavica for a few days in June 1992. The Chamber further finds that detainees were beaten and that 48 detainees were forced to run through a gauntlet. (The Defence doubted this, since it was not corroborated by any objective, unbiased evidence. Had it happened, there would be some knowledge and record about it within the VRS!) The Chamber finds that the detainees were held in poor conditions, including a lack of adequate space and access to sanitation facilities and water. Everyone could agree on that, but it should be of a decisive significance to establish whether it was a deliberate conduct of the authorities, or the circumstances determined the conditions. Namely, nobody expected, and therefore nobody prepared any facility for such a number of the POW-s and detainees. That concerns the food also. We also see that the “regular” soldiers behaved differently from those who mistreated the detainees.#General shortage#!).

(Deadly combination#! However, the Chamber took for granted everything that Mehmed Music said about this mistreatments, and Adem Balić’s 92bis, and a few AF, and the Defence consider this not to be fair.

Not to justify, but to understand, Grbavica and the entire municipality of Novo Sarajevo had been on the front line, against the three to four times more numerous enemy, with the sniping and mortar fire on a daily basis, and everyone able-bodied was obliged to go to the tranches, see See: P06643,p.1

In spite of the problems with, primarily, overall lack or insufficiency of staff, a total of 469 crimes were recorded in this period, of which: 168 serious crimes, mostly aggravated thefts, 18 murders and one attempted murder, three cases of causing public danger, two cases of grievous bodily harm, 7 war crimes, 12 robberies, 35 cases of motor vehicles being taken, 10 forgeries and 175 other types of crimes.

Of the recorded crimes, 430 were carried out by NN /unidentified/ and 39 by identified perpetrators. Intelligence work solved 273 crimes, or 63%. A total of 311 criminal reports were submitted in this period. During the processing phase, 624 persons were brought in, 157 motor vehicles seized, 173 apartments and other premises searched and 40 other notes of interest for security filed. Approximately 2,000 various items were seized and receipts for them issued, and 301 persons were put on the wanted list for whom reasonable grounds existed that they had participated in the commission of crimes..

The primarily “overall lack or insufficiency of staff” should be taken into account. See: p.2.

⁷⁷⁶⁰ P2403 (Witness statement of Mehmed Musić dated 28 February 2011), paras. 89, 92; Mehmed Musić, T. 12879 (3 March 2011); P161 (Adem Balić’s statement to BiH authorities, 7 February 1993), p. 3. See also Adjudicated Fact 2638. See para. 2141.

⁷⁷⁶¹ See Adjudicated Fact 2632.

⁷⁷⁶² The Chamber notes P6282, which identifies a number of detainees who were forced to carry out labour at frontlines, including digging trenches, and were held in the Lukavica Barracks in 1993. See P6282 (RS Central Exchange Committee list of persons). However, as these events fall outside of the temporal scope for the Lukavica Barracks charged in the Indictment, the Chamber will not make a finding of forced labour at the Lukavica Barracks based thereon.

⁷⁷⁶³ Prosecution Final Brief, Appendix B, p. 29.

A meeting was held with heads of the Crime Department and all SJBs, drawing attention to a series of problems encountered in time of war and, predominantly, in zones of combat operations. It was proposed that they be successfully dealt with and resolved in order for the employees of the Crime Department to be able to carry out their work competently and to a high standard.

“...a series of problems encountered in time of war and, predominantly, in zones of combat operations” was a big problem, and Grbavica and the whole Serb Sarajevo was in the #combat zone#, aimed and fired at from all the surrounding, almost completely encircled.

See: P02761, p. 8, how the Police, in addition to the “lack or insufficiency of staff” had to participate in the combat activities:

Finally, something that could not be by-passed in this report, is the data which we present and which can, at least to some extent, provide a picture of the participation of MUP members in combat activities.

By the beginning of April, there were 12,600 members of the regular Serbian MUP, of which more than 9,700 were reserve members.

On average, in the areas of the Security Services Centres, more than 14,700 policemen took part in combat activities at the front line, with over 390,000² days in combat, or on average 1451 police officers each day.

p. 17

The military, security and political situation in Republika Srpska has affected public peace and order situation and vice versa: this situation has influenced the total security situation. At the same time, some new forms of violations of law and order appeared, others that appeared earlier have changed and become worse.

A great problem was the activities of certain armed groups, some of which often acted in a non-institutionalised and violent manner in attempts to impose their solutions for the current social and political problems in certain environments. In addition to this, there were attacks on police stations, or Public Security Stations (in six municipalities), which greatly disturbed law and order and had very negative connotations on the entire situation with security and efficiency of the police in these areas. In addition, law and order was often violated by other criminal acts, most often plunder and robbery in public places, attacks on citizens, planting explosive devices, unauthorised use of weapons etc., which could create serious problems and consequences for the safety of citizens and the social order.

Officials vs. crimes#, but used against officials#! This is evident that the MUP was aware of a serious problems, but was limited by many factors. Those reports, as well as the reports from the Novo Sarajevo authorities are the sources of knowledge of the crimes. How possibly this can be used against this President? The only reason for not preventing the crimes was the war and the initial chaos, 2000 km of the front line, lack of institutions in the Republika Srpska, constant armed attacks by opponents with a possible catastrophic consequences, their crimes against the Serbs, which motivated many personal revengeful acts, an influx of the Serb refugees, sanctions and lack of production, lack of food, oil and fuel... All of it was too far from a real abilities of the society and state organs to cope with it, particularly in 1992. The reports about the efforts of the officials, and their desperate needs for help could and should not be used as an evidence of their liability, let alone of the liability of the President!

- i. Movement of the population from Novo Sarajevo and appropriation of property

2281. During 1992 Bosnian Muslims and Croats, including nuns, were expelled from their homes, which were then looted.⁷⁷⁶⁴ From the time Grbavica was taken over by Serb Forces,

⁷⁷⁶⁴ P1938 (Witness statement of KDZ310 dated 28 November 2010), paras. 45, 64; P1937 (Witness statement of KDZ310 dated 28 November 2010), para. 18 (under seal); KDZ310, T. 9179, 9248–9249, 9255–9259 (29 November 2010); P2444 (Witness statement of KDZ354 dated 5 February 2011), paras. 82–91 (under seal); Radomir Nešković, P2568 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Krajišnik), T. 16698–16701; Radomir Nešković, T. 14294–14295 (6 June 2011); P43

Bosnian Muslims and Croats were expelled and forced to the other side of the Miljacka River.⁷⁷⁶⁵ KDZ310 testified that he could see from the expressions of the people moving that they were not going of their own free will; people were crying and did not want to leave their property behind to be looted.⁷⁷⁶⁶ Serb soldiers were kicking and hitting the Bosnian Croats and Muslims.⁷⁷⁶⁷ Both soldiers and the civilian and MP took part in the expulsion of non-Serbs from Grbavica.⁷⁷⁶⁸

(#Protected lies#! As all the “protected witnesses”, enjoying benefits for their services to the Prosecution, the KDZ310 lied a lot. It had been clarified with this witness that the Muslims and Croats leaving Grbavica early in morning on 30 September 92 were not leaving by their joy and happiness, and the sadness was normal and expected. However, the front line went through the settled zone, sometimes even through the buildings, so a two neighbouring apartments were belonging to the two warring sides. The people from the testimony of KDZ310 were living along the front line in the area of Jewish cemetery, and both, the Serb and Muslim civilians had to leave. While the Serbs went deeper in the Serb territory, the Muslims rather choose Sarajevo areas under the Muslim control. See: T. 31098 – 31100 Q

Thank you. In September 1992, was there a significant relocation of the population in Novo Sarajevo municipality, and if so, can you please tell us? A. Yes. On the 30th of September, 1992, in the early morning hours there are some estimates that about 300 Muslim citizens crossed over the bridge on the Vrbanja and went to the territory of the federation -- or, rather, under the control of their forces. Since I wasn't personally present there but I nevertheless reacted immediately by talking to the police and inquired about this incident, I was told that that happened with the inhabitants who were living on the front line in Jevrejsko Groblje, Gornja Kovacici and Donji Kovacici, and on a daily basis there was shooting, fighting, shelling in that area. The Serbian forces were holding defence positions. They had moved their families further back in order to provide safety, but the Muslims stayed in their houses and they were behind the VRS. In order for them to be safer, I don't know who agreed on that or whether they organised themselves, they decided to cross over to the other side. As far as I know, no pressure was exerted. Nothing was done under coercion, and people moved across. So I think that it was an organised move and that it was a satisfactory move, and I have proof in the incident that took place on the 15th of November when 15 buses of Serbs crossed across -- passed across our territory and went to Belgrade. So there was some kind of goodwill there, and there was a response from our side. Q. Thank you. The Muslim civilians living along the confrontation line, did they have any other alternative to be safe? What could they have done? A. Well, they could have withdrawn, but believe me, Grbavica was fully packed with refugees. All the vacant premises were filled by people, flats and all other residential areas. So there was very little possibility to provide shelter elsewhere for those people living on the front line. Q. Thank you. Did any Muslims remain at Grbavica, those who weren't living along the confrontation line? A.

Yes. According to some estimates, between 3 -- 1.350 and 1.500 inhabitants remained, and they enjoyed all the same rights in terms of humanitarian aid, medical assistance and security. We tried to provide identical conditions for them as the ones accorded to the Serbs and Croats. So as I said, between 1.350 and 1.500 of them remained. Q. Did they stay there until the end of the war? A. Yes, until reintegration took place. (#Consistent with UN documents#! That was what Mr. Radan testified, and his testimony, particularly in the part of number of Muslims living in Grbavica, and their rights – is consistent with the D2424, the UN report about status of the Muslims/Croats in Grbavica in 1993. No reason to disqualify this witness on this or any other occasion! Beside that, it would be impossible to forcefully gather 300 people in the early morning, all packed and prepared to cross the confrontation line – without a dramatic unrest! Obviously, it was appointed with the civilians who left!)

2282. Intimidation and threats were employed to impel people to leave.⁷⁷⁶⁹ But, from the testimony of the very same witness, it was obvious that relatives from the Muslim part of Sarajevo made many lists of the relatives they wanted to cross the River, as it was with his father. His father wasn't on the very front line, and decided not to leave, and remained all the time in Grbavica, see:KDZ310, T9257-9259: Q: Can you look at this document, please? You can see here where it says that: "The UNPROFOR forces were rather surprised today when they came to the Serbian settlement of Grbavica in order to take several Muslim and Croatian families to be exchanged. These are families of Dervo Pusina, Izet Tanovic, Alija Talic, Drago Barbar, as well as family Hadzimesic signed the statement they didn't want to leave Grbavica because they had no reason for such action. To the team of UNPROFOR, they confirmed that, 'the Serbian authorities treated them correctly and that they enjoyed all the conditions for normal live, as well as the Serbian people in the settlement.'" Q: They also asked how their names got on the exchange list in the first place. I am claiming now that after the lines were established, the only way to cross the line was if this was organised by some humanitarian organisation and what you saw was that. Are you able to provide some kind of convincing proof without reading the faces of people that you saw? Do you have proof that somebody was expelled, and can you explain how was somebody able to cross the lines who was expelled? A: Simply, they were able to cross the lines. They would tell the people who were at the lines to let them pass on the other side, and they were expelled, and that's that. Through Belgrade Street, you would be moving in the direction of Skenderija and Vrbanja, and that would be that. It was very simple, how this could be done. It can be done very easily if somebody wants to do that. Q: And you know about these lists? A: I don't know about the lists, but I know that through the Exchange Bureau, in some cases such exchanges were carried out, because prisoners were also exchanged through this bureau, and civilians were crossing either side. I know a Serb woman who crossed over to the Serbian side, she went to Belgrade, and then she asked to go back again, for example. There are different cases. The quoted document is #consistent with UN document# D2424! As it is clear, the KDZ310 witness confirmed something else in the cross examination. There was a Exchange Bureau facilitatin a possibility to civilians to cross over the confrontation line. Why would wixist such a "bureau" if there was expelling of the people? Also, even without any criminal act, the Witness confirmed that the mere matter of the ethnic conflict, the maps and so on, rose an anxiety among the people finding themselves in the "others territory", but that was because of the secession of BiH, see: T9177 - 78 Q: And do you recall that there were also maps in relation to Sarajevo, and do you recall what was indicated in such maps? A: Yes, I recall that maps of Sarajevo looked very similar to what the ultimate division according to the Dayton Agreement was. Q: And these maps and the divisions of territories, did these maps and the talks about it have an effect on the population? A: They did have an effect on the population, of course they did, especially the population that saw itself outside the areas that would belong to a particular people, say Serbs, who saw themselves outside a possible Serb area, according to such maps. Well, there was a feeling of anxiety among them. See p. 9118 A: At that time, a lot of people were saying that there might be a war, but what kind of war it would be, well, people were quite simply afraid. They were afraid for their families, they were afraid in terms of their very existence and their survival in that area. You know, that is a terrible thing. Croats and Muslims were afraid, and Serbs were afraid too, of course. Everybody was afraid. (#Everybody was afraid#!)

KDZ079 stated that in early 1992 Serb soldiers would come, sometimes several times in one day, to the apartment where she lived with her husband and children, which made her and her family fear for their lives.⁷⁷⁷⁰ After her husband left to obtain food, Serb soldiers repeatedly came to the apartment asking for him and a photograph of him and his identity card.⁷⁷⁷¹ The soldiers said they would take the witness and her daughter if her husband did not return.⁷⁷⁷² Because Bosnian Croats and Muslims could not get bread and Serb soldiers were breaking into apartments and taking private possessions, on 26 May 1992 the witness, with her children, left the apartment and all their belongings.⁷⁷⁷³

2283. Soldiers entered buildings and made statements such as, “[i]n 10 minutes all Ustašas and Balijas out!”.⁷⁷⁷⁴ In one instance where civilians were being expelled from Grbavica, KDZ310 talked to a platoon member who agreed to go to the MP headquarters to ask for an explanation for the expulsions but the member did not receive an answer.⁷⁷⁷⁵

2284. The 5 June 1992 report of the Novo Sarajevo Crisis Staff to the Bosnian Serb Presidency stated that it had provided as accommodation “empty and deserted Croatian and Muslim flats” to fighters from other areas who had joined regular units.⁷⁷⁷⁶ (#In accordance with the law!#)

2285. On 19 July 1992, the President sent a memorandum to several municipalities, including Novo Sarajevo, requesting an inventory of all housing facilities “that are vacant following the voluntary departure of Muslims”, explaining that vacant homes would be used to temporarily house Bosnian Serbs from the Muslim part of Sarajevo.⁷⁷⁷⁷ (#In accordance with the law#! The stress was on the “temporary” as it was said, the issue of refugeese as well as abandoned property are a war, therefore temporary features! See: D111, introductory paragraph, on the same subject :

INSTRUCTIONS to all presidents of municipalities

It has become common for local people to move into empty flats instead of refugees, and they sometimes even retain some kind of “right” to several flats.

The occurrence of abandoned flats is a war issue, and so are the refugees. This means that both occurrences are temporary.

So, the allocation of property for a temporary use was a move towards preserving it against looting and destruction. Otherwise, refugees would occupy it anyway, but without obligations to preserve it!)

2286. A UN report from 30 September 1992 reported as confirmed that approximately 300 Bosnian Muslim civilians were expelled by Serbs that day from the area of Grbavica and had travelled on foot using one of two bridges, Vrbanja Bridge and a bridge behind the Bristol

However, KDZ310 testified that permission to use flats was given to fighters but that they looted the apartments they were issued. KDZ310, T. 9251–9252 (29 November 2010). Considering this testimony, which the Chamber finds credible, and considering Nešković’s interest in casting the report and the activities of the Crisis Staff in a favourable light, the Chamber does not accept Nešković’s explanation that the flats of Croats and Muslims were provided to prevent looting or damage.

This is the same event elaborated by KDZ310 and by Branko Radan in paragraphs 2281 2282 above!) On 1 October 1992, UNPROFOR Acting Commander, Morillon, conveyed in a letter to the President that he had received news of “[the President’s] forces hav[ing] proceeded with the forced expulsion of nearly three hundred persons from Grbavica”.⁷⁷⁸⁰ (The same event: General Morillon “had received news” from the Muslim side, but it was clarified that this was a #military necessity# to move them either to Lukavica as the Serb families did, or to the Muslim part of Sarajevo. They were living on the confrontation line, and had been offered the two ways, and they decided the Muslim part of Sarajevo. There is no any evidence that they had been expelled, there is evidence that they crossed the confrontation line (and the Miljacka River) but all other was unknown and in the sphere of “impressions”. How possibly could it be achieved to have 300 people packed and ready to cross the river gathered at early morning, without any dramatic development?) The 30 September UN report was brought up by the UNPROFOR Sarajevo sector commander, Hussein Ali Abdel-Razek, during multiple meetings with Plavšić.⁷⁷⁸¹ 2287. In relation to the movement of population, Defence witnesses testified that: (i) with the outbreak of war in BiH, some Serbs and non-Serbs moved to where they thought they were safer;⁷⁷⁸² (ii) Serb and non-Serb civilians alike lacked complete freedom of movement, particularly in Grbavica and Vraca, due to almost continual sniping and shelling from high-rise buildings and other facilities under the control of Muslim forces;⁷⁷⁸³ (iii) a significant number of non-Serbs remained in Novo Sarajevo throughout the war;⁷⁷⁸⁴ and (iv) some Bosnian Muslims requested to leave.⁷⁷⁸⁵ (But, the people of all ethnicities had to leave the confrontation line, that was a #legal obligation# of the authorities! Branko Radan, T. 31098–31099, 31127–31128, 31131–31135 (6 December 2012). According to Radan, “no pressure was exerted” on the people and they “decided to cross over to the other side” in an “organised” and “satisfactory” move, in order to be safer. Branko Radan, T. 31098–31099, 31132 (6 December 2012). He testified that there was daily shooting, fighting, and shelling in the area of the frontlines in Jevrejsko Groblje, Gornja Kovačići, and Donji Kovačići. Branko Radan, T. 31098 (6 December 2012). Having considered the totality of the evidence in record, the Chamber rejects Radan’s testimony that the movement of the 300 Muslims on 30 September 1992 was voluntary.

See also D2424 (Report of Protection Officer’s visit to Grbavica, 11 March 1993) (stating that there were approximately 1,200 Muslims still in Grbavica and indicating that Muslim males of a certain age were required to perform work and that the officer had not been able to meet with Muslims who wanted to leave or were displaced within Grbavica, pending clearance by the army headquarters in Lukavica for such a visit). Radan testified that the Muslims who stayed “enjoyed all the same rights in terms of humanitarian aid, medical assistance and security” as Serbs and Croats. Branko Radan, T. 31099–31100 (6 December 2012). See also D2673 (Witness statement of Zdravko Šalipur dated 16 December 2012), para. 30; D2683 (Witness statement of Dragan Šojić dated 15 December 2012), para. 26. Considering Radan’s interest in distancing himself from the mistreatment that occurred as well as the lack of candour on this point of all three witnesses, the Chamber rejects the evidence that Muslims who stayed were provided for and protected equally as Serbs and Croats.

⁷⁷⁸⁵ Radomir Nešković, P2568 (Transcript from Prosecutor v. Krajišnik), T. 16700–16701 (stating that before August 1992, there were expulsions of Muslims but that some Muslims requested to cross over to the other side because they did not feel safe and that “secret exchanges” of Muslims and Serbs also took place). See also Branko Radan, T. 31101–31102 (6 December 2012) (testifying that non-Serbs from Grbavica seeking reunion with their families and better living conditions made efforts to cross to the other side with the assistance of “freelancers”). However, Radan recognised the possibility that non-Serbs sought to leave because they were being subjected to harassment. Branko Radan, T. 31126 (6 December 2012).

2288. Having considered the totality of the evidence, however, the Chamber finds that many Bosnian Muslims and Croats were forced to leave the municipality. The Chamber notes that in some instances people requested to leave; however, the Chamber finds that this was still involuntary considering the surrounding circumstances in which the departures occurred. Consequently, the Chamber is satisfied that Bosnian Muslims and Croats were forced to leave the Serb-controlled parts of Novo Sarajevo municipality. (Those who requested to leave did it through the authorities, while we didn't see any evidence that those who were "expelled" were forced by the authorities. Some solitary cases could have happened, not on any initiative or misdoings of the authorities, but rather by the paramilitaries, and it couldn't be any group, but rather some solitary cases. The witness KDZ310, and others, testified that there was a Bureau for Exchange, which wouldn't exist if these allegations were true! The only group transfer was on 30 September, as an exception, but it was the people from the front line along the Jewish cemetery!)

i. Charges

2289. Under Count 3, the Prosecution alleges that persecution, a crime against humanity, was committed in Pale as part of the objective to permanently remove Bosnian Muslims and/or Bosnian Croats from the Municipalities.⁷⁷⁸⁶ Acts of persecution alleged to have been committed by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs in Pale include killings related to the "Former Culture Centre/Dom Culture in Pale (also referred to as a Gym)",⁷⁷⁸⁷ as well as killings committed during, and deaths resulting from, cruel and inhumane treatment at that facility.⁷⁷⁸⁸ The Prosecution also characterises these killings as extermination, a crime against humanity, under Count 4; murder, a crime against humanity, under Count 5; and murder, a violation of the laws or customs of war, under Count 6.⁷⁷⁸⁹

2290. Other acts of persecution alleged to have been committed in Pale by Serb Forces and Bosnian Serb Political and Governmental Organs include (i) torture, beatings, and physical and psychological abuse during and after the take-over and in Pale Gym as cruel or inhumane treatment;⁷⁷⁹⁰ (ii) the establishment and perpetuation of inhumane living conditions in Pale Gym, including the failure to provide adequate accommodation, shelter, food, water, medical care, or hygienic sanitation facilities, as cruel or inhumane treatment;⁷⁷⁹¹ (iii) forcible transfer or deportation of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats from their homes within Pale;⁷⁷⁹² (iv) unlawful detention in Pale Gym;⁷⁷⁹³ (v) the wanton destruction of public property, including cultural monuments and sacred sites;⁷⁷⁹⁴ and (vi) the imposition and maintenance of restrictive and discriminatory measures.⁷⁷⁹⁵

⁷⁷⁸⁷ The Chamber notes that in the Indictment and in the evidence, this detention facility has been referred to by various names. See e.g. Indictment, Scheduled Incident B.14.1, Scheduled Detention Facility C.19.2 (referring to "Former Culture Centre", "Dom Culture", and "a Gym"); P2839 (Witness statement of Hajrudin Karić, dated 13 May 2011), para. 18 (referring to "Pale sports centre" and "old Cultural Centre"); D4368 (Witness statement of Jovan Šarac dated 10 February 2014), para. 55 (referring to "sport complex"). For the sake of clarity, the Chamber will use the term "Pale Gym" to refer to this alleged detention facility throughout this Judgement.

2292. Pale, one of the ten constitutive municipalities of Sarajevo, is located to the east of Novo Sarajevo and Stari Grad and to the west of Rogatica.⁷⁷⁹⁹ The municipality of Pale includes, inter alia, the Muslim settlements of Bare, Donja Vinča, Prača, Podgrab and Renovica, and the largely Serb inhabited settlements of Krivodoli, Lapišnica, Mokro, and Vrhprača.⁷⁸⁰⁰ According to the 1991 census, Pale municipality had 16,119 inhabitants, of whom about 27% were Bosnian Muslims and 69% were Bosnian Serbs.⁷⁸⁰¹

2293. There were a number of military installations in Pale, including an army barracks located in the centre of Renovica, an army depot in Krivodoli, a depot in Jahorinski Potok and a radar installation at Mt. Jahorina.⁷⁸⁰² In late March or April 1992, the Republic Communications Centre was established in Pale and began providing secure communication links in the territory of SerBiH.⁷⁸⁰³

The restrictive and discriminatory measures alleged include the denial of freedom of movement; the removal from positions of authority; the invasion of privacy through arbitrary searches of homes; unlawful arrest and/or the denial of the right to judicial process; and/or the denial of equal access to public services. The Prosecution does not allege criminal responsibility for rape and other acts of sexual violence; forced labour on the frontlines; the appropriation or plunder of property or the wanton destruction of private property in Pale.
